OW it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month in the fifth day of the month (as I was among the [†] captives ^a by the river of Chebar) that ^b the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the month (which was the fifth year of ^c king Jehoiachins captivity)

3 The word of the LORD came expressly unto [†] Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Che-bar, and ^d the hand of the LORD was there upon him.

4 ¶ And I looked, and behold, a whirlwind came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire [†] infolding it self, and a brightness was about it, [†] and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

5 ^e Also out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And ^f this was their appearance, They had the likeness of a man.

6 ^g And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

7 And their feet were [†] straight feet, and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calves foot, and they sparkled ^h like the colour of burnished brass.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides, and they four had their faces and their wings.

Before 9 ⁱ Their wings were joined one to another; CHRIST they turned not when they went, they went every one straight forward.

10 As for ^k the likeness of their faces, they four ^l had the face of a man, ^m and the face of a lion on the right side, ⁿ and they four had the face of an ox on the left side: ^o they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were stretched upward, two wings of every one were joined one to another, and ^p two covered their bodies.

¹⁰ Verse 17.

12 And ^a they went every one straight forward: ^r whither the spirit was to go, they went: and ^s they turned not when they went.

¹¹ Rev. 4. 5.

13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, ^t and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures, and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures ran, and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold, one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.

16 ^u The appearance of the wheels, and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness, and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

¹⁴ Verse 12.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides; ^v and they returned not when they went.

|| Or, strokes.

18 As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadful, and their || rings were full of eyes round about them four.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lift up from the earth, the wheels were lift up.

¹⁵ Verse 12.

20 ^y Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go, and the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit || of the living creature was in the wheels.

|| Or, of life.

Chap. 10. 17.

21 ^z When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit || of the living creature was in the wheels.

|| Or, of life.

22 And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other; every one had two, which covered on this side, and every one had two which covered on that side, their bodies.

¹⁸ Chap. 43. 2.

24 ^a And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, ^b like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 ¶ ^c And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire-stone, and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 ^d And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire round about within it: CHRIST from the appearance of his loyns even upward, 595. and from the appearance of his loyns even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

28 ^e As the appearance of the bow that is in ^f Rev. 4. 3. the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. ^g This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD: and when I saw it, ^h I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

7 But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; ^c for they will not hearken unto me: ^d for all the house of Israel are [†] impudent and hard-hearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 ^e As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: ^f fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

10 Moreover, he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee, receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

11 And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, ^g Thus saith the Lord God, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then ^h the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures, that [†] touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went [†] in bitterness, in the [†] heat of my spirit, but ⁱ the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.

15 ¶ Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and ^k I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.

16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 17 ^l Son of man, I have made thee ^m a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way to save his life: the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; ⁿ but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Again, when a ^o righteous man doth turn from his [†] righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumbling-block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin; he shall surely live, because he is warned: also thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 ¶ ^p And the hand of the LORD was there upon me, and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain, and behold, ^r the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I ^s saw by the river of Chebar; and I fell on my face.

24 Then ^t the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said: unto me, Go, shut thy self within thine house.

25 But thou, O son of man, behold, ^u they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them.

26 And ^v I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them [†] a reprovor; ^w for they are a rebellious house.

27 ^x But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: ^y for they are a rebellious house.

THou also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it the city, even Jerusalem;

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it: set the camp also against it, and set || battering rams against it round about.

3 Moreover, take thou unto thee || an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city, and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

4 Lie thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it, thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: ^a so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah, forty days: I have appointed thee [†] each day for a year.

7 Therefore thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

8 ^b And behold, I will lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee [†] from one side to another, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

9 ¶ Take thou also unto thee, wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and || fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side; three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley-cakes, and thou shalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man, in their sight.

13 And the LORD said, Even thus ^c shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.

1 Ezekiel in a vision of God at Jerusalem, 5 is shewed the image of jealousy, 7 the chambers of imagery, 13 the mourners for Tammuz, 15 the worshippers towards the sun. 18 Gods wrath for their idolatry.

And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that ^a the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me. [†] Heb. with their judgments. Chap. 1. 3. & 3. 22.

3 And he ^d put forth the form of an hand, and

Before CHRIST 594. and took me by a lock of mine head, and the spirit lift me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate, that looketh toward the north, where was the seat of the image of jealousy which provoketh to jealousy.

* Chap. 1. 3. & 3. 22, 23. 4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I *ſ*aw in the plain.

5 ¶ Then ſaid he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way towards the north: ſo I lift up mine eyes the way towards the north, and behold, north-ward at the gate of the altar, this image of jealousy in the entry.

6 He ſaid furthermore unto me, Son of man, ſeeſt thou what they do? even the great abominations that the houſe of Israel committeth here, that I ſhould go far off from my ſanctuary: but turn thee yet again, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abominations.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold, a hole in the wall.

8 Then ſaid he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

9 And he ſaid unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations, that they do here.

10 So I went in and ſaw, and behold, every form of creeping things, and abominable beaſts, and all the idols of the houſe of Israel pourtrayed upon the wall round about.

11 And there ſtood before them ſeventy men of the ancients of the houſe of Israel, and in the miſt of them ſtood Jaazaniah the ſon of Shaphan, with every man his cenſer in his hand, and a thick cloud of incenſe went up.

12 Then ſaid he unto me, Son of man, haſt thou ſeen what the ancients of the houſe of Israel do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery: for they ſay, ſ The LORD ſeeth us not, The LORD hath forſaken the earth.

13 ¶ He ſaid alſo unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORDS houſe, which was towards the north, and behold, there ſat women weeping for Tammuz.

15 ¶ Then ſaid he unto me, Haſt thou ſeen this, O ſon of man? turn thee yet again, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abominations than theſe.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the LORDS houſe, and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, ſ were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the eaſt, and they worſhipped h the ſun toward the eaſt.

17 ¶ Then he ſaid unto me, Haſt thou ſeen this, O ſon of man? ¶ Is it a light thing to the houſe of Judah, that they commit the abominations, which they commit here: for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger; and lo, they put the branch to their noſe.

Chap. 1. 6, 10.

13 As for the wheels, || it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 ^k And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

Chap. 1. 5.

15 And the cherubims were lifted up: this is ^l the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

Chap. 1. 19.

16 ^m And when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lift up their wings, to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

Chap. 1. 12,

17 ⁿ When they stood, these stood; and when they were lifted up, these lift up themselves also: for the spirit || of the living creature was in them.

|| Or, of life.

18 Then ^o the glory of the LORD departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

Chap. 11. 22.

19 And ^p the cherubims lift up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were besides them, and every one stood at the door of the east-gate of the LORDS house, and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

Chap. 1. 22.

20 ^q This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel, by the river of Chebar, and I knew that they were the cherubims.

21 Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

Chap. 2. 2.

6 Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

Chap. 9. 4.

14 Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel wholly are they, unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get ye far from the LORD: unto us is this land given in possession.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof, and all the abominations thereof, from thence.

19 And ^k I will give them one heart, and I will put ^l a new spirit within you; and I will take ^m the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh:

20 That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: ⁿ and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things, and their abominations, ^o I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord God.

22 ¶ Then did the cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels besides them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

23 And the glory of the LORD ^p went up from the midst of the city, and stood ^q upon the mountain, ^r which is on the east-side of the city.

24 ¶ Afterwards the spirit took me up, and brought me in vision by the spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity: so the vision that I had seen went up from me.

594. THe word of the LORD also came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of ^a a rebellious house, which ^b have eyes to see, and see not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: ^c for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou son of man, prepare thee ^d stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight, and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight; it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, ^e as they that go forth into captivity.

5 ^f Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel.

7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for captivity, and in the even I ^g digged through the wall with mine hand, I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou?

10 Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, This burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: ^h they shall remove and go into captivity.

12 And ⁱ the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My ^j net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and ^k I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And ^l I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands, ^m and ⁿ I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.

16 But I will leave ^o a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

17 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, ^p eat thy bread with quaking, ^q and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness, 19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord God, of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from ^r all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

21 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

22 Son of man, what is that proverb, that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, ^s The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel: but say unto them, The days are at hand and the effect of every vision.

24 For ^t there shall be no more any vain vision, nor flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the LORD: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to pass: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord God.

26 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

27 ^u Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is ^v for ^w many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are far off.

28 Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, There shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord God.

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumbling-block of their iniquity before their face: b should I be b 2 Kings 3. 13.

4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet, I the LORD will answer him that cometh, according to the multitude of his idols,

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because, they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore say unto the house of Israel,
 Thus saith the Lord God, Repent, and turn
 || your selves from your idols, and turn away || Or, others, your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Israel, or of 11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions : ⁸ but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

6 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As the vine-tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

12 ¶ The word of the LORD came again to me, saying,

7 And ^b I will set my face against them, they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devour them : ^c and ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them.

13 Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the ^h staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it.

8 And I will make the land desolate, because they have [†] committed a trespass, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ If I cause noisom beasts to pass through the land, and they || spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man might pass through because of the beasts :

C H A P. XVI.

1 Under the similitude of a wretched infant, is shewed the natural state of Jerusalem. 6 Gods extraordinary love towards her : 15 Her monstrous whoredom : 35 Her grievous judgement : 44 Her sin, matching her mother, and exceeding her sisters Sodom and Samaria, calleth for judgements. 60 Mercy is promised her in the end.

16 Though these three men were [†] in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters ; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.

Gain the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

17 ¶ Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land ; so that I cut off man and beast from it :

2 Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,

18 Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God unto Jerusalem, Thy [†] birth, ^a and thy nativity is of the land of Canaan, ^b thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

19 ¶ Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast :

4 And as for thy nativity ^c in the day thou wast born, thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water || to supple thee : thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all.

20 Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, saith the Lord God, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter ; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee ; but thou wast cast out in the open field, to the loathing of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, || How much more when I send my four sore judgements upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisom beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast ?

6 ¶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee || polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live : yea, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live.

22 ¶ Yet behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters : behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way, and their doings : and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

7 ^d I have [†] caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou art come to [†] excellent ornaments : thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

23 And they shall comfort you when ye see their ways and their doings : and ye shall know that I have not done without cause, all that I have done in it, saith the Lord God.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love, ^e and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness : yea, I sware unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

C H A P. XV.

9 Then washed I thee with water : yea, I thoroughly washed away thy [†] blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.

3 By the unsitness of the vine-branch for any work, 6 is shewed the rejection of Jerusalem. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

10 I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with badgers skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

2 Son of man, What is the vine-tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest ?

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on thy neck.

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work ? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon ?

12 And I put a jewel on thy [†] forehead, and ear-rings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.

4 Behold, ^a it is cast into the fire for fuel ; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burnt : [†] is it meet for any work ?

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver, and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and broidered work ; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil : and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

5 Behold, when it was whole it was [†] meet

Before CHRIST 594. 14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty : for it was perfect through my comeliness which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 ¶ But thou didst trust in thine own beauty, ^s and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy fornications on every one that passed by ; his it was.

16 ^h And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon : the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver which I had given thee, and madest to thy self images [†] of men, and didst commit whoredom with them,

18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and coveredst them : and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.

19 My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for [†] a sweet favour : and thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 ⁱ Moreover, thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast born unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them [†] to be devoured : is this of thy whoredoms a small matter, 21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them ?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy ^k youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And it came to pass after all thy wickedness (wo, wo unto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 That ^l thou hast also built unto thee an ^{||} eminent place, and ^m hast made thee an high place in every street.

25 Thou hast built thy high place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, ⁿ great of flesh, and hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger.

27 Behold therefore, I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, ^o the ^{||} daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way.

28 ^p Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable : yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan unto Chaldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an imperious whorish woman ?

31 ¶ In that ^q thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thine high place in every street, and hast not been as an harlot (in that thou scornest hire)

32 But as a wife that committeth adultery, which taketh strangers in stead of her husband.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms : and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee ; therefore thou art contrary.

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD.

36 Thus saith the Lord God, Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them ;

37 Behold therefore, ^t I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated : I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness. 39 And I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down ^u thine eminent place, ^u and shall break down thy high places : they shall strip thee also of thy cloaths, and shall take [†] thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare. [†] Heb. instruments of thine ornament. [†] John 8. 5, 7.

40 They shall also bring up a company against thee, ^x and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

41 And they shall ^y burn thine houses with fire, and execute judgements upon thee in the sight of many women : and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire any more. ^y 2 Kings 25. 9. Jer. 39. 8. & 52. 13.

42 So will I make my fury towards thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things ; behold, therefore, ^z I also will recompense thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord God, and thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations. ^z Chap. 9. 10. & 11. 21. & 22. 3 f.

44 ¶ Behold, every one that useth proverbs, shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that loatheth her husband and her children, and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which loathed their husbands, and their children : ^a your mother [†] was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite. [†] Verse 3; [†] Heb. lesser than thou.

46 And thine elder sister is Samaria, she and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand : and ^b [†] thy younger sister that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters. ^b Deut. 32. 32; Isaiah 1. 10. [†] Heb. lesser than thou.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations : but ^{||} as if ^{||} that were a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more than they in all thy ways. ^{||} Or, that was loathed as a small thing.

48 As I live, saith the Lord God, ^c Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters. ^c Matth. 10. 15; & 11. 24.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, Pride, ^d fulness of bread, and abundance ^d Gen. 13. 10;

Before of idleness was in her, and in her daughters, neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

594. 50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I saw good.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Thou also which hast judged thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they: they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

53 When I shall bring again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them:

54 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them.

55 When thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride.

57 Before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of thy reproach of the daughters of Syria, and all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines which despise thee round about.

58 Thou hast born thy lewdness, and thine abominations, saith the LORD.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant.

60 Nevertheless, I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD:

63 That thou mayest remember and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

C H A P. XVII.

Under the parable of two eagles and a vine, is shewed Gods judgement upon Jerusalem for revolting from Babylon to Egypt. 22 God promiseth to plant the cedar of the gospel.

594. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel;

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, A great eagle with great wings, long-winged, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar:

4 He cropt off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field, he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow-tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers; and behold, this vine did bend her roots towards him, and shot forth her branches towards him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God, Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power, or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

11 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Jerusalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon;

13 And hath taken of the kings seed, and made a covenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land:

14 That the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift it self up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses, and much people: shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him, in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war by casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons.

18 Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant (when lo, he had given his hand) and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.

21 And all his fugitives with all his bands shall

Before CHRIST 594. shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered towards all winds : and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

22 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take of the highest branch of the high cedar, and will set it, I will crop off from the top of his young twigs a tender one, and will plant it upon an high mountain and eminent.

23 ^m In the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it : and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar : and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing, in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish : I the LORD have spoken and have done it.

C H A P. XVIII.

1 God reproveth the unjust parable of sower grapes : 5 He sheweth how he dealeth with a just father, 10 with a wicked son of a just father, 14 with a just son of a wicked father, 19 with a wicked man repenting, 24 with a just man revolting : 25 He defendeth his justice, 31 and exhorteth to repentance.

594. THe word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The ^a fathers have eaten sower grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine, as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine : the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 ¶ But if a man be just, and do [†] that which is lawful and right,

6 ^b And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath ^c defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath come near to ^d a menstruous woman,

7 And hath not ^e oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his ^f pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath ^g given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

8 He that hath not given forth upon ^h usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgement between man and man,

9 Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgements to deal truly ; he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord God.

10 ¶ If he beget a son that is a || robber, a shedder of blood, and || that doeth the like to any one of these things,

11 And that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbours wife,

12 Hath oppressed the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lift up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination, 13 Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase : shall he then live? he shall not live : he hath done all these abominations, he shall surely die, ⁱ his [†] blood shall be upon him.

14 ¶ Now lo, if he beget a son that seeth all his fathers sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like,

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbours wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, [†] hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgements, hath walked in my statutes ; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even he shall die in his iniquity.

19 ¶ Yet say ye, Why? ^k doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? when the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

20 The soul that sinneth it shall die : ^l the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son ; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

21 But ^m if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him : in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall live.

23 ⁿ Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God : and not that he should return from his ways and live?

24 ¶ But ^o when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? all his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned : in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 ¶ Yet ye say, ^p The way of the LORD is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel, Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?

26 When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them ; for his iniquity that he hath done, shall he die.

27 Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

29 ^q Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the LORD is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?

30 Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord God : ^r repent, and turn || your selves from all your transgressions ; so iniquity shall not be your ruin.

1 God refuseth to be consulted by the elders of Israel: 5 He sheweth the story of their rebellions in Egypt, 10 in the wilderness, 27 and in the land. 33 He promiseth to gather them by the gospel. 45 Under the name of a forest he sheweth the destruction of Jerusalem.

593. And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that ^a certain of the elders of Israel came to enquire of the LORD, and sat before me.

2 Then came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord

God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I live, Before faith the Lord God, ^b I will not be enquired of CHRIST by you.

4 Wilt thou || ^c judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? cause them to know the abominations of their fathers:

5 ¶ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when ^d I chose Israel, and || lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made my self ^e known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the LORD your God,

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey ^f which is the glory of all lands:

7 Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selves with the idols of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said, I will pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

9 ^g But I wrought for my names sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made my self known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

10 ¶ Wherefore I ^h caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, and [†] shewed them my judgements, ⁱ which if a man do, he shall even live in them.

22 ^t Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and ^u wrought for my names sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that ^x I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries;

24 ^y Because they had not executed my judgements, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idols.

25 Wherefore ^z I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgements whereby they should not live.

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass ^a through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end, that they might know that I am the LORD.

27 ¶ Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Yet in this your fathers have blasphemed me, in that they have [†] committed a trespass against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then ^b they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering: there also they made their ^c sweet favour, and poured out there their drink-offerings.

29 Then ^{||} I said unto them, What is the high place, whereunto ye go? and the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day.

30 Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute your selves with all your idols even unto this day: and ^d shall I be enquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be enquired of by you.

32 And that which cometh into your mind, shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.

33 ¶ As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched-out arm, and with fury poured out will I rule over you.

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched-out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD.

37 And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into ^{||} the bond of the ^{||} covenant.

38 And ^e I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn, and ^f they shall not enter into the land of Israel, ^g and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

39 ^h As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord GOD, Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter also if ye will not hearken unto me: but pollute ye my holy name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For ⁱ in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them in the land serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the ^{||} first-fruits of your oblations, with all your ^{||} holy things.

41 I will accept you with your [†] sweet favour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered, and I will be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 ^k And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And ^l there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled, and ^m ye shall lothe your selves in your own fight, for all your evils that ye have committed.

44 ⁿ And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you for my names sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.

45 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

46 ^o Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south-field;

47 And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the LORD, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour ^p every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burnt therein.

And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 ^a Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and ^b drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of his sheath against all flesh from the south to the north :

5 That all flesh may know that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath : it shall not return any more.

6 Sigh therefore, thou son of man, with the breaking of thy loyns ; and with bitterness sigh before their eyes.

7 And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou ? that thou shalt answer, For the tidings, because it cometh : and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees [†] shall be weak as water : behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to pass, saith the Lord God.

8 ¶ Again, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the LORD, Say, ^c A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also furbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter, it is furbished that it may glitter : should we then make mirth ? || it contemneth the rod of my son, as every tree.

11 And he hath given it to be furbished, that it may be handled : the sword is sharpened, and it is furbished to give it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry and howl, son of man, for it shall be upon my people, it shall be upon all the princes of Israel : || terrors, by reason of the sword, shall be upon my people : ^d smite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 || Because it is a trial, and what if the sword condemn even the rod ? it shall be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and ^e smite thine [†] hands together, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain, it is the sword of the great men that are slain, which entereth into their privy chambers.

15 I have set the || point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruins be multiplied : Ah, it is made bright, it is || wrapt up for the slaughter.

16 Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, [†] or on the left, whithersoever thy face is set.

17 I will also ^f smite mine hands together, and I will cause my fury to rest : I the LORD have said it.

18 ¶ The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

19 Also thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come : both twain shall come forth out of one land, and choose thou a place, choose it at the head of the way to the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to ^g Rabbath of the Ammonites, and to Judah in Jerusalem the defended.

21 For the king of Babylon stood at the [†] parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination : he made his || arrows bright, he consulted with [†] images, he looked in the liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem to appoint || [†] captains, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fort.

23 And it shall be unto them as a false divination in their sight, || to them that have sworn oaths : but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear : because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 ¶ And thou profane wicked prince of Israel, ^h whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end, 26 Thus saith the Lord God, Remove the diadem, and take off the crown : this shall not be the same, exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.

27 [†] I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, ⁱ and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is, and I will give it him.

28 ¶ And thou, son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord God, ^k concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach : ^e even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn : for the slaughter it is furbished, to consume because of the glittering :

29 Whiles they ^l see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine a lye unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked ^m whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 || ⁿ Shall I cause it to return into his sheath ? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, ^o in the land of thy nativity.

31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of || brutish men, and skilful to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire : thy blood shall be in the midst of the land, thou shalt be no more remembered : for I the LORD have spoken it.

10 In thee have they [†] discovered their fathers nakedness: in thee have they humbled her that was [†] set apart for pollution.

11 And ^{||} one hath committed abomination with his neighbours [†] wife, and ^{||} another [†] hath ^{||} lewdly defiled his daughter in law, and another in thee hath humbled his [†] sister, his fathers daughter.

13 ¶ Behold therefore I have [†] smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong in the days that I shall deal with thee? [†] I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it.

15 And [†] I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and [†] will consume thy filthiness out of thee.

16 And thou ^{||} shalt take thine inheritance in thy self in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

17 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, [†] the house of Israel is to me become dross, all they are brass, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace, they are even the [†] dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because ye are all become dross, behold therefore I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.

20 [†] As they gather silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger, and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.

21 Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you.

23 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 [†] There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion, ravening the prey: they [†] have devoured souls: [†] they have taken the treasure and precious things: they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 Her priests have [†] violated my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no [†] difference between the holy and profane, neither have they shewed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her [†] princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.

28 And [†] her prophets have daubed them with untempered mortar, [†] seeing vanity, and divining lyes unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken.

29 The people of the land have used ^{||} oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have oppressed the stranger [†] wrongfully.

30 [†] And I sought for a man among them, that should [†] make up the hedge, and [†] stand in the gap before me for the land that I should not destroy it: but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them, I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: [†] their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The whoredoms of Aholah and Aholibah. 22 Aholibah is to be plagued by her lovers. 36 The prophet reproveth the adulteries of them both, 45 and sheweth their judgments.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were [†] two women the daughters of one mother.

3 And [†] they committed whoredoms in Egypt, they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister: and [†] they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine, and she doted on her lovers, on [†] the Assyrians her neighbours, 6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she [†] committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were [†] the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted, with all their idols she defiled her self.

8 Neither left she her whoredoms brought from Egypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the [†] Assyrians, upon whom she doted.

10 These [†] discovered her nakedness, they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became [†] famous among women, for they had executed judgement upon her.

11 And [†] when her sister Aholibah saw this, she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms [†] more than her sister in her whoredoms.

12 She doted upon the [†] Assyrians her neighbours, captains and rulers clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that she increased her whoredoms: for when she saw men portrayed upon the wall,

588. AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, ^a because that Tyrus hath said against Jerusalem, ^b Aha, she is broken that was the gates of the people: she is turned unto me, I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste:

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against thee, O Tyrus, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of Tyrus, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

5 It shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD, and it shall become a spoil to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword, ^c and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, ^d a king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field, and he shall make a fort against thee, and || cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

9 And he shall set engines of war against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.

10 By reason of the abundance of his horses, their dust shall cover thee, thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, [†] as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets; he shall slay thy people by the sword, and thy strong garisons shall go down to the ground.

12 And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise, and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy [†] thy pleasant houses, and they shall lay thy stones, and thy timber, and thy dust in the midst of the water.

16 Then ^g all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their brodered garments: they shall clothe themselves with [†] trembling, they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble at every moment, and be astonished at thee.

17 And they shall take up a ^h lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed that wast inhabited [†] of sea-faring men, the renowned city which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which cause their terror to be on all that haunt it?

18 Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord GOD, When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited, when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;

20 When I shall bring thee down, with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited, and I shall set glory in the land of the living:

1 A relation unto Pharaoh, 3 of the glory of Assyria, 10 and the fall thereof for pride. 18 The like destruction of Egypt.

ANd it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt,

Before Egypt, and to his multitude, ^a Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

CHRIST 588. 3 ¶ ^b Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon † with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature, and his top was among the thick boughs.

4^c The waters || made him great, the deep || set him up on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her || little rivers unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of her waters, || when he shot forth.

6 All the ^d fowls of heaven made their nest in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the ^e garden of God could not hide him: the fir-trees were not like his boughs, and the chefnut-trees were not like his branches; nor any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast lifted up thy self in height, and he hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height;

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen: † he shall surely deal with him, I have driven him out for his wickedness.

12 And strangers, ^f the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains, and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the rivers of the land, and all the people of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his ruin shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches:

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees || stand up in their height, all that drink water: for ^g they are all delivered unto death to the nether parts of the earth in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went down to the grave, I caused a mourning, I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed; and I caused Lebanon † to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and ^h all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, ⁱ shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain with the sword, and they that were his arm that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.

18 ¶ ^k To whom art thou thus like in glory ^{Ver. 2.} and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: ^l thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with ^{Chap. 28. 10.} ^m them that be slain by the sword: this is Pharaoh ^{& 32. 19, 21.} and all his multitude, ^{24, &c.} saith the Lord God.

C H A P. XXXII.

1 A lamentation for the fearful fall of Egypt. 11 The sword of Babylon shall destroy it. 17 It shall be brought down to hell among all the uncircumcised nations.

And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, ^a Thou art like a young lion of the nations, ^b and thou art as a || whale in the seas: and thou camest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, I will therefore spread out my net over thee, with a company of many people, and they shall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then ^d will I leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will also water with thy blood || the land wherein thou swimdest, even to the mountains; and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall || put thee out, ^e I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark: I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the † bright lights of heaven will I make † dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord God.

9 I will also † vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them, and ^f they shall tremble at every moment; every man for his own life in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord God, The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, ^g the terrible of the nations all of them; and they shall spoil the pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from besides the great waters, ^h neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oyl, saith the Lord God.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the countries shall be † destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the LORD.

Before CHRIST 587. 16 This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament her : the daughters of the nations shall lament her : they shall lament for her, even for Egypt and for all her multitude, faith the Lord GOD.

587. 17 ¶ It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

1 Chap. 31. 18. 1 Ver. 21, 24, &c. 19 ^k Whom dost thou pass in beauty ? ¹ go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword : || she is delivered to the sword ; draw her, and all her multitudes.

21 ^m The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him : they are ⁿ gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22 ^o Ashur is there and all her company : his graves are about him : all of them slain, fallen by the sword.

23 Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave : all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused || terror in the land of the living.

24 There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living, yet have they born their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude : her graves are round about him : all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword : though their terror was caused in the land of the living, yet have they born their shame with them that go down to the pit : he is put in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude : her graves are round about him : all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the living.

27 ^p And they shall not lie with the mighty, that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell [†] with their weapons of war : and they have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

29 There is Edom, her kings, and all her princes, which with their might are [†] laid by them that were slain by the sword : they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

30 ^q There be the princes of the north all of them, and all the Zidonians, which are gone down with the slain, with their terror they are ashamed of their might, and they lie uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army slain by the sword, faith the Lord GOD.

32 For I have caused my terror in the land of the living : and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that are slain with the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, faith the Lord GOD.

C H A P. XXXIII.

1 According to the duty of a watchman, in warning the people, 7 Ezekiel is admonished of his duty. 10 God sheweth the justice of his ways towards the penitent, and towards revolvers : 17 He maintaineth his justice. 21 Upon the news of the taking of Jerusalem, he prophesieth the desolation of the land. 30 Gods judgement upon the mockers of the prophets.

A Gain the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, [†] When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their watchman :

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people ;

4 Then [†] whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning ; if the sword-eth come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning, his blood shall be upon him : but he that taketh warning, shall deliver his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned : if the sword come and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 ¶ ^a So thou, O son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel : therefore thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die ; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it : if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 ¶ Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we ^b pine away in them, how should we then live ?

11 Say unto them, As I live, faith the Lord GOD, ^c I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live : turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways ; for ^d why will ye die, O house of Israel ?

12 Therefore, thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The ^e righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression : as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness ; neither shall the

Before righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous that he shall surely live: if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity: all his righteousness shall not be remembered, but for his iniquity that he hath committed he shall die for it.

14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die: if he turn from his sin, and do † that which is lawful and right;

15 If the wicked † restore the pledge, ‡ give again that he had robbed, walk in ‡ the statutes of life without committing iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None of his sins that he hath committed shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

17 ¶ Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the LORD is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby.

20 Yet ye say, ‡ The way of the LORD is not equal: O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 ¶ And it came to pass in the twelfth year 1 of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, ‡ that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem, came unto me, saying, ‡ The city is smitten.

22 Now ‡ the hand of the LORD was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and had opened my mouth until he came to me in the morning, and my mouth was opened, and I was no more ‡ dumb.

23 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, ‡ they that inhabit those wastes of the land of Israel, speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many, the land is given us for inheritance.

25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, ‡ Ye eat with the blood, and ‡ lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood; and shall ye possess the land?

26 Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbours wife; and shall ye possess the land?

27 Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As I live, surely they that are in the wastes shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field ‡ will I give to the beasts † to be devoured: and they that be in the forts and ‡ in the caves, shall die of the pestilence.

28 ‡ For I will lay the land † most desolate, and the ‡ pomp of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have laid the land most desolate, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 ¶ Also thou son of man, the children of thy people still are talking ‡ against thee by the walls, and in the doors of the houses, and speak to one another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD.

31 And ‡ they come unto thee † as the people cometh, and ‡ they ‡ sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: ‡ for with their mouth † they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness.

32 And lo, thou art unto them as † a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 ‡ And when this cometh to pass (lo it will come) then ‡ shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

1 A reproof of the shepherds. 7 Gods judgement against them: 11 His providence for his flock. 20 The kingdom of Christ.

And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 ‡ Son of man, prophesy against the ‡ shepherds of Israel, prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God unto the shepherds, ‡ Wo be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves: should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

3 Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wooll, ‡ ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

4 ‡ The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with ‡ force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

5 ‡ And they were scattered ‡ because there is no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered.

6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them.

7 ¶ Therefore ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD;

8 As I live, saith the Lord God, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves and fed not my flock:

9 Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD;

10 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I am against the shepherds, and I will require my flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock, neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I, even I will both search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 † As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.

13 And ‡ I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring

The kingdom of Christ. Chap. xxxiv, xxxv. Mount Seir's judgement.

Before CHRIST 587. bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy ^k the fat and the strong, I will feed them with judgement.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I judge between [†] cattle and cattle, between the rams and the [†] he-goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you, to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pastures: and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet?

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have troden with your feet: and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God unto them, Behold, I, even I will judge between the fat cattle, and between the lean cattle.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pusht all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad:

22 Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey, and I will judge between cattle and cattle.

23 And I will set up one ^m shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, ^a even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And I the LORD will be their God, and my servant David a prince among them, I the LORD have spoken it.

25 And ^o I will make with them a covenant of peace, and ^p will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places round about my hill, a blessing, and I will cause the shower to come down in his season, there shall be ^a showers of blessing.

27 And ^a the tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land devour them; but ^s they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a ^t plant || of renown, and they shall be no more [†] consumed with hunger in the land, ^a neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they know that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord God.

31 And ye my ^{*} flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXV.

The judgement of mount Seir, for their hatred of Israel.

Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and ^a prophesy against it,

3 And say unto it, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O mount Seir, I am against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee [†] most desolate.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

5 Because thou hast had a || perpetual hatred, and hast [†] shed the blood of the children of Israel by the [†] force of the sword in the time of their calamity, ^b in the time that their iniquity had an end:

6 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: ^c sith thou hast not hated blood, ^c even blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir [†] most desolate, and cut off from it him that passeth out, and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: in thy hills, and in thy vallies, and in all thy rivers shall they fall that are slain with the sword.

9 ^d I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not return, ^e and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations, and these two countries shall be mine, and we will ^f possess it, || whereas the LORD was there:

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, I will even do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them: and I will make my self known amongst them, when I have judged thee.

12 And thou shalt know that I am the LORD, and that I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us [†] to consume.

13 Thus with your mouth ye have [†] boasted against me, and ^s have multiplied your words against me: I have heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord God, When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate.

15 ^b As thou didst rejoice at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, even all of it, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

17 Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way, and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanness of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my fury upon them for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm-trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh towards the east, and they went up unto it by seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the north, and toward the east, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 ¶ After that he brought me toward the south, and behold, a gate toward the south, and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows; the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palm-trees, one on this side, and another on that side upon the posts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the south, and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the south-gate, and he measured the south-gate according to these measures:

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures, and there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof; and the going up to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ And he brought me into the inner court toward the east, and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof were according to these measures, and there were windows therein, and in the arches thereof round about; it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the outward court, and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going up to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ And he brought me to the north-gate, and measured it according to these measures:

36 The little chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows to it round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the posts thereof were toward the utter court, and palm-trees were upon the posts thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And the chambers, and the entries thereof were by the posts of the gates, where they washed the burnt-offering.

39 ¶ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to 40 And at the side without, || as one goeth up to the entry of the north-gate, were two tables; and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt-offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt-offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were || hooks, an hand broad, || fastened round about; and upon the tables was the flesh of the offering.

44 ¶ And without the inner gate were the chambers of the fingers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north-gate: and their prospect was toward the south, one at the side of the east-gate, having the prospect toward the north.

45 And he said unto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests ^k the keepers of the || charge of the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north, is for the priests ^l the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of ^m Zadok among the sons of Levi, which come near to the LORD to minister unto him.

47 So he measured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, four-square, and the altar that was before the house.

48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

4 So ^a he measured the length thereof twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits before the temple; and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

Chap. 40. 5.

7 And [†] there was an enlarging and a winding about still upward to the side-chambers, for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house : therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 I saw also the height of the house round about : the foundations of the side-chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall which was for the side-chamber without, was five cubits, and that which was left, was the place of the side-chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

11 And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south, and the breadth of the place that was left, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place, at the end toward the west, was seventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house, an hundred cubits long, and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long.

14 Also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place which was behind it, and the || galleries thereof on the one side, and on the other side, an hundred cubits with the inner temple, and the porches of the court:

16 The door-posts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the door, [†] cieled with wood round about, || and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered:

17 To that above the door, even unto the inner house and without, and by all the wall round about within and without by [†] measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and palm-trees, so that a palm-tree was between a cherub and a cherub, and every cherub had two faces:

19 ^d So that the face of a man was toward the palm-tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other side : it was made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were cherubims and palm-trees made, and on the wall of the temple.

21 The [†] posts of the temple were squared, and the face of the sanctuary : the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits ; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof were of wood : and he said unto me, This is ^e the table that is before the LORD.

23 And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves a piece, two turning leaves ; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubims and palm-trees, like as were made upon the wall ; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on the one side, and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side-chambers of the house, and thick planks.

1 The chambers for the priests : 13 The use thereof.
19 The measures of the outward court.

Then he brought me forth into the utter court, the way toward the north, and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north-door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the utter court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit, and their doors toward the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter : for the galleries || were higher than these, || than the lower and than the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts : therefore the building was straitened more than the lowest, and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, towards the utter court on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court, was fifty cubits : and lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And || from under these chambers was || the entry on the east-side, || as one goeth into them from the utter court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they ; and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south, was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entred into them.

13 ¶ Then said he unto me, The north-chambers and the south-chambers, which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the priests that approach unto the LORD ^a shall eat the most holy things : there shall they lay the most holy things, and ^b the meat-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering ; for the place is holy.

14 When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments, wherein they minister ; for they are holy : and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate, whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.

Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east.

2 ^a And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and ^b his voice was like a noise of many waters, and the earth shined with his glory.

3 And it was ^c according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw, || when I came ^d to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face.

4 And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the east.

5 So the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court, and behold, ^e the glory of the LORD filled the house.

6 And I heard him speaking unto me out of the house, and the man stood by me.

7 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, the place of my throne, and ^f the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever, and my holy name shall the house of Israel no more defile, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by ^g the carcases of their kings in their high places.

8 ^h In their setting of their threshold by my thresholds, and their post by my posts, || and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger.

9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcases of their kings far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities, and let them measure the || pattern.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, shew them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the house: Upon the top of the mountain, the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy: behold, this is the law of the house.

13 ¶ And these are the measures of the altar Before after the cubits; ⁱ the cubit is a cubit and an hand-breadth; even the ^j bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the ^k edge thereof round about shall be a span, and this shall be the higher place of the altar.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground, even to the lower settle, shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle even to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So ^l the altar shall be four cubits, and from ^m the altar and upward shall be four horns.

16 And the altar shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square in the four squares thereof.

17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long, and fourteen broad in the four squares thereof, and the border about it shall be half a cubit, and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about, and ⁿ his stairs shall look toward the east.

18 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the altar, in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19 ^o And thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which approach unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord God, ^p a young bullock for a sin-offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse and purge it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin-offering, and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house without the sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin-offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the LORD, ^q and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto the LORD.

25 ^r Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin-offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

26 Seven days shall they purge the altar and purify it, and they shall ^s consecrate themselves.

27 ^t And when these days are expired, it shall be that upon the eighth day, and so forward, the priests shall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your || peace-offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord God.

of the cor, which is an homer of ten baths; for ten baths are an homer:

15 And one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the princes part to give burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and drink-offerings, in the feasts, and in the new-moons, and in the sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Israel:
he shall prepare the sin-offering, and the meat-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord God, In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and cleanse the sanctuary.

19 And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so thou shalt do the seventh day of the month, for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye reconcile the house.

21 In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days, unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself, and for all the people of the land, a bullock for a sin-offering.

23 And seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt-offering to the LORD, seven bul-locks, and seven rams, without blemish, daily the seven days, and a kid of the goats daily for a sin-offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meat-offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil for an ephah.

25 In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month shall he do the like in the feast of the seven days, according to the sin-offering, according to the burnt-offering, and according to the meat-offering, and according to the oil.

C H A P. XLVI.

1 Ordinances for the prince in his worship, 9 and for the people. 16 An order for the princes inheritance.
19 The courts for boiling and baking.

Thus saith the Lord God, The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east, shall be shut the six working-days: but on the sabbath it shall be opened, and in the day of the new-moon it shall be opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate:
then he shall go forth, but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the door of this gate before the LORD, in the sabbaths, and in the new-moons.

4 And the burnt-offering that the prince shall offer unto the LORD in the sabbath-day, shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 And the meat-offering shall be an ephah for a ram, and the meat-offering for the lambs as he shall be able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

6 And in the day of the new-moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meat-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram: and for the lambs, according as his hand shall attain unto, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 ¶ But when the people of the land shall come before the LORD, in the solemn feasts, he that entreth in by the way of the north-gate to worship, shall go out by the way of the southgate: and he that entreth by the way of the south-gate, shall go forth by the way of the north-gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince in the midst of them, when they go in, shall go in; and when they go forth, shall go forth.

11 And in the feasts, and in the solemnities, the meat-offering shall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs, as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall prepare a voluntary burnt-offering or peace-offerings, voluntarily unto the LORD, one shall then open him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt-offering, and his peace-offerings as he did on the sabbath-day: then he shall go forth, and after his going forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 ^b Thou shalt daily prepare a burnt-offering unto the LORD, of a lamb [†] of the first year without blemish; thou shalt prepare it [†] every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat-offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to temper with the fine flour; a meat-offering continually, by a perpetual ordinance unto the LORD.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat-offering, and the oil, every morning, for a continual burnt-offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, the inheritance thereof shall be his sons, it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the year of liberty; after, it shall return to the prince: but his inheritance shall be his sons for them.

18 Moreover, ^c the prince shall not take of the peoples inheritance, by oppression to thrust them out of their possession; but he shall give his sons inheritance out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 ¶ After, he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the two sides west-ward.

20 Then said he unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass-offering and the sin-offering, where they shall bake the meat-offering: that they bear them not out into the utter court, ^d to sanctify the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court, and behold, [†] in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts || joined of forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four [†] corners were of one measure.

23 And there was a row of building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling-places under the rows round about.

24 Then said he unto me, These are the places of them that boil, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

1 The vision of the holy waters. 6 The virtue of them. 13 The borders of the land. 22 The division of it by lot.

Afterward he brought me again unto the door of the house, and behold, ^a waters issued out from under the threshold of the house east-ward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the east, and the waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the south-side of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate north-ward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate by the way that looketh east-ward, and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth east-ward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters: the [†] waters were to the ankles. [†] Heb. waters of the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loyns.

Now these are the names of the tribes, ^a from the north-end to the coast of the way of Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus north-ward, to the coast of Hamath (for these are his sides east and west) † a portion for Dan.

2 And by the border of Dan, from the east-side unto the west-side, a portion for Asher.

3 And by the border of Asher from the east-side even unto the west-side, a portion for Naphtali.

4 And by the border of Naphtali, from the east-side unto the west-side, a portion for Manasseh.

5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the east-side unto the west-side, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the east-side even unto the west-side, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the east-side unto the west-side, a portion for Judah.

8 ¶ And by the border of Judah, from the east-side unto the west-side, shall be ^b the offering which ye shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east-side unto the west-side, and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto the LORD, shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them, even for the priests shall be this holy oblation, toward the north, five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length, and the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof.

11 ^c ¶ It shall be for the priests that are sanctified, of the sons of Zadok, which have kept my || charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, ^d as the Levites went astray.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered, shall be unto them a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And over against the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth : all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 ^e And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the first-fruits of the land : for it is holy unto the LORD.

15 ¶ And the five thousand that are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be a profane place for the city, for dwelling and for suburbs, and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof, the north-side four thousand and five hundred, and the south-side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east-side four thousand and five hundred, and the west-side four thousand and five hundred.

17 And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.

18 And the residue in length over against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand east-ward, and ten thousand west-ward : and it shall be over against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that serve the city.

19 And they that serve the city, shall serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand, by five and twenty thousand : ye shall offer the holy oblation four-square, with the possession of the city.

21 ¶ And the residue shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the city over against the five and twenty thousand, of the oblation toward the east-border, and west-ward over against the five and twenty thousand toward the west-border, over against the portions for the prince, and it shall be the holy oblation, and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof.

22 Moreover, from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

23 As for the rest of the tribes, from the east-side unto the west-side, Benjamin shall have † a portion.

24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the east-side unto the west-side, Simeon shall have a portion.

25 And by the border of Simeon, from the east-side unto the west-side, Issachar a portion.

26 And by the border of Issachar, from the east-side unto the west-side, Zebulun a portion.

27 And by the border of Zebulun, from the east-side unto the west-side, Gad a portion.

¶ The Book of DANIEL.

C H A P. I.

1 Jehoiakims captivity. 3 Ashpenaz taketh Daniel, Hananiah, Mishel, and Azariah. 8 They refusing the kings portion, do prosper with pulse and water. 17 Their excellency in wisdom.

N the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, ^a came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, unto Jerusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he carried ^b into the land of Shinar to the house of his god, ^c and he brought the vessels into the treasure-house of his god.

3 ¶ And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring ^{*} certain of the children of Israel, and of the kings feed, and of the princes;

4 Children ^d in whom was no blemish, but well-favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the kings palace, and ^e whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them a daily provision of the kings meat, and of [†] the wine which he drank: so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof they might ^f stand before the king.

6 Now among these were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:

7 Unto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: ^g for he gave unto Daniel the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abed-nego.

8 ¶ But Daniel purposed in his heart, that he would not defile himself ^h with the portion of the kings meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs, that he might not defile himself.

9 Now ⁱ God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces [†] worse liking than the children which are of your ^{||} sort? then shall ye make me endanger my head to the king.

11 Then said Daniel to ^{||} Melzar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, 12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days, and let them give us [†] pulse [†] to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the kings meat: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days, their countenances appeared fairer, and fatter in flesh, than all the children which did eat the portion of the kings meat.

16 Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink: and gave them pulse.

17 ¶ As for these four children, God gave them ^k knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and ^{||} Daniel had ^l understanding in all visions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the days that the king had said he should bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king communed with them, and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore ^m stood they before the king.

20 ⁿ And in all matters of [†] wisdom and understanding that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm.

21 ^o And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus,

A Nd in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, ^a wherewith his spirit was troubled, ^b and his sleep brake from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the astrologers, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to shew the king his dreams: so they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.

Before CHRIST 580. 23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his || counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt, and the form of the fourth is like ^h the son of God.

26 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the † mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 And the princes, governors, and captains, and the kings counsellors being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the kings word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.

6 Therefore made I a decree, to bring in all the wise-men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 ^f Then came in the magicians, the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the sooth-sayers: and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: ^l the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed of it.

13 I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and behold, ^m a watcher, and ⁿ an holy one came down from heaven.

14 He cried † aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit; let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

15 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth.

16 Let his heart be changed from mans, and let a beasts heart be given unto him, and let seven ^o times pass over him.

17 This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know, ^p that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen: now thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, forasmuch as all the wise-men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) was astonished for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him: the king spake, and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered, and said, My lord, ^q the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth;

21 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 It is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: ^r for thy greatness is grown and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 ^s And whereas the king saw a watcher, and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it, yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, CHRIST 538. 1 Belshazzars impious feast. 5 A hand-writing, unknown to the magicians, troubleth the king. 10 At the commendation of the queen, Daniel is brought : 17 He reproveth the king of pride and idolatry. 25 readeth and interpreteth the writing. 30 The monarchy is translated to the Medes.

B Elshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand.

2 Belshazzar, whiles he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels, a which his || father Nebuchadnezzar had † taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem, that the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God, which was at Jerusalem ; and the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines drank in them.

4 They drank wine, b and praised the gods b Rev. 9. 20. of gold, and of silver, of brasse, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5 ¶ c In the same hour came forth fingers of a mans hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the kings palace ; and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the kings † countenance † was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the || † joynts of his loyns were loosed, and his knees smote one against another.

7 d The king cried † aloud to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers : and the king spake and said to the wise-men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with || scarlet, and have a chain of gold || Or, purple. about his neck, e and shall be the third ruler in e Chap. 6. 2. the kingdom.

8 Then came in all the kings wise-men, but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his † countenance was changed in him, and his lords were astonished.

10 ¶ Now the queen, by reason of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquet-house ; and the queen spake and said, f O king, f Chap. 2. 4. &c. 3. 9. live for ever : let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 g There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom g Chap. 2. 48. &c. 4. 8, 9, 18. is the spirit of the holy gods, and in the days of thy || father light and understanding and wisdom, || Or, grandfather. like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him ; whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy || father, || Or, grandfather. the king, I say, thy father made h master of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers ; h Chap. 4. 9.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king ; and the king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my || father brought out of Jewry ? || Or, grandfather. ther.

Before CHRIST 538. 14 I have even heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light, and understanding, and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 And now the wise-men, the astrologers have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing.

16 And I have heard of thee, that thou canst [†] make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, ¹ and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 ¶ Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thy self, and give thy || rewards to another, yet I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, ^m the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour.

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, ^a all people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive, and whom he would he set up, and whom he would he put down.

20 ^{*} But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened || in pride, he was [†] deposed for his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him.

21 And he was [†] driven from the sons of men, and || his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, ^a till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will.

22 And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this:

23 But hast lifted up thy self against the Lord of heaven, and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives, and thy concubines have drunk wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, ^a and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified.

24 Then was the part of the hand sent from him, and this writing was written.

25 ¶ And this is the writing that was written, MENE MENE, TEKEL UPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the things; MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it.

27 TEKEL, ^a thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

28 PERES, thy kingdom is divided, and given to the ^c Medes and ^a Persians.

29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, ^a that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 ¶ In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain.

31 ^a And Darius the Median took the kingdom, [†] being || about threescore and two years old.

Before CHRIST 538. 1 Daniel is made chief of the presidents: 4 They conspiring against him, obtain an idolatrous decree. 10 Daniel accused of the breach thereof, is cast into the lions den. 18 Daniel is saved. 24 His adversaries devoured, 25 and God magnified by a decree.

IT pleased Darius to set over the kingdom ^a an hundred and twenty princes, which ^a should be over the whole kingdom;

2 And over these, three presidents (of whom Daniel was first) that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.

3 Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, ^b because an excellent ^b spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 ¶ Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom, but they could find none occasion nor fault: forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 Then these presidents and princes || assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, ^c King Darius, live for ever.

7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counsellors, and the captains have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm || decree, that ^a whosoever shall ask a petition of any God or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing; that it be not changed, according to the ^d law of the Medes and Persians, which [†] altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and his windows being open in his chamber ^c toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees ^f three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication before his God.

12 Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the kings decree, Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask a petition of any God, or man, within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel ^g which is of the children of ^c the captivity of Judah, ^h regardeth not thee, O ^a king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king when he heard these words, ⁱ was sore displeased with himself, and set ⁱ his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

1 Daniels vision of four beasts, 9 of Gods kingdom.

15 The interpretation thereof.

555. ¶ In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel [†] had a dream, and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the || matters.

2 Daniel spake, and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea.

3 And four great beasts ^a came up from the sea, diverse one from another.

4 The first was ^b like a lion, and had eagles wings: and I beheld till the wings thereof were pluckt, || and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a mans heart was given to it. 555. || Or, where-with.

5 ^c And behold, another beast, a second like to a bear, and || it raised up it self on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. * Chap. 2. 39. || Or, it raised upon dominion.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl, the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it.

7 After this I saw in the night-visions, and behold, ^d a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it, and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it, ^e and it had ten horns. * Chap. 2. 40.

8 I considered the horns, and behold, ^f there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns pluckt up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes ^g of man, ^h and a mouth speaking great things. * Verse 21, 24. Chap. 8. 9.

9 ¶ I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, ^k whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, ^l and his wheels as burning fire. * Rev. 9. 7. * Psal. 12. 3. 11 I beheld then, because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: ^p I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame. * Rev. 19. 20.

12 As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet [†] their lives were prolonged for a season and time. * Chald. a prolonging in life was given them.

15 ¶ I Daniel ^u was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my [†] body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But ^x the saints of the [†] most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. * Isaiah 60. 13. * Verse 22. * Chald. high ones, that is, things, or, places.

19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was diverse [†] from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass, which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet. * Chald. from all those.

20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and Before CHRIST 555. and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell, even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

22 Until the Ancient of days came, and judgement was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.

25 And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand, until a time and times and the dividing of time.

26 But the judgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume, and to destroy it unto the end.

27 And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

C H A P. VIII.

1 Daniels vision of the ram, and he-goat. 13 The two thousand three hundred days of sacrifice. 15 Gabriel comforteth Daniel, and interpreteth the vision.

553. IN the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar, a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision (and it came to pass when I saw, that I was at Shushan in the palace, which is in the province of Elam) and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold there stood before the river a ram which had two horns, and the two horns were high: but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing west-ward, and north-ward, and south-ward: so that no beast might stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand, but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, an he-goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns, and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore the he-goat waxed very great, and when he was strong, the great horn was broken: and for it came up four notable ones, toward the four winds of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the pleasant land.

10 And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven, and it cast down some of the host, and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them.

11 Yea, he magnified himself even to the prince of the host, and by him the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

12 And an host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and it cast down the truth to the ground, and it practised, and prospered.

13 Then I heard one faint speaking, and another faint said unto me that certain saint which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice and the transgression of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot?

14 And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred days; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

15 And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, then behold there stood before me as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.

17 So he came near where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man; for at the time of the end shall be the vision.

18 Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright.

19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the last end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end shall be.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences shall stand up.

24 And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty, and the holy people.

25 And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand, and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against

C H A P. IX.

1 Daniel considering the time of the captivity, 3 maketh confession of sins, 16 and prayeth for the restoration of Jerusalem. 20 Gabriel informeth him of the seventy weeks.

538. IN the first year ^a of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, || which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans;

2 In the first year of his reign, I Daniel understood by books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to ^b Jeremiah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.

3 ¶ ^c And I set my face unto the Lord God to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes.

4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confession, and said, O ^d Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant, and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments:

5 ^e We have sinned and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts, and from thy judgements.

6 Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousness || belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day: to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O Lord, ^f to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 ^g To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him.

10 Neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws which he set before us, by his servants the prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing that they might not obey thy voice, therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the ^h law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: ⁱ for under the whole heaven hath not been done, as hath been done upon Jerusalem.

13 As ^k it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet [†] made we not our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the LORD ^l watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for ^m the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doth: for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, ⁿ that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast [†] gotten thee renown as at this day: ^p we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 ¶ O Lord, ^q according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, ^r thy holy mountain: because for our sins, ^s and for the iniquities of our fathers, ^t Jerusalem and thy people ^u are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant and his supplications, ^x and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary ^y that is desolate, ^z for the Lords sake.

18 ^a O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, ^b and behold our desolations, and the city, ^c [†] which is called by thy name: for we do not [†] present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord, hear, O Lord, forgive, O Lord, hearken and do, defer not, ^d for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city, and thy people are called by thy name.

20 ¶ ^e And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God, for the holy mountain of my God:

21 Yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, even the man ^f Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly [†] swiftly, ^g touched me ^h about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth [†] to give thee skill and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the [†] commandment came forth, and ⁱ I am come to shew thee; ^k for thou art [†] greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 ^{*} Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people, and upon thy holy city, || to finish the transgression, and || to make an end of sins, ^l and to make reconciliation for iniquity, ^m and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and [†] prophecy, ⁿ and to anoint the most holy.

25 ^o Know therefore and understand, that ^r from the going forth of the commandment || to restore and to build Jerusalem, unto the Messiah ^q the prince, shall be seven weeks; and threescore and two weeks the street [†] shall be built again, and the || wall ^r even [†] in troublous times.

26 And after threescore and two weeks ^s shall Messiah be cut off, || but not for himself: || and ^t the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the city, and the sanctuary, and ^u the end thereof shall be ^x with a flood, and unto the end of the war || desolations are determined:

27 (And he shall confirm || the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, || and for the overspreading of ^y abominations, he shall make it desolate) ^z even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured || upon the desolate.

^u Marth. 24. 6, 14. ^v Isaiah 8. 7, 8. Chap. 11. 22. Nahum 1. 8. || Or, it shall be cut off by desolations. || Or, and upon the battlements shall be the idols of the desolator. ^w Marth. 24. 15. C H A P. X.

1 Daniel having humbled himself, seeth a vision. 10 Being troubled with fear, he is comforted by the angel.

Before CHRIST 534. IN the third year of Cyrus king of Persia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel (^a whose name was called Belteshazzar) ^b and the thing was true, but the time appointed was [†] long, and ^c he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

² In those days I Daniel was mourning three [†] full weeks.

⁴ And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is ^e Hiddekel :

⁷ And I Daniel ^m alone saw the vision, for the men that were with me saw not the vision : but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

⁹ Yet heard I the voice of his words : ^p and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

¹⁰ ¶ ^q And behold, an hand touched me, which [†] set me upon my knees, and upon the palms of my hands.

¹¹ And he said unto me, O Daniel, ^r [†] a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and [†] stand upright : for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

¹² Then said he unto me, ^s Fear not, Daniel : for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thy self before thy God, ^t thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

¹⁵ And when he had spoken such words unto me, ^a I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

¹⁶ And behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips : then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision ^b my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

¹⁷ For how can ^{||} the servant of this my lord, talk with this my lord ? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

¹⁸ Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, ¹⁹ ^c And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not, peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong.

And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak ; for thou hast strengthened me.

²⁰ Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee ? and now will I return to fight ^d with the prince of Persia : and when I am gone ^e Verse 13. forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come.

²¹ But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth : and there is none that [†] holdeth with me in these things, ^e but Michael, your prince.

ALso ^a I, in the first year of ^b Darius the Mede, even I stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

² And now will I shew thee the truth, Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be far richer than they all : and by his strength through his riches he shall stir up all against the realm of Grecia.

³ And ^c a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

⁶ And in the end of years they [†] shall joyn themselves together ; for the kings daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make [†] an agreement : but she shall not retain the power of the arm, neither shall he stand, nor his arm ; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and ^{||} he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.

⁹ So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

¹³ For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and Before CHRIST 534. and shall certainly come († after certain years) with a great army, and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also † the robbers of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take † the most fenced cities, and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither † his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him, ^h shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the † glorious land which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 He shall also set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and † upright ones with him: thus shall he do, and he shall give him the daughter of women † corrupting her: but she shall not stand on his side, ⁱ neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many: but a prince † for his own behalf shall cause † the reproach offered by him, to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.

19 Then he shall turn his face towards the fort of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.

20 Then shall stand up † in his estate † a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdom; but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in † anger nor in battle.

21 And † in his estate ^k shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 ^l And with the arms of a flood shall they be overflowed from before him, and shall be broken; ^m yea, also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he shall work deceitfully; for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

24 He shall enter † peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province, and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers fathers, ⁿ he shall scatter among them the prey and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall † forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army, and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat, shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings † hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for ^o yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great riches, and ^p his heart shall be against the holy covenant: and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he shall return, and come toward the south, ^q but it shall not be as the former, ^r or as the latter.

30 ¶ ^s For the ships of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be grieved and return, and have indignation ^t against the holy covenant: so shall he do, he shall even return, ^u and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms shall stand on his part, ^x and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall place the abomination that † maketh desolate.

32 ^z And such as do wickedly against the covenant, shall he † corrupt by flatteries: ^a but the people that do know their God, shall be strong, and do exploits.

33 ^b And they that understand among the people, shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity and by spoil many days.

34 Now when they shall fall, ^c they shall be holpen with a little help: ^d but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.

35 And some of them of understanding shall fall ^e to try † them, and to purge, and to make them white, ^f even to the time of the end: ^g because it is yet for a time appointed.

36 ¶ And the king shall do according to his will, and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, ^h and shall speak marvellous things ⁱ against the God of gods, and shall prosper ^k till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined, shall be done.

37 Neither shall he regard the god of his fathers, ^l nor the desire of women, ^m nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all.

38 † But in his estate shall he honour the God of † forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not, shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and † pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in the † most strong holds with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for † gain.

40 ⁿ And at the time of the end shall the king of the south push at him, and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind with chariots, ^o and with horsemen, and with many ships, and he shall enter into the countries, ^p and shall overflow and pass over.

41 He shall enter also into the † glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall escape out of his hand, ^q even Edom and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall † stretch forth his hand also upon the countries, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.

44 But tidings out of the east, and out of the north shall trouble him: therefore he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and utterly to make away many.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace between the seas in ^r the † glorious holy mountain; ^s yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

C H A P. I.

1 Hosea to shew Gods judgement for spiritual whoredoms, taketh Gomer, 4 and bath by her Jezreel, 6 Lo-rubamah, 8 and Lo-ammi. 10 The restoration of Judah and Israel.

cir. 785.

THE word of the LORD that came unto Hosea, the son of Beer, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam, the son of Joash king of Israel.

2 The beginning of the word of the LORD by Hosea: and the LORD said to Hosea, ^a Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredoms and children of whoredoms: for ^b the land hath committed great whoredom departing from the LORD.

3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a son.

4 And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, ^c and I will [†] avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

5 ^d And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6 ¶ And she conceived again, and bare a daughter; and God said unto him, Call her name || Lo-rubamah: for [†] I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel; || but I will utterly take them away.

7 But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and ^e will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 ¶ Now when she had weaned Lo-rubamah, she conceived and bare a son.

9 Then said God, Call his name || Lo-ammi: ^{||} That is, not my people. for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 ¶ Yet ^f the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; ^g and it shall come to pass, that || in the place where it was said unto them, ^h Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.

11 ⁱ Then shall the children of Judah and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was ^c born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst.

4 And I will not have mercy upon her children; for they be the children of whoredoms.

5 ^d For their mother hath played the harlot: ^e she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, ^e that give me my bread and my water, my wooll and my flax, mine oyl and my [†] drink.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband, for then was it better with me than now.

8 For she did not know that I gave her corn, and [†] wine, and oyl, and multiplied her silver and gold, || which they prepared for Baal.

9 Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will || recover my wooll and my flax given to cover her nakedness.

10 And now ⁸ will I discover her [†] lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast-days, her new-moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

12 And I will [†] destroy her vines and her fig-trees, ^h whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and ⁱ I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13 And I will visit upon her the days of Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them, and she decked her self with her ear-rings, and her Jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgot me, saith the LORD.

14 ¶ Therefore behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak || [†] comfortably unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and ^k the valley of Achor for a door of hope, and she shall sing there, as in ^l the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16 And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me || Ishi, and shalt call me no more || Baali.

17 For ^m I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.

18 And in that day will I make a ⁿ covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and ^o I will break the bow and the sword, and the battle out of the earth, and will make them to lie down safely.

19 And I will betroth thee unto me for ever, yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgement, and in loving kindness, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness, and ^p thou shalt know the LORD.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, ^q I will hear, saith the LORD, I will hear the heavens, and they shall hear the earth, 22 And the earth shall hear the corn and the wine and the oyl, ^r and they shall hear Jezreel.

23 And ^s I will sow her unto me in the earth, ^t and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy, and I ^u will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

^v By the expiation of an adulteress, ⁴ is shewed the desolation of Israel before their restoration.

[†] Then said the LORD unto me, Go yet, love a woman (beloved of her friend, ^a yet an

3 And I said unto her, Thou shalt ^b abide for me many days, thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be for another man, so will I also be for thee. ^b Deut. 21. 13.

4 For the children of Israel shall abide many days ^c without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without [†] an image, and without an ephod, ^d and without teraphim. ^c Chap. 10. 3. ^{† Heb. a standing, or, statue.} ^d Judges 17. 5.

4 Yet let no man strive, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they that strive with the priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day, and the prophet also shall fall with thee in the night, and I will [†] destroy thy mother.

6 ¶ ^c My people are [†] destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children. ^{† Heb. cut off.} ^c Isaiah 5. 13. ^{† Heb. cut off.}

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: ^d therefore will I change their glory into shame. ^d Phil. 3. 19.

8 They eat up the sin of my people, and they [†] set their heart on their iniquity.

13 ^h They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills under oaks, and poplars, and elms, because the shadow thereof is good: ⁱ therefore your daughters shall commit whoredom, and your spouses shall commit adultery. ^h Isaiah 1. 29. & 57. 5, 7. ⁱ Ezek. 6. 13. & 20. 28. 15 ¶ Though thou Israel play the harlot, yet let not Judah offend, ^k and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to ^l Beth-aven, ^m nor ⁿ swear, The LORD liveth.

16 For Israel slideth back, as a back-sliding heifer : now the LORD will feed them as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is joined to idols : let him alone.

18 Their drink [†] is sowre : they have committed whoredom continually : [°] her [†] rulers with shame do love, Give ye.

19 The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and ^p they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

CHAP. V.

1 Gods judgement against the priests, the people, and the princes of Israel, for their manifold sins, 15 until they repent.

Hear ye this, O priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ye ear, O house of the king ; for judgement is toward you, because ye have been a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.

2 And the revolvers are profound to make slaughter, || though I have been [†] a rebuker of them all.

3 ^a I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me : for now, O Ephraim, thou commit-test whoredom, and Israel is defiled.

4 [†] || They will not frame their doings to turn unto their God : for ^b the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they have not known the LORD.

5 And ^c the pride of Israel doth testify to his face : therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity : Judah also shall fall with them.

6 ^d They shall go with their flocks, and with their herds to seek the LORD : but they shall not find him, he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have dealt treacherously against the LORD : for they have begotten strange children :
now shall ^e a month devour them with their portions.

8 ^f Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah : cry aloud at Beth-aven : after thee, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke : among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be.

10 The princes of Judah were like them that ^g remove the bound : therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in judgement : because he willingly walked after the commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth :
and to the house of Judah as || rottenness.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim ^h to the Assyrian, ⁱ and sent to || king Jareb : yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For ^k I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah : I, even I will tear and go away ; I will take away, and none shall rescue him.

15 ¶ I will go and return to my place, [†] till ^l they acknowledge their offence, and seek my CHRIST face : ^m in their affliction they will seek me early. cir. 780.

CHAP. VI.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A complaint of their untowardness and iniquity.

Come and let us return unto the LORD :
for ^a he hath torn, and he will heal us ; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

2 ^b After two days will he revive us, in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.

3 Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD : his going forth is prepared as the morning ; and ^c he shall come unto us ^d as the rain ; as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

4 ¶ ^e O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee ? ^f O Judah, what shall I do unto thee ? for your || goodness is ^g as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets : I have slain them by the words of my mouth, || and thy judgements are as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired ^h mercy, and ⁱ not sacrifice ;
and the knowledge of God, more than burnt-offerings.

7 But they || like men ^j have transgressed the covenant : there have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 ^k Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity ;
and is || polluted with blood.

9 And as troops of robbers wait for a man,
^l so ^l the company of priests murder in the way
[†] by consent : for they commit || lewdness.

10 I have seen an horrible thing in the house of Israel : there is the whoredom of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Also, O Judah, ^m he hath set an harvest for ⁿ thee, when I returned the captivity of my people.

CHAP. VII.

1 A reproof of manifold sins. 11 Gods wrath against them for their hypocrisy.

When I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discovered, and the [†] wickedness of Samaria : for they commit falshood : and the thief cometh in, and the troop of robbers [†] spoileth without.

2 And they [†] consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickedness : now their own doings have beset them about, they are before my face.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes, ^a with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, as an oven heated by the baker, || who ceaseth || from raising after he hath kneaded the dough, until it be leavened.

5 In the day of our king, the princes have made him sick || with bottles of wine, he stretched out his hand with scorners.

6 For they have || made ready their heart like an oven, whiles they lie in wait : their baker as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges ; ^b all their kings are fallen, mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocency?

6 For from Israel was it also, the workman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For ^f they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no || stalk: the bud shall yield no meal: if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 Israel is swallowed up: now shall they be among the Gentiles, ^g as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria, a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim ^h hath hired † lovers.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now ⁱ will I gather them, and they shall || sorrow a little for the burden of ^k the king of princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin.

12 I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing.

13 ^l They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; ^m but the LORD ac-cepteth them not: ⁿ now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: ^o they shall return to Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten ^p his maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

C H A P. IX.

The distress and captivity of Israel for their sins and idolatry.

Rejoice not, O Israel, for joy, as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved a ^a reward || upon every corn-floor.

2 ^b The floor and the || wine-press shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in the LORDS land;
^c but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and ^d they shall eat unclean things in Assyria.

4 ^e They shall not offer wine-offerings to the LORD, neither shall they be pleasing unto him:
^f their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners: all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread for their soul shall not come into the house of the LORD.

5 What will ye do in the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?

6 For lo, they are gone, because of † destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: || † the pleasant places for their silver, ^g nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come, Israel shall know it:
the prophet is a fool, the † ^h spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The ⁱ watchman of Ephraim was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred || in the house of his God.

9 ^k They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of ^l Gibeah: ^m therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as ⁿ the first-ripe in the fig-tree at her first-time: but they went to ^o Baal-peor, and ^p separated themselves ^q unto that shame; and their abominations were according as they loved.

11 As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird; from the birth, and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 ^r Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them that there shall not be a man left: yea, wo also to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, ^s as I saw Tyrus, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them ^t a † miscarrying womb, and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness ^u is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: ^v all their princes are revolters.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even † the beloved fruit of their womb.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

13 ^r Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity, ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 ^s Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled ^t Beth-arbel in the day of battle: ^u the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

turn your recompence upon your own head. Before 5 Because ye have taken my silver and my CHRIST gold, and have carried into your temples my [†] goodly [†] pleasant things.

6 The children also of Judah, and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto [†] the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border.

7 Behold, I will raise them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompence upon your own head.

8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a people far off; for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 ¶ ^b Proclaim ye this among the Gentiles: [†] prepare war, make up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near, let them come up.

10 ^c Beat your plow-shares into swords, and your || pruning-hooks into spears; ^d let the weak say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selves, and come, all ye heathen, and gather your selves together round about: thither || cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, ^e and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.

13 ^f Put ye in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe; come, get you down, for the press is full, the fats overflow, for their wickedness is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of || decision: for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.

15 The ^g sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

16 The LORD also shall ^h roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem, and ⁱ the heavens and the earth shall shake; but the LORD will be the [†] hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So ^k shall ye know that I am the LORD your God dwelling in Zion, ^l my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be [†] holy, and there shall no ^m strangers pass through her any more.

18 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall ⁿ drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall [†] flow with waters, and ^o a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water ^p the valley of Shittim.

19 ^q Egypt shall be a desolation, and ^r Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the violence against the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Judah shall || dwell for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

21 For I will cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed, ^s || for the LORD dwelleth in Zion.

3 For thus saith the Lord GOD, the city that went out by a thousand, shall leave an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leave ten to the house of Israel.

4 || For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live.

you as ye have spoken.

15 ^l Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement in the gate: ^m it may be that

Alas, alas: and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and ⁿ such as are skilful of lamen-

9 ^f And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and ^g I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 ¶ Then Amaziah ^h the priest of Beth-el, sent to ⁱ Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of their own land.

12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread and prophesy there.

13 But ^k prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: ^l for it is the kings || chapel, and it is the † kings court.

Chap. 4. 2.

OW the word of the LORD came unto ^a|| Jonah the son of Amittai, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nineveh that ^bgreat city, and cry against it; for ^ctheir wickedness is come up before me.

3 But Jonah ^drose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD, and went down to ^eJoppa; and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it to go with them unto Tarshish, ^ffrom the presence of the LORD.

4 ¶ But the LORD [†]sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship [†]was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and ^gcast forth the wares that were in the ship, into the sea, to lighten it of them: but Jonah was gone down into the sides of the ship, and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 So the ship-master came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, ⁱif so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

8 Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us: what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew, and I fear the LORD the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men [†]exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.)

11 ¶ Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea [†]may be calm unto us? (for the sea ^{||}[†]wrought and was tempestuous)

12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.

13 Nevertheless the men [†]rowed hard to bring it to the land, but they could not; for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea, and the sea [†]ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly, and [†]offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, CHRIST and made vows.

17 ¶ Now the LORD had prepared a great [†]fish to swallow up Jonah, and ^kJonah was in the [†]belly of the fish three days and three nights.

CHAP. II.

1 The prayer of Jonah: 10 He is delivered from the fish.

THEN Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fishes belly,

2 And said, I ^acried ^{||}by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD, and he heard me; out of the belly of ^{||}hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice.

3 For thou hadst cast me into the deep, in the [†]midst of the seas, and the floods compassed me about, ^ball thy billows and thy waves [†]passed over me.

4 ^cThen I said, I am cast out of thy sight; yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.

5 The ^dwaters compassed me about even to the soul: the depth closed me round about, the weeds were wrapt about my head.

6 I went down to the [†]bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars was about me for ever: yet hast thou brought up my life ^efrom ^{||}corruption, O LORD my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD, and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

8 They that observe ^flying vanities, forsake their own mercy.

9 But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of ^gthanksgiving, I will pay that that I have vowed: ^hsalvation is of the LORD.

10 ¶ And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

CHAP. III.

1 Jonah sent again, preacheth to the Ninevites. 5 Upon their repentance, 10 God repenteth.

AND the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go unto Nineveh that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jonah arose and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD (now Nineveh was an [†]exceeding great city of three days journey)

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a days journey, and ^ahe cried, and said, Yet forty days and Nineveh shall be overthrown.

5 ¶ So the people of Nineveh ^bbelieved God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, ^cand sat in ashes.

7 And he caused it to be proclaimed, and [†]published through Nineveh (by the decree of the king and his [†]nobles) saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock taste any thing; let them not feed, nor drink water.

8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from ^dthe violence that is in their hands.

5 So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east-side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city.

6 And the LORD God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered.

8 And it came to pass when the sun did arise, that God prepared a vehement east-wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah that he fainted, and wished in himself to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God said to Jonah, Dost thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death.

10 Then said the LORD, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow, which came up in a night, and perished in a night:

I The church complaining of her small number, 3 and the general corruption, 5 putteth her confidence, not in man, but in God. 8 She triumpheth over her enemies. 14 God comforteth her by promises, 16 by confusion of the enemies, 18 and by his mercies.

WO is me, for I am as [†] when they have gathered the summer-fruits, as the grape-gleanings of the vintage : there is no cluster to eat : ^a my soul desired the first-ripe fruit.

2 The ^b || good man is perished out of the earth : and there is none upright among men : they all lie in wait for blood : they hunt every man his brother with a net.

3 ¶ That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, ^c the prince asketh, ^d and the judge asketh for a reward ; and the great man he uttereth [†] his mischievous desire ; so they wrap it up.

4 The best of them ^e is as a brier : the most upright is sharper than a thorn-hedge : the day of thy watchmen, and thy visitation cometh ; now shall be their perplexity.

5 ¶ Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide : keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.

6 For ^g the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law ; a mans enemies are the men of his own house.

7 Therefore I will look unto the LORD : I will wait for the God of my salvation : my God will hear me.

8 ¶ Rejoyce not against me, O mine enemy : when I fall, I shall arise ; when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me.

9 ⁱ I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgement for me : he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness.

10 ¶ Then she that is mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her which said unto me, ^k Where is the LORD thy God ? mine eyes shall behold her : now [†] shall she be troden down as the mire of the streets.

11 In the day that thy ^l walls are to be built, in that day shall the decree be far removed.

12 In that day also ^m he shall come even to thee from Assyria, || and from the fortified cities, and from the fortress even to the river, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

15 According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt will I shew unto him marvellous things.

16 ¶ The nations shall see and be confounded at all their might : ^o they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf.

17 They shall lick the ^p dust like a serpent, ^q they shall move out of their holes like worms of the earth : they shall be afraid of the LORD our God, and shall fear because of thee.

18 Who is a God like unto thee, that ^r pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage ? ^s he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy.

19 He will turn again, he will have compassion upon us : he will subdue our iniquities : and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 The judgement of the Philistines, 8 of Moab and Ammon, 12 of Ethiopia and Assyria.

Gather your selves together, yea, gather together, O nation || not desired :

2 Before the decree bring forth, before the day pass as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORDS anger come upon you.

3 Seek ye the LORD, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgement, seek righteousness, seek meekness : ^u it may be, ye shall be hid in the day of the LORDS anger.

4 ¶ For ^v Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation : they shall drive out Ashdod at the noon-day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

5 Wo unto the inhabitants of the sea-coasts, the nation of the Cherethites : the word of the LORD is against you : O ^w Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea-coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah, they shall feed thereupon, in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening : || for the LORD their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivity.

8 ¶ ^x I have heard the reproach of Moab, ^y and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people, and ^z magnified themselves against their border.

9 Therefore as I live, saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Surely ^a Moab shall be as Sodom, and ^b the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, ^c even the breeding of nettles, and salt-pits, and a perpetual desolation, the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.

10 This shall they have ^d for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts.

11 The LORD will be terrible unto them : for he will ^e famish all the gods of the earth, and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the isles of the heathen.

12 ¶ ^f Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword.

13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and ^g destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like a wilderness.

14 And flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, all the beasts of the nations : both the || ^h cormorant and the bittern shall lodge in the || upper lintels of it : their voice shall sing in the windows, desolation shall be in the thresholds : || for he shall uncover the cedar-work.

14 And the LORD stirred up the spirit of

Before CHRIST 520. Chap. 2. 21. Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel^k governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came and did work in the house of the LORD of hosts their God :

15 In the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

CHAP. II.

1 He encourageth the people to the work, by promise of greater glory to the second temple, than was in the first. 10 In the type of holy things and unclean, he sheweth their sins hindered the work. 20 Gods promise to Zerubbabel.

IN the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD[†] by the prophet Haggai, saying,

2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

3 ^a Who is left among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye see it now? ^b is it not in your eyes in comparison of it, as nothing?

4 Yet now ^c be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD, and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech the high priest, and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work: for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts;

5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so ^d my spirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.

6 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^e Yet once, it is a little while, and I ^f will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land:

7 And I will shake all nations, ^g and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts.

8 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.

10 ¶ In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying,

11 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^h Ask now the priest concerning the law, saying, 12 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread^{CHRIST} or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said, No.

13 Then said Haggai, If one that is ⁱ unclean by a dead body, touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

14 Then answered Haggai, and said, ^k So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their hands, and that which they offer there, is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD.

16 Since those days were, ^l when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the press-fat for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were but twenty.

17 ¶ I smote you ^m with blasting, and with mildew, and with hail, ⁿ in all the labours of your hands, yet ye turned not to me, saith the LORD.

18 Consider now from this day, and upward from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the LORDS temple was laid, consider it.

19 ^p Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.

20 ¶ And again the word of the LORD came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

21 Speak to Zerubbabel ^q governor of Judah, saying, ^r I will shake the heavens and the earth, 22 And ^s I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen, and ^t I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them, and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

23 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the LORD, ^u and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee : for they are † men wondred at : for behold, I will bring forth † my servant the † BRANCH.

9 For behold, the stone that I have laid before Joshua : † upon one stone shall be † seven eyes, behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, faith the LORD of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

† shall ye call every man his neighbour under the vine, and under the fig-tree.

C H A P. IV.

1 By the golden candlestick is foreshewed the good success of Zerubbabels foundation : 11 By the two olive-trees, the two anointed ones.

And † the angel that talked with me, came again and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep,

2 And said unto me, What seest thou ? and I said, I have looked, and behold, † a candlestick all of gold, † with a bowl upon the top of it, † and his seven lamps thereon, and || seven pipes to the seven lamps, which were upon the top thereof :

3 † And two olive-trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord ?

5 Then the angel that talked with me, answered, and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be ? And I said, No, my lord.

6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying, † Not by || might, nor by power, but by my spirit, faith the LORD of hosts.

7 Who art thou, † O great mountain ? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain, and he shall bring forth the head-stone thereof † with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel † have laid the foundation of this house, his hands † shall also finish it ; and † thou shalt know that the † LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of † small things ? || for they shall rejoice, and shall see the † plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven, † they are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 ¶ Then answered I, and said unto him,
What are these † two olive-trees upon the right side of the candlestick, and upon the left side thereof ?

12 And I answered again, and said unto him,
What be these two olive-branches, which † through the two golden pipes || empty † the golden oil out of themselves ?

13 And he answered me, and said, Knowest thou not what these be ? And I said, No, my lord.

14 Then said he, † These are the two † anointed ones, † that stand by the LORD of the whole earth.

C H A P. V.

1 By the flying roll is shewed the curse of thieves and swearers : 5 By a woman pressed in an ephah, the final damnation of Babylon.

Then I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, a flying roll.

2 And he said unto me, What seest thou ?
And I answered, I see a flying roll, the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth :
for || every one that stealeth, shall be cut off as on this side, according to it : and every one that sweareth, shall be cut off as on that side, according to it.

4 I will bring it forth, faith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of † him that sweareth falsely by my name : and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and † shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and the stones thereof.

5 ¶ Then the angel that talked with me, went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it ? And he said,
This is an ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their resemblance through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lift up a || talent of lead : and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is wickedness ; and he cast it into the midst of the ephah, and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a stork) and they lift up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah ?

11 And he said unto me, To † build it an house in the land of Shinar ; and it shall be established, and set there upon her own base.

1 The vision of the four chariots. 9 By the crowns of Joshua is shewed the temple and kingdom of Christ the Branch.

And I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains, and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were † red horses, and in the second chariot black horses,

3 And in the third chariot white horses, and in the fourth chariot grised and || bay horses.

4 Then I answered, † and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these my lord ?

5 And the angel answered, and said unto me,
These are the four || spirits of the heavens, which go forth from † standing before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein, go forth into the north-country, and the white go forth after them ; and the grised go forth toward the south-country.

7 And the bay went forth, and fought to go, that they might walk to and fro through

9 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, which are come from Babylon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah ;

11 Then take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua, the son of Josedech the high priest ;

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold ^e the man whose name is the ^f BRANCH; and he shall grow up out of his place, ^g and he shall build the temple of the LORD :

13 Even he shall build the temple of the LORD, and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne, and ^h he shall be a priest upon his throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

14 And the crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the LORD.

15 And ⁱ they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ^k ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

C H A P. VII.

1 The captives enquire of fasting. 4 Zechariah reproveth their fasting. 8 Sin the cause of their captivity.

518. AND it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chisleu ;

2 When they had sent unto the house of God, Sherezzer, and Regem-melech, and their men [†] to pray before the LORD,

3 And to speak unto the priests which were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, ^a Should I weep in the fifth month, separating my self, as I have done these so many years ?

4 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye ^b fasted and mourned in the fifth ^c and seventh month, ^d even those seventy years, did ye at all fast ^e unto me, even to me ?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, ^{||} did not ye eat for your selves, and drink for your selves ?

7 ^{||} Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried [†] by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited, and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited the south and the plain ?

8 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying,

[†] Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother.

10 And ^g oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor, ^h and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and ⁱ [†] pulled away the shoulder, and [†] stopped their ears, that they should not hear.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant-stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts hath sent in his spirit [†] by the former prophets : therefore came a great wrath from the LORD of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear ; so ^k they cried, and I would not hear, saith the LORD of hosts.

14 But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not : thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned : for they laid [†] the [†] pleasant land desolate.

C H A P. VIII.

1 The restoration of Jerusalem. 9 They are encouraged to the building by Gods favour to them. 16 Good works are required of them. 18 Joy and enlargement are promised.

AGAIN the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^a I was jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus saith the LORD, I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and Jerusalem ^b shall be called a city of truth ; and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, the holy mountain.

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^c There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staff in his hand [†] for very age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, If it be ^{||} marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days ; ^d should it also be marvellous in mine eyes ? saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will save my people from the east-country, and from [†] the west-country.

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and they shall be my people, ^e and I will be their God in truth and in righteousness.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^f Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of ^g the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built.

10 For before these days ^{||} there was no ^h hire for man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in, because of the affliction : for I set all men, every one against his neighbour.

11 But now I will not be unto the residue of this people, as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts.

a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel; so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not;

15 So again have I thought in these days to do well unto Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.

16 ¶ These are the things that ye shall do,
1 Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour:
† execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates.

17 ^m And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour, and ⁿ love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith of the fourth month, ° and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, ° and the fast of the tenth shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful † feasts; ° therefore love come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities.

21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, ° Let us go || † speedily † to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also.

22 Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the LORD.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you; for we have heard ° that God is with you.

shall be the rest thereof: when the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel, shall be toward the will smite her power in the sea, and she shall be 5 ° Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also shall see it, and be very sorrowful, and Ekron:

for her expectation shall be ashamed, and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his † blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just and || having salvation, lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

10 And I ° will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle-bow shall be cut off; and he shall speak peace unto the heathen: and his dominion shall even to the ends of the earth.

11 As for thee also, || by the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy ° prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water.

12 ¶ Turn ye to the strong hold, ° ye prisoners of hope, even to day do I declare, that ° I will render double unto thee:

13 When I have bent Judah for me, filled the bow with Ephraim, and raised up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and made thee as the sword of a mighty man:

14 And the LORD shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning:
and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall go ° with whirlwinds of the south.

15 The LORD of hosts shall defend them, and they shall devour, and || subdue with sling-stones, and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine, and they || shall be filled like bowls, and as the corners of the altar.

16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people, for ° they shall be as the stones of a crown, ° lifted up as an ensign upon his land.

17 For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! corn shall make the young men || cheerful, and new wine the maids.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again to place them; for I have mercy upon them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and will hear them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice, as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad, their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.

8 I will hiss for them, and gather them, for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase as they have increased.

9 And ¹ I will sow them among the people: and they shall remember me in far countries, and they shall live with their children, and turn again.

10 ² I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria, and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon, and ³ place shall not be found for them.

11 ⁴ And he shall pass through the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the deeps of the river shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and ⁵ the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the LORD, and ⁶ they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

C H A P. XI.

1 The destruction of Jerusalem. 3 The elect being cared for, the rest are rejected. 10 The staves of Beauty and Bands broken by the rejection of Christ. 15 The type and curse of a foolish shepherd.

Open ^a thy doors, O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars.

2 Howl, fir-tree, for the cedar is fallen; because the || mighty are spoiled: howl, O ye oaks of Bashan, ^b for || the forest of the vintage is come down.

3 ¶ There is a voice of the howling of the shepherds; for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roling of young lions; for the pride of Jordan is spoiled.

4 Thus saith the LORD my God, Feed the flock of the slaughter.

5 Whose possessors slay them, and ^c hold themselves not guilty: and they that sell them, ^d say, Blessed be the LORD, for I am rich; and their own shepherds pity them not.

6 For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but lo, I will ^e deliver the men every one into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his king, and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them.

7 And I will feed the flock of slaughter, || even you, O poor of the flock: and I took unto me two staves; the one I called Beauty, and the other I called || Bands, and I fed the flock.

8 Three shepherds also I cut off ^f in one month, and my soul ^g lothed them, and their soul also abhorred me.

9 Then said I, I will not feed you: ^h that that dieth, let it die: and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let the rest eat, every one the flesh ⁱ of another.

10 ¶ And I took my staff, even Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and || so the poor of the flock that waited upon me, knew that it was the word of the LORD.

12 And I said unto them, ^j If ye think good, give me my price; and if not, forbear: so they weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver.

13 And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the ^k potter: a goodly price that I was prized at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the LORD.

14 Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 ¶ And the LORD said unto me, ^l Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16 For lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be || cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor || feed that that standeth still: but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

17 ^m Wo to the idle shepherd that leaveth the flock: the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

C H A P. XII.

1 Jerusalem a cup of trembling to her self, 3 and a burdensome stone to her adversaries. 6 The victorious restoring of Judah. 9 The repentance of Jerusalem.

THE burden of the word of the LORD for Israel, saith the LORD, ⁿ which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and ^o formeth the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem ^p a cup of trembling unto all the people round about, || when they shall be in the siege both against Judah, and against Jerusalem.

3 ¶ ^q And in that day will I make Jerusalem ^r a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it, shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the LORD, ^s I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness, and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the governors of Judah shall say in their heart, || The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.

6 ¶ In that day will I make the governors of Judah ^t like a hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again, in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David, and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, do not magnify themselves against Judah.

8 In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and ^u he that is || feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them.

9 ¶ And

Before the LORD is with them, and || the riders on CHRIST horses shall be confounded.

10 ¶ And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications, and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon, in the valley of Megiddon.

12 ° And the land shall mourn, † every family apart, the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart: the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart:

2 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will ^b cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause the prophets, and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land.

3 And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him, shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother, that begat him, ^c shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied; neither shall they wear ^c † a rough garment † to deceive:

2 I have loved you, saith the LORD: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? was not Esau Jacobs brother? saith the LORD: yet I loved Jacob,

3 And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains, and his heritage waste, for the dragons of the wilderness.

4 Whereas Edom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places: thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and the people, against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD will be magnified † from the border of Israel.

6 ¶ A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name: and ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?

7 Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible.

8 And if ye offer the blind † for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor, will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts.

9 And now I pray you, beseech † God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been † by your means: will he regard your persons? saith the LORD of hosts.

10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought? neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought. I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great among the Gentiles, and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 ¶ But ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat is contemptible.

13 Ye said also, Behold, what a weariness is it, and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye brought an offering: should I accept this of your hands? saith the LORD.

Before walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.

CHRIST 7 For the priests lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are departed out of the way: ye have caused many to stumble at the law: ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but ye have been partial in the law.

10 Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

11 Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this: the master and the scholar out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he the residue of the spirit: and wherefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For the LORD the God of Israel saith, that he hateth putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that you deal not treacherously.

17 Ye have wearied the LORD with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil, is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of judgement?

CHAP. III.

1 Of the messenger, majesty, and grace of Christ. 7 Of the rebellion, 8 sacrilege, 13 and infidelity of the people. 16 The promise of blessing to them that fear God.

Behold I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the LORD whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple: even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.

2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiners fire, and like fullers sope.

3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

5 And I will come near to you to judgement, and I will be a swift witness against the forcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

6 For I am the LORD, I change not: therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.

7 Even from the days of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them: return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts: but ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 Will a man rob God? yet ye have robbed me: but ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

11 And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the LORD of hosts.

13 Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD: yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?

14 Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it, that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts?

15 And now we call the proud happy: yea, they that work wickedness are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered.

16 Then they that feared the LORD, spake often one to another, and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name.

17 And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in that day, when I make up my jewels, and I will spare them as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18 Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous and the wicked; between him that serveth God, and him that serveth him not.

^b 2 Chron. 35. 1.

N D Jofias held the ^a feast of the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, 2 Having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake unto the Levites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the son of David had built :

4 And said, Ye shall no more bear the ark upon your shoulders : now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your families and kindreds,

5 According as David the king of Israel prescribed, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son : and standing in the temple according to the several dignity of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel,

6 Offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses.

7 And unto the people that was found there, Jofias gave thirty thousand lambs, and kids, and three thousand calves : these things were given of the kings allowance, according as he promised to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites.

8 And Helkias, Zacharias, and || Syelus, the governors of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover, two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves.

9 And Jeconias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Assabias, and Ochiel, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover, five thousand sheep and || seven hundred calves.

10 And when these things were done, the priests and Levites having the unleavened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kindreds, 11 And according to the several dignities of the fathers before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses : and thus did they in the morning.

12 And they ^c roasted the passover with fire, as appertaineth : as for the sacrifices, they sod them in brass pots, and pans || with a good favour,

13 And set them before all the people : and afterward they prepared for themselves, and Before for the priests their brethren the sons of Aaron. Christ

14 For the priests offered the fat until night : and the Levites prepared for themselves, and the priests their brethren the sons of Aaron.

15 The holy fingers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment ^d of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Jeduthun, who was ^e of the kings retinue.

16 Moreover the porters were at every gate, it was not lawful for any to go from his ordinary service : for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

17 Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, that they might hold the passover, 18 And offer sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Jofias.

19 So the children of Israel which were present, held the passover at that time, and the feast of sweet bread seven days.

20 And such a passover was not kept in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel.

21 Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Jofias, and the priests and the Levites, and the Jews held with all Israel that were found dwelling at Jerusalem.

22 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Jofias was this passover kept.

23 And the works of Jofias were upright before his Lord, with an heart full of godliness.

24 As for the things that came to pass in his time, they were written in former times, concerning those that sinned, and || did wickedly against the Lord above all people and kingdoms, and how they grieved him || exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord rose up against Israel.

25 ^f Now after all these acts of Jofias, it came to pass that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carchamis, upon Euphrates : and Jofias went out against him.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judea ?

27 I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee : for my war is upon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hastening me forward : depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 Howbeit Jofias did not turn back his chariot from him, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremy, spoken by the mouth of the Lord :

29 But joyned battle with him in the plain of Magiddo, and the princes came against king Jofias.

30 Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle ; for I am very weak ; and immediately his servants took him away out of the battle.

34 ⁸ And the people took Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king in stead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three years old.

35 And he reigned in Judea and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem.

36 And he set a tax upon the land of an hundred talents of silver, and one talent of gold.

37 The king of Egypt also made king Joacim his brother, king of Judea and Jerusalem.

38 And he bound Joacim and the nobles: but Zaraces his brother he apprehended, and brought him out of Egypt.

Jehoiakim, or, Eliakim.

39 Five and twenty years old was ^h Joacim when he was made king in the land of Judea and Jerusalem, and he did evil before the Lord.

606. 40 Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him unto Babylon.

41 Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them in his own temple at Babylon.

42 But those things that are recorded of him, and of his uncleanness, and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings.

599. 43 And Joacim his son reigned in his stead: he was made king being eighteen years old;

44 And reigned but three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and did evil before the Lord.

45 So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought into Babylon, with the holy vessels of the Lord,

599. 46 And made Zedechias king of Judea and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty years old, and he reigned eleven years:

599. 47 And ⁱ he did evil also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken unto him by the prophet Jeremy from the mouth of the Lord:

593. 48 And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forswore himself, and rebelled, and hardning his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord God of Israel.

49 The governors also of the people and of the priests did many things against the laws, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem.

50 Nevertheless, the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he spared them and his tabernacle also.

51 But they had his messengers in derision; and look when the Lord spake unto them, they made a sport of his prophets:

52 So far forth, that he being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded the kings of the Chaldees to come up against them;

53 Who slew their young men with the sword, yea, even within the compass of their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child among them, for he delivered all into their hands.

54 And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the vessels of the ark of God, and the kings treasures, and carried them away into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lord, they burnt it, brake down the walls of Jerusalem, set fire upon her towers:

56 And as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had consumed and brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword, he carried unto Babylon:

57 Who became servants to him and his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil the ^k word ² of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Jeremy: ² Jerem. 25. &c 29. 10.

CHAP. II.

¹ Cyrus is moved by God to build the temple, ⁵ and giveth leave to the Jews to return and contribute to it: ¹¹ He delivereth again the vessels which had been taken thence. ²⁵ Artaxerxes forbiddeth the Jews to build any more.

IN the ^a first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord might be accomplished that he had promised by the mouth of Jeremy;

2 The Lord raised up the spirit of Cyrus the king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians, The Lord of Israel the most high Lord, hath made me king of the whole world,

4 And commanded me to build him an house at Jerusalem in Jewry.

5 If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: for ^{||} he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem. ^{||} Or, this.

6 Whosoever then dwell in the places about, let them help him (those, I say, that are his neighbours) with gold and with silver,

7 With gifts, with horses, and with cattle, and other things, which have been set forth by vow, for the temple of the Lord at Jerusalem.

8 ¶ Then the chief of the families of Judea, and of the tribes of Benjamin stood up: the priests also and the Levites, and all they whose mind the Lord had moved to go up, and to build an house for the Lord at Jerusalem,

9 And they that dwelt round about them, and helped them in all things with silver and gold, with [†] horses and cattle, and with very many free gifts of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto. [†] Heb. sub. Ezra 2. 6.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols.

Before
Christ
536.

11 Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them forth, he delivered them to Mithridates his treasurer :

12 And by him they were delivered to † Sanabassar the governor of Judea.

13 And this was the number of them, A thousand golden cups, and a thousand of silver, † censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver ^b two thousand four hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of gold and of silver which were carried away, were ^c five thousand four hundred threescore and nine.

15 These were brought back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 ^d But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and † Rathumus, Beeltethmus, and † Semellius the secretary, with others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judea and Jerusalem these letters following ;

17 To king Artaxerxes our lord, thy servants Rathumus the story-writer, and Semellius the scribe, and the rest of their counsel, and the judges that are in Celosyria and Phenice.

18 Be it now known to the lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come into Jerusalem (that rebellious and wicked city) do build the market-places, and repair the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of the temple.

19 Now if this city, and the walls thereof be made up again, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but also rebel against kings.

20 And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter,

21 But to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent, that if it be thy pleasure, it may be sought out in the books of thy fathers :

22 And thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities :

23 And that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein ; for the which cause even this city was made desolate.

24 Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, (O lord the king) that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into Celosyria and Phenice.

25 Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the story-writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwellers in Samaria and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner ;

26 I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me : therefore I commanded to make diligent search, and it hath been found, that that city was from the beginning practising against kings.

27 And the men therein were given to rebellion, and war, and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tributes in Celosyria and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be no more done in it :

29 And that those wicked workers proceed no further to the annoyance of kings.

30 Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Semellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste towards Jerusalem with a troop of horsemen, and || a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders ; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

C H A P. III.

4 Three strive to excel each other in wise speeches.

9 They refer themselves to the judgment of the king.

18 The first declareth the strength of wine.

NOW when Darius reigned, he made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all his household, and unto all the princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to all the governors, and captains, and lieutenants that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, of an hundred twenty and seven provinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bed-chamber, and slept, and soon after awaked.

4 Then three young men that were of the guard, that kept the kings body, spake one to another,

5 Let every one of us speak a sentence : he that shall overcome, and whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall the king Darius give great gifts, and great things in token of victory :

6 As to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and an head-tire of fine linen, and a chain about his neck :

7 And he shall sit next to Darius, because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius his cousin.

8 And then every one wrote his sentence, sealed it, and laid it under king Darius his pillow, 9 And said, that when the king is risen, some will give him the writings, and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge, that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as was appointed.

10 The first wrote, Wine is the strongest.

11 The second wrote, The king is the strongest.

12 The third wrote, Women are strongest, but above all things, truth beareth away the victory.

13 ¶ Now when the king was risen up, they took their writings and delivered them unto him, and so he read them.

14 And sending forth, he called all the princes of Persia and Media, and the governors, and the captains, and the lieutenants, and the chief officers.

15 And sat him down in the || royal seat of judgment, and the writings were read before them :

16 And he said, Call the young men, and they shall declare their own sentences. So they were called, and came in.

17 And he said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the writings. Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine ;

18 And he said thus, O ye men, how exceeding strong is wine! it causeth all men to err that drink it:

19 It maketh the mind of the king, and of the fatherless child, to be all one: of the bond-man and of the free-man, of the poor man and of the rich:

20 It turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembreth neither sorrow nor debt:

21 And it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembreth neither king nor governor; and it maketh to speak all things by talents:

22 And when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw out swords:

23 But when they are from the wine, they remember not what they have done.

24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

CHAP. IV.

1 The second declareth the power of a king. 14 The force of women, 33 and of truth. 41 The third is judged to be wisest, 47 and obtaineth letters of the king to build Jerusalem: 58 He praiseth God, and sheweth his brethren what he had done.

THen the second that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O ye men, do not men excel in strength, that || bear rule over sea and land, and all things in them?

3 But yet the king is more mighty: for he is lord of all these things, and hath dominion over them, and whatsoever he commandeth them, they do.

4 If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they go and break down mountains, walls and towers.

5 They slay and are slain, and transgress not the kings commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else.

6 Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king.

7 And yet he is but one man: if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare:

8 If he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build:

9 If he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh and taketh his rest:

11 And these keep [watch] round about him, neither || may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in any thing.

12 O ye men, how should not the king be mightiest, when in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his tongue.

13 ¶ Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of the truth (this was Zorobabel) began to speak.

14 O ye men, it is not the great king, nor the multitude of men, neither is it wine that excelleth; who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women?

15 Women have born the king, and all the people, that bear rule by sea and land.

16 Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards from whence the wine cometh.

17 These also make garments for men, these bring glory unto men; and without women cannot men be.

18 Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver, or any other goodly thing, do they not love a woman which is comely, in favour and beauty?

19 And letting all those things go, do they not gape, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and have not all men more desire unto her, than unto silver or gold, or any goodly thing whatsoever?

20 A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife.

21 He sticks not to spend his life with his wife, and remembreth neither father nor mother, nor country.

22 By this also you must know, that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toyl, and give and bring all to the woman?

23 Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to rob, and to steal, to sail upon the sea, and upon rivers;

24 And looketh upon a lion, and goeth in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled and robbed, he bringeth it to his love.

25 Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother.

26 Yea, many there be that have || run out of their wits for women, and become servants for their sakes.

27 Many also have perished, have erred, and sinned for women.

28 And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him?

29 Yet did I see him and Apame the kings concubine, the daughter of the admirable || Bar-tacus, sitting at the right hand of the king, 30 And taking the crown from the kings head, and setting it upon her own head; she also stroke the king with her left-hand.

31 And yet || for all this the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, the king was fain to flatter, that she might || be reconciled to him again.

32 O ye men, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

33 Then the king and the princes looked one upon another: so he began to speak of the truth.

34 O ye men, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day.

35 Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is the truth, and stronger than all things.

36 All the earth || calleth upon the truth, and and the heaven bleſſeth it, all works ſhake and tremble at it, and with it is no unrighteous thing.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, and ſuch are all their wicked works, and there is no truth in them; in their unrighteouſneſs alſo they ſhall periſh.

38 As for the truth it endureth, and is always ſtrong, it liveth and conquereth for evermore.

39 With her there is no accepting of perſons, or rewards, but ſhe doth the things that are juſt, and refraineth from all unjuſt and wicked things, and all men do well like of her works.

40 Neither in her judgment is any unrighteouſneſs, and ſhe is the ſtrength, kingdom, power, and majeſty of all ages. Bleſſed be the God of truth.

41 And with that he held his peace: and all the people then ſhouted, and ſaid, Great is truth, and mighty above all things.

42 Then ſaid the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more than is appointed in the writing, and we will give it thee, becauſe thou art found wiſeſt, and thou ſhalt ſit next me, and ſhalt be called my couſin.

43 Then ſaid he unto the king, Remember thy vow which thou haſt vowed, to build Jeruſalem in the day when thou cameſt to thy kingdom, 44 And to ſend away all the veſſels that were taken away out of Jeruſalem, which Cyrus ſet apart, when he vowed to deſtroy Babylon, and to ſend them again thither.

45 Thou alſo haſt vowed to build up the temple ^a which the Edomites burnt when Judea was made deſolate by the Chaldees.

46 And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I deſire of thee, and this is the princely liberality proceeding from thy ſelf: I deſire therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof with thine own mouth thou haſt vowed to the King of heaven.

47 Then Darius the king ſtood up and kiſſed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treaſurers, and lieutenants, and captains, and governors, that they ſhould ſafely convey on their way both him, and all thoſe that go up with him to build Jeruſalem.

48 He wrote letters alſo unto the lieutenants that were in Celofyria, and Phenice, and unto them in Libanus, that they ſhould bring cedar-wood from Libanus unto Jeruſalem, and that they ſhould build the city with him.

49 Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that went out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor ^{||} treaſurer, ſhould forcibly enter into their doors;

50 And that all the country which they hold, ſhould be free without tribute; and that the Edomites ſhould give over the villages of the Jews which then they held:

51 Yea, that there ſhould be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built;

52 And other ten talents yearly, to maintain the burnt-offerings upon the altar every day (as they had a commandment to offer ſeventeen)

53 And that all they that went from Babylon to build the city, ſhould have free liberty as well they as their poſterity, and all the prieſts that went away.

54 He wrote alſo concerning the charges, and the prieſts veſtments wherein they miniſter;

55 And likewise for the charges of the Levites, to be given them, until the day that the houſe were finiſhed, and Jeruſalem builded up.

56 And he commanded to give to all that kept the city, ^{||} penſions and wages.

^{||} Or, portions of land.

57 He ſent away alſo all the veſſels from Babylon that Cyrus had ſet apart, and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the ſame charged he alſo to be done, and ſent unto Jeruſalem.

58 Now when this young man was gone forth, he liſted up his face to heaven, toward Jeruſalem, and praiſed the King of heaven, 59 And ſaid, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wiſdom, and thine is the glory, and I am thy ſervant.

60 Bleſſed art thou who haſt given me wiſdom: for to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers.

61 And ſo he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren.

62 And they praiſed the God of their fathers; becauſe he had given them freedom and liberty

63 To go up, and to build Jeruſalem, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feaſted with instruments of muſick and gladneſs ſeven days.

48 Then stood up Jesus the son of Josedec, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 To offer burnt-sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God.

50 And there were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon his own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them, and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt-offerings to the Lord both morning and evening.

51 Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet:

54 And they gave unto the masons and carpenters, money, meat and drink with cheerfulness.

55 Unto them of Sidon also and Tyre, they gave carrs that they should bring cedar-trees from Libanus, which should be brought by flotes to the haven of Joppe, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus king of the Persians.

56 And in the second year and second month after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec, and their brethren, and the priests, and the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity:

57 And they laid the foundation of the house of God in the first day of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem.

See Ezra 3. 9.

58 ^a And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old, over the works of the Lord. 64 But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice,

65 Inasmuch that the trumpets might not be || heard for the weeping of the people: yet || the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.

66 Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean.

67 And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you.

72 But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judea, and holding them strait, hindred their building:

8 Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that being come into the country of Judea, and entred into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the antients of the Jews that were of the captivity, 9 Building an house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, and the timber already laid upon the walls.

10 And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it made.

11 Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works?

12 Therefore to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing, we demanded of them who were the chief doers, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men.

13 So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth.

14 And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished.

15 But when our fathers provoked God unto wrath, and sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, he gave them over into the power of Nebuchodonosor king of Babylon, of the Chaldees:

16 Who pulled down the house and burnt it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon.

17 But in the first year that king Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote to build up this house.

18 And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set them in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple at Babylon, and they were delivered to || Zorobabel and to Sanabassar the ruler,

|| Or, Zorobabel which is also Sanabassar the ruler, so as Zorobabel seemeth to be added to the text, Ezra 1. 8.

19 With commandment that he should carry away the same vessels, and put them into the temple at Jerusalem, and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his place.

20 Then the same Sanabassar being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, and from that time to this, being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore, if it seem good unto the king, let search be made among the || records of king Cyrus.

|| Or, rolls.

22 And if it be found, that the building of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and if our lord the king be so minded, let him signify unto us thereof.

23 Then commanded king Darius to seek among the records at Babylon: and so at Ecbatana the palace which is in the country of Media, there was found a || roll wherein these things were recorded.

|| Or, place.

24 In the first year of the reign of Cyrus, king Cyrus commanded that the house of the Lord at Jerusalem should be built again where they do sacrifice with continual fire.

hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country, and the expences thereof to be given out at the house of king Cyrus.

26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord both of gold and silver that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before.

27 And also he commanded that Sisinnes the governor of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phenice, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zorobabel the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judea, and the elders of the Jews, to build the house of the Lord in that place.

28 I have commanded also to have it built up whole again, and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of the Jews, till the house of the Lord be finished.

29 And out of the tribute of Celosyria, and Phenice, a portion carefully to be given these men, for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs:

30 And also corn, salt, wine and oyl, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent:

31 That || offerings may be made to the most high God, for the king, and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives. || Or, drink-offering.

32 And he commanded that whosoever should transgress, yea, or make light of anything afore spoken or written, out of his own house should a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king.

33 The Lord therefore whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem.

34 I Darius the king have ordained, that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

3 This Esdras went up from Babylon, as a scribe, being very ready in the law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel.

4 And the king did him honour: for he found grace in his sight in all his requests.

5 There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, of the priests, of the Levites, of the holy singers, porters, and || ministers of the temple, unto Jerusalem,

6 In || the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month (this was the kings seventh year) for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the || prosperous journey which the Lord gave them.

7 For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgments.

8 Now the copy of the || commission which was written from Artaxerxes the king, and came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, is this that followeth;

9 King Artaxerxes unto Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, sendeth greeting.

10 Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites being within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem.

11 As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me, and my seven friends the counsellors;

12 That they may look unto the affairs of Judea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord;

13 And carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed, and all the gold and silver that in the country of Babylon can be || found, to the Lord in Jerusalem,

14 With that also which is given of the people, for the temple of the Lord their God at Jerusalem: and that silver and gold may be collected for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining.

15 To the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord, upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem.

16 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren will do || with the silver and gold, that do, according to the will of thy God.

17 And the holy vessels of the Lord which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God which is in Jerusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the kings treasury.

19 And I king Artaxerxes, have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and the reader of the law of the most high God shall send for, they should give it him with speed,

20 To the sum of an hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to an hundred || cors, and an hundred pieces of wine, and other things in abundance.

21 Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons.

22 I command you also, that ye require no tax, nor any other imposition of any of the priests or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or ministers of the temple, or of any that have doings in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose any thing upon them.

23 And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phenice, † all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not, thou shalt teach.

24 And ^awhosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment.

70^h For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter, the rulers and great men have been partakers of this iniquity.

71 And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and pulled off the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad, and very heavy.

72 So all they that were then moved at the word of the Lord God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness, until the evening sacrifice.

73 Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and the holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord,

74 I said, O Lord, I am confounded, and ashamed before thy face:

|| Or, have a-

75 For our sins || are multiplied above our heads, and our ignorances have reached up unto heaven.

76 Forever since the time of our fathers we have been and are in great sin, even unto this day.

77 And for our sins, and our fathers, we with our brethren, and our kings and our priests, were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame unto this day.

78 And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us a root, and a name in the place of thy sanctuary;

80 Yea, when we were in bondage we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us food;

81 Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, that they have given us a sure abiding in Jewry and Jerusalem.

82 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, 83 That the land which ye enter into to possess as an heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness.

84 Therefore now shall ye not joyn your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons.

85 Moreover, you shall never seek to have peace with them, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave the Inheritance of the land unto your children for evermore.

86 And all that is befallen, is done unto us, for our wicked works, and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light, 87 And didst give unto us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, and to mingle our selves with the uncleanness of the nations of the land.

88 || Mightest not thou be angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither root, seed, nor name?

89 O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left a root this day. Before Christ

1 Esdras assembleth all the people: 10 They promise to put away the strange wives. 20 The names and number of them that did so. 40 The law of Moses is read and declared before all the people: 49 They weep, and are put in mind of the feast-day.

THen Esdras rising from the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Joanan the son of Eliasib,

2 And remained there, and did eat no meat nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Jewry, and Jerusalem, to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem:

4 And that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself || cast out from them that were of the captivity. || utterly destroyed,
ed, Josh. 10. 8.

5 And in three days were all they of the tribe of Juda and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem the twentieth day of the ninth month.

6 And all the multitude sat trembling in the broad court of the temple, because of the present foul weather.

7 So Esdras arose up and said unto them, Ye have transgressed the law in marrying strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Israel.

8 And now by confession give glory unto the Lord God of our fathers.

9 And do his will, and separate your selves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women.

10 Then cried the whole multitude and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do.

11 But forasmuch as the people are many, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without,

12 Therefore let the rulers of the multitude || stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives, come at the time appointed,

13 And with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter.

14 Then Jonathan the son of Azael, and Ezechias the son of Theocanus, accordingly took this matter upon them: and Mosollam, and Levis, and Sabbathus helped them.

15 And they that were of the captivity, did according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the priest chose unto him the principal men of their families, all by name: and in the first day of the tenth month, they sat together to examine the matter.

CHAP. I.

¹ Esdras is commanded to reprove the people. ²⁴ God threatneth to cast them off, ³⁵ and to give their houses to a people of more grace than they.

T H E second book of the prophet ^a Esdras, the son of Saraias, the son of Azarias, the son of Helchias, the son of || Sadamias, the son of Sadoc, the son of Achitob,

² The son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Aziei, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abisei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar,

³ The son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi: which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

⁴ And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

⁵ Go thy way, and ^b shew my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their childrens children.

⁶ Because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have offered unto strange gods.

⁷ Am not I even he that brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels.

⁸ Pull thou off then the hair of thy head, and cast all evil upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, but it is a rebellious people.

⁹ How long shall I forbear them unto whom I have done so much good?

¹⁰ Many kings have I destroyed for their fakes; ^c Pharaoh with his servants, and all his power have I smitten down.

¹¹ ^d All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyrus and Sidon, and have slain all their enemies.

¹² Speak thou therefore unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord,

¹³ ^e I led you through the sea, and in the beginning gave you a large and safe || passage; ^f I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a priest.

¹⁴ ^g I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you, yet have you forgotten me; saith the Lord.

¹⁵ Thus saith the Almighty Lord, The ^h quails were as a token for you, I gave you tents for your safeguard: nevertheless, you murmured there, ¹⁶ And triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do ye yet murmur.

¹⁷ Where are the benefits that I have done for you? when you were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, ⁱ did you not cry unto me,

¹⁸ Saying, Why hast thou brought us into this wilderness to kill us? it had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, than to die in this wilderness.

¹⁹ Then had I pity upon your mournings, and gave you manna to eat; ^k so ye did eat angels bread. ^{Wisd. 16. 26.}

²³ I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but I cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet.

²⁴ What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob? thou ⁿ Juda wouldst not obey me: I will turn me to other nations, and unto those will I give my name, that they may keep my statutes. ^{Exod. 32. 2.}

²⁵ Seeing ye have forsaken me, I will forsake you also; when ye desire me to be gracious unto you, I shall have no mercy upon you.

²⁶ ^o Whensoever you shall call upon me, I will not hear you: for ye have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit man-slaughter. ^{Isai. 1. 15.}

²⁷ Ye have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

²⁸ Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young babes;

²⁹ That ye would be my people, || and I should be your God; that ye would be my children, and I should be your father? ^{Or, as I am your God.}

³¹ ^q When you offer unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast-days, your new-moons, and your circumcisions have I forsaken. ^{Isai. 1. 13.}

³² I sent unto you my servants the prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

³³ Thus saith the Almighty Lord, ^r Your house is desolate, I will cast you out as the wind doth stubble. ^{Matt. 23. 38. Luke 13. 31.}

³⁴ And your children shall not be fruitful, for they have despised my commandment, and done the thing that is evil before me.

³⁵ Your houses will I give to a people that shall come; which not having heard of me, yet shall believe me; to whom I have shewed no signs, yet they shall do that I have commanded them.

³⁶ They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their sins to remembrance, and acknowledge them.

37 I take to witness the grace of the people to come, whose little ones rejoyce in gladness: and though they have not seen me with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they believe the thing that I say.

38 And now, brother, behold what glory; and see the people that cometh from the east:

39 Unto whom I will give for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Oseas, Amos, and Micheus, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas.

40 Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zachary, and Malachy, which is called also an angel of the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1 God complaineth of his people: 10 Yet Esdras is willed to comfort them. 34 Because they refused, the Gentiles are called. 43 Esdras seeth the Son of God, and those that are crowned by him.

THUS saith the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets; whom they would not hear, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them, saith unto them, Go your way, ye children, for I am a widow, and forsaken.

3 I brought you up with gladness, but with sorrow and heaviness have I lost you: for ye have sinned before the Lord your God, and done that thing that is evil before him.

4 But what shall I now do unto you? I am a widow and forsaken: go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O father, I call upon thee for a witness over the mother of these children, which would not keep my covenant,

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoil, that there may be no offspring of them.

7 Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be put out of the earth: for they have despised my covenant.

8 Wo be unto thee, Assur, thou that hidest the unrighteous in thee; O thou wicked people, remember what I did unto Sodom and Gomorrha;

9 Whose land lieth in clods of pitch, and heaps of ashes: even so also will I do unto them that hear me not, saith the Almighty Lord.

10 Thus saith the Lord unto Esdras, Tell my people that I will give them the kingdom of Jerusalem, which I would have given unto Israel.

11 Their glory also will I take unto me, and give these the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for them.

12 They shall have the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour, they shall neither labour, nor be weary.

13 Go, and ye shall receive: pray for few days unto you, that they may be shortened: the kingdom is already prepared for you:

14 Take heaven and earth to witness; for I have broken the evil in pieces, and created the good: for I live, saith the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace thy children, and bring them up with gladness, make their feet for, &c.

as fast as a pillar: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

16 And those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the graves: for I have known my name in Israel.

17 Fear not, thou mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

18 For thy help will I send my servants Esay and Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee, twelve trees laden with divers fruits, 19 And as many fountains flowing with milk and hony, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy.

20 Do right to the widow, judge for the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, clothe the naked, 21 Heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blind man come into the light of my clearness.

22 Keep the old and young within thy walls.

23 Wheresoever thou findest the dead, take them and bury them, and I will give thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come.

25 Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse; stablish their feet.

26 As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among thy number.

27 Be not weary: for when the day of trouble and heaviness cometh, others shall weep and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry, and have abundance.

28 The heathen shall envy thee, but they shall be able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lord.

29 My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children shall not see hell.

30 Be joyful, O thou mother, with thy children; for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord.

31 Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the sides of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord Almighty.

32 Embrace thy children until I come and shew mercy unto them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

33 I Esdras received a charge of the Lord upon the mount Oreb, that I should go unto Israel; but when I came unto them they set me at nought, and despised the commandment of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say unto you, O ye heathen, that hear and understand, Look for your Shepherd, he shall give you everlasting rest; for he is nigh at hand, that shall come in the end of the world.

35 Be ready to the reward of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore.

36 Flee the shadow of this world, receive the joyfulness of your glory: I testify my Saviour openly.

37 O receive the gift that is given you, and be glad, giving thanks unto him that hath called you to the heavenly kingdom.

^{Rev. 7. 3. 4.} 38 Arise up and stand, behold ^k the number of those that be sealed || in ^l the feast of the Lord.

^{Or, for.} ^{Math. 22. 1.} ^{&c.} ^{Rev. 19. 9.} 39 Which are departed from the shadow of the world, and ^m have received glorious garments of the Lord.

^{Rev. 3. 4. &c.} ^{7. 14.} 40 Take thy number, O Sion, and [†] shut up those of thine that are clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of the Lord.

^{† Lat. conclude.} ^{Rev. 6. 11.} 41 ⁿ The number of thy children whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

^{Rev. 7. 9.} 42 ^o I Esdras saw upon the mount Sion a great people, whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.

43 And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller than all the rest, and upon every one of their heads he set crowns, and was more exalted; which I marvelled at greatly.

^{Rev. 7. 14.} ^{Or, Lord.} 44 So ^p I asked the angel, and said, || Sir, what are these?

45 He answered and said unto me, These be they that have put off the mortal clothing, and put on the immortal, and have confessed the name of God: now are they crowned, and receive palms.

46 Then said I unto the angel, What young person is it that crowneth them, and giveth them palms in their hands?

^{Rev. 2. 10.} 47 So he answered and said unto me, ^q It is the Son of God, whom they have confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so stiffly for the name of the Lord.

48 Then the angel said unto me, Go thy way, and tell my people what manner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord thy God thou hast seen.

C H A P. III.

¹ Esdras is troubled, ¹³ and acknowledgeth the sins of the people: ²⁸ yet complaineth that the heathen were lords over them, being more wicked than they.

IN the thirtieth year after the ruin of the city, I was in Babylon, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart.

2 For I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the most High, and said,

4 O Lord, who bearest rule, thou spakest at the beginning, when thou didst plant the earth, (and that thy self alone) and commandedst the people,

^{1 Gen. 2. 7.} 5 ^a And gavest a body unto Adam without foul, which was the workmanship of thine hands, and didst breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before thee.

6 And thou leddest him into paradise, which thy right hand had planted, before ever the earth came forward.

7 And unto him thou gavest commandment to love thy way: which he transgressed, and immediately thou appointedst death in him, and in his generations, of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kindreds out of number.

8 ^b And every people walked after their own ^{b Gen. 6. 12.} will, and did wonderful things before thee, and despised thy commandments.

9 ^c And again in process of time thou broughtest the flood upon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them. ^{c Gen. 7. 19.}

10 And it came to pass in every of them, that as death was to Adam, so was the flood to these.

11 Nevertheless, one of them thou leftest, namely, ^d Noah with his household, of whom ^{d 1 Pet. 3. 20.} came all righteous men.

12 And it happened, that when they that dwelt upon the earth began to multiply, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they began again to be more ungodly than the first.

13 Now when they lived so wickedly before thee, ^e thou didst choose thee a man ^{e Gen. 12. 1.} from among them, whose name was ^f Abraham. ^{f Gen. 17. 5.}

14 Him thou lovedst, and unto him only thou shewedst thy will:

15 And madest an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that thou wouldst never forsake his seed.

16 ^g And unto him thou gavest Isaac, and ^h unto Isaac also thou gavest Jacob and Esau. ^{g Gen. 21. 2, 3.} ^{h Gen. 25. 25,} As for Jacob, thou ⁱ didst choose him to thee, ^{26.} and put by Esau: and so Jacob became a great ^{i Mal. 1. 2, 3.} multitude. ^{Rom. 9. 13.}

17 And it came to pass, that when thou ledst his seed out of Egypt, ^k thou broughtest ^{k Exod. 19. 1.} them up to the mount Sina. ^{Deut. 4. 10.}

18 And bowing the heavens, thou didst set fast the earth, movedst the whole world, and madest the depths to tremble, and troubledst the men of that age.

19 And thy glory went through four gates, of fire, and of earthquake, and of wind, and of cold; that thou mightst give the law unto the seed of Jacob, || and diligence unto the generation of Israel. ^{|| Or, and to all the generation of Israel, that they should keep it with diligence.}

20 And yet tookest thou not away from them a wicked heart, that thy law might bring forth fruit in them.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked heart, transgressed, and was overcome; and so be all they that are born of him.

22 Thus ^l infirmity was made permanent; ^{l Rom. 7. 8;} and the law (also) in the heart of the people ^{&c.} with the malignity of the root; so that the good departed away, and the evil abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the years were brought to an end: ^m then didst thou ^{m 1 Sam. 16. 13.} raise thee up a servant, called David:

24 ⁿ Whom thou commandedst to build a ^{n 2 Sam. 5. 2. &c.} city unto thy name, and to offer incense and ^{7. 5, 13.} oblations unto thee therein.

25 When this was done many years, then they that inhabited the city forsook thee.

26 And in all things did even as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gavest thy city over into the hands of thine enemies.

28 Are their deeds then any better that inhabit Babylon, that they should therefore have the dominion over Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and had seen impieties without number, then my soul saw many evil-doers in this thirtieth year, so that my heart failed me.

30 For I have seen how thou suffereſt them finning, and haſt ſpared wicked doers: and haſt deſtroyed thy people, and haſt preſerved thine enemies, and haſt not ſignified it.

31 || I do not remember how this way may be left: Are they then of Babylon better than they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee beſides Iſrael? or what generation hath ſo believed thy covenants as Jacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I have gone here and there through the heathen, and I ſee that they || flow in wealth, and think not upon thy commandments.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickedneſs now in the balance, and theirs alſo that dwell in the world; and ſo ſhall thy name no where be found, but in Iſrael.

35 Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not ſinned in thy ſight? or what people hath ſo kept thy commandments?

36 Thou ſhalt find that Iſrael by name hath kept thy precepts; but not the heathen.

CHAP. IV.

1 The angel declareth the ignorance of Eſdras in Gods judgments, 13 and adviſeth him not to meddle with things above his reach. 23 Nevertheless Eſdras asketh divers queſtions, and receiveth answers to them.

AND the angel that was ſent unto me, whoſe name was Uriel, gave me an answer,

2 And ſaid, Thy heart hath gone too far in this world, and thinkeſt thou to comprehend the way of the moſt High?

3 Then ſaid I, Yea, my lord: and he answered me, and ſaid, I am ſent to ſhew thee three ways, and to ſet forth three ſimilitudes before thee:

4 Whereof if thou canſt declare me one, I will ſhew thee alſo the way that thou deſireſt to ſee, and I ſhall ſhew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

5 And I ſaid, Tell on my lord. Then ſaid he unto me, Go thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or meaſure me the blaſt of the wind, or call me again the day that is paſt.

6 Then answered I, and ſaid, What man is able to do that, that thou ſhouldeſt ask ſuch things of me?

7 And he ſaid unto me, If I ſhould ask thee how great dwellings are in the miſt of the ſea, or how many ſprings are in the beginning of the deep, or how many ſprings are above the firmament, or which are the outgoings of paradise:

8 Peradventure thou wouldeſt ſay unto me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven.

9 Nevertheless, now have I asked thee but only of the fire, and wind, and of the day where-through thou haſt paſſed, and of things from which thou canſt not be ſeparated, and yet canſt thou give me no answer of them.

10 He ſaid moreover unto me, Thine own things, and ſuch as are grown up with thee canſt thou not know;

11 How ſhould thy veſſel then be able to comprehend the way of the Higheſt, and the world being now outwardly corrupted, to underſtand the || corruption that is evident in my ſight?

12 Then ſaid I unto him, It were better that we were not at all, than that we ſhould live ſtill in wickedneſs, and to ſuffer, and not to know wherefore.

13 He answered me, and ſaid, I went into a foreſt into a plain, and the ^a trees took counſel, 14 And ſaid, Come, let us go and make war againſt the ſea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods.

15 The floods of the ſea alſo in like manner took counſel, and ſaid, Come, let us go up and ſubdue the woods of the plain, that there alſo we may make us another country.

16 The thought of the wood was in vain, for the fire came and conſumed it.

17 The thought of the floods of the ſea came likewiſe to nought, for the ſand ſtood up and ſtopped them.

18 If thou wert judge now betwixt theſe two, whom wouldeſt thou begin to juſtify? or whom wouldeſt thou condemn?

19 I answered and ſaid, Verily it is a fooliſh thought that they have both deviſed, for || the ground is given unto the wood, and the ſea alſo hath his place to bear his || floods.

20 Then answered he me, and ſaid, Thou haſt given a right judgment, but why judgeſt thou not thy ſelf alſo?

21 For like as || the ground is given unto the wood, and the ſea to his floods: even ſo || they that dwell upon the earth may underſtand nothing, but that which is upon the earth: and he that dwelleth above the heavens, may only underſtand the things that are above the height of the heavens.

22 Then answered I, and ſaid, I beſeech thee, O Lord, let me have underſtanding.

23 For it was not my mind to be curious of the high things, but of ſuch as paſs by us daily, namely, wherefore Iſrael is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and for what cauſe the people whom thou haſt loved, is given over unto ungodly nations, and why the law of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written covenants come || to none effect,

24 And we paſs away out of the world as graſhoppers, and our life is aſtoniſhment and fear, and we are not worthy to obtain mercy.

25 What will he then do unto his name, whereby we are called? of theſe things have I asked.

26 Then answered he me, and ſaid, The more thou ſearcheſt the more thou ſhalt marvel, for the world haſteth faſt to paſs away, 27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promiſed to the righteous in time to come: for ^c this world is full of unrighteouſneſs and infirmities.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I will tell thee; for the evil is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If therefore that which is sown be not turned upside down, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, then cannot it come that is sown with good.

30 For the grain of evil seed hath been sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much ungodliness hath it brought up unto this time? and how much shall it yet bring forth until the || time of threshing come?

31 Ponder now by thy self, how great fruit of wickedness the grain of evil seed hath brought forth.

32 And when the ears shall be cut down, which are without number, how great a floor shall they fill?

33 Then I answered and said, How, and when shall these things come to pass? wherefore are our years few and evil?

34 And he answered me, saying, Do not thou hasten above the most Highest: for thy haste is in vain to be above him, for thou hast much exceeded.

35 Did not the souls also of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I hope on this fashion? when cometh the fruit of the floor of our reward?

36 And unto these things || Uriel the archangel gave them answer, and said, Even when the number of seeds is filled in you: for he hath weighed the world in the balance.

37 By measure hath he measured the times, and by number hath he numbred the times; and he doth not move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and said, O Lord that bearest rule, even we all are full of impiety.

39 And for our sakes peradventure it is that the floors of the righteous are not filled, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, Lord, that can she not. And he said unto me, In the grave, the chambers of souls are like the womb of a woman:

42 For like as a woman that travaileth, maketh haste to escape the necessity of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed unto them.

43 From the beginning look what thou desirest to see, it shall be shewed thee.

44 Then answered I, and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore, 45 Shew me then whether there be more to come than is past, or more past than is to come.

46 What is past I know, but what is for to come I know not.

47 And he said unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto thee.

48 So I stood and saw, and behold, an hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened that when the flame was gone by, I looked, and behold, the smoke remained still.

49 After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm, and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained still.

50 Then said he unto me, Consider with thy self; as the rain is more than the drops, and as the fire is greater than the smoke: but the drops and the smoke remain behind: so the || quantity which is past did more exceed.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I live, thinkest thou, until that time? or || what shall happen in those days?

52 He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee, for I do not know it.

CHAP. V.

1 The signs of the times to come: 23 He asketh why God choosing but one people, did cast them off: 30 He is taught that Gods judgments are unsearchable, 46 and that God doth not all at once.

NEvertheless, as concerning the tokens, behold, the days shall come, that they which dwell upon earth || shall be taken in a great number, and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land shall be barren of faith.

2 But * iniquity shall be increased above * Matth. 24. 12. that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long ago.

3 And the land || that thou seest now to have root, shalt thou see wasted suddenly.

4 But if the most High grant thee to live, thou shalt see after the third trumpet, that the sun shall suddenly shine again in the night, and the moon thrice in the day.

5 And blood shall drop out of the wood, and the stone shall give his voice, and the people shall be troubled.

6 And even he shall rule whom they look not for that dwell upon the earth, and the fowls shall take their flight away together.

7 And the Sodomitish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but they shall all hear the voice thereof.

8 There shall be a confusion also in many places, and the fire shall be oft || sent out again, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and menstruous women shall bring forth monsters.

9 And salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another; then shall wit hide it self, and understanding withdraw it self into his secret chamber,

10 And shall be sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall unrighteousness and incontinency be multiplied upon earth.

11 One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness that maketh a man righteous gone through thee? And it shall say, No.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not || prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I have leave ; and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven days, thou shalt hear yet greater things.

14 Then I awaked, and an extreme fearfulness went through all my body, and my mind was troubled, so that it fainted.

15 So the angel that was come to talk with me, held me, comforted me, and set me up upon my feet.

16 And in the second night it came to pass, that Salathiel the captain of the people came unto me, saying, Where hast thou been, and why is thy countenance so heavy ?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee, in the land of their captivity ?

18 Up then, and eat bread, and forsake us not, as the shepherd that leaveth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves.

19 Then said I unto him, Go thy ways from me, and come not nigh me : And he heard what I said, and went from me.

20 And so I fasted seven days mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commanded me.

21 And after seven days, so it was that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous unto me again.

22 And my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to talk with the most High again,

23 And said, O Lord that bearest rule, of every wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one only vine :

24 And of all lands of the whole world thou hast chosen thee one pit : and of all the flowers thereof, one lily :

25 And of all the depths of the sea, thou hast filled thee one river : and of all builded cities thou hast hallowed Sion unto thy self :

26 And of all the fowls that are created, thou hast named thee one dove : and of all the cattle that are made, thou hast provided thee one sheep :

27 And among all the multitude of peoples, thou hast gotten thee one people : and unto this people whom thou lovedst, thou gavest a law that is approved of all.

28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou given this one people over unto many ? and || upon the one root hast thou prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thy only one people among many ?

29 And they which did gainsay thy promises, and believed not thy covenants, have troden them down.

30 If thou didst so much hate thy people, yet shouldst thou punish them with thine own hands.

31 Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night afore, was sent unto me, 32 And said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee ; hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I said, Speak on, my Lord : then said he unto me, Thou art fore troubled in mind for Israels sake : ^b lovest thou that people better than he that made them ?

34 And I said, No, Lord, but of very grief have I spoken : for my reins pain me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the most High, and to seek out part of his judgment.

35 And he said unto me, Thou canst not : and I said, Wherefore, Lord ? whereunto was I born then ? or why was not my mothers womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travel of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel ?

36 And he said unto me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, 37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, shew me the image of a voice : and then I will declare to thee the thing that thou labourest to know.

38 And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he ^c that hath not his dwelling with men ? ^c Dan. 2. 11.

39 As for me, I am unwise : how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me ?

40 Then said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so canst thou not find out my judgment, or in the end the love that I have promised unto my people.

41 And I said, Behold, O Lord, yet art thou nigh unto them that be reserved till the end : and what shall they do, that have been before me, or we (that be now) or they that shall come after us ?

42 And he said unto me, I will liken my judgment unto a ring : like as there is no slackness of the last, even so there is no swiftness of the first.

43 So I answered and said, Couldst thou not make those that have been made, and be now, and that are for to come, at once ; that thou mightst shew thy judgment the sooner ?

44 Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the maker, neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

45 And I said, As thou hast said unto thy servant, that thou which givest life to all, hast given life at once to the creature that thou hast created, and the creature bare it : even so it might now also bear them that now be present at once.

46 And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth children, why dost thou it not together, but one after another ? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

47 And I said, She cannot : but must do it by distance of time.

48 Then said he unto me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown in it, in their times.

49 For like as a young child may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

50 And I asked, and said, Seeing thou hast now given me the way, I will proceed to speak before thee : for our mother of whom thou hast told me that she is young, draweth now nigh unto age.

51 He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee.

52 Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before, but less of stature?

53 And she shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth, are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age (when the womb faileth) are otherwise.

54 Consider thou therefore also, how that ye are less of stature than those that were before you.

55 And so are they that come after you, less than ye, as the creatures which now begin to be old, and have passed over the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I have found favour in thy sight, shew thy servant by whom thou visitest thy creature.

CHAP. VI.

1 Gods purpose is eternal. 8 The next world shall follow this immediately. 13 What shall fall out at the last: 31 He is promised more knowledge, 38 and reckoneth up the works of the creation, 57 and complaineth that they have no part in the world for whom it was made.

AND he said unto me, In the beginning, when the || earth was made, before the borders of the world stood, or ever the winds blew,

2 Before it thundred and lightned, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid,

3 Before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the moveable powers were established, before the innumerable multitude of angels were gathered together,

4 Or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the chimnies in Sion were hot,

5 And ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the inventions of them that now sin, were turned, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure:

6 Then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he said unto me, From Abraham unto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were born of him, ^a Jacobs hand held || first the heel of Esau.

9 For Esau is the end of the world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man is betwixt the heel and the hand: other question, Esdras, ask thou not.

11 ¶ I answered then, and said, O Lord that bearest rule, if I have found favour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee, shew thy servant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me part the last night.

13 So he answered, and said unto me, Stand up upon thy feet, and hear a mighty sounding voice.

14 And it shall be as it were a great || motion, but the place where thou standest shall not be moved.

15 And therefore when it speaketh, be not afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundation of the earth is understood.

16 And why? because the speech of these things trembleth, and is moved: for it knoweth that the end of these things must be changed.

17 And it happened that when I had heard it, I stood up upon my feet, and hearkned, and behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters.

18 And it said, Behold the days come, that I will begin to draw nigh, and to visit them that dwell upon the earth, 19 And will begin to make inquisition of them, what they be that have hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled.

20 And when the world that shall begin to vanish away, shall be || finished, then will I || shew these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and they shall see all together.

21 And the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children, of three or four months old, and they shall live and be raised up.

22 And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full store-houses shall suddenly be found empty.

23 And ^b the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid.

24 At that time shall friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, and in three hours they shall not run.

25 Whosoever remaineth from all these that I have told thee, shall escape, and see my salvation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are received shall see it, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For evil shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

28 As for faith it shall flourish, corruption shall be overcome, and the truth which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

29 And when he talked with me, behold, I looked by little and little upon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said he unto me, I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seven days again, I shall tell thee greater things || by day, than I have heard.

32 For thy voice is heard before the most High: for the mighty hath seen thy righteous dealing, he hath seen also thy chastity, which thou hast had ever since thy youth.

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee, Be of good comfort, and fear not.

34 And hasten not with the times that are past, to think vain things, that thou mayst not hasten from the latter times.

35 And

|| Or, circle of the earth.

^a Gen. 25. 26.
|| Or, from the beginning.

|| Or, earthquake

|| See Chap. 13. Verse 52.

35 And it came to pass after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me.

36 And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the most High.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress.

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest from the beginning of the creation, even the first day, and saidst thus, ^c Let heaven and earth be made; and thy word was a perfect work.

39 And then was the spirit, and darkneses and silence were on every side; the sound of mans voice was not yet formed.

40 Then commandedst thou a fair light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy work might appear.

41 Upon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up and the other remain beneath.

42 Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered in the seventh part of the earth: six parts hast thou dried up and kept them, to the intent that of these some being planted of God and tilled, might serve thee.

43 For assoon as thy word went forth the work was made.

44 For immediately there was great and innumerable fruit, and many and divers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of unchangeable colour, and odours of wonderful smell: and this was done the third day.

45 ^d Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in order:

46 And gavest them a charge to do ^e service unto man, that was to be made.

47 Upon the fifth day, thou saidst unto the seventh part ^f where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to pass.

48 For the dumb water, and without life, brought forth living things at the commandment of God, that all people might praise thy wondrous works.

49 Then didst thou ordain two living creatures, the one thou calledst || Enoch, and the other Leviathan;

50 And didst separate the one from the other: for the seventh part (namely where the water was gathered together) might not hold them both.

51 Unto Enoch thou gavest one part which was dried up the third day, that he should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hills.

52 But unto Leviathan thou gavest the seventh part, namely the moist, and hast kept him to be devoured of whom thou wilt, and when.

53 Upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattle, and creeping things:

54 And after these, Adam also whom thou madest lord of all thy creatures: of him come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen.

55 All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou madest the world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, but be like unto spittle, and hast likened the abundance of them unto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, behold, these heathen, which have ever been reputed as nothing, have begun to be lords over us, and to devour us.

58 But we thy people (whom thou hast called thy first-born, thy only begotten, and thy fervent lover) are given into their hands.

59 If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess an inheritance with the world? how long shall this endure.

CHAP. VII.

4 The way is narrow. 12 When it was made narrow. 28 All shall die, and rise again. 33 Christ shall sit in judgment. 46 God hath not made paradise in vain: 62 and is merciful.

AND when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me the angel which had been sent unto me the nights afore.

2 And he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speak on, my God. Then said he unto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deep and great.

4 But put the case the entrance were narrow, and like a river,

5 Who then could go into the sea to look upon it, and to rule it? if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing. A city is builded, and set upon a broad field, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a || dangerous place to fall, like as if || Or, steep place there were a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water:

8 And one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once.

9 If this city now were given unto a man for an inheritance, if he never shall pass the danger set before it, how shall he receive this inheritance?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Even so also is Israels portion.

11 Because for their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done.

12 Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, full of sorrow and travel: they are but few and evil, full of perils, and very painful.

13 For the entrances of the || elder world were || Or, greater wide and sure, and brought immortal fruit.

14 If then they that live, labour not to enter these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them.

15 Now therefore why disquietest thou thy self, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortal?

|| Behemoth.

16 Why hast thou not considered in thy mind this thing that is to come, rather than that which is present?

^a Dent. 8. 1.

17 Then answered I, and said, O Lord that bearest rule, thou hast ordained in thy ^a law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish.

18 Nevertheless, the righteous shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: for they that have done wickedly, have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide.

19 And he said unto me, There is no judge above God, and none that hath understanding above the Highest.

20 For there be many that perish in this life, because they despise the law of God that is set before them.

21 For God hath given strait commandment to such as came, what they should do to live, even as they came, and what they should observe to avoid punishment.

22 Nevertheless, they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and imagined vain things,

23 And deceived themselves by their wicked deeds, and said of the most High, that he is not, and knew not his ways:

24 But his law have they despised, and denied his covenant; in his statutes have they not been faithful, and have not performed his works.

25 And therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things.

26 Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I have told thee shall come to pass, and the bride shall appear, and she coming forth shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth.

27 And whosoever is delivered from the fore-said evils, shall see my wonders.

28 For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and they that remain shall rejoyce within four hundred years.

29 After these years shall my son Christ die, and all men that have life.

^{||} Or, first beginning.

30 And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the ^{||} former judgments: so that no man shall remain.

31 And after seven days, the world that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them.

33 And the most High shall appear upon the seat of judgment, and misery shall pass away, and the long-suffering shall have an end.

34 But judgment only shall remain, truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong:

35 And the work shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and the good deeds shall be of force, and wicked deeds shall bear no rule.

41 Even so now, seeing corruption is grown up, and wickedness increased, and the righteous have prayed for the ungodly: wherefore shall it not be so now also?

42 He answered me and said, This present life is not the end where much glory doth abide; therefore have they prayed for the weak.

43 But the day of doom shall be the end of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is past, 44 Intemperance is at an end, infidelity is cut off, righteousness is grown, and truth is sprung up.

45 Then shall no man be able to save him that is destroyed, nor to oppress him that hath gotten the victory.

46 I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, that it had been better not to have given the earth unto Adam: or else when it was given him, to have restrained him from sinning.

47 For what profit is it for men now in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment?

49 For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done the works that bring death?

50 And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas our selves being most wicked are made vain?

Choose thee life that thou mayst live.

60 Nevertheless, they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no nor me which have spoken unto them, 61 That there should not be such heaviness in their destruction, as shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

62 I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the most high is called merciful, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world,

63 And upon those also that turn to his law;

Rom. 2. 4.

64 And that ^k he is patient, and long suffereth those that have sinned, as his creatures;

66 And that he is of great mercy, for he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come.

67 For if he shall not multiply his mercies, the world would not continue with them that inherit therein.

68 And he pardoneth; for if he did not so of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities, might be eased of them; the ten thousandth part of men should not remain living,

C H A P. VIII.

1 Many created, but few saved: 6 He asketh why God destroyeth his own work, 26 and prayeth God to look upon the people which only serve him. 41 God answereth, that all seed cometh not to good, 52 and that glory is prepared for him and such like.

AND he answered me, saying, The most High hath made this world for many, but the world to come for few.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, Esdras; As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth much mold whereof earthen vessels are made, but little dust that gold cometh of: even so is the course of this present world.

Matth. 20. 16.

3 ^a There be many created, but few shall be saved.

4 So answered I, and said, Swallow then down, O my soul, understanding, and devour wisdom.

5 For thou hast agreed to give ear, and art willing to prophesie: for thou hast no longer space than only to live.

|| Or, to give us.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy servant that we may pray before thee, and || thou give us seed unto our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it; how shall each man live that is corrupt, who beareth the place of a man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all one workmanship of thine hands, like as thou hast said.

|| Or, how is the body fashioned.

8 For || when the body is fashioned now in the mothers womb, and thou givest it members, thy creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in her.

9 But that which keepeth and is kept, shall both be preserved: and when the time cometh, the womb preserved, delivereth up the things that grew in it.

10 For thou hast commanded out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, milk to be given, which is the fruit of the breasts, 11 That the thing which is fashioned, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercy.

12 Thou broughtest it up with thy righteousness, and nurturedst it in thy law, and reformedst it with thy judgment.

13 And thou shalt mortify it as thy creature, and quicken it as thy work.

14 If therefore thou shalt destroy him which with so great ^b labour was fashioned, it is an easie thing to be ordained by thy commandment, that the thing which was made might be preserved.

^b Job 10. 8.

15 Now therefore, Lord, I will speak (touching man in general, thou knowest best) but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sorry;

16 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled:

17 Therefore will I begin to pray before thee, for my self and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land.

18 But I have heard the swiftness of the judge which is to come.

19 Therefore hear my voice, and understand my words, and I shall speak before thee: this is the beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up: and I said,

20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in everlastingness, which beholdest from above, things in the heaven and in the air,

21 Whose throne is inestimable, whose glory may not be comprehended, before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling,

22 (^c Whose service is conversant in wind and fire) whose word is true, and sayings constant, whose commandment is strong, and ordinance fearful,

Hebr. 1. 7.

23 Whose look drieth up the depths, and indignation maketh the mountains to melt away, which the truth witnesseth:

24 O hear the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy creature.

25 For while I live, I will speak, and so long as I have understanding, I will answer.

26 O look not upon the sins of thy people: but on them which serve thee in truth.

27 Regard not the wicked inventions of the heathen, but the desire of those that keep thy testimonies in afflictions.

28 Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee: but remember them, which according to thy will have known thy fear.

29 Let it not be thy will to destroy them which have lived like beasts; but to look upon them that have clearly taught thy law.

30 Take thou no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts: but love them that alway put their trust in thy righteousness and glory.

31 For we and our fathers || do languish || Or, are sick of of such diseases: but because of us sinners, thou shalt be called merciful.

¹Or, be willing. 32 For if thou || hast a desire to have mercy upon us, thou shalt be called merciful, to us namely, that have no works of righteousness.

33 For the just which have many good works laid up with thee, shall out of their own deeds receive reward.

34 For what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible generation, that thou shouldst be so bitter toward it?

⁴1 Kings 8. 46. ²Chron. 6. 36. 35 ^d For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the faithful there is none which hath not done amiss.

¹Or, substance. 36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have not the || confidence of good works.

37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words it shall be.

38 For indeed I will not think on the disposition of them which have sinned before death, before judgment, before destruction.

¹Gen. 4. 4. 39 But ^e I will rejoyce over the disposition of the righteous, and I will remember also their pilgrimage, and the salvation, and the reward that they shall have.

40 Like as I have spoken now, so shall it come to pass.

41 For as the husbandman soweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet the thing that is sown good in his season cometh not up, neither doth all that is planted take root: even so is it of them that are sown in the world, they shall not all be saved.

42 I answered then, and said, if I have found grace, let me speak.

43 Like as the husbandmans seed perisheth, if it come not up, and receive not thy rain in due season, or if there come too much rain, and corrupt it:

44 Even so perisheth man also which is formed with thy hands, and is called thine own image, because thou art like unto him, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him unto the husbandmans seed.

45 Be not wroth with us, but spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine own inheritance: for thou art merciful unto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for the present, and things to come, for such as be to come.

¹Chap. 5. 33. 47 For ^f thou comest far short, that thou shouldst be able to love my creature more than I: but I have oft-time drawn nigh unto thee, and unto it, but never to the unrighteous.

48 In this also thou art marvellous before the most High.

49 In that thou hast humbled thy self as it becometh thee, and hast not judged thy self worthy to be much glorified among the righteous.

50 For many great miseries shall be done to them, that in the latter time shall dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride.

51 But understand thou for thy self, and seek out the glory for such as be like thee.

52 For unto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is allowed, yea, perfect goodness and wisdom.

53 The root of evil is sealed up from you, weakness and the moth is hid from you, and corruption is fled into || hell to be forgotten: ¹Or, the graves.

54 Sorrows are passed, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortality.

55 And therefore ask thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when they had taken liberty, they despised the most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways.

57 Moreover they have troden down his righteous,

58 And ^g said in their heart, that there is no ^h Psalm 14. 1. God; yea, and that knowing they must die. ^h 53. 1.

59 For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, so thirst and pain are prepared for them: for it was not his will that men should come to nought.

60 But they which be created, have defiled the name of him that made them, and were unthankful unto him which prepared life for them.

61 And therefore is my judgment now at hand.

62 These things have I not shewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few like thee. Then answered I, and said, 63 Behold, O Lord, now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders which thou wilt begin to do in the last times: but at what time, thou hast not shewed me.

C H A P. IX.

⁷ Who shall be saved, and who not. ¹⁹ All the world is now corrupted; ²² yet God doth save a few. ³³ He complaineth that those perish which keep Gods law; ³⁸ and seeth a woman lamenting in a field.

HE answered me then, and said, Measure thou the time diligently in it self: and when thou seest part of the signs past, which I have told thee before,

2 Then shalt thou understand, that it is the very same time, wherein the Highest will begin to visit the world which he made.

3 Therefore when there shall be seen ^e earth- ^h Matt. 24. 7. quakes and uprores of the people in the world:

4 Then shalt thou well understand, that the most High spake of those things from the days that were before thee, even from the beginning.

5 For like as all that is made in the world hath a beginning and an end, and the end is manifest:

6 Even so the times also of the Highest, have plain beginnings in wonders and powerful works, and endings in effects and signs.

7 And every one that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, and by faith, whereby ye have believed,

8 Shall be preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation, in my land, and within my borders: for I have sanctified them for me from the beginning.

9 Then || shall they be in pitiful case which ¹Or, they shall now have abused my ways: and they that have cast ^{marvel.} them away despitefully, shall dwell in torments.

10 For such as in their life have received benefits, and have not known me;

11 And they that have lothed my law, while they had yet liberty, and when as yet place of repentance was open unto them, understood not, but despised it;

12 The same must know it after death by pain.

13 And therefore be thou not curious, how the ungodly shall be punished, and when: but enquire how the righteous shall be saved, whose the world is, and for whom the world is created.

14 Then answered I, and said,

15 I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter; that there be many more of them which perish, than of them which shall be saved:

16 Like as a wave is greater than a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; as the flowers be, such are the colours also; such as the workman is, such also is the work; and as the husbandman is himself, so is his husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.

18 || And now when I prepared the world which was not yet made, even for them to dwell in, that now live, no man spake against me.

19 For then every one obeyed, || but now the manners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetual seed, and by a law which is unsearchable, rid themselves.

20 So I considered the world, and behold there was peril, because of the devices that were come into it.

21 And I saw and spared it greatly, and have kept me a || grape of the cluster, and a plant of a great people.

22 Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain, and let my || grape be kept, and my plant: for with great labour have I made it perfect.

23 Nevertheless, if thou wilt cease yet seven days more (but thou shalt not fast in them, 24 But go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eat only the flowers of the field; taste no flesh, drink no wine, but eat flowers only)

25 And pray unto the Highest continually, then will I come and talk with thee.

26 So I went my way into the field which is called Ardath, like as he commanded me; and there I sat amongst the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me.

27 After seven days I sat upon the grass, and my heart was vexed within me, like as before.

28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talk before the most High, and said, 29 O Lord, thou that shewest thy self unto us, thou wast ^b shewed unto our fathers in the wilderness, in a place where no man || treadeth, in a barren place when they came out of Egypt.

30 And thou spakest, saying, Hear me, O Israel, and mark my words, thou seed of Jacob.

31 For behold I sowed my law in you, and it shall bring fruit in you, and ye shall be honoured in it for ever.

32 But our fathers which received the law, kept it not, and observed not thy ordinances: and though the fruit of thy law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine;

33 Yet they that received it, perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them.

34 And lo, it is a custom, when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, that that being perished wherein it was sown, or cast into,

35 That thing also which was sown or cast therein, or received, doth perish, and remaineth not with us: but with us it hath not happened so.

36 For we that have received the law, perish by sin, and our heart also which received it.

37 Notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 And when I spake these things in my heart, I looked back with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw ^c a woman, and behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in heart, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes upon her head.

39 Then let I my thoughts go that I was in, and turned me unto her, 40 And said unto her, Wherefore weepest thou? why art thou so grieved in thy mind?

41 And she said unto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewail my self, and add unto my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

42 And I said unto her, What aileth thee? tell me.

43 She said unto me, I thy servant have been barren, and had no child, though I had an husband thirty years.

44 And those thirty years I did nothing else day and night, and every hour, but make my prayer to the Highest.

45 After thirty years God heard me thine handmaid, looked upon my misery, considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I was very glad of him, so was my husband also, and all my neighbours, and we gave great honour unto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great travel.

47 So when he grew up, and came to the time that he should have a wife, I made a feast.

CHAP. X.

1 He comforteth the woman in the field: 27 She vanisheth away, and a city appeareth in her place.

40 The angel declareth these visions in the field.

AND it so came to pass, that when my son was entred into his wedding-chamber, he fell down and died.

2 Then we all overthrew the lights, and all my || neighbours rose up to comfort me: so I took my rest unto the second day at night.

3 And it came to pass when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet: then rose I up by night and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest.

4 And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn, and to fast until I die.

5 Then left I the || meditations wherein I was, and spake to her in anger, saying,

6 Thou foolish woman above all other, seest thou not our mourning, and what happeneth unto us?

7 How that Sion our mother is full of all heaviness, and much humbled, mourning very sore?

8 And now seeing we all mourn and are sad, for we are all in heaviness, art thou grieved for one son?

9 For ask the earth, and she shall tell thee, that it is she which ought to mourn for the fall of so many that grow upon her.

10 For out of her came all at the first, and out of her shall all others come, and behold they they walk almost all into destruction, and a multitude of them is utterly || rooted out.

11 Who then should make more mourning, than she that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou which art sorry but for one?

12 But if thou sayst unto me, My lamentation is not like the earths, because I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows;

13 || But the earth not so: for the multitude present in it, according to the course of the earth, is gone, as it came:

14 Then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with labour: even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely man, ever since the beginning, unto him that made her.

15 Now therefore keep thy sorrow to thy self, and bear with a good courage that which hath befallen thee.

16 For if thou shalt acknowledge the determination of God to be just, thou shalt both receive thy son in time, and shalt be commended amongst Women.

17 Go thy way then into the city, to thine husband.

18 And she said unto me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.

19 So I proceeded to speak further unto her, and said, 20 Do not so, but be counselled by me: for how many are the adversities of Sion? be comforted in regard of the sorrow of Jerusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed:

22 Our psaltery is laid on the ground, our song is put to silence, our rejoycing is at an end, the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us, is almost profaned: our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished, our righteous men carried away, our little ones destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weak:

23 And which is the greatest of all, the seal of Sion hath now lost her honour: for she is delivered into the hands of them that hate us.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heaviness, and put away the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful unto thee again, and the Highest shall give thee rest, and ease from thy labour.

25 And it came to pass while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistered, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be,

26 And behold, suddenly she made a great cry very fearful: so that the earth shook at the noise of the woman.

27 And I looked, and behold the woman appeared unto me no more, but there was a city builded, and a large place shewed it self from the foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said,

28 Where is ^a Uriel the angel, who came unto me at the first? for he hath caused me to fall || into many trances, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came unto me, and looked upon me.

30 And lo, I lay as one that had been dead, and mine understanding was taken from me: and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said unto me, 31 What aileth thee? and why art thou so disquieted? and why is thine understanding troubled, and the thoughts of thine heart?

32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and yet I did according to thy ^b words, ^c Chap. 5. 20 and I went into the field, and lo I have seen, and yet see that I am not able to express.

33 And he said unto me, Stand up manfully, and I will advise thee.

34 Then said I, Speak on my lord in me; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope.

35 For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know.

36 Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream?

37 Now therefore, I beseech thee, that thou wilt shew thy servant of this || vision. ^d Or, trance

38 He answered me then, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the Highest will reveal many secret things unto thee.

39 He hath seen that thy || way is right: for that thou sorrowest continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion. ^e Or, purpose

40 This therefore is the meaning of the vision which thou lately sawest:

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganest to comfort her:

42 But now seest thou the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared unto thee a city builded.

43 And whereas she told thee of the death of her son, this is the || solution: ^f Or, interpretation

44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: ^g mon. and whereas she said unto thee (even she whom thou seest as a city builded)

45 Whereas, I say, she said unto thee, that she hath been thirty years barren: those are the thirty Years wherein there was no offering made in her.

46 But after thirty years, Solomon builded the city, and offered offerings: and then bare the barren a son.

47 And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Jerusalem.

48 But whereas she said unto thee, That my son coming into his marriage-chamber, happened to have a fall and died: this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem.

49 And behold, thou sawest her likeness, and because she mourned for her son, thou beganest to comfort her: and of these things which have chanced, these are to be opened unto thee.

50 For now the most High seeth that thou art grieved unfeignedly, and sufferest from thy whole heart for her, so has he shewed thee the brightness of her glory, and the comeliness of her beauty:

51 And therefore I bade thee remain in the field where no house was builded.

52 For I knew that the Highest would shew this unto thee.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field, where no foundation of any building was.

54 For in the place wherein the Highest beginneth to shew his city, there can no mans building be able to stand.

55 And therefore fear not, let not thine heart be affrighted, but go thy way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see.

56 And then shalt thou hear as much as thine ears may comprehend.

¶ Or, art called to be with, &c.

57 For thou art blessed above many other, and ¶ art called with the Highest, and so are but few.

58 But to morrow at night thou shalt remain here,

¶ Or, last things.

59 And so shall the Highest shew thee visions of the ¶ high things, which the most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

CHAP. XI.

1 He seeth in his dream an eagle coming out of the sea, 37 and a lion out of a wood talking to the eagle.

Then saw I a dream, and behold, there came up from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads.

2 And I saw, and behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of the air blew on her, and were gathered together.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grew other contrary feathers; and they became little feathers and small.

† Lat. se.

4 But her heads were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other, yet rested † it with the residue.

5 Moreover I beheld, and lo, the eagle flew with her feathers, and reigned upon earth, and over them that dwelt therein.

6 And I saw that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature upon earth.

7 And I beheld, and lo, the eagle rose upon her talons, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course.

9 But let the heads be preserved for the last.

10 And I beheld, and lo, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body.

11 And I numbered her contrary feathers, and behold there were eight of them.

12 And I looked, and behold, on the right side there arose one feather, and reigned over all the earth;

13 And so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stood up, and reigned, and had a great time;

14 And it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, like as the first, so that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voice unto it, and said,

16 Hear thou that hast born rule over the earth so long: this I say unto thee, before thou beginnest to appear no more,

17 There shall none after thee attain unto thy time, neither unto the half thereof.

18 Then arose the third and reigned as the other before, and appeared no more also.

19 So went it with all the residue one after another, as that every one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I beheld, and lo, in process of time the feathers that followed stood up upon the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled; but within a while they appeared no more:

21 For some of them were set up, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, and behold, the twelve feathers appeared no more, nor the two little feathers.

23 And there was no more upon the eagles body, but three heads that rested, and six little wings.

24 Then saw I also, that two little feathers divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: for the four continued in their place.

25 And I beheld, and lo, the feathers that were under the wing, thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule.

26 And I beheld, and lo, there was one set up, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second was sooner away than the first.

28 And I beheld, and lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign:

29 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst, for that was greater than the two other heads.

30 And then I saw that the two other heads were joyned with it.

31 And behold the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two feathers under the wing, that would have reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in fear, and bare rule in it over all those that dwelt upon the earth, with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world, more than all the wings that had been.

33 And after this I beheld, and lo, the head that was in the midst, suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings.

34 But there remained the two heads, which also in like sort ruled upon the earth, and over those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and lo, the head upon the right side, devoured it that was upon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voice which said unto me, look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 And I beheld, and lo, as it were a roving lion chased out of the wood: and I saw that he sent out a mans voice unto the eagle, and said,

38 Hear thou, I will talk with thee, and the Highest shall say unto thee, 39 Art not thou it that remainest of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of their times might come through them?

40 And the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and had power over the world, with great fearfulness, and over the whole compass of the earth, with much wicked oppression, and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit.

41 For the earth hast thou not judged with truth.

42 For thou hast afflicted the meek, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast down the walls of such as did thee no harm.

43 Therefore is thy wrongful dealing come up unto the Highest, and thy pride unto the Mighty.

44 The Highest also hath looked upon the proud times, and behold they are ended, and his abominations are fulfilled.

45 And therefore appear no more, thou eagle, nor thy horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, nor thy hurtful claws, nor all thy vain body :

46 That all the earth may be refreshed, and may return, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgment and mercy of him that made her.

C H A P. XII.

1 The eagle which he saw is destroyed. 10 The vision is interpreted: 37 He is bid to write his visions, 39 and to fast, that he may see more. 46 He doth comfort those that were grieved for his absence.

AND it came to pass whiles the lion spake these words unto the eagle, I saw,

2 And behold, the head that remained, and the four wings appeared no more, and the two went unto it, and set themselves up to reign, and their kingdom was small and full of uprore.

3 And I saw, and behold, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I out of the trouble and trance of my mind, and from great fear, and said unto my spirit,

4 Lo, this hast thou done unto me, in that thou searchest out the ways of the Highest.

5 Lo, yet am I weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; and little strength is there in me, for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night.

6 Therefore will I now beseech the Highest, that he will comfort me unto the end.

7 And I said, Lord that bearest rule, If I have found grace before thy sight, and if I am justified with thee, before many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before thy face;

8 Comfort me then, and shew me thy servant the interpretation, and plain difference of this fearful vision, that thou mayst perfectly comfort my soul.

9 For thou hast judged me worthy to shew me the last times.

10 And he said unto me, This is the interpretation of the vision :

11 The eagle whom thou sawest come up from the sea, is the kingdom which was seen in the ^a vision of thy brother Daniel.

12 But it was not expounded unto him, therefore now I declare it unto thee.

13 Behold, the days will come that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be feared above all the kingdoms that were before it.

14 In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another :

15 Whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have more time than any of the twelve.

16 And this do the twelve wings signifie which thou sawest.

17 As for the voice which thou heardst speak, and that thou sawest not to go out from the heads, but from the mids of the body thereof, this is the interpretation :

18 That after the time of that kingdom, there shall arise great strivings, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to his beginning.

19 And whereas thou sawest the eight small under-feathers sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation :

20 That in him there shall arise eight kings, whose time shall be but small, and their years swift.

21 And two of them shall perish: the middle time approaching, four shall be kept until their end begin to approach: but two shall be kept unto the end.

22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation :

23 In his last days shall the most High raise up three kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall have the dominion of the earth, 24 And of those that dwell therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle.

25 For these are they that shall accomplish his wickedness, and that shall finish his last end.

26 And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain.

27 For the two that remain, shall be slain with the sword.

28 For the sword of the one shall devour the other: but at the last shall he fall through the sword himself.

29 And whereas thou sawest two feathers under the wings passing over the head that is on the right side;

30 It signifieth that these are they whom the Highest hath kept unto their end: this is the small kingdom and full of trouble as thou sawest.

31 And the lion whom thou sawest rising up out of the wood, and roring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness, with all the words which thou hast heard, 32 This is the † anointed which the Highest ^{+ Lat. wind, or, spirit.} hath kept for them, and for their wickedness unto the end: he shall reprove them, and shall upbraid them with their cruelty.

33 For he shall set them before him alive in judgment, and shall rebuke them and correct them.

34 For the rest of my people shall he deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved upon my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the day of judgment, whereof I have spoken unto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dream that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou only hast been meet to know this secret of the Highest.

37 Therefore write all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and hide them.

38 And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keep these secrets.

39 But wait thou here thy self yet seven days more, that it may be shewed thee whatsoever it pleaseth the Highest to declare unto thee. And with that he went his way.

40 And it came to pass, when all the people saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and said, 41 What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou forsakest us, and fittest here in this place?

|| Or, people.

42 For of all the || prophets thou only art left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a candle in a dark place, and as a haven or ship preserved from the tempest.

43 Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient?

44 If thou shalt forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had been burnt in the midst of Sion?

45 For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. Then answered I them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heavy, thou house of Jacob:

47 For the Highest hath you in remembrance, and the Mighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for the low estate of your sanctuary.

49 And now go your way home every man, and after these days will I come unto you.

50 So the people went their way into the city, like as I commanded them:

51 But I remained still in the field seven days, as the angel commanded me, and did eat only in those days of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

C H A P. XIII.

1 He seeth in his dream a man coming out of the sea.
25 The declaration of his dream: 54 He is praised, and promised to see more.

AND it came to pass after seven days, I dreamed a dream by night.

as the wind,
Junius.

2 And lo, there arose || a wind from the sea, that it moved all the waves thereof.

3 And I beheld, and lo, that man waxed strong with the || thousands of heaven: and when he turned his countenance to look, all the things trembled that were seen under him.

4 And whensoever the voice went out of his mouth, all they burnt that heard his voice, like as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.

5 And after this I beheld, and lo, there was gathered together a multitude of men, out of number, from the four winds of the heaven, to subdue the man that came out of the sea.

6 But I beheld, and lo, he had graved himself a great mountain, and flew up upon it.

7 But I would have seen the region or place whereout the hill was graven, and I could not.

8 And after this I beheld, and lo, all they which were gathered together to subdue him, were sore afraid, and yet durst fight.

9 And lo, as he saw the violence of the multitude that came, he neither lift up his hand, nor held sword, nor any instrument of war.

10 But only I saw that he sent out of his mouth, as it had been a blast of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast out sparks and tempests.

11 And they were all mixt together; the blast of fire, the flaming breath, and the great tempest; and fell with violence upon the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burnt them up every one, so that upon a sudden, of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only dust and smell of smoak: when I saw this I was afraid.

12 Afterward I saw the same man come down from the mountain, and call unto him another peaceable multitude.

13 And there came much people unto him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought || of them that were offered: then was I sick, through great fear, and I awaked, and said,

things that offered.

14 Thou hast shewed thy servant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldst receive my prayer:

15 Shew me now yet the interpretation of this dream.

16 For as I conceive in mine understanding, wo unto them that shall be left in those days; and much more wo unto them that are not left behind.

17 For they that were not left were in heaviness.

18 Now understand I the things that are laid up in the latter days, which shall happen unto them, and to those that are left behind.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, like as these dreams declare.

20 Yet is it easier for him that is in danger to come into || these things, than to pass away || Or, this d

21 The interpretation of the vision shall I shew thee, and I will open unto thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation:

23 He that shall endure the peril in that time, hath kept himself: they that be fallen into danger are such as have works, and faith towards the Almighty.

24 Know this therefore, that they which be left behind, are more blessed than they that be dead.

25 This is the meaning of the vision, Whereas thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea:

26 The same is he whom God the Highest hath kept a great season, which by his own own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind.

27 And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of wind, and fire and storm;

28 And that he held neither sword nor any instrument of war, but that the rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to subdue him; this is the interpretation:

29 Behold, the days come, when the most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the earth.

30 And he shall come, to the astonishment of them that dwell on earth.

31 And one shall undertake to fight against another, one city against another, one place against another, ^a one people against another, and one realm against another.

^a Matth. 24. 7.

32 And the time shall be when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I shewed thee before, and then shall my Son be declared, whom thou sawest as a man ascending.

33 And when all the people hear his voice, every man shall in their own land leave the battle they have one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest them willing to come, and to overcome him by fighting.

35 But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded like as thou sawest the hill graven without hands.

37 And this my Son shall rebuke the wicked inventions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest;

38 And shall lay before them their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall begin to be tormented, which are like unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour, by the law which is like unto fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable multitude unto him;

40 Those are the ten tribes which were carried away prisoners out of their own land, in the time of Osea the king, whom ^b Salmanasar the king of Assyria led away captive, and he carried them over the waters, and so came they into another land.

^b 2 Kings 17. 3.

41 But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt,

42 That they might there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land.

43 And they entred into Euphrates by the narrow passages of the river.

^c Exod. 14. 27.
^d Josh. 3. 15, 16.

44 For the most High then shewed ^c signs for them, and held still the flood, till they were passed over.

^e Or, Ararat.

45 For through that country there was a great way to go; namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called || Arfareth.

46 Then dwelt they there until the latter time; and now when they shall begin to come,

47 The Highest shall stay the springs of the stream again, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But those that be left behind of thy people, are they that are found within my borders.

49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend his people that remain.

50 And then shall he shew them great wonders.

51 Then said I, O Lord that bearest rule, shew me this: Wherefore have I seen the man coming up from the midst of the sea?

52 And he said unto me, Like as thou canst neither seek out nor know the things that are in the deep of the sea: even so can no man upon the earth see my son, or those that be with him, but in the day-time.

53 This is the interpretation of the dream which thou sawest, and whereby thou only art here lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine own way, and applied thy diligence unto my law, and fought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and hast called understanding thy mother.

56 And therefore have I shewed thee the treasures of the Highest: after other three days I will speak other things unto thee, and declare unto thee mighty and wondrous things.

57 Then went I forth into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly unto the most High, because of his wonders which he did in time, 58 And because he governeth the same, and such things as fall in their seasons: and there I sat three days.

C H A P. XIV.

ⁱ A voice out of a bush calleth Esdras, ¹⁰ and telleth him that the world waxeth old. ²² He desireth, because the law was burnt, to write all again, ²⁴ and is bid to get swift writers. ³⁹ He and they are filled with understanding. ⁴⁵ But he is charged not to publish all that is written.

AND it came to pass upon the third day, I sat under an oak, and behold, there came a voice out of a bush over against me, and said, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I said, Here am I, Lord; and I stood up upon my feet.

3 Then said he unto me, ^a In the bush I did manifestly reveal my self unto Moses, and talked with him, when my people served in Egypt.

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him up to the mount of Sinai, where I held him by me a long season,

5 And told him many wondrous things, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end: and commanded him, saying,

6 These words shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And now I say unto thee,

8 That thou lay up in thy heart the signs that I have shewed, and the dreams that thou hast seen, and the interpretations which thou hast heard:

9 For thou shalt be taken away from all, and from henceforth thou shalt remain with my || son, and with such as be like thee until the times be ended.

10 For the world hath lost his youth, and the time begins to wax old.

11 For the world is divided into twelve parts, and the ten parts of it are gone already, and half a tenth part:

12 And there remaineth that which is after the half of the tenth part.

13 Now therefore set thine house in order, and reprove thy people, comfort such of them as be in trouble: and now renounce corruption.

14 Let go from thee mortal thoughts, cast away the burdens of man, put off now the weak nature, 15 And set aside the thoughts that are most heavy unto thee, and haste thee to flee from these times.

^b Matth. 24. 7.

16 For ^b yet greater evils than those which thou hast seen happen, shall be done hereafter.

17 For look how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell therein.

18 For the truth is fled far away, and leasing is hard at hand: for now hasteth the vision to come which thou hast seen.

19 Then answered I before thee, and said,

20 Behold, Lord, I will go as thou hast commanded me, and reprove the people which are present: but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? thus the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light.

21 For thy law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall begin.

22 But if I have found grace before thee, send the holy Ghost into me, and I shall write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, which were written in thy law, that men may find thy path, and that they which will live in the latter days, may live.

23 And he answered me, saying, Go thy way, gather the people together, and say unto them, that they seek thee not for forty days.

|| Or, box-tables to write on.
See ver. 44.
|| Or, Banns.

24 But look thou prepare thee many || box-trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Sele-mia, || Ecanus, and Asiel, these five which are ready to write swiftly.

25 And come hither, and I shall light a candle of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish, and some things shalt thou shew secretly to the wise: to morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then went I forth as he commanded, and gathered all the people together, and said, 28 Hear these words, O Israel.

^c Gen. 47. 4.

29 ^c Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were delivered:

^d Acts 7. 53.

30 ^d And received the law of life which they kept not, which ye also have transgressed after them.

31 Then was the land, even the land of Sion parted among you by lot: but your fathers, and ye your selves have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Highest commanded you.

32 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you in time the thing that he had given you.

33 And now are you here, and your brethren amongst you.

34 Therefore if so be that you will subdue your own understanding, and reform your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy.

35 For after death shall the judgment come, when ye shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared.

36 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these forty days.

37 So I took the five men as he commanded me, and we went into the field, and remained there.

38 And the next day, behold, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, ^e open thy mouth and ^e Ezek. 3. 2. drink that I give thee to drink.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I took it and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit strengthened my memory.

41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The Highest gave understanding unto the five men, and they wrote the wonderful visions of the night that were told, which they knew not: and they sat forty days, and they wrote in the day, and at night they ate bread.

43 As for me, I spake in the day, and I held not my tongue by night.

44 In forty days they wrote || two hundred || Or, nine hundred and four books.

45 And it came to pass when the forty days were fulfilled, that the Highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthy and unworthy may read it.

46 But keep the seventy last, that thou mayst deliver them only to such as be wise among the people.

47 For in them is the spring of understanding, the fountain of wisdom, and || the stream || Or, the light of knowledge.

48 And I did so.

CHAP. XV.

1 This prophesie is certain. 5 God will take vengeance upon the wicked, 12 upon Egypt. 28 An horrible vision. 43 Babylon and Asia are threatned.

BEhold, speak thou in the ears of my people the words of prophecy, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord.

2 And cause them to be written in paper: for they are faithful and true.

3 Fear not the imaginations against thee, let not the incredulity of them trouble thee, that speak against thee.

4 For ^a all the unfaithful shall die in their ^a John 3. 36. unfaithfulness.

5 Behold, saith the Lord, I will bring plagues upon the world; the sword, famine, death and destruction.

6 For wickedness hath exceedingly polluted the whole earth, and their hurtful works are fulfilled.

7 Therefore saith the Lord,

8 I will hold my tongue no more as touching their wickedness, which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in those things in which they wickedly exercise themselves:

^b Rev. 6. 10. & selves: behold, the ^b innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the souls of the just complain continually.

9 And therefore saith the Lord, I will surely avenge them, and receive unto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt.

11 But I will bring them with a mighty hand, and a stretched out arm, and smite Egypt with plagues as before, and will destroy all the land thereof.

12 Egypt shall mourn, and the foundation of it shall be smitten with the plague and punishment that God shall bring upon it.

13 They that till the ground shall mourn: for their seeds shall fail, through the blasting, and hail, and with a fearful constellation.

14 Wo to the world, and them that dwell therein.

15 For the sword and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stand up to fight against another, and swords in their hands.

16 For there shall be sedition among men, and invading one another; they shall not regard their kings nor princes, and the course of their actions shall stand in their power.

17 A man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able.

18 For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid.

19 A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

20 Behold, saith God, I will call together all the kings of the earth to reverence me, which are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus: to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them.

21 Like as they do yet this day unto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense in their bosom. Thus saith the Lord God, 22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth.

23 The fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the straw that is kindled.

24 Wo to them that sin and keep not my commandments, saith the Lord:

25 I will not spare them: go your way, ye children, from the power, defile not my sanctuary.

26 For the Lord knoweth all them that sin against him, and therefore delivereth he them unto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because ye have sinned against him.

28 Behold an horrible vision, and the appearance thereof from the east:

29 Where the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and the multitude of them shall be carried as the wind upon earth, that all they which hear them, may fear and tremble.

30 Also the Carmanians raging in wrath shall go forth as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and joyn battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembring their nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, 32 Then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall flee.

33 And from the land of the Assyrians shall the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shall be fear and dread, and strife || among their kings. || Or, against 34 Behold clouds from the east, and from the north, unto the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm.

35 They shall smite one upon another, and ^c they shall smite down a great multitude of stars upon the earth, even their own star; and ^d blood shall be from the sword unto the belly, ^c Matt. 24. 29.
^d Rev. 14. 20.

36 And dung of men unto the camels || hough. || Or, pasture, or, litter.

37 And there shall be great fearfulness and trembling upon earth: and they that see the wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall come upon them.

38 And then shall there come great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west.

39 And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall open it, and the cloud which he raised up in wrath, and the star stirred to cause fear toward the east and west-wind, shall be destroyed.

40 The great and mighty clouds shall be lifted up full of wrath, and the star, that they may make all the earth afraid, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent place, an horrible star.

41 Fire and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all fields may be full and all rivers with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall break down the cities, and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn.

43 And they shall go stedfastly unto Babylon, and || make her afraid. || Or, destroy.

44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her, then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven, and all they that be about her bewail her.

45 And they that remain under her shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.

46 And thou, Asia, that art || partaker of the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person: || Or, like unto Babylon.

47 Wo be unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thy self like unto her; and hast deckt thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have alway desired to commit whoredom with thee.

48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her works and inventions: therefore saith God, 49 ^e I will send plagues upon thee; widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death. ^e Rev. 18. 7, 8.

50 And

50 And the glory of thy power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over thee.

51 Thou shalt be weakned as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that the mighty and lovers shall not be able to receive thee.

52 Would I with jealousie have so proceeded against thee, saith the Lord, 53 If thou hadst not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, and saying over their † dead, when thou wast drunken, † Lat. death.

54 Set forth the beauty of thy countenance?

55 The reward of thy whoredom shall be in thy bosom, therefore shalt thou receive recompence.

56 Like as thou hast done unto my chosen, saith the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall deliver thee into mischief.

57 Thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall through the sword: thy cities shall be broken down, and all thine shall perish with the sword in the field.

58 They that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.

59 Thou as unhappy shalt come through the sea, and receive plagues again.

60 And in the passage they shall rush on the idle city, and shall destroy some portion of thy land, and consume part of thy glory, and shall return to Babylon that was destroyed.

61 And thou shalt be cast down by them, as stubble, and they shall be unto thee as fire:

62 And shall consume thee and thy cities, thy land and thy mountains; all thy woods and thy fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire.

63 Thy children shall they carry away captive, and look what thou hast, they shall spoil it, and || mar the beauty of thy face.

|| Or, blemish.

C H A P. XVI.

1 Babylon and other places are threatened with plagues that cannot be avoided, 23 and with desolation.

40 The servants of the Lord must look for troubles:

51 and not hide their sins, 74 but leave them, and they shall be delivered.

WO be unto thee, Babylon and Asia: wo be unto thee, Egypt and Syria.

2 Gird up your selves with clothes of sack and hair, bewail your children and be sorry; for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sword is sent upon you, and who may turn it back?

4 A fire is sent among you, and who may quench it?

5 Plagues are sent unto you, and what is he that may drive them away?

6 May any man drive away an hungry lion in the wood? or may any one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath begun to burn?

7 May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?

8 The mighty Lord sendeth the plagues, and who is he that can drive them away?

9 A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it?

10 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?

11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly beaten to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof, the sea riseth up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it are troubled, and the fishes thereof also before the Lord, and before the glory of his power.

13 For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

14 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth.

15 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundation of the earth.

16 Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer, returneth not backward: even so the plagues that shall be sent upon earth shall not return again.

17 Wo is me, wo is me, who will deliver me in those days?

18 The beginning of sorrows and great mournings; the beginning of famine, and great death; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils: what shall I do when these evils shall come?

19 Behold, famine and plague, tribulation and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment.

20 But for all these things they shall not turn from their wickedness, nor be alway mindful of thy scourges.

21 Behold, victuals shall be so good cheap upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall || evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion.

22 For many of them that dwell upon earth, shall perish of famine; and the other that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy.

23 And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be wasted, and the cities shall be cast down.

24 There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sow it.

25 The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them?

26 The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? for all places shall be desolate of men:

27 So that one man shall desire to see another, and to hear his voice.

28 For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which shall hide themselves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of the rocks.

29 As in an orchard of olives, upon every tree there are left three or four olives;

30 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some clusters of them that diligently seek through the vineyard:

31 Even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their houses with the sword.

32 And the earth shall be laid waste, and the fields thereof shall wax old, and her ways and all her paths shall grow full of thorns because no man shall travel therethrough.

33 The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers.

34 In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.

35 Hear now these things, and understand them, ye servants of the Lord.

36 Behold the word of the Lord, receive it: believe not the gods of whom the Lord spake.

37 Behold, the plagues draw nigh, and are not slack.

38 As when a woman with child, in the ninth month bringeth forth her son, within two or three hours of her birth great pains compass her womb, which pains, when the child cometh forth, they slack not a moment.

39 Even so shall not the plagues be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall mourn, and sorrow shall come upon it on every side.

40 O my people hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils, be even as pilgrims upon the earth.

^a See 1 Cor. 7. 29, 30, 31. 41 ^a He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose:

42 He that occupieth merchandise, as he that had no profit by it: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein:

43 He that soweth, as if he should not reap: so also he that planteth the vineyard, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

44 They that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowers.

45 And therefore they that labour, labour in vain.

46 For strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captives, for || in captivity and famine shall they get children.

47 And they that occupy their merchandise with robbery, the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons:

48 The more will I be angry with them for their sin, saith the Lord.

49 Like as a whore envieth a right honest and virtuous woman:

50 So shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh her self, and shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.

51 And therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the works thereof.

52 For yet a little, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign among you.

53 Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for God shall burn coals of fire upon his head, which saith before the Lord God and his glory, I have not sinned.

^b Luk. 16. 15. 54 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, ^b their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts.

^c Gen. 1. 1. 55 Which spake but the word, Let the earth be made, ^c and it was made: Let the heaven be made, and it was created.

^d Psalm 147. 4. 56 In his word were the stars made, and he knoweth the ^d number of them.

57 He searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.

58 He hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth upon the waters.

59 He spreadeth out the heavens like a vault, upon the waters hath he founded it.

60 In the desert hath he made springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, that the floods might pour down from the high rocks to water the earth.

61 He made man, and put his heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life and understanding.

62 Yea, and the spirit of Almighty God, which made all things, and searcheth out all hidden things in the secrets of the earth, 63 Surely he knoweth your inventions, and what you think in your hearts, even them that sin, and would hide their sin.

64 Therefore hath the Lord exactly searched out all your works, and he will put you all to shame.

65 And when your sins are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your own sins shall be your accusers in that day.

66 What will ye do? or how will you hide your sins before God and his angels?

67 Behold God himself is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever; so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all trouble.

68 For behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you, || being idle with things offered unto idols. ^{|| Or, being unable to resist.}

69 And they that consent unto them shall be had in derision, and in reproach, and troden under foot.

70 For there shall be in every place, and in the next cities a great insurrection upon those that fear the Lord.

71 They shall be like mad-men, sparing none, but still spoiling and destroying those that fear the Lord.

72 For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses.

73 Then shall they be known who are my chosen, and they shall be tried as the gold in the fire.

74 Hear, O ye my beloved, saith the Lord: behold the days of trouble are at hand, but I will deliver you from the same.

75 Be ye not afraid, neither doubt, for God is your guide, 76 And the guide of them who keep my commandments, and precepts, saith the Lord God: let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift up themselves.

77 Wo be unto them that are bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities: like as a field is covered over with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through.

78 It is || left undressed, and is cast into the fire to be consumed therewith. ^{|| Or, shut out.}

CHAP. I.

Tobit his stock and devotion in his youth : 9 His marriage, 10 and captivity : 13 His preferment, 16 alms, and charity in burying the dead : 19 for which he is accused and fleeth, 22 and after returneth to Nineve.

HE book of the || words of Tobit, son of Tobiel, the son of Ananiel, the son of Aduel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asael, of the tribe of Nephthali,

2 Who in the time of || Enemessar king of the Assyrians, was led captive out of ^a Thisbe, which is at the right hand of that city, which is called || properly Nephthali in Galilee above Aser.

3 I Tobit have walked all the days of my life in the way of truth and justice, and I did many alms-deeds to my brethren, and my nation, who came with me to Nineve, into the land of the Assyrians.

4 And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, being but young, all the tribe of Nephthali my father, fell from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, where the temple of the habitation of the most High was consecrated and built for all ages.

5 Now all the tribes which together revolted, and the house of my father Nephthali sacrificed || unto the ^b heifer Baal.

6 But I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it was ordained unto all the people of Israel by an everlasting decree, ^c having the first-fruits, and tenths of increase, with that which was first shorn; and them gave I at the altar, to the priests the children of Aaron.

7 The first tenth part of all increase, I gave to the sons of || Aaron, who ministred at Jerusalem: another tenth part I sold away, and went and spent it every year at Jerusalem:

8 And the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Debora my fathers mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father.

9 Furthermore, when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine ^d own kindred, and of her I begat Tobias.

10 And when we were carried away captives to Nineve, all my brethren, and those that were of my kindred, did eat of the ^e bread of the Gentiles.

11 But I kept [†] my self from eating.

12 Because I remembred God with all my heart.

13 And the most high gave me grace and favour before Enemessar, so that I was his [†] purveyor.

14 And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias || at Rages a city of Media, ten talents of silver.

15 Now when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his son reigned in his stead; [†] whose estate was troubled, that I could not go into Media.

16 And in the time of Enemessar, I gave many alms to my brethren, and gave my bread to the hungry,

17 And my clothes to the naked: and if I saw any of my nation dead, or cast || about the walls of Nineve, ^f I buried him.

18 And if the king Sennacherib had slain any, when he was come, and ^g fled from Judea, I buried them privily, (for in his wrath he killed many) but the bodies were not found, when they were sought for of the king.

19 And when one of the Ninevites went and complained of me to the king, that I buried them, and hid my self; understanding that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew my self for fear.

20 Then all my goods were forcibly taken away, neither was there any thing left me, besides my wife Anna, and my son Tobias.

21 And there passed not five and fifty days before two of his sons ^h killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararath, and || Sarchedonus his son reigned in his stead; who appointed over his fathers accounts, and over all his affairs, Achiacharus my brother Anaels son.

22 And Achiacharus intreating for me, I returned to Nineve: now Achiacharus was cup-bearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and || Sarchedonus appointed him next unto him: and he was my brothers son.

CHAP. II.

1 Tobit leaveth his meat to bury the dead, 10 and becometh blind : 11 his wife taketh in work to get her living : 14 Her husband and she fall out about a kid.

NOW when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored unto me, with my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, in the which I sat down to eat.

2 And when I saw abundance of meat, I said to my son, Go, and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find out of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and lo, I tarry for thee.

3 But he came again, and said, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the market-place.

4 Then before I had tasted of any meat, I start up, and took him up into a room, until the going down of the sun.

5 Then I returned, and washed my self, and eat my meat in heaviness,

6 Remembring that prophecy of ^a Amos, as ^a Amos 8. 10 he said, ^b Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your mirth into lamentation.

7 Therefore I wept: and after the going down of the sun, I went and made a grave, and buried him.

8 But my neighbours mocked me, and said, This man is not yet afraid to be put to death for this matter: ^c who fled away; and yet lo, ^c Chap. 1. 10 he burieth the dead again.

9 The same night also I returned from the burial, and slept by the wall of my court-yard, being polluted, and my face was uncovered:

But she replied upon me, Where are thine alms, and thy righteous deeds? || behold, thou and all thy works are known.

C H A P. III.

^{1 Tobit grieved with his wives taunts, prayeth. 11 Sara reproached by her fathers maids, prayeth also. 17 An angel is sent to help them both.}

THen I being grieved did weep, and in my sorrow prayed, saying,

2 O Lord, thou art just, and all thy works, and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest truly and justly for ever.

3 Remember me, and look on me, punish me not for my sins and ignorances, and the sins of my fathers who have sinned before thee:

^{*Deut. 28. 15.} 4 For they obeyed not thy commandments; wherefore thou hast delivered us ^a for a spoil and unto captivity, and unto death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed.

5 And now thy judgments are many and true: deal with me according to my sins, and my fathers: because we have not kept thy commandments, neither have walked in truth before thee.

^{|| Or, dismissed, or, delivered.} 6 Now therefore deal with me as seemeth best unto thee, and command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be || dissolved, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and have much sorrow: command therefore that I may now be delivered out of this distress, and go into the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

7 It came to pass the same day, that in Ecbatane a city of Media, Sara the daughter of Raguel was also reproached by her fathers maids;

8 Because that she had been married to seven husbands, whom Asmodeus the evil spirit had killed before they had lien with her. Dost thou not know, said they, that thou hast strangled thine husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, neither wast thou named after any of them.

9 Wherefore dost thou beat us for them? If they be dead, go thy ways after them, let us never see of thee either son or daughter.

10 When she heard these things, she was very sorrowful, so that she thought to have strangled her self; and she said, I am the only daughter of my father, and if I do this it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring his old age with sorrow unto the grave.

11 Then she prayed toward the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord, my God, and thine holy and glorious name is blessed and honourable for ever: let all thy works praise thee for ever.

12 And now, O Lord, I set mine eyes and my face toward thee, 13 And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may hear no more the reproach.

14 Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man,

15 And that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, neither hath he any child to be his heir, neither any near || kinsman, nor any son of his ^{|| Or, brother.} alive, to whom I may keep my self for a wife: my seven husbands are already dead, and why should I live? but if it please not thee that I should die, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, that I hear no more reproach.

16 So the prayers of them both were heard before the majesty of the great God.

17 And Raphael was sent to heal them both, that is, to scale away the whiteness of Tobits eyes, and to give Sara the daughter of Raguel, for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodeus the evil spirit, because she belonged to Tobias by right of inheritance. The self-same time came Tobit home, and entred into his house, and Sara the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

C H A P. IV.

^{3 Tobit giveth instructions to his son Tobias, 20 and telleth him of money left with Gabael in Media.}

IN that day Tobit remembred ^a the money ^{Chap. 1. 14.} which he had committed to Gabael in Rages of Media,

2 And said with himself, I have wished for death; wherefore do I not call for my son Tobias, that I may signifie to him of the money before I die?

3 And when he had called him, he said, My son, when I am dead, bury me, and despise not thy mother, ^b but honour her all the days ^{b Exodus 20. 12. Ecclus 7. 27.} of thy life, and do that which shall please her, and grieve her not.

4 Remember, my son, that she saw many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her womb; and when she is dead, bury her by me in one grave.

5 My son, be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin or to transgress his commandments: do uprightly all thy life long, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness.

6 For if thou deal truly, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that live justly.

7 ^c Give alms of thy substance: and when ^{c Prov. 3. 9. Ecclus 4. 1. & 14. 13. Luke 14. 13.} thou givest alms, let not thine eye be envious, neither turn thy face from any poor, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee.

8 If thou hast abundance, ^d Give alms accordingly: if thou have but a little, be not afraid to give according to that little. ^{d Ecclus 35. 10.}

9 For thou layest up a good treasure for thy self against the day of necessity.

^c Ecclus 29. 13.

10 ^c Because that alms do deliver from death, and suffereth not to come into darknes.

11 For alms is a good gift unto all that give it in the sight of the most High.

12 Beware of all ^e whoredom, my son, and chiefly take a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange woman to wife, which is not of thy fathers tribe: for we are the children of the prophets, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: remember, my son, that our fathers from the beginning, even that they all married wives of their own kindred, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land.

13 Now therefore, my son, love thy brethren, and despise not in thy heart thy brethren, the sons and daughters of thy people, in not taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction and much trouble, and in lewdness is decay, and great want: for lewdness is the mother of famine.

^f Levit. 19. 13.

Deut. 24. 14, 15.

14 Let not the ^g wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, tarry with thee, but give him it out of hand: for if thou serve God, he will also repay thee: be circumspect, my son, in all things thou dost, and be wise in all thy conversation.

^h Matth. 7. 12.

Luke 6. 31.

15 ^h Do that to no man which thou hatest: drink not wine to make thee drunken; neither let drunkenness go with thee in thy journey.

ⁱ Luke 14. 13.

16 ⁱ Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked; and according to thine abundance ^k give alms; and let not thine eye be envious when thou givest alms.

^j Matth. 6. 1.

17 Pour out thy bread on the burial of the just, but give nothing to the wicked.

18 Ask counsel of all that are wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable.

19 Bless the Lord thy God alway, and desire of him that thy ways may be directed, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel, but the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will; now therefore, my son, remember my commandments, neither let them be put out of thy mind.

20 And now I signifie this to thee, that I committed ten talents to Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages in Media.

21 And fear not, my son, that we are made poor: for thou hast much wealth, if thou fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

CHAP. V.

4 Young Tobias seeketh a guide into Media. 6 The angel will go with him, 12 and saith he is his kinsman. 16 Tobias and the angel depart together. 17 But his mother is grieved for her sons departing.

Tobias then answered and said, Father, I will do all things which thou hast commanded me.

2 But how can I receive the money, seeing I know him not?

3 Then he gave him the hand-writing, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which may go with thee whiles I yet live, and I will give him wages: and go and receive the money.

4 Therefore when he went to seek a man, he found Raphael that was an angel.

5 But he knew not; and he said unto him, Canst thou go with me to Rages? and knowest thou those places well?

6 To whom the angel said, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: for I have lodged with our brother Gabael.

7 Then Tobias said unto him, Tarry for me till I tell my father.

8 Then he said unto him, Go, and tarry not: So he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. Then he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.

9 So he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another.

10 Then Tobit said unto him, Brother, shew me of what tribe and family thou art.

11 To whom he said, Dost thou seek for a tribe or family, or an hired man to go with thy son? Then Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and name.

12 Then he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, and of thy brethren.

13 Then Tobit said, Thou art welcome, brother, be not now angry with me, because I have enquired to know thy tribe and thy family, for thou art my brother, of an honest and good stock: for I know Ananias, and Jonathas, sons of that great Samaïas: as we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the first-born, and the tenths of the fruits, and they were not seduced with the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a good stock.

14 But tell me, what wages shall I give thee? wilt thou a drachme a day, and things necessary, as to mine own son?

15 Yea, moreover, if ye return safe, I will add something to thy wages.

16 So they were well pleased. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thy self for the journey, and God send you a good journey. And when his son had prepared all things for the journey, his father said, Go thou with this man, and God which dwelleth in heaven, prosper your journey, and the angel of God keep you company. So they went forth both, and the young mans dog with them.

17 But Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our son? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us?

18 || Be not greedy (to add) money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child.

19 || For that which the Lord hath given us to live with, doth suffice us.

20 Then said Tobit to her, Take no care my sister; he shall return in safety, and thine eyes shall see him.

21 For the good angel will keep him company, and his journey shall be prosperous, and he shall return safe.

22 Then she made an end of weeping.

CHAP. VI.

4 The angel biddeth Tobias to take the liver, heart, and gall out of a fish, 10 and to marry Sara the daughter of Raguel: 16 and teacheth how to drive the wicked spirit away.

AND as they went on their journey, they came in the evening to the river Tigris, and they lodged there.

2 And when the young man went down to wash himself, a fish leaped out of the river, and would have devoured him.

3 Then the angel said unto him, Take the fish: and the young man laid hold of the fish, and || drew it to land.

4 To whom the angel said, Open the fish, and take the heart, and the liver, and the gall, and put them up safely.

5 So the young man did as the angel commanded him; and when they had rosted the fish, they did eat it: then they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatane.

6 Then the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver, and the gall of the fish?

7 And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed.

8 As for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that hath whiteness in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

9 And when they were come near to Rages,

10 The angel said to the young man, Brother, to day we shall lodge with Raguel, who is thy cousin; he also hath one only daughter, named Sara; I will speak for her, that she may be given thee for a wife.

11 For to thee doth the || ^a right of her appertain, seeing thou only art of her kindred.

12 And the maid is fair and wise: now therefore hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages, we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel cannot marry her to another, according to the law of Moses, but he shall be guilty of death, because the right of Inheritance doth rather appertain to thee, than to any other.

13 Then the young man answered the angel, I have heard, brother Azarias, that this maid hath been given to seven men, who all died in the marriage-chamber.

14 And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest if I go in unto her, I die, as the other before: for a wicked spirit loveth her, which hurteth no body, but those which come unto her; wherefore I also fear lest I die, and bring my fathers and my mothers life (because of me) to the grave with sorrow: for they have no other son to bury them.

15 Then the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the precepts which thy father gave thee, that thou shouldst marry a wife of thine own kindred? wherefore hear me, O my brother, for she shall be given thee to wife; and make thou no reckoning of the evil spirit; for this same night shall she be given thee in marriage.

16 And when thou shalt come into the marriage-chamber, thou shalt take the || ashes of perfume, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoke with it:

17 And the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise up both of you, and pray to God which is merciful, who will have pity on you, and save you: fear not, for she is appointed unto thee from the beginning; and thou shalt preserve her, and she shall go with thee: moreover, I suppose that she shall bear thee children. Now when Tobias had heard these things, he loved her, and his heart was || effectually joyned to her.

C H A P. VII.

1 Raguel telleth Tobias what had happened to his daughter: 12 and giveth her in marriage unto him: 17 She is conveyed to her chamber, and weepeth: 18 Her mother comforteth her.

AND when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel, and Sara met them: and after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.

2 Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my cousin?

3 And Raguel asked them, From whence are you brethren? To whom they said, We are of the sons of Nephthalim, which are captives in Nineve.

4 Then he said to them, Do ye know Tobit our kinsman? and they said, We know him. Then said he, Is he in good health?

5 And they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father.

6 Then Raguel leaped up, and kissed him, and wept.

7 And blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blind, he was sorrowful and wept.

8 And likewise Edna his wife, and Sara his daughter wept. Moreover, they entertained them cheerfully, and after that they had killed || a ram of the flock, they set store of meat on the table. Then said Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let this business be dispatched.

9 So he communicated the matter with Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry:

10 For it is meet that thou shouldst marry my daughter: nevertheless I will declare unto thee the truth.

11 I have given my daughter in marriage to seven men; who died that night they came in unto her: nevertheless, for the present be merry. But Tobias said, I will eat nothing here, till we agree, and swear one to another.

12 Raguel said, Then take her from henceforth according to the || manner, for thou art her cousin, and she is thine, and the merciful God give you good success in all things.

13 Then he called his daughter Sara, and she came to her father, and he took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, saying, Behold, take her after ^a the law of Moses, and lead her away to thy father: and he blessed them, 14 And called Edna his wife, and took paper, and did write an instrument of covenants, and sealed it.

15 Then they began to eat.

16 After Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

17 Which when she had done as he had bidden her, she brought her thither; and she wept, and she || received the tears of her daughter, || and said unto her,

|| a sucking ram, or, lamb, Junius.

|| Or, law.

^a Numb. 36. 6.

|| Or, licked.

18 Be of good comfort, my daughter; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee joy for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

C H A P. VIII.

3 Tobias driveth the wicked spirit away, as he was taught: 4 He and his wife rise up to pray. 10 Raguel thought he was dead: 15 but finding him alive, praiseth God, 19 and maketh a wedding-feast.

AND when they had supped, they brought Tobias in unto her.

2 And as he went he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the || ashes of the perfumes, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith.

3 The which smell when the evil spirit had smelled, he fled into the utmost parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him.

4 And after that they were both shut in together, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray, that God would have pity on us.

5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee and all thy creatures.

18, 22.

6 ^a Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for an helper and stay: of them came mankind: Thou hast said, It is not good that man should be alone; let us make unto him an aid like unto himself.

7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but uprightly: therefore mercifully ordain, that we may become aged together.

8 And she said with him, Amen.

9 So they slept both that night. And Raguel arose, and went and made a grave, 10 Saying, I fear lest he also be dead.

11 But when Raguel was come into his house,

12 He said unto his wife Edna, Send one of the maids, and let her see whether he be alive: if he be not, that we may bury him, and no man know it.

13 So the maid opened the door, and went in, and found them both asleep, 14 And came forth, and told them that he was alive.

15 Then Raguel praised God, and said, O God, thou art worthy to be praised with all pure and holy praise; therefore let thy saints praise thee with all thy creatures; and let all thine angels and thine elect praise thee for ever.

16 Thou art to be praised, for thou hast made me joyful; and that is not come to me which I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy.

17 Thou art to be praised, because thou hast had mercy of two that were the only begotten children of their fathers: grant them mercy, O Lord, and finish their life in health, with joy and mercy.

18 Then Raguel bade his servants to fill the grave.

19 And he kept the wedding-feast fourteen days.

20 For before the days of the marriage were finished, Raguel had said unto him by an oath, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the marriage were expired,

21 And then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and should have the rest when I and my wife be dead,

C H A P. IX.

1 Tobias sendeth the angel unto Gabael for the money. 6 The angel bringeth it, and Gabael to the wedding.

THEN Tobias called Raphael, and said unto him,

2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant and two camels, and go to Rages of Media, to Gabael, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.

3 For Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart.

4 But my father counteth the days, and if I tarry long he will be very sorry.

5 So Raphael went out, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the hand-writing; who brought forth bags which were sealed up, and gave them to him.

6 And early in the morning they went forth both together, and came to the wedding, and || Tobias blessed his wife.

|| Or, Gabael blessed Tobias and his wife, Junius.

C H A P. X.

1 Tobit and his wife long for their son. 7 She will not be comforted by her husband. 10 Raguel sendeth Tobias and his wife away with half their goods, 12 and bleisseth them.

NOW Tobit his father counted every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not,

2 Then Tobit said, Are they detained? or is Gabael dead, and there is no man to give him the money?

3 Therefore he was very sorry.

4 Then his wife said unto him, My son is dead, seeing he stayeth long; and she began to bewail him, and said,

5 Now I care for nothing, my son, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes.

6 To whom Tobit said, Hold thy peace, take no care, for he is safe.

7 But she said, Hold thy peace, and deceive me not; my son is dead: and she went out every day into the way which they went, and did eat no meat on the day time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there. Then Tobias said to Raguel, Let me go, for my father and my mother look no more to see me.

8 But his father in law said unto him, Tarry with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee.

9 But Tobias said, No, but let me go to my father.

10 Then Raguel arose, and gave him Sara his wife, and half his goods, servants, and cattle, and money:

11 And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven give you a prosperous journey, my children.

12 And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law, which are now thy parents, that I may hear good report of thee: and he kissed her. Edna also said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, my dear brother, and grant that I may see thy children of my daughter Sara before I die, that I may rejoyce before the Lord: behold, I commit my daughter unto thee || of special trust; wherefore do not entreat her evil.

|| Or, to be safe kept.

CHAP. XI.

6 Tobias mother spieth her son coming: 10 His father meeteth him at the door, and recovereth his sight: 14 He praiseth God, 17 and welcometh his daughter in law.

After these things Tobias went his way praising God that he had given him a prosperous journey, and blessed Raguel, and Edna his wife, and went on his way till they drew near unto Nineve.

2 Then Raphael said to Tobias, Thou knowest, brother, how thou didst leave thy father.

3 Let us hast before thy wife, and prepare the house:

4 And take in thine hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dog went after them.

5 Now Anna sat looking about towards the way for her son.

6 And when she spied him coming, she said to his father, Behold thy son cometh, and the man that went with him.

7 Then said Raphael, I know Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes.

8 Therefore anoint thou his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and the whiteness shall fall away, and he shall see thee.

9 Then Anna ran forth, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, Seeing I have seen thee, my son, from henceforth I am content to die; and they wept both.

10 Tobit also went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto him, 11 And took hold of his father; and he strake of the gall on his fathers eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.

12 And when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them;

13 And the whiteness pilled away from the corners of his eyes: and when he saw his son, he fell upon his neck.

14 And he wept and said, Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are all thine holy angels:

15 For thou hast scourged and hast taken pity on me: for behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoycing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

16 Then Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law, at the gate of Nineve, rejoycing and praising God: and they which saw him go, marvelled, because he had received his sight.

17 But Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had mercy on him. And when he came near to Sara his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome, daughter: God be blessed, which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed be thy father and thy mother. And there was joy amongst all his brethren which were at Nineve.

18 And Achiacharus, || and Nasbas his brothers son came.

19 And Tobias wedding was kept seven days with great joy.

CHAP. XII.

5 Tobit offereth half to the angel for his pains. 6 But he calleth them both aside, and exhorteth them, 15 and telleth them that he was an angel, 21 and was seen no more.

Then Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, My son, see that the man have his wages which went with thee, and thou must give him more.

2 And Tobias said unto him, O father, it is no harm to me to give him half of those things which I have brought.

3 For he hath brought me again to thee in safety, and made whole my wife, and brought me the money, and likewise healed thee.

4 Then the old man said, It is due unto him.

5 So he called the angel, and he said unto him, Take half of all that ye have brought, and go away in safety.

6 Then he took them both apart, and said unto them, Bless God, praise him and magnifie him, and praise him for the things which he hath done unto you in the sight of all that live. It is good to praise God, and exalt his name, and || honourably to shew forth the works of God; therefore be not slack to praise him. Or, with his name.

7 It is good to keep close the secrets of a king, but it is honourable to reveal the works of God: do that which is good, and no evil shall touch you.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and alms, and righteousness: a little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness: it is better to give alms than to lay up gold:

9 For alms doth deliver from death, and shall purge away all sin. Those that exercise alms and righteousness, shall be filled with life:

10 But they that sin, are enemies to their own life.

11 Surely, I will keep close nothing from you. For I said, It was good to keep close the secrets of a king, but that it was honourable to reveal the works of God.

12 Now therefore when thou didst pray and Sara thy daughter in law, I did bring the remembrance of your prayers before the holy One; and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise.

13 And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, † to go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee. † Gr. to go and bury.

14 And now God hath sent me to heal thee, and Sara thy daughter in law.

15 I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and which go in and out before the glory of the holy One.

16 Then they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces: for they feared.

17 But he said unto them, Fear not, for it shall go well with you; praise God therefore.

18 For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of our God I came; wherefore praise him for ever.

19 ^a All these days I did appear unto you; but I did neither eat nor drink, but you did see a vision. ^a Gen. 18. 8. & 19. 3. Judg. 13. 16.

20 Now therefore give God thanks: for I go up to him that sent me, but write all things which are done in a book.

21 And when they arose, they saw him no more.

22 Then they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

CHAP. XIII.

The thanksgiving unto God, which Tobit wrote.

Then Tobit wrote a prayer of rejoycing, and said, Blessed be God that liveth for ever, and blessed be his kingdom.

2 ^a For he doth scourge, and hath mercy: he leadeth down to hell, and bringeth up again: neither is there any that can avoid his hand.

3 Confess him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel: for he hath scattered us among them.

4 There declare his greatness, and extol him before all the living: for he is our Lord, and he is the God our Father for ever.

5 And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will have mercy again, and will gather us out of all nations, among whom he hath scattered us.

6 If you turn to him with your whole heart, and with your whole mind, and deal uprightly before him, then will he turn unto you, and will not hide his face from you. Therefore see what he will do with you, and confess him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of might, and extol the everlasting King. In the land of my captivity do I praise him, and declare his might and majesty to a sinful nation: O ye sinners, turn and do justice before him: who can tell if he will accept you, and have mercy on you?

C H A P. XIV.

3 Tobit giveth instructions to his son, 8 specially to leave Nineve: 11 He and his wife die, and are buried. 12 Tobias removeth to Ecbatane, 14 and there died, after he had heard of the destruction of Nineve.

SO Tobit made an end of praising God.

2 And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight years: and he gave alms, and he || increased in the fear of the Lord God, and praised him. || Or, did more and more fear.

3 And when he was very aged, he called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said to him, My son, take thy children; for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life.

4 Go into Media, my son, for I surely believe those things which Jonas the prophet spake of Nineve; that it shall be overthrown, and that for a time peace shall rather be in Media; and that our brethren shall lie scattered in the earth from that good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time;

5 ^a And that again God will have mercy on them, and bring them again into the land, where they shall build a temple, but not like to the first, until the time of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from all places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem gloriously, and the house of God shall be built in it || for ever, with a glorious building, as the prophets have spoken thereof. || Ezra 3. 8. & 6. 14.

6 And all nations shall turn, and fear the Lord God truly, and shall bury their idols.

7 So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall confess God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all those which love the Lord God in truth and justice, shall rejoyce, shewing mercy to our brethren.

8 And now, my son, depart out of Nineve, because that those things which the prophet Jonas spake shall surely come to pass.

9 But keep thou the law and the commandments, and shew thy self merciful and just, that it may go well with thee.

10 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me, but tarry no longer at Nineve. JUDITH.

CHAP. I.

2 Arphaxad doth fortifie Ecbatane. 5 Nabuchodonosor maketh war against him, 7 and craveth aid: 12 He threatneth those that would not aid him, 15 and killeth Arphaxad, 16 and returneth to Nineve.

IN the twelfth year of the reign of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineve, the great city, (in the days of Arphaxad, which reigned over the Medes in Ecbatane,

2 And built in Ecbatane walls round about, of stones hewn three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits:

3 And set the towers thereof upon the gates of it, an hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore cubits.

4 And he made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them was forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty armies, and for the setting in array of his footmen)

5 Even in those days king Nabuchodonosor made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain, which is the plain in the borders of Ragau.

6 And there came unto him all they that dwelt in the hill-country, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tygris, and Hydaspe, and the plain of Arioch the king of the Elymeans, and very many nations of the sons of Chelod, assembled themselves to the battle.

7 Then Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, sent unto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt west-ward, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt upon the sea-coast,

8 And to those amongst the nations that were of Carmel, and Galaad, and the higher Galilee, and the great plain of Esdrelom,

9 And to all that were in Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and Chellus, and Kades, and the river of Egypt, and Taphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Gesem, 10 Until you come beyond Tanis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, until you come to the borders of Ethiopia.

11 But all the inhabitants of the land made light of the commandment of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, neither went they with him to the battle: for they were not afraid of him: yea, he was before them as one man, and they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with disgrace.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, and sware by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all those coasts of Cilicia, and Damascus, and Syria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, till you come to the borders of the two seas.

13 Then he marched in battle-array with his power against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year, and he prevailed in his battle: for he overthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots,

14 And became lord of his cities, and came unto Ecbatane, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame.

15 He took also Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly that day.

16 So he returned afterward to Nineve, both he and all his company of fundry nations, being a very great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, both he and his army, an hundred and twenty days.

CHAP. II.

4 Holofernes is appointed general, 11 and charged to spare none that will not yield: 15 His army and provision: 23 The places which he won and wasted as he went.

AND in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first Month, there was talk in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, that he should, as he said, avenge himself on all the earth.

2 So he called unto him all his officers, and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and ^a concluded the afflicting of ^{a 1 Sam. 26. 7 & 25. 17.} the whole earth out of his own mouth.

3 Then they decreed to destroy all flesh that did not obey the commandment of his mouth.

4 And when he had ended his counsel, Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, called Holofernes the chief captain of his army, which was [†] next unto him, and said unto him, ^{† Gr. second man}

5 Thus saith the great king, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their own strength, of footmen an hundred and twenty thousand; and the number of horses with their riders, twelve thousand.

6 And thou shalt go against all the west-country, because they disobeyed my commandment.

7 And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare for me || earth and water: for || After the manner of the kings of Persia, to whom earth and water was wont to be given, to acknowledge that they were lords of land and sea, Herodotus. I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of mine army, and I will give them for a spoil unto them:

8 So that their slain shall fill their vallies and brooks, and the river shall be filled with their dead till it overflow.

9 And I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt go forth, and take before-hand for me all their coasts: and if they will yield themselves unto thee, thou shalt reserve them for me till the day of their punishment.

11 But concerning them that rebel, let not not thine eyes spare them ; but put them to the slaughter, and spoil them wheresoever thou goest.

12 For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, whatsoever I have spoken, that will I do by mine hand.

13 And take thou heed that thou transgress none of the commandments of thy lord, but accomplish them fully, as I have commanded thee, and defer not to do them.

14 Then Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors and captains, and the officers of the army of Assur,

15 And he mustered the chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, unto an hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback.

16 And he ranged them as a great army is ordered for the war.

17 And he took camels and asses for their carriages, a very great number ; and sheep, and oxen, and goats without number, for their provision :

18 And plenty of victual for every man of the army, and very much gold and silver out of the kings house.

19 Then he went forth and all his power to go before king Nabuchodonosor in the voyage, and to cover all the face of the earth west-ward with their chariots, and horsemen, and their chosen footmen.

20 A great multitude also of sundry countries came with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth : for the multitude was without number.

21 And they went forth of Nineve three days journey toward the plain of Bectileth, and pitched from Bectileth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia.

22 Then he took all his army, his footmen, and horsemen, and chariots, and went from thence into the hill-country ;

23 And destroyed Phud and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rasses, and the children of Ismael, which were toward the wilderness at the south of the land of the Chellians.

24 Then he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, till you come to the sea.

25 And he took the borders of Cilicia, and killed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over against Arabia.

26 He compassed also all the children of Madian, and burnt up their tabernacles, and spoiled their sheep-cotes.

27 Then he went down into the plain of Damascus, in the time of wheat-harvest, and burnt up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and herds, also he spoiled their cities, and utterly wasted their countries, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 Therefore the fear and dread of him fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea-coasts, which were in Sidon and Tyrus, and them that dwelt in Sur, and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan ; and they that dwelt in Azotus, and Ascalon, feared him greatly.

C H A P. III.

1 They of the sea-coasts intreat for peace. 7 Holofernes is received there : 8 Yet he destroyeth their gods, that they might worship only Nabuchodonosor : 9 He cometh near to Judea.

SO they sent ambassadors unto him, to treat of peace, saying,

2 Behold, we the servants of Nabuchodonosor the great king lie before thee ; use us as shall be good in thy fight.

3 Behold, our houses, and all our places, and all our fields of wheat, and flocks, and herds, and all the lodges of our tents, lie before thy face ; use them as it pleaseth thee.

4 Behold, even our cities, and the inhabitants thereof are thy servants ; come and deal with them as seemeth good unto thee.

5 So the men came to Holofernes, and declared unto him after this manner.

6 Then came he down toward the sea-coast, both he and his army, and set garisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for aid.

7 So they and all the country round about received them with garlands, with dances, and with timbrels.

8 Yet he did cast down their frontiers, and cut down their groves : for he had decreed to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor only, and that all tongues and tribes should call upon him as god.

9 Also he came over against || Esdraelon near unto || Judea, over against the † great strait of Judea.

C H A P. IV.

4 The Jews are afraid of Holofernes, 5 and fortifie the hills. 6 They of Bethulia take charge of the passages. 9 All Israel fall to fasting and prayer.

NOW the children of Israel that dwelt in Judea, heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and brought them to nought.

2 Therefore they were exceedingly afraid of him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God :

3 For they were newly returned from the captivity, and all the people || of Judea were lately gathered together : and the vessels and the altar, and the house were sanctified after the profanation.

|| Or, out of Jerusalem.

4 Therefore they sent into all the coasts of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethoron, and Belmen, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the valley of Salem :

5 And possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victuals for the provision of war : for their fields were of late reaped.

6 Also Joacim the high priest which was in those days in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomestham which is over against || Esdraelon toward the || open country, near to Dothaim,

|| Or, Esdrelon.
|| Or, plain.

7 Charging them to keep the passages of the hill-country: for by them there was an entrance into Judea, and it was easie to stop them that would come up, because the passage was strait || for two men at the most.

8 And the children of Israel did as Joacim the high priest had commanded them, with the || ancients of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

9 Then every man of Israel cried to God with great fervency, and with great vehemency did they humble their souls:

10 Both they and their wives, and their children, and their cattle, and every stranger and hireling, and their servants bought with money, put sackcloth upon their loyns.

11 Thus every man and woman, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackcloth about the altar, 12 And cried to the God of Israel all with one consent earnestly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, and for the nations to rejoyce at.

13 So God heard their prayers, and looked upon their afflictions: for the people fasted many days in all Judea and Jerusalem, before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.

14 And Joacim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they which ministred unto the Lord, had their loyns girt with sackcloth, and offered the daily burnt-offerings, with the vows and free-gifts of the people,

15 And had ashes on their mitres, and cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel graciously.

C H A P. V.

5 Achior telleth Holofernes what the Jews are, 8 and what their God had done for them: 21 and adviseth, not to meddle with them. 22 All that heard him were offended at him.

Then was it declared to Holofernes the chief captain of the army of Assur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill-country, and had fortified † all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the champion countries.

2 Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors of the sea-coast.

3 And he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Chanaan, who this people is that dwelleth in the hill-country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their army, and wherein is their power and strength, and what king is set over them, or captain of their army.

4 And why have they determined not to come and meet me, more than all the inhabitants of the west?

5 ^a Then said Achior the captain of all the sons of Ammon, Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will declare unto thee the truth, concerning this people which dwelleth near thee, and inhabiteth the hill-countries: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant.

6 This people are descended of the Chaldeans:

7 ^b And they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldea.

8 For they || left the way of their ancestors, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days.

9 Then ^c their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan: where they dwelt, and were increased with gold and silver, and with very much cattle.

10 But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went down into Egypt and sojourned there, while they were nourished, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation.

11 Therefore the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, and brought them low, with labouring in ^d brick, and made them slaves.

12 Then they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the ^e Egyptians cast them out of their sight.

13 And ^f God dried the Red sea before them,

14 And ^g brought them † to mount Sina, and Cades Barne, and cast forth all that dwelt in the wilderness.

15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Efebon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill-country.

16 ^h And they cast forth before them, the Chanaanite, the Pherezite, the Jebusite, and the Schemite, and all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that country many days.

17 And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hateth iniquity was with them.

18 But ⁱ when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, ^k and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.

19 But ^l now are they returned to their God, and are come up from the places where they were scattered, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and || are seated in the hill-country; for it was desolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord and governor, if there be any error in this people, and they sin against their God, let us consider that this shall be their ruin, and let us go up, and we shall overcome them.

21 But if there be no iniquity in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproach before all the world.

22 And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people standing round about the tent, murmured, and the chief men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea-side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.

23 For, say they, we will not be afraid of the face of the children of Israel: for lo, it mighty army.

is a people that have no strength nor power
† for a strong battle.

24 Now therefore, lord Holofernes, we will go up, and they shall be a prey, to be devoured of all thine army.

C H A P. VI.

1 Holofernes despiseth God: 7 He threatneth Achior, and sendeth him away. 14 The Bethulians receive and bear him: 18 They fall to prayer, and comfort Achior.

AND when the tumult of men that were about the counsel was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the army of Assur, said unto Achior and all the Moabites, before all the company of other nations,

2 And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied amongst us as to day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the people of Israel, because their God will defend them? and who is God but Nabuchodonosor?

3 He will send his power, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants will destroy them as one man; for they are not able to sustain the power of our horses.

4 For with them we will tread them under foot, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their fields shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not be able to stand before us, for they shall utterly perish, saith king Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth; for he said, None of my words shall be in vain.

5 And thou, Achior, an hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I take vengeance of this nation that came out of Egypt.

6 And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I return.

7 Now therefore my servants shall bring thee back into the hill-country, and shall set thee in one of the cities of the passages.

8 And thou shalt not perish till thou be destroyed with them.

9 And if thou perswade thy self in thy mind, that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall: I have spoken it, and none of my words shall be in vain.

10 Then Holofernes commanded his servants that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel.

11 So his servants took him and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they went from the midst of the plain into the hill-country, and came unto the fountains that were under Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the city saw them, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling, kept them from coming up, by casting of stones against them.

13 Nevertheless, having gotten privily under the hill, they bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and returned to their lord.

14 But the Israelites descended from their city, and came unto him, and loosed him, and brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the governors of the city:

15 Which were in those days, Ozias the son of Micha of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniell, and Charmis the son of Melchiel.

16 And they called together all the ancients of the city, and all their youth ran together, and their women to the assembly, and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.

17 And he answered and declared unto them the words of the counsel of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of Assur, and whatsoever Holofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried unto God, saying,

19 O Lord God of heaven, behold their pride, and pity the low estate of our nation, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day.

20 Then they comforted Achior, and praised him greatly.

21 And Ozias took him out of the assembly unto his house, and made a feast to the elders, and they called on the God of Israel all that night for help.

C H A P. VII.

1 Holofernes besiegeth Bethulia, 7 and stoppeth the water from them. 22 They faint, and murmur against the governors, 30 who promise to yield within five days.

THE next day Holofernes commanded all his army, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they should remove their camp against Bethulia, to take aforehand the ascents of the hill-country, and to make war against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men removed their camps in that day, and the army of the men of war was an hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and other men that were afoot amongst them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the valley near unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth || over Dothaim, even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia unto † Cyamon, which is over against Esdraelom.

|| from Dothaim
Junius.

† Gr. beanfield.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour, Now will these men lick up the face of the earth; for neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills are able to bear their weight.

5 Then every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second day, Holofernes brought forth all his horsemen, in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia.

7 And viewed the passages up to the city, and came to the fountains of their waters, and took them, and set garisons of men of war over them, and he himself removed towards his people.

8 Then came unto him all the chief of the children of Esau, and all the governors of the people

people of Moab, and the captains of the sea-coast, and said,

9 Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thine army.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, because it is not easie to come up to the tops of their mountains.

11 Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battle-array, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remain in thy camp, and keep all the men of thine army, and let thy servants get into their hands the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain:

13 (For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence) so shall thirst kill them, and they shall give up their city, and we and our people shall go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will camp upon them, to watch that none go out of the city.

14 So they and their wives and their children shall be consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrown in the streets where they dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an evil reward: because they rebelled and met not thy person peaceably.

16 And these words pleased Holofernes, and all his servants, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.

17 So the camp of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and took the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and camped in the hill-country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the plain, and covered the face of the whole land; and their tents and carriages were pitched to a very great multitude.

19 Then the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, because their heart failed, for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the company of Assur remained about them, both their footmen, chariots, and horsemen, four and thirty days, so that all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the || cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day; for they gave them drink by measure.

22 Therefore their young children were out of heart, and their women and young men fainted for thirst, and fell down in the streets of the city, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chief of the city, both young men and women, and children, and cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,

24 God be a * judge between us and you:

for you have done us great injury, in that you have not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be thrown down before them with thirst, and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them unto you, and deliver the whole city for a spoil to the people of Holofernes, and to all his army.

27 For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them, than to die for thirst: for we will be his servants, that our souls may live, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wives, nor our children to die.

28 We take to witness against you, the heaven and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins, and the sins of our fathers, || that he do not according as we have said this day.

|| Or, lest he do, meaning Holofernes.

29 Then there was great weeping with one consent in the midst of the assembly, and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in the which space the Lord our God may turn his mercy towards us; for he will not forsake us utterly.

31 And if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your word.

32 And he dispersed the people every one to their own charge; and they went unto the wall and towers of their city, and sent the women and children into their houses: and they were very low brought in the city.

C H A P. VIII.

1 The state and behaviour of Judith a widow: 12 She blameth the governors for their promise to yield, 17 and adviseth them to trust in God. 28 They excuse their promise. 32 She promiseth to do something for them.

NOW at that time Judith heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elcia, the son of Ananias, the son of Gedeon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Acitho, the son of Eliu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of || Samael, the son of Salasadaï, the son of Israel.

|| Or, Samaliel.

2 And Manasses was her husband of her tribe and kindred, who died in the barley-harvest.

3 For as he stood overseeing them that bound sheaves in the field, the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in the city of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the field between Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months.

5 And she made her a tent upon the top of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loyns, and ware her widows apparel.

6 And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new-moons, and the new-moons, and the feasts, and solemn days of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and men-servants, and maid-servants, and cattle, and lands, || and she remained upon them.

|| Or, and she kept them.

8 And

8 And there was none that gave her an ill word; for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, that they fainted for lack of water (for Judith had heard all the words that Ozias had spoken unto them, and that he had sworn to deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five days)

10 Then she sent her waiting-woman that had the government of all things that she had, to call Ozias, and Chabris, and Charmis, the ancients of the city.

11 And they came unto her, and she said unto them, Hear me now, O ye governors of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that you have spoken before the people this day are not right, touching this oath which ye made and pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you.

12 And now, who are you that have tempted God this day, and stand in stead of God amongst the children of men?

13 And now try the Lord Almighty, but you shall never know any thing.

14 For you cannot find the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceive the things that he thinketh: then how can you search out God, that hath made all these things, and know his mind, or comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he will not help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us when he will, even every day or to destroy us before our enemies.

16 Do not || bind the counsels of the Lord our God: for ^b God is not as man, that he may be threatned; neither is he as the son of man, that he should be wavering.

17 Therefore let us wait for salvation of him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice if it please him.

18 For there arose none in our age, neither is there any now in these days, neither tribe nor family, nor || people nor city among us, which worship gods made with hands, ^c as hath been aforetime.

19 For the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other god, therefore we trust that he will not despise us, nor any of our nation.

21 For if we be taken so, all Judea shall lie waste, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled, and he will require the profanation thereof at our mouth.

22 And || the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the country, and the desolation of our inheritance, will he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage, and we shall be an offence and a reproach to all them that possess us.

23 For our servitude shall not be directed to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend upon us, and the sanctuary, and the house, and the altar rest upon us.

25 Moreover, let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers.

26 Remember what things he did to ^d Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and what happened to ^e Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, ^f when he kept the sheep of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For he hath not tried us in the fire as he did them, for the examination of their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us: but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him to admonish them.

28 Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainsay thy words.

29 For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thy understanding, because the disposition of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirsty, and compelled us to do unto them as we have spoken, and to bring an oath upon our selves, which we will not break.

31 Therefore now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more.

32 Then said Judith unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing which shall go throughout all generations, to the children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with my waiting-woman: and within the days that you have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by mine hand.

34 But enquire not you of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do.

35 Then said Ozias and the princes unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wards.

CHAP. IX.

1 Judith humbled her self, and prayeth God to prosper her purpose against the enemies of his sanctuary.

THEN Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and about the time that the incense of that evening was offered in Jerusalem, in the house of the Lord, Judith cried with a loud voice, and said,

2 O Lord God of my father ^a Simeon, to ^b whom thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a maid to defile her, and discovered the thigh to her shame, and polluted her virginity to her reproach, (for thou saidst, It shall not be so, and yet they did so)

3 Wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, so that they dyed their bed in blood, being deceived, and smote the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones;

4 And hast given their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided amongst thy dear children; which were moved with thy zeal, and abhorred horred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid : O God, O my God, hear me also a widow.

5 For thou hast wrought not only those things, but also the things which fell out before, and which ensued after ; thou hast thought upon the things which are now, and which are to come.

6 Yea, what things thou didst determine were ready at hand, and said, Lo, we are here : for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgments are in thy foreknowledge.

7 For behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power ; they are exalted with horse and man ; they glory in the strength of their footmen ; they trust in shield and spear, and bow, and sling, and know not that thou art the Lord that breakest the battles : the Lord is thy name.

8 Throw down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath : for they have purposed to defile thy sanctuary, and to pollute the tabernacle, where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with sword the horn of thy altar.

9 Behold their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads : give into mine hand which am a widow, the power that I have conceived.

10 ^b Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with the servant : break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman.

11 ^c For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men : for thou art a God of the afflicted, and helper of the oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a saviour of them that are without hope.

12 I pray thee, I pray thee, O God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and earth, Creator of the waters, King of every creature, hear thou my prayer :

13 And make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed cruel things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and against the top of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 And make every nation and tribe to acknowledge that thou art the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the people of Israel but thou.

C H A P. X.

3 Judith doth set forth her self : 10 She and her maid go forth into the camp. 17 The watch take and conduct her to Holofernes.

NOW after that she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words,

2 She rose where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in the which she abode in the sabbath-days, and in her feast-days,

3 And pulled off the sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed her self with precious ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put on a [†] tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

4 And she took sandals upon her feet, and put about her her bracelets and her chains, and her rings, and her ear-rings, and all her ornaments, and decked her self bravely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

5 Then she gave her maid a bottle of wine, and a cruse of oyl, and filled a bag with parched corn, and lumps of figs, and with fine bread ; so she || folded all these things together, ^{|| Or, wrapped, or, packed.} and laid them upon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias, and the ancients of the city, Chabris, and Charmis.

7 And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondred at her beauty very greatly, and said unto her,

8 The God, the God of our fathers give thee favour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem : then they worshipped God.

9 And she said unto them, Command the gates of the city to be opened unto me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things whereof you have spoken with me : so they commanded the young men to open unto her as she had spoken.

10 And when they had done so, Judith went out, she and her maid with her, and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went straight forth in the valley : and the first watch of the Assyrians met her ;

12 And took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou ? and whence comest thou ? and whither goest thou ? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrews, and am fled from them : for they shall be given you to be consumed :

13 And I am coming before Holofernes the chief captain of your army, to declare words of truth, and I will shew him a way whereby he shall go and win all the hill-country, without losing the body or life of any one of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, they wondred greatly at her beauty, and said unto her,

15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come down to the presence of our lord : now therefore come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they have delivered thee to his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but shew unto him according to thy word, and he will entreat thee well.

17 Then they chose out of them an hundred men, || to accompany her and her maid, and they brought her to the tent of Holofernes. ^{|| Or, and they prepared a chariot for her.}

18 Then was there a concourse throughout all the camp : for her coming was noised among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, till they told him of her.

19 And they wondred at her beauty, and admired the children of Israel because of her, and and every one said to his neighbour, Who would despise this people, that have among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left, who being let go, might deceive the whole earth.

20 And they that lay near Holofernes, went out, and all his servants, and they brought her into the tent.

21 Now Holofernes rested upon his bed under a canopy which was woven with purple, and gold, and emeralds, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her, and he came out before his tent, with silver lamps going before him.

23 And when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants took her up.

C H A P. XI.

1 Holofernes asketh Judith the cause of her coming:

6 She telleth him how and when he may prevail:

20 He is much pleased with her wisdom and beauty.

THen said Holofernes unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thine heart: for I never hurt any that was willing to serve Nabuchodonosor, the king of all the earth.

2 Now therefore, if thy people that dwelleth in the mountains had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves.

3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come unto us: for thou art come for safeguard; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter.

4 For none shall hurt thee, but entreat thee well, as they do the servants of king Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Judith said unto him, Receive the words of thy servant, and suffer thine handmaid to speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt follow the words of thine handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to pass by thee, and my lord shall not fail of his purposes.

7 As Nabuchodonosor king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the upholding of every living thing: for not only men shall serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field, and the cattle, and the fowls of the air shall live by thy power, under Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For we have heard of thy wisdom, and thy policies, and it is reported in all the earth, that thou only art || excellent in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war.

9 Now as concerning the matter which Achior did speak in thy counsel, we have heard his words; for the men of Bethulia || saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken unto thee.

10 Therefore, O lord and governor, reject not his word; but lay it up in thine heart, for it is true; for our nation shall not be punished, neither can the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God.

11 And now that my lord be not defeated, and frustrate of his purpose, even death is now fallen upon them, and their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do that which is not fit to be done:

12 For their victuals fail them, and all their water is scant, and they have determined to lay hands upon their cattle, and purposed to consume all those things that God hath forbidden them to eat by his laws:

13 And are resolved to spend the first-fruits of the corn, and the tenths of wine and oyl, which they had sanctified and reserved for the priests that serve in Jerusalem, before the face of our God, the which things it is not lawful for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands.

14 For they have sent some to Jerusalem because they also that dwell there have done the like, to bring them a licence from the senate.

15 Now when they shall bring them word, they will forthwith do it, and they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day.

16 Wherefore I thine handmaid knowing all this, am fled from their presence, and God hath sent me to work things with thee, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, and whosoever shall hear it.

17 For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven day and night: now therefore, my lord, I will remain with thee, and thy servant will go out by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he will tell me when they have committed their sins:

18 And I will come and shew it unto thee: then thou shalt go forth with all thine army, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.

19 And I will lead thee through the midst of Judea, until thou come before Jerusalem, and I will set thy throne in the midst thereof, and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as || open his mouth at thee: for || these things || Or, bark. || Or, these things have I spoken. were told me according to my foreknowledge, and they were declared unto me, and I am sent to tell thee.

20 Then her words pleased Holofernes, and all his servants, and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said, 21 There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, both for beauty of face, and wisdom of words.

22 Likewise Holofernes said unto her, God hath done well to send thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands, and destruction upon them that lightly regard my lord.

23 And now thou art both beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: surely if thou do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.

2 Judith will not eat of Holofernes meat: 7 She tarried three days in the camp, and every night went forth to pray. 19 Bagoas moveth her to be merry with Holofernes, 20 who for joy of her company drunk much.

Then

Then he commanded to bring her in, where his plate was set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine.

^a Gen. 43. 32.
^b Daniel 1. 8.
^c Tobit 1. 11.

2 And Judith said, I ^a will not eat thereof, lest there be an offence: but provision shall be made for me of the things that I have brought.

3 Then Holofernes said unto her, If thy provision should fail, how should we give thee the like? for there be none with us of thy nation.

4 Then said Judith unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thine handmaid shall not spend those things that I have, before the Lord work by mine hand, the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she arose when it was towards the morning watch,

6 And sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command, that thine handmaid may go forth unto prayer.

7 Then Holofernes commanded his guard, that they should not stay her: thus she abode in the camp three days, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her self in a fountain of water by the camp.

8 And when she came out, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising up of the children of her people.

9 So she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she did eat her meat at evening.

10 And in the fourth day Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet.

11 Then said he to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us.

12 For lo, it will be a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company: for if we draw her not unto us, she will laugh us to scorn.

13 Then went Bagoas from the presence of Holofernes, and came to her, and he said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and drink wine, and be merry with us, and be made this day as one of the daughters of the Assyrians, which serve in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Judith unto him, Who am I now, that I should gainsay my lord? surely whatsoever pleaseth him, I will do speedily, and it shall be my joy unto the day of my death.

15 So she arose, and decked her self with her apparel, and all her womans attire, and her maid went and laid soft skins on the ground for her, over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them.

16 Now when Judith came in and sat down, Holofernes his heart was ravished with her, and his mind was moved, and he desired greatly her company; for he waited a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her.

17 Then said Holofernes unto her, Drink now and be merry with us.

18 So Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day, more than all the days since I was born.

19 Then she took and ate and drank before him what her maid had prepared.

20 And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank much more wine than he had drunk at any time in one day, since he was born.

CHAP. XIII.

² Judith is left alone with Holofernes in his tent: ⁴ She prayeth God to give her strength: ⁷ She cut off his head while he slept, ¹⁰ and returned with it to Bethulia. ¹⁷ They saw it, and commend her.

NOW when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed the waiters from the presence of his lord, and they went to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long.

2 And Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: for he was filled with ^a wine.

3 Now Judith had commanded her maid to stand without her bed-chamber, and to wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayers, and she spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.

4 So all went forth, and none was left in the bed-chamber, neither little nor great. Then Judith standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look at this present upon the works of mine hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem.

5 For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against us.

6 Then she came to the pillar of the bed which was at Holofernes head, and took down his fauchion from thence,

7 And approached to his bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day.

8 And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and she took away his head from him,

9 And tumbled his body down from the bed, and pulled down the canopy from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gave Holofernes his head to her maid:

10 And she put it in her bag of meat: so they twain went together according to their custom, unto prayer: and when they passed the camp, they compassed the valley, and went up the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 Then said Judith afar off to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate: God, even our God, is with us, to shew his power yet in Jerusalem, and his forces against the enemy, as he hath even done this day.

12 Now when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called the elders of the city.

13 And then they ran all together both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: so they opened the gate and received them, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them.

14 Then she said to them with a loud voice, Praise, praise God, praise God, (I say) for he hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So she took the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of 16 As the Lord liveth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceived him to his destruction, and yet hath he not committed sin with me, to defile and shame me.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Ozias unto her, O daughter, Blessed art thou of the most high God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chief of our enemies.

19 For this thy confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of God for ever.

20 And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee in good things, because thou hast not spared thy life for the affliction of our nation, but hast revenged our ruine, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

C H A P. XIV.

8 Achior beareth Judith shew what she had done, and is circumcised. 11 The head of Holofernes is hanged up: 15 He is found dead, and much lamented.

THEN said Judith unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the highest place of your walls.

2 And so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, take you every one his weapons, and go forth every valiant man out of the city, and set you a captain over them, as though you would go down into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians, but go not down.

3 Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their camp, and raise up the captains of the army of Affur, and they shall run to the tent of Holofernes, but shall not find him: then fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face.

4 So you, and all that inhabit the coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go.

5 But before you do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us as it were to his death.

6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; and when he was come and saw the head of Holofernes in a mans hand in the assembly of the people, he fell down on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had recovered him, he fell at Judiths feet, and revered her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Juda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name shall be astonished.

8 Now therefore tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. Then Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people, all that she had done from the day that she went forth until that hour she spake unto them.

9 And when she had left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city.

10 And when Achior had seen all that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God greatly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joyned unto the house of Israel, unto this day.

11 And as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the || straits of the mountain. || Or, ascent

12 But when the Assyrians saw them, they sent to their leaders, which came to their captains, and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers.

13 So they came to Holofernes tent, and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed.

14 Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the door of the tent, for he thought that he had slept with Judith.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bed-chamber, and found him cast upon the floor dead, and his head was taken from him.

16 || Therefore he cried with a loud voice, || Then, with weeping, and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.

17 After he went into the tent where Judith lodged: and when he found her not, he leaped out to the people, and cried, 18 These slaves have dealt treacherously; one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nabuchodonosor: for behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground without a head.

19 When the captains of the Assyrians army heard these words, they rent their coats, and their minds were wonderfully troubled, and there was a cry, and a very great noise throughout the camp.

C H A P. XV.

1 The Assyrians are chased and slain. 8 The high priest cometh to see Judith. 11 The stuff of Holofernes is given to Judith. 13 The women crown her with a garland.

AND when they that were in the tents heard, they were astonished at the thing that was done.

2 And fear and trembling fell upon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out all together, they fled into every way of the plain, and of the hill-country.

3 They also that had camped in the mountains round about Bethulia, fled away. Then the children of Israel, every one that was a warriour among them, rushed out upon them.

4 Then sent Ozias to Betomasthem, and to Bebai, and Chobai, and Cola, and to all the coasts of Israel, such as should tell the things that were done, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them.

5 Now when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell upon them, with one consent, and slew them unto Chobai: likewise also they that came from Jerusalem and from all the hill-country (for men had told them what things were done in the camp of their enemies) and they that were in Galaad and in Galilee, || chased them with a great slaughter, until they || Or, overcame were were past Damascus, and the borders thereof.

6 And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Assur, and spoiled them, and were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter had that which remained; and the villages, and the cities that were in the mountains and in the plain, gat many spoils: for the multitude was very great.

8 Then Joacim the high priest, and the ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her.

9 And when they came unto her, they blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our nation.

10 Thou hast done all these things by thine hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou of the Almighty Lord for evermore: and all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoiled the camp, the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith, Holofernes his tent, and all his plate, and beds, and vessels, and all his stuff: and she took it, and laid it on her mule; and made ready her carts, and laid them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel ran together to see her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her: and she took branches in her hand, and gave also to the women that were with her.

13 And they put a garland of olive upon her, and her maid that was with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

C H A P. XVI.

1 The song of Judith: 19 She dedicateth the stuff of Holofernes: 23 She died at Bethulia, a widow of great honour: 24 All Israel did lament her death.

THEN Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang after her. || this song of praise.

2 And Judith said, Begin unto my God with timbrels, sing unto my Lord with cymbals: tune unto him a || new psalm: exalt him, and call upon his name.

3 For God breaketh the battles: for amongst the camps in the midst of the people he hath delivered me out of the hands of them that persecuted me.

4 Assur came out of the mountains from the north, he came with ten thousands of his army, the ^a multitude whereof stopped the torrents, and their horsemen have covered the hills.

5 He bragged that he would burn up my borders, and kill my young men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a prey, and my virgins as a spoil.

6 But the Almighty Lord hath disappointed them by the hand of a woman.

7 For the mighty one did not fall by the young men, neither did the sons of the Titans, smite him, nor high giants set upon him: but Judith the daughter of Merari weakened him with the beauty of her countenance.

8 For she put off the garment of her widowhood, for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anointed her face with ointment, and bound her hair in a [†] tire, and [†] Gr. mitre. took a linen garment to deceive him.

9 Her sandals ravished his eyes, her beauty took his mind prisoner, and the fauchion passed through his neck.

10 The Persians quaked at her boldness, and the Medes were || daunted at her hardiness. || Or, confounded.

11 Then my afflicted shouted for joy, and my weak ones cried aloud; but || they were || the Assyrians. astonished: these lifted up their voices, but they were overthrown.

12 The sons of the damsels have pierced them through, and wounded them as fugitives children: they perished by the battle of the Lord.

13 I will sing unto the Lord || a new song: || Or, a song of O Lord, thou art great and glorious, wonder-^{praise.}ful in strength, and invincible.

14 Let all creatures serve thee: for thou spakest, and they were made, thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it created them, and there is none that can resist thy voice.

15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence: yet thou art merciful to them that fear thee.

16 For all sacrifice is too little for a sweet favour unto thee, and all the fat is not sufficient for thy burnt-offering: but he that feareth the Lord is great at all times.

17 Wo to the nations that rise up against my kindred: the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgment, in putting fire and worms in their flesh; and they shall feel them, and weep for ever.

18 Now as soon as they entred into Jerusalem, they worshipped the Lord; and as soon as the people were purified, they offered their burnt-offerings, and their free-offerings, and their gifts.

19 Judith also dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy which she had taken out of his bed-chamber, for a gift unto the Lord.

20 So the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary, for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them.

21 After this time every one returned to his own inheritance, and Judith went to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was in her time honourable in all the country.

22 And many desired her, but none knew her all the days of her life, after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

23 But she increased more and more in honour, and waxed old in her husbands house, being an hundred and five years old, and made her maid free; so she died in Bethulia: and they buried her in the || cave of her husband Manasses. || Or, sepulchre.

24 And the house of Israel lamented her ^b seven days: and before she died, she did dis- ^b *Gen. 50. 10.*tribute her goods to all them that were nearest of kindred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the nearest of her kindred.

25 And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

5 Mardocheus remembreth and expoundeth his dream of the river and the two dragons.

H E N Mardocheus said, God hath done these things.

5 For I remember ^a a dream which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed.

6 A little fountain became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water: this river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen,

7 And the two dragons are I and Aman.

8 And the nations were those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews:

9 And my nation is this Israel, which cried to God and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all those evils, and God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the Gentiles.

11 And these two lots came at the hour and time, and day of judgment before God amongst all nations.

12 So God remembred his people, and justified his inheritance.

13 Therefore those days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the same month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, according to the generations for ever among his people.

C H A P. XI.

3 The stock and quality of Mardocheus: 6 He dreameth of two dragons coming forth to fight, 10 and of a little fountain which became a great water.

I N the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemus and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemeus, his son brought this epistle of Phurim, which they said was the same, and that Lyfimachus the son of Ptolemeus, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

2 In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semei, the son of Cifai of the tribe of Benjamin had a dream.

3 Who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servitor in the kings court.

4 He was also one of the captives which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem, with Jechonias king of Judea, and this was his dream.

5 Behold, a noise of a tumult, with thunder and earthquakes, and uprore in the land:

6 And behold, two great dragons came forth ready to fight, and their cry was great.

7 And at their cry all nations were prepared to battle, that they might fight against the righteous people.

8 And lo, a day of darkness and obscurity: tribulation and anguish, affliction, and great uprore upon the earth.

9 And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own evils, and were ready to perish.

10 Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, was made a great flood, even much water.

11 The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious.

12 Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake; he bare this dream in mind, and until night by all means was desirous to know it.

2 The conspiracy of the two eunuchs is discovered by Mardocheus, 5 for which he is entertained by the king, and rewarded.

A N D Mardocheus took his rest in the court with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, and keepers of the palace.

2 ^a And he heard their devices, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king, and so he certified the king of them. ^a Esther 2. 2. & 6. 2.

3 Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were strangled.

4 And the king made a record of these things, and Mardocheus also wrote thereof.

5 So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he rewarded him.

6 Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus the Agagite, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people, because of the two eunuchs of the king.

8 The prayer of Mardocheus for them.

T H E copy of the letters was this. The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes and governors that are under him from India unto Ethiopia, in an hundred and seven and twenty provinces. ^{Joseph. Ant. lib. 11. cap.}

2 After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying my self alway with equity, and mildness, I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom || peaceable, and open for passage to || Or, mild. the utmost coasts, to renew peace which is desired of all men.

3 Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will, and stedfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place in the kingdom,

4 Declared unto us, that in all nations throughout

throughout the world there was scattered a certain malicious people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually despised the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms honourably intended by us, cannot || go forward.

5 Seeing then we understand that this people alone is continually in opposition unto all men, differing in the strange manner of their laws, and evil-affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firmly established:

6 Therefore have we commanded that all they that are signified in writing unto you by Aman (who is ordained over the affairs, and is || next unto us) shall all with their wives and children be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year:

7 That they, who of old, and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go into the grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble.

8 Then Mardocheus thought upon all the works of the Lord, and made his prayer unto him, 9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, the King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power, and if thou hast appointed to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee.

10 For thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things under the heaven.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to proud Aman.

13 For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel, to kiss the soles of his feet.

14 But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I worship any but thee, O God, neither will I do it in pride.

15 And now, O Lord God, and King, spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought; yea, they desire to destroy the inheritance that hath been thine from the beginning.

16 Despise not the portion which thou hast delivered out of Egypt for thine own self.

17 Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: turn our sorrow into joy, that we may live, O Lord, and praise thy name: and || destroy not the mouths of them that praise thee, O Lord.

18 All Israel in like manner cried most earnestly unto the Lord, because their death was before their eyes.

C H A P. XIV.

The prayer of queen Esther for her self and her people.

Queen Esther also being in fear of death, resorted unto the Lord:

2 And laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and in stead of precious ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of her joy she filled with her torn hair.

3 And she prayed unto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me desolate woman, which have no helper but thee:

4 ^a For my danger is in mine hand.

5 From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from all their predecessors, for a perpetual inheritance, and thou hast performed whatsoever thou didst promise them.

6 And now we have sinned before thee: therefore hast thou given us into the hands of our enemies,

7 Because we worshipped their gods: O Lord, thou art righteous.

8 Nevertheless, it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands with their idols,

9 That they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and of thine altar,

10 And open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the praises of the † idols, and to † magnifie a fleshly king for ever.

11 O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them that † be nothing, and let them not laugh at † our fall, but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example that hath begun this against us.

12 Remember, O Lord, make thy self known in time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O king of the || nations, and Lord of all || power.

13 Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion: turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of all that are like-minded to him:

14 But deliver us with thine hand, and help me that am desolate, and which have no other helper but thee.

15 Thou knowest all things, O Lord; thou knowest that I hate the glory of the unrighteous, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of † all the heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessity: for I abhor the sign of my † high estate, which is upon mine head, in the days wherein I shew my self, and that I abhor it as a menstruous rag, and that I wear it not when I am † private by my self,

17 And that thine handmaid hath not eaten at Amans table, and that I have not greatly esteemed the kings feast, nor drunk the wine of the drink-offerings.

18 Neither had thine handmaid any joy, since the day † that I was brought hither to this present, but in thee, O Lord God of Abraham.

19 O thou mighty God above all, hear the voice of the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

C H A P. XV.

6 Esther cometh into the kings presence: 7 He looketh angerly, and she fainteth. 8 The king doth take her up and comfort her.

AND upon the third day when she had ended her prayer, she laid away her mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel.

2 And being gloriously adorned, after she had called upon God, who is the beholder and Saviour of all things, she took two maids with her.

3 And upon the one she leaned, as carrying her self || daintily.

4 And the other followed, bearing up her train.

5 And she was || ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and || very amiable: but her heart was in anguish for fear.

6 Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones, and he was very dreadful.

7 Then lifting up his countenance that shone with majesty, he looked very fiercely upon her: and the queen fell down, and was pale, and fainted, and bowed her self upon the head of the maid that went || before her.

8 Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who † in a fear leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to her self again, and comforted her with loving words, and said unto her,

9 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer.

10 Thou shalt not die, though our commandment be || general: come near.

11 And so he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, 12 And embraced her, and said, Speak unto me.

13 Then she said unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy majesty.

14 For wonderful art thou, lord, and thy countenance is full of grace.

15 And as she was speaking, || she fell down for faintness.

16 Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her.

C H A P. XVI.

1 The letter of Artaxerxes, 10 wherein he taxeth Aman, 17 and revoketh the decree procured by Aman to destroy the Jews, 22 and commandeth the day of their deliverance to be kept holy.

THE great king Artaxerxes unto the princes and governors of an hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and unto all || our faithful subjects, greeting.

2 Many, the more often they are honoured with the great bounty of † their gracious princes, the more proud they are waxen;

3 And endeavour to hurt not our subjects only, but not being able to bear abundance, to take in hand to practise also against those that do them good:

4 And take not only thankfulness away from among men, but also lifted up with the glorious words of || lewd persons || that were never good, they think to escape the justice of God, that seeth all things and hateth evil.

5 Oftentimes also fair speech || of those that are put in trust to manage their friends affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and hath enwrapped them in remediless calamities;

6 Beguiling with the falsehood and deceit of their lewd disposition, the innocency and goodness of princes.

7 Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in authority.

8 And we must take care for the time to come, that our kingdom may be quiet and peaceable for all men;

9 Both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that are evident, with more equal proceeding.

10 For Aman a Macedonian the son of Amadatha, being indeed a stranger from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, and as a stranger received of us, 11 Had so far forth obtained the favour that we shew toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all men, as the next person unto the king.

12 But he not bearing his great dignity, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and life:

13 Having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of blameless Esther, partaker of our kingdom, with their whole nation.

14 For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians.

15 But we find that the Jews whom this wicked wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live by most just laws:

16 And that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath || ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner.

17 Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadatha.

18 For he that was the worker of these things, is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family: God who ruleth all things, speedily rendring vengeance to him according to his deserts.

19 Therefore ye shall publish the copy of this letter in all places, that the Jews may freely live after their own laws.

20 And ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may be avenged on them, who in the time of their affliction shall set upon them.

21 For Almighty God hath turned to joy unto them the day, wherein the chosen people should have perished.

22 You shall therefore among your solemn feasts keep it an high day with all feasting:

23 That both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well-affected Persians; but to those which do conspire against us, a memorial of destruction.

24 Therefore every city and country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be destroyed without mercy, with fire and sword, and shall be made not only unpassable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

5 ^c For the holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit, and remove from thoughts that are without understanding, and || will not abide when unrighteousness cometh in.

6 For wisdom is a ^d loving spirit: and will not acquit a blasphemer of his || words: for God is witness of his reins, and a true beholder of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.

^g Or, upholdeth.

7 For the spirit of the Lord filleth the world: and that which || containeth all things, hath knowledge of the voice.

8 Therefore he that speaketh unrighteous things, cannot be hid: neither shall vengeance, when it punisheth, pass by him.

^h Or, reproving.

9 For inquisition shall be made into the counsels of the ungodly: and the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord for the || manifestation of his wicked deeds.

10 For the ear of jealousy heareth all things: and the noise of murmurings is not hid.

ⁱ Or, slandereth.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is unprofitable, and refrain your tongue from backbiting: for there is no word so secret, that shall go for nought: and the mouth that || believeth, slayeth the soul.

13 For ^f God made not death: neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the living.

14 For he created all things, that they might have their being: and the generations of the world were healthful: and there is no poison of destruction in them: nor the kingdom of death upon the earth.

15 For righteousness is immortal.

16 But ungodly men with their works and words called it to them: for when they thought to have it their friend, they consumed to nought, and made a covenant with it, because they are worthy to take part with it.

CHAP. II.

1 The wicked think this life short, and of no other after this. 6 Therefore they will take their pleasure in this, 10 and conspire against the just. 21 What that is which doth blind them.

^d Or, mist.

4 And our name shall be forgotten in time, and no man shall have our works in remembrance, and our life shall pass away as the trace of a cloud, and shall be dispersed as a mist that is driven away with the beams of the sun, and || overcome with the heat thereof.

10 Let us oppress the poor righteous man, let us not spare the widow, nor reverence the ancient gray hairs of the aged.

11 Let our strength be the law of justice: for that which is feeble is found to be nothing worth.

12 Therefore let us lie in wait for the righteous: because he is not for our turn, and he is clean contrary to our doings: he upbraideth us with our offending the law, and objecteth to our infamy the transgressings of our education.

19 For horrible is the end of the unrighteous generation.

C H A P. IV.

¹ The chaste man shall be crowned. ³ Bastard slips shall not thrive: ⁶ They shall witness against their parents. ⁷ The just die young, and are happy. ¹⁹ The miserable end of the wicked.

BETTER it is to have no children, and to have virtue: for the memorial thereof is immortal: because it is || known with God, || and with men.

2 When it is present, men take example at it; and when it is gone they desire it: ^a it ^a James 2. 12. weareth a crown, and triumpheth for ever, ¹ Pet. 5. 4. Rev. 2. 10. having gotten the victory, striving for undefiled rewards.

3 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall not thrive, nor take deep rooting from bastard slips, nor lay any fast foundation.

4 For though they flourish in branches for a time; ^b yet standing not fast, they shall be ^b Matth. 7. 19. shaken with the wind, and through the force of winds they shall be rooted out.

5 The ^c unperfect branches shall be broken ^c Chap. 3. 16. off, their fruit unprofitable, not ripe to eat, yea, meat for nothing.

6 For children begotten of unlawful † beds, † Gr. sleep. are witnesses of wickedness against their parents in their trial.

7 But though the righteous be prevented with death; yet shall he be in rest.

8 For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that is measured by number of years.

9 But wisdom is the gray hair unto men, and an unspotted life is old age.

10 ^d He pleased God, and was beloved of ^d Gen. 5. 24. him: so that living amongst sinners he was ^{Hebr. 11. 5. See Isaiah 57. 1.} translated.

11 Yea, speedily was he taken away, lest that wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul.

12 For the bewitching of naughtiness doth obscure things that are honest: and the wandering of concupiscence doth † undermine the [†] Gr. pervert. simple mind.

13 He being made || perfect in a short time, || Or, sanctified
Or, consummated. fulfilled a long time.

14 For his soul pleased the Lord: therefore hastened he to take him away from among the wicked.

15 This the people saw, and understood it not, neither laid they up this in their minds, That his grace and mercy is with his saints, and that he hath respect unto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, shall condemn the ungodly which are living; and youth that is soon perfected, the many years and old age of the unrighteous.

17 For they shall see the end of the wise, and shall not understand what God in his counsel hath decreed of him, and to what end the Lord hath set him in safety,

18 They shall see him, and despise him: but God shall laugh them to scorn, and they shall shall hereafter be a vile carcase, and a reproach among the dead for evermore.

19 For he shall rend them, and cast them down headlong, that they shall be speechless: and he shall shake them from the foundation: and they shall be utterly laid waste, and be in sorrow: and their memorial shall perish.

20 And || when they cast up the accounts of their sins, they shall come with fear: and their own iniquities shall convince them to their face.

C H A P. V.

1 The wicked shall wonder at the godly, 4 and confess their error, 5 and the vanity of their lives. 15 God will reward the just, 17 and war against the wicked.

Then shall the righteous man stand in great boldness, before the face of such as have afflicted him, and made no account of his labours.

2 When they see it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear, and shall be amazed at the strangeness of his salvation, so far beyond all that they looked for.

3 And they repenting, and groaning for anguish of spirit, shall say within themselves, This was he whom we had sometimes in derision, and a || proverb of reproach.

4 ^a We fools accounted his life madness; and his end to be without honour.

5 How is he numbred among the children of God, and his lot is among the saints!

6 Therefore have we erred from the way of truth, and the light of righteousness hath not shined unto us, and the sun of righteousness rose not upon us.

7 We || wearied our selves in the way of wickedness and destruction: yea, we have gone through deserts, where there lay no way: but as for the way of the Lord, we have not known it.

8 What hath pride profited us? or what good hath riches with our vaunting brought us?

9 All those things are ^b passed away like a shadow, and as a post that hasteth by;

10 And ^c as a ship that passeth over the waves of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof cannot be found, neither the path-way of the keel in the waves;

11 ^d Or as when a bird || hath flown through the air, there is no token of her way to be found, but the light air being beaten with the stroke of her wings, and parted with the violent noise and motion of them, is passed through, and therein afterwards no sign where she went is to be found;

12 Or like as when an arrow is shot at a mark, it parteth the air, which immediately cometh together again, so that a man cannot know where it went through:

13 Even so we in like manner, as soon as we were born, began to draw to our end, and had no sign of virtue to shew; but were consumed in our own wickedness.

14 ^e For the hope of the ungodly is like ^f dust that is blown away with the wind; like a thin froth that is driven away with the storm; like as the || smoke which is ^g dispersed here and there with a tempest, and passeth away as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

15 But the righteous live for evermore, & their reward also is with the Lord, and the care of them is with the most High.

16 Therefore shall they receive a glorious || kingdom, and ^h a beautiful crown from the Lords hand: for with his right hand shall he cover them, and with his arm shall he protect them.

17 ⁱ He shall take to him his jealousy for complete armour, and make the creature his weapon for the revenge of his enemies.

18 He shall put on righteousness as a breast-plate, and true judgment in stead of an helmet.

19 He shall take || holiness for an invincible || shield.

20 His severe wrath shall he sharpen for a sword, and the world shall fight with him against the unwise.

21 Then shall the right-aiming thunderbolts go abroad, and from the clouds, as from a well-drawn bow, shall they fly to the mark.

22 And hailstones full of wrath shall be cast as out of a stone-bow, and the water of the sea shall rage against them, and the floods shall cruelly drown them.

23 Yea, a mighty wind shall stand up against them, and like a storm shall blow them away: thus iniquity shall lay waste the whole earth, and ill dealing shall overthrow the thrones of the mighty.

C H A P. VI.

1 Kings must give ear. 3 They have their power from God, 5 who will not spare them. 12 Wisdom is soon found. 21 Princes must seek for it: 24 for a wise prince is the stay of his people.

Hear therefore, O ye kings, and understand; learn, ye that be judges of the ends of the earth.

2 Give ear, you that rule the people, and glory in the multitude of nations.

3 For ^a power is given you of the Lord, and sovereignty from the Highest, who shall try your works, and search out your counsels.

4 Because being ministers of his kingdom, you have not judged aright, nor kept the law, nor walked after the counsel of God,

5 Horribly and speedily shall he come upon you: for a sharp judgment shall be to them that be in high places.

6 For ^b mercy will soon pardon the meanest: but mighty men shall be mightily tormented.

7 For he which is Lord over all, shall fear no ^c mans person, neither shall he stand in awe of any mans greatness: for he hath made the small and great, and careth for all alike.

8 But a sore trial shall come upon the mighty.

9 Unto you therefore, O kings do I speak, that ye may learn wisdom, and not fall away.

10 For they that keep holiness holily, shall be || judged holy: and they that have learned such things, shall find || what to answer.

11 Wherefore set your affection upon my words; desire them, and ye shall be instructed.

12 Wisdom is glorious, and never fadeth away: yea, ^d she is easily seen of them that love her, and found of such as seek her.

13 She preventeth them that desire her, in making her self first known unto them.

John 7. 17.

14 Whoso seeketh her early shall have no great travel: for he shall find her sitting at his doors.

15 To think therefore upon her, is perfection of wisdom: and whoso watcheth for her, shall quickly be without care.

16 For she goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, sheweth her self favourably unto them in the ways, and meeteth them in every thought.

17 For the very true beginning of her, is the desire of || discipline; and the care of discipline is love;

18 And love is the keeping of her laws; and the giving heed unto her laws, is the assurance of incorruption;

19 And incorruption maketh us near unto God:

20 Therefore the desire of wisdom bringeth to a kingdom.

21 If your delight be then in thrones and sceptres, O ye kings of the people, honour wisdom, that ye may reign for evermore.

22 As for wisdom, what she is, and how she came up, I will tell you, and will not hide mysteries from you: but will seek her out from the beginning of her nativity, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not pass over the truth.

23 Neither will I go with consuming envy, for such a man shall have no fellowship with wisdom.

24 But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the world: and a wise king is the upholding of the people.

25 Receive therefore instruction through my words, and it shall do you good.

C H A P. VII.

1 All men have their beginning and end alike. 8 He preferred wisdom before all things else. 15 God gave him all the knowledge which he had. 22 The praise of wisdom.

I my self also am a mortal man, like to all, and the offspring of him that was first made of the earth,

2 And in my mothers womb was fashioned to be flesh in the time of ten months, ^a being compacted in blood, of the seed of man, and the pleasure that came with ^b sleep.

3 And when I was born, I drew in the common air, and fell upon the earth which is of like nature, and the first voice which I uttered was crying, as all others do.

4 I was nursed in swadling-clothes, and that with cares.

5 For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.

6 ^c For all men have one entrance into life, and the like going out.

7 Wherefore ^d I prayed, and understanding was given me: I called upon God, and the spirit of wisdom came to me.

8 I ^e preferred her before sceptres and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her.

9 Neither compared I unto her any ^f precious stone, because all gold in respect of her is as a little sand, and silver shall be counted as clay before her.

10 I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her in stead of light: for the light that cometh from her, never goeth out.

11 ^f All good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches in her hands.

12 And I rejoyced in them all, because wisdom goeth before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.

13 I learned [†] diligently, and do communicate her [†] liberally: I do not hide her riches.

14 For she is a treasure unto men that never faileth: which they that use || become the friends of God, being commended for the gifts that come from learning.

15 || God hath granted me to speak as I would, and to conceive as is meet for the things that || are given me: because it is he that leadeth unto wisdom, and directeth the wise.

16 For in his hand are both we and our words: all wisdom also and knowledge of workmanship.

17 For he hath given me certain knowledge of the things that are, namely, to know how the world was made, and the operation of the elements.

18 The beginning, ending, and midst of the times: the alterations of the turning of the sun, and the change of seasons:

19 The circuits of years, and the positions of stars:

20 The natures of living creatures, and the furies of wild beasts: the violence of winds, and the reasonings of men: the diversities of plants, and the virtues of roots.

21 And all such things as are either secret or manifest, them I know.

22 For wisdom which is the worker of all things, taught me: for in her is an understanding spirit, holy, [†] one only, manifold, subtil, lively, clear, undefiled, plain, not subject to hurt, loving the thing that is good, quick, which cannot be letted, ready to do good,

23 Kind to man, stedfast, sure, free from care, having all power, overseeing all things, and going through all understanding, pure and most subtil spirits.

24 For wisdom is more moving than any motion: she passeth and goeth through all things by reason of her pureness.

25 For she is the || breath of the power of God, and a pure || influence flowing from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing fall into her.

26 For she is the ^g brightness of the everlasting light, the unspotted mirror of the power of God, and ^h the image of his goodness.

27 And being but one, she can do all things: and remaining in her self, she || maketh all things new: and in all ages entering into holy souls, she maketh them friends of God, and prophets.

28 For God loveth none, but him that dwelleth with wisdom.

29 For she is more beautiful than the sun, and above all the order of stars: being compared with the light, she is found before it.

30 For after this cometh night: but vice shall not prevail against wisdom.

C H A P. VIII.

2 He is in love with wisdom: 4 for he that hath it, hath every good thing. 21 It cannot be had but from God.

W Iſdom reacheth from one end to another mightily: and || sweetly doth she order all things.

2 I loved her and sought her out from my youth, I desired || to make her my spouse, and I was a lover of her beauty.

3 In that she is conversant with God, she magnifieth her nobility: yea, the Lord of all things himself loved her.

4 For she is || privy to the mysteries of the knowledge of God, and a || lover of his works.

5 If riches be a possession to be desired in this life; ^a what is richer than wisdom ^b that worketh all things?

6 And if ^c prudence work; who of all that are, is a more cunning workman than she?

7 And if a man love righteousness, her labours are virtues: for she teacheth temperance and prudence, justice and fortitude; which are such things as men can have nothing more profitable in their life.

8 If a man desire much experience, she knoweth things of old, and conjectureth aright what is to come: she knoweth the subtilties of speeches, and can expound dark sentences: she foreseeth signs and wonders, and the events of seasons and times.

9 Therefore I purposed to take her to me to live with me, knowing that she [†] would be a counsellor of good things, and a comfort in cares and grief.

10 For her sake I shall have estimation among the multitude, and honour with the elders, though I be young.

11 ^d I shall be found of a quick conceit in judgment, and shall be admired in the sight of great men.

12 ^e When I hold my tongue they shall bide my leisure, and when I speak they shall give good ear unto me: If I talk much, they shall lay their hands upon their mouth.

13 Moreover, ^f by the means of her I shall obtain immortality, and leave behind me an everlasting memorial to them that come after me.

14 I shall || set the people in order, and the nations shall be subject unto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shall be afraid when they do but hear of me, I shall || be found good among the multitude, and valiant in war.

16 || After I am come into mine house, I will repose my self with her: for her conversation hath no bitterness, and to live with her, hath no sorrow, but mirth and joy.

17 Now when I considered these things in my self, and ^g pondered them in my heart, how that to be allied unto wisdom, ^h is immortality,

18 And great pleasure it is to have her friendship, and in the works of her hands are infinite riches, and in the exercise of conference with her, prudence; and in talking with her, a || good report: I went about seeking how to || take her to me.

19 For I was a witty child, and had a good spirit.

20 Yea, rather being good, I came into a body undefiled.

21 Nevertheless when I perceived that I could not otherwise obtain her, except God gave her me, (and that was a point of wisdom also to know whose gift she was) I || prayed unto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I said,

C H A P. IX.

1 A prayer unto God for his wisdom, 6 without which the best man is nothing worth, 13 neither can he tell how to please God.

O God of my fathers, and Lord of mercy, ^a who hast made all things with thy word, 2 And ordained man through thy wisdom, ^b that he should ^c have dominion over the creatures which thou hast made,

3 And order the world according to equity and righteousness, and execute judgment with an upright heart:

4 Give ^e me wisdom that fitteth by thy ^c throne, and reject me not from among thy children:

5 For I ^d thy servant and son of thine handmaid, am a feeble person, and of a short time, and too young for the understanding of judgment and laws.

6 For though a man be never so perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisdom be not with him he shall be nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a ^e king of thy people, and a judge of thy sons and daughters.

8 Thou hast commanded me to build a temple upon thy holy mount, and an altar in the city wherein thou dwellest, ^f a resemblance of the holy tabernacle ^g which thou hast prepared from the beginning.

9 And ^h wisdom was with thee: which knoweth thy works, and was present when thou madest the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandments.

10 O send her out of thy holy heavens, and from the throne of thy glory, that being present she may labour with me, that I may know what is pleasing unto thee.

11 For she knoweth and understandeth all things, and she shall lead me soberly in my doings, and preserve me || in her power.

12 So shall my works be acceptable, and then shall I judge thy people righteously, and be worthy to set in my fathers seat.

13 For ⁱ what man is he that can know the counsel of God? or who can think what the will of the Lord is?

14 For the thoughts of mortal men are || miserable, and our devices are but uncertain.

15 For the corruptible body presseth down the soul, and ^k the earthly tabernacle weigheth down the mind that museth upon many things.

16 And hardly do we guess aright at things that are upon earth, and with labour do we find the things that are [†] before us: but the things that are in heaven, who hath searched out?

17 And thy counsel who hath known, except thou give wisdom, and send thy holy Spirit from above?

18 For so the ways of them which lived on the earth were reformed, and men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee, and were saved through wisdom.

C H A P. XI.

5 The Egyptians were punished, and the Israelites reserved in the same thing. 15 They were plagued by the same things wherein they sinned. 20 God could have destroyed them otherwise, 23 but he is merciful to all.

SHE prospered their works in the hand of the holy prophet.

2 ^a They went through the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched tents in places where there lay no way.

3 ^b They stood against their enemies, and were avenged of their adversaries.

4 When they were thirsty, they called upon thee, and ^c water was given them out of the flinty rock, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

5 For by what things their enemies were punished, by the same they in their need were benefited.

6 For instead of a fountain of a perpetual running river ^d troubled with foul blood,

7 For a manifest reproof of ^e that commandment whereby the infants were slain, thou gavest unto them abundance of water by a means which they hoped not for:

8 Declaring by that thirst then, ^f how thou hadst punished their adversaries.

9 For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastised, they knew how the ungodly were judged in wrath and tormented, thirsting in another manner than the just.

10 For these thou didst admonish and try as a father: but the other as a severe king thou didst condemn and punish.

11 Whether they were absent or present, they were vexed alike.

12 For a double grief came upon them, and a groning for the remembrance of things past.

13 For when they heard by their own punishments the other to be benefited, they || had some feeling of the Lord, 14 For whom they rejected with scorn when he was long before thrown out at the casting forth of the infants, him in the end, when they saw what came to pass, they admired.

15 But for the foolish devices of their wickedness, wherewith being deceived they worshipped serpents void of reason, and vile beasts, thou didst send a multitude of unreasonable beasts upon them for vengeance:

16 That they might know that ^g wherewithal a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

17 For thy almighty hand that made the world of matter without form, wanted not means to send among them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,

18 Or unknown wild beasts full of rage, newly created, breathing out either a fiery vapour, or filthy scents of scattered smoak, or shooting horrible sparkles out of their eyes:

19 Where of not only the harm might dispatch them at once, but also the terrible fight utterly destroy them.

20 Yea, and without these might they have fallen down with one blast, being persecuted of vengeance, and scattered abroad through the breath of thy power: but thou hast ordered all things in measure and number, and weight, 21 For thou canst shew thy great strength at all times when thou wilt, and who may withstand the power of thine arm?

22 For the whole world before thee is as a || little grain of the balance, yea, as a drop of the morning dew that falleth down upon the earth.

23 But thou hast mercy upon all; for thou canst do all things, and winkest at the sins of men: because they should amend.

24 For thou lovest all the things that are, and abhorrest nothing which thou hast made: for never wouldst thou have made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.

25 And how could any thing have endured, if it had not been thy will? or been preserved, if not called by thee?

26 But ^h thou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, thou lover of souls.

C H A P. XII.

2 God did not destroy those of Chanaan all at once. 12 If he had done so, who could control him? 19 But by sparing them he taught us. 27 They were punished with their gods.

FOR thine uncorruptible Spirit is in all things.

2 Therefore chastenest thou them by little and little, that offend, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance wherein they have offended, that leaving their wickedness, they may believe on thee, O Lord.

3 For it was thy will to destroy by the hands of our fathers, both those || old inhabitants of thy holy land,

4 Whom thou hatedst for doing most odious works of || witchcrafts, and wicked sacrifices;

5 And also ^a those merciless murderers of children, and devourers of mans flesh, and the feasts of blood;

6 With their priests out of the midst of their idolatrous crue, and the parents that killed with their own hands, souls destitute of help:

7 That the land which thou esteemedst above all other, might receive a worthy || colony of Gods children.

8 Nevertheless, even those thou sparedst as men, and didst send ^b wasps, forerunners of thine host, to destroy them by little and little.

9 Not that thou wast unable to bring the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle, or to destroy them at once with cruel beasts, or with one rough word:

10 But executing thy judgments upon them by little and little, thou gavest them place of repentance, not being ignorant that they were a naughty generation, and that their malice was bred in them, and that their cogitation would never be changed.

11 For it was a ^c cursed seed from the beginning, neither didst thou for fear of any man give them pardon for those things wherein they sinned.

12 For who shall say, ^d What hast thou done? or who shall withstand thy judgment? or who shall accuse thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made? or who shall come to stand || against thee || to be revenged for the unrighteous men?

13 For neither is there any God but thou, that ^e careth for all, to whom thou mightst shew that thy judgment is not unright.

14 Neither shall king or tyrant be able to set his face against thee, for any whom thou hast punished.

15 For so much then as thou art righteous thy self, thou orderest all things righteously: ^f thinking it not agreeable with thy power to ^g condemn him that hath not deserved to be punished.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousness, and ^h because thou art the Lord of ⁱ Chap. 11. 26. all, it maketh thee to be gracious unto all.

17 For when men will not believe that thou art of a || full power, thou shewest thy strength, || ^{Or, perfect.} and among them that know it, thou makest their boldness manifest.

18 But thou mastering thy power, judgest with equity, and orderest us with great favour: for thou mayst use power when thou wilt.

19 But by such works hast thou taught thy people, that the just man should be merciful, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope, that thou givest repentance for sins.

20 For if ^h thou didst punish the enemies of ⁱ Rom. 9. 22. thy children, and the condemned to death with such deliberation, giving them time and place, whereby they might be delivered from their malice:

21 With how great circumspection didst thou judge thine own sons, unto whose fathers thou hast sworn, and made covenants of good promises?

22 Therefore whereas thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that when we judge, we should carefully think of thy goodness, and when we our selves are judged, we should look for mercy.

23 Wherefore, whereas men have lived dis-solutely and unrighteously, ⁱ thou hast torment-ed them with their own || abominations. ^{Chap. 11. 16. & 16. 1.}

24 ^k For they went astray very far in the ways of error, and held them for gods which even amongst the beasts of their enemies were despised, being deceived as children of no understanding. ^{Or, abominable idols. Chap. 11. 15. Rom. 1. 23.}

25 Therefore unto them, as to children without the use of reason, thou didst send a judgment to mock them.

26 But they that would not be reformed by that correction wherein he dallied with them, shall feel a judgment worthy of God.

27 For look for what things they grudged when they were punished, (that is) for them whom they thought to be gods; [now] being punished in them, when they saw it, they acknowledged him to be the true God, whom before they denied to know, and therefore came extreme damnation upon them.

C H A P. XIII.

1 They were not excused that worshipped any of Gods works. 10 But most wretched are they that worship the works of mens hands.

SURELY vain are all men by nature, who are signorant of God, and ^a could not out of ^b Rom. 1. 19. the good things that are seen, know him that is: neither by considering the works, did they acknowledge the work-master;

4 But if they were astonished at their power and virtue, let them understand by them, how much mightier he is that made them.

5 For by the greatness and beauty of the creatures, proportionably the maker of them is seen.

6 But yet for this they are the less to be blamed: for they peradventure err seeking God, and desirous to find him.

¹ Why the Egyptians were punished with darkness.
⁴ The terrors of that darkness. ¹¹ The terrors of an ill conscience.

FOR great are thy judgments, and cannot be expressed : therefore || unnurtured ^{|| Or, souls that will not be reformed.} souls have erred.

2 For when unrighteous men thought to oppress the holy nation ; ^a they being shut up ^a Exod. 10. 22 || in their houses, the prisoners of darkness, and fettered with the bonds of a long night, lay [there] || exiled from the eternal providence. ^{|| Or, under the roofs.} ^{|| Or, fugitives.}

3 For while they supposed to lie hid in their secret sins, they were scattered || under a dark ^{|| Or, in.} vail of forgetfulness, being horribly astonished, and troubled with [strange] || apparitions. ^{|| Or, sights.}

4 For neither might the corner that held them, keep them from fear : but noises [as of waters] falling down, sounded about them, and sad visions appeared unto them with heavy countenances.

5 No power of the fire might give them light : neither could the bright flames of the stars endure to lighten that horrible night.

6 Only there appeared unto them a fire kindled of it self, very dreadful : for being much terrified, they thought the things which they saw, to be worse than the sight they saw not.

7 ^b As for the illusions of art magick, they ^a Exod. 7. 12. were put down, and their vaunting in wisdom ^{& 8. 7. 19.} was reprov'd with disgrace.

8 For they that promised to drive away terrors, and troubles from a sick soul, were sick themselves of fear worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did fear them : yet being scared with beasts that passed by, and hissing of serpents,

10 They died for fear, || denying that they ^{|| Or, refusing look upon.} saw the air, which could of no side be avoided.

11 For wickedness condemned by her own witness, is very timorous, and being pressed with conscience, always forecasteth grievous things.

12 For fear is nothing else, but a betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

13 And the expectation from within being less, counteth the ignorance more than the cause which bringeth the torment.

14 But they sleeping the same sleep that night, || which was indeed intolerable, and ^{|| Or, wherein they could do no thing.} which came upon them out of the bottoms of inevitable hell :

15 Were partly vexed with monstrous apparitions, and partly fainted, their heart failing them : for a sudden fear and not looked for, came upon them.

16 So then, whosoever there fell down, was straitly kept, shut up in a prison without iron bars.

19 Or a || terrible sound of stones cast down, or a running that could not be seen of skipping beasts, or a roling voice of most savage wild beasts, or a rebounding eccho from the hollow mountains: these things made them to swoon for fear.

* Exod. 11. 5. &
12. 29.

11 ⁱ The master and the servant were pu-

12 So they all together had innumerable dead with one kind of death, neither were the living sufficient to bury them: for in one moment the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 For whereas they would not believe any thing, by reason of the enchantments; upon the destruction of the first-born, they acknowledged this people to be the sons of God.

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, and that night was in the midst of her swift course, 15 Thine almighty word leapt down from heaven, out of thy royal throne, as a fierce man of war into the midst of a land of destruction.

16 And brought thine unfeigned commandment as a sharp sword, and standing up filled all things with death, and it touched the heaven, but it stood upon the earth.

17 Then suddenly || visions of horrible ^{Or, imaginations.} dreams troubled them sore, and terrors came upon them unlooked for.

18 And one thrown here and another there half-dead, shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the dreams that troubled them did foreshew this, lest they should perish, and not know why they were afflicted.

20 Yea, the tasting of death touched the righteous also, and there was a destruction of the ^k multitude in the wilderness: but the ^k wrath endured not long. ^{Numb. 16. 46 &c.}

21 For then the blameless man made haste, and stood forth to defend them; and bringing the shield of his proper ministry, even prayer, and the propitiation of incense, set himself against the wrath, and so brought the calamity to an end, declaring that he was thy servant.

22 So he overcame the destroyer, not with strength of body, nor force of arms, but with a word subdued he him that punished, alledging the oaths and covenants made with the fathers.

23 For when the dead were now fallen down by heaps one upon another, standing between, he || stayed the wrath, and parted the ^{Or, cut off.} way to the living.

24 ^l For in the long garment was the whole ^{Exod. 28. 6, 9, 36.} world, and in the four rows of the stones was the glory of the fathers graven, and thy Majesty upon the diadem of his head.

25 Unto these the destroyer gave place, and was afraid of them: for it was enough that they only tasted of the wrath.

1 Why God shewed no mercy to the Egyptians, 5 and how wonderfully he dealt with his people. 14 The Egyptians were worse than the Sodomites. 18 The wonderful agreement of the creatures to serve Gods people.

AS for the ungodly, wrath came upon them without mercy unto the end: for he knew before what they would do;

2 How that having given them leave to depart, and sent them hastily away, they would repent and pursue them.

3 For whilst they were yet mourning, and making lamentation at the graves of the dead, they they added another foolish device, and pursued them as fugitives, whom they had || intreated to be gone.

4 For the destiny, whereof they were worthy, drew them unto this end, and made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might fulfil the punishment which was wanting to their torments:

5 And that thy people might pass a wonderful way: but they might find a strange death.

* See Chap. 16.

6 For ^a the whole creature in his proper kind was fashioned again anew, serving the peculiar commandments that were given unto them, that thy children might be kept without hurt.

7 As namely, a cloud shadowing the camp; and where water stood before, dry land appeared; and out of the Red sea, a way without impediment; and out of the violent stream, a green field:

8 Wherethrough all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marvellous strange wonders.

9 For they went at large like horses, and leaped like lambs, praising thee, O Lord, who hadst delivered them.

10 For they were yet mindful of the things that were done while they sojourned in the strange land, how the ground brought forth || flies in stead of cattle, and how the river cast up a multitude of frogs in stead of fishes.

|| Or, comfort.

13 And punishments came upon the sinners, not without former signs, by the force of thunders: for they suffered justly, according to their own wickedness, inasmuch as they used a more hard and hateful behaviour towards strangers.

14 For the Sodomites did not receive those whom they knew not when they came: but these brought friends into bondage, that had well deserved of them.

15 And not only so, but peradventure some respect shall be had of those, because they used strangers not friendly.

16 But these very grievously afflicted them whom they had received with feastings, and were already made partakers of the same laws with them.

17 Therefore even with blindness were these stricken, as ^c those were at the doors of the righteous man: when being compassed about with horrible great darkness, every one sought the passage of his own doors. ^{Gen. 19. 11.}

18 For the elements were changed [†] in themselves by a kind of harmony, like as in a psaltery, notes change the name of the tune, and yet are always sounds, which may well be perceived by the sight of the things that have been done. ^{† Gr. by them selves.}

19 For earthly things were turned into watery, and the things that before swam in the water, now went upon the ground.

20 ^d The fire had power in the water, for- getting his own virtue: and the water forgot his own quenching nature. ^{Chap. 16. 17.}

21 On the other side, the flames wasted not the flesh of the corruptible living things, though they walked therein, ^e neither melted they the icy kind of heavenly meat, that was of nature apt to melt. ^{Chap. 16. 22.}

22 For in all things, O Lord, thou didst magnifie thy people, and glorifie them, neither didst thou lightly regard them: but didst assist them in every time and place.

¶ The Wisdom of JESUS the Son of SIRACH, or ECCLESIASTICUS.

A Prologue made by an uncertain Author.

Some refer this Prologue to Athanasius, because it is found in his Synopsis.

THis Jesus was the son of Sirach, and grandchild to Jesus of the same name with him: this man therefore lived in the latter times, after the people had been led away captive, and called home again, and almost after all the prophets. Now his grandfather Jesus (as he himself witnesseth) was a man of great diligence and wisdom among the Hebrews, who did not only gather the grave and short sentences of wise men, that had been before him, but himself also uttered some of his own, full of much understanding and wisdom. When as therefore the first Jesus died, leaving this book almost || perfected, Sirach his son receiving it after him, left it to his own son Jesus, who having gotten it into his hands, compiled it all orderly into one volume, and called it Wisdom, intituling it both by his own name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers, alluring the hearer by the very name of Wisdom, to have a greater love to the study of this book. It containeth therefore wise sayings, dark sentences, and parables, and certain particular ancient godly stories of men that pleased God; also his prayer and song; moreover, what benefits God had vouchsafed his people, and what plagues he had heaped upon their enemies. This Jesus did imitate Solomon, and was no less famous for wisdom and learning, both being indeed a man of great learning, and so reputed also.

|| Or, collected.

The Prologue of the Wisdom of JESUS the Son of SIRACH.

WHereas many and great things have been delivered unto us by the law and the prophets, and by others that have followed their steps, for the which things Israel ought to be commended for learning and wisdom; and whereof not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that desire to learn, be able to profit them which are are || without, both by speaking and writing: my grandfather Jesus, when he had much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and other books of our fathers, and had gotten therein good judgment, was drawn on also himself to write something pertaining to learning and wisdom, to the intent that those which are desirous to learn, and are addicted to these things, might profit much more in living according to the law. Wherefore, let me intreat you to read it with favour and attention, and to pardon us, wherein we may seem to come short of some words which we have laboured to interpret. For the same things uttered in Hebrew, and translated into another tongue, have not the same force in them: and not only these things, but the law it self, and the prophets, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their own language. For in the eight and thirtieth year coming into Egypt, when Euergetes was king, and continuing there some time, I found a book of no small learning: therefore I thought it most necessary for me, to bestow some diligence and travel to interpret it; using great watchfulness, and skill in that space, to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, which in a strange country are willing to learn, being prepared before in manners to live after the law.

IN stead of a friend become not an enemy; for [thereby] thou shalt inherit an ill name, shame and reproach: even so shall a sinner that hath a double tongue.

2 Extol not thy self in the counsel of thine own heart; that thy soul be not torn in pieces as a bull [straying alone.]

34 Receive a stranger into thine house, and he will disturb thee, and turn thee out of thine own.

C H A P. XII.

2 Be not liberal to the ungodly. 10 Trust not thine enemy, nor the wicked.

WHen thou wilt do good, know to whom thou dost it : so shalt thou be thanked for thy benefits.

2 Do good to the godly man, and thou shalt find a recompence ; and if not from him, yet from the most High.

3 There can no good come to him that is always occupied in evil : nor to him that giveth no alms.

4 Give to the godly man, and help not a sinner.

5 Do well unto him that is lowly, but give not to the ungodly : hold back thy bread, and give it not unto him, lest he over-master thee thereby. For [else] thou shalt receive twice as much evil for all the good thou shalt have done unto him.

6 For the most High hateth sinners, and will repay vengeance unto the ungodly, and keepeth them against the mighty day of their punishment.

7 Give unto the good, and help not the sinner.

8 A friend cannot be known in prosperity, and an enemy cannot be hidden in adversity.

9 In the prosperity of a man, enemies will be grieved : but in his adversity, even a friend will depart.

10 Never trust thine enemy : for like as ^{||} iron rusteth, so is his wickedness.

11 Though he humble himself, and go crouching, yet take good heed and beware of him, and thou shalt be unto him, as if thou hadst wiped a looking-glass, and thou shalt know that his rust hath not been altogether wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, lest when he hath overthrown thee, he stand up in thy place ; neither let him sit at thy right hand, lest he seek to take thy seat, and thou at the last remember my words, and be pricked therewith.

13 Who will pity a charmer that is bitten with a serpent, or any such as come nigh wild beasts ?

14 So one that goeth to a sinner, and is ^{||} defiled with him in his sins, who will pity ? ^{||} Or, mingled.

15 For a while he will abide with thee, but if thou begin to fall, he will not tarry.

16 An enemy speaketh sweetly with his lips, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into a pit : he will ^a weep with his ^a Jer. 41. 6. eyes, but if he find opportunity, he will not be satisfied with blood.

17 If adversity come upon thee, thou shalt find him there first, and though he pretend to help thee, yet shall he ^{||} undermine thee. ^{||} Or, supplant.

18 He will shake his head, and clap his hands, and whisper much, and change his countenance.

C H A P. XIII.

1 Keep not company with the proud, or a mightier than thy self. 15 Like will to like. 21 The difference between the rich and the poor. 25 A mans heart will change his countenance.

HE that toucheth pitch shall be defiled therewith, and ^a he that hath fellowship ^a Deut. 7. 2. with a proud man, shall be like unto him.

2 Burden not thy self above thy power, while thou livest, and have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thy self. For how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together ? [†] for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken. [†] Or, this shall smite against it, and be broken.

3 The rich man hath done wrong, and yet he threatneth withal : the poor is wronged, and he must intreat also.

4 If thou be for his profit, he will use thee : but if thou have nothing, he will forsake thee.

5 If thou have any thing, he will live with thee : yea, he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry for it.

6 If he have need of thee, he will deceive thee, and smile upon thee, and put thee in hope, he will speak thee fair, and say, What wantest thou ?

7 And he will shame thee by his meats, until he have drawn thee dry twice or thrice, and at the last he will laugh thee to scorn : afterward when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

 || Or, by thy simplicity.

8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought down || in thy jollity.

9 If thou be invited of a mighty man, withdraw thy self, and so much the more will he invite thee.

10 Presf thou not upon him, lest thou be put back; stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.

11 || Affect not to be made equal unto him in talk, || and believe not his many words: for with much communication will he tempt thee, and smiling upon thee will get out thy secrets:

12 But cruelly he will lay up thy words, and will not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

13 Observe and take good heed, for thou walkest in peril of thy overthrowing: when thou hearest these things, awake in thy sleep.

14 Love the Lord all thy life, and call upon him for thy salvation.

15 Every beast loveth his like, and every man loveth his neighbour.

16 All flesh consorteth according to kind, and a man will cleave to his like.

17 ^b What fellowship hath the wolf with the lamb? so the sinner with the godly.

18 What agreement is there between the hyena and a dog? and what peace between the rich and the poor?

19 As the wild ass is the lions prey in the wilderness: so ^c the rich eat up the poor.

20 As the proud hate humility: so doth the rich abhor the poor.

21 A rich man beginning to fall, is held up of his friends: but a poor man being down, is thrust also away by his friends.

22 When a rich man is fallen, he hath many helpers: he speaketh things not to be spoken, and yet men justifie him; the poor man slipt, and yet they rebuked him too; he spake wisely, and could have no place.

23 When a rich man speaketh, ^d every man holdeth his tongue, and look what he saith, they extol it to the clouds: but if the poor man speak, they say, What fellow is this? and if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.

24 Riches are good unto him that hath no sin, and poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.

25 The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be for good or evil: and a merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.

26 A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity, and the finding out of parables is a wearisome labour of the mind.

6 There is none worse than he that envieth himself, and this is a recompence of his wickedness.

7 And if he doth good, he doth it unwillingly, and at the last he will declare his wickedness.

7 But foolish men shall not attain unto her, and sinners shall not see her.

8 For she is far from pride, and men that are liars cannot remember her.

9 ^a Praise is not seemly in the mouth of a sinner, for ^{||} it was not sent him of the Lord.

10 For ^{||} praise shall be uttered in wisdom, and the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away: for thou oughtest not to do the things that he hateth.

12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to err: for he hath no need of the sinful man.

13 The Lord hateth all abomination, and they that fear God love it not.

14 He himself ^b made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsel:

15 If thou wilt, to ^c keep the commandments, and to perform acceptable faithfulness.

16 ^d He hath set fire and water before thee: stretch forth thy hand unto whether thou wilt.

17 ^e Before man is life and death, and whether him liketh, shall be given him.

18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things:

19 And ^f his eyes are upon them that fear him, and he knoweth every work of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to do wickedly, neither hath he given any man licence to sin.

1 It is better to have none, than many lewd children.

6 The wicked are not spared for their number.

12 Both the wrath and the mercy of the Lord are great. 17 The wicked cannot be hid. 20 Gods works are unfearchable.

DEsire not a multitude of unprofitable children, neither delight in ungodly sons.

2 Though they multiply, rejoyce not in them, except the fear of the Lord be with them.

3 Trust not thou in their life, neither respect their multitude: for one that is just is better than a thousand, and better it is to die without children, than to have them that are ungodly.

4 For by one that hath understanding, shall the city be replenished: but the ^{||} kindred of the wicked shall speedily become desolate.

5 Many such things have I seen with mine eyes, and mine ear hath heard greater things than these.

6 ^a In the congregation of the ungodly shall a fire be kindled, and in a rebellious nation wrath ^{||} is set on fire.

7 ^b He was not pacified towards the old giants, who fell away in the strength of their foolishness.

8 ^c Neither spared he the place where Lot sojourned, but ^d abhorred them for their pride.

9 He pitied not the people of perdition, who were taken away in their sins:

10 ^e Nor the six hundred thousand footmen, who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.

11 And if there be one stiff-necked among the people, it is marvel if he escape unpunished: for ^f mercy and wrath are with him; he is ^g mighty to forgive, and to pour out displeasure.

12 As his mercy is great, so is his correction also: ^h he judgeth a man according to his works.

13 The sinner shall not escape with his spoils, and the patience of the godly shall not be frustrate.

14 Make way for every work of mercy: for every man shall find according to his works.

15 The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that he should not know him, that his powerful works might be known to the world.

16 His mercy is manifest to every creature, and ^h he hath separated his light from the darkness, with an ^{||} adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my self from the Lord: shall any remember me from above? I shall not be remembred among so many people: for what is my soul among such an infinite number of creatures?

18 ⁱ Behold, the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, the deep, and the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moved when he shall visit.

19 The mountains also, and foundations of the earth shall be shaken with trembling, when the Lord looketh upon them.

20 No heart can think upon these things worthily: and who is able to conceive his ways?

21 It is a tempest which no man can see: for the most part of his works are hid.

22 Who can declare the works of his justice; or who can endure them? for his covenant is afar off, and the trial of all things is in the end.

23 He that wanteth understanding, will think upon vain things: and a foolish man erring, imagineth follies.

24 My son, hearken unto me, and learn knowledge, and mark my words with thy heart.

25 I will shew forth doctrine in weight, and declare his knowledge exactly.

26 The works of the Lord are done in judgment from the beginning: and from the time he made them, he disposed the parts thereof.

27 He garnished his works for ever, and in his hand are ^{||} chief of them unto all generations: they neither labour, nor are weary, nor cease from their works.

28 None of them hindreth another, and they shall never disobey his word.

4 And put the fear || of man upon all flesh, and gave him dominion over beasts and fowls.
5 [They received the use of the five operations of the Lord, and in the sixth place he imparted them understanding, and in the seventh, speech, an interpreter of the cogitations thereof.]

6 Counsel, and a tongue, and eyes, ears, and a heart, gave he them to understand.

7 Withal, he filled them with the knowledge of understanding, and shewed them good and evil.

8 He set his eye upon their hearts, that he might shew them the greatness of his works.

9 He gave them to glory in his marvellous acts for ever, that they might declare his works with understanding.

10 And the elect shall praise his holy name.

11 Beside this, he gave them knowledge, and the law of life for an heritage.

12 He made an everlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his judgments.

13 Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory, and their ears heard his glorious voice.

14 And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness, and he ^c gave every man commandment concerning his neighbour.

15 Their ways are ever before him, and shall not be hid from his eyes.

16 Every man from his youth is given to evil, neither could they make to themselves fleshy hearts for stony.

17 For ^d in the division of the nations of the whole earth, he set a ^e ruler over every people; but ^f Israel is the Lords portion:

18 Whom being his first-born, he nourisheth with discipline, and giving him the light of his love, doth not forsake him.

19 Therefore all their works are as the sun before him, and his eyes are continually upon their ways.

20 None of their unrighteous deeds are hid from him, but all their sins are before the Lord.

21 But the Lord being gracious, and knowing his workmanship, neither left nor forsook them, but spared them.

22 The ^g souls of a man is as a signet with him, and he will keep the good deeds of man, as the apple of the eye, and give repentance to his sons and daughters.

23 ^h Afterwards he will rise up and reward them, and render their recompence upon their heads.

24 ⁱ But unto them that repent, he granted them return, and comforted those that failed in patience.

25 ^k Return unto the Lord, and forsake thy sins, make thy prayer before his face, and || offend less.

26 Turn again to the most High, and turn away from iniquity: for he will lead thee out of darkness into the || light of health, and hate thou abomination vehemently.

27 ^l Who shall praise the most High in the grave, in stead of them which live and give thanks?

28 Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not, the living and sound in heart shall praise the Lord.

29 How great is the loving kindness of the Lord our God, and his compassion unto such as turn unto him in holiness!

30 For all things cannot be in men, because the son of man is not immortal.

31 ^m What is brighter than the sun? yet the light thereof faileth: and flesh and blood will ⁿ imagine evil.

8 He that useth many words shall be abhorred; and he that taketh to himself authority therein, shall be hated.

9 There is a sinner that hath good success in evil things; and there is a gain that turneth to loss.

10 There is a gift that shall not profit thee; and there is a gift whose recompence is double.

11 There is an abasement because of glory; and there is that lifteth up his head from a low estate.

12 There is that buyeth much for a little, and repayeth it seven-fold.

13 ^d A wise man by his words maketh himself beloved: but the || graces of fools shall be || poured out.

14 The gift of a fool shall do thee no good when thou hast it; neither yet of the envious for his necessity: † for he looketh to receive many things for one.

15 He giveth little and ^e upbraideth much, he openeth his mouth like a crier; to day he lendeth, and to morrow will he ask it again: such a one is to be hated of God and man.

16 The fool saith, I have no friends, I have no thanks for all my good deeds, and they that eat my bread speak evil of me.

17 How oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scorn! for he knoweth not aright what it is to have; and it is all one unto him, (as if he had it not.)

18 To slip upon a pavement, is better than to slip with the tongue: so the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.

19 || An unseasonable tale will always be in the mouth of the unwise.

20 A wise sentence shall be rejected when it cometh out of a fools mouth: for he will not speak it in due season.

21 There is that is hindered from sinning through want: and when he taketh rest, he † shall not be troubled.

22 ^f There is that destroyeth his own soul through bashfulness, and by accepting of persons overthroweth himself.

23 There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend, and maketh him his enemy for nothing.

24 ^g A lie is a foul blot in a man, yet it is continually in the mouth of the untaught.

25 A thief is better than a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall have destruction to heritage.

26 The disposition of a liar is || dishonourable, and his shame is ever with him.

27 A wise man shall promote himself ^{to} honour with his words: and he that hath understanding will please great men.

28 ^h He that tilleth his land, shall increase his heap: and he that pleaseth great men, shall get pardon for iniquity.

29 ⁱ Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wife, and || stop up his mouth that he cannot reprove.

30 Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded up, what profit is in them both?

31 ^k Better is he that hideth his folly, than a man that hideth his wisdom.

32 Necessary patience in seeking the Lord, is better than he that leadeth his life without a guide.

C H A P. XXI.

2 Flee from sin as from a serpent: 4 His oppression will undo the rich. 9 The end of the unjust shall be naught. 12 The differences between the fool and the wife.

MY son, hast thou sinned? do so no more, but ^a ask pardon for thy former sins.

2 Flee from sin as from the face of a serpent: for if thou comest too near it, it will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, slaying the souls of men.

3 All iniquity is as a two-edged sword, the wounds whereof cannot be healed.

4 To terrifie and do wrong, will waste riches: thus the house of proud men shall be made desolate.

5 ^b A prayer out of a poor mans mouth reacheth to the ears of God, and his judgment cometh speedily.

6 He that hateth to be reproved, is in the way of sinners: but he that feareth the Lord, will † repent from his heart.

7 An eloquent man is known far and near, but a man of understanding knoweth when he slippeth.

8 He that buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth himself stones for the tomb of his burial.

9 ^c The congregation of the wicked is like tow wrapped together: and the end of them is a flame of fire to destroy them.

10 The way of sinners is made plain with stones, but at the end thereof is the pit of hell.

11 ^d He that keepeth the law of the Lord, getteth the understanding thereof: and the perfection of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.

12 He that is not || wise, will not be taught: ^e but there is a || wisdom which multiplieth bitterness.

13 The knowledge of a wise man shall abound like a flood: and his counsel is like a pure fountain of life.

14 ^f The inner parts of a fool are like a broken vessel, and he will hold no knowledge as long as he liveth.

15 If a skilful man hear a wise word, he will commend it, and ^g add unto it: but as soon as one of no understanding heareth it, it displeaseth him, and he casteth it behind his back.

16 The talking of a fool is like a burden in the way: but grace shall be found in the lips of the wise.

17 They enquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shall ponder his words in their heart.

18 As is a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool: and the knowledge of the unwise is as talk || without sense.

19 Doctrine unto fools is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles on the right hand.

20 ^h A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter, but a wise man doth scarce smile a little.

21 Learning is unto a wise man as an ornament of gold, and like a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 A foolish mans foot is soon in his [neighbours] house: but a man of experience is ashamed of him.

23 A fool will peep in at the door into the house, but he that is well-nurtured will stand without.

C H A P. XXIV.

2 Wisdom doth praise her self, sheweth her beginning, 4 her dwelling, 13 her glory, 17 her fruit, 26 her increase and perfection.

Wisdom shall praise her self, and shall glory in the midst of her people.

2 In the congregation of the most High, shall she open her mouth, and triumph before his power.

3 I came out of the mouth of the most High, and covered the earth as ^{||} a cloud.

4 ^a I dwelt in high places, and ^b my throne is in a cloudy pillar.

5 I alone compassed the circuit of heaven, and walked in the bottom of the deep.

6 In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth, and in every people, and nation, I got a possession.

7 With all these I sought rest: and in whose inheritance shall I abide?

8 So the Creator of all things gave me a commandment, and he that made me caused my tabernacle to rest, and said, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel.

9 He ^c created me from the beginning before the world, and I shall never fail.

10 In the ^d holy tabernacle I served before him: and so was I established in Sion.

11 ^e Likewise in the ^{||} beloved city he gave me rest, and in Jerusalem was my power.

12 And I took root in an honourable people, even in the portion of the Lords inheritance.

13 I was exalted like a Cedar in Libanus, and as a cypress-tree upon the mountains of Hermon.

14 I was exalted like a palm-tree in ^{||} Engaddi, and as a rose-plant in Jericho; as a fair olive-tree in a pleasant field, and grew up as a plane-tree ^{||} by the water.

15 I gave a sweet smell like cinnamon and aspalathus, and I yielded a pleasant odour like the best myrrh, as galbanum, and onyx, and sweet storax, and as the fume of frankincense in the ^f tabernacle.

16 As the turpentine-tree I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.

17 ^g As the vine brought I forth pleasant favour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.

18 I am the mother of fair love, and fear, and knowledge, and holy hope: I therefore being eternal, am given to all my children which are ^{||} named of him.

19 Come unto me, all ye that be desirous of me, and fill your selves with my fruits.

20 For my memorial is ^h sweeter than hony, and mine inheritance than the hony-comb.

21 They that eat me shall yet be hungry, and they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.

22 He that obeyeth me shall never be confounded, and they that work by me shall not do amiss.

23 All these things are the book of the covenant of the most high God, even the ⁱ law which Moses commanded for an heritage unto the congregations of Jacob.

24 Faint not to be strong in the Lord; that he may confirm you, cleave unto him: for the Lord Almighty is God alone, and besides him there is no other Saviour.

|| Or, thoughts.

^c Prov. 27. 21.

4 As when one sifteth with a sieve, the refuse remaineth: so the filth of man is in his || talk.

5 ^c The furnace proveth the potters vessels: so the trial of man is in his reasoning.

6 ^d The fruit declareth if the tree have been dressed: so is the utterance of a conceit in the heart of man.

7 Praise no man before thou hearest him speak; for this is the trial of men.

8 If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her, and put her on, as a glorious long robe.

9 The birds will resort unto their like: so will truth return unto them that practise in her.

10 As the lion lieth in wait for the prey: so sin for them that work iniquity.

11 The discourse of a godly man is always with wisdom: but a fool changeth as the moon.

12 If thou be among the indiscreet, observe the time: but be continually among men of understanding.

13 The discourse of fools is irksom, and their sport is in the wantonness of sin.

14 ^e The talk of him that sweareth much, ^e Chap. 23. 9. maketh the hair stand upright: and their brawls make one stop his ears.

15 The strife of the proud is blood-shedding, and their revilings are grievous to the ear.

16 Whoso discovereth secrets, loseth his credit; and shall never find friend to his mind.

17 Love thy friend, and be faithful unto him: but ^f if thou bewrayest his secrets, follow no more after him. ^f Chap. 22. 22.

18 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy: so hast thou lost the love of thy neighbour.

19 As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so hast thou let thy neighbour go, and shalt not get him again.

20 Follow after him no more, for he is too far off, he is as a roe escaped out of the snare.

21 As for a wound it may be bound up; and after reviling there may be reconciliation: but he that bewrayeth secrets, is without hope.

22 He ^g that winketh with the eyes, worketh evil: and he that knoweth him will depart from him. ^g Prov. 10. 10.

23 When thou art present, he will speak sweetly, and will admire thy words: but at the last he will || writhe his mouth, and slander thy sayings. ^h Or, alter his speech.

24 I have hated many things, but nothing like him, for the Lord will hate him.

25 Whoso casteth a stone on high, casteth it on his own head, and a deceitful stroke shall make wounds.

26 ^h Whoso diggeth a pit, shall fall therein: ⁱ and ⁱ he that setteth a trap, shall be taken therein. ^h Psalm 7. 15. Prov. 26. 27. Ecclef. 10. 8. ⁱ Psalm 9. 15. & 35. 8.

27 He that worketh mischief, it shall fall upon him, and he shall not know whence it cometh.

28 Mockery and reproach are from the proud: but ^k vengeance as a lion shall lie in wait for them. ^k Deut. 32. 35. Rom. 12. 19.

29 They that rejoyce at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare, and anguish shall consume them before they die.

30 Malice and wrath, even these are abominations, and the sinful man shall have them both.

4 He sheweth no mercy to a man, which is like himself: and doth he ask forgiveness of his own sins?

5 If he that is but flesh nourish hatred, who will entreat for pardon of his sins?

6 Remember thy end, and let enmity cease; [remember] corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.

7 Remember the commandments, and bear no malice to thy neighbour: [remember] the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.

8 ^d Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins: for a furious man will kindle strife.

9 A sinful man disquieteth friends, and maketh debate among them that be at peace.

10 ^e As the matter of the fire is, so it burneth: and as a mans strength is, so is his wrath; and according to his riches his anger riseth; and the stronger they are which contend, the more they will be inflamed.

11 An hasty contention kindleth a fire: and an hasty fighting sheddeth blood.

12 If thou blow the spark, it shall burn; if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched: and both these come out of thy mouth.

13 ^f Curse the whisperer, and double-tongued: for such have destroyed many that were at peace.

14 A backbiting tongue hath disquieted many, and driven them from nation to nation; strong cities hath it pulled down, and overthrown the houses of great men.

15 A || backbiting tongue hath cast out virtuous women, and deprived them of their labours.

16 Whoso hearkneth unto it, shall never find rest, and never dwell quietly.

17 The stroke of the whip maketh marks in the flesh: but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.

18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword: but not so many as have fallen by the tongue.

19 Well is he that is defended from it, and hath not passed through the venom thereof; who hath not drawn the yoke thereof, nor hath been bound in her bands.

20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron, and the bands thereof are bands of brass.

21 The death thereof is an evil death, the grave were better than it.

22 It shall not have rule over them that fear God, neither shall they be burnt with the flame thereof.

23 Such as forsake the Lord, shall fall into it, and it shall burn in them, and not be quenched; it shall be sent upon them as a lion, and devour them as a leopard.

24 Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns, and bind up thy silver and gold:

25 And weigh thy words in a balance, and make a door and bar for thy mouth.

26 Beware thou slide not by it, lest thou fall before him that lieth in wait.

C H A P. XXIX.

1 We must shew mercy, and lend: 4 but the borrower must not defraud the lender. 9 Give alms. 14 A good man will not undo his surety. 18 To be surety, and undertake for others, is dangerous. 22 It is better to live at home, than to sojourn.

HE that is merciful, will lend unto his neighbour, and he that strengthneth his hand, keepeth the commandments.

2 ^a Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.

3 Keep thy word, and deal faithfully with him, and thou shalt always find the thing that is necessary for thee.

4 Many, when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and put them to trouble that helped them.

5 Till he hath received, he will kiss a mans hand; and for his neighbours money he will speak submissly: but when he should repay, he will prolong the time, and return words of grief, and complain of the time.

6 || If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half, and he will count as if he had found it: if not, he hath deprived him of his money, and he hath gotten him an enemy without cause: he payeth him with cursings and railings; and for honour he will pay him disgrace.

7 Many therefore have refused to lend for other mens ill dealing, fearing to be defrauded.

8 Yet have thou patience with a man in poor estate, and delay not to shew him mercy.

9 Help the poor for ^b the commandments sake, and turn him not away because of his poverty.

10 Lose thy money for thy brother and thy friend, and ^c let it not rust under a stone to be lost.

11 ^d Lay up thy treasure according to the commandments of the most High, and ^e it shall bring thee more profit than gold.

12 ^f Shut up alms in thy store-houses: and it shall deliver thee from all affliction.

13 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better than a mighty shield and strong spear.

14 An honest man is surety for his neighbour: but he that is impudent will || forsake him.

15 Forget not the friendship of thy surety, for he hath given his life for thee.

16 A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety:

17 And he that is of an unthankful mind, will leave him in [danger] that delivered him.

18 Suretiship hath undone many of good estate, and shaken them as a wave of the sea: mighty men hath it driven from their houses, so that they wandred among strange nations.

19 A wicked man transgressing the commandments of the Lord, shall fall into suretiship: and he that undertaketh and followeth other mens business for gain, shall fall into suits.

20 Help thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thy self fall not into the same.

21 The ^g chief thing for life is water and bread, and clothing, and an house to cover shame.

22 Better is the life of a poor man in a mean cottage, than delicate fare in another mans house.

23 Be it little or much, ^h hold thee contented, that thou hear not the reproach of thy house.

Of dreams.
THE hopes of a man void of understanding, are vain and false: and dreams lift up fools.

2 Who so || regardeth dreams, is like him that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind.

7 For dreams have deceived many, and they have failed that put their trust in them.

8 The law shall be found perfect without lies: and wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.

9 A man that hath travelled knoweth many things: and he that hath much experience will declare wisdom.

10 He that hath no experience knoweth little: but he that hath travelled is full of prudence.

11 When I travelled, I saw many things, and I understand more than I can express.

12 I was oft-times in danger of death: yet I was delivered because of these things.

13 The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live, for their hope is in him that saveth them.

14 Who so feareth the Lord, shall not fear nor be afraid, for he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord: to whom doth he look? and who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him, he is their mighty protection and strong stay, a defence from heat, and a cover from the sun at noon, a preservation from stumbling, and a help from falling.

17 He raiseth up the soul, and lightneth the eyes: he giveth health, life and blessing.

18 He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is ridiculous; and || the gifts of unjust men are not accepted.

19 The most High is not pleased with the offerings of the wicked; neither is he pacified for sin, by the multitude of sacrifices.

20 Who so bringeth an offering of the goods of the poor, doth as one that killeth the son before his fathers eyes.

21 The bread of the needy is their life: he that defraudeth him thereof is a man of blood.

22 He that taketh away his neighbours living, slayeth him: and he that defraudeth the labourer of his hire, is a blood-shedder.

23 When one buildeth, and another pulleth down, what profit have they then but labour?

24 When one prayeth, and another curseth, whose voice will the Lord hear?

25 He that washeth himself after the touching of a dead body, if he touch it again, what availeth his washing?

26 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sins, and goeth again and doth the same: who will hear his prayer? or what doth his humbling profit him?

CHAP. XXXV.

5 For all these things [are to be done] because of the commandment.

6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the sweet savour thereof is before the most High.

1 A prayer for the church against the enemies thereof.

18 A good heart, and a froward. 21 Of a good wife.

HAve mercy upon us, O Lord God of all: and behold us:

2 And send thy fear upon all the nations, that seek not after thee.

3 ^aLift up thy hand || against the strange nations, and let them see thy power.

4 As thou wast sanctified in us before them: so be thou magnified among them before us.

5 And let them know thee, as we have known thee, that there is no God but only thou, O God.

6 Shew new signs, and make other strange wonders: glorifie thy hand, and thy right arm, that they may set forth thy wondrous works.

7 Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath: take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.

8 Make the time short, remember the † covenant, and let them declare thy wonderful works.

9 Let him that escapeth be consumed by the rage of the fire, and let them perish that oppress the people.

10 Smite in sunder the heads of the rulers of the heathen, that say, There is none other but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together, and inherit thou them as from the beginning.

12 O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name, and upon Israel, whom thou hast named thy first-born.

13 O be merciful unto Jerusalem, thy holy city, ^c the place of thy rest.

14 Fill Sion || with thine unspeakable oracles, and thy people with thy glory.

15 Give testimony unto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise up prophets that have been in thy name.

16 Reward them that wait for thee, and let thy prophets be found faithful.

17 O Lord, hear the prayer of thy || servants, according to the ^d blessing of Aaron over thy people, that all they which dwell upon the earth, may know that thou art the Lord, the eternal God.

18 The belly devoureth all meats, yet is one meat better than another.

19 ^e As the palate tasteth divers kinds of venison: so doth an heart of understanding false speeches.

20 A froward heart causeth heaviness: but a man of experience will recompence him.

21 A woman will receive every man, yet is one daughter better than another.

22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance, and a man loveth nothing better.

23 If there be kindness, meekness, and comfort in her tongue, then is not her husband like || other men.

24 He that getteth a wife, beginneth || a possession, ^f a help like unto himself, and a pillar of rest.

25 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoiled: and he that hath no wife, will wander up and down mourning.

EVery friend saith, I am his friend also: but there is a friend which is only a friend in name.

2 Is it not a grief unto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?

3 O wicked imagination, whence camest thou in to cover the earth with deceit?

4 ^a There is a companion which rejoyceth in the prosperity of a friend: but in the time of trouble will be against him.

5 There is a companion which helpeth his friend for the belly, and taketh up the buckler || against the enemy.

17 Weep bitterly and make great mone, and use lamentation as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be evil-spoken of: and then comfort thy self for thy heaviness.

18 For of heaviness cometh death, and the heaviness of the ^f heart breaketh strength. ^f Prov. 15. 13. & 17. 22.

19 In affliction also sorrow remaineth: and the life of the poor is the curse of the heart.

28 The smith also sitting by the anvil, and considering the iron work, the vapour of the fire wasteth his flesh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace: the noise of the hammer and the anvil is ever in his ears, and his eyes look still upon the pattern of the thing that he maketh; he setteth his mind to finish his work, and watcheth to polish it perfectly.

C H A P. XXXIX.

1 A description of him that is truly wise. 12 An exhortation to praise God for his works; which are good to the good, and evil to them that are evil.

BUt he that giveth his mind to the law of the most High, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, will seek out the wisdom of all the ancient, and be occupied in prophecies.

2 He will keep the sayings of the renowned men: and where subtil parables are, he will be there also.

3 He will seek out the secrets of grave sentences, and be conversant in dark parables.

4 He shall serve among great men, and appear before princes: he will travel through strange countries, for he hath tried the good and the evil among men.

5 He will give his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him, and will pray before the most High, and will open his mouth in prayer, and make supplication for his sins.

6 When the great Lord will, he shall be filled with the spirit of understanding: he shall pour out wise sentences, and give thanks unto the Lord in his prayer.

7 He shall direct his counsel and knowledge, and in his secrets shall he meditate.

8 He shall shew forth that which he hath learned, and shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.

9 Many shall commend his understanding, and so long as the world endureth, it shall not be blotted out, his memorial shall not depart away, and his name shall live from generation to generation.

 Chap. 44. 15.* 10 Nations shall shew forth his wisdom, and the congregation shall declare his praise.

† Or, gain unto it. 11 If he die, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand: and if he live, he shall || increase it.

† Or, rivers of waters. 13 Harken unto me, ye holy children, and bud forth as a rose growing by the || brook of the field:

14 And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense, and flourish as a lily, send forth a smell, and sing a song of praise, bless the Lord in all his works.

15 Magnifie his name, and shew forth his praise with the songs of your lips, and with harps, and in praising him you shall say after this manner:

16 All the works of the Lord are exceeding good, and whatsoever he commandeth shall be accomplished in due season.

17 And none may say, What is this? wherefore is that? for at time convenient they shall all be sought out: ^cat his commandment the waters stood as an heap, and at the words of his mouth the receptacles of waters. ^c Psalm 33. 6. & 147. 15, 18.

18 At his commandment is done whatsoever pleaseth him, and none can hinder when he will save. ^c Psalm 135. 6.

19 The works of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from everlasting to everlasting; and there is nothing wonderful before him.

21 A man need not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for he hath made all things for their uses.

22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river, and watered it as a flood.

23 As he hath turned the waters into salt-ness: so shall the heathen inherit his wrath.

24 As his ways are plain unto the holy, so are they stumbling-blocks unto the wicked. ^c Hos. 14. 9.

25 For the good are good things created from the beginning: so evil things for sinners.

26 The principal things for the whole use of mans life, are water, fire, iron, and salt, flour of wheat, hony, milk, and the blood of the grape, and oyl, and clothing. ^c Chap. 29. 21. ^c Gen. 49. 11. Deut. 32. 14. Chap. 40. 20.

27 All these things are for good to the godly: so to the sinners they are turned into evil. ^c 1 Tim. 4. 4.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, which in their fury lay on sore strokes, in the time of destruction they pour out their force, and appease the wrath of him that made them.

29 Fire and hail, and famine and death, all these were created for vengeance; ^c Chap. 40. 9.

30 Teeth of wild beasts, and scorpions, || serpents, and the sword, punishing the wicked to destruction. ^c Deut. 32. 24. ^c Wisd. 16. 5. ^c Or, vipers.

31 They shall rejoyce in his commandment, and they shall be ready upon earth when need is, and when their time is come they shall not transgress his word.

32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved, and thought upon these things, and have left them in writing.

33 All the works of the Lord are good: and he will give every needful thing in due season. ^c Gen. 1. 32. Ver. 16.

34 So that a man cannot say, This is worse than that: for in time they shall all be well approved.

35 And therefore praise ye the Lord with the whole heart and mouth, and bless the name of the Lord.

1 The remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 5 The ungodly shall be accursed. 11 Of an evil and a good name. 14 Wisdom is to be uttered. 16
Of what things we should be ashamed.

O Death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liveth at rest in his possessions, unto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperity in all things; yea, unto him that is yet able to receive meat!

2 O death, acceptable is thy sentence unto the needy, and unto him whose strength fail-eth, that is now in the last age, and || is vexed || with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience.

|| Or, to whom every thing is troublesome.

3 Fear not the sentence of death, remember them that have been before thee, and that come after, for this is the sentence of the Lord over all flesh.

4 And why art thou against the pleasure of the most High? there is no inquisition in the grave, whether thou have lived ten, or an hundred, or a thousand years.

5 The children of sinners are abominable children, and they that are conversant in the dwelling of the ungodly.

6 The inheritance of sinners children shall perish, and their posterity shall have a perpetual reproach.

7 The children will complain of an ungodly father, because they shall be reproached for his sake.

8 Woe unto you, ungodly men, which have forsaken the law of the most high God: for if you increase, it shall be to your destruction.

9 And if you be born, you shall be born to a curse: and if you die, a curse shall be your portion.

10 ^a All that are of the earth shall turn to

1 Whereof we should not be ashamed. 9 Be careful of thy daughter. 12 Beware of a woman. 15 The works and greatness of God.

OF these things be not thou ashamed, and ^a accept no person to sin thereby:

2 Of the law of the most High, and his covenant, and of judgment to justifie the ungodly:

3 || Of reckoning with thy partners and || travellers, or || of the gift of the heritage of friends:

7 Deliver all things in number and weight, and put all in writing that thou || givest out, or receivest in.

8 Be not ashamed to || inform the unwise and foolish, and the extreme aged || that contendeth with those that are young: thus shalt thou be truly learned, and approved of all men living.

9 The father waketh for the daughter when no man knoweth, and the care for her taketh away sleep: when she is young, lest she pass away the flower of her age; and being married, lest she should be hated:

10 In her virginity, lest she should be defiled, and gotten with child in her fathers house; and having an husband, lest she should misbehave her self; and when she is married, lest she should be barren.

11 ^b Keep a sure watch over a shameless daughter, lest she make thee a laughing-stock to thine enemies, and a by-word in the city, and a reproach among the people, and make thee ashamed before the multitude.

12 Behold not every bodies ^c beauty, and sit not in the midst of women.

13 For from garments cometh a moth, and ^d from women wickedness.

14 Better is the || churlishness of a man, than a courteous woman, a woman, I say which bringeth shame and reproach.

15 I will now remember the works of the Lord, and declare the things that I have seen: In the words of the Lord are his works.

16 The sun that giveth light, looketh upon all things, and the work thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

17 ^e The Lord hath not given power to the faints to declare all his marvellous works, which the almighty Lord firmly settled, that whatsoever is, might be established for his glory.

18 He seeketh out the deep, and the heart, and considereth their crafty devices: || for the Lord knoweth all that may be known, and he beholdeth the signs of the world.

19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and revealeth the steps of hidden things.

20 ^f No thought escapeth him, neither any word is hidden from him.

21 He hath garnished the excellent works of his wisdom, and he is from everlasting to everlasting: unto him may nothing be added, neither can he be diminished, and he hath no need of any counseller.

22 Oh how desirable are all his works! and that a man may see even to a spark.

23 All these things live and remain for ever, for all uses, and they are all obedient.

24 ^g All things are double one against another: and he hath made nothing imperfect.

25 One thing establisheth the good of another: and who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

The praise of the fathers.

LET us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us.

2 The Lord hath wrought great glory by them, through his great power from the beginning.

3 Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding, and declaring prophecies:

4 Leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent in their instructions.

|| Or, ditties.

5 Such as found out musical tunes, and recited || verses in writing.

6 Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations.

7 All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times.

8 There be of them that have left a name behind them, that their praises might be reported.

* Gen. 7. 22.

9 And some there be which have no memorial, ^a who are perished as though they had never been, and are become as though they had never been born, and their children after them.

10 But these were merciful men, whose righteousness hath not been forgotten.

11 With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance, and their children are with-like ^m Enoch, for he was taken from the earth.

15 Neither was there a man born like unto ⁿ Joseph, a governor of his brethren, a stay of the people, whose bones were regarded of the Lord.

16 ^o Sem and Seth were in great honour among men, and so was Adam above every living thing in the creation.

CHAP. L.

¹ Of Simon the son of Onias. ²² How the people were taught to praise God, and pray. ²⁷ The conclusion.

Simon the high priest the son of Onias, who in his life repaired the house again, and in his days fortified the temple.

2 And by him was built from the foundation the double height, the high fortress of the wall about the temple.

3 In his days the ^a cistern to receive water, being in compass as the sea, was covered with plates of brass. ^{1 Kings 7. 23.}

4 He took care of the temple that it should not fall, and fortified the city against besieging.

5 How was he honoured in the midst of the people, in his coming out of [†] the sanctuary!

6 He was as the morning star in the midst of a cloud, and as the moon at the full: ^{† Gr. the house of the vail.}

7 As the sun shining upon the temple of the most High, and as the rainbow giving light in the bright clouds:

8 And as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense-tree in the time of summer:

9 As fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of beaten gold set with all manner of precious stones:

10 And as a fair olive-tree budding forth fruit, and as a cyprus-tree which groweth up to the clouds.

11 When he put on the robe of honour, and was clothed with the perfection of glory, when he went up to the holy altar, he made the garment of holiness honourable.

12 When he took the portions out of the priests hands, he himself stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as a young cedar in Libanus, and as palm-trees compassed they him round about.

13 So were all the sons of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And finishing the service at the altar that he might adorn the offering of the most high Almighty.

15 He stretched out his hand to the cup, and poured of the blood of the grape, he poured out at the foot of the altar, a sweet-smelling favour unto the most high king of all.

16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron, and sounded the || silver trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the most High. ^{Or, trumpets beaten forth with the hammer.}

17 Then all the people together hasted, and fell down to the earth upon their faces to worship their Lord God almighty the most High.

18 The fingers also sang praises with their voices, with great variety of sounds was there made sweet melody.

19 And the people besought the Lord the most High by prayer before him that is merciful, till the solemnity of the Lord was ended, and they had finished his service.

20 Then he went down, and lifted up his hands over the whole congregation of the children of Israel, to give the blessing of the Lord with his lips, and to rejoyce in his name.

21 And they bowed themselves down to worship the second time, that they might receive a blessing from the most High.

22 Now therefore bless ye the God of all, which only doth wondrous things every where, which exalteth our days from the womb, and dealeth with us according to his mercy.

23 He grant us joyfulness of heart, and that peace may be in our days in Israel for ever.

24 That he would confirm his mercy with us, and deliver us at his time.

25 There be two manner of nations which my heart abhorreth, and the third is no nation:

26 They that sit upon the mountain of Samaria, and they that dwell amongst the Philistines, and that foolish people that dwell in Sichem.

27 Jesus the son of Sirach of Jerusalem hath written in this book, the instruction of understanding and knowledge, who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.

28 Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things, and he that layeth them up in his heart, shall become wise.

29 For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, who giveth wisdom to the godly. Blessed be the Lord for ever. Amen, amen.

C H A P. LI.

¶ A Prayer of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

I Will thank thee, O Lord and King, and praise thee, O God, my Saviour, I do give praise unto thy name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserved my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that forge lies, and hast been my helper against mine adversaries:

3 And hast delivered me according to the multitude of thy mercies, and greatness of thy name from † the teeth of them that were ready to devour me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions which I had;

4 From the choking of fire on every side, and from the mids of the fire which I kindled not;

5 From the depth of the belly of hell, from an unclean tongue, and from lying words:

6 By an accusation to the king from an unrighteous tongue, my soul drew near even unto death, my life was near to the hell beneath.

7 They compassed me on every side, and there was no man to help me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8 Then thought I upon thy mercy, O Lord, and upon thy acts of old, how thou deliverest such as wait for thee, and savest them out of the hands of the enemies.

9 Then lifted I up my supplication from the earth, and prayed for deliverance from death.

10 I called upon the Lord the Father of my Lord, that he would not leave me in the days of my trouble, and in the time of the proud when there was no help.

11 I will praise thy name continually, and will sing praise with thanksgiving; || and so my prayer was heard. || because my prayer.

12 For thou savedst me from destruction, and deliveredst me from the evil time: therefore will I give thanks, and praise thee, and bless thy name, O Lord.

13 When I was yet young, or ever I || went abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer. || Or, went abroad.

14 I prayed for her before the temple, and will seek her out even to the end.

15 Even from the flower till the grape was ripe, hath my heart delighted in her: my foot went the right way, from my youth up sought I after her.

16 I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her, and gat much learning.

17 I profited therein, therefore will I ascribe the glory unto him that giveth me wisdom.

18 For I purposed to do after her, and earnestly I followed that which is good; so shall I not be confounded.

19 My soul hath wrestled with her, and in my doings I was exact: I stretched forth my hands to the heaven above, and bewailed my ignorances of her.

20 || I directed my soul unto her, and I found her in pureness: I have had my heart joyned with her from the beginning, therefore shall I not be forsaken. || Or, I got understanding.

21 My || heart was troubled in seeking her: || therefore have I gotten a good possession. || Or, bewails.

22 The Lord hath given me a tongue for my reward, and I will praise him therewith.

23 Draw near unto me, you unlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.

24 Wherefore are you slow, and what say you of these things, seeing your souls are very thirsty?

25 I opened my mouth, and said, * Buy her for your selves without money. * Isai. 55. 1.

26 Put your neck under the yoke, and let your soul receive instruction; ^b she is hard at ^c hand to find. ^b Deut. 30. 14.

27 ^c Behold with your eyes, how that I have had but little labour, and have gotten unto me much rest. ^c Chap. 6. 19.

28 Get learning with a great sum of money, and get much gold by her.

29 Let your soul rejoyce in his mercy, and be not ashamed of his praise.

30 Work your work betimes, and in his time he will give you your reward.

† Gr. the gnashing of the teeth.

CHAP. I.

¹ Baruch wrote a book in Babylon. ⁵ The Jews there wept at the reading of it. ⁷ They send money and the book, to the brethren at Jerusalem.

AND these are the words of the book which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maafias, the son of Sedecias, the son of Afadiah, the son of Chelcias, wrote in Babylon, ² In the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire.

³ And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jechonias the son of || Joachim king of Juda, and in the ears of all the people that came to hear the book,

⁴ And in the hearing of the nobles, and of the kings sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and of all the people, from the lowest unto the highest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon, by the river Sud.

⁵ Whereupon they wept, fasted, || and prayed before the Lord.

⁶ They made also a collection of money, according to every mans power.

⁷ And they sent it to Jerusalem unto || Joachim the high priest the son of Chelcias, son of Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem,

⁸ At the same time, when he received ^a the vessels of the house of the Lord that were carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Juda the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Sedecias the son of Josias king of Juda had made,

⁹ After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Jachonias, and the princes, and the || captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon:

¹⁰ And they said, Behold, we have sent you money to buy you burnt-offerings, and sin-offerings, and incense, and prepare ye [†] manna, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God.

¹³ Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the fury of the Lord and his wrath is not turned from us.

¹⁴ And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the feast and solemn days.

¹⁵ And ye shall say, ^c To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us the confusion of faces, as it is come to pass this day, unto them of Juda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

¹⁶ And to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers.

¹⁷ For we have ^d sinned before the Lord, ^e Dan. 9. 5.

¹⁸ And disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments that he gave us openly:

¹⁹ Since the day that the Lord brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have been negligent in not hearing his voice.

²¹ Nevertheless we have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets whom he sent unto us:

²² But every man followed the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

The prayer and confession which the Jews at Babylon made, and sent in that book unto the brethren in Jerusalem.

Therefore the Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Juda,

² To bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that were written in the law of Moses,

³ That a man should ^a eat the flesh of his own son, and the flesh of his own daughter. ^b Deut. 28. 53. Lam. 2. 20. &c. 4. 10.

⁶ ^e To the Lord our God appertaineth righteousness: but unto us and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day. ^f Chap. 1. 18.

⁷ For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us.

⁸ ^f Yet have we not prayed before the Lord, ^g Dan. 9. 13, &c. that we might turn every one from the imaginations of his wicked heart.

⁹ Wherefore the Lord watched over us for evil, and the Lord hath brought it upon us: for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us.

¹⁰ Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us.

Dan. 9. 15.

11 ⁸ And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand and high arm, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and ^h hast gotten thy self a name, as appeareth this day:

^h Neh. 9. 10.

12 O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turn from us: for ⁱ we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us.

14 Hear our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away:

[†] Gr. thy name is called upon Israel.

15 That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because [†] ^k Israel and his posterity is called by thy name.

⁸ Dan. 9. 19.
Isa. 63. 15.

16 O Lord, ⁱ look down from thy holy house, and consider us: bow down thine ear, O Lord, to hear us.

^m Psal. 6. 5. & 115. 17.
Isa. 38. 18, 19.
Eccles. 17. 27, 28.

17 Open thine eyes and behold, for the ^m dead that are in the graves, whose [†] souls are taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither praise nor righteousness:

[†] Gr. spirit, or, life.

18 But the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul will give thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.

^m Dan. 9. 18.

19 ⁿ Therefore we do not make our humble supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings.

20 For thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying,

^m Jer. 27. 11.

21 ^o Thus saith the Lord, Bow down your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon: so shall ye remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers.

22 But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord to serve the king of Babylon,

^m Jer. 7. 34. & 16. 9. & 25. 10.

23 ^p I will cause to cease out of the cities of Juda, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

^m Jer. 8. 1, 2.

24 But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good ^q the words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should be taken out of their places.

25 And lo, they are cast out to the heat of the day, and to the frost of the night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by pestilence.

26 And the house which is called by thy name (hast thou laid waste) as it is to be seen this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel, and the house of Juda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy goodness, and according to all that great mercy of thine,

28 As thou spakest by thy servant Moses, in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying,

^m Lev. 26. 14.
Deut. 28. 15, 62.

29 ^r If ye will not hear my voice, surely

[†] this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations where I will scatter them.

30 For I knew that they would not hear me, because it is a stiff-necked people: but ^s in the land of their captivities, they shall ^{||} remember themselves,

^m Lev. 26. 39, 40.
^{||} Or, come to themselves.

31 And shall know that I am the Lord their God: for ^t I will give them an heart, and ears to hear.

^m Deut. 30. 6.
Jer. 24. 7.

32 And they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name, 33 And return from their stiff [†] neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

[†] Gr. back.

34 And I will bring them again into the land which I promised with an oath unto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

35 And ^v I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more drive my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

^m Jer. 31. 32, 33.

CHAP. III.

3 The rest of their prayer and confession contained in that book which Baruch wrote, and sent to Jerusalem. 30 Wisdom was shewed first to Jacob, and was seen upon the earth.

O Lord almighty, God of Israel, the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit crieth unto thee.

2 Hear, O Lord, and have mercy: for thou art merciful; and have pity upon us, because we have sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for ever, and we perish utterly.

4 O Lord almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayers of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which have sinned before thee, and not hearkned unto the voice of thee their God: for the which cause these plagues cleave unto us.

5 Remember not the iniquities of our forefathers: but think upon thy power and thy name now at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

7 And for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, to the intent that we should call upon thy name, and praise thee in our captivity: for ^a we have called to mind all the iniquity of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

^m Deut. 32. 1.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

9 Hear, Israel, the commandments of life: give ear to understand wisdom.

10 How happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, that thou art defiled with the dead, 11 That thou art ^b counted with them that go down into the grave?

^m Psalm 88. 2.

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountain of wisdom.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God,

God, thou shouldst have dwelled in peace for ever.

14 Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding; that thou mayst know also where is length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.

^{Job 28. 12, 20.} 15 * Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts upon the earth, 17 They that had their pastime with the fowls of the Air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold wherein men trust, and made no end of their getting?

18 For they that wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are unsearchable, 19 They are vanished and gone down to the grave, and others are come up in their steads.

20 Young men have seen light, and dwelt upon the earth; but the way of knowledge have they not known, 21 Nor understood the paths thereof, nor laid hold of it: their children were far off from that way.

^{Jer. 49. 7.} 22 It hath not been heard of in Chanaan, ^d neither hath it been seen in Theman.

23 The Agarenes that seek wisdom upon earth, the Merchants of Meran, and of Theman, the || authors of fables, and searchers out of understanding: none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remember her paths.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God, and how large is the place of his possession!

25 Great, and hath none end; high and unmeasurable.

26 There were the giants famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in war.

27 Those did not the Lord choose, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them.

28 But they were destroyed because they had no wisdom, and perished through their own foolishness.

^{Deut. 30. 12, 13. Rom. 10. 6, 7.} 29 * Who hath gone up into heaven and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds?

30 Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for pure gold?

31 No man knoweth her way, nor thinketh of her path.

32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and hath found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore, hath filled it with four-footed beasts.

33 He that sendeth forth light, and it goeth; calleth it again, and it obeyeth him with fear.

^{Psal. 147. 4.} 34 The stars shined in their watches, and rejoiced: when ^f he calleth them, they say here we be; and so with cheerfulness they shewed light unto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him.

36 He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel his beloved.

^{Prov. 8. 37. John 1. 14} 37 ^g Afterward did he shew himself upon earth, and conversed with men.

¹ The book of commandments, is that wisdom which was commanded in the former chapter. 25 The Jews are moved to patience, and to hope for their deliverance.

THis is the book of the Commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: all they that keep it shall come to life; but such as leave it shall die.

2 Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk [†] in the presence of the Light thereof, that thou mayst be illuminated. ^{† Gr. to the shining before the light thereof.}

3 Give not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee, to a strange nation.

4 O Israel, happy are we: for things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us.

5 Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel.

6 ^a Ye were sold to the nations, not for ^a [your] destruction: but because ye moved God ^b to wrath, ye were delivered unto the enemies. ^{a Isa. 50. 1. 52.}

7 For ye provoked him that made you, by ^b sacrificing unto devils, and not to God. ^{b 1 Cor. 10. 20.}

8 Ye have forgotten the everlasting God, that brought you up, and ye have grieved Jerusalem that nursed you.

9 For when she saw the wrath of God coming upon you, she said, Harken, O ye that dwell about Sion: God hath brought upon me great mourning.

10 For I saw the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting brought upon them.

11 With joy did I nourish them; but sent them away with weeping and mourning.

12 Let no man rejoyce over me a widow, and forsaken of many, who for the sins of my children am left desolate: because they departed from the law of God.

13 They knew not his statutes nor walked in the ways of his commandments, nor trod in the paths || of discipline in his righteousness. ^{|| Or, of his discipline in righteousness.}

14 Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them.

15 For ^c he hath brought a nation upon ^c them from far, a shameless nation, and of a ^d strange language, who neither revered old man, nor pitied child. ^{c Deut. 28. 49. d.}

16 These have carried away the dear-beloved children of the widow, and left her that was alone, desolate without daughters.

17 But what can I help you?

18 For he that brought these plagues upon you, will deliver you from the hands of your enemies.

19 Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate.

20 I have put off the clothing of || peace, and ^{|| Or, prosperity} put upon me the sackcloth of my prayer: I will cry unto the Everlasting || ^d in my days. ^{|| Or, in the time of mine affliction.}

21 Be of good cheer, O my children, cry ^d unto the Lord, and he shall deliver you from ^d the power and hand of the enemies. ^{d Psal. 116. 2. & 137. 7.}

22 For my hope is in the Everlasting that he will save you, and joy is come unto me from the holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from the Everlasting our Saviour.

23 For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: but God will give you to me again, with joy and gladness for ever.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion have seen your Captivity; so shall they see shortly your your salvation from our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting.

25 My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread upon his neck.

|| Or, My darlings.

26 || My delicate ones have gone rough ways, and were taken away as a flock caught of the enemies.

27 Be of good comfort, O my children, and cry unto God: for you shall be remembered of him that brought these things upon you.

28 For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so being returned, seek him ten times more.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues upon you, shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation.

30 Take a good heart, O Jerusalem: for he that gave thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall.

32 Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons.

33 For as she rejoiced at thy ruin, and was glad of thy fall: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation.

34 For I will take away the rejoicing of her great multitude, and her pride shall be turned into mourning.

35 For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure, and she shall be inhabited of devils for a great time.

* Chap. 3. 5.

36 * O Jerusalem, look about thee towards the east, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God.

37 Lo, thy sons come whom thou sentest away, they come gathered together from the east to the west, by the word of the holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God.

C H A P. V.

1 Jerusalem is moved to rejoyce, 5 and to behold their return out of captivity with glory.

PUT off, O Jerusalem, the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever.

2 Cast about thee a double garment of the righteousness which cometh from God; and set a diadem on thine head, of the glory of the Everlasting.

3 For God will shew thy brightness unto every country under heaven.

4 For thy name shall be called of God for ever, The peace of righteousness, and the glory of Gods worship.

* Chap. 4. 36.

5 Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand on high, and * look about toward the east, and behold thy children gathered from the west unto the east by the word of the holy One, rejoicing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foot, and were led away of their enemies: but God bringeth them unto thee exalted with glory, as children of the kingdom.

* Isaiah 40. 4.

7 For God hath appointed that ^b every high hill, and banks of long continuance should be cast down, and vallies filled up, to make even the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God.

8 Moreover, even the woods, and every sweet-smelling tree, shall overshadow Israel by the commandment of God.

9 For God shall lead Israel with joy, in the light of his glory, with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

1 The cause of their captivity is their sin. 3 The place whereto they were carried is Babylon: The vanity of whose idols and idolatry is set forth at large in this chapter.

A Copy of an epistle which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them as it was commanded him of God.

2 Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.

3 So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, namely seven generations: and after that, I will bring you away peaceably from thence.

4 * Now shall ye see in Babylon gods, of silver and of gold, and of wood born upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear. ^{a Psalm 115. Isa. 44. 8, 9, 10 & 46. 5, 7. Wild. 23. 10.}

5 Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like to strangers, neither be ye afraid of them, when ye see the multitude before them, and behind them, worshipping them.

6 But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee.

7 For mine angel is with you, and I myself caring for your souls.

8 As for their tongue, it is polished by the workman, and they themselves are gilded and laid over with gold, ^b yet are they but false and cannot speak. ^{c Psalm 135. 16.}

9 And taking gold as it were for a virgin that loves to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods.

10 Sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves.

11 Yea, they will give thereof to the || com- <sup>|| Or, which prostitute themselves
openly.</sup> mon harlots, and deck them as men with garments [being] gods of silver, and gods of gold, and wood.

12 Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple raiment.

13 They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, when there is much upon them.

14 And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth him; holdeth a sceptre, as though he were a judge of the country.

15 He hath also in his right hand a dagger, and an ax: but cannot deliver himself from war and thieves.

16 Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not.

17 For like as a vessel that a man useth, is nothing worth, when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temple, their eyes be full of dust, through the feet of them that come in.

18 And as the || doors are made sure on ^{|| Or, compass.} every side, upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death: even so the priests make fast their temples, with doors, with locks and bars, lest their gods be spoiled with robbers.

19 They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see one.

20 They are as one of the beams of the temple, yet they say their hearts are $\dagger$ gnawed upon by things creeping out of the earth, and when they eat them and their clothes, they feel it not.

21 Their faces blacked, through the smoak that comes out of the temple.

22 Upon their bodies and heads, sit bats, swallows, and birds, and the cats also.

23 By this you may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not.

24 Notwithstanding the gold that is about them to make them beautiful, except they wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for neither when they were molten did they feel it.

25 The things wherein there is no breath, $\parallel$ Or, any price. are bought for $\parallel$ a most high price.

26 $\circ$ They are born upon shoulders, having no feet, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth.

27 They also that serve them, are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither if they be bowed down, can they make themselves straight: but they set $\parallel$ gifts before them as unto dead men.

28 As for the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and $\parallel$ abuse: in like manner their wives lay up part thereof in salt, but unto the poor and impotent they give nothing of it.

29 Menstruous women and women in child-bed $\dagger$ eat their sacrifices: by these things ye may know that they are no gods: fear them not.

30 For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood.

31 And the priests sit in their temples, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads.

32 They rore and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

33 The priests also take off their garments, and clothe their wives and children.

34 Whether it be evil that one doth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompence it: they can neither set up a king, nor put him down.

35 In like manner they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them and keep it not, they will not require it.

36 They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty.

37 They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor help any man in his distress.

38 They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless.

39 Their gods of wood, and which are overlaid with gold and silver, are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain: they that worship them shall be confounded.

40 How should a man then think and say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them?

41 Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they $\parallel$ bring him and intreat Bel that he may speak, as though he were able to understand. $\parallel$ Or, bid him call upon Bel.

42 Yet they cannot understand this themselves, and leave them: for they have no $\parallel$ knowledge. $\parallel$ Or, sense.

43 The women also with cords about them, sitting in the ways, burn bran for perfume: but if any of them drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him; she reproacheth her fellow that she was not thought as worthy as her self, nor her cord broken.

44 Whatsoever is done among them is false: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

45 They are made of carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workman will have them to be.

46 And they themselves that made them, can never continue long; how should then the things that are made of them be gods?

47 For they left lies and reproaches to them that come after.

48 For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them.

49 How then cannot men perceive that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war nor from plague?

50 $\circ$ For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with silver and gold, it shall be known hereafter that they are false: $\circ$ Psal. 115. 4. Wisd. 13. 10.

51 And it shall manifestly appear to all nations and kings, that they are no gods, but the works of mens hands, and that there is no work of God in them.

52 Who then may not know that they are no gods?

53 For neither can they set up a king in the land, nor give rain unto men.

54 Neither can they judge their own cause, nor redress a wrong being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth.

55 Whereupon when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or laid over with gold or silver, their priests will flee away, and escape; but they themselves shall be burnt asunder like beams.

56 Moreover, they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?

57 Neither are those gods of wood, and laid over with silver or gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers.

58 Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong do take, and go away withal: neither are they able to help themselves.

59 Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his power, or else a profitable vessel in an house, which the owner shall have use of, than such false gods; or to be a door in an house, to keep such things safe as be therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods.

60 For sun, moon, and stars, being bright, and sent to do their offices, are obedient.

61 In like manner the lightning when it breaketh forth is easie to be seen, and $\parallel$ after the same manner the wind bloweth in every country. $\parallel$ Or, the same wind.

62 And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden.

63 And the fire sent from above to consume hills and woods, doth as it is commanded: but these are like unto them neither in shew nor power.

64 Wherefore it is neither to be supposed nor said, that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to judge causes nor to do good unto men.

65 Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not.

66 For they can neither curse nor bless kings.

67 Neither can they shew signs in the heavens among the heathen, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon.

68 The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves.

69 It is then by no means manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not.

70 For as a scar-crow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold.

71 And likewise their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold, are like to a white thorn in an orchard that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body that is cast into the dark.

72 And you shall know them to be no gods, by the || bright purple that rotteth upon them: || Or, purple and brightness.

73 Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

¶ The Song of the three holy Children, which followeth in the third chapter of DANIEL after this place,----- fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked-----unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar----verse 24.

2 Azarias his prayer and confession in the flame, 24 wherewith the Chaldeans about the oven were consumed, but the three children within it were not hurt. 28 The song of the three children in the oven.

AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord.

2 Then Azarias stood up, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire, said,

3 Blessed art thou O Lord God of our fathers: thy name is worthy to be praised, and glorified for evermore.

4 For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to us: yea, true are all thy works, thy ways are right, and ^a all thy judgments truth.

5 In all the things which thou hast brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgment: for according to truth and judgment didst thou bring all these things upon us, because of our sins.

6 For we have sinned and committed iniquity, departing from thee.

7 In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that it might go well with us.

8 Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and every thing that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgment.

9 And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful forsakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world.

10 And now we cannot open our mouth, we are become a shame and reproach to thy servants, and to them that worship thee.

11 Yet deliver not us up wholly, for thy names sake, neither disannul thou thy covenant.

12 And cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for thy beloved Abrahams sake, for thy servant Isaacs sake, and for thy holy Israels sake;

13 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, That thou wouldst multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that lieth upon the sea-shore.

14 For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins.

15 Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt-offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place, to sacrifice before thee, and to find mercy.

16 ^b Nevertheless, in a contrite heart and an humble spirit let us be accepted.

17 Like as in the burnt-offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs: ^c so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee: for ^d they shall not be confounded that put their trust in thee.

18 And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face.

19 Put us not to shame: but deal with us after thy loving kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

20 Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt, be ashamed;

21 And let them be confounded || in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken;

22 And let them know that thou art Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.

23 And the kings servants that put them in, cealed not to make the oven hot with || rosin, pitch, tow, and small wood;

|| Or, by thy power and might.

|| Or, naphtha, which is a certain kind of resin, and chalky clay. Plin. lib. 2. c. 105.

24 So that the flame streamed forth above the furnace, forty and nine cubits.

25 And it passed through, and burnt those Chaldeans it found about the furnace.

26 But the angel of the Lord came down into the oven, together with Azarias and his fellows, and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven:

Or, cool.

27 And made the mids of the furnace, as it had been a || moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.

28 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, 29 Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.

30 And blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.

31 Blessed art thou in the temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.

32 Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and fittest upon the cherubims: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.

33 Blessed art thou on the glorious throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.

34 Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven: and above all to be praised and glorified for ever.

Or, highly exalt: and so in the rest.

Plal. 148. 4.

35 O all ye works of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and || exalt him above all for ever.

36 O ye heavens, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

37 O ye angels of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

61 O Israel, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

62 O ye priests of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

63 O ye servants of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

64 O ye spirits and souls of the righteous, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

65 O ye || holy and humble men of heart, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever. || Or, saints.

66 O Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever: for he hath delivered us from || hell, and || Or, grave. saved us from the hand of death, and delivered us out of the midst of the furnace, and burning flame: even out of the midst of the fire hath he delivered us.

67 O give thanks unto the Lord, because he is gracious: for his mercy endureth for ever.

68 O all ye that worship the Lord, bless the God of gods, praise him, and give him thanks: for his mercy endureth for ever.

¶ The History of Sufanna, set apart from the beginning of Daniel, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of † Bel and the Dragon.

† Gr. Bel's dragon.

16 Two judges hide themselves in the garden of Sufanna to have their pleasure of her: 28 which when they could not obtain, they accuse, and cause her to be condemned for adultery: 46 but Daniel examineth the matter again, and findeth the two judges false.

HERE dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim.

2 And he took a wife, whose name was Sufanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord.

3 Her

18 And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these.

20 And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry.

21 And took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him the privy doors where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table.

22 Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 || And in that same place there was a great dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

24 And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, he eateth and drinketh, thou canst not say that he is no living God: therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel unto the king, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the living God.

26 But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave.

27 Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragons mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder: and Daniel said, || Lo, these are the gods you worship.

28 When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slain the dragon, and put the priests to death.

29 So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house.

30 Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore; being constrained, he^b delivered^a Daniel unto them: ^{Dan. 6. 16}

31 Who cast him into the lions den: where he was six days.

32 And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day || two carcasses, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel. ^{|| Or, two slaves.}

33 Now there was in Jury a prophet called Habbacuc, who had || made pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl: and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. ^{|| Or, food.}

34 But the angel of the Lord said unto Habbacuc, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, who is in the lions den.

35 And Habbacuc said, Lord, I never saw Babylon: neither do I know where the den is.

36 Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and^c bare him by the hair of his head, and through the vehemency of his spirit, set him in Babylon over the den. ^{Ezek. 8. 3.}

37 And Habbacuc cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, ^d take the dinner which God hath sent thee. ^{1 King. 17. 4.}

38 And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that seek thee, and love thee.

39 So Daniel arose and did eat: and the angel of the Lord set Habbacuc in his own place again immediately.

40 Upon the seventh day the king went to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel was sitting.

41 Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

42 ^e And he drew him out, and cast those^f that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face. ^{Jer. 37. 17.}

¶ The Prayer of MANASSES king of Juda, when he was holden captive in Babylon.

Before
Christ
cir. 676.

O Lord, Almighty God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all men fear, and tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be born, and thine angry threatening towards sinners is importable: but thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable; for thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long-suffering, very merciful, and repentest of the evils of men. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: My transgressions, are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven, for the multitude of mine iniquity. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head, || neither have any release: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done evil before thee, I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace: I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore I humbly beseech thee forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent: and ^{|| Or, neither take my breath.}

Before Christ 323. and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. Therefore I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: for all the powers of the heavens do praise thee, and thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen. Before Christ 168.

The First Book of the MACCABEES.

CHAP. I.

14 Antiochus gave leave to set up the fashions of the Gentiles in Jerusalem, 22 and spoiled it, and the temple in it, 57 and set up therein the abomination of desolation, 63 and slew those that did circumcise their Children.

ND it happened, after that Alexander son of Philip, the Macedonian, who came out of the land of Chethiim, had smitten Darius king of the Persians and Medes, that he reigned in his stead, the first over Greece,

2 And made many wars, and wan many strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth,

3 And went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of many nations, inso-much that the earth was quiet before him; whereupon || he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up.

4 And he gathered a mighty strong host, and ruled over countries, and nations, and || kings, who became tributaries unto him.

5 And after these things he fell sick, and perceived † that he should die.

6 Wherefore he called his servants, such as were honourable, and had been brought up with him from his youth, and parted his kingdom among them, while he was yet alive.

7 So Alexander reigned twelve years, and then died.

8 And his servants bare rule every one in his place.

9 And after his death, they all put crowns upon themselves; so did their sons after them many years: and evils were multiplied in the earth.

10 And there came out of them a wicked root, Antiochus surnamed Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been an hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

11 In those days went there out of Israel, wicked men, who perswaded many, saying, Let us go, and make a covenant with the heathen, that are round about us: for since we departed from them, † we have had much sorrow.

12 So this device pleased them well.

13 Then certain of the people were so forward herein, that they went to the king, who gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the heathen:

14 Whereupon * they || built a place of exercise at Jerusalem, according to the customs of the heathen:

15 And ^b made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joyned themselves to the heathen, and ^c were sold to do mischief.

16 Now when the kingdom was established before Antiochus, he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might have the dominion of two realms.

17 Wherefore he entred into Egypt ^d with a great multitude, with chariots, and elephants, and horsemen, and a great navy, ^e Dan. 11. 29.

18 And made war against Ptolemee king of Egypt: but Ptolemee was afraid of him, and fled; and many were wounded to death.

19 Thus they got the strong cities in the land of Egypt, and he took the spoils thereof.

20 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he returned again in the hundred forty and third year, and ^e went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a great multitude, ^f Dan. 8. 12.

21 And ^f entred proudly into the sanctuary, ^g Dan. 11. 31, and took away the golden altar, and the candlestick of light, and all the vessels thereof,

22 And the table of the shew-bread, and the pouring vessels, and the vials, and the censers of gold, and the vail, and the crowns, and the golden ornaments that were before the temple || all which he pulled off.

23 He took also the silver and the gold, and the † precious vessels: also he took the hidden † ^h treasures which he found, ⁱ Or, he filled all things. ^j Gr. desirable.

24 And when he had taken all away, he went into his own land, having made a great massacre, and spoken very proudly.

25 Therefore there was great mourning in Israel, in every place where they were;

26 So that the princes and elders mourned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of women was changed.

27 Every bridegroom took up lamentation, and she that sat in the marriage-chamber, was in heaviness.

28 The land was also moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was covered with confusion.

29 And after two years fully expired, ^k the king sent his chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Juda, who came unto Jerusalem with a great multitude, ^l 2 Mac. 5. 24.

30 And spake peaceable words unto them, but all was deceit: for when they had given him credence, he fell suddenly upon the city, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

31 And when he had taken the spoils of the city, he set it on fire, and pulled down the houses and walls thereof on every side.

32 But the women and children took they captive, and possessed the cattle.

33 Then builded they the city of David with a great and strong wall, and with mighty towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

34 And they put therein a sinful nation, wicked men, and fortified themselves therein.

35 They stored it also with armour and victuals, and when they had gathered together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and so they became a sore snare.

Before 36 For it was a place to lie in wait against the Christ sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel.

168 37 Thus they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled it:

38 Inſomuch that the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem fled becauſe of them: whereupon the city was made an habitation of ſtrangers, and became ſtrange to thoſe that were born in her, and her own children left her.

39 Her ſanctuary was laid waſte like a wil-derneſs, ^h her feaſts were turned into mourning, her ſabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt.

40 As had been her glory, ſo was her diſhonour increaſed, and her excellency was turned into mourning.

41 Moreover, king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all ſhould be one people,

42 And every one ſhould leave his laws ^f o all the heathen agreed, according to the commandment of the king.

43 Yea, many alſo of the Iſraelites conſented to his religion, and ſacrificed unto idols, and profaneſt the ſabbath.

44 For the king had ſent letters by meſſengers unto Jeruſalem, and the cities of Juda, that they ſhould follow ^{||} the ſtrange laws of the land,

45 And forbid burnt-offerings, and ſacrifice, and drink-offerings in the temple; and that they 20 Yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers.

21 God forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances.

22 We will not hearken to the kings words, to go from our religion, either on the right hand, or the left.

23 Now when he had left speaking these words, there came one of the Jews in the sight of all, to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modin, according to the kings commandment.

24 Which thing when Mattathias saw, he was inflamed with zeal, and his reins trembled, neither could he forbear to shew his anger according to judgment: wherefore he ran, and slew him upon the altar.

25 Also the kings commissioner who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and the altar he pulled down.

* Numb. 25. 7. 26 Thus dealt he zealously for the law of God, like as Phinees did unto Zambri the son of Salom.

27 And Mattathias cried throughout the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous of the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him follow me.

* Chap. i. 33. 31 Now when it was told the kings servants, and the host that was at Jerusalem, in the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the kings commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness, 32 They pursued after them a great number, and having overtaken them, they camped against them, and made war against them, on the sabbath-day.

33 And they said unto them, Let that which you have done hitherto, suffice; come forth, and do according to the commandment of the king, and you shall live.

39 Now when Mattathias and his friends understood hereof, they mourned for them right fore.

40 And one of them said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not for our lives and laws against the heathen, they will now quickly root us out of the earth.

41 At that time therefore they decreed, saying, Whosoever shall come to make battle with us on the sabbath-day, we will fight against him, neither will we die all as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

42 Then came there unto him a company of Assideans, who were mighty men of Israel, even all such as were voluntarily devoted unto the law.

43 Also all they that fled for persecution, joyined themselves unto them, and were a stay unto them.

44 So they joyined their forces, and smote sinful men in their anger, and wicked men in their wrath: but the rest fled to the heathen for succour.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars.

46 And what children soever they found within the coast of Israel uncircumcised, those they circumcised || valiantly.

49 Now when the time drew near that Mattathias should die, he said unto his sons, Now hath pride and rebuke gotten strength, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation:

¹ The valour and fame of Judas Maccabeus: ¹⁰ He overbroweth the forces of Samaria and Syria. ²⁷ Antiochus sendeth a great power against him; ⁴⁴ He and his fall to fasting and prayer, ⁵⁸ and are encouraged.

THEN his son Judas, called Maccabeus, rose up in his stead.

2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that held with his father, and they fought with cheerfulness the battle of Israel.

3 So he gat his people great honour, and put on a breast-plate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and he made battles, protecting the host with his sword.

4 In his acts he was like a lion, and like a lions whelp roaring for his prey.

5 For he pursued the wicked, and fought them out, and burnt up those that vexed his people.

6 Wherefore the wicked shrunk, for fear of him, and all the workers of iniquity were troubled, because salvation prospered in his hand.

7 He grieved also many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever.

8 Moreover he went through the cities of Juda, destroying the ungodly out of them, and turning away wrath from Israel:

9 So that he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he † received unto him such as were ready to perish.

11 Which thing when Judas perceived, he went forth to meet him, and so he smote him and slew him: many also fell down slain, but the rest fled.

12 Wherefore Judas took their spoils, and Apollonius sword also, and therewith he fought all his life long.

13 Now when Seron a prince of the army of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered unto him a multitude and company of the faithful to go out with him to war;

14 He said, I will get me a name and honour in the kingdom, for I will go fight with Judas, and them that are with him, who despise the kings commandment.

17 Who when they saw the host coming to meet them, said unto Judas, How shall we be able being so few, to fight against so great a multitude and so strong, seeing we are ready to faint with fasting all this day?

25 Then began the fear of Judas and his brethren, and an exceeding great dread to fall upon the nations round about them:

26 Inasmuch as his fame came unto the king, and all nations talked of the battles of Judas.

27 Now when king Antiochus heard these things, he was full of indignation: wherefore he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, even a very strong army.

28 He opened also his treasure, and gave his soldiers pay for a year, commanding them to be ready † whensoever he should need them.

† Gr. at every

29 Nevertheless, when he saw that the money of his treasures failed, and † that the tributes in the country were small, because of the dissension, and plague which he had brought upon the land, || in taking away the laws which had been of old time;

† Gr. that the

30 He feared † that he should not be able to bear the charges any longer, nor to have such gifts to give so liberally, as he did before: for he had abounded above the kings that were before him.

† Gr. that he should not have.

31 Wherefore being greatly perplexed in his mind, he determined to go into Persia, there to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lyfias, a noble man, and one of the blood royal, to oversee the affairs of the king, from the river Euphrates, unto the borders of Egypt:

33 And

33 And to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again.

34 Moreover, he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all things that he would have done, as also concerning them that dwelt in Juda and Jerusalem:

35 To wit, that he should send an army against them, to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from that place;

36 And that he should place strangers in all their quarters, and divide their land by lot.

37 So the king took the half of the forces that remained, and departed from Antioch to his royal city, the hundred forty and seventh year; and having passed the river Euphrates, he went through the high countries.

38 Then Lyfias chose Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the kings friends:

39 And with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plain country.

41 And the merchants of the country hearing the fame of them, took silver and gold very much, with || servants, and came into the camp to buy the children of Israel for slaves: a power also of Syria, and of the land || of the Philistines, joyned themselves unto them.

42 Now when Judas and his brethren saw that miseries were multiplied, and that the forces did encamp themselves in their borders, (for they knew how the king had given commandment to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them)

43 They said one to another, Let us restore the decayed estate of our people, and let us fight for our people, and the sanctuary.

44 Then was the congregation gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask mercy and compassion.

45 Now Jerusalem lay void ^b as a wilderness, there was none of her children that went in or out: the sanctuary also was trodden down, and aliens kept the strong hold: the heathen had their habitation in that place, and joy was taken from Jacob, and the pipe with the harp ceased.

46 Wherefore the Israelites assembled themselves together, and came to || Maspha, over against Jerusalem; for ^c in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.

47 Then they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and cast ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes:

48 And laid open the book of the law, || wherein the heathen had sought to paint the likeness of their images.

49 They brought also the priests garments, and the first-fruits, and the tithes: and the ^d Nazarites they stirred up, who had accomplished their days.

50 Then cried they with a loud voice toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these, and whither shall we carry them away?

51 For thy sanctuary is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness, and brought low.

52 And lo, the heathen are assembled together against us to destroy us: what things they imagine against us, thou knowest.

53 How shall we be able to stand against them, except thou, O God, be our help?

54 Then sounded they with trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

55 And after this, Judas ordained captains over the people, even captains over thousands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.

56 But as for such as ^e were building houses, ^f or had betrothed wives, or were planting vineyards, or ^g were fearful, those he commanded that they should return, every man to his own house according to the law.

57 So the camp removed, and pitched upon the south-side of Emmaus.

58 And Judas said, Arm your selves, and be valiant men, and see that ye be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these nations that are assembled together against us, to destroy us and our sanctuary.

59 For it is better for us to die in battle, than to behold the calamities of our people, and our sanctuary.

60 Nevertheless, as the will of God is in heaven, so let him do.

C H A P. IV.

6 Judas defeateth the plot, 14 and forces of Gorgias, 23 and spoileth their tents, 34 and overthroweth Lyfias: 45 He pulleth down the altar which the heathen had profaned, and setteth up a new: 60 and maketh a wall about Sion.

Then took Gorgias five thousand footmen and a thousand of the best horsemen, and removed out of the camp by night;

2 To the end he might rush in upon the camp of the Jews, and smite them suddenly. And the men of the fortresses were his guides.

3 Now when Judas heard thereof, he himself removed, and the valiant men with him, that he might smite the kings army which was at Emmaus,

4 While as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp.

5 In the mean season came Gorgias by night into the camp of Judas: and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountains: for said he, These fellows flee from us.

6 But as soon as it was day, Judas shewed himself in the plain with three thousand men, who nevertheless had neither || armour, nor || swords to their minds.

7 And they saw the camp of the heathen, that it was strong, and well harnessed, and compassed round about with horsemen; and these were expert of war.

8 Then said Judas to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their assault.

51 Furthermore, they set the loaves upon the table, and || spread out the vails, and finished all the works which they had begun to make. ¶ Or, spread abroad the hangings, or, hang up the vails.

52 Now on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month (which is called the month Casleu) in the hundred forty and eighth year, they rose up betimes in the morning, 53 And offered sacrifice according to the law, upon the new altar of burnt-offerings, which they had made.

54 Look at what time and what day the heathen had profaned it, even in that was it dedicated with songs, and citherns, and harps, and cymbals.

55 Then

55 Then all the people fell upon their faces, worshipping and praising the God of heaven, who had given them good successes.

56 And so they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed the sacrifice of || deliverance and praise.

|| Or, peace-offering.
|| Or, dedicated.
|| Or, made doors for them.

57 They deckt also the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold, and with shields; and the gates, and the chambers they || renewed, and || hanged doors upon them.

58 Thus was there very great gladness among the people, for that the reproach of the heathen was put away.

59 Moreover Judas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel, ordained that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from year to year, by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Casleu, with mirth and gladness.

Chap. iv, 31.

60 At that time also they builded up the mount Sion with high walls, and strong towers, round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it down, as they had done before.

61 And they set there a garison to keep it: and fortified Bethsura to preserve it, that the people might have a defence against Idumea.

Num. 33. 31, 32.

4 Also he remembred the || injury of the children of || Bean, who had been a snare and an offence unto the people, in that they lay in wait for them in the ways.

5 He shut them up therefore in the towers, and encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burnt the towers of that place with fire, and all that were therein.

6 Afterward he passed over to the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and much people with Timotheus their captain.

7 So he fought many battles with them, till at length they were discomfited before him; and he smote them.

8 And when he had taken Jazar, with the towns belonging thereto, he returned into Judea.

9 Then the heathen that were at Galaad assembled themselves together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to destroy them, but they fled to the fortress of Dathema;

10 And sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, The heathen that are round about us are assembled together against us to destroy us. 164.

11 And they are preparing to come and take the fortrefs whereunto we are fled, Timotheus being captain of their host.

12 Come now therefore and deliver us from their hands, for many of us are slain.

13 Yea, all our brethren that were in the places of || Tobie, are put to death: their wives || Or, Tubin. and their children also they have carried away captives, and born away their stuff, and they have destroyed there about a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, who reported on this wise, 15 And said, They of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus and Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles, are assembled together against us to consume us.

16 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled a great congregation together, to consult what they should do for their brethren that were in trouble, and assaulted of them.

17 Then said Judas unto Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, for I and Jonathan my brother will go into the country of Galaad.

18 So he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, captains of the people, with the remnant of the host of Judea to keep it.

19 Unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and see that you make not war against the heathen, until the time that we come again.

20 Now unto Simon were given three thousand men to go into Galilee, and unto Judas eight thousand men for the country of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, where he fought many battles with the heathen, so that the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais; and there were slain of the heathen about three thousand men, whose spoils he took.

23 And || those that were in Galilee, and in Arbattis, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, took he away with him, and brought them into Judea with great joy. || Or, captive Jews.

24 Judas Maccabeus also and his brother Jonathan, went over Jordan, and travelled three days journey in the wilderness.

25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who came unto them in peaceable manner, and told them every thing that had happened to their brethren in the land of Galaad:

26 And how that many of them were shut up in || Bosora and Bosor, and Alema, || Casphor, || Or, Bosorra: || Or, Chascor, Maked, and Carnaim (all these cities are strong || Or, Casphor, as Ver. 36. and great)

27 And that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the country of Galaad, and that against to morrow || they had appointed to bring || Or, the heathen: their host against the forts, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

36 These were ready at every occasion: wheresoever the beast was, and whithersoever the beast went, they went also, neither departed they from him, 37 And upon the beasts there were strong towers of wood, which covered every one of them, and were girt fast unto them with devices: there were also upon every one two and thirty strong men that fought upon them, besides the Indian that ruled him.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, they set them on this side, and that side, at the two parts of the host, || giving them signs what to do, and being harnessed all over amidst the ranks.

|| Or, stirring them up, and being compassed with the ranks, or, defended with the vallies.

39 Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold, and brass, the mountains glister'd therewith, and shined like lamps of fire.

40 So part of the kings army being spread upon the high mountains, and part on the vallies below, they marched on safely, and in order.

41 Wherefore all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the harness, were moved: for the army was very great and mighty.

42 Then Judas and his host drew near, and entred into battle, and there were slain of the kings army, six hundred men.

Chap. 2. 5.

43 ¶ Eleazar also surnamed Savaran, perceiving that one of the beasts, armed with royal harness was higher than all the rest, and supposing that the king was upon him,

44 Put himself in jeopardy, to the end he might deliver his people, and get him a perpetual name:

45 Wherefore he ran upon him courageously through the midst of the battle, slaying on the right hand, and on the left, || so that they were divided from him on both sides.

|| Or, so that he cut them in pieces.

46 Which done, he crept under the elephant, and thrust him under, and slew him: whereupon the elephant fell down upon him, and there he died.

47 Howbeit, the rest of the Jews seeing the strength of the king, and the violence of his forces, turned away from them.

48 ¶ Then the kings army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king pitched his tents || against Judea, and against mount Sion.

|| Or, in Judea.

49 But with them that were in Bethsura he made peace: || for they came out of the city, because they had no victuals there, to endure the siege, it being a year of rest to the land.

|| Add out of Josephus, and they yielded themselves.

50 So the king took Bethsura, and set a garrison there to keep it.

51 As for the sanctuary, he besieged it many days: and || set there artillery with engines, and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slings.

|| Or, made their mounts for shot.

52 Whereupon || they also made engines against their engines, and held them battle a long season.

|| Or, the Jews.

53 Yet at the last their vessels being without victuals, (for that it was the seventh year, and they in Judea that were delivered from the Gentiles, had eaten up the residue of the store)

54 There were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine did so prevail against them, that they were fain to disperse themselves, every man to his own place.

55 At that time Lyfias heard say, that Philip (whom Antiochus the king whiles he lived had appointed to bring up his son Antiochus, that he might be king)

56 Was returned out of Persia, and Media, and the kings host also that went with him, and that he sought to take unto him the ruling of the affairs:

57 Wherefore he went in all haste, and said to the king, and the captains of the host, and the company, We decay daily, and our victuals are but small, and the place we lay siege unto is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us:

58 Now therefore let us † be friends with † these men, and make peace with them, and with all their nation;

59 And covenant with them, that they shall live after their laws, as they did before: for they are therefore displeased, and have done all these things because we abolished their laws.

60 So the king and the princes were content: wherefore he sent unto them to make peace, and they accepted thereof.

61 Also the king and the princes made an oath unto them: whereupon they went out of the strong hold.

62 Then the king entred into mount Sion, but when he saw the strength of the place, he brake his oath that he had made, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about.

63 Afterward departed he in all haste, and returned unto Antiocha, where he found Philip to be master of the city: So he fought against him, and took the city by force.

C H A P. VII.

1 Antiochus is slain, and Demetrius reigneth in his stead. 5 Alcimus would be high priest, and complaineth of Judas to the king: 16 He slayeth threescore Assideans. 43 Nicanor is slain, and the kings forces are defeated by Judas. 49 The day of this victory is kept holy every year.

I N the hundred and one and fiftieth year * Demetrius the son of Seleucus departed from Rome, and came up with a few men unto || a city of the sea coast, and reigned there.

* 2 Mac. 14. 1.

|| Tripolis Jos. Ant. lib. 12. cap. 16.

† Gr. house of the kingdom of his father.

2 And as he entred into the † palace of his ancestors, so it was, that his forces had taken Antiochus and Lyfias to bring them unto him.

3 Wherefore when he knew it, he said, Let me not see their faces.

4 So his host slew them. Now when Demetrius was set upon the throne of his kingdom,

5 There came unto him all the wicked and ungodly men of Israel, having Alcimus (who was desirous to be high priest) for their captain.

6 And they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have slain all thy friends, and driven us out of our own land.

7 Now therefore send some man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see what havock he hath made amongst us, and in the kings land, and let him punish them with all them that aid them.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of the King, who ruled beyond the flood, and was

Before
Christ
163.

Before Christ 162. was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful the king.

9 And him he sent with that wicked Alcimus, whom he made high priest, and commanded that he should take vengeance of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great power into the land of Judea, where they sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with peaceable words deceitfully.

11 But they gave no heed to their words, for they saw that they were come with a great power.

12 Then did there assemble unto Alcimus and Bacchides, a company of || scribes, to require justice.

13 Now the Assideans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them.

14 For said they, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with this army, and he will do us no wrong.

15 So he spake unto them peaceably, and sware unto them, saying, We will procure the harm neither of you nor your friends.

16 Whereupon they believed him: howbeit he took of them threescore men, and slew them in one day, according to the words which he wrote, 17 ^{† Psal. 79. 2, 3.} The flesh of thy saints have they cast out, and their blood have they shed round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them.

18 Wherefore the fear and dread of them fell upon all the people, who said, There is neither truth, nor ^{† Gr. judgment.} righteousness in them, for they have broken the covenant and oath that they made.

19 After this removed Bacchides from Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Bezeth, where he sent and took many of the men that had forsaken him, and certain of the people also, and when he had slain them ^{† Jer. 41. 7.} he cast them into the great pit.

20 Then committed he the country to Alcimus, and left with him a power to aid him: so Bacchides went to the King.

21 But Alcimus || contended for the high priesthood.

22 And unto him resorted all such as troubled the people, who after they had gotten the land of Juda into their power, did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the Israelites, even above the heathen, 24 He went out into all the coasts of Judea round about, and took vengeance of them that had || revolted from him, so that they durst no more || go forth into the country.

25 On the other side, when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company || had gotten the upper hand, and knew that he was not able ^{† Gr. to abide them.} to abide their force, he went again to the king, and said all the worst of them that he could.

26 Then the king sent Nicanor one of his honourable princes, a man that bare deadly hate unto Israel, with commandment to destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great force; and sent unto Judas and his brethren ^{† Gr. peaceable.} deceitfully with friendly words, saying,

28 Let there be no battle between me and you, I will come with a few men that I may ^{Before Christ 162.} see you in peace.

29 He came therefore to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. Howbeit, the ^{† Gr. see your faces.} enemies were prepared to take away Judas, by violence.

30 Which thing after it was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more.

31 Nicanor also when he saw that his counsel was discovered, went out to ^{† Gr. meet Judas in battle.} fight against Judas besides || Capharsalama.

32 Where there were slain of Nicanors side about five thousand men, and the rest fled into the city of David.

33 After this went Nicanor up to mount Sion, and there came out of the sanctuary certain of the priests, and certain of the elders of the people to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt-sacrifice that was offered for the king.

34 But he mocked them, and laughed at them, and ^{† Gr. defiled them.} abused them shamefully, and spake proudly:

35 And swore in his wrath, saying, Unless Judas and his host be now delivered into my hands, if ever I come again ^{† Gr. in peace.} in safety, I will burn up this house: and with that he went out in a great rage.

36 Then the priests entred in, and stood before the altar, and the temple, weeping, and saying, 37 Thou, O Lord, didst choose this house to be called by thy name, and to be a house of prayer and petition for thy people.

38 Be avenged of this man and his host, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer.

39 So Nicanor went out of Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Bethoron, where an host out of Syria met him.

40 But Judas pitched in Adasa with three thousand men, and there he prayed, saying,

41 ^{† King. 19. 35. Isa. 37. 36. Ecclus 48. 21. 2 Mac. 2. 19.} O Lord, when they that were sent from the king of the Assyrians blasphemed, thine angel went out and smote an hundred fourscore and five thousand of them:

42 Even so destroy thou this host before us this day, that the rest may know that he hath spoken blasphemously against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness.

43 So the thirteenth day of the month Adar the hosts joyned battle: but Nicanors host was discomfited, and he himself was first slain in the battle.

44 Now when Nicanors host saw that he was slain, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 Then || they pursued after them a days journey, from Adasa unto Gazera, sounding an alarm after them with their trumpets.

46 Whereupon they came forth out of all the towns of Judea round about, and closed them in, so that they turning back upon them that pursued them, were all slain with the sword, and not one of them was left.

47 Afterwards they took the spoils, and the prey, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hand which he stretched out so proudly, and

Before and brought them away, and hanged them up Christ towards Jerusalem.

161. 48 For this cause the people rejoiced greatly, and they kept that day a day of great gladness.

2 Mac. 15. 36. 49 Moreover, they ordained to keep yearly this day, being the thirteenth of Adar.

Chap. 9. 57. 50 Thus the land of Juda was in rest a little while.

C H A P. VIII.

1 Judas is informed of the power and policy of the Romans, 20 and maketh a league with them.

24 The articles of that league.

NOW Judas had heard of the fame of the Romans, that they were mighty and valiant men, and such as would lovingly accept all that joyned themselves unto them, and make a league of amity with all that came unto them;

2 And that they were men of great valour. It was told him also of their wars and noble acts which they had done amongst the Galatians, and how they had conquered them, and brought them under tribute,

3 And what they had done in the country of Spain, for the winning of the mines of the silver and gold which is there;

4 And that by their policy and patience they had conquered all the place (though it were very far from them) and the kings also that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, till they had discomfited them, and given them a great overthrow, so that the rest did give them tribute every year:

5 Besides this, how they had discomfited in battle Philip and Perseus king of the Citims, with others that lift up themselves against them, and had overcome them:

6 How also Antiochus the great king of Asia, that came against them in battle, having an hundred and twenty elephants, with horsemen and chariots, and a very great army, was discomfited by them;

7 And how they took him alive, and covenanted that he, and such as reigned after him, should pay a great tribute, and give hostages, and that which was agreed upon,

8 And the country of India and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest countries, which they took of him, and gave to king Eumenes:

9 Moreover, how the Grecians had determined to come and destroy them;

10 And that they having knowledge thereof, sent against them a certain captain, and fighting with them slew many of them, and carried away captives their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and took possession of their lands, and pulled down their strong holds, and brought them to be their servants unto this day.

11 It was told him besides, how they destroyed and brought under their dominion all other kingdoms and isles that at any time resisted them;

12 But with their friends, and such as relied upon them, they kept amity: and that they had conquered kingdoms both far and nigh, insomuch as all that heard of their name were afraid of them:

13 Also, that whom they would help to a kingdom, those reign; and whom again they would, they displace: finally, that they were greatly exalted.

14 Yet for all this, none of them wore a crown, or was clothed in purple to be magnified thereby:

15 Moreover, how they had made for themselves a senate-house, wherein three hundred and twenty men sat in counsel daily, consulting alway for the people, to the end they might be well ordered:

16 And that they committed their government to one man every year, who ruled over all their country, and that all were obedient to that one, and that there was neither envy nor emulation amongst them.

17 In consideration of these things, Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome to make a league of amity and confederacy with them, 18 And to intreat them that they would take the yoke from them, for they saw that the kingdom of the Grecians did oppress Israel with servitude.

19 They went therefore to Rome (which was a very great journey) and came into the senate, where they spake and said, 20 Judas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registred your confederates and friends.

21 So that matter pleased the Romans well.

22 And this is the copy of the epistle which the senate wrote back again, in tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that there they might have by them a memorial of peace and confederacy:

23 Good success be to the Romans, and to the people of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and enemy be far from them.

24 If there come first any war upon the Romans, or any of their confederates throughout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Jews shall help them, as the time shall be appointed, with all their heart.

26 Neither shall they give any thing unto them that make war upon them, or aid them with victuals, weapons, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto the Romans, but they shall keep their covenant without taking any thing therefore.

27 In the same manner also, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall be appointed them.

28 Neither shall victuals be given to them that take part against them, or weapons, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romans: but they shall keep their covenants, and that without deceit.

29 According to these articles did the Romans make a covenant with the people of the Jews.

30 Howbeit, if hereafter the one party or the other shall think meet to add or diminish any thing, they may do it at their pleasures, and whatsoever they shall add or take away, shall be ratified.

31 And as touching the evils that Demetrius

Christ him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy the Jews?

32 If therefore they complain any more

C H A P. IX.

1 Alcimus and Bacchides come again with new forces into Judea. 7 The army of Judas flee from him, 17 and he is slain. 30 Jonathan is in his place, 40 and revengeth his brother Johns quarrel. 55 Alcimus is plagued, and dieth. 70 Bacchides maketh peace with Jonathan.

Furthermore, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his host were slain in battle,
† he sent Bacchides and Alcimus into the land of Judea the second time, and with them || the chief strength of his host.

2 Who went forth by the way that leadeth to || Galgala, and pitched their tents before Maseloth, which is in Arbela, and after they had won it, they slew much people.

3 Also the first month of the hundred fifty and second year, they encamped before Jerusalem.

4 From whence they removed and went to || Berea, with twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tents at Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him.

6 Who seeing the multitude of the other army to be so great, were sore afraid, whereupon many conveyed themselves out of the host, insomuch as there abode of them no more but eight hundred men.

7 When Judas therefore saw that his host slipt away, and that the battle pressed upon him, he was sore troubled in mind, and much distressed, for that he had no time to gather them together.

8 Nevertheless unto them that remained, he said, Let us arise and go up against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they dehorted him, saying, We shall never be able: || let us now rather save our lives, and hereafter we will return with our brethren, and fight against them: for we are but few.

10 Then Judas said, God forbid that I should do this thing, and flee away from them:
if our time be come, let us die manfully for our brethren, and † let us not stain our honour.

11 With that the host of Bacchides removed out of their tents, and stood over against || them, their horsemen being divided into two troops, and their slingers and archers going before the host, and they that marched in the fore-ward were all mighty men.

12 As for Bacchides he was in the right wing, so the host drew near on the two parts, and sounded their trumpets.

13 They also of Judas side, even they sounded their trumpets also, so that the earth shook at the noise of the armies, and the battle continued from morning till night.

14 Now when Judas perceived that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, he took with him all the hardy men,

15 Who discomfited the right wing, and pursued them unto the mount Azotus.

16 But when they of the left wing saw that they of the right wing were discomfited, they followed upon Judas and those that were with him, hard at the heels from behind:

17 Whereupon there was a sore battle, insomuch as many were slain on both parts.

18 Judas also was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 Then Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers in Modin.

20 Moreover they bewailed him, and ^a all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, saying,

21 How is the valiant man fallen, that delivered Israel!

22 As for the other things concerning Judas and his wars, and the noble acts which he did, and his greatness, they are not written: for they were very many.

23 ¶ Now after the death of Judas, the wicked began to put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and there rose up all such as wrought iniquity.

24 In those days also was there a very great famine, by reason whereof the country revolted, and went with || them.

25 Then Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the country.

26 And they made enquiry and search for Judas friends, and brought them unto Bacchi-des, who took vengeance of them, and † used them despitefully.

27 So was there a great affliction in Israel, the like whereof was not since the time ^b that a prophet was not seen amongst them.

28 For this cause all Judas friends came together, and said unto Jonathan,

29 Since thy brother Judas died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies, and Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are adversaries to us.

30 Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince, and captain in his stead, that thou mayst fight our battles.

31 Upon this Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up in stead of his brother Judas.

32 But when Bacchides gat knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Jonathan and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, perceiving that, fled into the wilderness of Thecoe, and pitched their tents by the water of the pool Asphar.

34 || Which when Bacchides understood, he came near to Jordan with all his host upon the sabbath-day.

35 Now Jonathan had sent his brother
|| John a captain of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, † that they might leave with them their carriage, which was much.

36 But the children of † Jambri came out of Medaba, and took John and all that he had,
and went away with it.

37 After this came word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jam-bri made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from || Nadabatha with a great train, as being the daughter of one of the great princes of Chanaan.

38 Therefore they remembered John their brother, and went up and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain.

39 Where they lift up their eyes and looked, and behold, there was much ado and great carriage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and brethren to meet them with || drums and || instruments of musick, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathan and they that were with him, rose up against them from the place where they lay in ambush, and made a slaughter of them in such sort, as many fell down dead, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils.

41 Thus was the marriage turned into mourning, and the noise of their melody into lamentation.

42 So when they had avenged fully the blood of their brother, they turned again to the marish of Jordan.

43 Now when Bacchides heard hereof, he came on the sabbath-day unto the banks of Jordan with a great power.

44 Then Jonathan said to his company, Let us go up now and fight for our lives, for it standeth not with us to day, as in time past:

45 For behold, the battle is before us and behind us, and the water of Jordan on this side and that side, the marish likewise and wood, neither is there place for us to turn aside.

46 Wherefore cry ye now unto heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies.

47 With that they joined battle, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, but he turned back from him.

48 Then Jonathan and they that were with him, leapt into Jordan, and swam over unto the farther bank: howbeit the other passed not over Jordan unto them.

49 So there were slain of Bacchides side that day about † a thousand men.

53 Besides, he took the chief mens sons in the country for hostages, and put them into the tower at Jerusalem to be kept.

54 Moreover, in the hundred fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded that the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary should be pulled down; he pulled down also the works of the prophets.

55 And as he began to pull down, even at that time was Alcimus plagued, and his enterprizes hindred: for his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a plalsie, so that he could no more speak any thing, nor give order concerning his house.

56 So Alcimus died at that time with great torment.

57 Now when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he returned to the king, whereupon the land of Judea was in rest two years.

58 Then all the ungodly men held a counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his company are at ease, and dwell without care: now therefore we will bring Bacchides hither, who shall take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Then removed he, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to his adherents in Judea, that they should take Jonathan and those that were with him: howbeit they could not, because their counsel was known unto them.

61 Wherefore they took of the men of the country that were authors of that mischief, about fifty persons, and slew them.

62 Afterward Jonathan and Simon, and they that were with him, got them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and they repaired the decays thereof, and made it strong.

63 Which thing when Bacchides knew, he gathered together all his host, and sent word || to them that were of Judea.

Or, to such of the country as were his friends to take his part.

64 Then went he and laid siege against Bethbasi, and they fought against it a long season, and made engines of war.

65 But Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth himself into the country, and with a certain number went he forth.

66 And he smote || Odonarkes and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent.

Or, Odomara.

67 And when he began to smite them, and came up with his forces, Simon and his company went out of the city, and burnt up the engines of war, 68 And fought against Bacchides, who was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore. For his counsel and travel was in vain.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men that gave him counsel to come into the country, insomuch as he slew many of them, and purposed to return into his own country.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadors unto him, to the end he should make peace with him, and deliver them the prisoners.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his demands, and sware unto him, that he would never do him harm all the days of his life.

72 When therefore he had restored unto him the prisoners that he had taken afore-time out of the land of Judea, he returned and went his way into his own land, neither † came he any more into their borders.

I N the hundred and sixtieth year, Alexander || the son of Antiochus surnamed Epiphanes, went up and took Ptolemais: for the people had received him, by means whereof he reigned there.

153.
Joseph. the son of Antiochus Epiphanes.

2 Now when king Demetrius heard thereof, he he gathered together an exceeding great host, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Moreover, Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with loving words, so as he magnified him.

4 For said he, Let us first make peace with him, before he joyn with Alexander against us:

5 Else he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and against his brethren, and his people.

6 Wherefore he gave him authority to gather together an host, and to provide weapons that he might aid him in battle: he commanded also that the hostages that were in the tower should be delivered him.

7 Then came Jonathan to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the tower.

8 Who were sore afraid when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together an host.

9 Whereupon they of the tower delivered their hostages unto Jonathan, and he delivered them unto their parents.

10 This done, Jonathan settled himself in Jerusalem, and began to build and repair the city.

11 And he commanded the workmen to build the walls, and the mount Sion round about with square stones for fortification; and they did so.

12 Then the strangers that were in the fortresses which Bacchides had built, fled away:

13 Inasmuch as every man left his place, and went into his own country.

14 Only at Bethsura certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments remained still: for it was their place of refuge.

15 Now when king Alexander had heard what promises Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: when also it was told him of the battles and noble acts which he and his brethren had done, and of the pains that they had endured, 16 He said, Shall we find such another man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Upon this he wrote a letter, and sent it unto him according to these words, saying, 18 King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, sendeth greeting.

19 We have heard of thee, that thou art a man of great power, and meet to be our friend.

20 Wherefore now this day we ordain thee to be the high priest of thy nation, and to be called the kings friend (and therewithal he sent him a purple robe and a crown of gold) and require thee to take our part, and keep friendship with us.

21 So in the seventh month of the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy robe, and gathered together forces, and provided much armour.

22 Whereof when Demetrius heard, he was very sorry, and said,

23 What have we done, that Alexander hath prevented us, in making amity with the Jews to strengthen himself?

24 I also will write unto them words of encouragement, and promise them dignities and gifts, that I may have their aid.

25 He sent unto them therefore, to this effect: King Demetrius unto the people of the Jews, sendeth greeting.

26 Whereas you have kept covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, not joyning your selves with our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad.

27 Wherefore now continue ye still to be faithful unto us, and we will well recompense you for all things you do in our behalf, 28 And will grant you many immunities, and give you rewards.

29 And now do I free you, and for your sake I release all the Jews from tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from crown-taxes,

30 And from that which appertaineth unto me to receive for the third part of the seed, and the half of the fruit of the trees, I release it from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Judea, nor of the three governments which are added thereunto out of the country of Samaria, and Galilee, from this day forth for evermore.

31 Let Jerusalem also be holy and free, with the borders thereof, both from tenths and tributes.

32 And as for the tower, which is at Jerusalem, I yield up my authority over it, and give it to the high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shall choose to keep it.

33 Moreover, I freely set at liberty every one of the Jews that were carried captives out of the land of Judea, into any part of my kingdom, and I will that all my officers remit their tributes, even of their cattle.

34 Furthermore, I will that all the feasts and sabbaths, and new-moons, and solemn days, and the three days before the feast, and the three days after the feast, shall be all days of immunity and freedom for all the Jews in my realm.

35 Also no man shall have authority to meddle with them, or to molest any of them in any matter.

36 I will further, that there be enrolled amongst the kings forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, unto whom pay shall be given as belongeth to all the kings forces.

37 And of them some shall be placed in the kings strong holds, of whom also some shall be set over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and I will that their overseers and governors be of themselves, and that they [†] live after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judea. ^{† Gr. walk.}

38 And concerning the three governments that are added to Judea from the country of Samaria, let them be joyned with Judea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, nor bound to obey other authority than the high priests.

39 As for Ptolemais and the land pertaining thereto, I give it as a free gift to the sanctuary at Jerusalem, for the necessary expences ^{||} of ^{|| Or, of the holy things.} the sanctuary.

40 Moreover, I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver out of the kings accounts from the places appertaining.

41 And all the overplus which the officers payed not in, as in former time, from henceforth shall be given towards the works of the temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they took from the uses of the temple out of the accounts year by year, even even those things shall be released, because they appertain to the priests that minister.

43 And whosoever they be that flee unto the temple at Jerusalem, or be within the liberties thereof, being indebted unto the king, or for any other matter, let them be at liberty and all that they have in my realm.

44 For the building also and repairing of the works of the sanctuary, expences shall be given of the kings accounts.

45 Yea, and for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, expences shall be given out of the kings accounts, as also for the building of the walls in Judea.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credit unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil that he had done in Israel; for he had afflicted them very sore.

47 But with Alexander they were well pleased, because he was the first that entreated of true peace with them, and they were confederate with him always.

150. 48 Then gathered king Alexander great forces, and camped over against Demetrius.

49 And after the two kings had joyned battle, Demetrius host fled: but Alexander followed after him, and prevailed against them.

50 And he continued the battle very sore until the sun went down, and that day was Demetrius slain.

51 Afterward Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemee king of Egypt, with a message to this effect:

52 Forasmuch as I am come again to my realm, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and have gotten the dominion, and overthrown Demetrius, and recovered our country,

53 (For after I had joyned battle with him, both he and his host was discomfited by us, so that we sit in the throne of his kingdom)

54 Now therefore let us make a league of amity together, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will be thy son in law, and will give both thee and her gifts, according to thy dignity.

55 Then Ptolemee the king gave answer, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and sattest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 And now will I do to thee as thou hast written: meet me therefore at Ptolemais, that we may see one another, for I will marry my daughter to thee according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemee went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and they came unto Ptolemais in the hundred threescore and second year:

58 Where king Alexander meeting him, gave unto him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais, with great glory, as the manner of kings is.

59 Now king Alexander had written unto Jonathan, that he should come and meet him.

60 Who thereupon went honourably to Ptolemais, where he met the two kings, and gave them and their friends silver and gold, and many presents, and found favour in their sight.

61 At that time certain pestilent fellows of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him, to accuse him: but the king would not hear them.

62 Yea more than that, the king commanded to take off his garments, and clothe him in purple: and they did so.

63 Also he made him sit by himself, and said unto his princes, Go with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 Now when his accusers saw that he was honoured according to the proclamation, and clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 So the king honoured him, and wrote him amongst his chief friends, and made him a duke, and || partaker of his dominion.

66 Afterwards Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 Furthermore in the hundred threescore and fifth year, came Demetrius son of Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers.

68 Whereof when king Alexander heard tell he was right sorry, and returned into Antioch.

69 Then Demetrius made Apollonius the governor of Celosyria his general, who gathered together a great host, and camped in Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying, 70 Thou alone liftest up thy self against us, and I am laughed to scorn for thy sake, and reproached, and why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains?

71 Now therefore if thou trustest in thine own strength, come down to us into the plain field, and there let us try the matter together: for with me is the power of the cities.

72 Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that take our part, and they shall tell thee that thy foot is not able to stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land.

73 Wherefore now thou shalt not be able to abide the horsemen, and so great a power in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

74 So when Jonathan heard these words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and choosing ten thousand men, he went out of Jerusalem, where Simon his brother met him for to help him.

75 And he pitched his tents against Joppe: but they of Joppe shut him out of the city, because Apollonius had a garison there.

76 Then Jonathan laid siege unto it: whereupon they of the city let him in for fear: and so Jonathan won Joppe.

77 Whereof when Apollonius heard, he took three thousand horsemen, with a great host of footmen, and went to Azotus || as one that journeyed, and therewithal || drew him forth into the plain, because he had a great number of horsemen, in whom he put his trust.

78 Then Jonathan followed after him to Azotus, where the armies joyned battle.

79 Now Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him; for they had compassed in his host, and cast darts at the people, from morning till evening.

83 The horsemen also being scattered in the field, fled to Azotus, and went into Beth-dagon their idols temple for safety.

84 But Jonathan set fire on Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of Dagon, with them that were fled into it, he burnt with fire.

85 Thus there were burnt and slain with the sword, well nigh eight thousand men.

86 And from thence Jonathan removed his host, and camped against Ascalon, where the men of the city came forth, and met him with great pomp.

87 After this returned Jonathan and his host unto Jerusalem, having many spoils.

88 Now when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan yet more,

89 And sent him a buckle of gold, as the use is to be given to such as are of the kings blood: he gave him also Accaron with the borders thereof in possession.

AND the king of Egypt gathered together a great host, like the sand that lieth upon the sea-shore, and many ships, and went about through deceit to get Alexanders kingdom, and joyn it to his own.

2 Whereupon he took his journey into Syria in peaceable manner, so as they of the cities opened unto him, and met him: for king Alexander had commanded them so to do, because he was his father in law.

3 Now as Ptolemee entred into the cities, he set in every one of them a garison of souldiers to keep it.

4 And when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies that were cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battle, for they had made heaps of them by the way where he should pass.

5 Also they told the king whatsoever Jonathan had done, to the intent he might blame him: but the king held his peace.

6 Then Jonathan met the king with great pomp at Joppe, where they saluted one another, and † lodged.

† Gr. Sept.

7 Afterward Jonathan when he had gone with the king to the river called Eleutherus, returned again to Jerusalem.

8 King Ptolemee therefore having gotten the dominion of the cities by the sea, unto Seleucia upon the sea-coast, imagined wicked counsels against Alexander.

9 Whereupon he sent ambassadors unto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a league betwixt us, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign in thy fathers kingdom:

Before Christ 146.

10 For I repent that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me.

11 Thus did he slander him, because he was desirous of his kingdom.

12 Wherefore he took his daughter from him, and gave her to Demetrius, and forsook Alexander, so that their hatred was openly known.

13 Then Ptolemee entred into Antioch, where he set two crowns upon his head, the crown of Asia, and of Egypt.

14 In the mean season was king Alexander in Cilicia, because those that dwelt in those parts had revolted from him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to war against him; whereupon king Ptolemee brought forth his host, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 So Alexander fled into Arabia, there to be defended; but king Ptolemee was exalted.

17 For Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexanders head, and sent it unto Ptolemee.

18 King Ptolemee also died the third day after, † and they that were in the strong holds, were slain one of another.

145:
† Gr. and those that were in the holds were slain of those that were in the holds.

19 By this means Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seventh year.

20 At the same time Jonathan gathered together them that were in Judea, to take the tower that was in Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it.

21 Then certain ungodly persons who hated their own people, went unto the king, and told him that Jonathan besieged the tower.

22 Whereof when he heard, he was angry, and immediately removing, he came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not lay siege to the tower, but come and speak with him at Ptolemais in great haste.

23 Nevertheless, Jonathan when he heard this, commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel, and the priests, and put himself in peril;

24 And took silver and gold, and raiment, and divers presents besides, and went to Ptolemais, unto the king, where he found favour in his sight.

25 And ^a though certain ungodly men of the people had made complaints against him, ^a Chap. 10. 61; &c.

26 Yet the king entreated him as his predecessors had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends, 27 And ^b confirmed him in the high priesthood, and in all the honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his chief friends. ^b Chap. 10. 29; &c. 14. 38. Ver. 57.

28 Then Jonathan desired the king, that he would make Judea free from tribute, as also the three governments with the country of Samaria; and he promised him three hundred talents.

29 So the king consented and wrote letters unto Jonathan of all these things after this manner, 30 King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting.

Before

31 We send you here a copy of the letter which we did write unto our cousin Lathenes concerning you, that you might see it.

32 King Demetrius unto his father Lathenes, sendeth greeting.

33 We are determined to do good to the people of the Jews, who are our friends, and keep covenants with us, because of their good will towards us.

|| Joseph. Antiq.
lib. 13. cap. 8.

34 || Wherefore we have ratified unto them the borders of Judea, with the three governments of Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathem, that are added unto Judea from the country of Samaria, and ^e all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the payments which the king received of them yearly aforetime out of the fruits of the earth, and of trees.

^e Chap. 10. 42.

35 And as for other things that belong unto us, of the tithes and customs pertaining unto us, as also ^d the salt-pits, and the crown-taxes, which are due unto us, we discharge them of them all for their relief.

^d Chap. 10. 29.

36 And nothing hereof shall be revoked from this time forth for ever.

37 Now therefore see that thou make a copy of these things, and let it be delivered unto Jonathan, and set upon the holy mount in a conspicuous place.

38 After this, when king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his forces, every one to his own place, except certain bands of strangers, whom he had gathered from the isles of the heathen: wherefore all the forces of his fathers hated him.

39 Moreover, there was one Tryphon, that had been of Alexanders part afore, who seeing that all the host murmured against Demetrius, went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought up Antiochus the young son of Alexander, 40 And lay fore upon him, to deliver him this young Antiochus, that he might reign in his fathers stead: he told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and how his men of war were at enmity with him, and there he remained a long season.

41 In the mean time Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he would cast those of the tower out of Jerusalem, and those also in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy people, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if opportunity serve.

43 Now therefore thou shalt do well if thou send me men to help me; for all my forces are gone from me.

44 Upon this Jonathan sent him three thousand strong men unto Antioch, and when they came to the king, the king was very glad of their coming.

45 Howbeit, they that were of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of an hundred and twenty thousand men, and would have slain the king.

46 Wherefore the king fled into the court, but they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Jews for help, who came unto him all at once, and dispersing themselves through the city, slew that day in the city to the number of an hundred thousand.

Before
Christ
144.

48 Also they set fire on the city, and gat many spoils that day, and delivered the king.

49 So when they of the city saw that the Jews had got the city as they would, their courage was abated: wherefore they made supplication to the king, and cried, saying,

50 || Grant us peace, and let the Jews cease from assaulting us and the city. || Or, be friends with us.

51 With that they cast away their weapons, and made peace, and the Jews were honoured in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realm, and they returned to Jerusalem, having great spoils.

52 So king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him.

53 Nevertheless, he dissembled in all that ever he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, neither rewarded he him according to the benefits which he had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this returned Tryphon, and with him the young child Antiochus, who reigned and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered unto him all the men of war, whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who turned his back and fled.

56 Moreover, Tryphon took the [†] elephants, [†] Gr. Beasts, and won Antioch.

57 At that time young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm thee in the high priesthood, and appoint thee ruler over the four governments, and to be one of the kings friends.

58 Upon this he sent him golden vessels [†] to be served in, and gave him leave to drink in gold, and to be clothed in purple, and to wear a golden buckle. [†] Gr. and service.

59 His brother Simon also he made captain from the place called the ladder of Tyrus unto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan || went forth and passed through the cities beyond the water, and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to help him: and when he came to Ascalon, they of the city met him honourably. || Or, went beyond the river, and passed thro' the cities, or, went and passed beyond the river and through the cities, Gr.

63 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius princes were come to Cades which is in Galilee, with a great power, purposing || to remove him out of the country, || Or, to remove him from the affairs of the kingdom.

64 He went to them, and left Simon his brother in the country.

65 Then Simon encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it up:

67 As for Jonathan and his host, they pitched at the water of Genesar, from whence be- times in the morning they gat them to the plain of Nasor.

68 And behold, the host of strangers met them in the plain, who having laid men in ambush for him in the mountains, came themselves over against him.

69 So when they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joyned battle, all that were of Jonathans side fled;

70 Inſomuch as there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the ſon of Abſalom, and Judas the ſon of Calphi, the captains of the hoſt.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and caſt earth upon his head, and prayed.

72 Afterwards turning again to battle, he put them to flight, and ſo they ran away.

NOW when Jonathan ſaw that the time ſerved him, he choſe certain men, and ſent them to Rome, for to confirm and renew the friendſhip that they had with them.

2 He ſent letters alſo to the Lacedemonians, and to other places, for the ſame purpoſe.

3 So they went unto Rome, and entred into the ſenate, and ſaid, Jonathan the high prieſt, and the people of the Jews ſent us unto you, to the end you ſhould renew the friendſhip which you had with them, and league, as in former time.

4 Upon this the Romans gave them letters unto the governors of every place, that they ſhould bring them into the land of Judea peaceably.

5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote unto the Lacedemonians:

6 Jonathan the high prieſt, and the elders of the nation, and the prieſts, and the other people of the Jews, unto the Lacedemonians their brethren ſend greeting.

7 There were letters ſent in times paſt unto Onias the high prieſt from || Darius, who reigned then among you, to ſignifie that you are our brethren, as the copy here under-written doth ſpecifie.

8 At which time Onias entreated the ambaffador that was ſent honourably, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of the || league and friendſhip.

9 Therefore we alſo, albeit we need none of theſe things, for that we have the holy books of ſcripture in our hands to comfort us,

10 Have nevertheless attempted to ſend unto you, for the renewing of brotherhood and friendſhip, leſt we ſhould become ſtrangers unto you altogether: for there is a long time paſſed ſince you ſent unto us.

11 We therefore at all times without ceaſing, both in our feaſts, and other convenient days, do remember you in the ſacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as reaſon is, and as it becometh us to think upon our brethren:

12 And we are right glad of your honour.

13 As for our ſelves, we have had great troubles and wars on every ſide, forſomuch as the kings that are round about us, have fought againſt us.

14 Howbeit we would not be troubleſom unto you, nor to others of our confederates and friends in theſe wars.

15 For we have help from heaven that ſuccoureth us, ſo as we are delivered from our enemies, and our enemies are brought under foot.

16 For this cauſe we choſe Numenius the ſon of Antiochus, and Antipater the ſon of Jaſon, and ſent them unto the Romans, to renew the amity that we had with them, and the former league.

17 We commanded them alſo to go unto you, and to ſalute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 Wherefore now ye ſhall do well to give us an answer thereto.

19 And this is the copy of the letters || which Oniars ſent.

20 Arcus king of the Lacedemonians, to Onias the high prieſt, greeting.

21 It is found in writing that the Lacedemonians and Jews are brethren, and that they are of the ſtock of Abraham:

22 Now therefore ſince this is come to our knowledge, you ſhall do well to write unto us of your † proſperity.

23 We do write back again to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore our ambaffadors to make report unto you on this wiſe.

24 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius princes were come to fight againſt him with a greater hoſt than afore,

25 He removed from Jeruſalem, and met them in the land of Amathis: for he gave them no reſpit || to enter his country.

26 He ſent ſpies alſo unto their tents, who came again, and told him, that they were appointed to come upon them in the night-ſeaſon.

27 Wherefore ſo ſoon as the ſun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready to fight: alſo he ſent forth ſentinals round about the hoſt.

28 But when the adverſaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and || they kindled fires in their camp.

29 Howbeit Jonathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they ſaw the lights burning.

30 Then Jonathan purſued after them, but overtook them not: for they were gone over the river Eleutherus.

31 Wherefore Jonathan turned to the Arabians, who were called † Zabadeans, and ſmote them, and took their ſpoils.

32 And removing thence he came to Damascus, mascus, and so passed through all the country. 33 Simon also went forth, and passed through the country unto Ascalon, and the holds there adjoining, from whence he turned aside to Joppe, and wan it.

34 For he had heard that they would deliver the hold unto them that took Demetrius part, wherefore he set a garison there to keep it.

35 After this came Jonathan home again, and calling the elders of the people together, he consulted with them about building strong holds in Judea, 36 And making the walls of Jerusalem higher, and raising a great mount between the tower and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be alone, that men might neither sell nor buy in it.

37 Upon this they came together, to build up the city || forasmuch as part of the wall toward the brook on the east-side was fallen down, and they repaired that which was called Capphenatha.

|| Or, According to the Roman reading, and he came near to the wall of the brook toward the east.

38 Simon also set up Adida, in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and bars.

39 Now Tryphon went about to get the kingdom of Asia, and to kill Antiochus the king, that he might set the crown upon his own head.

40 Howbeit he was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him, wherefore he sought a way how to take Jonathan, that he might kill him. So he removed, and came to Bethsan.

41 Then Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for the battle, and came to Bethsan.

42 Now when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great a force, he durst not stretch his hand against him;

43 But received him honourably, and commended him unto all his friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his men of war to be as obedient unto him, as to himself.

44 Unto Jonathan also he said, Why hast thou put all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us?

45 Therefore send them now home again, and choose a few men to wait on thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, for I will give it thee, and the rest of the strong holds and forces, and all that have any charge: as for me, I will return and depart: for this is the cause of my coming.

46 So Jonathan believing him, did as he bade him, and sent away his host, who went into the land of Judea.

47 And with himself he retained but three thousand men, of whom he † sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him.

48 Now as soon as Jonathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and took him, and all them that came with him, they slew with the sword.

49 Then sent Tryphon an host of footmen and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathans company.

50 But when they knew that Jonathan and they that were with him were taken and slain, they encouraged one another, and went close together prepared to fight.

51 They therefore that followed upon them, perceiving that they were ready to fight for their lives, turned back again.

52 Whereupon they all came into the land of Judea peaceably, and there they bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid, wherefore all Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them: for said they, they have no captain, nor any to help them: now therefore let us make war upon them, and take away their memorial from amongst men.

CHAP. XIII.

8 Simon is made captain in his brother Jonathans room. 19 Tryphon getteth two of Jonathans sons into his hands, and slayeth their father. 27 The tomb of Jonathan. 36 Simon is favoured by Demetrius, 40 and winneth Gaza, and the tower at Jerusalem.

NOW when Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a great host, to invade the land of Judea and destroy it,

2 And saw that the people was in great trembling and fear, he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gave them exhortation, saying, Ye your selves know what great things I and my brethren, and my fathers house have done for the laws and the sanctuary, the battles also and troubles which we have seen,

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slain for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of trouble: for I am no better than my brethren.

6 Doubtless I will avenge my nation and the sanctuary, and our wives and our children: for all the heathen are gathered to destroy us of very malice.

7 Now as soon as the people heard these words, their spirit revived.

8 And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt be our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan thy brother.

9 Fight thou our battles, and whatsoever thou commandest us, that will we do.

10 So then he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste ^a to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about. ^{36.}

11 Also he sent Jonathan the son of Abisalom, and with him a great power to Joppe: who casting out them that were therein, remained there in it.

12 So Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a great power to invade the land of Judea, and Jonathan was with him in ward.

13 But Simon pitched his tents at Adida, over against the plain.

14 Now when Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to joyn battle with him, he sent messengers unto him, saying,

15 Whereas we have Jonathan thy brother in hold, it is for money that he is owing unto the kings treasure, || concerning the business that was committed unto him.

16 Wherefore now send an hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will let him go.

17 Hereupon Simon, albeit he perceived that they spake deceitfully unto him, yet sent he the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people :

18 Who might have said, Because I sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.

19 So he sent them the children and the hundred talents: Howbeit, Tryphon dissembled, neither would he let Jonathan go.

20 And after this came Tryphon to invade the land, and destroy it, going round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora: but Simon and his host marched against him in every place wheresoever he went.

21 Now they that were in the tower, sent messengers unto Tryphon, to the end that he should hasten his coming unto them by the wilderness, and send them victuals.

22 Wherefore Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come that night, but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not. So he departed and came into the country of Galaad.

23 And when he came near to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, who was buried there.

24 Afterward Tryphon returned, and went into his own land.

143.

25 Then sent Simon, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Modin the city of his fathers.

Chap. 9. 20.

26 And ^b all Israel made great lamentation for him, and bewailed him many days.

27 Simon also built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with hewn stone behind and before.

28 Moreover, he set up seven pyramids one against another, for his father and his mother, and his four brethren.

29 And in these he made cunning devices, about the which he set great pillars, and upon the pillars he made all their armour for a perpetual memory, and by the armour ships carved, that they might be seen of all that sail on the sea.

30 This is the sepulchre which he made at Modin, and it standeth yet unto this day.

31 Now Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew him.

32 And he reigned in his stead, and crowned himself king of Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the land.

33 Then Simon built up the strong holds in Judea, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars, and laid up victuals [†] therein.

† Gr. in the strong holds.

34 Moreover, Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the land an immunity, because [†] all that Tryphon did was to spoil.

† Gr. all Tryphon's doings were robberies.

35 Unto whom king Demetrius answered, and wrote after this manner:

36 King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest, and friend of kings, as also unto the elders and nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crown and the scarlet robe which ye sent unto us, we have received: and we are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to confirm the immunities which we have granted.

38 And whatsoever covenants we have made with you, shall stand; and the strong holds which ye have builded, shall be your own.

39 As for any oversight, or fault committed unto this day, we forgive it, and the crown-tax also which ye owe us: and if there were any other tribute paid in Jerusalem, it shall no more be paid.

40 And look who are meet among you to be in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken away from Israel, in the hundred and seventieth year.

42 Then the people of Israel began ^c to write in their instruments and contracts, In the first year of Simon the high priest, the governor and leader of the Jews. ^c Chap. 14. 27.

43 In those days Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about; he made also an engine of war, and set it by the city, and battered a certain tower, and took it.

44 And they that were in the engine, leapt into the city; whereupon there was a great uprore in the city:

45 Insomuch as the people of the city rent their clothes, and climbed upon the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon [†] to grant them peace. [†] Gr. to give them his right hand.

46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickedness, but according to thy mercy.

47 So Simon was appeased towards them, and fought no more against them, but put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were: and so entred into it, with songs and thanksgiving.

48 Yea, he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed such men there as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling-place for himself.

49 They also of the tower in Jerusalem were kept so strait, that they could neither come forth, nor go into the country, nor buy, nor sell: wherefore they were in great distress for want of victuals, and a great number of them perished through famine. ^{142.}

50 Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him ^{||} to be at one with them; which thing he granted them; and when he had put them out from thence, he cleansed the tower from pollutions. ^{||} Or, to make peace with them.

51 And entred into it the three and twentieth day of the second month in the hundred seventy and one year, with thanksgiving and branches of palm-trees, and with harps, and cymbals, and with viols, and hymns, and songs: because there was destroyed a great enemy out of Israel.

52 He ordained also that that day should be kept every year with gladness. Moreover, the hill of the temple, that was by the tower he made stronger than it was, and there he dwelt himself with his company.

53 And when Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, he made him captain of all the hosts, and ^d he dwelt in Gazara. ^d Chap. 16. 1.

NOW in the hundred threescore and twelfth year, king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media to get him help to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Arsaces, the king of Persia and Media; heard that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him alive.

4 As for the land of Judea,^a that was quiet all the days of Simon; for he sought the good of his nation in such wise, as that evermore his authority and honour pleased them well.

5 And as he was honourable in all his acts, so in this, that he took Joppe for an haven, and made an entrance to the isles of the sea,

6 And enlarged the bounds of his nation, and recovered the country,

7 And gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsura, and the tower, out of the which he took all uncleanness, neither was there any that resisted him.

8 Then did they till their ground in peace, and the earth gave her increase, and the trees of the field their fruit.

10 He provided victuals for the cities, and set in them all manner of munition, so that his honourable name was renowned unto the end of the world.

11 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy:

12 For ^b every man sat under his vine, and his fig-tree, and there was none to fray them:

13 Neither was there any left in the land to fight against them: yea, the kings themselves were overthrown in those days.

14 Moreover he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every contemner of the law, and wicked person he took away.

15 He beautified the sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the temple.

16 Now when it was heard at Rome, and as far as Sparta, that Jonathan was dead, they were very sorry.

17 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein:

18 They wrote unto him in tables of brass, to renew the friendship and league which they had made with Judas and Jonathan his brethren.

fidue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, send greeting.

21 The ambassadors that were sent unto our people, certified us of your glory and honour, wherefore we are glad of their coming:

22 And did register the things that they spake in the || counsel of the people, in this manner, Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us.

23 And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their ambassage in publick records, to the end the people of the Lacedemonians might have a memorial thereof: furthermore, we have written a copy thereof unto Simon the high priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, to confirm the league with them.

25 Whereof when the people heard, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons?

26 For he and his brethren and the house of his father have established Israel, and chased away in fight their enemies from them, and confirmed their liberty.

27 So then they wrote it in the tables of brass which they set upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing. The eighteenth day of the month Elul, in the hundred threescore and twelfth year, being the third year of Simon the high priest,

28 At || Saramael in the great congregation of the priests and people, and rulers of the nation, and elders of the country, were these things notified unto us.

29 Forso much as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, wherein for the maintenance of their sanctuary, and the law, Simon the son of Matathias of the posterity of Jarib, together with his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and resisting the enemies of their nation, did their nation great honour.

30 (For after that Jonathan having gathered his nation together, and been their high priest, was added to his people;

31 Their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy it, and lay hands on the sanctuary.

32 At which time Simon rose up and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed || the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages,

33 And fortified the cities of Judea, together with Bethsura that lieth upon the borders of Judea, where the || armour of the enemies had been before; but he set a garison of Jews there.

34 Moreover, he fortified Joppe which lieth upon the sea, and || Gazara that bordereth upon Azotus, where the enemies had dwelt before: but he placed Jews there, and furnished them with all things convenient for the reparation thereof.)

35 The people therefore seeing the acts of Simon, and unto what glory he thought to bring his nation, made him their governor, and chief priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and faith which he kept kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exhalt his people.

36 For in his time things prospered in his hands, so that the heathen were taken out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a tower, out of which they issued and polluted all about the sanctuary, and did much hurt || in the holy places:

37 But he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country, and the city, and raised up the walls of Jerusalem.

38 King Demetrius also confirmed him in the high priesthood according to those things, 39 And made him one of his friends, and honoured him with great honour.

40 For he had heard say, that ^d the Romans had called the Jews their friends and confederates, and brethren, and that they had entertained the ambassadors of Simon honourably;

41 Also that the Jews and priests were well pleased that Simon should be their governor and high priest for ever, until there should arise a faithful prophet;

42 Moreover, that he should be their captain, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the fortresses, that (I say) he should take charge of the sanctuary;

43 Besides this, that he should be obeyed of every man, and that all the writings in the country should be made in his name, and that ^e he should be cloathed in purple, and wear gold;

44 Also that it should be lawful for none of the people or priests to break any of these things, or to gainsay his words, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be cloathed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold;

45 And whosoever should do otherwise, or break any of these things, he should be punished.

46 Thus it liked all the people to deal with Simon, and to do as hath been said.

47 Then Simon accepted hereof, and was well pleased to be high priest, and captain, and governor of the Jews and priests, and to defend them all.

48 So they commanded that this writing should be put in tables of brasse, and that they should be set up within the compass of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place;

49 Also that the copies thereof should be laid up in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

Moreover, Antiochus son of Demetrius the king, sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest, and prince of the Jews, and to all the people;

2 The contents whereof were these: King Antiochus to Simon the high priest, and prince of his nation, and to the people of the Jews greeting.

3 Forasmuch as certain pestilent men have usurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpose is to challenge it again, that I may restore it to the old estate, and to that end have gathered a multitude of foreign soldiers together and prepared ships of war;

4 My meaning also being to go through the country, that I may be avenged of them that have destroyed it, and made many cities in the kingdom desolate;

5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the oblations which the kings before me granted thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they granted.

6 I give thee leave also to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp.

7 And as concerning Jerusalem, and the sanctuary, let them be free, and all the armour that thou hast made, and fortresses that thou hast built, and keepest in thine hands, let them remain unto thee.

8 And if any thing be, or shall be owing to the king, let it be forgiven thee from this time forth for evermore.

9 Furthermore, when we have obtained our kingdom, we will honour thee, and thy nation, and thy temple with great honour, so that your honour shall be known throughout the world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourteenth year went Antiochus into the land of his fathers: at which time all the forces came together unto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 Wherefore being pursued by king Antiochus, he fled unto Dora, which lieth by the sea-side.

12 For he saw that troubles came upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora, having with him an hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 And when he had compassed the city round about, and joyned ships close to the town on the sea-side, he vexed the city by land and by sea, neither suffered he any to go out or in.

15 In the mean season came Numenius, and his company from Rome, having letters to the kings and countries: wherein were written these things;

16 Lucius, consul of the Romans, unto king Ptolemee, greeting.

17 The Jews ambassadors, our friends and confederates, came unto us to renew the old friendship and league, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews.

18 And they brought a shield of gold, of a thousand pound.

19 We thought it good therefore to write unto the kings and countries, that they should do them no harm nor fight against them, their cities or countries, nor yet aid their enemies against them.

20 It seemed also good to us to receive the shield of them.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent fellows, that have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their own law.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Dorra the second day, † assaulting it continually, and making engines, by which means he shut up Tryphon, that he could neither go out nor in.

26 At that time Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aid him: silver also and gold, and much armour.

27 Nevertheless he would not receive them, but brake all the covenants which he had made with him afore, and became strange unto him.

28 Furthermore he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, and say, You withhold Joppe and Gazara, with the tower that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my realm.

29 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places within my kingdom.

|| Or, except the borders, &c.

30 Now therefore deliver the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion || without the borders of Judea:

|| Or, subdue you in fight.

31 Or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that you have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: if not, we will come and || fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Jerusalem: and when he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold, and silver plate, and his great attendance, he was astonished, and told him the kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said unto him, We have neither taken other mens land, nor holden that which appertaineth to others, but the inheritance of our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in possession a certain time.

34 Wherefore we having opportunity, hold the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou demandest Joppe and Gazara, albeit they did great harm unto the people in our country, yet will we give an hundred talents for them. Hereunto Athenobius answered him not a word;

36 But returned in a rage to the king, and made report unto him of these speeches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had seen: whereupon the king was exceeding wroth.

37 In the mean time fled Tryphon by ship unto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captain of the sea-coast, and gave him an host of footmen and horsemen,

|| Or, Cedar.

39 And commanded him to remove his host toward Judea: also he commanded him to build up || Cedron, and to fortifie the gates, and to war against the people; but as for the king himself, he pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people prisoners, and slay them.

41 And when he had built up Cedron, he set horsemen there, and an host of footmen, to the end that issuing out they might make out-rides upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

Chap. 13. 53.

Then came up John ^a from Gazara, and told Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

2 Wherefore Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, ^b I ^c Chap. 14. 26. and my brethen, and my fathers house, have ever from our youth unto this day fought against the enemies of Israel; and ^c things have prospered so well in our hands, that we have delivered Israel oftentimes. ^c Chap. 3. 6. 8. 14. 36.

3 But now I am old, and ye by Gods mercy are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and my brother, and go and fight for our nation, and the help from heaven be with you.

4 So he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war with horsemen, who went out against Cendebeus, and rested that night at Modin.

5 And when as they rose in the morning, and went into the plain, behold, a mighty great host both of footmen and horsemen, came against them: howbeit, there was a water-brook betwixt them.

6 So he and his people pitched over against them: and when he saw that the people were afraid to go over the water-brook, he went first over himself, and then the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 That done, he divided his men, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: for the enemies horsemen were very many.

8 Then sounded they with the holy trumpets: whereupon Cendebeus and his host were put to flight, so that many of them were slain, and the remnant gat them to the strong hold.

9 At that time was Judas Johns brother wounded, but John still followed after them, until he came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had built.

10 || So they fled even unto the towers in the fields of Azotus, wherefore he burnt it with fire: so that there were slain of them about two thousand men. Afterward he returned into the land of Judea in peace. || Or, Which when he had set on fire, they fled unto the towers in the fields of Azotus; and there were slain &c.

11 Moreover, in the plain of Jericho was Ptolemeus the son of Abubus made captain, and he had abundance of silver and gold.

12 For he was the high priests son in law. 135.

13 Wherefore his heart being lifted up, he thought to get the country to himself, and thereupon consulted deceitfully against Simon and his sons to destroy them.

14 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them, at which time he came down himself to Jericho with his sons, Mattathias and Judas, in the hundred threescore and seventh year, in the eleventh month called Sabat:

15 Where the son of Abubus receiving them deceitfully into a little hold called Docus, which he had built, made them a great banquet: howbeit he had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sons had drunk largely, Ptolemee and his men rose up, and took their weapons, and came upon Simon into the banqueting-place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain of his servants.

17 In which doing he committed a great treachery, and recompenced evil for good.

18 Then Ptolemee wrote these things, and sent

19 He sent others also to Gazara to kill John, and unto the † tribunes he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver, and gold, and rewards.

20 And others he sent to take Jerusalem, and the mountain of the temple.

21 Now one had run afore to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were slain, and (quoth he) Ptolemee hath sent to slay thee also.

22 Hereof when he heard, he was sore astonished: so he laid hands on them that were come to destroy him, and slew them; for he knew that they sought to make him away.

23 As concerning the rest of the Acts of John, and his wars and worthy deeds which he did, and the building of the walls which he made, and his doings,

CHAP. I.

1 A letter of the Jews from Jerusalem to them of Egypt, to thank God for the death of Antiochus.

19 Of the fire that was hidden in the pit. 24 The prayer of Neemias.

HE brethren the Jews that be at Jerusalem, and in the land of Judea, wish unto the brethren the Jews that are throughout Egypt, health and Peace.

2 God be gracious unto you, and remember his covenant that he made with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants;

3 And give you all an heart to serve him, and to do his will with a good courage, and a willing mind;

4 And open your hearts in his law and commandments, and send you peace,

5 And hear your prayers, and be at one with you, and never forsake you in time of trouble.

6 And now we be here praying for you.

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews wrote unto you in the extremity of trouble that came upon us in those years, from the time that ^a Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and kingdom,

8 And burnt the porch, and shed innocent blood: then we prayed unto the Lord, and were heard; we offered also sacrifices, and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and set forth the loaves.

9 And now see that ye keep the feast of ^b tabernacles in the month Casleu.

10 In the hundred fourscore and eighth year, the people that were at Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the council, and Judas sent greeting and health unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemeus master, who was of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews that were in Egypt:

11 Inasmuch as God hath delivered us from great perils, we thank him highly, as having been in battle against a king.

12 For he cast them out that fought within the holy city.

13 For when the leader was come into Persia, and the army with him that seemed invincible, they were slain in the temple of Nanea, by the deceit of Nanea's priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would marry her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receive money in name of a dowry,

15 Which when the priests of Nanea had set forth, and he was entred with a small company into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple as soon as Antiochus was come in.

16 And opening a privy door of the roof, they threw stones like thunderbolts, and struck down the captain, hewed them in pieces, smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without.

17 Blessed be our God in all things, who hath delivered up the ungodly.

18 Therefore whereas we are now purposed ^c to keep the purification of the temple ^c 1 Mac. 4. 59. Chap. 2. 16.

upon the five and twentieth day of the month ^d Casleu, we thought it necessary to certify ^d Lev. 23. Numb. 29. you thereof, that ye also might keep it, as the feast of the tabernacles, and of the fire, which was given us when Neemias offered sacrifice, after that he had builded the temple and the altar.

19 For when our fathers were led into Persia, the priests that were then devout, took the fire of the altar privily, and hid it in a hollow place of a pit without water, where they kept it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men.

20 Now after many years, when it pleased God, Neemias being sent from the king of Persia, did send of the posterity of those priests that had hid it to the fire: But when they told us they found no fire, but thick water;

21 Then commanded he them to draw it up, and to bring it; and when the sacrifices were laid on, Neemias commanded the priests to sprinkle the wood and the things laid thereupon with the water.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the sun shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marvelled.

23 And the priests made a prayer whilst the sacrifice was consuming, (I say) both the priests and all the rest, Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering thereunto as Neemias did.

24 And the prayer was after this manner, O Lord, Lord God, Creator of all things, who art fearful and strong, and righteous, and merciful, and the only and gracious King,

25 The only giver of all things, the only just, almighty and everlasting, thou that deliverest Israel from all trouble, and didst choose the fathers and sanctifie them:

26 Receive the sacrifice for thy whole people Israel, and preserve thine own portion, and sanctifie it.

from us, deliver them that serve among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God.

30 And the priests sung psalms of thanksgiving.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commanded the water that was left, to be poured on the great stones.

32 When this was done, there was kindled a flame: but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was known, it was told the king of Persia, that in the place where the priests that were led away, had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that || Neemias had purified the sacrifices therewith.

|| Or, Neemias
was company.

34 Then the king inclosing the place, made it holy after he had tried the matter.

35 And the king took many gifts, and bestowed thereof on those whom he would gratifie.

36 And Neemias called this thing Naphthar, which is as much as to say, a cleansing: but many men call it Nephi.

7 Which when Jeremy perceived, he blamed them, saying, As for that place, it shall be unknown until the time that God gather his people again together, and receive them unto mercy.

23 All these things (I say) being declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will assay to abridge in one volume.

24 For considering the infinite number, and the difficulty which they find that desire to look into the narrations of the story, for the variety of the matter,

25 We have been careful, that they that will read, might have delight, and that they that are desirous to commit to memory, might have ease, and that all into whose hands it comes, might have profit.

26 Therefore to us that have taken upon us this painful labour of abridging, it was not easie, but a matter of sweat and watching;

27 Even as it is no ease unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others: yet || for the pleasuring of many, we will undertake gladly this great pains;

|| Or, to deserve
well of many.

28 Leaving to the author the exact handling of every particular, and labouring to follow the rules of an abridgment.

29 For as the master-builder of a new house must care for the whole building; but he that undertaketh to set it out, and paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning thereof: even so I think it is with us.

30 To stand upon every point, and go over things at large, and to be curious in particulars, belongeth to the first author of the story.

31 But to use brevity, and avoid much labouring of the work, is to be granted to him that will make an abridgment.

32 Here then will we begin the story: only adding thus much, to that which hath been said, That it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story it self.

C H A P. III.

1 Of the honour done to the temple by the kings of the Gentiles. 4 Simon uttereth what treasures are in the temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 24 He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

187.

NOW when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickedness,

2 It came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and magnifie the temple with their best gifts;

3 Inasmuch that Seleucus king of Asia, of his own revenues, bare all the costs belonging to the service of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, who was made governor of the temple, fell out with the high priest about disorder in the city.

5 And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the son of Thraseas, who then was governor of Celosyria and Phenice,

6 And told him that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of infinite sums of money, so that the multitude of their riches which did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices was innumerable, and that it was possible to bring all into the kings hand.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king, and had shewed him of the money whereof he was told, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandment to bring him the foresaid money.

8 So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Celosyria and Phenice, but indeed to fulfil the kings purpose.

9 And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received of the high priest of the city, he told him what intelligence was given of the money, and declared wherefore he came, and asked if these things were so indeed.

10 Then the high priest told him that there was such money laid up for the relief of widows and fatherless children:

11 And that some of it belonged to Hircanus, son of Tobias, a man of great dignity, and not as that wicked Simon had misinformed: the sum whereof in all was four hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of gold:

12 And that it was altogether impossible that such wrongs should be done unto them, that had committed it to the holiness of the place, and to the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world.

13 But Heliodorus, because of the kings commandment given him, said, That in any wise it must be brought into the kings treasury.

14 So at the day which he appointed, he Before entred in to order this matter: wherefore there Christ was no small agony throughout the whole city. 187.

15 But the priests prostrating themselves before the altar in their priests vestments, called unto heaven upon him that ^a made a law concerning things given to be kept, that they ^{&c.} should safely be preserved for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then whoso had looked the high priest in the face, it would have wounded his heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour, declared the inward agony of his mind.

17 For the man was so compassed with fear, and horror of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked upon him, what sorrow he had now in his heart.

18 Others ran flocking out of their houses || to the general supplication, because the place || ^{Or, to make} was like to come into contempt. ^{general suppi-} ^{cation.}

19 And the women girt with sackcloth under their breasts, abounded in the streets, and the virgins that were kept in, ran, some to the gates, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the windows.

20 And all holding their hands towards heaven, made supplication.

21 Then it would have pitied a man to see the falling down of the multitude of all sorts, and the [†] fear of the high priest, being in such an agony. ^{† Gr. expecta-} ^{tion.}

22 They then called upon the Almighty Lord, to keep the things committed of trust safe and sure, for those that had committed them.

23 Nevertheless, Heliodorus executed that which was decreed.

24 Now as he was there present himself with his guard about the treasury, the || Lord of || ^{Or, Lord of} spirits, and the prince of all power caused a ^{our fathers.} great apparition, so that all that presumed to come in with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fainted, and were sore afraid.

25 For there appeared unto them an horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with a very fair covering, and he ran fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse, had complete harness of gold.

26 Moreover, two other young men appeared before him, notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gave him many sore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly unto the ground, and was compassed with great darkness: but they that were with him, took him up, and put him into a litter.

28 Thus him, that lately came with a great train, and with all his guard into the said treasury they carried out being unable to help himself with his weapons: and manifestly they acknowledged the power of God.

29 For he by the hand of God was cast down, and lay speechless without all hope of life.

30 But they praised the Lord that had miraculously honoured his own place: for the temple which a little afore was full of fear and trouble, when the Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.

[M]

31 Then

Before Christ
187.

31 Then straightways certain of Heliodorus friends, prayed Onias that he would call upon the most High, to grant him his life, who lay ready to give up the ghost.

32 So the high priest suspecting lest the king should misconceive, that some treachery had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

33 Now as the high priest was making an atonement, the same young men, in the same clothing, appeared and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, inasmuch as for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life.

34 And seeing that thou hast been scourged from heaven, declare unto all men the mighty power of God: and when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus after he had offered sacrifice unto the Lord, and made great vows unto him that had saved his life, and saluted Onias, returned with his host to the king.

36 Then testified he to all men, the works of the great God, which he had seen with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be yet sent once again to Jerusalem, he said, 38 If thou hast any enemy or traitor, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place no doubt, there is an especial power of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heaven, hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury, fell out on this sort.

C H A P. IV.

1 Simon slandereth Onias. 7 Jason, by corrupting the king obtaineth the office of the high priest. 24 Menelaus getteth the same from Jason by the like corruption. 34 Andronicus traiterously murdereth Onias. 36 The king being informed thereof, causeth Andronicus to be put to death. 39 The wickedness of Lysimachus, by the instigation of Menelaus.

THIS Simon now (of whom we spake afore) having been a bewrayer of the money, and of his country, slandered Onias, as if he had terrified Heliodorus, and been the worker of these evils.

2 Thus was he bold to call him traitor, that had deserved well of the city, and tendred his own nation, and was so zealous of the laws.

3 But when their hatred went so far, that by one of Simons faction, murders were committed,

4 Onias seeing the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as being the governor of Celosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increase Simons malice,

5 He went to the king, not to be an accuser of his countrymen, but seeking the good of all, both publick and private:

6 For he saw that it was impossible, that the state should continue quiet, and Simon leave his folly, unless the king did look thereunto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphanes, took the kingdom,

Jason the brother of Onias, laboured under-hand to be high priest,

8 Promising unto the king by intercession, three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and of another revenue, eighty talents:

9 Besides this, he promised to assign an hundred and fifty more, if he might have licence to set him up ^a a place for exercise, and for the training up of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to write them of Jerusalem by the name of Antiochians.

10 Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten into his hand the rule, he forthwith brought his own nation to the Greekish fashion.

11 And the royal privileges granted of special favour to the Jews, by the means of ^b John the father of Eupolemus, who went ambassador to Rome for amity and aid, he took away; and putting down the governments which were according to the law, he brought new customs against the law.

12 For he built gladly a place of exercise under the tower it self, and brought the chief young men under his subjection, and made them wear a hat.

13 Now such was the height of Greek fashions, and increase of heathenish manners through the exceeding profaness of Jason that ungodly wretch, and not high priest:

14 That the priests had no courage to serve any more at the altar, but despising the temple, and neglecting the sacrifices, hastned to be partakers of the unlawful allowance in the place of exercise, after the game of || Discus ^{Or, the Discus, which was a stone with a hole in the midst,} called them forth;

15 Not setting by the honours of their fathers, but liking the glory of the Grecians best of all.

16 By reason whereof sore calamity came upon them: for they had them to be their enemies and avengers, whose custom they followed so earnestly, and unto whom they desired to be like in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to do wickedly against the laws of God: but the time following shall declare these things.

18 Now when the game that was used every fifth year, was kept at Tyrus, the king being present, 19 This ungracious Jason sent [†] special messengers from Jerusalem, who were Antiochians, to carry three hundred drachmes of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought fit not to bestow upon the sacrifice, because it was not convenient, but to be reserved for other charges.

20 This money then in regard of the sender, was appointed to Hercules sacrifice; but because of the bearers thereof, it was employed to the making of gallies.

21 Now when Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt, for the || coronation of king Ptolemeus Philometor, Antiochus understanding him not to be well affected to his affairs, provided for his own safety: whereupon he came to Joppe, and from thence to Jerusalem:

22 Where he was honourably received of Jason, and of the city, and was brought in with torch-light, and with great shoutings: and so afterward went with his host unto Phenice.

23 Three year afterward Jason sent Menelaus the aforesaid Simons brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to put him in mind of certain necessary matters.

24 But he being brought to the presence of the king, when he had magnified him for the glorious appearance of his power, got the priesthood to himself, offering more than Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

25 So he came with the kings mandate, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the fury of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast.

26 Then Jason, who had undermined his own brother, being undermined by another, was compelled to flee into the country of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus got the principality: but as for the money that he had promised unto the king, he took no good order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it.

28 For unto him appertained the gathering of the customs. Wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Lyfimachus in his stead in the priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was governor of the Cyprians.

30 While those things were in doing, they of Tarsus and Mallos made insurrection, because they were given to the kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appease matters, leaving Andronicus, a man in authority, for his deputy.

32 Now Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a convenient time, stole certain vessels of gold out of the temple, and gave some of them to Andronicus, and some he sold into Tyrus, and the cities round about.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surety, he reproved him, and withdrew himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to get Onias into his hands; who being perswaded thereunto, and coming to Onias in deceit, gave him his right hand with oaths; and though he were suspected by him, yet perswaded he him to come forth of the sanctuary: whom forthwith he shut up without regard of justice.

35 For the which cause not only the Jews, but many also of other nations took great indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of the man.

36 And when the king was come again from the places about Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city, and certain of the Greeks that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slain without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was heartily sorry, and moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and modest behaviour of him that was dead.

38 And being kindled with anger, forthwith he took away Andronicus his purple, and rent off his clothes, and leading him through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there slew he the cursed murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserved.

39 Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lyfimachus, with the consent of Menelaus, and the bruit thereof was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lyfimachus, many vessels of gold being already carried away.

40 Whereupon the common people rising, and being filled with rage, Lyfimachus armed about three thousand men, and began first to offer violence; one || Auranus being the leader, || Or, Tyrannus, a man far gone in years, and no less in folly.

41 They then seeing the attempt of Lyfimachus, some of them caught stones, some clubs, others taking handfuls of dust, that was next at hand, cast them altogether upon Lyfimachus, and those that set upon them.

42 Thus many of them they wounded, and some they stroke to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee: but as for the church-robber himself, him they killed besides the treasury.

43 Of these matters therefore there was an accusation laid against Menelaus.

44 Now when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the senate, pleaded the cause before him:

45 But Menelaus being now convicted, promised * Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes, to give him much money, if he would pacifie the king towards him. ^{c 1 Mac. 3. 38.}

46 Whereupon Ptolemee taking the king aside into a certain gallery, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind:

47 Inasmuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischief: and those poor men, who if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, should have been judged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus they that followed the matter for the city and for the people, and for the holy vessels, did soon suffer unjust punishment.

49 Wherefore even they of Tyrus moved with hatred of that wicked deed, caused them to be honourably buried.

50 And so through the covetousness of them that were of power, Menelaus remained still in authority, increasing in malice, and being a great traitor to the citizens.

ABout the same time Antiochus prepared his second voyage into Egypt:

2 And then it happened, that through all the city, for the space almost of forty days, there were seen horsemen running in the air, in cloth of gold, and armed with lances, like a band of soldiers,

3 And troops of horsemen in array, encountering and running one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of || pikes, || Or, spears, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and harness of all sorts.

4 Wherefore every man prayed that that apparition might turn to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, Jason took at the least a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the walls, being put back, and the city at length taken, Menelaus fled into the castle:

6 But Jason slew his own citizens without mercy (not considering that to get the day of them of his own nation, would be a most unhappy day for him: but thinking they had been his enemies, and not his countrymen whom he conquered.)

7 Howbeit, for all this he obtained not the principality, but at the last received shame for the reward of his treason, and fled again into the country of the Ammonites.

8 In the end therefore he had an unhappy return, being accused before Aretas the king of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as a forsaker of the laws, and being had in abomination, as an open enemy of his country, and countrymen, he was cast out into Egypt.

¶ Or, executioner.

9 Thus he that had driven many out of their country, perished in a strange land, retiring to the Lacedemonians, and thinking there to find succour by reason of his kindred.

10 And he that had cast out many unburied, had none to mourn for him, nor any solemn funerals at all, nor sepulchre with his fathers.

11 Now when this that was done came to the kings ear, he thought that Judea had revolted: whereupon ^a removing out of Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, 12 And commanded his men of war not to spare such as they met, and to slay such as went up upon the houses.

13 Thus there was killing of young and old, making away of men, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants.

14 And there were destroyed within the space of three whole days, fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in the conflict; and no fewer sold than slain.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but presumed to go into the most holy temple of all the world; Menelaus that traitor to the laws, and to his own country, being his guide:

16 And taking the holy vessels with polluted hands, and with profane hands pulling down the things that were dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory, and honour of the place, he gave them away.

17 And so haughty was Antiochus in mind, that he considered not that the Lord was angry for a while for the sins of them that dwelt in the city, and therefore his eye was not upon the place.

18 For had they not been formerly wrapped in many sins, this man as soon as he had come, had forthwith been scourged, and put back from his presumption, ^b as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view the treasury.

19 Nevertheless, God did not choose the people for the places sake, but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore the place it self, that was partaker with them of the adversity that happened to the nation, did afterward communicate in the benefits sent from the Lord: and as it was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so again the great Lord being reconciled, it was set up with all glory.

21 So when Antiochus had carried out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antiochia, weening in his pride to make the land navigable, and the sea passable by foot: such was the haughtiness of his mind.

22 And ^c he left governors to vex the nation: at Jerusalem Philip, for his country a Phrygian, and for manners more barbarous than he that set him there:

23 And at Garizim, Andronicus; and besides, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest, bare an heavy hand over the citizens, having a malicious mind against his countrymen the Jews.

24 He sent also ^d that detestable ringleader Apollonius, with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were in their best age, and to sell the women, and the younger sort:

25 Who coming to Jerusalem, and pretending peace, did forbear till the holy day of the sabbath, when taking the Jews keeping holy day, he commanded his men to arm themselves.

26 And so he slew all them that were gone to the celebrating of the sabbath, and running through the city with weapons, slew great multitudes.

27 But Judas Maccabeus, [†] with nine others, [†] withdrew himself into the wilderness, and lived in the mountains after the manner of beasts, with his company, who fed on herbs continually, lest they should be partakers of the pollution.

1 The Jews are compelled to leave the law of God.

4 The temple is defiled. 8 Cruelty upon the people and the women. 12 An exhortation to bear affliction, by the example of the valiant courage of Eleazarus, cruelly tortured.

NOT long after this the king sent an old man of [¶] Athens, to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God:

2 And to pollute also the temple in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius; and that in Garizim, of Jupiter the defender of strangers, [¶] as they did desire that dwelt in the place.

3 The coming in of this mischief was fore and grievous to the people:

4 For the temple was filled with riot and revelling, by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and besides that, brought in things that were not lawful.

5 ^a The altar also was filled with profane things which the law forbiddeth.

6 Neither was it lawful for a man to keep sabbath-days, or ancient feasts, or to profess himself at all to be a Jew.

7 And in the day of the kings birth every month they were brought by bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, the Jews were compelled to go in procession to Bacchus, carrying ivy.

Before 8 Moreover, there went out a decree to Christ the neighbour cities of the † heathen, by the 164. suggestion of Ptolemee, against the Jews, that † Gr. Grecians. they should observe the same fashions, and be partakers of their sacrifices:

9 And whoso would not conform themselves to the manners of the Gentiles, should be put to death. Then might a man have seen the present misery.

10 For ^b there were two women brought, who had circumcised their children, whom when they had openly led round about the city, the babes hanging at their breasts, they cast them down headlong from the wall.

11 And others that had run together into caves near by, to keep the sabbath-day secretly, being discovered to Philip, were all burnt together, because they made a conscience to help themselves, for the honour of the most sacred day.

12 Now I beseech those that read this book, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they judge those punishments not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodness, when wicked doers are not suffered any long time, but forthwith punished.

14 For not as with other nations whom the Lord patiently forbearth to punish, till they be come to the fullness of their sins, so deal-eth he with us.

15 Lest that being come to the height of sin, afterwards he should take vengeance of us.

16 And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us. And though he punish with adversity, yet doth he never forsake his people.

167. 17 But let this that we have spoken be for a warning unto us. And now will we come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

18 Eleazar one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a well-favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eat swines flesh.

19 But he choosing rather to die gloriously, than to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his own accord to † Heb. 11. 35. the torment.

20 As it behoved them to come, that are resolute to stand out against such things as are not lawful for love of life to be tasted.

21 But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as was lawful for him to use, and make as if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice commanded by the king;

22 That in so doing he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them, find favour.

23 But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the honour of his gray head, whereunto he was come, and his most honest education from a child, or rather the holy law made and given by God: therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightways to send him to the grave.

24 For it becometh not our age (said he) in any wise to dissemble, whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar being fourscore years old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion, 25 And so they through mine hypocrisie, and desire to live a little time, and a moment longer, should be deceived by me, and I get a stain to mine old age, and make it abominable.

26 For though for the present time I should be delivered from the punishment of men: yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither alive nor dead.

27 Wherefore now manfully changing this life, I will shew my self such an one as mine age requireth, 28 And leave a notable example to such as be young, to die willingly and courageously for the honourable and holy laws: and when he had said these words, immediately he went to the torment.

29 They that led him, changing the good will they bare him a little before, into hatred, because the foresaid speeches proceeded, as they thought, from || a desperate mind.

or, pride.

30 But when he was ready to die with stripes, he groined, and said, It is manifest unto the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, that whereas I might have been delivered from death, I now endure fore pains in body by being beaten: but in soul am well content, to suffer these things, because I fear him.

31 And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men, but unto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The constancy and cruel death of seven brethren and their mother in one day, because they would not eat swines flesh at the kings commandment.

IT came to pass also that seven brethren with their mother were taken, and compelled by the king against the law to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

2 But one of them that spake first, said thus, What wouldst thou ask or learn of us? we are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of our fathers.

3 Then the king being in a rage, commanded pans and caldrons to be made hot.

4 Which forthwith being heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and to cut off the utmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on.

5 Now when he was thus maimed in all his members, he commanded him being yet alive to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the pan: and as the vapour of the pan was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted one another with the mother, to die manfully, saying thus,

6 The Lord God looketh upon us, and in truth hath comfort in us, as ^a Moses in his song, ^a Deut. 32. 36. which witnessed to their faces, declared, saying, And he shall be comforted in his servants.

7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second to make him a mocking-stock: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him,

Before
Christ
167.

Before Christ
167.

him, Wilt thou eat before thou be punished through every member of thy body?

8 But he answered in his own language, and said, No. Wherefore he also received the next torment in order, as the former did.

9 And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou like a fury takest us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise us up, who have died for his laws, unto everlasting life.

10 After him was the third made a mocking-stock: and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soon, holding forth his hands manfully.

11 And said courageously, These I had from heaven; and for his laws I despise them, and from him I hope to receive them again.

12 Inasmuch that the king and they that were with him, marvelled at the young mans courage, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

13 Now when this man was dead also, they tormented and mangled the fourth in like manner.

14 So when he was ready to die, he said thus, It is good, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God, to be raised up again by him: as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection to life.

15 Afterward they brought the fifth also, and mangled him.

16 Then looked he unto the king, and said, Thou hast power over men, thou art corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt; yet think not that our nation is forsaken of God.

17 But abide a while, and behold his great power, how he will torment thee and thy seed.

18 After him also they brought the sixth, who being ready to die, said, Be not deceived without cause: for we suffer these things for our selves, having sinned against our God: therefore marvellous things are done unto us.

19 But think not thou that takest in hand to strive against God, that thou shalt escape unpunished.

20 But the mother was marvellous above all, and worthy of honourable memory: for when she saw her seven sons slain within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

21 Yea, she exhorted every one of them in her own language, filled with courageous spirits; and stirring up her womanish thoughts with a manly stomach, she said unto them,

22 I cannot tell how you came into my womb: for I neither gave you breath nor life, neither was it I that formed the members of every one of you.

23 But doubtless the Creator of the world, who formed the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his own mercy give you breath and life again, as you now regard not your own selves for his laws sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himself despised, and suspecting it to be a reproachful speech, whilst the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with oaths, that he would make him both a rich and a happy man, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers; and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with affairs.

25 But when the young man would in no case hearken unto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted her, that she would counsel the young man to save his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would counsel her son.

27 But she bowing her self towards him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, spake in her country language on this manner, O my son, have pity upon me that bare thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age, and endured the troubles of education.

28 I beseech thee, my son, look upon the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that ^b God made them of things that were not; and so was mankind made likewise. ^b Rom. 4. 17.

29 Fear not this tormentor, but being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that I may receive thee again in mercy with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these words, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the kings commandment: but I will obey the commandment of the law that was given unto our fathers by Moses.

31 And thou that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escape the hands of God.

32 For we suffer because of our sins.

33 And though the living Lord be angry with us a little while for our chastning and correction, yet shall he be at one again with his servants.

34 But thou, O godless man, and of all other most wicked, be not lifted up without a cause, nor puffed up with uncertain hopes, lifting up thy hand against the servants of God:

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of Almighty God, who seeth all things.

36 For our brethren who now have suffered a short pain, are dead under Gods covenant of everlasting life: but thou through the judgment of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy pride.

37 But I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the laws of our fathers, beseeching God that he would speedily be merciful unto our nation, and that ^c thou by torments and plagues mayst confess, that he alone is God; ^c 1 Mac. 6. 13.
Chap. 9. 12.
&c.

38 And that in me, and my brethren, the wrath of the Almighty, which is justly brought upon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the king being in a rage handled him worse than all the rest, and took it grievously that he was mocked.

40 So this man died undefiled, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all after the sons, the mother died.

42 Let this be enough now to have spoken concerning the idolatrous feasts, and the extreme tortures.

Before

C H A P. VIII.

1 Judas gathereth an host. 9 Nicanor is sent against him: who presumeth to make much money of his prisoners. 16 Judas encourageth his men, and putteth Nicanor to flight, 28 and divided the spoils. 30 Other enemies are also defeated, 35 and Nicanor fleeth with grief to Antioch.

166.

THEN Judas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went privily into the towns, and called their kinsfolks together, and took unto them all such as continued in the Jews religion, and assembled about six thousand men.

2 And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon the people that was troden down of all, and also pity the temple, profaned of ungodly men,

3 And that he would have compassion upon the city, sore defaced and ready to be made even with the ground, and hear the blood that cried unto him,

4 And remember the wicked slaughter of harmless infants, and the blasphemies committed against his name, and that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had his company about him, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at unawares, and burnt up towns, and cities, and got into his hands the most commodious places, and overcame and put to flight no small number of his enemies.

7 But specially took he advantage of the night, for such privy attempts, insomuch that the bruit of his manliness was spread every where.

8 So when Philip saw that this man increased by little and little, and that things prospered with him still more and more, he wrote unto Ptolemeus the governor of Celyria and Phenice, to yield more aid to the kings affairs.

9 Then forthwith choosing Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of his special friends, he sent him with no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations under him, to root out the whole generation of the Jews; and with him he joyned also Gorgias a captain, who in matters of war had great experience.

10 So Nicanor undertook to make so much money of ^a the captive Jews as should defray the tribute of two thousand talents, which the king was to pay to the Romans.

11 Wherefore immediately he sent to the cities upon the sea-coast, proclaiming a sale of the captive Jews, and promising that they should have fourscore and ten bodies for one talent, not expecting the vengeance that was to follow upon him from the Almighty God.

12 Now when word was brought unto Judas of Nicanors coming, and he had imparted unto those that were with him, that the army was at hand,

13 ^b They that were fearful and distrusted the justice of God, fled, and conveyed themselves away,

14 Others sold all that they had left, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them, being sold by the wicked Nicanor before they met together:

15 And if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants he had made with their fathers, and for his holy and glorious names sake, by which they were called.

Before
Christ
166.

16 So Maccabeus called his men together unto the number of six thousand, and exhorted them ^c not to be stricken with terror of the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen, who came wrongfully against them, but to fight manfully,

17 And to set before their eyes the injury that they had unjustly done to the holy place, and the cruel handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the government of their forefathers:

18 For they (said he) trust in their weapons, and boldness; but our confidence is in the Almighty God, who at a beck can cast down both them that come against us, and also all the world.

19 Moreover, he recounted unto them what helps their forefathers had found, and ^d how they were delivered, when under Sennacherib an hundred fourscore and five thousand perished. ¹ 1 Mac. 7. 41. Chap. 15. 22.

20 And he told them of the battle that they had in Babylon with the Galatians, how they came but eight thousand in all to the business, with four thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed an hundred and twenty thousand, because of the help that they had from heaven, and so received a great booty.

21 Thus when he had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the laws, and the country, he divided his army into four parts:

22 And joyned with himself his own brethren, leaders of each band, to wit, Simon and Joseph, and Jonathan, giving each one fifteen hundred men.

23 Also he appointed Eleazar to read the holy book: and when he had given them this watch-word, The help of God; himself leading the first band, he joined battle with Nicanor.

24 And by the help of the Almighty, they slew above nine thousand of their enemies, and wounded and maimed the most part of Nicanors host, and so put all to flight;

25 And took ^e their money that came to buy them, and pursued them far: but lacking time, they returned. ¹ Ver. 10. 12. 34.

26 For it was the day before the sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

27 So when they had gathered || their army together, and spoiled their enemies, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, yielding exceeding praise and thanks to the Lord, who had preserved them unto that day, which was the beginning of mercy distilling upon them. ¹ That is, the enemies army.

28 And after the sabbath, when they had given part of the spoils to the || maimed, and the widows, and orphans, the residue they divided among themselves and their servants. ¹ Or, lamed with tortures.

29 When this was done, and they had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful

Before Christ 166. ciful Lord to be reconciled with his servants for ever.

30 Moreover, of those that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, who fought against them, they slew above twenty thousand, and very easily got high and strong holds, and divided amongst themselves many spoils more, and made the || maimed, orphans, widows, yea, and the aged also, equal in spoils with themselves.

|| Or, lamed.

31 And when they had gathered their armour together, they laid them up all carefully in convenient places, and the remnant of the spoils they brought to Jerusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches that wicked person, who was with Timotheus, and had annoyed the Jews many ways.

33 Furthermore, at such time as they kept the feast for the victory in their country, they burnt Callisthenes that had set fire upon the holy gates, who was fled into a little house, and so he received a reward meet for his wickedness.

34 As for that most ungracious Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Jews, 35 He was through the help of the Lord, brought down by them of whom he made least account, and putting off his glorious apparel, and discharging his company, he came like a fugitive servant through the mid-land unto Antioch, having very great dishonour for that his host was destroyed.

36 Thus he that took upon him to make good to the Romans their tribute by means of the captives in Jerusalem, told abroad, that the Jews had God to fight for them, and therefore they could not be hurt, because they followed the laws that he gave them.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus is chased from Persopolis: 5 He is stricken with a sore disease, 14 and promiseth to become a Jew: 28 He dieth miserably.

164.
|| Or, disorderly.
1 Mac. 6. 1,
&c.

ABout that time came Antiochus, || with dishonour ^a out of the country of Persia.

2 For he had entred the city called Persopolis, and went about to rob the temple, and to hold the city, whereupon the multitude running to defend themselves with their weapons, put them to flight; and so it happened, that Antiochus being put to flight of the inhabitants, returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatana, news was brought him what had happened unto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 Then swelling with anger, he thought to avenge upon the Jews the disgrace done unto him by those that made him flee. Therefore commanded he his chariot-man to drive without ceasing, and to dispatch the journey, the judgment of God now following him. For he had spoken proudly in this sort, that he would come to Jerusalem, and make it a common burying-place of the Jews.

5 But the Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, smote him with an incurable and invisible plague: for as soon as he had spoken these words, ^b a pain of the bowels that was remediless, came upon him, and sore torments of the inner parts;

6 And that most justly: for he had tormented other mens bowels with many and strange torments.

7 Howbeit he nothing at all ceased from his bragging, but still was filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey: but it came to pass that he fell down from his chariot, carried violently; so that having a fore fall, all the members of his body were much pained.

8 And thus he that a little afore thought he might command the waves of the sea, (so proud was he beyond the condition of man) and weigh the high mountains in a balance, was now cast on the ground, and carried in an horse-litter, shewing forth unto all the manifest power of God.

9 So that ^c the worms rose up out of the body of this wicked man, and whiles he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell away, and the filthiness of his smell was noisom to all his army. * Acts 12. 23

10 And the man that thought a little afore he could reach to the stars of heaven, no man could endure to carry for his intolerable stink.

11 Here therefore being plagued, he began to leave off his great pride, and to come to the knowledge of himself by the scourge of God, his pain increasing every moment.

12 And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words, It is meet to be subject unto God, and that a man that is mortal should not proudly think of himself, as if he were God.

13 This wicked person vowed also unto the Lord, (who now no more would have mercy upon him) saying thus,

14 That the holy city (to the which he was going in hast to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying-place) he would set at liberty.

15 And as touching the Jews, whom he had judged not worthy to be so much as buried, but to be cast out with their children to be devoured of the fowls and wild beasts, he would make them all equals to the citizens of || Athens. || Or, Antioch.

16 And the holy temple which before he had spoiled, he would garnish with goodly gifts, and restore all the holy vessels with many more, and ^d out of his own revenue defray the charges belonging to the sacrifices: * So Ezra 6. 9.
40.

17 Yea, and that also he would become a Jew himself, and go through all the world that was inhabited, and declare the power of God.

18 But for all this his pains would not cease: for the just judgment of God was come upon him: therefore despairing of his health, he wrote unto the Jews, the letters under written, containing the form of a supplication, after this manner:

19 Antiochus king and governor, to the good Jews his citizens, wisheth much joy, health and prosperity.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and your affairs be to your contentment, I give very great thanks to God, having my hope in heaven.

21 As for me, I was weak, or else I would have

Before Christ 166.

Before Christ 164. have remembred kindly your honour and good will. Returning out of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all.

22 Not distrusting mine health, but having great hope to escape this sickness.

23 But considering that even my father, at what time he led an army into the high countries, appointed a successor,

24 To the end that if any thing fell out contrary to expectation, or if any tidings were brought that were grievous, they of the land knowing to whom || the state was left, might not be troubled.

|| Or, common affairs.

25 Again, considering how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom, wait for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have appointed my son Antiochus king, whom I often committed and commended unto many of you, when I went up into the high provinces; to whom I have written as followeth.

26 Therefore I pray and request you to remember the benefits that I have done unto you generally, and in special, and that every man will be still faithful to me and my son.

|| Or, following.

27 For I am perswaded that he || understanding my mind, will favourably and graciously yield to your desires.

28 Thus the murderer and blasphemer having suffered most grievously, as he entreated other men, so died he a miserable death in a strange country in the mountains.

29 And Philip that was brought up with him, carried away his body, who also fearing the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemeus Philometor.

NOW Maccabeus and his company, the Lord guiding them, recovered the temple, and the city.

2 But the altars which the heathen had built in the open street, and also the chapels they pulled down.

1 Mac. 4. 47.

3 And having cleansed the temple ^a they made another altar, and striking stones, they took fire out of them, and offered a sacrifice after two years, and set forth incense, and lights, and shew-bread.

4 When that was done, they fell flat down, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles; but if they sinned any more against him, that he himself would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be delivered unto the blasphemous and barbarous nations.

1 Mac. 4. 52.

5 Now ^b upon the same day that the strangers prophaned the temple, on the very same day it was cleansed again, even the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Casleu.

6 And they kept eight days with gladness, as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they had held the feast of the tabernacles, when as they wandred in the mountains and dens like beasts.

7 Therefore they bare branches, and fair boughs, and palms also, and sang psalms unto him that had given them good success in cleansing his place.

8 ^c They ordained also by a common statute and decree, That every year those days should be kept of the whole nation of the Jews.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus called Epiphanes. ^{164. beginning.}

10 Now will we declare the acts of Antiochus Eupator, who was the son of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the wars.

11 So when he was come to the crown, he set one Lyfias over the affairs of his realm, and appointed him chief Governor of Celosyria and Phenice.

12 For Ptolemeus that was called Macron, choosing rather to do justice unto the Jews, for the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to continue peace with them.

13 Whereupon being accused of the kings friends, before Eupator, and called traitor at every word, because he had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed unto him, and departed to Antiochus Epiphanes, || and seeing that he was in no honourable place, he was so discouraged that he poisoned himself and died. ^{|| Or, and not bearing his authority as it becometh a noble man.}

14 But when Gorgias was governor of the || holds, he hired soldiers and nourished war continually with the Jews. ^{|| Or, strong places.}

15 And therewithal the Idumeans having gotten into their hands the most commodious holds, kept the Jews occupied, and receiving those that were banished from Jerusalem, they went about to nourish war.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made supplication, and besought God that he would be their helper; and so they ran with violence upon the strong holds of the Idumeans.

17 And assaulting them strongly, they wan the holds, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew all that fell into their hands, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand.

18 And because certain (who were no less than nine thousand) were fled together into two very strong castles, having all manner of things convenient to sustain the siege,

19 Maccabeus left Simon and Joseph, and Zaccheus also, and them that were with him, who were enough to besiege them, and departed himself unto those places which more needed his help.

20 Now || they that were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were perswaded for money (through certain of those that were in the castle) and took seventy thousand drachmes, and let some of them escape. ^{|| Or, Simon's.}

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, he called the governors of the people together, and accused those men that they had sold their brethren for money, and set their enemies free to fight against them.

22 So he slew those that were found traitors, and immediately took the two castles.

23 And having good success with his weapons in all things he took in hand, he slew in the two holds more than twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus ^d whom the Jews had overcome before, when he had gathered a great multitude of foreign forces, and horses out out of Asia not a few, came as though he would take Jewry by force of arms.

25 But when he drew near, || they that were with Maccabeus, turned themselves to pray unto God, and sprinkled earth upon their heads, and girded their loyns with sackcloth.

26 And fell down at the foot of the altar, and besought him to be merciful to them, and to be ^c an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth.

27 So after the prayer, they took their weapons, and went on further from the city: and when they drew near to their enemies, they kept by themselves.

28 Now the sun being newly risen, they joyned both together; the one part having together with their virtue, their refuge also unto the Lord, for a || pledge of their success and victory: the other side making their rage leader of their battle.

29 But when the battle waxed strong, ^f there appeared unto the enemies from heaven, five comely men upon horses, with bridles of gold, and two of them led the Jews,

30 And took Maccabeus betwixt them, and covered him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot arrows and lightnings against the enemies: so that being confounded with blindness, and full of trouble, they were killed.

31 And there were slain of footmen twenty thousand and five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himself, he fled into a very strong hold, called Gazara, where Chereas was governor.

33 But they that were with Maccabeus, laid siege against the fortress courageously four days.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and uttered wicked words.

35 Nevertheless upon the fifth day early, twenty young men of Maccabeus company, inflamed with anger because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall manly, and with a fierce courage killed all that they met withal.

36 Others likewise ascending after them, whiles they were busied with them that were within, burnt the towers, and kindling fires, burnt the blasphemers alive; and others broke open the gates, and having received in the rest of the army, took the city,

37 And killed Timotheus that was hid in a certain pit, and Chereas his brother, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalms and thanksgiving, who had done so great things for Israel, and given them the victory.

CHAP. XI.

3 Lyfias thinking to get Jerusalem, 8 is put to flight. 16 The letters of Lyfias to the Jews: 22 of the king unto Lyfias, 27 and to the Jews: 34 of the Romans to the Jews.

† Gl. 1209.

NOT long after this, Lyfias the kings † protector and cousin, who also managed the affairs, took sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourscore thousand with all the horsemen, he came against the Jews, thinking to make the city an habitation of the || Gentiles,

3 And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other chapels of the heathen, and to set the high priesthood to sale every year:

4 Not at all considering the power of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants.

5 So he came to Judea, and drew near to Bethsura, which was a strong town, but distant from Jerusalem about five furlongs, and he laid sore siege unto it.

6 Now when || they that were with Maccabeus heard that he besieged the holds, they and all the people with lamentation and tears besought the Lord that he would send a good angel to deliver Israel.

7 Then Maccabeus himself first of all took weapons, exhorting the other that they would jeopard themselves together with him to help their brethren: so they went forth together with a willing mind.

8 And as they were at Jerusalem, ^a there appeared before them on horseback, one in white clothing, shaking his armour of gold.

9 Then they praised the merciful God all together, and took heart, insomuch that they were ready not only to fight with men, but with most cruel beasts, and to pierce through walls of iron.

10 Thus they marched forward in their armour, having an helper from heaven: for the Lord was merciful unto them.

11 And giving a charge upon their enemies, like lions, they slew eleven thousand footmen, and sixteen hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked; and Lyfias himself fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who as he was a man of understanding, casting with himself what loss he had had, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them, he sent unto them, 14 And perswaded them to agree to all reasonable conditions, and promised that he would perswade the king, that he must needs be a friend unto them.

15 Then Maccabeus consented to all that Lyfias desired, being careful of the common good; and whatsoever Maccabeus wrote unto Lyfias concerning the Jews, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written unto the Jews from Lyfias to this effect: Lyfias unto the people of the Jews sendeth greeting.

17 John and Absalon, who were sent from you, delivered me the petition subscribed, and made request for the performance of the contents thereof.

18 Therefore what things soever were meet to be reported to the king, I have declared them, and he hath granted as much as might be.

19 If then you will keep your selves loyal to the state, hereafter also will I endeavour to be a means of your good.

21 Fare ye well. The hundred and eight and fortieth year, the four and twentieth day of the month || Dioscorinthius.

22 Now the kings letter contained these words: King Antiochus unto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated unto the gods, our will is, that they that are in our realm live quietly, that every one may attend upon his own affairs.

24 We understand also that the Jews would not consent to our father, for to be brought unto the custom of the Gentiles, but had rather keep their own manner of living: for the which cause they require of us, that we should suffer them to live after their own laws.

25 Wherefore our mind is, that this nation shall be in rest, and we have determined to restore them their temple, that they may live according to the customs of their forefathers.

26 Thou shalt do well therefore to send unto them, and ||grant them peace, that when they are certified of our mind, they may be of good comfort, and ever go cheerfully about their own affairs.

27 And the letter of the king unto the nation of the Jews was after this manner: King Antiochus sendeth greeting unto the counsel, and the rest of the Jews.

28 If ye fare well, we have our desire, we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared unto us, that your desire was to return home, and to follow your own business:

30 Wherefore they that will depart shall have safe conduct, till the thirtieth day of Xanthicus with security.

31 And the Jews shall use their own kind of meats, and laws, as before; and none of them any manner of ways shall be molested for things ignorantly done.

32 I have sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye well. In the hundred forty and eighth year, and in the fifteenth day of the month || Xanthicus.

34 The Romans also sent unto them a letter containing these words: Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manlius || ambassadors of the Romans, send greeting unto the people of the Jews.

35 Whatsoever Lysias the kings cousin hath granted, therewith we also are well pleased.

36 But touching such things as he judged to be referred to the king, after you have advised thereof, send one forthwith, that we may declare as it is convenient for you: for we are now going to Antioch.

37 Therefore send some with speed, that we may know what is your mind.

C H A P. XII.

1 The kings lieutenants vex the Jews. 3 They of Joppe drown two hundred Jews. 6 Judas is avenged upon them: 11 He maketh peace with the Arabians, 16 and taketh Caspis. 22 Timotheus armies overthrown.

W H E N these covenants were made, Lysias went unto the king, and the Jews were about their husbandry.

2 But of the governors of several places, ^a Timotheus, and Apollonius, the son of Gen-neus, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them Nicanor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to be quiet, and live in peace.

3 The men of Joppe also did such an ungodly deed: they prayed the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had prepared, as though they had meant them no hurt.

4 Who accepted of it according to the common decree of the city, as being desirous to live in peace, and suspecting nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no less than two hundred of them.

5 When Judas heard of this cruelty done unto his countrymen, he commanded those that were with him to make them ready.

6 And calling upon God the righteous judge, he came against those murderers of his brethren, and burnt the haven by night, and set the boats on fire, and those that fled thither he slew.

7 And when the town was shut up, he went backward, || as if he would return to root out all them of the city of Joppe.

8 But when he heard that the Jamnites were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that dwelt among them, 9 He came upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire on the haven and the navy, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs off.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs, in their journey toward Timotheus, no fewer than five thousand men on foot, and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians set upon him.

11 Whereupon there was a very sore battle; but Judas side by the help of God got the victory; so that the Nomades of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas for peace, promising both to give him cattle, and to pleasure him otherwise.

12 Then Judas thinking in deed that they would be profitable in many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shook hands, and so they || departed to their tents.

13 He went also about to make a bridge to a certain strong city, which was fenced about with walls, and inhabited by people of divers countries; and the name of it was Caspis.

14 But they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walls, and provision of victuals, that they behaved themselves rudely towards them that were with Judas, railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15 Wherefore Judas with his company, calling upon the great Lord of the world (^b who ^a Josh. 6. 20. without any rams or engines of war, did cast down Jericho in the time of Joshua) gave a fierce assault against the walls,

16 And took the city by the will of God, and made unspeakable slaughters, insomuch that a lake two furlongs broad, near adjoyn-

17 Then departed they from thence seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characa unto the Jews that are called Tubieni.

18 But as for Timotheus, they found him not in the places: for before he had dispatched any thing, he departed from thence, having left a very strong garison in a certain hold.

19 Howbeit, Dosithheus and Sosipater, who were of Maccabeus captains, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortrefs, above ten thousand men.

¶ Dosithheus and Sosipater.

20 And Maccabeus ranged his army by bands, and set ¶ them over the bands, and went against Timotheus, who had about him an hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, and two thousand and five hundred horse-men.

¶ 1 Mac. 5. 43. Carnaim.

21 Now when Timotheus had knowledge of Judas coming, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage unto a fortrefs called Carnion: (for the town was hard to besiege, and uneasie to come unto, by reason of the straitness of all the places.)

22 But when Judas his first band came in fight, the enemies (being smitten with fear and terror, through the appearing of him that seeth all things) fled amain, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of their own men, and wounded with the points of their own swords.

23 Judas also was very earnest in pursuing them, killing those wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirty thousand men.

24 Moreover, Timotheus himself fell into the hands of Dosithheus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jews parents, and the brethren of some of them, who, if they had put him to death, should not be regarded.

25 So when he had assured them with many words, that he would restore them without hurt, according to the agreement, they let him go for the saving of their brethren.

¶ That is, Venus.

26 Then Maccabeus marched forth to Carnion, and to the temple of ¶ Atargatis, and there he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after he had put to flight and destroyed them, Judas removed the host towards Ephron, a strong city, wherein Lyfias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations, and the strong young men kept the walls, and defended them mightily: wherein also was great provisions of engines and darts.

28 But when Judas and his company had called upon Almighty God (who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies) they wan the city, and slew twenty and five thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth fix hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

30 But when the Jews that dwelt there had testified that the Scythipolitans dealt lovingly with them, and entreated them kindly in the time of their adversity;

31 They gave them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still unto them: and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks approaching.

32 And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the governor of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousand men of foot, and four hundred horsemen.

34 And it happened that in their fighting together, a few of the Jews were slain.

35 At which time, Dosithheus, one of Bacenors company, who was on horseback, and a strong man, was still upon Gorgias, and taking hold of his coat, drew him by force; and when he would have taken that cursed man alive, a horseman of Thracia coming upon him, ¶ smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled unto Marisa.

¶ Or, put by his arm: Or, wounded him in the shoulder: Or, struck him in the shoulder. Or, Esdras.

36 Now when they that were with ¶ Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord that he would shew himself to be their helper, and leader of the battle.

37 And with that he began in his own language, and sung psalms with a loud voice, and rushing unawares upon Gorgias men, he put them to flight.

38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city Odollam. And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves (as the custom was) and kept the sabbath in the same place.

39 And upon the day following, ¶ as the use had been, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers graves.

¶ Or, at such time, &c.

40 Now under the coats of every one that was slain, they found things consecrated to the idols of the Jamnites, which is forbidden the Jews by ¶ the law. Then every man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slain.

¶ Deut. 7. 25. 26.

41 All men therefore praising the Lord the righteous Judge, who had opened the things that were hid,

42 Betook themselves unto prayer, and besought him, that the sin committed might wholly be put out of remembrance. Besides, that noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forsomuch as they saw before their eyes the things that came to pass, for the sins of those that were slain.

43 And when he had made a gathering throughout the company, to the sum of two thousand drachmes of silver, he sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin-offering, doing therein very well, and honestly, in that he was mindful of the resurrection;

44 (For if he had not hoped that they that were slain should have risen again, it had been superfluous and vain to pray for the dead)

45 And also in that he perceived that there was great favour laid up for those that died godly. (It was an holy and good thought) Whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sin.

C H A P. XIII.

1 Eupator invadeth Judea. 15 Judas by night slayeth many. 18 Eupators purpose is defeated: 23 He maketh peace with Judas.

I N the hundred forty and ninth year it was told Judas that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Judea,

2 And with him ¶ Lyfias his protector, and ruler of his affairs, having either of them a Grecian

Before
Christ
163.

Grecian power of footmen, an hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen five thousand and three hundred, and elephants two and twenty, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks.

3 Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the country but because he thought to have been made governor.

4 But the King of kings moved Antiochus mind against this wicked wretch, and Lyfias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him unto Berea, and to put him to death, as the manner is in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fifty cubits high full of ashes, and it had a round instrument which on every side hanged down into the ashes.

6 And whosoever was condemned of sacrilege, or had committed any other grievous crime, there did all men thrust him unto death.

7 Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as burial in the earth, and that most justly.

8 For inasmuch as he had committed many sins about the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

9 Now the king came with a barbarous and haughty mind, to do far worse to the Jews than had been done in his fathers time.

10 Which things when Judas perceived, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord night and day, that if ever at any other time, he would now also help them, being at the point to be put from their law, from their country, and from the holy temple:

11 And that he would not suffer the people, that || had even now been but a little refreshed, to be in subjection to the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and besought the merciful Lord with weeping, and fasting, and lying flat upon the ground three days long, Judas having exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readiness.

13 And Judas being apart with the elders, determined, before the kings host should enter into Judea, and get the city, to go forth and try the matter in fight by the help of the Lord.

14 So when he had committed all to the || Creator of the world, and exhorted his soldiers to fight manfully, even unto death, for the laws, the temple, the city, the country, and the common-wealth, he camped by Modin.

15 And having given the watch-word to them that were about him, Victory is of God; with the most valiant and choice young men, he went in into the kings tent by night, and slew in the camp about four thousand men, and the chiefest of the elephants, with all that were upon him.

16 And at last they filled the camp with fear and tumult, and departed with good success.

17 This was done in the break of the day, because the protection of the Lord did help him.

18 Now when the king had taken a taste of the manliness of the Jews, he went about to take the holds by policy,

19 And marched towards Bethsura, which was a strong hold of the Jews: but he was put to flight, failed, and lost of his men.

20 For Judas had conveyed unto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus, who was in the Jews host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies; therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him they put him in prison.

22 The king treated with them in Bethsura, the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, fought with Judas, was overcome;

23 Heard that Philip who was left over the affairs in Antioch || was desperately bent, con- || Or, rebelled. founded, intreated the Jews, submitted himself, and sware to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and dealt kindly with the place,

24 And accepted well of Maccabeus, made him principal governor from Ptolemais unto the Gerrhenians;

25 Came to Ptolemais: the people there were grieved for the covenants; for they stormed because they would make their covenants void.

26 Lyfias went up to the judgment-seat, said as much as could be in defence of the cause, perswaded, pacified, made them well affected, returned to Antioch. Thus it went touching the kings coming and departing.

C H A P. XIV.

6 Alcimus accuseth Judas. 18 Nicanor maketh peace with Judas: 39 He seeketh to take Razis, 46 who, to escape his hands, killeth himself.

After three years was Judas informed that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having entred by the haven of Tripolis with a great power and navy,

2 Had taken the country, and killed Antiochus, and Lyfias his protector.

3 Now one Alcimus, who had been high priest, and had defiled himself wilfully in the times of their mingling with the Gentiles, seeing that by no means he could save himself, nor have any more access to the holy altar,

4 Came to king Demetrius in the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting unto him a crown of gold and a palm, and also of the boughs, which were || used solemnly in the temple: and so that day he held his peace.

5 Howbeit having gotten opportunity to further his foolish enterprise, and being called into counsel by Demetrius, and asked how the Jews stood affected, and what they intended, he answered thereunto,

6 Those of the Jews that be called Assideans (whose captain is Judas Maccabeus) nourish war and are seditious, and will not let the realm be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being deprived of mine ancestors honour (I mean the high priesthood) am now come hither:

8 First verily for the unfeigned care I have of things pertaining to the king; and secondly, even for that I intend the good of mine own countrymen: for all our nation is in no small misery, through the unadvised dealing of them afore said.

9 Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, be careful for the country, and our nation which is pressed on every side, according to the clemency that thou readily shewest unto all.

10 For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

11 This was no sooner spoken of him, but others of the kings friends being maliciously set against Judas, did more incense Demetrius.

12 And forthwith calling Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor over Judea, he sent him forth, 13 Commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high priest of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen that had fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harm and calamities of the Jews to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Jews heard of Nicanors coming, and that the heathen || were up against them, they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him that had established his people for ever, and who always helpeth his portion with manifestation of his presence.

16 So at the commandment of the captain, they removed straightways from thence, and came near unto them at the town of Desfau.

17 Now Simon, Judas brother, had joyned battle with Nicanor, but was somewhat discomfited through the sudden silence of his enemies.

18 Nevertheless, Nicanor hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and the couragiousness that they had to fight for their country, durst not try the matter by the sword.

19 Wherefore he sent Possidonius, and Theodotus, and Mattathias to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long advisement thereupon, and the captain had made the multitude acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of one mind, they consented to the covenants,

21 And appointed a day to meet in together by themselves: and when the day came, and stools were set for either of them,

22 Judas placed armed men ready in convenient places, lest some treachery should be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made a peaceable conference.

23 Now Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking unto him.

24 And he would not willingly have Judas out of his sight: for he loved the man from his heart.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he married, was quiet, and || took part of this life.

26 But Alcimus perceiving the love that was betwixt them, and considering the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor was not well-affected towards the state; for that he had ordained Judas a traitor to his realm, to be the kings successor.

27 Then the king being in a rage, and provoked with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor signifying that he was much displeased with the covenants, and commanding him that he should send Maccabeus prisoner in all haste unto Antioch.

28 When this came to Nicanors hearing, he was much confounded in himself, and took it grievously that he should make void the articles which were agreed upon, the man being in no fault.

29 But because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to accomplish this thing by policy.

30 Notwithstanding, when Maccabeus saw that Nicanor began to be churlish unto him, and that he entreated him more roughly than he was wont, perceiving that such lowre behaviour came not of good, he gathered together not a few of his men, and withdrew himself from Nicanor.

31 But the other knowing that he was notably prevented by Judas policy, * came into the great and holy temple, and commanded the priests that were offering their usual sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

32 And when they sware that they could not tell where the man was whom he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an oath in this manner, If you will not deliver me Judas as † a prisoner, I will lay this temple of God † even with the ground, and I will break down the altar, and erect a notable temple unto Bacchus.

34 After these words he departed. Then the Priests lift up their hands towards heaven, and besought him that was ever a defender of their nation, saying in this manner,

35 Thou, O Lord of all things, who hast need of nothing, wast pleased that the temple of thine habitation should be among us:

36 Therefore now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep this house ever undefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop every unrighteous mouth.

37 Now was there accused unto Nicanor, one Razis, one of the elders of Jerusalem, a lover of his countrymen, and a man of very good report, who for his kindness was called a father of the Jews.

38 For in the former times, when they mingled not themselves with the Gentiles, he had been accused of Judaism, and did boldly jeopard his body and life with all vehemency for the religion of the Jews.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hate that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred men of war to take him.

40 For he thought by taking him to do the Jews much hurt.

41 Now when the multitude would have taken the tower, and violently broken into the utter door, and bade that fire should be brought to burn it, he being ready to be taken on every side, fell upon his sword;

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, than to come into the hands of the wicked, to be abused otherwise than beseem'd his noble birth:

43 But missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also rushing within the doors, he 44 But they quickly giving back, and a space being made, he fell down into the midst of the void place.

45 Nevertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being inflamed with anger, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out like spouts of water, and his wounds were grievous, yet he ran through the midst of the throng; and standing upon a steep rock, 46 When as his blood was now quite gone, he pluckt out his bowels, and taking them in both his hands, he cast them upon the throng, and calling upon the Lord of life and spirit to restore him those again, he thus died.

5 Nicanors blasphemy. 8 Judas encourageth his men by his dream. 28 Nicanor is slain.

BUT Nicanor hearing that Judas and his company were in the strong places about Samaria, resolved without any danger to set upon them on the sabbath-day.

2 Nevertheless, the Jews that were compelled to go with him, said, O destroy not so cruelly and barbarously, but give honour to that day, which he that seeth all things, hath honoured with holiness above other days.

3 Then the most ungracious wretch demanded, if there were a mighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath-day to be kept.

4 And when they said, There is in heaven a living Lord and mighty, who commanded the seventh day to be kept:

5 Then said the other, And I also am mighty upon earth, and I command to take arms, and to do the kings business: yet he obtained not to have his wicked will done.

6 So Nicanor in exceeding pride and haughtiness, determined to set up a publick monument of his victory over Judas and them that were with him.

7 But Maccabeus had ever sure confidence that the Lord would help him:

8 Wherefore he exhorted his people, not to fear the coming of the heathen against them, but to remember the help which in former times they had received from heaven, and now to expect the victory and aid which should come unto them from the Almighty.

9 And so comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind, of the battles that they won afore, he made them more cheerful.

10 And when he had stirred up their minds, he gave them their charge, shewing them therewithal the falshood of the heathen, and the breach of oaths.

11 Thus he armed every one of them, not so much with defence of shields and spears, as with comfortable and good words: and besides that he told them a dream worthy to be believed, as if it had been so indeed, which did not a little rejoyce them.

12 And this was his vision, That Onias, who had been high priest, a virtuous and a good man, reverend in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, holding up his hands, prayed for the whole body of the Jews.

13 This done, in like manner there appeared a man with gray hairs, and exceeding glorious, who was of a wonderful and excellent majesty.

14 Then Onias answered, saying, This is a lover of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy city, to wit, Jeremias the prophet of God.

15 Whereupon, Jeremias holding forth his right hand, gave to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it, spake thus, 16 Take this holy sword, a gift from God, with the which thou shalt wound the adversaries.

17 Thus being well comforted by the words of Judas, which were very good, and able to stir them up to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the young men, they determined not to pitch camp, but courageously to set upon them, and manfully to try the matter by conflict, because the city, and the sanctuary, and the temple were in danger.

18 For the care that they took for their wives and their children, their brethren, and kinsfolks, was in least account with them: but the greatest and principal fear was for the holy temple.

19 Also they that were in the city took not the least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad:

20 And now when as all looked what should be the trial, and the enemies were already come near, and the army was set in array, and the beasts conveniently placed, and the horsemen set in wings,

21 Maccabeus seeing the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretched out his hands towards heaven, and called upon the Lord, that worketh wonders, knowing that victory cometh not by arms, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner, O Lord, ^a thou did send thine ^a Chap. 8. 19. angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judea, and did slay in the host of Sennacherib, an hundred fourscore and five thousand.

23 Wherefore now also, O Lord of heaven, send a good angel before us, for a fear and dread unto them.

24 And through the might of thine arm, let those be stricken with terrour, that come against thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, came forward with trumpets and songs.

26 But Judas and his company encountred the enemies with invocation and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men: for through the appearance of God they were greatly cheered.

28 Now when the battle was done, returning again with joy, they knew that ^b Nicanor ^b 1 Mac. 7. 43. lay dead in his harness.

29 Then they made a great shout, and a noise, praising the Almighty in their own language.

30 And

30 And Judas who was ever the chief defender of the citizens, both in body and mind, and who continued his love towards his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off Nicanors head, and his hand, with his shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of the tower,

^c Chap. 14. 33. 32 And shewed them vile Nicanors head, and the hand of that blasphemer, ^c which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanors head upon the tower, an evident and manifest sign unto all, of the help of the Lord.

36 And ^d they ordained all with a common decree, in no case to let that day pass without solemnity, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which in the Syrian tongue is called Adar, the day before ^e Mardocheus day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor: and from that time forth the Hebrews had the city in their power. And here will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired: but if slenderly and meanly, it is that which I could attain unto.

39 For as it is hurtful to drink wine or water alone; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: even so, speech finely framed, delighteth the ears of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 And was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, ¹ Out of Egypt have I called my son.

16 ¶ Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wise-men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by ^m Jeremy the prophet, saying,

^m Jer. 31. 15.

18 In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

The Third Year before the Account called
Anno Domini.

19 ¶ But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Judea, in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside ^a into the parts of Galilee:

CHAP. III.

¹ John preacheth: his office, life, and baptism: ⁷ He reprehendeth the Pharisees, ¹³ and baptizeth Christ in Jordan.

IN those days came ^a John the Baptist, preaching ^b in the wilderness of Judea,

2 And saying, Repent ye: ^c for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, ^d The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 And ^e the same John ^f had his raiment of camels hair, and a leathern girdle about his loyns; and his meat was ^g locusts and wild hony.

5 ^h Then went out to him Jerusalem and all Judea, and all the region round about Jordan, 6 ⁱ And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 ¶ But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, ^k O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from ^l the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits || meet for repentance.

9 And think not to say within yourselves, ^m We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

10 And now also the ax is laid unto the root of the trees: ⁿ therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, Domini, and cast into the fire.

11 ^o I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance; but he that cometh after me, is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: ^p he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

12 ^q Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner: but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

13 ¶ Then cometh Jesus ^r from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.

14 But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 And Jesus answering, said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness. Then he suffered him.

16 And Jesus when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw ^s the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him.

17 ^t And lo, a voice from heaven, saying, ^u This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAP. IV.

¹ Christ fasteth, and is tempted: ¹¹ The angels minister unto him: ¹³ He dwelleth in Capernaum: ¹⁷ beginning to preach, ¹⁸ calleth Peter and Andrew, ²¹ James and John, ²³ and healeth all the diseased.

Then was ^a Jesus led up of the spirit into the wilderness, to be tempted of the devil.

2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and said, It is written, ^b Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him up ^c into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thy self down: for it is written,

^d He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, ^e Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them:

9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, ^f Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and behold, ^g angels came and ministered unto him.

12 ¶ Now when Jesus had heard that John was || cast into prison, he departed into Galilee.

13 And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea-coast, in the borders of Zabulon, and Nephthalim:

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

15 The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles:

16 The people which sat in darkness, saw great light: and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is sprung up.

17 ¶ From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 ¶ And Jesus walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon, called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: (for they were fishers)

19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 ¶ And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness, and all manner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases, and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsie; and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of People, from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ beginneth his sermon in the mount: 3 declaring who are blessed, 13 who are the salt of the earth, 14 the light of the world, the city on an hill: 15 the candle: 17 that he came to fulfil the law. 21 What it is to kill, 27 to commit adultery, 33 to swear: 38 exhorteth to suffer wrong, 44 to love even our enemies, 48 and to labour after perfectness.

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him.

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peace-makers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely for my sake.

12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 ¶ Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troden under foot of men.

14 Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill, cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel: but on a candlestick, and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 ¶ Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do, and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 ¶ Ye have heard, that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill: and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgment.

22 But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell-fire.

23 Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there remembrest that thy brother hath ought against thee;

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him: lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery.

28 But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: lest thy whole body be cast into hell.

31. 24 ¶ No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. ¶ Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

25 Therefore I say unto you, ¶ Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body what ye shall put on: Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26 ¶ Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye much better than they?

27 Which of you by taking thought, can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin.

29 And yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so clothe the grafs of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or what shall we drink? or wherewithal shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But ¶ seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.

34 Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of it self: sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAP. VII.

¶ Christ ending his sermon in the mount, reproveth rash judgment, 6 forbiddeth to cast holy things to dogs, 7 exhorteth to prayer, 13 to enter in at the strait gate, 15 to beware of false prophets, 21 not to be hearers, but doers of the word: 24 like houses builded on a rock, 26 and not on the sand.

¶ Judge not, that ye be not judged. 2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: ¶ and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 ¶ And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and behold, a beam is in thine own eye.

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

6 ¶ Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rent you.

7 ¶ Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and ye shall find: knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

8 For ¶ every one that asketh, receiveth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 ¶ Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone? Anno Domini.

10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent? 31.

11 If ye then ¶ being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

12 Therefore all things ¶ whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for ¶ this is the law and the prophets.

13 ¶ Enter ye in at the strait gate; for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

14 ¶ Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

15 ¶ Beware of false prophets, ¶ which come to you in sheeps clothing, but inwardly they are ¶ ravening wolves.

16 ¶ Ye shall know them by their fruits: ¶ Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 Even so ¶ every good tree bringeth forth good fruit: but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit: neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit:

19 ¶ Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 ¶ Not every one that saith unto me, ¶ Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven: but he that doth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we ¶ not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

23 And ¶ then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: ¶ depart from me ye that work iniquity.

24 ¶ Therefore, ¶ whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock:

25 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house: and it fell not, for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man which built his house upon the sand:

27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house: and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to pass when Jesus had ended these sayings, ¶ the people were astonished at his doctrine.

29 ¶ For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

When he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.2 ^a And behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.3 And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will, be thou clean. And immediately his leprosie was cleansed.4 And Jesus saith unto him, ^b See thou tell no man, but go thy way, shew thy self to the priest, and offer the gift that ^c Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.5 ¶ ^d And when Jesus was entred into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palse, grievously tormented.

7 And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 The centurion answered and said, Lord, ^e I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof: but ^f speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.9 For I am a man under authority, having foldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doth it.10 When Jesus heard it he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no not in Israel.11 And I say unto you, that ^g many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven.12 But ^h the children of the kingdom ⁱ shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way, and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the self-same hour.

14 ¶ ^k And when Jesus was come into Peters house, he saw ^l his wifes mother laid, and sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose and ministred unto them.

16 ¶ ^m When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, ⁿ Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

19 ^o And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.21 And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, ^p suffer me first to go and bury my father.

22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me, and let the dead bury their dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entred into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 ^q And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then ^r he arose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

28 ¶ ^s And when he was come to the other side, into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

29 And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them an herd of many swine, feeding.

31 So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 And they that kept them fled, and went their ways into the city, and told every thing; and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.

34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus, and when they saw him, ^t they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

3 And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Jesus knowing their thoughts, said, wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

5 For whether is easier to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee? or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 But that ye may know that the son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palse) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

14 ^a And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words: when you depart out of that house, or city, ^a shake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verily I say unto you, ^a It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 ¶ ^a Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: ^a be ye therefore wise as serpents, and ^a harmless as doves.

17 But beware of men, for ^a they will deliver you up to the councils, and ^a they will scourge you in their synagogues.

18 And ^b ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles.

19 ^c But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak, for ^d it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

20 ^e For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 ^f And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death.

22 And ^g ye shall be hated of all men for my names sake: ^h but he that endureth to the end, shall be saved.

23 But ⁱ when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, ye shall not ^j have gone over the cities of Israel ^k till the Son of man be come.

24 ^l The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord: if ^m they have called the master of the house ⁿ Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household?

26 Fear them not therefore: ^o for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known.

27 What I tell you in darkness, ^p that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, ^q that preach ye upon the house-tops.

28 ^r And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

29 Are not two sparrows sold for a ^s farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.

30 ^t But the very hairs of your head are all numbred.

31 Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

32 ^u Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, ^v him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

33 ^w But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

34 ^x Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

35 For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

36 And ^y a mans foes shall be they of his own household.

37 ^z He that loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me, is not worthy of me.

38 ^{aa} And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.

39 ^{ab} He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake, shall find it.

40 ¶ ^{ac} He that receiveth you, receiveth me; and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

41 ^{ad} He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet, shall receive a prophets reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man, in the name of a righteous man, shall receive a righteous mans reward.

42 ^{ae} And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones, a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

CHAP. XI.

2 John sendeth his disciples to Christ. 7 Christs testimony concerning John. 18 The opinion of the people, both concerning John and Christ. 20 Christ upbraideth the unthankfulness, and unrepentance of Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum: 25 and praising his Fathers wisdom in revealing the gospel to the simple, 28 he calleth to him all such as feel the burden of their sins.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence, to teach and to preach in their cities.

2 ^a Now when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,

3 And said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?

4 Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see:

5 ^b The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and ^c the poor have the gospel preached to them.

6 And blessed is he whosoever shall not ^d be offended in me.

7 ¶ ^e And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? ^f A reed shaken with the wind?

8 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing, are in kings houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, ^g and more than a prophet.

10 For this is he of whom it is written, ^h Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, among them that are born of women, there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven, is greater than he.

12 ⁱ And from the Days of John the Baptist, until now, the kingdom of heaven ^j suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them: and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 ¶^m Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word^a of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart: this is he which received seed by the way-side.

20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon^o with joy receiveth it:

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by^p he is offended.

22 ¶ He also that received seed^r among the thorns, is he that heareth the word: and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

23 But he that received seed into the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth some an hundred fold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but^s gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took and sowed in his field.

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree: so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ Another parable spake he unto them, The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three[†] measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

34 ¶ All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables, and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came Anno unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed, is the Son of man:

38 The field is the world: the good seed are the children of the kingdom: but the tares are^z the children of the wicked one:

39 The enemy that sowed them, is the devil: the harvest is the end of the world: and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burnt in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do^{||} iniquity;

42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

23 ¶ Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field: the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant-man, seeking goodly pearls:

46 Who when he had found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind.

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just;

50 And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth:

51 Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 ¶ And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55 ¶ Is not this the carpenters son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? whence then hath this man all these things?

57 And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

C H A P. XV.

3 Christ reproveth the scribes and Pharisees, for transgressing Gods commandments through their own traditions; 11 teacheth how that which goeth into the mouth doth not defile a man: 21 he healeth the daughter of the woman of Canaan, 30 and other great multitudes: 32 and with seven loaves, and a few little fishes, feedeth four thousand men, besides women and children.

Then ^a came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, ^a which were of Jerusalem, saying,

Mark 7. 1.

2 ^b Why do thy disciples transgress ^c the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

Mark 7. 5.
Col. 2. 8.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do you also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, ^d Honour thy father and mother: and, ^e He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

Anno 7^s Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesie Domini. of you, saying,
 32. 8^h This People draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips: but their heart is far from me:
 9 But in vain they do worship me, ⁱ teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.
 10 ¶ ^k And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear and understand.
 11 ^l Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man: but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.
 12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?
 13 But he answered and said, ^m Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.
 14 Let them alone: ⁿ they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.
 15 ^o Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.
 16 And Jesus said, ^p Are ye also yet without understanding?
 17 Do not ye yet understand, that ^q whatsoever entreth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?
 18 But ^r those things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and they defile the man.
 19 ^s For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies.
 20 These are the things which defile a man:
 but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.
 21 ¶ ^t Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.
 22 And behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.
 23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying,
 Send her away, for she crieth after us.
 24 But he answered and said, ^v I am not sent, but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.
 25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.
 26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to dogs.
 27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters table.
 28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her,
 O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.
 29 ^x And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh ^y unto the sea of Galilee, and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.
 30 ^z And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus feet, and he healed them:
 31 Insomuch that the multitude wondred when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

 32 ¶ ^a Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now ^b three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint by the way.
 33 And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude?
 34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? and they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.
 35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.
 36 And ^b he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and ^c gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.
 37 And they did all eat, and were filled:
 and they took up of the broken meat that was left, seven baskets full.
 38 And they that did eat, were four thousand men, beside women and children.
 39 ^d And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala.

ⁱ The Pharisees require a sign. 6 Jesus warneth his disciples of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.
 13 The peoples opinion of Christ, 16 and Peters confession of him. 21 Jesus foretelleth his death, 23 re-proving Peter for dissuading him from it. 24 And admonisheth those that will follow him, to bear the cross.

THE ^a Pharisees also with the Sadducees, came, and tempting, desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven.
 2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather:
 for the sky is red.
 3 And in the morning, It will be foul wea- ther to day: for the sky is red and lowring. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky, but can ye not discern the signs of the times?
 4 ^b A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign, and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.
 5 And ^c when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.
 6 ¶ Then Jesus said unto them, ^d Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees.
 7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.
 8 Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among your selves, because ye have brought no bread?
 9 ^e Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, ^f and how many baskets ye took up?
 10 ^g Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?
 11 How is it that ye do not understand, that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees?
 12 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees.

13 ¶ When Jesus came into the coasts of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, & Whom do men say, that I, the Son of man, am?

14 And they said, ^h Some say that thou art John the Baptist, some Elias, and others Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art Christ the Son of the living God.

17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou Simon Bar-jona: ^k for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but ^l my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I say also unto thee, that ^m thou art Peter, and ⁿ upon this rock will I build my church: and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19 ^o And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

20 ^p Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

21 ¶ From that time forth began Jesus ^q to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, [†] Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, ^r Satan, thou art an offence unto me: for thou favourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 ¶ ^s Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For ^t whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake, shall find it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or ^v what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

27 For ^x the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father, ^y with his angels; ^z and then he shall reward every man according to his works.

28 Verily I say unto you, ^a There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

CHAP XVII.

ⁱ The transfiguration of Christ: 14 He healeth the lunatick, 22 foretelleth his own passion, 24 and payeth tribute.

AND ^a after six days, Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart,

2 And was transfigured before them, and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And behold there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 ^b While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, which said, ^c This is my beloved Son, ^d in whom I am well pleased; ^e hear ye him.

6 ^f And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were fore afraid.

7 And Jesus came and ^g touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lift up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, ^h Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, ⁱ Why then say the scribes, that Elias must first come?

11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and ^k restore all things.

12 ^l But I say unto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed: likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 ¶ ^m Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14 ⁿ And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man kneeling down to him, and saying,

15 Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is lunatick, and sore vexed: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, ^o If ye have faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place, and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out, but by prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ ^p And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, the Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again: and they were exceeding sorry.

24 And ^q when they were come to Capernaum, they that received || tribute-money, came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers, Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

C H A P. XVIII.

1 Christ warneth his disciples to be humble and harmless, 7 to avoid offences, and not to despise the little ones : 15 teacheth how we are to deal with our brethren, when they offend us, 21 and how oft to forgive them ; 23 which he setteth forth by a parable of the king, that took account of his servants, 32 and punished him who shewed no mercy to his fellow.

AT the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven ?

2 And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, ^b Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 ^c Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And ^d whoso shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me.

6 ^e But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 ¶ Wo unto the world because of offences : for ^f it must needs be that offences come : but 8 wo to that man by whom the offence cometh.

9 Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee : it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire.

10 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee : it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell-fire.

11 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones ; for I say unto you, that in heaven ⁱ their angels do always ^k behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

12 ^l For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

13 How think ye ? if a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray ?

14 And if so be that he find it, Verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

15 Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

16 ¶ Moreover, ⁿ if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone : if he shall hear thee, ^o thou hast gained thy brother.

17 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in ^p the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

18 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church : but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an ^q heathen man and a publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, ^r Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth, shall be bound in heaven : Domini. and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

19 ^s Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, ^t it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 ¶ Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him ? ^v till seven times ?

22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times : ^x but, until seventy-times seven.

23 ¶ Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king which would take account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him which owed him ten thousand || talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him ^y to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and || worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him an hundred || pence : and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not : but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me :

33 Shouldst not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pity on thee ?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 ^z So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

Of divorcement and marriage. S. Matthew. The labourers in the vineyard.

Anno Domini. 2^b And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

33. 3 ¶ The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

4 And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read ^c that he which made them at the beginning, made them male and female?

5 And said, ^d For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and ^e they twain shall be one flesh.

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joyned together, let not man put asunder.

7 They say unto him, ^f Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?

8 He saith unto them, Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 ^g And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away, doth commit adultery.

10 ¶ His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them, ^h All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mothers womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and ⁱ there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heavens sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ¶ ^k Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come unto me: for ^l of such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ¶ ^m And behold, one came and said unto him, ⁿ Good master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

17 And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, ^o Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness.

19 ^p Honour thy father and thy mother: and, ^q Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?

21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, ^r go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, that ^s a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for ^t a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible, but ^u with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ ^v Then answered Peter, and said unto him, Behold, ^w we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?

28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ^y ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

29 And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my names sake, shall receive an hundred fold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

30 ^z But many that are first, shall be last; and the last shall be first.

CHAP. XX.

¹ Christ by the similitude of the labourers in the vineyard, sheweth that God is debtor unto no man; ¹⁷ foretelleth his passion; ²⁰ by answering the mother of Zebedee's children, teacheth his disciples to be lowly; ³⁰ and giveth two blind men their sight.

FOR the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a ¶ penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the market-place,

4 And said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right, I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more, and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the good man of the house, 12 Saying, These last ¶ have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us which have born the burden and heat of the day.

⁹Chap. 26. 39. 23 And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

¹⁰Mark 10. 41. 24 ^o And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.

CHAP. XXI.

Anno Domini. 33.

1 Christ rideth into Jerusalem upon an ass, 12 driveth the buyers and sellers out of the temple, 17 curseth the fig-tree, 23 putteth to silence the priests and elders, 28 and rebuketh them by the similitude of the two sons, 33 and the husbandmen, who slew such as were sent unto them.

AND ^a when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto ^b the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 ^c Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy king cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 ^d And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them.

7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and ^e put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; ^f others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, ^g Hosanna to the son of David: ^h Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

10 ⁱ And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus the prophet ^k of Nazareth of Galilee.

12 ¶ ^l And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, 13 And said unto them, It is written, ^m My house shall be called the house of prayer, ⁿ but ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them.

15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of David; they were sore displeased, 16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, ^o Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

17 ¶ And he left them, and went out of the city into ^p Bethany, and he lodged there.

18 ^q Now in the morning as he returned into the city, he hungred.

19 ^r And when he saw ^s a fig-tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig-tree withered away.

20 And

The wicked husbandmen. S. Matthew. The parable of the marriage.

Anno Domini. 33. 20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig-tree withered away?

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, ^s If ye have faith and ^t doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig-tree, ^v but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done.

22 And ^{*} all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 ¶ And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and ^z said, By what authority dost thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, if we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; ^a for all hold John as a prophet.

27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28 ¶ ^b But what think you? A certain man had two sons, and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to day in my vineyard.

29 He answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir; and went not.

31 Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, ^c Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

32 For ^d John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: ^e but the publicans and the harlots believed him. And ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 ¶ Hear another parable: There was a certain householder ^f which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and ^g went into a far country.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, ^h that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants, more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all, he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, ⁱ This is the heir, ^k come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

39 And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When the Lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 ^l They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jesus saith unto them, ^m Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, ⁿ The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever ^o shall fall on this stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, ^p it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because ^q they took him for a prophet.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The parable of the marriage of the kings son. 9 The vocation of the Gentiles. 12 The punishment of him that wanted the wedding-garment. 15 Tribute ought to be paid to Cesar. 23 Christ confuteth the Sadducees for the resurrection, 34 answereth the lawyer, which is the first and great commandment, 44 and poseth the Pharisees about the Messias.

AND Jesus answered ^a and spake unto them again by parables, and said,

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king which made a marriage for his son,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: ^b my oxen and my fatlings ^c are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard thereof he was wroth: and he sent forth ^e his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt up their city.

8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

9 Go ye therefore into the high-ways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the high-ways, and ^d gathered together all, as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 ¶ And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man ^e which had not on a wedding-garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him ^f into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 ^g For many are called, but few are chosen.

15 ¶ ^h Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel

16 And they sent out unto him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men.

17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute-money. And they brought unto him a || penny.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and || superscription?

21 They say unto him, Cefars. Then saith he unto them, ⁱ Render therefore unto Cesar, the things which are Cefars: and unto God, the things that are Gods.

22 When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ ^k The same day came to him the Sadducees, ⁱ which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him, 24 Saying, Master, ^m Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 ⁿ Now there were with us seven brethren, and the first when he had married a wife, deceased, and having no issue, left his wife unto his brother.

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the [†] seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but ^o are as the angels of God in heaven.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, 32 ^p I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

33 And when the multitude heard this, ^q they were astonished at his doctrine.

34 ¶ ^r But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.

35 Then one of them which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, 36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 Jesus said unto him, ^s Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39 And the second is like unto it, ^t Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self.

40 ^v On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41 ¶ ^x While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David.

43 He saith unto them, How then doth David call him Lord, saying, 44 ^z The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man (from that day forth) ask him any more questions.

C H A P. XXIII.

ⁱ Christ admonisheth the people to follow the good doctrine, and not the evil examples of the scribes and Pharisees: 5 His disciples must beware of their ambition: 13 He denounceth eight Woes against their hypocrisy and blindness: 34 and prophesieth of the destruction of Jerusalem.

Then spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, ^a The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses seat.

3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for ^b they say, and do not.

4 ^c For they bind heavy burdens, and grievous to be born, and lay them on mens shoulders, but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 But ^d all their works they do, for to be seen of men: ^e they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

6 ^f And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8 ^g But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren.

9 And call no man your father upon the earth: ^h for one is your Father which is in heaven.

10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11 But ⁱ he that is greatest among you, shall be your servant.

12 ^k And whosoever shall exalt himself, shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself, shall be exalted.

13 ¶ ^l But ⁱ wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in your selves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

14 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; ^m for ye devour widows houses, and for a pretence make long prayers; therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the child of hell than your selves.

16 Wo unto you, ⁿ ye blind guides which say, ^o Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing: but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor.

17 Ye fools, and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, ^p or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

18 And whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is || guilty.

35 That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, ¹⁵ from the blood of righteous Abel, unto ¹⁶ the blood of Zacharias, son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.

36 Verily I say unto you, all these things shall come upon this generation.

27 ¹⁷ O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, ¹⁸ and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would ¹⁹ I have gathered thy children together even as a hen ga-thereth her chickens ²⁰ under her wings, and ye would not!

38 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.

39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, ²¹ blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

¹ Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple: ² what and how great calamities shall be before it: ³ 29 The signs of his coming to judgment. ⁴ 36 And because that day and hour is unknown, ⁵ 42 we ought to watch like good servants, expecting every moment our masters coming.

AND ⁶ Jesus went out, and departed from ⁷ the temple; and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you, ⁸ There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 ¶ And as he sat upon the mount of Olives,
⁹ the disciples came unto him privately, saying,
¹⁰ Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 And Jesus answered and said unto them,
¹¹ Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For ¹² many shall come in my name, saying,
I am Christ: ¹³ and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars, and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7 For ¹⁴ a nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes in divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 ¹⁵ Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my names sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And ¹⁶ many false prophets shall rise, ¹⁷ and shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 ¹⁸ But he that shall endure to the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this ¹⁹ a gospel of the kingdom ²⁰ shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come.

15 ²¹ When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by ²² Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (²³ whose readeth, let him understand)

16 Then let him which be in Judea, flee into the mountains.

17 Let him which is in the house-top, not come down to take any thing out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the field, return back to take his clothes.

19 And wo unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days.

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath-day:

21 For ²⁴ then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days shall be shortned, there should no flesh be saved: ²⁵ but for the elects sake, those days shall be shortned.

23 ²⁶ Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there: believe it not.

24 For ²⁷ there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders,

Domini.

Anno wonders, insomuch that (y if it were possible)
Domini. they shall deceive the very elect.

33. 25 Behold, I have told you before.
26 Wherefore, if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert, go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers, believe it not.
27 ^z For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west: so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 ^a For wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 ¶ ^b Immediately after the tribulation of those days, ^c shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken.

30 ^d And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: ^e and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, ^f and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory.

31 ^g And he shall send his angels ¶ with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now learn ^h a parable of the fig-tree:
when his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh:

33 So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know ⁱ that ¶ it is near, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say unto you, ^k This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.

35 ^l Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

36 ¶ ^m But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, ⁿ but my Father only.

37 But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38 ^o For as in the days that were before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark,

39 And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40 ^p Then shall two be in the field, the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill, the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 ¶ ^q Watch therefore, for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

43 ^r But know this, that if the good-man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as you think not, the Son of man cometh.

45 ^s Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?

46 ^t Blessed is that servant, whom his Lord when he cometh, shall find so doing.

47 Verily I say unto you, that ^v he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

48 But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming,

49 And shall begin to smite his fellow-servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken:

hour that he is not ware of;

51 And shall ¶ cut him asunder, and appoint ¶ him his portion with the hypocrites: ^x there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

1 The parable of the ten virgins, 14 and of the talents.
31 Also the description of the last judgment.

Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet ^a the bridegroom.

2 And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oyl with them:

4 But the wise took oyl in their vessels with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom tarried, ^b they all ¹ Thes. 5. 6.
slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh, go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed
their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oyl, for our lamps are ¶ gone out. ¶ Or, going out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and they that were ready, went in with him to the marriage, and ^c the door ¹ Luke 13. 25.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

C H A P. XXVI.

¹ The rulers conspire against Christ. ⁶ The woman anointeth his head. ¹⁴ Judas selleth him. ¹⁷ Christ eateth the Passover: ²⁶ instituteth his holy supper: ³⁶ prayeth in the garden: ⁴⁷ and being betrayed with a kiss, ⁵⁷ is carried to Caiaphas, ⁶⁹ and denied of Peter.

AND it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples.

2 ^a Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified. ^{Mark 14. 1.} ^{Luke 22. 1.} ^{John 13. 1.}

3 ^b Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high Priest, who was called Caiaphas,

4 And consulted that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him. ^{Psalm 2. 2.} ^{John 11. 47.} ^{Acts 4. 25, &c.}

5 But they said, Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uprore among the people.

6 ¶ ^c Now when Jesus was in ^d Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster-box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at meat. ^{Mark 14. 3.} ^{John 11. 1, 2.} ^{& 12. 3.} ^{Chap. 21. 17.}

8 ^e But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste? ^{John 12. 4.}

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 ^f For ye have the poor always with you, but ^g me ye have not always. ^{Deut. 15. 11.} ^{John 12. 8.} ^{See Chap. 18.} ^{20. & 28. 20.}

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.

13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

14 ¶ ^h Then one of the twelve, called ⁱ Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests,

15 And said unto them, ^k What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver. ^{Mark 14. 10.} ^{Luke 22. 3.} ^{Chap. 10. 4.} ^{Zech. 11. 12.} ^{Chap. 27. 3.}

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ ¹ Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover? ^{Mark 14. 12.} ^{Luke 22. 27.}

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The master saith, My time is at hand, I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

- Anno Domini. 19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them, and they made ready the passover.
33. ^{Mark 14. 18.} 20 ^{Now} when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.
- 21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.
- 22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?
- 23 And he answered and said, ^{Psalm 41. 9.} He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.
- 24 The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but wo unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man, if he had not been born.
- 25 Then Judas which betrayed him, answered, and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.
- 26 ¶ ^{Mark 14. 22.} And as they were eating, ^{Luke 22. 19.} Jesus took bread, and ^{1 Cor. 11. 23.} blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.
- 27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying ^{Mark 14. 23.} Drink ye all of it:
- 28 For this is my blood ^{See Exod. 24. 8.} of the new testament which is shed ^{Jer. 31. 31.} for many for the remission of sins.
- 29 But ^{Chap. 20. 28.} I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, ^{Rom. 5. 15.} until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.
- 30 ^{Luke 22. 18.} And when they had sung an ^{Acts 10. 41.} hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.
- 31 Then saith Jesus unto them, ^{Mark 14. 26.} All ye shall ^{Or, Psalm.} be offended because of me this night: for it is written, ^{Mark 14. 27.} I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.
- 32 But after I am risen again, ^{John 16. 32.} I will go before you into Galilee.
- 33 Peter answered and said unto him, ^{Chap. 11. 6.} Though all men shall be offended because of thee, ^{Zech. 13. 7.} yet will I never be offended.
- 34 Jesus said unto him, ^{Chap. 28. 7.} Verily I say unto thee, ^{10. 16.} that this night before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.
- 35 Peter said unto him, ^{Mark 14. 28.} Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.
- 36 ¶ ^{John 13. 38.} Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.
- 37 And he took with him, Peter, and ^{Chap. 4. 21.} the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful, and ^{John 12. 27.} very heavy.
- 38 Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here and watch with me.
- 39 ^{John 18. 1, 2.} And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and ^{Mark 14. 36.} prayed, saying, ^{Luke 22. 42.} O my Father, if it be possible, ^{Heb. 5. 7.} let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt.
- 40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What could ye not watch with me one hour?
- 41 ^{John 12. 27.} Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.
- 42 He went away again the second time, ^{Anno Domini.} and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, ^{33.} thy will be done.
- 43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.
- 44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.
- 45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest; behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of finners.
- 46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.
- 47 ¶ And ^{Mark 14. 43.} while he yet spake, lo, Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.
- 48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he, hold him fast.
- 49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail master; ^{2 Sam. 20. 9.} and kissed him.
- 50 And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.
- 51 And behold, ^{John 18. 10.} one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priests, and smote off his ear.
- 52 Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: ^{Gen. 9. 6.} for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.
- 53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels?
- 54 But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, ^{Isai. 53. 7.} that thus it must be?
- 55 In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.
- 56 But all this was done, that the ^{Lam. 4. 20.} scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then ^{John 18. 15.} all the disciples forsook him, and fled.
- 57 ¶ And they that had laid hold on Jesus, ^{Mark 14. 53.} led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.
- 58 But Peter followed him afar off, unto the high priests palace, and went in, and sat with the servants to see the end.
- 59 Now the chief priests and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus to put him to death,
- 60 But found none: yea, though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses.
- 61 And said, This fellow said, ^{Chap. 27. 40.} I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it ^{John 2. 19.} in three days.
- 62 ^{Mark 14. 60.} And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?
- 63 But ^{Isai. 53. 7.} Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, ^{Chap. 27. 12.} I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us, whether thou be the Christ the Son of ^{Lev. 5. 1.} God.

5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, ^c and departed, and went and hanged himself.

6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus, which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.

22 Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

Anno Domini. 32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name : him they compelled to bear his cross.

33 And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a scull, 34 ¶ They gave him vinegar to drink, mingled with gall : and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots : that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, * They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 And sitting down, they watched him there:

37 And ^v set up over his head, his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 ^z Then were there two thieves crucified with him : one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 ¶ And ^a they that passed by, reviled him, wagging their heads.

40 And saying, ^b Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself : ^c if thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 He saved others, himself he cannot save: if he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43 ^d He trusted in God ; let him deliver him now if he will have him : for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 ^e The thieves also which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 ^f Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.

46 And about the ninth hour ^g Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, ^h My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me ?

47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.

48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, ⁱ and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.

50 ¶ ^k Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

51 And behold, ^l the vail of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent,

52 And the graves were opened, and many bodies of saints which slept, arose, 53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

54 ^m Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55 And many women were there (beholding afar off) ⁿ which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him.

56 ^o Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedee's children, 57 ^p When the even was come, there came Anno a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who Domini. also himself was Jesus disciple:

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus : then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 And ^q laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock : and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ Now the next day that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests, and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, ^r After three days I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead : so the last error shall be worse than the first.

65 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch, go your way, make it as sure as you can.

66 So they went and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

C H A P. XXVIII.

ⁱ Christs resurrection is declared by an angel to the women : 9 He himself appeareth unto them. 11 The chief priests give the soldiers money to say that he was stolen out of his sepulchre. 16 Christ appeareth to his disciples, 19 and sendeth them to baptize and teach all nations.

IN the ^a end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, ^b and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there ^c was a great earthquake ; for ^d the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

6 He is not here : for he is risen, ^e as he said : come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7 And go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead ; and behold, ^f he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him, lo, I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with fear and great joy, and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 ¶ And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, ^g Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell ^h my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him.

38 And he said unto them, ^h Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for ⁱ therefore came I forth.

39 And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

40 ^k And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Jesus moved with compassion, put forth ^{his} hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will, be thou clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosie departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

45 ^m But he went out, and began to publish ^{it} much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? ^b who can forgive sins but God only?

8 And immediately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit, that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

16 And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

* Chap. 12. 32.

3 Harken, Behold, there went out a sower to sow.

4 And it came to pass as he sowed, some fell by the way-side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth, and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth.

6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched, and because it had no root, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And other fell on good ground, ^c and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased, and brought forth some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred.

* John 15. 3.
Colos. 1. 5.

9 And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And

Anno Domini. 10^d And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve, asked of him the parable.

31. 11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto ^e them that are without, all these things are done in parables:

12 ^f That seeing they may see, and not perceive, and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will you know all parables?

14 ¶ 13 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they by the way-side, where the word is sown, but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground, who when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness:

17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward when affliction or persecution ariseth for the words sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And these are they which are sown among thorns: such as hear the word, 19 And the cares of this world, ^h and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entring in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

20 And these are they which are sown on good ground, such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirty-fold, some sixty, and some an hundred.

21 ¶ 1 And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?

22 ^k For there is nothing hid which shall not be manifested: neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 ^l If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

24 And he said unto them, Take heed what you hear: ^m with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear shall more be given.

25 ⁿ For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

26 ¶ And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground, 27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her self, first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ¶ And he said, ^o Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth.

32 But when it is sown it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches, so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 ^p And with many such parables spake he the word unto them as they were able to hear it.

34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 ^q And the same day when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship, and there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still: and the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

40 And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that you have no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

- 17 And ^b they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.
- 18 And when he was come into the ship, ^c he that had been possessed with the devil, prayed him that he might be with him.
- 19 Howbeit, Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.
- 20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.
- 21 ^d And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him, and he was nigh unto the sea.
- 22 ^e And behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name, and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,
- 23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death, I pray thee come and lay thy hands on her that she may be healed, and she shall live.
- 24 And Jesus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.
- 25 And ^f a certain woman ^g which had an issue of blood twelve years,
- 26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,
- 27 When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment.
- 28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.
- 29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up: and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.
- 30 And Jesus immediately knowing in himself, that ^h virtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?
- 31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seekest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, who touched me?
- 32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.
- 33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.
- 34 And he said unto her, Daughter, ⁱ thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.
- 35 ^j While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogues house, certain which said, Thy daughter is dead, why troublest thou the Master any further?
- 36 Assoon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe.
- 37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.
- 38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.
- 39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but ^k sleepeth.
- 40 And they laughed him to scorn: but when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entreth in where the damsel was lying.
- 41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damsel (I say unto thee) arise.
- 42 And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years: and they were astonished with a great astonishment.
- 43 And ^l he charged them straitly, that no man should know it: and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

^a Matth. 15. 7. THen ^a came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes which came from Jerusalem.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with || defiled (that is to say, with unwashen) hands, they found fault.

3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands || oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups and || pots, brasen vessels, and of || tables.

5 ^b Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?

6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, ^c This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he said unto them, Full well ye || reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

10 For Moses said, ^d Honour thy father and thy mother: and, ^e Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is ^f Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me: he shall be free.

12 And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother:

13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.

14 ¶ ^g And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Harken unto me every one of you, and understand.

15 There is nothing from without a man that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.

16 ^h If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 ⁱ And when he was entred into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, Domini. that whatsoever thing from without entreth into the man, it cannot defile him, 19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats?

20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.

21 ^k For from within, out of the heart of ^l Gen. 6. 5. & 8. 21. men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, 22 Thefts, [†] covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: [†] Gr. covetousness, wickedness, etc.

23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

24 ¶ ¹ And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entred into an house, and would have no man know it; but he could not be hid.

25 For a certain woman whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet:

26 (The woman was a || Greek, a Syrophenician by nation) and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

27 But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.

28 And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the childrens crumbs.

29 And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way, the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

31 ¶ ^m And again departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.

32 And ⁿ they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech: and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.

33 And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and ^o he spit, and touched his tongue.

34 And ^p looking up to heaven, ^q he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

36 And ^r he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it.

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye || with them? ^f Or, among yourselves.

17 And ⁱ one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit: ^g Matth. 17. 14. Luke 9. 33.

18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he || teareth him; and he someth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples, that they should cast him out, and they could not. ^h Or, dasheth him.

19 He answered him, and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.

20 And they brought him unto him: and ⁱ when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him, and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. ⁱ Chap. 1. 26.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child.

22 And oft-times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

23 Jesus said unto him, ^j If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. ^j Luke 17. 6.

24 And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.

25 When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, Come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him; and he was as one dead, inasmuch that many said, He is dead.

27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up, and he arose.

28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat: this is my body. Anno Domini. 33. And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

Monday before Easter, Gospel, Ver. 1. to the end. After a two days, was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.

2 But they said, Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uprore of the people.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

3 ¶ And being in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman, having an alabaster-box of ointment of ¶ spikenard, very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.

26 ¶ And when they had sung an ¶ hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

¶ Or pure nard, or, liquid nard.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

28 But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred ¶ pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her.

29 But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

6 And Jesus said, Let her alone, why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.

30 And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this day, even in this night before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

7 For ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.

31 But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

8 She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

32 And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here while I shall pray.

9 Verily I say unto you, Whersoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of, for a memorial of her.

33 And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy,

10 ¶ And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.

34 And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible the hour might pass from him.

12 ¶ And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayst eat the passover?

36 And he said, Abba, Father, All things are possible unto thee, take away this cup from me: nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldst not thou watch one hour?

14 And whersoever he shall go in, say ye to the good-man of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: the spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy) neither wist they what to answer him.

17 And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come; behold the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

18 And as they sat, and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, one of you which eateth with me, shall betray me.

42 Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

43 ¶ And immediately while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes, and the elders.

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve that dippeth with me in the dish.

44 And he that betrayed him, had given them a token, saying, whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him and lead him away safely.

21 The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but wo to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed; good were it for that man if he had never been born.

45 And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, master; and kissed him.

22 ¶ And as they did eat, Jesus took 64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

¹ Jesus brought bound and accused before Pilate. 15 Upon the clamour of the common people, the murderer Barabbas is loosed, and Jesus delivered up to be crucified: 17 He is crowned with thorns, 19 spit on, and mocked: 21 fainteth in bearing his cross: 27 hangeth between two thieves: 29 suffereth the triumphing reproaches of the Jews: 39 but confessed by the centurion to be the Son of God: 43 and is honourably buried by Joseph.

5 THERE was ^s in the days of Herod the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, ^h of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.

6 And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 And it came to pass that while he executed the priests office before God in the order of his course, 9 According to the custom of the priests office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 ⁱ And the whole multitude of the people were praying without, at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of ^k the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and ^l thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness, and ^m many shall rejoyce at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and ⁿ shall drink neither wine, nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost, ^o even from his mothers womb.

16 ^p And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.

17 ^q And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, ^r to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient ^s to the wisdom of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, ° Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am ° Gabriel that stand in the presence of God: and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

20 And behold, ^v thou shalt be dumb and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: for he beckned unto them, and remained speechless.

23 And it came to pass, that as soon as ^x the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to ^y take away my reproach among men.

26 And in the sixth month, the angel Gabriel was sent from God, unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin ^z espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgins name was Mary.

28 And the angel came in unto her, and said, ° Hail thou that art ^s highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.

31 ^b And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and ^c shalt call his name Jesus.

32 He shall be great, ^d and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and ^e the Lord God ^f shall give unto him the throne of his father David.

34 Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

35 And the angel answered and said unto her, The holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be called the Son of God.

36 And behold thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren.

37 For ⁱ with God nothing shall be impossible.

38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill-country with haste, ^k into a city of Juda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth.

41 And it came to pass, that when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb: and Elisabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

45 And blessed is she || that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

46 And Mary said, My soul doth magnifie the Lord, 47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48 For ⁱ he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for behold, from henceforth ^m all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name.

50 And ⁿ his mercy is on them that fear him, from generation to generation.

51 ^o He hath shewed strength with his arm, ^p he hath scattered the proud, in the imagination of their hearts.

52 ^q He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 ^r He hath filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he hath sent empty away.

54 He hath holpen his servant Israel, ^s in remembrance of his mercy, 55 ^t As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

57 Now Elisabeths full time came, that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son.

58 And her neighbours, and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her; and ^v they rejoiced with her.

59 And it came to pass that ^{*} on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answered and said, ^y Not so; but he shall be called John.

61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

62 And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.

63 And he asked for a writing-table, and wrote, saying, ^z His name is John. And they ^z marvelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God.

65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these || sayings were noised || abroad throughout all the hill-country of Judea.

66 And all they that had heard them, ^a laid ^a them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be? And the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,

68 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, ^b for ^b he hath visited and redeemed his people,

69 ^c And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us, in the house of his servant David;

70 ^d As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began.

71 That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us.

72 To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant:

73 ^e The oath which he sware to our father Abraham,

74 That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, might ^f serve him without fear, 75 ^g In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for ^h thou shalt go before the face of the Lord, to prepare his ways;

77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people, ⁱ || by the remission of their sins,

78 Through the || tender mercy of our God; whereby the || day-spring from on high hath visited us,

79 ^k To give light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 And ^l the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and ^m was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

^a Acts 5. 37.

2 (* And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria)

3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto ^b the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (^c because he was of the house and lineage of David)

5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

6 And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7 And ^d she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swadling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping || watch over their flock by night.

9 And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were fore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11 ^e For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, ^f which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swadling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 14 ^g Glory to God in the highest, and on earth ^h peace, good will towards men.

15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, [†] the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it, wondred at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 ⁱ But Mary kept all these things, and pondred them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 ^k And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called ^l JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when ^m the days of her purification according to the law of Moses, were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord,

23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord, ⁿ Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord)

24 And to offer a sacrifice according to ^o that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons.

25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, ^p waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the holy Ghost ^q ^r ^s ^t ^u ^v ^w ^x ^y ^z ^{aa} ^{ab} ^{ac} ^{ad} ^{ae} ^{af} ^{ag} ^{ah} ^{ai} ^{aj} ^{ak} ^{al} ^{am} ^{an} ^{ao} ^{ap} ^{aq} ^{ar} ^{as} ^{at} ^{au} ^{av} ^{aw} ^{ax} ^{ay} ^{az} ^{ba} ^{bb} ^{bc} ^{bd} ^{be} ^{bf} ^{bg} ^{bh} ^{bi} ^{bj} ^{bk} ^{bl} ^{bm} ^{bn} ^{bo} ^{bp} ^{bq} ^{br} ^{bs} ^{bt} ^{bu} ^{bv} ^{bw} ^{bx} ^{by} ^{bz} ^{ca} ^{cb} ^{cc} ^{cd} ^{ce} ^{cf} ^{cg} ^{ch} ^{ci} ^{cj} ^{ck} ^{cl} ^{cm} ^{cn} ^{co} ^{cp} ^{cq} ^{cr} ^{cs} ^{ct} ^{cu} ^{cv} ^{cw} ^{cx} ^{cy} ^{cz} ^{da} ^{db} ^{dc} ^{dd} ^{de} ^{df} ^{dg} ^{dh} ^{di} ^{dj} ^{dk} ^{dl} ^{dm} ^{dn} ^{do} ^{dp} ^{dq} ^{dr} ^{ds} ^{dt} ^{du} ^{dv} ^{dw} ^{dx} ^{dy} ^{dz} ^{ea} ^{eb} ^{ec} ^{ed} ^{ee} ^{ef} ^{eg} ^{eh} ^{ei} ^{ej} ^{ek} ^{el} ^{em} ^{en} ^{eo} ^{ep} ^{eq} ^{er} ^{es} ^{et} ^{eu} ^{ev} ^{ew} ^{ex} ^{ey} ^{ez} ^{fa} ^{fb} ^{fc} ^{fd} ^{fe} ^{ff} ^{fg} ^{fh} ^{fi} ^{fj} ^{fk} ^{fl} ^{fm} ^{fn} ^{fo} ^{fp} ^{fq} ^{fr} ^{fs} ^{ft} ^{fu} ^{fv} ^{fw} ^{fx} ^{fy} ^{fz} ^{ga} ^{gb} ^{gc} ^{gd} ^{ge} ^{gf} ^{gg} ^{gh} ^{gi} ^{gj} ^{gk} ^{gl} ^{gm} ^{gn} ^{go} ^{gp} ^{gq} ^{gr} ^{gs} ^{gt} ^{gu} ^{gv} ^{gw} ^{gx} ^{gy} ^{gz} ^{ha} ^{hb} ^{hc} ^{hd} ^{he} ^{hf} ^{hg} ^{hh} ^{hi} ^{hj} ^{hk} ^{hl} ^{hm} ^{hn} ^{ho} ^{hp} ^{hq} ^{hr} ^{hs} ^{ht} ^{hu} ^{hv} ^{hw} ^{hx} ^{hy} ^{hz} ^{ia} ^{ib} ^{ic} ^{id} ^{ie} ^{if} ^{ig} ^{ih} ⁱⁱ ^{ij} ^{ik} ^{il} ^{im} ⁱⁿ ^{io} ^{ip} ^{iq} ^{ir} ^{is} ^{it} ^{iu} ^{iv} ^{iw} ^{ix} ^{iy} ^{iz} ^{ja} ^{jb} ^{jc} ^{jd} ^{je} ^{jf} ^{jj} ^{jk} ^{jl} ^{jm} ^{jn} ^{jo} ^{jp} ^{jq} ^{jr} ^{js} ^{jt} ^{ju} ^{jv} ^{jw} ^{jx} ^{ky} ^{kz} ^{la} ^{lb} ^{lc} ^{ld} ^{le} ^{lf} ^{lg} ^{lh} ^{li} ^{lj} ^{lk} ^{ll} ^{lm} ^{ln} ^{lo} ^{lp} ^{lq} ^{lr} ^{ls} ^{lt} ^{lu} ^{lv} ^{lw} ^{lx} ^{ly} ^{lz} ^{ma} ^{mb} ^{mc} ^{md} ^{me} ^{mf} ^{mg} ^{mh} ^{mi} ^{mj} ^{mk} ^{ml} ^{mm} ^{mn} ^{mo} ^{mp} ^{mq} ^{mr} ^{ms} ^{mt} ^{mu} ^{mv} ^{mw} ^{mx} ^{my} ^{mz} ^{na} ^{nb} ^{nc} nd ^{ne} ^{nf} ^{ng} ^{nh} ⁿⁱ ^{nj} ^{nk} ^{nl} ^{nm} ⁿⁿ ^{no} ^{np} ^{nq} ^{nr} ^{ns} ^{nt} ^{nu} ^{nv} ^{nw} ^{nx} ^{ny} ^{nz} ^{oa} ^{ob} ^{oc} ^{od} ^{oe} ^{of} ^{og} ^{oh} ^{oi} ^{oj} ^{ok} ^{ol} ^{om} ^{on} ^{oo} ^{op} ^{oq} ^{or} ^{os} ^{ot} ^{ou} ^{ov} ^{ow} ^{ox} ^{oy} ^{oz} ^{pa} ^{pb} ^{pc} ^{pd} ^{pe} ^{pf} ^{pg} ^{ph} ^{pi} ^{pj} ^{pk} ^{pl} ^{pm} ^{pn} ^{po} ^{pp} ^{pq} ^{pr} ^{ps} ^{pt} ^{pu} ^{pv} ^{pw} ^{px} ^{py} ^{pz} ^{qa} ^{qb} ^{qc} ^{qd} ^{qe} ^{qf} ^{qg} ^{qh} ^{qi} ^{qj} ^{qk} ^{ql} ^{qm} ^{qn} ^{qo} ^{qp} ^{qq} ^{qr} ^{qs} ^{qt} ^{qu} ^{qv} ^{qw} ^{qx} ^{qy} ^{qz} ^{ra} ^{rb} ^{rc} rd ^{re} ^{rf} ^{rg} ^{rh} ^{ri} ^{rj} ^{rk} ^{rl} ^{rm} ^{rn} ^{ro} ^{rp} ^{rq} ^{rr} ^{rs} ^{rt} ^{ru} ^{rv} ^{rw} ^{rx} ^{ry} ^{rz} ^{sa} ^{sb} ^{sc} ^{sd} ^{se} ^{sf} ^{sg} ^{sh} ^{si} ^{sj} ^{sk} ^{sl} sm ^{sn} ^{so} ^{sp} ^{sq} ^{sr} ^{ss} st ^{su} ^{sv} ^{sw} ^{sx} ^{sy} ^{sz} ^{ta} ^{tb} ^{tc} ^{td} ^{te} ^{tf} ^{tg} th ^{ti} ^{tj} ^{tk} ^{tl} tm ^{tn} ^{to} ^{tp} ^{tq} ^{tr} ^{ts} ^{tu} ^{tv} ^{tw} ^{tx} ^{ty} ^{tz} ^{ua} ^{ub} ^{uc} ^{ud} ^{ue} ^{uf} ^{ug} ^{uh} ^{ui} ^{uj} ^{uk} ^{ul} ^{um} ^{un} ^{uo} ^{up} ^{uq} ^{ur} ^{us} ^{ut} ^{uu} ^{uv} ^{uw} ^{ux} ^{uy} ^{uz} ^{va} ^{vb} ^{vc} ^{vd} ^{ve} ^{vf} ^{vg} ^{vh} ^{vi} ^{vj} ^{vk} ^{vl} ^{vm} ^{vn} ^{vo} ^{vp} ^{vq} ^{vr} ^{vs} ^{vt} ^{vu} ^{vv} ^{vw} ^{vx} ^{vy} ^{vz} ^{wa} ^{wb} ^{wc} ^{wd} ^{we} ^{wf} ^{wg} ^{wh} ^{wi} ^{wj} ^{wk} ^{wl} ^{wm} ^{wn} ^{wo} ^{wp} ^{wq} ^{wr} ^{ws} ^{wt} ^{wu} ^{wv} ^{ww} ^{wx} ^{wy} ^{wz} ^{xa} ^{xb} ^{xc} ^{xd} ^{xe} ^{xf} ^{fg} ^{xh} ^{xi} ^{xj} ^{xk} ^{xl} ^{xm} ^{xn} ^{xo} ^{xp} ^{xq} ^{xr} ^{xs} ^{xt} ^{xu} ^{xv} ^{xw} ^{xx} ^{xy} ^{xz} ^{ya} ^{yb} ^{yc} ^{yd} ^{ye} ^{yf} ^{yg} ^{yh} ^{yi} ^{yj} ^{yk} ^{yl} ^{ym} ^{yn} ^{yo} ^{yp} ^{yq} ^{yr} ^{ys} ^{yt} ^{yu} ^{yv} ^{yw} ^{yx} ^{yy} ^{yz} ^{za} ^{zb} ^{zc} ^{zd} ^{ze} ^{zf} ^{zg} ^{zh} ^{zi} ^{zj} ^{zk} ^{zl} ^{zm} ^{zn} ^{zo} ^{zp} ^{zq} ^{zr} ^{zs} ^{zt} ^{zu} ^{zv} ^{zw} ^{zx} ^{zy} ^{zz}

26 And it was revealed unto him by the holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lords Christ.

27 And he came by the spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, 29 Lord, ^a now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word.

30 For mine eyes ^b have seen thy salvation:

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

32 ^c A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the ^d fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for ^e a sign which shall be spoken against:

35 (Yea ^f a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36 And there was one Anna a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser; she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity:

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years: which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers ^g night and day.

38 And she coming in that instant, gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that ^h looked for redemption in || Jerusalem.

39 And when ⁱ they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

40 ^j And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him.

41 Now his parents went to Jerusalem ^k every year at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem, after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and his mother knew not of it.

44 But they supposing him to have been in the company, went a days journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And ^l all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Fathers business?

50 And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

C H A P. III.

1 The preaching and baptism of John: 15 his testimony of Christ. 20 Herod imprisoneth John. 21 Christ baptized, receiveth testimony from heaven. 23 The age and genealogy of Christ from Joseph upwards.

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea, and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lyfania the tetrarch of Abilene,

2 a Annas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3 b And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance, for the remission of sins;

4 As it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, c The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth;

6 And d all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, e O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits || worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within your selves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

9 And now also the ax is laid unto the root of the trees: f every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10 And the people asked him, saying, g What shall we do then?

11 He answereth and saith unto them, h He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12 Then came also publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?

13 And he said unto them, Exact no more than that which is appointed you.

14 And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, || Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your || wages.

15 And as the people were || in expectation, and all men || mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ or not;

16 John answered, saying unto them all, i I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

17 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.

18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people.

19 k But Herod the tetrarch being reprov'd by him for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 Added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

21 Now when all the people were baptized, l it came to pass that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened:

22 And the holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleased.

23 And Jesus himself began to be m about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) n the son of Joseph, which was the son of Heli,

CHAP. IV.

1 The temptation and fasting of Christ: 13 He overcometh the devil; 14 beginning to preach. 16 The people of Nazareth admire his gracious words: 33 He cureth one possessed of a devil, 38 Peters mother in law, 40 and divers other sick persons. 41 The devils acknowledge Christ, and are reproved for it: 43 He preacheth through the cities.

AND ^a Jesus being full of the holy Ghost, returned from Jordan, and was led by the spirit into the wilderness,

2 Being forty days tempted of the devil; and ^b in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungred.

3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Jesus answered him, saying, ^c It is written, that man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 And the devil taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them; for ^d that is delivered unto me, and to whomsoever I will, I give it.

7 If thou therefore wilt ^e worship me, all shall be thine.

8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for ^e it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

9 ^f And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thy self down from hence.

10 For ^g it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee.

11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering said unto him, ^h It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him ⁱ for a season.

14 ^k And Jesus returned in the power of the spirit into ^l Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 ^m And he came to ⁿ Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, ⁿ he went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and stood up for to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias; and when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,

18 ^o The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor, he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, 19 To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down: and the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastned on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

22 And all bare him witness, and ^p wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his Mouth. And they said, ^q Is not this Josephs Son?

23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician heal thy self: whatsoever we have heard done in ^r Capernaum, do also here in ^r thy country.

24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No ^r prophet is accepted in his own country.

25 But I tell you of a truth, ^v many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land:

26 But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta ^a a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.

27 ^x And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet: and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose up and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the ^y brow of the hill ^y (whereon their city was built) that they might cast him down headlong.

30 But he ^y passing through the mids of ^y them, went his way:

31 And ^z came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath-days.

32 And they were astonished at his doctrine: ^a for his word was with power.

33 ^b And in the synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, 34 Saying, ^c Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the holy One of God.

35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the mids, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this? for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

38 ^c And he arose out of the synagogue, and entred into Simons house: and Simons wives

1 Christ teacheth the people out of Peters ship; 4 in a miraculous taking of fishes, sheweth how he will make him and his partners fishers of men; 12 cleanseth the leper; 16 prayeth in the wilderness; 18 healeth one sick of the palsie; 27 calleth Matthew the publican; 29 eateth with sinners, as being the physician of souls; 34 foretelleth the fastings and afflictions of the apostles after his ascension; 36 and likeneth fainted-hearted and weak disciples to old bottles and worn garments.

ⁱ Sunday after Trinity, Gospel, Ver. 1 to Ver. 12. AND ^a it came to pass, that as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake Gennesareth,

2 And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And he entred into one of the ships which was Simons, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land: and he sat down and taught the people out of the ship.

^j John 21. 6. 4 Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, ^b Lanch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.

6 And when they had this done, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes; and their net brake.

7 And they beckned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

^k 2 Sam. 6. 9. ^l King. 17. 13. 8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus knees, saying, ^c Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And so was also James and John the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon.

in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosie: Anno Domini. who seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt thou canst make me clean. 31.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately the leprosie departed from him.

14 ^g And he charged him to tell no man: ^r Matth. 8. 4. but go, and shew thy self to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, ^h according as Moses ^s Lev. 14. 4. commanded for a testimony unto them. 10. 21, 22.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 ¶ And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 ¶ ⁱ And behold, men brought in a bed ^t Matth. 9. 2. a man which was taken with a palsie: and ^u Mark 2. 3. they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went upon the house-top, and let him down through the tiling with his couch, into the midst before Jesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 ^v And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? ^w Matth. 9. 3. ^x 1 Who can forgive sins but ^y Psal. 32. 5. God alone? ^z Isaiah 43. 25.

22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee, or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsie) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

27 ¶ ^{aa} And after these things he went ^{bb} Matth. 9. 9. forth, and saw a publican named Levi, sitting ^{cc} Mark 2. 13, 14. at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.

29 ^{dd} And Levi made him a great feast in ^{ee} Matth. 9. 10. his own house: and there was a great company of pulicans, and of others that sat down with them.

30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles; and both are preserved.

39 No man also having drunk old wine, straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAP. VI.

¹ Christ reproveth the Pharisees blindness about the observation of the sabbath, by scripture, reason, and miracle: 13 chooseth twelve apostles: 17 healeth the diseased: 20 preacheth to his disciples before the people of blessings and curses; 27 how we must love our enemies; 46 and join the obedience of good works to the hearing of the word, lest in the evil day of temptation we fall like an house built upon the face of the earth without any foundation.

Mark. 2. 23.

AND ^a it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn-fields: and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath-days?

3 And Jesus answering them, said, Have ye not read so much as this, ^b what David did, when himself was an hungred, and they which were with him:

4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shew-bread, and gave also to them that were with him, ^c which is not lawful to eat but for the priests alone?

5 And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

^a Matth. 12. 9.

6 ^d And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entred into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered.

7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him whether he would heal on the sabbath-day: that they might find an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the mids. And he arose, and stood forth.

9 Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing, Is it lawful on the sabbath-days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

10 And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madness; and ^{31.} Anno Domini. communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

37 Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven:

38 Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal, it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake a parable unto them, Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40 The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master.

41 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thy self beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

43 For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit: neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

44 For every tree is known by his own fruit: for of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble-bush gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good: and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

47 Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doth them, I will shew you to whom he is like.

48 He is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock.

49 But he that heareth, and doth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth, against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great.

CHAP. VII.

1 Christ findeth a greater faith in the centurion a Gentile, than in any of the Jews; 10 healeth his servant being absent; 11 raiseth from death the widows son at Nain; 19 answereth Johns messengers with the declaration of his miracles; 24 testifieth to the people what opinion he held of John; 30 inveigheth against the Jews, who with neither the manners of John nor of Jesus could be won; 36 and sheweth by occasion of Mary Magdalene, how he is a friend to sinners, not to maintain them in sins, but to forgive them their sins, upon their faith and repentance.

Anno Domini.
31.

NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurions servant, who was dear unto him, was sick and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this.

5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.

6 Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thy self, for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter under my roof.

7 Wherefore neither thought I my self worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doth it.

9 When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

11 And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.

14 And he came and touched the bier, (and they that bare him stood still) and he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead, sat up, and began to speak: and he delivered him to his mother.

16 And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, That God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 And the disciples of John shewed him of all these things.

19 And John calling unto him two of his disciples, sent them unto Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come, or look we for another?

20 When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come, or look we for another?

21 And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits, and unto many that were blind he gave sight.

22 Then

Anno 22 ^f Then Jesus answering, said unto them, Domini. Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard, ^g how that the blind see, ^{31.} the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, ^h to the poor the gospel is preached.

23 And blessed is he whosoever shall not be offended in me.

¹ Matt. 11. 7. 24 ¶ ⁱ And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously appparelled, and live delicately, are in kings courts.

26 But what ye went out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.

^k Mal. 3. 1. 27 This is he of whom it is written, ^k Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women, there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God, is greater than he.

¹ Matt. 3. 5. 29 And all the people that heard him, and the publicans justified God, ^l being baptized with the baptism of John.

30 But the Pharisees and lawyers || rejected ^m the counsel of God || against themselves, being not baptized of him.

ⁿ Matt. 11. 16. 31 ¶ And the Lord said, ⁿ Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children sitting in the market-place, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced: we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

^o Matt. 3. 4. Mark 1. 6. 33 For ^o John the Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine: and ye say, He hath a devil.

34 The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicans and sinners.

35 But wisdom is justified of all her children.

^p Matt. 26. 6. Mark 14. 3. John 11. 2. 36 ¶ ^p And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat.

37 And behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaſter-box of ointment, 38 And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

^q Chap. 15. 2. 39 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him, saw it, he spake within himself, saying ^q This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Jesus answering, said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.

^r See Matt. 18. 28. 41 There was a certain creditor, which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred || pence, and the other fifty.

43 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kifs: but this woman since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kifs my feet.

46 Mine head with oyl thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment. ^r Psalm 23. 5.

47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. ^s 1 Tim. 1. 14.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Women minister unto Christ of their substance.

4 Christ after he had preached from place to place, attended with his Apostles, propoundeth the parable of the sower, 16 and of the candle; 21 declareth who are his mother, and brethren; 22 rebuketh the winds; 26 casteth the legion of devils out of the man, into the herd of swine; 37 is rejected of the Gadarenes; 43 healeth the woman of her bloody issue; 49 and raiseth from death Jairus daughter.

AND it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching, and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him;

2 And ^a certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, ^b out of whom went seven devils, ^c And Joanna the wife of Chuza Herods steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministred unto him of their substance. ^d Matt. 27. 55. 56. ^e Mark 16. 9.

3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza Herods steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministred unto him of their substance.

¶ 4 ^c And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable: ^f Sexagesima Sunday, Gospel, Ver. 4. to Ver. 16.

5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the ways side, and it was troden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it. ^g Matt. 13. 2. Mark 4. 1.

6 And some fell upon a rock, and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundred fold. And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 ^d And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be? ^h Matt. 13. 10. Mark 4. 10.

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; ⁱ that seeing they might not see, and hearing, they might not understand. ⁱ Isaiah 6. 9. Mark 4. 12.

Anno Domini. 11 Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

31. 12 Those by the way-side, are they that hear: then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13 They on the rock, are they, which when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

14 And that which fell among thorns, are they, which when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches, and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground, are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 ¶ 8 No man when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed: but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.

17 ^h For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest: neither any thing hid, that shall not be known, and come abroad.

18 Take heed therefore how ye hear: ⁱ for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he ^{||} seemeth to have.

19 ¶ ^k Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain, which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21 And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 ¶ ^l Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they lunched forth.

23 But as they sailed, he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind, and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? and they being afraid, wondred, saying one to another, What manner of man is this? for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

26 ¶ ^m And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city, a certain man which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.

28 When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice, said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus thou Son of God most high? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 (For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains, and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness)

30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not command them to go out ⁿ into the deep. ^{Rev. 22. 3.}

32 And there was there an herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entred into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.

35 Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Jesus, and found the man out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.

37 ¶ ^o Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about, ^P besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

38 Now ^a the man out of whom the devils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying, 39 Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city, how great things Jesus had done unto him.

40 And it came to pass, that when Jesus was returned, the people gladly received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 ^r And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus feet, and besought him that he would come into his house:

42 For he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. (But as he went, the people thronged him.)

43 ¶ ^s And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any,

44 Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stanchd.

45 And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter, and they that were with him, said, Master, the multitude throng thee, and press thee, and sayst thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Some body hath touched me: for I perceive that ^t virtue is gone out of me. ^{Mark 5. 30. Chap. 6. 19.}

47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people, for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace.)

Anno Domini. 49 ¶ While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogues house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Master.

31.
* Mark 5. 35.

50 But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not: believe only, and she shall be made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

52 And all wept, and bewailed her: but he John 11. 11, said, Weep not; she is not dead, ² but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise.

55 And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.

Anno Domini. 32. 33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, * This is my beloved Son, y hear him.

36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone: ² and they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.

37 ¶ ² And it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee look upon my son, for he is mine only child.

39 And lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out, and it teareth him that he cometh again, and bruising him, hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering, said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him: and Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

43 ¶ And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God: But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, 44 ^b Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 ^c But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

46 ¶ ^d Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Jesus perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him, 48 And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49 ¶ ^e And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbid him, because he followed not with us.

50 And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for ^f he that is not against us, is for us.

51 ¶ And it came to pass, when ^g the time was come that he should be received up, he stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem, 52 And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans to make ready for him.

53 And ^h they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.

54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as ⁱ Elias did?

55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of.

56 For ^k the Son of man is not come to destroy mens lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

57 ¶ ^l And it came to pass that as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 ^m And he said unto another, Follow me: But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead, but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.

61 And another also said, Lord, ⁿ I will follow thee: but let me first go bid them farewell which are at home at my house.

62 And Jesus said unto him, No man having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

¹ Christ sendeth out at once seventy disciples to work miracles, and to preach: ¹⁷ admonisheth them to be humble, and wherein to rejoyce: ²¹ thanketh his Father for his grace: ²³ magnifieth the happy estate of his church: ²⁵ teacheth the lawyer how to attain eternal life, and to take every one for his neighbour that needeth his mercy: ⁴¹ reprehendeth Martha, and commendeth Mary her sister.

After ^a these things, the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city, and place, whither he himself would come.

2 Therefore said he unto them, ^b The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: ^c pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

C H A P. XII.

*1 Christ preacheth to his disciples to avoid hypocrisie, and fearfulness in publishing his doctrine: 13 warneth the people to beware of covetousness, by the parable of the rich man, who set up greater barns. 22 We must not be over-careful of earthly things; 31 but seek the kingdom of God, 33 give alms, 36 be ready at a knock to open to our Lord whensoever he cometh.
41 Christs ministers are to see to their charge, 49 and look for persecution. 54 The people must take this time of grace, 58 because it is a fearful thing to die without reconciliation.*

IN ^a the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, ^b Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisie.

2 ^c For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness, shall be heard in the light: and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets, shall be proclaimed upon the house-tops.

4 ^d And I say unto you, ^e my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that, have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom you shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two || farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbred. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 ^f Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the son of man also confess before the angels of God.

9 But he that denieth me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 And ^g whosoever shall speak a word against the son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

11 ^h And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say:

12 For the holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

13 ¶ And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.

14 And he said unto him, ⁱ Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?

15 And he said unto them, ^k Take heed, ^k and beware of covetousness: for a mans life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.

16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully.

17 And he thought within himself, saying,
What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?

18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soul, ^l Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink and be merry.

20 But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night || ^m thy soul shall be required of thee:
ⁿ then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?

21 So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, ^o and is not rich towards God.

22 ¶ And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, ^p Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have store-house nor barn; and ^q God feedeth them: How much more are ye better than the fowls?

25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: They toil not, they spin not: and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grafs, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven: how much more will he clothe you,
O ye of little faith?

29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, || neither be ye of doubtful mind.

30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

31 ¶ ^r But rather seek ye the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you.

32 Fear not, little flock; for ^s it is your Fathers good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

33 ^t Sell that ye have, and give alms: ^t provide your selves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

Anno Domini. 35 * Let your loyns be girded about, and your lights burning;

33. 36 And ye your selves like unto men that wait for their Lord, when he will return from the wedding, that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 Blessed are those servants, whom the Lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 ^z And this know, that if the good-man of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 ^a Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 ¶ Then Peter said unto him, Lord speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?

42 And the Lord said, ^b Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

44 Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the men-servants, and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken:

46 The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will || cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 And ^c that servant which knew his lords will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 ^d But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

49 ¶ I am come to send fire on the earth, and what will I, if it be already kindled?

50 But ^e I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how am I || straitned till it be accomplished.

51 ^f Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; ^g but rather division.

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 ¶ And he said also to the people, ^h When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shewre; and so it is.

55 And when ye see the south-wind blow, ye say, there will be heat; and it cometh to pass.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky, and of the earth: but how is it, that Domini. ye do not discern this time?

57 Yea, and why even of your selves judge ye not what is right?

58 ¶ ⁱ When thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, ^k as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayst be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

59 I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, || till thou hast paid the very last || mite.

C H A P. XIII.

¹ Christ preacheth repentance upon the punishment of the Galileans, and others. 6 The fruitless fig-tree may not stand: 11 He healeth the crooked woman: 18 sheweth the powerful working of the word in the hearts of his chosen, by the parable of the grain of mustard-seed, and of leaven: 24 exhorteth to enter in at the strait gate: 31 and reproveth Herod and Jerusalem.

T Here were present at that season, some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were || sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

5 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ He spake also this parable: ^a A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard, and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and find none: cut it down, why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering, said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 ¶ And behold there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up her self.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 ^b And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

4 ^c What man of you having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

10 Likewise I say unto you, There is joy in the presence of the angels of God, over one sinner that repenteth.

11 ¶ And he said, A certain man had two sons:

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them ^f his living.

13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17 And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my fathers have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

20 And he arose and came to his father. But ^g when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, ^h and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet.

24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again: he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing.

26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

1 The parable of the unjust steward. 14 Christ reproveth the hypocrisie of the covetous Pharisees. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus the beggar.

o Sunday after Trinity, Gospel, Ver. 1. to Ver. 10.

AND he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship: for thou mayst be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig, to beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So he called every one of his lords debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?

6 And he said, An hundred || measures of oyl. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred || measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore.

8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than ^a the children of light.

9 And I say unto you, ^b Make to your selves friends of the || mammon of unrighteousness; that when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 ^c He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least, is unjust also in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous || mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?

12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another mans, who shall give you that which is your own?

13 ¶ ^d No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And the Pharisees also ^e who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.

15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify your selves before men; but ^f God knoweth your hearts: for ^g that which is highly esteemed amongst men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 ^h The law and the prophets were until

John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.

17 ⁱ And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.

18 ^k Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, commiteth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19 ¶ There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day.

20 And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate full of sores, 21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich mans table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abrahams bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried.

23 And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24 And he cried, and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and ^l cool my tongue; for I ^m am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, ⁿ remember that thou in thy life time receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you, cannot; neither can they pass to us that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldst send him to my fathers house:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith unto him, ^o They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, ^p neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

3 Of the importunate widow. 8 Of the Pharisee and the publican. 15 Children brought to Christ. 18 A ruler that would follow Christ, but is hindred by his riches. 28 The reward of them that leave all for his sake: 31 he foresheweth his death, 35 and restoreth a blind man to his sight.

AND he spake a parable unto them, to this end, that men ought ^aalways to pray, and not to faint;

2 Saying, There was [†]in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man.

3 And there was a widow in that city, and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man;

5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

7 And ^bshall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?

8 I tell you ^cthat he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

9 And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves || that they were righteous, and despised others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11 The Pharisee ^dstood and prayed thus with himself, ^eGod, I thank thee, that I am not as ^fother men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tythes of all that I possess.

13 And the publican standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me a sinner.

17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou laidst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 And he saith unto him, ^a Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds)

26 For I say unto you, ⁱ That unto every one which hath, shall be given: and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine enemies which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, ^k he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem.

29 ^l And it came to pass when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye into the village over against you; in the which at your entring ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent, went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Jesus: and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice, and praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works that they had seen.

¹ Christ avoucheth his authority, by a question of Johns Baptism. 9 The parable of the vineyard. 19 Of giving tribute to Caesar: 27 He convinceth the Sadducees that denied the resurrection. 41 How Christ is the son of David: 45 He warneth his disciples to beware of the scribes.

AND ^a it came to pass, that on one of those ^a days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him, with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, ^b By what authority dost thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:

4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 Then began he to speak to the people this parable: ^c A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant; and they beat him also, and intreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent the third; and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall Anno Domini. shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

33. 14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the Lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

31 And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also. And they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.

6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them || in the absence of the multitude.

7 ¶ ^d Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.

10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entred into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entreth in.

11 And ye shall say unto the good-man of the house, The master saith unto thee, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

12 And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.

13 And they went and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 ^e And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15 And he said unto them, || With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer.

Domini. 33. 1 Jesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod: 8 Herod mocketh him. 12 Herod and Pilate are made friends. 18 Barabbas is desired of the people, and is loosed by Pilate, and Jesus is given to be crucified: 27 He telleth the women that lament him, the destruction of Jerusalem: 34 prayeth for his enemies: 39 Two evil-doers are crucified with him: 46 His death: 50 His burial.

Thursday before Easter, Gospel, Ver. 1. to Ver. 50.
AND ^a the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

Matth. 27. 2. Mark 15. 1. John 18. 28. Acts 17. 7. See Matth. 17. 27. & 21. 21. John 19. 12. Matth. 27. 11.
2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow ^b perverting the nation, and ^c forbidding to give tribute to Cesar, saying, ^d that he himself is Christ a king.

3 ^e And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jews? and he answered him and said, Thou sayst it.

4 Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto ^f Herods jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself was also at Jerusalem at that time.

8 ¶ And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for ^g he was desirous to see him of a long season, because ^h he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words; but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.

12 ¶ And the same day ⁱ Pilate and Herod were made friends together; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 ¶ ^k And Pilate when he had called together the chief priests, and the rulers, and the people,

14 Said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him;

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him, and lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 ^l I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 ^m For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.

18 And ⁿ they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder was cast in prison)

20 Pilate therefore willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him.

22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them, and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 And ^o Pilate ¶ gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will.

26 ^p And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

27 ¶ And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turning unto them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for your selves, and for your children.

29 For behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 ^q Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

31 ^r For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 ^s And there were also two other malefactors led with him to be put to death.

33 And ^t when they were come to the place which is called ¶ Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors; one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 ¶ Then said Jesus, Father, ^v forgive them; for ^x they know not what they do. And ^y they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And ^z the people stood beholding: and the ^a rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar, 37 And saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, save thy self.

38 ^b And a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latine, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ¶ And one of the malefactors which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thy self and us.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

42 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 ^c And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the ¶ earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and ^d the vail of the temple was rent in the mids.

46 ¶ And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, ^e Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: ^f and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

47 ^g Now

Anno Domini. 33. 47 Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that fight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off beholding these things.

50 ¶ And behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellor, and he was a good man, and a just:

51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews (who also himself waited for the kingdom of God)

52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 And the women also which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath-day, according to the commandment.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Christs resurrection is declared by two angels to the women that come to the sepulchre: 9 these report it to others. 13 Christ himself appeareth to the two disciples that went to Emmaus. 36 Afterward he appeareth to the apostles, and reproveth their unbelief: 47 giveth them a charge: 49 promiseth the holy Ghost: 51 and so ascendeth into heaven.

NOW upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they entred in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments.

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,

7 Saying, the Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12 Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre, and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 ¶ And behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that while they communed together, and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had been he, which should have redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre:

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

24 And certain of them which were with us, went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said; but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken!

26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And beginning at Moses, and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us, for it is towards evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, the Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

33. 37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit.

38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled, and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I my self: a handle me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 And while they yet believed not b for joy, and wondred, he said unto them, c Have ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an hony-comb.

43 And he took it, and did eat before them.

44 And he said unto them, d These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms concerning me.

45 Then e opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures,

46 And said unto them, f Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47 And that repentance and g remission of sins should be preached in his name, among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

48 And h ye are witnesses of these things.

49 ¶ i And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.

50 ¶ And he led them out k as far as to Bethany: and he lift up his hands, and blessed them.

51 l And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

52 m And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem, with great joy:

53 And were continually n in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

¶ The Gospel according to S. JOHN.

CHAP. I.

i The divinity, humanity, and office of Jesus Christ.
15 The testimony of John. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, &c.

N the beginning a was the Word, and the Word was b with God, c and the Word was God.

2 d The same was in the beginning with God.

3 e All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.

4 f In him was life, and g the life was the light of men.

5 And h the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not.

6 ¶ i There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the light, that all men through him might believe.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to bear witness of that light.

9 k That was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, and l the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But m as many as received him, to them gave he n power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:

13 o Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 p And the Word q was made r flesh, and dwelt among us (and s we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father) t full of grace and truth.

15 ¶ u John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, v He that cometh after me, is preferred before me; w for he was before me.

16 And of his x fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For z the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 a No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 ¶ b And this is b the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem, to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And c he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou d that prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us: what sayst thou of thy self?

23 e He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as f said the prophet Esaias.

24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet?

26 John answered them, saying, g I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not;

27 h He it is who coming after me, is preferred before me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 These things were done i in Bethabara beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 ¶ j The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold k the Lamb of God, which l taketh away the sin of the world.

30 m This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

- 4 Jesus saith unto her, ^b Woman, what have I to do with thee ? ^c mine hour is not yet come.
- 5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.
- 6 And there were set there six water-pots of stone, ^d after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.
- 7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.
- 8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.
- 9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,
- 10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine ; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse : but thou hast kept the good wine until now.
- 11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, ^e and manifested forth his glory ; and his disciples believed on him.
- 12 ¶ After this, he went down to Capernaum, he and his mother, and ^f his brethren, ^g and his disciples, and they continued there not many days.
- 13 ¶ And the Jews passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem,

- 15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen ; and poured out the changers money, and overthrew the tables ;
- 16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence ; make not my fathers house an house of merchandise.
- 17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, ^h The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.
- 18 ¶ Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, ⁱ What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou dost these things ?

tion: 14 of faith in his death. 16 The great love of God towards the world. 18 Condemnation for unbelief. 23 The baptism, witness, and doctrine of John concerning Christ.

THere was a man of the Pharisees, named
Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:

2 ^a The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for ^b no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except ^c God be with him.

3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily verily I say unto thee, ^d Except a man be born ^{||} again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mothers womb, and be born?

5 Jesus answered, Verily verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water, and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh, is flesh;
and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 ^g Verily verily I say unto thee, We 52 Then enquired he of them the hour, when he began to amend: and they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth; and himself believed, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

CHAP. V.

1 Jesus on the sabbath-day cureth him that was diseased eight and thirty years: 10 the Jews therefore cavil, and persecute him for it: 17 He answereth for himself, and reproveth them, shewing by the testimony of his Father, 32 of John, 36 of his works, 39 and of the scriptures, who he is.

After this there was a feast of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep-market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue, Bethesda, having five porches.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

10 ¶ The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath-day; it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath-day.

17 ¶ But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also, that God was his Father, making himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily verily I say unto you, the Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doth, these also doth the Son likewise.

20 For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickneth them: even so the Son quickneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man; but hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father: He that honoureth not the Son, honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily verily I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily verily I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice, 29 And shall come forth, they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 If I bear witness of my self, my witness is not true.

32 ¶ There is another that beareth witness of me, and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me, is true.

33 Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 ¶ But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

6 (And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do)

7 Philip answered him, ^d Two hundred pe-that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, saith unto him,

^s 2 King. 4. 43.

9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley-loaves, and two small fishes: ^e but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down.
Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves, and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, Anno and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of Domini

16 ^s And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,

17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea towards Capernaum: and it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose, by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty, or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship:
and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I, be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone:

23 (Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias, nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 ^o Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

Anno Domini 35 And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: ^p he that cometh to me, shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me, shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, that ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 All that the Father giveth me, shall come to me; and ^q him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, ^r not to do mine own will, ^s but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, ^t that of all which he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, ^v that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, ^x Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among your selves.

44 ^y No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 ^z It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, ^a save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily verily I say unto you, ^b He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 ^c Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 ^d This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the living bread ^e which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and ^f the bread that I will give, is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore ^g strove amongst themselves, saying, ^h How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily verily I say unto you, Except ⁱ ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54 ^k Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 ^l This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread, shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying, who can hear it?

61 When Jesus knew in himself, that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 ^m What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

63 ⁿ It is the spirit that quickneth, the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.

64 But there are some of you that believe not. For ^o Jesus knew from the beginning, who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore ^p said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66 ¶ From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast ^q the words of eternal life.

69 ^r And we believe, and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.

70 Jesus answered them, ^s Have not I chosen you twelve, ^t and one of you is a devil?

71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

C H A P. VII.

¹ Jesus reproveth the ambition and boldness of his kinsmen: ¹⁰ goeth up from Galilee to the feast of tabernacles: ¹⁴ teacheth in the temple. ⁴⁰ Divers opinions of him among the people. ⁴⁵ The Pharisees are angry that their officers took him not, and chide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

After these things, Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, ^a because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 ^b Now the Jews feast of tabernacles was at hand.

3 ^c His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly: If thou do these things, shew thy self to the world.

5 For ^d neither did his brethren believe in him.

6 Then Jesus said unto them, ^e My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 ^f The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, ^g because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 Goye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast, ^h for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 ¶ But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then ⁱ the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And ^k there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for ^l some said,

Anno Domini He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.

32. 13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him, for fear of the Jews.

14 ¶ Now about the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man ¶ letters, having never learned?

16 Jesus answered them, and said, ^a My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 ^a If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of my self.

18 ^b He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

19 ^c Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? ^d Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered and said, ^e Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22 ^f Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, ^g but of the fathers) and ye on the sabbath-day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the sabbath-day receive circumcision, ¶ that the law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because ^h I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath-day.

24 ⁱ Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25 Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

26 But lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him: do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27 ^j Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, ^k Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and ^l I am not come of my self, but he that sent me ^m is true, ⁿ whom ye know not.

29 But ^o I know him, for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then ^p they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 And ^q many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 ¶ The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Jesus unto them, ^r Yet a little while I am with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34 ^s Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto ^t the dispersed among the ¶ Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

37 ^m In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, ⁿ If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38 ^o He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, ^p out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 (^q But this spake he of the Spirit which they that believe on him, should receive: for the holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Jesus was not yet ^r glorified.)

40 ¶ Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, of a truth this is ^s the prophet.

41 Others said, ^t This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out ^u of Galilee?

42 ^v Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh out of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, ^w where David was?

43 So ^x there was a division among the people because of him.

44 And ^y some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 ¶ Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, ^z Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?

48 ^a Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him?

49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.

50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (^b he that came ^c to Jesus by night, being one of them)

51 ^d Doth our law judge any man before it hear him, and know what he doth?

52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for ^e out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 And every man went unto his own house.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ delivereth the woman taken in adultery: 12 He preacheth himself the light of the world, and justifieth his doctrine; 33 answereth the Jews that boasted of Abraham, 59 and conveyeth himself from their cruelty.

Jesus went unto the mount of Olives: 2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the mids,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 ^a Now Moses in the law commanded us that such should be stoned: but what sayst thou?

6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lift up himself, and said unto them, ^b He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and 10 When Jesus had lift up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, ^c Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

12 ¶ Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, ^d I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, ^e Thou bearest record of thy self; thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered and said unto them, ^f Though I bear record of my self, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ^g ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye judge after the flesh, ^h I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for ⁱ I am not alone, but I and the father that sent me.

17 ^k It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am one that bear witness of my self, and ^l the Father that sent me, beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they unto him, where is thy Father? Jesus answered, ^m Ye neither know me nor my Father: ⁿ if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 These words spake Jesus in ^o the treasury as he taught in the temple: and ^p no man laid hands on him, for ^q his hour was not yet come.

21 Then said Jesus again unto them, I go ^r my way, and ^s ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go ye cannot come.

22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go ye cannot come.

23 And he said unto them, ^t Ye are from beneath, I am from above: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 ^u I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 I have many things to say, and to judge of you: but ^v he that sent me, is true; and ^x I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have ^y lift up the Son of man, ^z then shall ye know that I am he, and ^a and that I do nothing of my self; but ^b as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29 And ^c he that sent me, is with me: ^d the Father hath not left me alone: for I do always those things that please him.

30 As he spake these words, ^e many believed on him.

31 Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed;

32 And ye shall know the truth, and ^f the truth shall make you free.

33 ¶ They answered him, ^g We be Abrahams seed, and were never in bondage to any man: Domini how sayst thou, Ye shall be made free?

34 Jesus answered them, Verily verily I say unto you, ^h Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.

35 And ⁱ the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever.

36 ^k If the son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 ^l I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 They answered and said unto him, ^m Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, ⁿ If ye were Abrahams children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40 But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; ^o we have one Father, even God.

42 Jesus said unto them, ^p If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; ^q neither came I of my self, but he sent me.

43 ^r Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word.

44 ^s Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and ^t abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.

46 Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?

47 ^u He that is of God, heareth Gods words: ^v ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and ^x hast a devil?

49 Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 And ^y I seek not mine one glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

51 Verily verily I say unto you, ^z If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

52 Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. ^a Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayst, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.

53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy self?

54 Jesus answered, ^b If I honour my self, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me, of whom ye say, that he is your God:

55 Yet ^c ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say I know him not, I should be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying.

Anno Domini 32. ^a Luke 10. 24. 56 Your father Abraham ^d rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad. 57 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? 58 Jesus said unto them, Verily verily I say unto you, before Abraham was, ^e I am. 59 Then ^f took they up stones to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, ^g going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

C H A P. IX.

¹ The man that was born blind restored to sight: 8 He is brought to the Pharisees: 13 They are offended at it, and excommunicate him: 35 but he is received of Jesus, and confesseth him. 39 Who they are whom Christ enlighteneth.

AND as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: ^a but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 ^b I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, ^c I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, ^d he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he ^e anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay.

7 And said unto him, Go wash ^f in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 ¶ The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him, that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

13 ¶ They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the sabbath-day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath-day. Others said, ^f How can a man that is a sinner, do such miracles? and ^g there was a division among them.

17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayst thou of him that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, ^h He is a prophet.

18 But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age, ask him, he shall speak for himself.

22 These words spake his parents, because ⁱ they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, ^k he should be put out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age, ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see.

26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses disciples.

29 We know that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, ^l we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that ^m God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doth his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind.

33 ⁿ If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.

34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they ^o cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him?

37 And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.

39 ¶ And Jesus said, ^p For judgment I am come into this world: ^q that they which see not, might see; and that they which see, might be made blind.

40 And ^r some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also?

41 Jesus said unto them, ^s If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

32. Tuesday in Whit-sun-week, Gospel, Ver. 1. to Ver. 11.

Verily verily I say unto you, He that entreth not by the door into the sheep-fold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entreth in by the door, is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily verily I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

8 All that ever came before me, are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 ^a I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.

10 The Thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

11 ^b I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

12 But he that is an hireling and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and ^c leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep.

14 I am the good shepherd, and ^d know my sheep, and am known of mine.

15 ^e As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep.

16 And ^f other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; ^g and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

17 Therefore doth my Father love me, ^h because I lay down my life that I might take it again.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of my self: I have power to lay it down, and ⁱ I have power to take it again. ^k This commandment have I received of my Father.

19 ¶ ^l There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, ^m He hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil: ⁿ Can a devil ^o open the eyes of the blind?

22 ¶ And it was at Jerusalem the ^p feast of the dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Jesus walked in the temple ^q in Solomons porch.

24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou ^r make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly.

¹⁹ Or, hold us in suspense.

25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: ^a the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.

26 But ^b ye believe not; because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27 My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me.

28 And I give unto them eternal life, and ^c they shall never perish, neither shall any pluck them out of my hand.

29 ^d My Father which gave them me, is greater than all: and none is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.

30 ^e I and my Father are one.

31 Then ^f the Jews took up stones again to stone him.

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father; for which of those works do ye stone me?

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy, and because that thou, being a man, ^g makest thy self God.

34 Jesus answered them, ^h Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, ⁱ unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken:

36 Say ye of him, ^j whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; ^k because I said, I am ^l the Son of God?

37 ^m If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38 But if I do, though ye believe not me, ⁿ believe the works: that ye may know and believe ^o that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 ^p Therefore they sought again to take him: but he escaped out of their hand, 40 And went away again beyond Jordan, into the place ^q where John at first baptized; and there he abode.

41 And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle: ^r but all things that John spake of this man, were true.

4 When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, ^c but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, ^d he abode two days still in the same place where he was.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, ^e the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?

9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? ^f if any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But ^g if any man walk in the night he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he: and after that, he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus ^h sleepeth; but I go that I may awake him out of sleep.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

13 Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.

14 Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there (to the intent ye may believe) nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already.

18 (Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, ^{||} about fifteen furlongs off.)

19 And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22 But I know, that even now whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Martha saith unto him, ⁱ I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection, at the last day.

25 Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the ^k life: ^l he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live;

26 And whosoever liveth, and believeth in me, shall never die. Believest thou this?

27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: ^m I believe that thou art the Christ the Son of God which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.

31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary that she rose up hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave, to weep there.

32 Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groined in the spirit, and [†] was troubled, 34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 ⁿ Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, Behold, how he loved him.

37 And some of them said, Could not this man, ^o which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?

38 Jesus therefore again groining in himself, cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that if thou wouldst believe thou shouldst ^p see the glory of God?

41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lift up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

42 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but ^q because of the people which stand by, I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes: and ^r his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, ^s and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

47 ¶ Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, ^v What do we? for this man doth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him; and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them named ^x Caiaphas, ^y being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all;

50 ^z Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation:

52 And ^a not for that nation only, ^b but that also he should gather together in one, the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore ^b walked no more openly among the Jews; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called ^c Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

33. 56 ^d Then fought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

C H A P. XII.

1 Jesus excuseth Mary anointing his feet. 9 The people flock to see Lazarus. 10 The chief priests consult to kill him. 12 Christ rideth into Jerusalem. 20 Greeks desire to see Jesus: 23 He foretelleth his death. 37 The Jews are generally blinded: 42 yet many chief rulers believe, but do not confess him: 44 therefore Jesus calleth earnestly for confession of faith.

THEN Jesus, six days before the passover, came to Bethany, where Lazarus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.

2 ^a There they made him a supper, and Martha served: but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

3 Then took ^b Mary a pound of ointment, of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot Simons son, which should betray him, 5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and ^c had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For ^d the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always.

9 Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, ^e whom he had raised from the dead.

10 ¶ But the chief priests consulted, that they might put Lazarus also to death;

11 Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 ¶ ^f On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 Took branches of palm-trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, ^g Hosanna, blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 And Jesus when he had found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, 15 ^h Fear not, daughter of Sion: behold thy King cometh, sitting on an asses colt.

16 These things understood not his disciples at the first: ⁱ but when Jesus was glorified, ^k then remembred they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.

18 For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, ^l Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.

20 ¶ And there ^m were certain Greeks among them ⁿ that came up to worship at the feast:

21 The same came therefore to Philip, ^o which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus.

22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again, Andrew and Philip told Jesus.

23 ¶ And Jesus answered them, saying, ^p The hour is come that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily verily I say unto you, ^q Except ^r a corn of wheat fall into the ground, and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 ^s He that loveth his life, shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 If any man serve me, let him follow me; and ^t where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.

27 ^u Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: ^v but for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father, glorifie thy name. ^x Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorifie it again.

29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundred: others said, an Angel spake to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, ^y This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgment of this world: now shall ^z the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, ^a if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw ^b all men unto me.

33 (^c This he said, signifying what death he should die.)

34 The people answered him, ^d We have heard out of the law, that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayst thou, The Son of man must be lift up? who is this Son of man?

35 Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while ^e is the light with you: ^f walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for ^g he that walketh in darkness, knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be ^h the children of light. These things spake Jesus and departed, and ⁱ did hide himself from them.

37 ¶ But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:

38 That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, ^k Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again, 40 ^l He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

41 ^m These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

43 ^o For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 ¶ Jesus cried, and said, ^p He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.

45 And ^q he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

46 ^r I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me, should not abide in darkness.

47 And if any man hear my words and believe not, ^s I judge him not: for ^t I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 ^v He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: ^x the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

49 For ^y I have not spoken of my self; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, ^z what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAP. XIII.

¹ Jesus washeth the disciples feet: exhorteth them to humility and charity: ¹⁸ He foretelleth and discovereth to John by a token, that Judas should betray him: ³¹ commandeth them to love one another: ³⁶ and forewarneth Peter of his denial.

NOW ^a before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that ^b his hour was come, that he should depart out of this world, unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.

2 And supper being ended, (^c the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simons son, to betray him)

3 Jesus knowing ^d that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God,

4 He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments, and took a towel and girded himself.

5 After that, he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and ^e Peter saith unto him, Lord, ^f dost thou wash my feet?

7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, ^g If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.

10 Jesus saith to him, He that is washed, needeth not, save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ^h ye are clean, but not all.

11 For ⁱ he knew who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down Domini again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?

13 ^j Ye call me Master, and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am.

14 ^k If I then your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, ^l ye also ought to wash one anothers feet.

15 For ^m I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.

16 ⁿ Verily verily I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his Lord, neither he that is sent, greater than he that sent him:

17 ^o If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speak not of you all; I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, ^p He that eateth bread with me, hath lift up his heel against me.

19 ^q ¶ Now I tell you before it come, that when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.

20 ^r Verily verily I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me: and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

21 ^s When Jesus had thus said, ^t he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily verily I say unto you, that ^v one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now ^x there was leaning on Jesus bosom, one of his disciples whom Jesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then lying on Jesus breast, saith unto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give a ^y sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

27 ^z And after the sop, Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou dost, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 For some of them thought, because ^a Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast: or that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then having received the sop, went immediately out: and it was night.

31 ¶ Therefore when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 ^b If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorifie him in himself, and ^c shall straightway glorifie him.

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: ^d and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say unto you.

34 ^e A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 ^f By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples with the hope of heaven: 6 professeth himself the way, the truth, and the life; and one with the Father: 13 assureth their prayers in his name to be effectual: 15 requesteth love and obedience: 16 promiseth the holy Ghost the Comforter: 27 and leaveth his peace with them.

LET ^a not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 In my Fathers house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you: ^b I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And ^c if I go, and prepare a place for you, ^d I will come again, and receive you unto my self, that ^e where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go, ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest, and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am ^f the way, and ^g the truth, and ^h the life: ⁱ no man cometh unto the Father but by me.

7 If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith unto him, Lord shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? ^k he that hath seen me, hath seen the Father; and how sayst thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that ^l I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you, ^m I speak not of my self: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works sake.

12 ⁿ Verily verily I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do, shall he do also, and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

13 ^o And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 ¶ If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will pray the Father, and ^p he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever.

17 Even ^q the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him, for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18 ^r I will not leave you || comfortless; ^s I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more: but ^t ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day ye shall know that ^u I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 ^v He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest my self to him.

22 ^z Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thy self unto us, and not unto the world?

23 Jesus answered and said unto him, ^a If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, ^b and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not, keepeth not my sayings: and ^c the word which you hear, is not mine, but the Fathers which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 But ^d the Comforter, which is the holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, ^e he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 ^f Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28 Ye have heard how ^g I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoyce, because I said, I go unto the Father: for ^h my Father is greater than I.

29 And ⁱ now I have told you before it come to pass, that when it is come to pass, ye might believe.

30 Hereafter I will not talk much with you: ^k for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.

31 But that the world may know that I love the Father; and ^l as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

C H A P. XVII.

I Christ prayeth to his Father to glorifie him: 6 to preserve his apostles 11 in unity, 17 and truth: 20 to glorifie them, and all other believers with him in heaven.

THese words spake Jesus; and lift up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, ^a the hour is come; glorifie thy Son, that thy Son also may glorifie thee.

2 ¶ As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many ^c as thou hast given him.

3 And ^d this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ ^e whom thou hast sent.

4 ¶ I have glorified thee on the earth: ^g I have finished the work ^h which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now, O Father, glorifie thou me with thine own self, with the glory ⁱ which I had with thee before the world was.

6 I have manifested thy name unto the men ^k which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee.

8 For I have given unto them the words ^l which thou gavest me; and they have received them, ^m and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: ⁿ I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me, for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and ^o thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, ^p keep through thine own name, those whom thou hast given me, ^q that they may be one, ^r as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, ^s I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and ^t none of them is lost, ^v but the son of perdition: ^x that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee, and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I have given them thy word; and ^y the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but ^z that thou shouldst keep them from the evil.

16 They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17 ¶ Sanctifie them through thy truth: ^b thy word is truth.

18 ¶ As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.

19 And ^d for their sakes I sanctifie my self, that they also might be ^{||} sanctified through the truth.

20 Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word:

21 ¶ That they all may be one, as ^f thou, Father art in me, and I in thee; that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them: ^g that they may be one even as we are one.

23 I in them, and thou in me, ^h that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

24 ¶ Father, I will that they also whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory which thou hast given me; for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, ^k the world hath not known thee; but ^l I have known thee, and ^m these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love ⁿ which thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

1 Judas betrayeth Jesus. 6 The officers fall to the ground. 10 Peter smiteth off Malchusear. 12 Jesus is taken and led unto Annas and Caiaphas. 15 Peters denial. 19 Jesus examined before Caiaphas: 28 His arraignment before Pilate: 36 His kingdom. 40 The Jews ask Barabbas to be let loose.

WHen Jesus had spoken these words, ^a he went forth with his disciples over ^b the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entred, and his disciples.

2 And Judas also which betrayed him, knew the place: ^c for Jesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 ¶ Judas then having received a band of ^d men, and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns, and torches, and weapons.

4 Jesus therefore knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am be. And Judas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 Aftoon then as he had said unto them, I am be, they went backward and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? and they said Jesus of Nazareth.

8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am be. If therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:

9 That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, ^a Of them which thou gavest me, have I lost none.

10 ^f Then Simon Peter having a sword, drew it, and smote the high priests servant, and cut off his right ear. The servants name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: ^g the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 Then the band, and the captain, and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him,

13 And ^h led him away to ⁱ Annas first (for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year.) ||

14 ^k Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ ^l And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. That disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.

16 ^m But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He saith, I am not.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals, (for it was cold) and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

19 ¶ The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him, ⁿ I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort, and in secret have I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by, ^o struck Jesus || with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 (^p Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.)

25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself: ^q they said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high priest (being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off) saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied again, and ^r immediately the cock crew.

28 ¶ ^s Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas, unto || the hall of judgment: and it was early, ^t and they themselves went not into the judgment-hall, lest they should be defiled: but that they might eat the passover.

29 Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

31 Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

32 ^v That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 ^w Then Pilate entred into the judgment-hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the king of the Jews?

34 Jesus answered him, Sayst thou this thing of thy self, or did others tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation, and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: What hast thou done?

36 ^y Jesus answered, ^z My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayst that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that ^a is of the truth, heareth my voice.

38 Pilate saith unto him, (What is truth?) And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, ^b I find in him no fault at all.

39 ^c But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the king of the Jews?

40 ^d Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. ^e Now Barabbas was a robber.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Christ is scourged, crowned with thorns, and beaten.
4 Pilate is desirous to release him, but being overcome with the outrage of the Jews, he delivered him to be crucified. 23 They cast lots for his garments: 26 He commendeth his mother to John: 28 He dieth: 31 His side is pierced: 38 He is buried by Joseph and Nicodemus.

THEN ^a Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.

2 And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,

3 And said, Hail king of the Jews: and they smote him with their hands.

4 Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, ^b that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

5 Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man.

6 When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucifie him, Anno Domini 33. him, crucifie him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him : for I find no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, ^c We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because ^d he made himself the Son of God.

8 ¶ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid ;

9 And went again into the judgment-hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou ? But Jesus gave him no answer.

10 Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me ? knowest thou not that I have power to crucifie thee, and have power to release thee ?

11 Jesus answered, Thou couldst have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above : therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him : but the Jews cried out, saying, ^c If thou let this man go, thou art not Cæsars friend : ^f whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cæsar.

13 ¶ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment-seat, in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha.

14 And ^e it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour : and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your king.

15 But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucifie your king ? The chief priests answered, ^h We have no king but Cæsar.

16 ⁱ Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus and led him away.

17 ^k And he bearing his cross, went forth into a place called the place of a scull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha.

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

19 ¶ ^l And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title then read many of the Jews : for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city : and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not the king of the Jews ; but that he said, I am king of the Jews.

22 Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.

23 ¶ ^m Then the soldiers when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments (and made four parts, to every soldier a part) and also his coat : now the coat was without seam, ⁿ woven from the top throughout.

24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rent it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be : that the scripture might be fulfilled which saith, ^o They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

25 ¶ ^p Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mothers sister, Mary the wife of ^q Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and ^r the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, ^s Woman, behold thy son.

27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that hour that disciple took her ^t unto his own home.

28 ¶ After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, ^u that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

29 Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar : and ^v they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, ^x It is finished : and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath-day (for that sabbath-day was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32 Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs.

34 But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith ^y came there out, blood and water.

35 And he that saw it, bare record, and his record is true : and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

36 For these things were done, ^z that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.

37 And again another scripture saith, ^a They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 ¶ ^b And after this, Joseph of Arimathea (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly ^c for fear of the Jews) besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus : and Pilate gave him leave : He came therefore and took the body of Jesus.

39 And there came also ^d Nicodemus (which at the first came to Jesus by night) and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about an hundred pound weight.

40 Then took they the body of Jesus, and ^e wound it in linen clothes, with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 Now in the place where he was crucified, there was a garden ; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.

42 There laid they Jesus therefore, because of the Jews preparation-day, for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAP. XX.

1 Mary cometh to the sepulchre : 3 so do Peter and John, ignorant of the resurrection. 11 Jesus appeareth to Mary Magdalene, 19 and to his disciples. 24 The incredulity and confession of Thomas. 30 The scripture is sufficient to salvation.

THE ^a first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the ^b other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away

Anno Domini away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

33. 3 ^c Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he stooping down and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.

6 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie;

7 And ^c the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it self.

8 Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not ^f the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 ¶ ⁵ But Mary stood without at the sepulchre, weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down and looked into the sepulchre,

12 And seeth two angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain:

13 And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 ^b And when she had thus said, she turned her self back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.

15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? she supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned her self, and saith unto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master, 17 Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to ^k my brethren, and say unto them, ⁱ I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and ^m my God and your God.

18 Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples, that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

19 ¶ ⁿ Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut, where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. ^o Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord.

21 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: ^p as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the holy Ghost.

23 ^q Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 ¶ But Thomas, one of the twelve,

^r called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 ¶ And after eight days, again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.

27 Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and ^r reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing.

28 And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.

29 Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: ^t blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 ¶ ^v And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book.

31 ^x But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through his name.

C H A P. XXI.

1 Christ appearing again to his disciples, was known of them by the great draught of fishes: 12 He dineth with them; 15 earnestly commandeth Peter to feed his lambs and sheep; 18 foretelleth him of his death; 22 rebuketh his curiosity touching John. 25 The conclusion.

AFTER these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias; and on this wise shewed he himself:

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and ^a Nathanael of ^c Cana in Galilee, and ^b the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entred into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples ^e knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Then ^d Jesus saith unto them, ¶ Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he said unto them, ^e Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore ^f that disciple whom Jesus loved, saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fishers coat unto him, (for he was naked) and did cast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits) dragging the net with fishes.

9 Assoon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon and bread.

Anno Domini 33. 10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish, which ye have now caught.

33. 11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus saith unto them, & Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jesus then cometh and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now ^h the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

16 He saith unto him again the second time, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17 He saith unto him the third time, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved, because he said to him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, ⁱ thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18 ^k Verily verily I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thy self, and walkedst whither thou wouldst: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldst not.

19 This spake he, signifying ^l by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20 Then Peter turning about, seeth the disciple ^m whom Jesus loved, following; which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 Peter seeing him, saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do?

22 Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die: but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and ⁿ we know that his testimony is true.

25 ^o And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, ^p I suppose that even the world it self could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

The ACTS of the Apostles.

CHAP. I.

1 Christ preparing his apostles to the beholding of his ascension, gathereth them together into the mount Olivet, commandeth them to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the holy Ghost, promiseth after few days to send it: by virtue whereof they should be witnesses unto him, even to the utmost parts of the earth. After his ascension they are warned by two angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming: 12 They accordingly return, and giving themselves to prayer, choose Matthias apostle in the place of Judas.

THE former treatise have I made, O ^a Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,

2 ^b Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the holy Ghost ^c had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen.

3 ^d To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 ^e And ^{||} being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, ^f which, saith he, ye have heard of me.

5 ^g For John truly baptized with water; ^h but ye shall be baptized with the holy Ghost, not many days hence.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, ⁱ Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?

7 And he said unto them, ^k It is not for you to know ^l the times or the seasons which the Father hath put in his own power.

8 ^m But ye shall receive ^{||} power ⁿ after that the holy Ghost is come upon you: and ^o ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9 ^p And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, ^q he was taken up, and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven, as he went up, behold, two men stood by them ^r in white apparel;

11 Which also said, ^s Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven; this same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, ^t shall so come, in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

12 Then returned they unto Jerusalem, from the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem a sabbath-days journey.

13 And when they were come in, they went up ^u into an upper room, where abode both ^v Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and ^z Simon Zelotes, and ^a Judas the brother of James.

14 ^b These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with ^c his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number ^d of the names together were about an hundred and twenty)

Anno Domini 33. 16 Men and brethren, This scripture must needs have been fulfilled, ^e which the holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, ^f which was guide to them that took Jesus.

26 And they gave forth their lots; and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbred with the eleven apostles.

CHAP. II.

^v 1 The apostles filled with the holy Ghost, and speaking divers languages, are admired by some, and derided by others: 14 Whom Peter disproving, and shewing that the apostles spake by the power of the holy Ghost, that Jesus was risen from the dead, ascended into heaven, had poured down the same holy Ghost, and was the Messiah, a man known to them to be approved of God by his miracles, wonders, and signs, and not crucified without his determinate counsel, and foreknowledge: 37 he baptizeth a great number that were converted, 41 who afterwards devoutly and charitably converse together: the apostles working many miracles, and God daily increasing his church.

25 For David speaketh concerning him, ⁱ I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved.

26 Therefore did my heart rejoyce, and my tongue was glad: moreover also, my flesh shall rest in hope.

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, ^{||} let me freely speak ^{||} Or, I may. unto you ^s of the patriarch David, that he is ^t 1 Kings 2. 10. both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day: ^u Chap. 13. 36.

Anno Domini 33. 30 Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loyns, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ, to sit on his throne :

31 He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32 * This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 For David is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy foot-stool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 ¶ Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter, and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do ?

38 Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save your selves from this untoward generation.

41 ¶ Then they that gladly received his word, were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the apostles doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and had all things common.

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46 And they continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

C H A P. III.

1 Peter preaching to the people that came to see a lame man restored to his feet, 12 professeth the cure not to have been wrought by his or Johns own power, or holiness, but by God, and his Son Jesus, and through faith in his name: 13 withal reprehending them for crucifying Jesus. 17 Which because they did it through ignorance, and that thereby were fulfilled Gods determinate counsel, and the scriptures, 19 he exhorteth them by repentance and faith to seek remission of their sins, and salvation in the same Jesus.

NOW Peter and John went up together into the temple, at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour.

2 And a certain man lame from his mothers womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entred into the temple.

3 Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked an alms.

4 And Peter fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk.

7 And he took him by the right hand, and lift him up; and immediately his feet and ankle-bones received strength.

8 And he leaping up, stood, and walked, and entred with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walking and praising God.

10 And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed, held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon, greatly wondring.

12 ¶ And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate; when he was determined to let him go.

14 But ye denied the holy one, and the just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you, 15 And killed the prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses.

16 And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him, hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 ¶ Repent ye therefore and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord,

20 And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you:

21 Whom the heaven must receive, until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets, since the world began.

22 For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you, of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.

23 And it shall come to pass, that every soul which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

John 11. 47.

25 Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, ⁷ And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

16 Saying, ¹ What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no farther among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 ⁸ And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all, nor teach in the name of Jesus.

19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, ⁹ Whether it be right in the sight of God, to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 For we cannot but speak the things which ¹ we have seen and heard.

21 So when they had further threatned them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, ² because of the people: for all men glorified God for ¹ that which was done.

22 For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 ¶ And being let go, ³ they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lift up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God which hast made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is:

25 Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, ⁴ Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For ⁵ of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel were gathered together, 28 ⁶ For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy council determined before to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatnings: and grant unto thy servants, ⁷ that with all boldness they may speak thy word, 30 By stretching forth thine hand to heal: and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus.

31 ¶ And when they had prayed, ⁸ the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed, ⁹ were of one heart, and of one soul: ¹ neither said any of them, that ought of the things which he possessed, was his own, but they had all things common.

33 And with great power, gave the apostles ² witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and ³ great grace was upon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses, sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 ⁴ And laid them down at the apostles feet:

CHAP. IV.

¹ The rulers of the Jews offended with Peters sermon, 4 (though thousands of the people were converted that heard the word) imprison him and John. 5 After, upon examination, Peter boldly avouching the lame man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus only we must be eternally saved, 13 they command him and John to preach no more in that name, adding also threatening. 23 Whereupon the church flecth to prayer: 31 And God by moving the place where they were assembled, testified that he heard their prayer, confirming the church with the gift of the holy Ghost, and with mutual love and charity.

AND as they spake unto the people, the priests and the captain of the temple, and the sadducees came upon them,

2 Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now even-tide.

4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the word, believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And ¹ Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, ² By what power, or by what name have ye done this?

8 Then Peter filled with the holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, ³ whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 ⁴ This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 ⁵ Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.

13 ¶ Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled, and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

² Chap. 5. 2. 37 Having land, sold it, and brought the money, ² and laid it at the apostles feet.

C H A P. V.

¹ After that Ananias and Sapphira his wife for their hypocrisie at Peters rebuke had fallen down dead, ¹² and that the rest of the apostles had wrought many miracles, ¹⁴ to the increase of the faith: ¹⁷ the apostles are again imprisoned, ¹⁹ but delivered by an angel, bidding them to preach openly to all: ²¹ When after their teaching accordingly in the temple, ²⁹ and before the council, ³³ they are in danger to be killed; through the advice of Gamaliel, a great counsellor among the Jews, they be kept alive, ⁴⁰ and are but beaten: for which they glorifie God, and cease no day from preaching.

BUT a certain man named Ananias with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, ² And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part and laid it ^a at the apostles feet.

³ But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart || to lie to the holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

⁵ And Ananias hearing these words, fell down and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

⁶ And the young men arose, ^b wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

⁷ And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

⁸ And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for so much.

⁹ Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

¹⁰ Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

¹¹ And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

¹² ¶ And ^c by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in ^d Solomons porch

¹³ And ^e of the rest durst no man joyn himself to them: ^f but the people magnified them.

¹⁴ And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women)

¹⁵ Insomuch that they brought forth the sick || into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, ^g that at the least, the shadow of Peter passing by, might overshadow some of them.

¹⁶ There came also a multitude out of the

¹⁷ ¶ Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees) and were filled with || indignation,

¹⁸ And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

¹⁹ But ⁱ the angel of the Lord by night ¹ Chap. 12. 7. opened the prison-doors, and brought them ² & 16. 26. forth, and said, ²⁰ Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people, ^k all the words of this life.

²¹ And when they heard that, they entred into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

²² But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

²³ Saying, the prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

²⁴ Now when the high priest and ^l the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow. ¹ Luke 22. 4. Chap. 4. 1.

²⁵ Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison, are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

²⁶ Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: [(^m for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned)

²⁷ And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them, ²⁸ Saying, ⁿ Did not we straitly command you, that you should not teach in this name? and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this mans blood upon us. ⁿ Chap. 4. 18.

C H A P. VII.

1 Stephen permitted to answer to the accusation of blasphemy, 2 sheweth that Abraham worshipped God rightly, and how God chose the fathers, 20 before Moses was born, and before the tabernacle and temple were built: 37 that Moses himself witnessed of Christ: 44 and that all outward ceremonies were ordained according to the heavenly pattern to last but for a time: 51 reprehendeth their rebellion, and murdering of Christ, the just one, whom the prophets foretold should come into the world: 54 whereupon they stone him to death; who commendeth his soul to Jesus, and humbly prayeth for them.

THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, ^a Men, brethren, and fathers ^b Chap. 22. 7. hearken, The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And said unto him, ^b Get thee out of ^c Gen. 12. 1. thy country, and from thy kindred, and come ^d 6. into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then ^e came he out of the land of the ^f Gen. 11. 31. Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no not so much as to set his foot on: ^d yet ^e Gen. 12. 7. &c. he promised that he would give it to him for ^f 13. 15. as yet he had no child.

37 ^a This is that Moses which said unto the children of Israel, ^a A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, ^a like unto me; ^a him shall ye hear.

38 ^a This is he that was in the Church in the wilderness, with ^a the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: who received the lively ^a oracles to give unto us.

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt, 40 ^a Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoyced in the works of their own hands.

42 Then ^a God turned, and gave them up to worship ^a the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, ^a O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts, and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made, to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, ^a speak- ^a Or, who spake. ing unto Moses, ^a that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

C H A P. VIII.

1 By occasion of the persecution in Jerusalem, the church being planted in Samaria, 5 by Philip the deacon who preached, did miracles, and baptized many, among the rest Simon the Sorcerer, a great seducer of the people; 14 Peter and John come to confirm, and enlarge the church: where by prayer and imposition of hands, giving the holy Ghost, 18 when Simon would have bought the like power of them, 20 Peter sharply reproveth his hypocrisie, and covetousness, and exhorting him to repentance, together with John preaching the word of the Lord, return to Jerusalem. 26 But the angel sendeth Philip to teach and baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.

AND ^a Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and ^b they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, ^c and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, ^d he made havock of the church, entring into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison.

4 Therefore ^e they that were scattered abroad, went every where preaching the word.

5 Then ^f Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing, and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For ^g unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man called Simon, which before-time in the same city, ^h used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one.

10 To whom they all gave heed from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Philip, preaching the things ⁱ concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondred beholding the ^j miracles and signs which were done.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem, heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John.

15 Who when they were come down, prayed for them, ^k that they might receive the holy Ghost.

16 (For ^l as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only ^m they were baptized in ⁿ the name of the Lord Jesus)

17 Then ^o laid they their hands on them, and they received the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles hands, the holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because ^p thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, ^q if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in ^r the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, ^s Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

26 And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south, unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert.

27 And he arose and went: and behold, ^t a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and ^v had come to Jerusalem for to worship, 28 Was returning, and sitting in his chariot, read Esaias the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and joyn thy self to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readeest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? and he desired Philip that he would come up, and sit with him.

32 The place of the scripture which he read, was this, ^u He was led as a sheep to the slaughter, and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; ^w what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayst. And he answered and said, ^x I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water,

C H A P. IX.

¹ Saul going towards Damascus, ⁴ is stricken down to the earth, ¹⁰ is called to the apostleship, ¹⁸ and is baptized by Ananias: ²⁰ He preacheth Christ boldly: ²³ The Jews lay wait to kill him; ²⁹ so do the Grecians: but he escapeth both. ³¹ The church having rest, Peter healeth Eneas of the palfie, ³⁶ and restoreth Tabitha to life.

AND ^a Saul yet breathing out threatnings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, ² And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any [†] of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

³ And ^b as he journeyed he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven.

⁴ And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, ^c why persecutest thou me?

⁵ And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: ^d It is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

⁶ And he trembling and astonished, said, Lord, ^e what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

⁷ And ^f the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

⁸ And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

⁹ And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

¹⁰ ¶ And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, ^g named Ananias, and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

¹¹ And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street, which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas, for ^h one called Saul ^h of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth, ¹² And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias, coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

¹³ Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, ⁱ how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

¹⁴ And here he hath authority from the chief priests, to bind all ^k that call on thy name.

¹⁵ But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for ^j he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before ^m the Gentiles, and ⁿ kings, and the children of Israel.

¹⁶ For ^o I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my names sake.

¹⁷ And ^p Ananias went his way, and en-tred into the house; and ^q putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord (^{even} Jesus that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and ^r be filled with the holy Ghost.

¹⁸ And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales; and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

¹⁹ And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

²⁰ And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, ^s that he is the Son of God.

²¹ But all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

²² But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

²³ ¶ And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him:

²⁴ ^t But their laying await was known of Saul: and they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

²⁵ Then the disciples took him by night, and ^v let him down by the wall in a basket.

²⁶ And ^u when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to joyn himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

²⁷ But ^v Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

²⁸ And ^z he was with them coming in, and going out at Jerusalem.

²⁹ And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against ^a the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

³⁰ Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cefarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

³¹ Then had the churches rest throughout all Judea, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the holy Ghost, were multiplied.

³² ¶ And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

³³ And there he found a certain man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palfie.

³⁴ And Peter said unto him, Eneas; Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

³⁵ And all that dwelt at Lydda, and ^c Saron, saw him, and turned to the Lord.

³⁶ ¶ Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called ^d Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did.

³⁷ And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in ^e an upper chamber.

³⁸ And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter

Anno Domini 37. ^{|| Or, be grieved.} was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not || delay to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber : and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made while she was with them.

^{Chap. 7. 60.} 40 But Peter put them all forth, and ^f kneeled down and prayed, and turning him to the body, said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes : and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lift her up ; and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Joppa ; and many believed in the Lord.

^{Chap. 10. 6.} 43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa with one ^s Simon a tanner.

¹ Cornelius a devout man, ⁵ being commanded by an angel, sendeth for Peter : ¹¹ who by a vision, ^{15, 20} is taught not to despise the Gentiles. ³⁴ As he preacheth Christ to Cornelius and his company, ⁴⁴ the holy Ghost falleth on them, ⁴⁸ and they are baptized.

^{A. D. 41.} THere was a certain man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band, ^{Chap. 22. 12.} 2 ^a A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway.

3 He saw in a vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord ? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter :

^{Chap. 9. 43.} 6 He lodgeth with one ^b Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea-side : he shall tell thee what thou oughtst to do.

7 And when the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household-servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually :

8 And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

^{Chap. 11. 5. &c.} 9 ¶ On the morrow as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, ^c Peter went up upon the house-top to pray, about the sixth hour.

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten : but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

^{Chap. 7. 56. Revel. 19. 11.} 11 And ^d saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet, knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth :

12 Wherein were all manner of four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter ; kill and eat.

^{Lev. 11. 4. Deut. 14. 7. Ezek. 4. 14.} 14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord ; ^e for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

¹⁵ And the voice spake unto him again the second time, ^f What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

¹⁶ This was done thrice : and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean ; behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had made enquiry for Simons house, and stood before the gate, 18 And called, and asked whether Simon which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 ¶ While Peter thought on the vision, the spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 ^g Arise therefore, and get thee down, ^{Chap. 15. 7.} and go with them, doubting nothing : for I have sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius ; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek : what is the cause wherefore ye are come ?

22 And they said, Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and ^h of ^{Chap. 22. 12.} good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by an holy angel, to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and certain brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entred into Cesarea : and Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter took him up, saying, ⁱ Stand up ; I my self also am a man. ^{Chap. 14. 14. Rev. 19. 10. & 22. 9.}

27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said unto them, Ye know how ^k that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew, to keep company, or come unto one of another nation : but ^l God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man common or unclean. ^{John 4. 9. & 18. 28. Chap. 11. 3. 1 Chap. 15. 8. Ephes. 2. 6.}

29 Therefore came I unto you without gain-saying, as soon as I was sent for : I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me.

30 And Cornelius said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour, and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and behold ^m a man ^{Chap. 1. 10.} stood before me, ⁿ in bright clothing, ^{Matth. 28. 3. Mark 16. 5. Luke 24. 4.}

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peters voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he beckning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 ¶ And Herod was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: but they came with one accord to him, and having made Blastus the kings chamberlain their friend, desired peace; because their country was nourished by the kings country.

21 And upon a set day, Herod arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 ¶ But the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministry, and took with them John, whose surname was Mark.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and ^b spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, ^c It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, ^e we turn to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, ^f I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldst be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life, believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and ^g raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 ^h But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the holy Ghost.

CHAP. XIV.

¹ Paul and Barnabas are persecuted from Iconium. ⁸ At Lystra Paul bealeth a cripple; whereupon they are reputed as gods. ¹⁹ Paul is stoned. ²¹ They pass through divers churches, confirming the disciples in faith and patience: ²⁶ Returning to Antioch, they report what God had done with them.

AND it came to pass in Iconium that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews, and also of the Greeks, believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, ^a which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the ^b apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews, with their rulers, ^c to use them despitefully and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and ^d fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 ¶ And ^e there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mothers womb, who never had walked.

9 The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and ^f perceiving that he had faith to be healed, 10 Said with a loud voice, ^g Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lift up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, ^h The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jupiter which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, ⁱ and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, ^k they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Sirs, ^l why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you, that ye should turn from these vanities ⁿ unto the living God, ^o which made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein:

16 ^p Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

17 ^q Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 ¶ And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, ^r and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, ^s and ^t had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium and Antioch, 22 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and ^u exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that ^v we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And when they had ^x ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down into Attalia:

26 And thence sailed to Antioch, ^y from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God, for the work which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come and had gathered the church together, ^z they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had ^a opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

CHAP. XV.

¹ Great diffension ariseth touching circumcision. ⁶ The apostles consult about it. ²² and send their determination by letters to the churches. ³⁶ Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the brethren together, fall at at strife, and depart asunder.

AND certain men which came down from Judea, taught the brethren, and said, ^a Except ye be circumcised ^b after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2 When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small diffension and disputation with them, they determined that ^c Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question.

3 And

Anno Domini 52. 3 And being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phenice, and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 But there || rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.

6 ¶ And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago, God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the holy Ghost, even as he did unto us:

9 And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, we shall be saved even as they.

12 ¶ Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13 ¶ And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me.

14 Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down: and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, faith the Lord, who doth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath-day.

22 Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren:

23 And wrote letters by them after this manner, The apostles, and elders, and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia.

24 Forasmuch as we have heard that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law; to whom we gave no such commandment:

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul;

26 Men that have hazarded their lives, for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;

29 That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep your selves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle.

31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

34 Notwithstanding it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 ¶ And some days after Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren, in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

37 And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.

38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus;

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

Then came he to Derbe and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timotheus, the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed; but his father was a Greek:

1 Paul preacheth at Thessalonica: 4 where some believe, and others persecute him: 10 He is sent to Berea, and preacheth there: 13 Being persecuted at Thessalonica, 15 he cometh to Athens, and disputeth and preacheth the living God to them unknown, 34 whereby many are converted unto Christ.

Anno Domini 53.

Anno Domini 54.

NOW when they had passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews.

2 And Paul, as his manner was, ^a went in unto them, and three sabbath-days reasoned with them out of the scriptures,

3 Opening and alledging, ^b that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead: and that this Jesus ^c whom I preach unto you is Christ.

4 ^c And some of them believed, and comforted with Paul and ^d Silas: and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.

5 ¶ But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uprore, and assaulted the house of ^e Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, ^f These that have turned the world upside down, are come hither also;

7 Whom Jason hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Cesar, ^g saying, That there is another king, one Jesus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.

10 ¶ And ^h the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who coming thither, went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and ⁱ searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them believed: also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul, to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that conducted Paul, brought him unto Athens: and ^k receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 ¶ Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city ^l wholly given to idolatry.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certain Philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks, encountred him: and some said, What will this ^m babler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they took him, and brought him unto ⁿ Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Athenians and strangers which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.)

22 ¶ Then Paul stood in the mids of ^o Mars-hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your ^p devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 ^q God that made the world, and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, ^r dwelleth not in temples made with hands:

25 Neither is worshipped with mens hands, ^s as though he needed any thing, seeing ^t he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of Men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and ^u the bounds of their habitation:

27 ^v That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, ^w though he be not far from every one of us:

28 For ^x in him we live, and move, and have our being; ^y as certain also of your own poets have said. For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, ^z we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone graven by art and mans device.

30 And ^a the times of this ignorance God winked at, but ^b now commandeth all men every where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day in the which ^c he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath ^d given assurance unto all men, in that ^e he hath raised him from the dead.

32 ¶ And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit, certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, ^b and wrought (for by their occupation they were tent-makers)

4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews, and the Greeks.

5 And ^c when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in spirit, and testified to the Jews, that Jesus ^d was Christ.

6 And ^d when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, ^e he shook his raiment, and said unto them, ^f your blood be upon your own heads; ^g I am clean: ^h from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 ¶ And he departed thence, and entred into a certain mans house named Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joyned hard to the synagogue.

8 ⁱ And Crispus the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house: and many of the Corinthians, hearing, believed, and were baptized.

9 Then ^k spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he [†] continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 ¶ And when Gallio was the deputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment-seat, 13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, ¹ If it were a matter of wrong, or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the judgment-seat.

17 Then all the Greeks took ^m Sosthenes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment-seat: and Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 ¶ And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila: having ⁿ shorn his head in ^o Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entred into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, ^p I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, ^q if God will. And he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Cesarea, and gone up and saluted the Church, he went down to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, Anno he departed, and went over all the country of Domini Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 ¶ ^r And a certain Jew named Apollos, ^s born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, ^t knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. Whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was disposed to pass into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: who, when he was come, ^v helped them much which had believed through grace.

28 For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures, that Jesus ^{||} was Christ.

CHAP. XIX.

6 The holy Ghost is given by Pauls hands. 9 The Jews blaspheme his doctrine, which is confirmed by miracles. 13 The Jewish exorcists, 16 are beaten by the devil. 19 Conjuring books are burnt. 24 Demetrius for love of gain, raiseth an uprore against Paul, 35 which is appeased by the town-clerk.

AND it came to pass, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through ^a the upper coasts, came to Ephesus: ^b and finding certain disciples,

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, ^b We have not so much as heard whether there be any holy Ghost.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, ^c Unto Johns baptism.

4 Then said Paul, ^d John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, That they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized ^e in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had ^f laid his hands upon them, the holy Ghost came on them; and ^g they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things ^h concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But ⁱ when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil ^k of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

10 And ^l this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

11 And ^m God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

Anno Domini 57. 12^a So that from his body were brought unto the sick, handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13 ¶ Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, ¹ took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, leapt on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 And many that believed came, and ¹ confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many also of them which used curious arts, brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 ¹ So mightily grew the word of God, and prevailed.

21 ¶ After these things were ended, Paul ¹ purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia, and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, ¹ I must also see Rome.

22 So he sent into Macedonia two of ¹ them that ministred unto him, Timotheus and ¹ Erastus; but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.

23 And ² the same time there arose no small stir about ¹ that way.

24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silver-smith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought ¹ no small gain unto the craftsmen.

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth:

26 Moreover, ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying, that ¹ they be no gods which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught ¹ Gaius and ¹ Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Pauls companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entred in unto the People, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the Domin theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander ¹ beckned with the hand, and would ¹ have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the town-clerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is ¹ a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddesses.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, ¹ the law is open, and there are deputies; let them implead one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a ¹ lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this days uprore, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAP. XX.

¹ Paul goeth to Macedonia: ⁷ He celebrateth the Lords supper, and preacheth. ⁹ Eutychus having fallen down dead, ¹⁰ is raised to life. ¹⁷ At Miletus he calleth the elders together, telleth them what shall befall to himself, ²⁸ committeth Gods flock to them, ²⁹ warneth them of false teachers, ³² commendeth them to God, ³⁶ prayeth with them, and goeth his way.

AND after the uprore was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and ¹ departed for to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

^o Ver. 27. 20 And how ^o I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publickly, and from house to house, 21 Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, ^p repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 And now behold, ^q I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Save that ^r the holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying, that bonds and afflictions ^r abide me.

24 But ^s none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto my self, ^t so that I might finish my course with joy, ^v and the ministry, ^x which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, ^y I know that ye all among whom I have gone preaching the king- dom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am ^z pure from the blood of all men.

8 And the next day we that were of Pauls company departed, and came unto Cefarea; and we entred into the house of Philip ^d the evangelist, (^e which was one of the seven) and abode with him.

9 And the same man had four daughters, virgins, ^f which did prophesie.

10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judea a certain prophet, named ^g Agabus.

11 And when he was come unto us, he took Pauls girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, ^h So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, ⁱ What mean ye to weep, and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, ^k The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Cefarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto ^l James; and all the elders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles ^m by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe, and they are all ⁿ zealous of the law.

21 And they are informed of thee that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying, that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: we have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purifie thy self with them, and be at charges with them, that they may ^o shave their heads: and all may know that those things whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy self also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which believe, ^p we have written and concluded, that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them, ^q entred into the temple, ^r to signifie the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, ^s the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and ^t laid hands on him, 28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help: this is the man that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and farther, ^v brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city, ^x Trophimus an Ephesian, whom thy supposed that Paul had brought into the temple)

30 And ^y all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uprore.

32 Who immediately took soldiers, and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chief captain came near and took him, and ^z commanded him to be bound with two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was that he was born of the soldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, ^a Away with him.

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Canst thou speak Greek?

38 ^b Art not thou that Egyptian which before these days madest an uprore, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, ^c I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.

40 And when he had given him licence, Paul stood on the stairs, and ^d beckned with the hand unto the people: and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

22 And when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When Lyfias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

^{*} Chap. 23. 6. & 28. 20. 23 And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty and ⁿ that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftner, and communed with him.

A. D. 62. ^{*} Chap. 25. 9. 14. 27 But after two years Porcius Festus came into Felix room: and ^o Felix willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

C H A P. XXV.

2 The Jews accuse Paul before Festus: 8 He answereth for himself, 11 and appealeth unto Cesar. 14 Afterwards Festus openeth his matter to king Agrippa, 23 and he is brought forth. 25 Festus cleareth him to have done nothing worthy of death.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cesarea to Jerusalem.

2 Then the high priest, and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

[¶] Or, as some Copies read, no more than eight or ten days. 6 And when he had tarried among them ^{||} more than ten days, he went down unto Cesarea, and the next day sitting in the judgment-seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

^a Chap. 6. 13. & 24. 12. & 28. 27. 7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem, stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove;

8 While he answered for himself, ^a Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, have I offended any thing at all.

^b Chap. 24. 27. 9 But Festus ^b willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars judgment-seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 ^c For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die; but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. ^d I appeal unto Cesar.

12 Then Festus when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cesar? unto Cesar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days, King Agrippa and Bernice came unto Cesarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had been there many days, Festus declared Pauls cause unto the king, saying, ^e There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:

15 About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused, have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment-seat, and I commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because ^{||} I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be referred unto the ^{||} hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then ^f Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man my self. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and was entred into the place of hearing, with the chief captains and principal men of the city, at Festus commandment, Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying, that he ought ^g not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that ^h he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

Speaketh before Agrippa, Chap. xxvi, xxvii. who is almost converted.

Anno

62.

C H A P. XXVI.

2 Paul in the presence of Agrippa, declareth his life from his childhood, 12 and how miraculously he was converted, and called to his apostleship. 24 Festus chargeth him to be mad, whereunto he answereth modestly. 28 Agrippa is almost persuaded to be a Christian. 31 The whole company pronounce him innocent.

THEN Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thy self. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself,

2 I think my self happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for my self this day before thee, touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews :

3 Especially, because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews : wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews,

5 Which knew me from the beginning, (if they would testifie) that after ^a the most straitest sect of our religion, I lived a Pharisee.

6 And now I stand, and am judged for the hope of ^b the promise made of God unto our fathers :

7 Unto which ^c promise ^d our twelve tribes instantly serving God ^e day and night, hope to come ; for which hopes sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead ?

9 I verily thought with my self, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 ^e Which thing I also did in Jerusalem : and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority ^f from the chief priests ; and when they were put to death I gave my voice against them.

11 ^g And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme ; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 ^h Whereupon as I went to Damascus, with authority and commission from the chief priests ;

13 At mid-day, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me, and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me ? It is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord ? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise, and stand upon thy feet : for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee ;

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee, 18 ⁱ To open their eyes, and ^k to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and ^l inheritance among them which are ^m sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision :

20 But ⁿ shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do ^o works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes ^p the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those ^q which the prophets and ^r Moses did say should come :

23 That Christ should suffer, and ^s that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and ^t should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, ^v thou art beside thy self : much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus ; but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely : for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him ; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets ? I know that thou believest.

28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to be a Christian.

29 And Paul said, ^x I would to God, that ^y I not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying ^z This man doth nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.

32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, ^{aa} if he had not appealed unto Cesar.

C H A P. XXVII.

AND when ^a it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners, unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus band.

2 And entring into a ship of Adramyttium, we lanced, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia, one ^b Aristarchus a Macedonian, of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius ^c courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had lanced from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy ; and he put us therein.

|| Or, Candy.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under || Crete, over against Salmone:

8 And hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called, The fair havens, nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

^d The fast was on the tenth day of the seventh month.
Lev. 23. 27. 29.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, ^d because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

|| Or, injury.

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with || hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter; which is an haven of Crete, and lieth toward the south-west, and north-west.

13 And when the south-wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence they sailed close by Crete.

|| Or, bear.

14 But not long after there || arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Clauda, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and fearing lest they should fall into the quick-sands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

* Jonah 1. 5.

19 And the third day ^e we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved, was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkned unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any mans life among you, but of the ship.

23 For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, 24 Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cesar: and lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

^f Chap. 28. 1.

26 Howbeit ^f we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country:

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest they should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

Anno Domini 62.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centurion, and to the soldiers, except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried, and continued fasting, having taken nothing, 34 Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for ^g there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you. ^g 1 Kings 1. 52. Matth. 10. 30.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and ^h gave thanks to God in presence of them all, and when he had broken it, he began to eat. ^h 1 Sam. 9. 13. John 6. 11. 1 Tim. 4. 3, 4.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37 And we were in all in the ship, two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had || taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder-bands, and hoised up the main sail to the wind, and made toward shore. ^{|| Or, cut the anchors, they left them in the sea.}

41 And falling into a place where two seas met, ⁱ they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves. ⁱ 2 Cor. 11. 25.

42 And the soldiers counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

43 But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that they which could swim, should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:

44 And the rest some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship: And so it came to pass that they escaped all safe to land.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Paul after his shipwreck is kindly entertained of the barbarians: 5 The viper on his hand burteth him not: 8 He healeth many diseases in the island: 11 They depart towards Rome: 17 He declareth to the Jews the cause of his coming: 24 After his preaching some were perswaded, and some believed not: 30 Yet he preacheth there two years.

AND when they were escaped, then they knew that ^a the island was called Melita. ^a Chap. 27. 26.

2 And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastned on his hand.

4 And

Anno Domini 62. 4 And when the barbarians saw the venemous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

5 And he shook off the beast into the fire, and ^b felt no harm.

6 Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and ^c said that he was a god.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius, who received us and lodged us three days courteously.

8 And it came to pass that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever, and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entred in, and ^d prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10 Who also honoured us with many ^e honours, and when we departed they laded us with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintred in the isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux.

12 And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three days.

13 And from thence we fet a compass, and came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli.

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii-forum, and the Three taverns: whom when Paul saw he thanked God, and took courage.

16 And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but ^f Paul was suffered to dwell by himself, with a soldier that kept him.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days, Paul called the chief of the Jews together. And when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, though I have committed nothing against the people or customs of our fathers, yet ^g was I delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans.

18 Who ^h when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Jews spake against it, ⁱ I was constrained to appeal unto Cesar; not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that ^k for the hope of Israel I am bound with ^l this chain.

21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harm of thee.

22 But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that ^m every where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging; to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, perswading them concerning Jesus, ⁿ both out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from morning till evening.

24 And ^o some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet, unto our fathers, 26 Saying, ^p Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with ^q their eyes, and hear with ^r their ears, and understand with ^s their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent ^t unto the Gentiles, and ^u that they will hear it.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him.

31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, ^v with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

Anno 1 without ceasing I make mention of you al-
Domini ways in my prayers.

60. 10 Making request (if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God) to come unto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end you may be established;

12 That is, that I may be comforted together || with you, by the mutual faith both of you and me.

13 Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (but was let hitherto) that I might have some fruit || among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

14 I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the barbarians, both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written,
The just shall live by faith.

18 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness, and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness.

19 Because that which may be known of God, is manifest || in them; for God hath shewed it unto them.

20 For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; || so that they are without excuse.

21 Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 Professing themselves to be wise they became fools:

23 And changed the glory of the uncorrup-tible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds and four-footed beasts, and creeping things.

24 Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves:

25 Who changed the truth of God, into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature
|| more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever.
Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: For even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:

27 And likewise also the men leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet.

28 And even as they did not like || to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient:

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, Anno fornication, wickedness, covetousness, malici- Domini ousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, 60.

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, || without natural affection, implacable, un- || Or, unsociab merciful:

32 Who knowing the judgment of God,
(that they which commit such things are worthy of death) not only do the same, but || have || Or, consent pleasure in them that do them. with them.

CHAP. II.

1 They that sin though they condemn it in others, cannot excuse themselves, 6 and much less escape the judgment of God, 9 whether they be Jews or Gentiles. 14 The Gentiles cannot escape, 17 nor yet the Jews, 25 whom their circumcision shall not profit, if they keep not the law.

17 Behold, thou art called a Jew, and retest in the law, and makest thy boast of God;

18 And knowest his will, and approve the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law,

19 And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness, 20 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal?

22 Thou that sayst a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege?

23 Thou that makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles, through you, as it is written.

25 For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26 Therefore, if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law?

28 For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly; and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter, whose praise is not of men but of God.

C H A P. III.

1 The Jews prerogative: 3 Which they have not lost. 9 Howbeit, the law convinceth them also of sin. 20 Therefore no flesh is justified by the law, 28 but all without difference, by faith only: 31 and yet the law is not abolished.

What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?

2 Much every way: chiefly because that unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what if some did not believe? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightst be justified in thy sayings, and mightst overcome when thou art judged.

5 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man)

6 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the World?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

8 And not rather (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say) Let us do evil that good may come? whose damnation is just.

9 What then? are we better than they? No in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin;

10 As it is written, There is none righteous, no not one:

11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable, there is none that doth good, no not one.

13 Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips:

14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood.

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:

17 And the way of peace have they not known.

18 There is no fear of God before their eyes:

19 Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.

20 Therefore by the deeds of the law, there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

21 But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets;

22 Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe; for there is no difference:

23 For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God;

24 Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ:

25 Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;

26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

27 Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

29 Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:

30 Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31 Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

C H A P. IV.

1 Abrahams faith was imputed to him for righteousness, 10 before he was circumcised. 13 By faith only he and his seed received the promise. 16 Abraham is the father of all that believe. 24 Our faith also shall be imputed to us for righteousness.

What shall we say then that Abraham our father as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

2 For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory, but not before God.

3 For what faith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

4 Now ^dto him that worketh, is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.
5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.
6 Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,
7 Saying, "blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered."
8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.
9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? For we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.
10 How was it then reckon'd? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.
11 And ^fhe received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that ^ghe might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:
12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.
13 For the promise that he should be the ^hheir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.
14 For ⁱif they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect.
15 Because ^kthe law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.
16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, ^mwho is the father of us all,
17 (As it is written, ⁿ"I have made thee a father of many nations") ^obefore him whom he believed, even God, who quickneth the dead, and ^pcalleth those things which be not, as though they were:
18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations; according to that which was spoken, ^pSo shall thy seed be.
19 And being not weak in faith, ^qhe considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sara's womb.
20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but what was strong in faith, giving glory to God:
21 And being fully perswaded, that what he had promised, ^rhe was able also to perform.
22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.
23 Now ^sit was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him;
24 But for us also to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe ^ton him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead,
25 ^vWho was delivered for our offences, and ^xwas raised again for our justification.

CHAP. V.

Anno Domini 60.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God, 2 and joy in our hope; 8 that sith we were reconciled by his blood, when we were enemies, 10 we shall much more be saved being reconciled. 12 As sin and death came by Adam, 17 so much more righteousness and life by Jesus Christ. 20 Where sin abounded, grace did superabound.

Therefore ^abeing justified by faith, we have ^bpeace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.

2 ^cBy whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and ^drejoyce in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not only ^eso, but we glory in tribulations also, ^fknowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4 ^gAnd patience, experience; and experience, hope;

5 ^hAnd hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts, by the holy Ghost which is given unto us.

6 For when we were yet without strength, ⁱin due time Christ died for the ungodly.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8 But ^kGod commendeth his love towards us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9 Much more then being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved ^lfrom wrath through him.

10 For ^kif when we were enemies, ^lwe were reconciled to God by the death of his Son: much more being reconciled, we shall be saved ^mby his life.

11 And not only so, but we also joy in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

12 Wherefore, as ⁿby one man sin entred into the world, and ^odeath by sin; and so death passed upon all men, ^pfor that all have sinned, 13 For until the law sin was in the world: but ^psin is not imputed when there is no law.

14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adams transgression, ^qwho is the figure of him that was to come:

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one, many be dead; much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded ^runto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation; but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

17 For if ^sby one mans offence, death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one Jesus Christ.

18 Therefore as ^tby the offence of one, ^ujudgment came upon all men to condemnation: even so ^vby the righteousness of one, ^wthe free gift came ^xupon all men unto justification of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

C H A P. VI.

1 We may not live in sin, 2 for we are dead unto it,
3 as appeareth by our baptism. 12 Let not sin reign any more, 18 because we have yielded our selves to the service of righteousness, 23 and for that death is the wages of sin.

WHat shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2 God forbid: how shall we that are ^a dead to sin, live any longer therein?

3 Know ye not, that ^b so many of us as || were baptized into Jesus Christ, were baptized into his death?

4 Therefore we are ^c buried with him by baptism into death: that ^d like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, ^e even so we also should walk in newness of life.

5 For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death: we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that ^f our old man is crucified with him, that ^g the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7 For ^h he that is dead, is ⁱ freed from sin.
8 Now ^j if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

9 Knowing that ^k Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

10 For in that he died, ^l he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, ^m he liveth unto God.

11 Likewise reckon ye also your selves to be dead indeed unto sin; but ⁿ alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

12 ^o Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither yield ye your ^p members as ^q instruments of unrighteousness unto sin:
but ^r yield your selves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead; and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14 For ^s sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, ^t because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that ^u to whom ye yield your selves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin; but ye have obeyed from the heart ^v that form of doctrine ^w which was delivered you.

18 Being then ^x made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity, unto iniquity;

even so now yield your members servants to righteousness, unto holiness.

20 For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free ^y from righteousness.

21 ^z What fruit had ye then in those things, whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

22 But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For ^{aa} the wages of sin is death: but the ^{ab} gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

C H A P. VII.

1 No law hath power over a man longer than he liveth.

4 But we are dead to the law. 7 Yet is not the law sin, 12 but holy, just, good, 16 as I acknowledge who am grieved because I cannot keep it.

KNow ye not brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law) how that the law hath dominion over a man, as long as he liveth?

2 For ^{ac} the woman which hath an husband, ^{ad} 1 Cor. 7. 39.
is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then, ^{ae} if while her husband liveth, ^{af} Matth. 5. 32.
she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become ^{ag} dead to the law by the body of Christ; ^{ah} Chap. 8. 2.
that ye should be married to another, ^{ai} Gal. 2. 19.
even to him who is raised from the dead, that we ^{aj} & 5. 18.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law, that it is good.

17 Now then, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

* Gen. 6. 5. &
8. 21.

18 For I know that ^a in me (that is, in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good, I find not.

19 For the good that I would, I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I delight in the law of God, after the inward man.

|| Or, because of his Spirit.

11 But if the Spirit of ^k him that raised up Jesus from the dead, dwell in you; ^l he that raised up Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortal bodies, || by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For ^m if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit ⁿ do mortifie the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

14 For ^o as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15 For ^p ye have not received the spirit of bondage again ^q to fear; but ye have received the ^r Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, ^s Abba, Father.

16 ^t The Spirit it self beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

17 And if children, then heirs; ^v heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ: ^w if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18 For I reckon that ^x the sufferings of this present time, are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19 For ^y the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for ^z the manifestation of the sons of God.

20 For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope:

21 Because the creature it self also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that || the whole creation ^{aa} groaneth, and travaileth in pain together until now:

23 And not only they, but our selves also, which have ^{ab} the first-fruits of the Spirit, ^{ac} even we our selves groan within our selves, waiting ^{ad} for the adoption, to wit, the ^{ae} redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope: But ^{af} hope that is seen, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for ^{ag} we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but ^{ah} the Spirit it self maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27 And ^{ai} he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, || because he maketh intercession for the saints ^{aj} according to the will of God.

28 And we know that all things work together for good, to them that love God, to them ^{ak} who are the called according to his purpose.

29 For whom ^{al} he did foreknow, ^{am} he also did predestinate ^{an} to be conformed to the image of his Son, ^{ao} that he might be the first-born among many brethren.

30 Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also ^{ap} glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? ^{aq} If God be for us, who can be against us?

32 ^{ar} He that spared not his own Son, but ^{as} delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods elect? ^{at} It is God that justifieth:

34 ^{au} Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ

Anno Christi that died, yea, rather that is risen again, ² who is even at the right hand of God, ^{60.} ^a who also maketh intercession for us.

² Mark 16. 19. ³⁵ Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

² Psalm 44. 22. ³⁶ (As it was written, ^b For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter)

¹ Cor. 15. 57. ³⁷ ^c Nay in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us.

² Cor. 2. 14. ³⁸ For I am perswaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor ^d principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

¹ John 4. 4. & 5. 4. 5. ³⁹ Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAP. IX.

¹ Paul is sorry for the Jews. ⁷ All the seed of Abraham were not the children of the promise. ¹⁸ God hath mercy upon whom he will. ²¹ The potter may do with his clay what he list. ²⁵ The calling of the Gentiles, and rejecting of the Jews were foretold. ³² The cause why so few Jews embraced the righteousness of faith.

^a Say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the holy Ghost, ² ^b That I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart.

³ For ^c I could wish that my self were || accursed from Christ, for my brethren my kinsmen according to the flesh:

⁴ ^d Who are Israelites; ^e to whom pertaineth the adoption, and ^f the glory, and the covenants, and ^g the giving of the law, and the service of God, and ^h the promises;

⁵ Whose are the fathers, and ⁱ of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, ^k who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

⁶ ^l Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For ^m they are not all Israel, which are of Israel:

⁷ ⁿ Neither because they are the seed of Abraham are they all children: but in ^o Isaac shall thy seed be called.

⁸ That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but ^p the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

⁹ For this is the word of promise, ^q At this time will I come, and Sara shall have a son.

¹⁰ And not only this, but when ^r Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac,

¹¹ (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of ^s him that calleth)

¹² It was said unto her, The ^t || elder shall serve the || younger.

¹³ As it is written, ^v Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.

¹⁴ What shall we say then? ^x Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.

¹⁵ For he saith to Moses, ^y I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I Anno Domini will have compassion on whom I will have Domini compassion. ^{60.}

¹⁶ So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

¹⁷ For ^z the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, ² See Gal. 3. 8. ^a Even for this same purpose have I raised ^{22.} thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth. ^{Exod. 9. 16.}

¹⁸ Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will, he hardneth.

¹⁹ Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For who hath resisted his will?

²⁰ Nay but, O man, who art thou that || repliest against God? ^b shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus? ^{||} Or, answerest again, Or, disputest with God. ^{Isa. 45. 9. & 64. 8.}

²¹ Hath not the ^c potter power over the clay, of the same lump, to make ^d one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

²³ And that he might make known ^g the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory?

²⁴ Even us whom he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles.

²⁵ As he saith also in Osee, ^h I will call ^{||} them my people, which were not my people; and her, beloved, which was not beloved. ^{Hos. 2. 23. 1 Pet. 2. 10.}

²⁶ ⁱ And it shall come to pass that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called, the children of the living God. ^{Hos. 1. 10.}

²⁷ Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, ^k Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, ^l a remnant shall be saved. ^{Isai. 10. 22, 23. 1 Chap. 11. 5.}

²⁸ For he will finish || the work, and cut || it short in righteousness: because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth. ^{||} Or, the account. ^{Isa. 1. 9.}

³⁰ What shall we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, ^o even the righteousness which is of faith: ^{Chap. 1. 17.}

³² Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law: for ^r they stumbled at that stumbling stone; ^{Luke 2. 34. 1 Cor. 1. 23. Isa. 8. 14. & 28. 16.}

1 Gods mercies must move us to please God. 3 No man must think too well of himself, 6 but attend every one on that calling, wherein he is placed.
9 Love, and many other duties are required of us.
19 Revenge is specially forbidden.

I ^a Beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, ^b that ye ^c present your bodies ^d a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2 And ^e be not conformed to this world :
but ^f be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may ^g prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, ^h through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, ⁱ not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think ; but to think † soberly according as God hath dealt ^k to every man the measure of faith.

4 For ^l as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office :

5 So ^m we being many are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

ness, are out of season in the time of the gospel.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth ^c the power, resist, shall receive to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power ? do that which is good, and ^d thou shalt have praise of the same :

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid ; for he beareth not the sword in vain :

execute wrath upon him that doth evil.

HIM that is ^a weak in the faith receive you, but || not to doubtful disputations.

2 For one believeth that he may eat all things : another who is weak, eateth herbs.

3 ^b Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not ; and let not him which eateth not, judge him that eateth : For God hath received him.

4 ^c Who art thou that judgest another mans servant ? to his own master he standeth or falleth : Yea, he shall be holden up : for God is able to make him stand.

5 ^d One man esteemeth one day above another : another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be || fully perswaded in his own mind.

6 He that ^e || regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord ; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for ^f he giveth God thanks ; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

7 For ^g none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord ; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord : whether we live therefore or die, we are the Lords.

9 For ^h to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

10 But why dost thou judge thy brother ? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother ?

for ⁱ we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, ^k As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then, ⁱ every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more : but judge this rather, that ^m no man put a stumbling-block, or an occasion to fall in his brothers way.

14 I know, and am perswaded by the Lord Jesus, ⁿ that there is nothing [†] unclean of it self : but ^o to him that esteemeth any thing to be [†] unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not [†] charitably. ^p Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

16 Let not then your good be evil spoken of.

17 ^q For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness and peace ; and joy in the holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serveth Christ, ^r is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19 Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith ^s one may edifie another.

20 For meat destroy not the work of God. ^t All things indeed are pure ; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21 It is good neither to eat ^v flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22 Hast thou faith ? have it to thy self before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

23 And he that || doubteth, is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith : ^x for whatsoever is not of faith, is sin.

C H A P. XV.

1 The strong must bear with the weak. 2 We may not please our selves, 3 for Christ did not so, 7 but receive one the other, as Christ did us all, 8 both Jews 9 and Gentiles. 15 Paul excuseth his writing, 28 and promiseth to see them, 30 and requesteth their prayers.

WE ^a then that are strong, ought to bear the ^b infirmities of the weak, and not to please our selves.

2 ^c Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good ^d to edification.

3 For even Christ pleased not himself ; but as it is written, ^e The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

4 For ^f whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning ; that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

5 ^g Now the God of patience and consolation, grant you to be like-minded one towards another, || according to Christ Jesus :

6 That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorifie God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Anno Domini to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:

60. 9 And that the Gentiles might glorifie God for his mercy; as it is written, ^k For this cause I will confesse to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

² Psal. 117. 1. 11 And again, ^m Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles, and laud him, all ye people.

³ Isai. 11. 1. 12 And again, Esaias saith, ⁿ There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope through the power of the holy Ghost.

⁴ 2 Pet. 1. 12. ¹ John 2. 21. 14 And ^o I my self also am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15 Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, ^p because of the grace that is given to me of God,

Phil. 2. 17. 16 That ^q I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministring the gospel of God, that the ^r offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the holy Ghost.

⁷ Heb. 5. 1. 17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ, ^s in those things which pertain to God.

⁸ Chap. 1. 5. & 16. 26. 18 For I will not dare to speak of any of those things, which Christ hath not wrought by me, ^t to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, 19 Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

⁹ 2 Cor. 10. 13, 15, 16. 20 Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, ^v lest I should build upon another mans foundation:

¹⁰ Isai. 52. 15. 21 But as it is written, ^x To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard, shall understand.

¹¹ Chap. 1. 13. 1 Thes. 2. 17. 18. ¹ Or, many ways, or, oftentimes. ¹² Acts 19. 21. Ver. 32. Chap. 1. 11. 22 For which cause also ^y I have been ^{||} much hindered from coming to you.

23 But now having no more place in these parts, and ^z having a great desire these many years to come unto you;

24 Whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, ^a and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled [†] with your company.

¹³ Acts 19. 23. [†] Gr. with you. Ver. 32. ¹⁴ Acts 19. 21. & 24. 17. 25 But now ^b I go unto Jerusalem, to minister unto the saints.

¹⁵ 1 Cor. 16. 1, 2. 2 Cor. 9. 2, 12. 26 For ^c it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.

27 It hath pleased them verily, and their debtors they are. For ^d if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, ^e their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

28 When therefore I have performed this, and have sealed to them ^f this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

¹⁶ Chap. 1. 11. 29 ^g And I am sure that when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christs sake, and ^h for the love of the Spirit, ⁱ that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;

31 ^k That I may be delivered from them that ^{||} do not believe in Judea; and that my service which ^l I have for Jerusalem, may be accepted of the saints:

32 ¹ That I may come unto you with joy ^m by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33 Now ⁿ the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

C H A P. XVI.

3 Paul willeth the brethren to greet many; 17 and adviseth them to take heed of those which cause dissension and offences; 21 and after sundry salutations endeth with praise and thanks to God.

I Commend unto you Phebe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at ^a Cenchrea:

2 That ye receive her in the Lord, ^b as becomingeth saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a succourer of many, and of my self also.

3 Greet ^c Priscilla and Aquila my helpers in Christ Jesus.

4 (Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles)

5 Likewise greet ^d the church that is in their house. Salute my welbeloved Epenetus, who is ^e the first fruits of Achaia unto Christ.

6 Greet Mary, who bestowed much labour on us.

7 Salute Andronicus and Junia my kinsmen and my fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also ^f were in Christ before me.

8 Greet Amplias my beloved in the Lord.

9 Salute Urbane our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloved.

10 Salute Apelles approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus ^{||} household.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them that be of the ^{||} household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Rufus ^g chosen in the Lord, and ^h his mother and mine.

14 Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympias, and all the saints which are with them.

16 ⁱ Salute one another with an holy kiss. The Churches of Christ salute you.

17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences, contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and ^j avoid them.

18 For they that are such, serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but ^k their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL the Apostle, to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

After his salutation and thanksgiving, 10 He exhorteth them to unity, 12 and reproveth their dissensions. 18 God destroyeth the wisdom of the wise, 21 by the foolishness of preaching; and 26 calleth not the wise, mighty, and noble, but 27, 28 the foolish, weak and men of no account.

PAUL called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ, ^a through the will of God, and ^b Sosthenes our brother,

2 Unto the church of God, which is at Corinth, ^c to them that ^d are sanctified in Christ Jesus, ^e called to be saints, with all that in every place ^f call upon the name of Jesus Christ ^g our Lord, both theirs and ours.

3 ^h Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 ⁱ I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ;

5 That in every thing ye are enriched by him, ^k in all utterance, and in all knowledge:

6 Even as ^l the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you.

7 So that ye come behind in no gift; ^m waiting for the ⁿ coming of our Lord Jesus Christ:

8 ^o Who shall also confirm you unto the end, ^p that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 ^q God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto ^r the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^s that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no ^t divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joyned together in the same mind, and in the same judgment.

11 For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I say, ^u that every one of you faith, I am of Paul, and I of ^v Apollos, and I of ^w Cephas, and I of Christ.

13 Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but ^x Crispus and ^y Gaius:

15 Lest any should say, that I had baptized in mine own name.

16 And I baptized also the household of ^z Stephanus: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: ^a not with wisdom of ^b words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the cross is to ^c them that perish, foolishness: but unto us ^d which are saved, it is the ^e power of God.

19 For it is written. ^f I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 ^g Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? ^h hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 ⁱ For after that, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22 For the ^j Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom.

23 But we preach Christ crucified, ^k unto the Jews a stumbling-block, and unto the Greeks, foolishness;

24 But unto them which are called both Jews and Greeks, Christ ^l the power of God, and ^m the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For ye see your calling, brethren, how that ⁿ not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble are called.

27 But ^o God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world, to confound the things which are mighty:

28 And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are:

29 ^p That no flesh should glory in his presence.

LET a man so account of us, as of ^a the ministers of Christ, and ^b stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of mans [†] judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self.

4 For I know nothing by my self, ^c yet am not I hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 ^d Therefore judge nothing before the time until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have ^e praise of God.

6 And these things, brethren, ^f I have in a figure transferred to my self, and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learn in us not to think of men, above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.

7 For who [†] maketh thee to differ from another? and ^g what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory as if thou hadst not received it?

8 Now ye are full, ^h now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.

9 For I think that God hath set forth || us the apostles last, ⁱ as it were appointed to death. For ^k we are made a [†] spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 ^l We are ^m fools for Christs sake, but ye are wise in Christ: ⁿ we are weak, but ye are strong: ye are honourable, but we are despised.

11 ^o Even unto this present hour, we both hunger and thirst, and ^p are naked, and ^q are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling-place;

12 ^r And labour, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless: being persecuted, we suffer it:

13 ^s Being defamed, we intreat: ^t we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things unto this day.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but ^v as my beloved sons I warn you.

15 For though you have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for ^x in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.

16 Wherefore I beseech you, ^y be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause have I sent unto you ^z Timotheus, ^a who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you ^b into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I ^c teach every where ^d in every church.

18 Now some are puffed up as though I would not come to you.

19 ^e But I will come to you shortly, ^f if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

20 For ^g the kingdom of God is not in word; but in power.

21 What will ye? ^h shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

C H A P. V.

Anno Domini
59.

1 The incestuous person, ⁶ is cause rather of shame unto them, than of rejoicing. 7 The old leaven is to be purged out. 10 Hainous offenders are to be shunned and avoided.

IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication, as is not so much as ^a named amongst the Gentiles, ^b that one should have his ^c fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed, might be taken away from among you.

3 ^d For I verily as absent in body, but present in spirit, have || judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed;

4 In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, ^e with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

5 ^f To deliver such an one unto ^g Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

6 ^h Your glorying is not good: Know ye not that ⁱ a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even ^k Christ our ^l passover || is sacrificed for us.

8 Therefore ^m let us keep || the feast ⁿ not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in an epistle, ^o not to company with fornicators.

10 Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out ^q of the world.

11 But now I have written unto you, not to keep company, ^r if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such an one, ^s no not to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge ^t them also that are without? do not ye judge ^v them that are within?

13 But them that are without, God judgeth. Therefore ^x put away from among your selves that wicked person.

C H A P. VI.

1 The Corinthians must not vex their brethren, in going to law with them; 6 especially under infidels. 9 The unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God. 15 Our bodies are the members of Christ, 19 and temples of the holy Ghost: 16, 17 They must not therefore be defiled.

DAre any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2 Do ye not know that ^a the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4 ^b If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man amongst you? no not Anno Domini not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?

59. 6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.

7 Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another: ^a why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer your selves to be defrauded?

8 Nay, you do wrong and defraud, ^d and that your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: ^e neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind, 10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11 And such were ^f some of you: ^g but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 ^h All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not ^{||} expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 ⁱ Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body ^j is not for fornication, but ^k for the Lord; and the Lord for the body.

14 And ^l God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.

15 Know ye not, that ^m your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What, know ye not that he which is joyned to an harlot, is one body? for ⁿ two (saith he) shall be one flesh.

17 But he that is joyned unto the Lord, ^o is one spirit.

18 Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth ^p against his own body.

19 What, ^q know ye not that your body is the temple of the holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?

20 For ^r ye are bought with a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit, which are Gods.

C H A P. VII.

2 He treateth of marriage, 4 shewing it to be a remedy against fornication; 10 and that the bond thereof ought not lightly to be dissolved. 18, 20 Every man must be content with his vocation. 25 Virginitie wherefore to be embraced. 35 And for what respects we may either marry, or abstain from marrying.

^a Ver. 8. 26. NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: ^a It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3 ^b Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4 The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 ^c Defraud you not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give your selves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that ^d Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6 But I speak this by permission, ^e and not of commandment.

7 For ^f I would that all men were ^g even as I my self: but ^h every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, ⁱ it is good for them if they abide even as I.

9 But ^k if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10 And unto the married I command, ^l yet not I, but the Lord, ^m Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, ⁿ not the Lord, ^o If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else ^p were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us ^q to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt ^r save thy husband? or ^s how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk: and ^t so ordain I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him ^u not become uncircumcised: is any called in uncircumcision? let him not become circumcised.

19 ^v Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but ^w the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it; but if thou mayst be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is ^x the Lords ^y freeman: likewise also he that is called being free, is ^z Christs servant.

23 ^a Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins, ^b I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment as one ^c that hath obtained mercy of the Lord ^d to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present ^e || distress, I say, ^f that it is good for a man so to be.

Anno Domini 27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: nevertheless, such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

* Rom. 13. 11. 29 But ^e this I say, brethren, the time is short. It remaineth, that both they that have wives, be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoyce, as though they rejoyced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

* Psal. 39. 6. 1 John 2. 17. 31 And they that use this world, as not abusing it: for ^f the fashion of this world passeth away.

* 1 Tim. 5. 5. † Gr. of the Lord, as Ver. 34. 32 But I would have you without carefulness. ^g He that is unmarried, careth for the things [†] that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that is married, careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

* Luke 10. 40. &c. 34 There is difference also between a wife and a virgin: The unmarried woman ^h careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit, not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that you may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keep his virgin, doth well.

38 So then he that giveth her in marriage, doth well: but he that giveth her not in marriage, doth better.

* Rom. 7. 2. 39 ⁱ The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth: but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord.

* Ver. 25. 1 Thess. 4. 8. 40 But she is happier if she so abide, ^k after my judgment: and ^l I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

7 Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some ⁿ with conscience of the idol unto this hour, eat it as a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak, is ⁿ defiled.

8 But ^o meat commendeth us not to God: for neither if we eat, ^p are we the better; neither if we eat not, ^p are we the worse.

9 But ^q take heed lest by any means this ^r liberty of yours become ^s a stumbling-block to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat ^t in the idols temple, shall not ^u the conscience of him which is weak be [†] emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols: Rom. 14. 15, 20.

11 And ^v through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died? Rom. 14. 15, 20.

12 But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 Wherefore ^w if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend. Rom. 14. 21. 2 Cor. 11. 29.

1 He sheweth his liberty, 7 and that the minister ought to live by the gospel: 15 yet that himself bath of his own accord abstained, 18 to be either chargeable unto them, 22 or offensive unto any in matters indifferent. 24 Our life is like unto a race.

12 If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? ^o Nevertheless, we have not used this power; but suffer all things, ^p lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13 ^q Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things, ^{||} live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar?

14 Even so ^r hath the Lord ordained, ^s that they which preach the gospel, should live of the gospel.

15 But ^t I have used none of these things. Neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for ^v it were better for me to die, than that any man should make my glorying void.

16 For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for ^x necessity is laid upon me; yea, wo is unto me if I preach not the gospel.

17 For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if against my will, ^y a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.

18 What is my reward then? verily that when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the gospel.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet have ^z I made my self servant unto all, ^a that I might gain the more.

20 And ^b unto the Jews, I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law;

21 ^c To ^d them that are without law, as without law, (^e being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ) that I might gain them that are without law.

22 ^f To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: ^g I am made all things to all men, ^h that I might by all means save some.

23 And this I do for the gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

24 Know ye not that they which run in a race, run all, but one receiveth the prize? ⁱ So run that ye may obtain.

25 And every man that ^k striveth for the mastery, is temperate in all things: Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown, but we ^l an incorruptible.

26 I therefore so run, not as uncertainly: so fight I, not as one that beateth the air:

27 ^m But I keep under my body, and ⁿ bring it into subjection: lest that by any means when I have preached to others, I my self should be a cast away.

CHAP. X.

¹ The sacraments of the Jews, ⁶ are types of ours, ⁷ and their punishments, ¹¹ examples for us. ¹⁴ We must flee from idolatry. ²¹ We must not make the Lords table the table of devils: ²⁴ and in things indifferent we must have regard of our brethren.

Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under ^a the cloud, and all passed through ^b the sea;

2 And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud, and in the sea;

3 And did all eat the same ^c spiritual meat;

4 And did all drink the same ^d spiritual drink: (For they drank of that spiritual Rock Domini that ^{||} followed them: and that Rock was Christ.)

5 But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they ^e were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 Now these things were [†] our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as ^f they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, ^g The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8 Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and ^h fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

9 Neither let us tempt Christ, as ⁱ some of them also tempted, and ^k were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmur ye, as ^l some of them also murmured, and ^m were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened unto them for ^{||} ensamples: and ⁿ they are written for our admonition, ^o upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore ^p let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you, but ^{||} such as is common to man: but ^q God is faithful, ^r who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also ^s make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, ^t flee from idolatry.

15 I speak as to wise men: judge ye what I say.

16 ^v The cup of blessing which we bless, ^{||} is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17 For ^x we being many are one bread, ^y and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 Behold, ^y Israel after the flesh: ^z are not ^{||} they which eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? ^a that the idol is any ^b thing, or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing?

20 But I say, that the things which the Gentiles ^b sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.

21 ^c Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, ^d and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lords table, and of the table of devils.

22 Do we ^e provoke the Lord to jealousy? ^f are we stronger than he?

23 ^g All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edifie not.

24 ^h Let no man seek his own: but every man anothers wealth.

25 ⁱ Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

26 For ^k the earth is the Lords, and the fulness thereof.

27 If any of them that believe not, bid you

31 ^r Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 ^s Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the ^t Gentiles, nor to the church of God:

33 Even as ^u I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAP. XI.

¹ He reproveth them because in holy assemblies, ⁴ their men prayed with their heads covered, and ⁶ women with their heads uncovered: ¹⁷ and because generally their meetings were not for the better, but for the worse; as ²¹ namely, in profaning with their own feasts the Lords supper. ²³ Lastly, he calleth them to the first institution thereof.

BE ^a ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

² Now I praise you, brethren, ^b that you remember me in all things, and ^c keep the ^p ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

³ But I would have you know, that ^d the head of every man is Christ; and the head of the woman, ^e is the man; and ^e the head of Christ, ^f is God.

⁴ Every man praying or prophesying, having ^g his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

⁵ But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with ^h her head uncovered, dishonoureth her head: for that is even all one as if she were ⁱ shaven.

⁶ For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be ^j a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

⁷ For a man indeed ought not to cover ^k his head, forasmuch as ^h he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

⁸ For ^l the man is not of the woman: but the woman of the man.

⁹ ^k Neither was the man created for the woman: but the woman for the man.

¹⁰ For this cause ought the woman ^l to have ^p power on ^h her head, ^m because of the angels.

¹¹ Nevertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man in the Lord.

¹² For as the woman ⁿ is of the man, even so ⁿ is the man also by the woman: but all things of God.

¹³ Judge in your selves: is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered?

¹⁴ Doth not even nature it self teach you, that if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?

¹⁵ But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a ^p covering.

16 But ^a if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, ^o neither the churches of God.

17 Now in this that I declare unto you, I ^a praise you not, that you come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, ^p I hear that there be ^p divisions among you; and I partly believe it.

19 For ^q there must be also ^p heresies among you, ^r that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, ^p this is not to eat the Lords supper.

21 For in eating every one taketh before other, his own supper: and one is hungry, and ^s another is drunken.

22 What have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the church of God, and ^t shame ^p them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For ^u I have received of the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, ^x That the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread:

24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do ^p in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also ^y he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ^p ye do shew the Lords death ^z till he come.

27 ^a Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink ^z this cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But ^a let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of ^z that bread, and drink of ^z that cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh ^p damnation to himself, not discerning the Lords body.

30 For this cause many ^z are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

31 For ^b if we would judge our selves, we should not be judged.

32 But when we are judged ^c we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.

34 And if any man ^d hunger, let him eat at ^c home; that ye come not together unto ^p condemnation. And the rest ^f will I set in order when ^g I come.

CHAP. XII.

¹ Spiritual gifts ⁴ are divers, ⁷ yet all to profit withal; ⁸ and to that end are diversly bestowed: ¹² that by the like proportion, as the members of a natural body tend all to the ¹⁶ mutual decency, ²² service, and ²⁶ succour of the same body; ²⁷ so we should do one for another, to make up the mystical body of Christ.

NOW ^a concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, ^c that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus || accursed, and ^d that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

4 Now ^e there are diversities of gifts, but ^f the same Spirit.

5 ^g And there are differences of || administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God, ^h which worketh all in all.

7 ⁱ But the manifestation of the Spirit, is given to every man to profit withal.

8 For to one is given by the Spirit, the word of wisdom; to another ^k the word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

9 ^l To another faith by the same Spirit; to another ^m the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;

10 ⁿ To another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; ^o to another discerning of spirits; to another ^p divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues.

11 But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, ^q dividing to every man severally ^r as he will.

12 For ^s as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: ^t so also is Christ.

13 For ^v by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, ^x whether we be Jews or [†] Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and ^y have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? if the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath ^z God set the members, every one of them in the body, ^a as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again, the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary.

23 And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we || bestow more abundant honour, and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no || schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it: or one member be honoured, all the members rejoyce with it.

27 Now ^b ye are the body of Christ, and ^c members in particular.

28 And ^d God hath set some in the church, first apostles, ^e secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, ^f helps, ^g governments, || diversities of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all || workers of miracles?

30 Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But ^h covet earnestly the best gifts: And yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

1 All gifts, 2, 3 how excellent soever, are nothing worth without charity: 4 The praises thereof, and 13 prelation before hope and faith.

Though I speak with the tongues of men, and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I have the gift of ^a prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, ^b so that I could remove mountains, and have no charity, I am nothing.

3 And ^c though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 ^d Charity suffereth long, and is kind; ^e charity envieth not; charity || vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5 Doth not behave it self unseemly, ^f seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil,

6 ^g Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but ^h rejoiceth || in the truth:

7 Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For we know in part, and we prophesie in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I || thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For ⁱ now we see through a glass, [†] darkly; but then ^j face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Prophecy is commended, 2, 3, 4 and preferred before speaking with tongues, 6 by a comparison drawn from musical instruments. 12 Both must be referred to edification, 22 as to their true and proper end. 26 The true use of each is taught, 29 and the abuse taxed. 34 Women are forbidden to speak in the church.

Follow after charity, and ^a desire spiritual gifts, ^b but rather that ye may prophesie.

† Gr. heareth.

2 For he that ^c speaketh in an unknown tongue, speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man [†] understandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue, edifieth himself: but he that prophesieth, edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth, than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6 Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by ^d revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the || sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

9 So likewise you, except ye utter by the tongue words [†] easie to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh, a barbarian; and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.

12 Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous [†] of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.

13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: ^c I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing ^f with the understanding also.

16 Else when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned, say Amen ^s at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayst?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than you all:

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20 Brethren, ^b be not children in understanding: howbeit, in malice [†] be ye children, but in understanding be [†] men.

21 ^k In the law it is [†] written, With men of other tongues and other lips, will I speak unto this people: and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with Domini tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, ^m will they not say ^m that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophesie, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:

25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling down on his face, he will worship God, and report ⁿ that God is in you of a truth.

26 How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, ^o hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done to edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29 Let the prophets speak two or three, and ^p let the other judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, ^q let the first hold his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesie one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.

32 And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33 For God is not the author of [†] confusion, but of peace, ^r as in all churches of the saints.

34 ^s Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but ^t they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the ^v law.

35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 What? came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?

37 ^u If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you, are the commandments of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophesie, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40 Let all things be done decently, and in order.

Anno rose again the third day ^h according to the Domini scriptures :

59. 5 ⁱ And that he was seen of Cephas, then ^{Psalm 16. 10. k} of the twelve.

6 After that, he was seen of above five hun-^{Luke 24. 34.} dred brethren at once : of whom the greater ^{Mark 16. 14.} part remain unto this present, but some are ^{Luke 24. 36.} fallen asleep.
^{John 20. 19, 24.}

7 After that, he was seen of James ; then ^{Acts 10. 41.} 1 of all the apostles.

8 ^m And last of all he was seen of me also,
^{Acts 9. 4. &} as of || one born out of due time.
^{22. 14. 18.}

9 For I am ⁿ the least of the apostles, that ^{Chap. 9. 1.} am not meet to be called an apostle, because
^{|| Or, an abortive.} I persecuted the church of God.
^{Ephef. 3. 8.}

10 But ^p by the grace of God I am what I ^{Acts 9. 1.} am : and his grace which was bestowed upon ^{Gal. 1. 13.} me, was not in vain ; but ^q I laboured more
^{1 Tim. 1. 13.} abundantly than they all : ^r yet not I, but the ^{Ephef. 3. 7, 8.} grace of God which was with me.

11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so
^{2 Cor. 11. 23.} we preach, and so ye believed.
^{& 12. 11.}

12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose ^{Matth. 10. 20.} from the dead, how say some among you, that
^{2 Cor. 3. 5.} there is no resurrection of the dead ?
^{Phil. 2. 13.}

13 But if there be no resurrection of the ^{1 Thess. 4. 14.} dead, ^s then is Christ not risen.

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of ^{Acts 2. 24, 32.} God ; because ^t we have testified of God, that he raised up Christ : whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised :

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith
^{1 Rom. 4. 25.} is vain ; ^v ye are yet in your sins.

18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.

20 But now ^x is Christ risen from the dead,
^{1 Pet. 1. 3.} and become ^y the first-fruits of them that slept.

21 For ^z since by man came death, ^a by man
^{Acts 26. 23.} came also the resurrection of the dead.
^{Ver. 23.}

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ
^{Col. 1. 18.} shall all be made alive.
^{Rev. 1. 5.}

23 But ^b every man in his own order : Christ
^{2 Rom. 5. 12,} the first-fruits, afterward they that are Christs, ^{17.} at his coming.
^{John 11. 25.}

24 Then cometh the end, when he shall ^{1 John 20.} have delivered up the kingdom to God even the ^{1 Thess. 4. 15,} Father ; when he shall have put down all rule, ^{16, 17.} and all authority, and power.

25 For he must reign ^c till he hath put all ^{Psalm 110. 1.} enemies under his feet.

26 ^d The last enemy that shall be destroyed,
^{Acts 2. 34.} is death.
^{Ephef. 1. 22.}

27 For he ^e hath put all things under his ^{Hebr. 1. 13. &} feet. But when he saith all things are put un-
^{10. 13.} der him, it is manifest that he is excepted
^{2 Tim. 1. 10.} which did put all things under him.
^{Revel. 20. 14.}

28 ^f And when all things shall be subdued
^{Psalm 8. 6.} unto him, then ^g shall the Son also himself be ^{Matth. 28. 18.} subject unto him that put all things under him, ^{Hebr. 2. 8.} that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do, which are bap-
^{Phil. 3. 21.} tized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all ?
^{Chap. 3. 23. &} why are they then baptized for the dead ?
^{11. 3.}

30 And ^h why stand we in jeopardy every hour ?

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sow-est not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain.

38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh : but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial : but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars ; for one star differeth from another star in glory.

42 ^s So also is the resurrection of the dead. ^t Dan. 12. 3.

43 It is sown ^v in dishonour, ^w it is raised in ^{Phil. 3. 21.} glory : It is sown in weakness, ^x it is raised in power :

44 It is sown a natural body, ^y it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 And so it is written, The first man Adam
^y was made a living soul, ^z the last Adam was ^{Gen. 2. 7.}

46 Howbeit that was not first which is spi- ^{Phil. 3. 21.} ritual, but that which is natural ; and afterward that which is spiritual.

47 ^a The first man is of the earth, ^a earthy : ^{John 3. 30.}
the second man is the Lord ^b from heaven. ^{Gen. 2. 7, 19.}

48 As is the earthy, ^c such are they also that

50 Now this I say, brethren, that ^f flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God ; ^f John 3. 21.
neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. ^{1 John 3. 2.}

51 Behold, I shew you a mystery ; ^g We shall ^{1 Thess. 4. 15,}

Anno 56 The sting of death is sin; and the Domini strength of sin is the law.
 59. 57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us
 the victory, through our Lord Jesus Christ.
 58 Therefore my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

C H A P. XVI.

1 He exhorteth them to relieve the want of the brethren at Jerusalem; 10 commendeth Timothy; 13 and after friendly admonitions, 16 shutteth up his epistle with divers salutations.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.

2 Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

3 And when I come, whomsoever you shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.

4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: (for I do pass through Macedonia)

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey, whithersoever I go.

7 For I will not see you now by the way, but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.

9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.

10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he work-eth the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you, with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

14 Let all your things be done with charity.

15 I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first-fruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints)

16 That ye submit your selves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us and laboureth.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part, they have supplied.

18 For they have refreshed my spirit and yours: therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you. Greet ye one another with an holy kiss.

21 The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand.

22 If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be anathema, Maran-atha.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

24 My love be with you all in Christ Jesus.
 Amen.

The first epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi, by Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

The Second Epistle of PAUL the Apostle, to the C O R I N T H I A N S.

C H A P. I.

3 The apostle encourageth them against troubles, by the comforts and deliverances which God had given him, as in all his afflictions, 8 so particularly in his late danger in Asia: 12 and calling both his own conscience, and theirs to witness of his sincere manner of preaching the immutable truth of the gospel, 15 he excuseth his not coming to them, as proceeding not of lightness, but of his lenity towards them.

A. D. 66.

AUL an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia:

Eph. 1. 1.
 Phil. 1. 1.
 Col. 1. 2.

Rom. 1. 7.
 Gal. 1. 3.

Ephes. 1. 3.
 1 Pet. 1. 3.

2 Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we our selves are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing that as you are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life:

9 But we had the sentence of death in our selves, that we should not trust in our selves, but in God which raiseth the dead.

I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do
I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea, yea, and nay, nay?

you, was not yea and nay.

19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me,

CHAP. II.

¹ Having shewed the reason why he came not to them,
6 he requireth them to forgive and to comfort that excommunicated person, 10 even as himself also upon his true repentance had forgiven him: 12 declaring withal why he departed from Troas to Macedonia, 14 and the happy success which God gave to his preaching in all places.

BUT I determined this with my self, that I would not come again to you in heaviness.
2 For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me.

^a Chap. 12. 21. ^b Chap. 8. 22. ^c Gal. 5. 10. 3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest when I came, ^a I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoyce, ^b having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart, I wrote unto you with many tears; not that you should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But ^e if any have caused grief, he hath Anno not ^d grieved me, but in part: that I may not Domini

The two covenants compared. II. Corinthians. Immortality to be hoped.

Anno Domini 60. 7 But if ^o the ministration of death ^p written and engraven in stones, was glorious, ^q so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his countenance, which glory was to be done away;

⁸ How shall not ^r the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious?

⁹ For if the ministration of condemnation ^{be} glory, much more doth the ministration ^s of righteousness exceed in glory.

¹⁰ For even that which was made glorious, had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

¹¹ For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

¹² Seeing then that we have such hope, ^t we use great ^{||} plainness of speech.

¹³ And not as Moses ^v which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to ^x the end of that which is abolished.

¹⁴ But ^y their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away, in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ.

¹⁵ But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

¹⁶ Nevertheless ^z when it shall turn to the Lord, ^a the vail shall be taken away.

¹⁷ Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

¹⁸ But we all with open face, beholding ^b as in a glass ^c the glory of the Lord, ^d are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, even ^e as ^{||} by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

¹ He declareth how he hath used all sincerity and faithful diligence in preaching the gospel; 7 and how the troubles and persecutions which he daily endured for the same, did redound to the praise of Gods power, 12 to the benefit of the church, 16 and to the apostles own eternal glory.

Therefore seeing we have this ministry, ^f as we have received mercy we faint not:

² But have renounced the hidden things ^g of [†] dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, ^h nor handling the word of God deceitfully, but ⁱ by manifestation of the truth, ^j commending ourselves to every mans conscience in the sight of God.

³ But if our gospel be hid, ^k it is hid to them that are lost:

⁵ For we preach not our selves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ^l our selves your servants for Jesus sake.

⁶ For God ^m who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, [†] hath ⁿ shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Jesus Christ.

⁷ But we have this treasure in ^o earthen vessels, ^p that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

⁸ We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but || not in despair;

⁹ Persecuted, but not forsaken; ^q cast down, but not destroyed;

¹⁰ Always bearing about in the body, ^r the dying of the Lord Jesus, ^s that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

¹¹ For we which live, ^t are alway delivered unto death for Jesus sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

¹² So then ^v death worketh in us, but life in you.

¹³ We having ^x the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, ^y I believed, and therefore have I spoken: we also believe, and therefore speak;

¹⁴ Knowing, that ^z he which raised up the Lord Jesus, shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

¹⁵ For ^a all things are for your sakes, that ^b the abundant grace might, through the thanksgiving of many, redound to the glory of God.

¹⁶ For which cause we faint not, but though our outward man perish, yet ^c the inward man is renewed day by day.

¹⁷ For ^d our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

¹⁸ While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen, are temporal; but the things which are not seen, are eternal.

CHAP. V.

¹ That in his assured hope of immortal glory, 9 and in expectation of it, and of the general judgment, he laboureth to keep a good conscience; 12 not that he may therein boast of himself, 14 but as one that having received life from Christ, endeavourth to live as a new creature to Christ only, 18 and by his ministry of reconciliation to reconcile others also in Christ to God.

FOR we know, that if ^a our earthly house ^b of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

² For in this, ^c we grone earnestly, desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

³ If so be that ^d being clothed, we shall not be found naked.

⁴ For we that are in this tabernacle do grone, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but ^e clothed upon, that mortality ^f might be swallowed up of life.

⁵ Now ^g he that hath wrought us for the self-same thing, is God, who also ^h hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

⁶ Therefore we are always confident, knowing that whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:

⁷ (For ⁱ we walk by faith, not by sight.)

⁸ We are confident, I say, and ^j willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

⁹ Wherefore we ^{||} labour, that whether present or absent we may be accepted of him.

¹⁰ ⁱ For we must all appear before the judgment-seat of Christ; ^k that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

Anno Domini 60. 11 Knowing therefore ¹ the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but ^m we are made manifest unto God, and I trust also, are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For ^a we commend not our selves again unto you, but give you occasion ^o to glory on our behalf, that you may have somewhat to answer them which glory [†] in appearance, and not in heart.

13 For ^p whether we be besides our selves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

14 For the love of Christ constraineth us, because we thus judge, that ^a if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 And that he died for all, [†] that they which live, should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16 ^s Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, [†] yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17 Therefore if any man ^v be in Christ, ^{||} be is ^a a new creature: ^y old things are past away, behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, ^z who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19 To wit, that ^a God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath [†] committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 Now then we are ^b ambassadors for Christ, as ^c though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christs stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21 For ^d he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made ^e the righteousness of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

That he hath approved himself a faithful minister of Christ, both by his exhortations, 3 and by integrity of life, 4 and by patient enduring all kinds of affliction and disgraces for the gospel. 10 Of which he speaketh the more boldly amongst them, because his heart is open to them; 13 and he expecteth the like affection from them again: 14 exhorting to flee the society and pollution of idolaters, as being themselves temples of the living God.

WE then as ^a workers together with him, ^b beseech you also, ^c that ye receive not the grace of God in vain:

2 (For he saith, ^d I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation)

3 ^e Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4 But in all things [†] approving our selves ^f as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 ^g In stripes, in imprisonments, ^{||} in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings,

6 By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7 By the word of truth, by ^h the power of God, by ⁱ the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true;

9 As unknown, and ^k yet well known; [†] as dying, and behold, we live; ^m as chastened, and Domini not killed; 60.

10 As sorrowful, yet alway rejoycing; as ⁿ poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, ⁿ our heart is enlarged.

12 Ye are not straitened in us, but ^o ye are ^o straitened in your own bowels.

13 Now for a recompense in the same, (^p I ^p I Cor. 4. 14. speak as unto my children) be ye also enlarged.

14 ^q Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for ^r what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth, with an infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ^s ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, ^t I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 ^v Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, 18 ^x And will be a father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAP. VII.

1 He proceedeth in exhorting them to purity of life, 2 and to bear him like affection as he doth to them. 3 Whereof lest he might seem to doubt, he declareth what comfort he took in his afflictions, by the report which Titus gave of their godly sorrow, which his former epistle had wrought in them, 13 and of their loving kindness and obedience towards Titus, answerable to his former boastings of them.

HAVING ^a therefore these promises (dearly ^a beloved) let us cleanse our selves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Receive us: we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, ^b we have defrauded no man.

3 I speak not this to condemn you: for ^c I have said before, that you are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: ^d I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 For ^e when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side; ^f without were fightings, within were fears.

6 Nevertheless, ^g God that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by ^h the coming of Titus:

7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoyced the more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, ⁱ though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 Now I rejoyce, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for

Anno Domini 60. Or, according to God. for ye were made sorry || after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing. 10 For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold, this self same thing that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of your selves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! in all things ye have approved your selves to be clear in this matter.

12 Wherefore though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting which I made before Titus is found a truth.

15 And his † inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembreth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling you received him.

16 I rejoyce therefore that † I have confidence in you in all things.

C H A P. VIII.

1 He stirreth them up to a liberal contribution for the poor saints at Jerusalem, by the example of the Macedonians, 7 by commendation of their former forwardness, 9 by the example of Christ, 14 and by the spiritual profit that shall redound to themselves thereby: 16 commending to them the integrity and willingness of Titus, and those other brethren, who upon his request, exhortation, and commendation, were purposely come to them for this business.

Moreover, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia:

2 How that in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy, and † their deep poverty, abounded unto the riches of their † liberality.

3 For to their power (I bear record) yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves:

4 Praying us with much intreaty, that we would receive the gift, and take upon us † the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.

6 Inasmuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

7 Therefore as † ye abound in every thing, in faith, in utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us; see that ye abound in this grace also.

8 † I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, † that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 And herein † I give my advice: for † this is expedient for you, who have begun before, Anno Domini 60. not only to do, but also to be † forward a Domini year ago.

11 Now therefore perform the doing of it; † that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which you have.

12 For † if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I mean not that other men be eased, and you burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that there may be equality, 15 As it is written, † He that had gathered much, had nothing over; and he that had gathered little, had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 For indeed he accepted † the exhortation, but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him † the brother, whose praise is in the gospel, throughout all the churches:

19 (And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this || grace which is administred by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind)

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administred by us:

21 † Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which || I have in you.

23 Whether any do enquire of Titus, be is my partner, and fellow-helper concerning you: or our brethren be enquired of, they are † the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our † boasting on your behalf.

C H A P. IX.

1 He yieldeth the reason why, though he knew their forwardness, yet he sent Titus and his brethren beforehand. 6 And he proceedeth in stirring them up to a bountiful alms, as being but a kind of sowing of seed, 10 which shall return a great increase to them, 13 and occasion a great sacrifice of thanksgivings unto God.

For as touching † the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you.

2 For I know the forwardness of your mind, † for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that † Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many.

3 Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf; that, as I said, ye may be ready:

4 Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not you) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

Anno Domini 60. 5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your † bounty, || whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

6 ^d But this I say, He which soweth sparingly, shall reap also sparingly: and he which soweth bountifully, shall reap also bountifully.

7 Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; ^e not grudgingly, or of necessity: for ^f God loveth a cheerful giver.

8 ^g And God is able to make all grace abound towards you; that ye always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work:

9 (As it is written, ^h He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever.

14 And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

C H A P. X.

Against the false apostles, who disgraced the weakness of his person and bodily presence, he setteth out the spiritual might and authority with which he is armed against all adversary powers; 7 assuring them that at his coming he will be found as mighty in word, as he is now in writing being absent: 12 and withal taxing them for reaching out themselves beyond their compass, and vaunting themselves into other mens labours.

ⁿ NOW ^a I Paul myself beseech you, by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who ^o in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you.

2 But I beseech you, ^b that I may not be bold when I am present, with the confidence wherewith I think to be bold against some which || think of us, as if we walked according to the flesh:

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 (^c For the weapons ^d of our warfare are not carnal, but ^e mighty || through God ^f to the pulling down of strong holds)

5 Casting down || imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth it self against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ:

6 And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when ^g your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Do ye look on this after the outward appearance? ^h if any man trust to himself, that he is Christ, let him of himself think this again, that as he is Christ, even so are ⁱ we Christ.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more ^k of our authority, (which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction) ^l I should not be ashamed:

9 That I may not seem as if I would terrifie you by letters.

10 For his letters † (say they) are weighty and powerful, but ^m his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.

11 Let such an one think this, that such as we are in word by letters, when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

12 ⁿ For we dare not make our selves of the number, or compare our selves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves amongst themselves || are not wise.

13 But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the || rule, which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not our selves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you; for we are come as far as to you also, in preaching the gospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, ^o of other mens labours; but ^p having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be || enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly,

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another mans || line of things made ready to our hands.

17 ^q But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18 For ^r not he that commendeth himself is approved, but ^s whom the Lord commendeth.

C H A P. XI.

^t Out of his jealousy over the Corinthians, who seemed to make more account of the false apostles, than of him, he entreth into a forced commendation of himself, 5 of his equality with the chief apostles, 7 of his preaching the gospel to them freely, and without any their charge: 13 shewing that he was not inferior to those deceitful workers, in any legal prerogative; 23 and in the service of Christ, and in all kind of sufferings for his ministry, far superior.

^u Would to God you could bear with me a little in ^a my folly; and indeed || bear with me.

2 For I am ^b jealous over you with godly jealousy: for ^c I have espoused you to one husband, ^d that I may present you ^e as a chaste virgin to Christ.

3 But I fear lest by any means, as ^f the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds ^g should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

4 For if he that cometh, preacheth another Jesus whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or ^h another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear || with him.

5 For I suppose ⁱ I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

6 But though ^k I be rude in speech, yet not ^l in knowledge; but ^m we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

C H A P. XII.

1 For commending of his apostleship, though he might glory of his wonderful revelations, 9 yet he rather chooseth to glory of his infirmities, 11 blaming them for forcing him to this vain boasting: 14 He promiseth to come to them again; but yet altogether in the affection of a father, 20 although he feareth he shall to his grief find many offenders, and publick disorders there.

IT is not expedient for me doubtless to glory: [†] I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.

2 I knew a man in Christ above fourteen yeas ago (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth) such an one ^a caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I knew such a man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth)

4 How that he was caught up into paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not || lawful for a man to utter.

5 Of such an one will I glory: ^b yet of my self I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For ^c though I would desire to glory I shall not be a fool: for I will say the truth: but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a ^d thorn in the flesh, ^e the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8 ^e For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

10 Therefore ^f I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christs sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become ^g a fool in glorying, ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for ^h in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though ⁱ I be nothing.

12 ^k Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that ^l I my self was not burdensome to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 ^m Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you; for ⁿ I seek not yours, but you: for the children

Anno children ought not to lay up for the parents, Domini but the parents for the children.

60. 15 And ° I will very gladly spend and be

1 Thel. 2. 8. spent p for † you, though q the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

2 Tim. 2. 10. 16 But be it so, † I did not burden you: nevertheless being crafty, I caught you with guile.

13. 17 † Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you?

18 † I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother: did Titus make a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? walked we not in the same steps.

19 * Again, think you that we excuse our selves unto you? † we speak before God in Christ: but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20 For I fear lest when I come I shall not find you such as I would, and that † I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults:

21 And lest when I come again, my God will humble me among you, and that I shall bewail many which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleanness, and fornication, and lasciviousness which they have committed.

C H A P. XIII.

1 He threatneth severity, and the power of his apostleship against obstinate sinners: 5 and advising them to a trial of their faith, 7 and to reformation of their sins before his coming, 11 he concludeth his epistle with a general exhortation and a prayer.

1 This is a the third time I am coming to you: b In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 c I told you before, and foretel you as if I were present d the second time, and being absent, now I write to them e which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that if I come again f I will not spare:

3 Since ye seek a proof of Christ s speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty h in you.

4 i For though he was crucified through weakness, yet k he liveth by the power of God: For l we also are weak || in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5 m Examine your selves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves: know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though n we be as reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad o when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish p even your perfection.

10 q Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present, † I should use sharpness, s according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally, brethren, farewell: Be perfect, be of good comfort, † be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love v and peace shall be with you.

12 * Greet one another with an holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and † the communion of the holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

C H A P. I.

6 He wondreth that they have so soon left him and the gospel; 3 and accurseth those that preach any other gospel than he did: 11 He learned the gospel not of men, but of God: 13 and sheweth what he was before his calling, 17 and what he did presently after it.

AUL an apostle (a not of men, neither by man, but b by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, c who raised him from the dead) to the churches of Galatia:

3 f Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 g Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us h from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel, that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ, unto another gospel:

7 Which is not another; but there be some k that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though l we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you, than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you, m than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 For n do I now o perswade men, or God? or p do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 q But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me, is not after a man.

12 For r I neither receiv'd it of man, neither was I taught it, but s by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my conversation in time past, in the Jews religion, how that t beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and v wasted it:

14 And profited in the Jews religion above many my † equals in mine own nation, x being more exceedingly zealous y of the traditions of my fathers.

16 ^a To reveal his Son in me, that ^b I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with ^c flesh and blood.

17 Neither went I up to Jerusalem, to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years ^d I || went up to Jerusalem, to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 But ^e other of the apostles saw I none, save ^f James the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write unto you, ^g behold, before God, I lie not.

21 ^h Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22 And was unknown by face ⁱ unto the churches of Judea, which ^k were in Christ:

23 But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past, now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAP. II.

¹ He sheweth when he went up again to Jerusalem, and for what purpose: and that Titus was not circumcised: ¹¹ and that he resisted Peter, and told him the reason, ¹⁴ why he and other, being Jews, do believe in Christ to be justified by faith, and not by works: ²⁰ and that they live not in sin, who are so justified.

THen fourteen years after, ^a I went up again to Jerusalem, with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.

2 And I went up by revelation, ^b and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but || privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means ^c I should run or had run in vain.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of ^d false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our ^e liberty, which we have in Christ Jesus, ^f that they might bring us into bondage.

5 To whom we gave place by subjection, no not for an hour; that ^g the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But of these, ^h who seemed to be somewhat (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: ⁱ God accepteth no mans person) for they who seemed ^j to be somewhat, ^k in conference added nothing to me.

7 But contrariwise, ^l when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision ^m was committed unto me, as ⁿ the gospel of the circumcision ^o was unto Peter;

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, ^p the same was ^q mighty in me towards the Gentiles)

9 And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be ^r pillars, perceived ^s the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that ^t we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only ^u they would that we should remember the poor; ^v the same which I also was forward to do.

11 ^w But when Peter was come to Antioch,

I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certain came from James ^x he did eat with the Gentiles: but ^y when they were come, he withdrew, and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly, according to ^z the truth of the gospel, ^{aa} I said unto Peter ^{ab} before ^{ac} them all, ^{ad} If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

15 We ^{ae} who are ^{af} Jews by nature, and not ^{ag} sinners of the Gentiles, 16 ^{ah} Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but ^{ai} by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ; that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for ^{aj} by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if while we seek to be justified by Christ, we our selves also are found ^{ak} sinners, ^{al} is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I make my self a transgressor.

19 For I ^{am} through the law ^{an} am dead to the law, that I might ^{ao} live unto God.

20 I am ^{ap} crucified with Christ: Nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, ^{aq} I live by the faith of the Son of God, ^{ar} who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 I do not frustrate the grace of God: for ^{as} if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAP. III.

¹ He asketh what moved them to leave the faith, and hang upon the law. ⁶ They that believe are justified, ⁹ and blessed with Abraham. ¹⁰ And this he sheweth by many reasons.

O Foolish Galatians, ^a who hath bewitched ^b you, that you should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 This only would I learn of you, Received ye ^c the Spirit by the works of the law, ^d or by the hearing of faith?

3 Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh?

4 ^e Have ye suffered || so many things in vain? if ^f it be yet in vain.

5 He therefore ^g that ministreth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, ^h doth ⁱ he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6 Even as ^j Abraham believed God, and it ^k was || accounted to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore that ^l they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 And ^m the scripture foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, ⁿ saying, ^o In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham.

Anno Domini 58. ¹⁰ For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse: for it is written, ^k Curfed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

¹¹ But ¹ that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, ^m The just shall live by faith.

¹² And ⁿ the law is not of faith: but, ^o The man that doth them shall live in them.

¹³ ^p Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, ^q Curfed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

¹⁴ That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive ^r the promise of the Spirit through faith.

¹⁵ Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; ^s Though it be but a mans || covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

¹⁶ Now ^t to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He faith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is ^v Christ.

¹⁷ And this I say, that the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, ^y that it should make the promise of none effect.

¹⁸ For ^z if the inheritance be of the law, ^a it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

¹⁹ Wherefore then serveth the law? ^b it was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come, to whom the promise was made; and it was ^c ordained by angels in the hand ^d of a mediator.

²⁰ Now a mediator is not a mediator of one; but God is one.

²¹ Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

²² But ^e the scripture hath concluded ^f all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

²³ But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

²⁴ Wherefore ^g the law was our school-master, to bring us unto Christ, ^h that we might be justified by faith.

²⁵ But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a school-master.

²⁶ For ye ⁱ are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

²⁷ For ^k as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, ^l have put on Christ.

²⁸ ^m There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all ⁿ one in Christ Jesus.

²⁹ And ^o if ye be Christs, then are ye Abrahams seed, and ^p heirs according to the promise.

C H A P. IV.

¹ We were under the law till Christ came, as the heir is under his guardian till he be of age. 5 But Christ freed us from the law: 7 therefore we are servants no longer to it: 14 He remembreth their good will to him, and his to them; 22 and sheweth that we are the sons of Abraham by the free woman.

NOW I say, that the heir as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all;

² But is under tutors and governors, until the time appointed of the father.

³ Even so we when we were children, were in bondage under ^a the || elements of the world:

⁴ But ^b when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son ^c made ^d of a woman, ^e made under the law, ⁵ To redeem them that were under the law, ^f that we might receive the adoption of sons.

⁶ And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth ^g the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

⁷ Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; ^h and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

⁸ Howbeit, ⁱ then when ye knew not God, ^k ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

⁹ But now ^l after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, ^m how turn ye || again to ⁿ the weak and beggarly || elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

¹⁰ ^o Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years.

¹¹ I am afraid of you, ^p lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

¹² Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: ^q ye have not injured me at all.

¹³ Ye know how ^r through infirmity of the flesh, I preached the gospel unto you ^s at the first.

¹⁴ And my temptation which was in my flesh, ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me ^t as an angel of God, ^v even as Christ Jesus.

¹⁵ || Where is then the blessedness you spake of? for I bear you record, that if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

¹⁶ Am I therefore become your enemy, ^x because I tell you the truth?

¹⁷ They ^y zealously affect you, but not well; ^z yea, they would exclude || you, that you might affect them.

¹⁸ But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.

¹⁹ ^z My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you,

²⁰ I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice, for || I stand in doubt of you.

²¹ Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

²² For it is written, that Abraham had two sons; ^a the one by a bond-maid, ^b the other by a free-woman.

²³ But he who was of the bond-woman, ^c was born after the flesh: but he of the free-woman was by promise.

²⁴ Which things are an allegory; for these are the two || covenants; the one from the mount [†] Sinai, which gendreth to bondage, [†] which is Agar.

²⁵ For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and || answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

²⁶ But ^d Jerusalem which is above, is free, which is the mother of us all.

²⁷ For it is written, ^e Rejoyce thou barren

11 ^q And I brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, ^r why do I yet suffer persecution? then is ^s the offence of the cross ceased.

12 ^t I would they were even cut off ^v which trouble you.

13 For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only ^x use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but ^y by love serve one another.

14 For ^z all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; ^a Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self.

15 But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 This I say then, ^b Walk in the Spirit, and ^c ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

17 For ^c the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; ^d so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

18 But ^e if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 Now ^f the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these, Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, 21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revelings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that ^g they which do such things, shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 But ^h the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, ⁱ gentleness, ^k goodness, ^l faith, 23 Meekness, temperance: ^m against such there is no law.

24 And they that are Christs, ⁿ have crucified the flesh, with the ^o || affections and lusts.

25 ^o If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 ^p Let us not be desirous of vain glory, ^q provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAP. VI.

¹ He moveth them to deal mildly with a brother that hath slipped, ² and to bear one anothers burden, ⁶ to be liberal to their teachers, ⁹ and not weary of well-doing: ¹² He sheweth what they intend that preach circumcision: ¹⁴ He glorieth in nothing, save in the cross of Christ.

Brethren, ^a || if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye ^b which are spiritual, restore such an one ^c in the spirit of meekness; considering thy self, ^d lest thou also be tempted.

2 ^e Bear ye one anothers burdens, and so fulfil ^f the law of Christ.

3 For ^g if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4 But ^h let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and ⁱ not in another.

5 For ^k every man shall bear his own burden.

6 ^l Let him that is taught in the word, communicate unto him that teacheth, in all good things.

7 ^m Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for ⁿ whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 ^o For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption: but he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

9 And ^p let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, ^q if we faint not.

10 ^r As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, ^s especially unto them who are of ^t the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, ^v they constrain you to be circumcised; ^x only lest they should ^y suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.

13 For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14 ^z But God forbid that I should glory in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, || by whom the world is ^a crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

15 For ^b in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but ^c a new creature.

16 ^d And as many as walk ^e according to this

¶ The Epistle of PAUL the Apostle, to the EPHESIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 After the salutation, 3 and thanksgiving for the Ephesians, 4 be treateth of our election, 6 and adoption by grace, 11 which is the true and proper fountain of mans salvation. 13 And because the height of this mystery cannot easily be attained unto, 16 he prayeth that they may come 18 to the full knowledge and 20 possession thereof in Christ.

PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ^a by the will of God,^b to the saints which are at Ephesus, ^c and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:

2 ^d Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^e Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly ^{||} places in Christ:

4 According as ^f he hath chosen us in him, ^g before the foundation of the world, that we should ^h be holy, and without blame before him in love:

5 ⁱ Having predestinated us unto ^k the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, ^l wherein he hath made us accepted in ^m the beloved:

7 ⁿ In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to ^o the riches of his grace;

8 Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence,

9 ^p Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, ^q which he hath purposed in himself:

10 That in the dispensation of ^r the fulness of times, ^s he might gather together in one, ^t all things in Christ, both which are in ^u heaven, and which are on earth, even in him:

11 ^v In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:

12 ^x That we should be to the praise of his glory, ^y who first ^{||} trusted in Christ.

13 In whom ye also trusted after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ^z ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise.

14 ^a Which is the earnest of our inheritance, ^b until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also, ^c after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints, 16 ^d Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers;

17 That ^e the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, ^f may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation, ^{||} in the knowledge of him: ^{||} Or, for the acknowledgements.

CHAP. II.

1 By comparing what we were by 3 nature, with what we are 5 by grace, 10 he declareth, that we are made for good works; and 13 being brought near by Christ, should not live as 11 Gentiles and 12 foreigners in time past, but as 19 citizens with the saints and family of God.

4 But God, ^g who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us,

5 ^h Even when we were dead in sins hath quickened us together with Christ, (^{||} by grace ye are saved)

6 And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus.

7 That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindness towards us, through Christ Jesus.

8 ^k For by grace are ye saved, ^l through faith; and that not of your selves: ^m it is the gift of God:

9 ⁿ Not of works, lest any man should boast:

13 ^r But now in Christ Jesus, ye who sometimes were far off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 For ^r he is our peace, ^r who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us;

15 ^r Having abolished ^b in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments, contain- ed in ordinances, for to make in himself, of twain, one ^c new man, so making peace;

16 And that he might reconcile both unto God ^d in one body by the cross, ^e having slain the enmity || thereby:

17 And came ^f and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to ^g them that were nigh.

18 For ^h through him we both have an ac- cess by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but ⁱ fellow-citizens with the saints, and of ^k the household of God;

20 And are ^l built ^m upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ him- self being ⁿ the chief corner-stone;

21 ^o In whom all the building fitly framed together, groweth unto ^p an holy temple in the Lord:

22 ^q In whom you also are builded together, for an habitation of God through the Spirit.

& 6. 19. 2 Cor. 6. 16. ^r 1 Pet. 2. 5.

5 The hidden mystery, 6 that the Gentiles should be saved, 3 was made known to Paul by revelation: 8 and to him was that grace given, that 9 he should preach it: 13 He desireth them not to faint for his tribulation, 14 and prayeth 19 that they may perceive the great love of Christ toward them.

FOR this cause, I Paul ^a the prisoner of Jesus Christ, ^b for you Gentiles;

2 If ye have heard of ^c the dispensation of the grace of God, ^d which is given me to you-ward:

3 ^e How that ^f by revelation ^g he made known unto me the mystery, (^h as I wrote || afore in few words,

4 Whereby when ye read ye may understand my knowledge ⁱ in the mystery of Christ)

5 ^k Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, ^l as it is now re- vealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit;

6 That the Gentiles ^m should be fellow-heirs, and ⁿ of the same body, and ^o partakers of his promise in Christ, by the gospel:

7 Whereof I was made a minister, ^p accord- ing to the gift of the grace of God given unto me, by ^q the effectual working of his power.

8 Unto me ^r who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that ^s I should preach among the Gentiles ^t the unsearcheable riches of Christ;

9 And to make all men see, what ^u is the fel- lowship of ^v the mystery, ^x which from the be- ginning of the world, hath been hid in God, ^y who created all things by Jesus Christ:

10 ^z To the intent that now ^a unto the prin- cipalities and powers in heavenly places, ^b might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God.

11 ^c According to the eternal purpose which he puposed in Christ Jesus our Lord:

12 In whom we have boldness and ^d access ^e with confidence by the faith of him.

13 ^f Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations ^g for you, wich is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, 15 Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named,

16 That he would grant you, ^h according to the riches of his glory, ⁱ to be strengthened with might, by his Spirit in ^k the inner man;

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye ^l being rooted and grounded in love,

18 May be able to comprehend with all saints, ^m what ⁿ is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height;

19 And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled ^o with all the fulness of God.

20 Now ^p unto him that is able to do ex- ceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, 21 Unto him ^q be glory in the church by Christ Jesus, throughout all ages, world with- out end. Amen.

CHAP. IV.

1 He exhorteth to unity; 7 and declareth that God therefore giveth divers 11 gifts unto men, that his church might be 13 edified, and 16 grown up in Christ: 18 He calleth them from the impurity of the Gentiles, 24 to put on the new man, 25 to cast off lying, and 29 corrupt communication.

I Therefore ^a the prisoner || of the Lord, be- seech you that ye ^b walk worthy of the vo- cation wherewith ye are called,

2 ^c With all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love;

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit ^d in the bond of peace.

4 ^e There is one body, and ^f one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling;

5 ^g One Lord, one faith, ^h one baptism,

6 ⁱ One God and Father of all, who ^j is above all, and ^k through all, and in you all.

7 But ^l unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, ^m When he ascended up on high, ⁿ he led || captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 (^o Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

10 He that descended, is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, ^p that he might || fill all things)

11 ^q And he gave some, apostles: and some, prophets: and some, ^r evangelists: and some, ^s pastors and ^t teachers;

12 For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of ^v the body of Christ:

13 Till we all come || in the unity of the faith, ^x and of the knowledge of the son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the || stature of the fulness of Christ:

14 That we henceforth be no more ^v children, ² tossed to and fro, and carried about with every ^a wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive:

15 But ^b || speaking the truth in love, ^c may grow up into him in all things, ^d which is the head, even Christ:

16 ^e From whom the whole body fitly joyned together, and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, mak-eth increase of the body, unto the edifying of it self in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testifie in the Lord, that ^f ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk ^g in the vanity of their mind,

18 Having the understanding darkened, ^h being alienated from the life of God, through the ignorance that is in them, because of the ⁱ || blindness of their heart:

19 ^k Who being past feeling, ^l have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20 But ye have not so learned Christ;

21 If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:

22 That ye ^m put off concerning ⁿ the former conversation, ^o the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts:

23 And ^p be renewed in the spirit of your mind;

24 And that ye ^q put on the new man, which after God ^r is created in righteousness,
and || true holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away lying, ^s speak every man truth with his neighbour: for ^t we are members one of another.

26 ^v Be ye angry and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:

27 ^x Neither give place to the devil.

28 Let him that stole, steal no more: but rather ^y let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have
|| to give ^z to him that needeth.

29 ^a Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but ^b that which is good || to the use of edifying, ^c that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

30 And ^d grieve not the holy Spirit of God, ^e whereby ye are sealed unto the day of ^f redemption.

31 ^g Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil-speaking be put away from you, ^h with all malice.

32 And ⁱ be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, ^k forgiving one another, even as God for Christs sake hath forgiven you.

offering and a sacrifice to God ^d for a sweet-smelling favour.

3 But ^e fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, ^f let it not be once named amongst you, as becometh saints.

4 ^g Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, ^h which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that ⁱ no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man ^k who is an idolater, ^l hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God.

6 ^m Let no man deceive you with vain words:
for because of these things ⁿ cometh the wrath of God ^o upon the children of || disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them.

8 ^p For ye were sometimes darkness, but now ^q are ye light in the Lord: walk as ^r children of light,

9 (For ^s the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness, and righteousness, and truth)

10 Proving ^t what is acceptable unto the Lord.

11 And ^v have no fellowship with ^x the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them.

12 ^y For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But ^z all things that are || reprov'd, are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest, is light.

14 Wherefore || he saith, ^a Awake thou that sleepest, and ^b arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

15 ^c See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,

16 ^d Redeeming the time, ^e because the days are evil.

17 ^f Wherefore be ye not unwise, but ^g understanding ^h what the will of the Lord is.

18 And ⁱ be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit:

19 Speaking to your selves ^k in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord,

20 ^l Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father, ^m in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ;

21 ⁿ Submitting your selves one to another in the fear of God.

22 ^o Wives, submit your selves unto your own husbands, ^p as unto the Lord.

23 For ^q the husband is the head of the wife, even as ^r Christ is the head of the church: and he is the Saviour of ^s the body.

24 Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands ^t in every thing.

25 ^v Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and ^x gave himself for it:

26 That he might sanctifie and cleanse it
^y with the washing of water ^z by the word,

27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church, ^a not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy, ^b and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives, as their own bodies: he that loveth his wife, loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh;

Anno Domini 64. || are excellent; ^a that ye may be sincere, and without offence ^o till the day of Christ;

11 Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, ^p which are by Jesus Christ ^q unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me, have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel:

13 So that my bonds || in Christ are manifest ^r in all || the palace, and || in all other places;

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy ^s and strife; and some also of good will.

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:

17 But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoyce, yea, and will rejoyce.

19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation ^t through your prayer, and the supply of ^v the Spirit of Jesus Christ, 20 ^x According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that ^y in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose, I wot not.

23 For ^z I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better:

24 Nevertheless, to abide in the flesh, is more needful for you.

25 And ^a having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and joy of faith:

26 That ^b your rejoycing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me, by my coming to you again.

27 Only ^c let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, ^d that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind, ^e striving together for the faith of the gospel;

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth them to unity, and to all humbleness of mind, by the example of Christs humility and exaltation: 12 to a careful proceeding in the way of salvation, that they be as lights to the wicked world, 16 and comforts to him their apostle, who is now ready to be offered up to God: 19 He hopeth to send Timothy to them, whom he greatly commendeth, 25 as Epaphroditus also, whom he presently sendeth to them.

IF there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, ^a if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies;

2 Fulfil ye my joy, ^b that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.

3 ^c Let nothing be done through strife, or vain-glory, but ^d in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

4 ^e Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

5 ^f Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6 Who ^g being in the form of God, ^h thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

7 ⁱ But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form ^k of a servant, and ^l was made in the || likeness of men:

8 And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and ^m became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

9 Wherefore God also ⁿ hath highly exalted him, and ^o given him a name which is above every name:

10 ^p That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

11 And ^q that every tongue should confess, that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence; work out your own salvation ^r with fear and trembling.

13 For ^s it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

14 Do all things ^t without murmurings, and disputings:

15 That ye may be blameless and || harmless, ^v the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst ^x of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom || ^y ye shine as lights in the world:

16 Holding forth the word of life; that ^z I may rejoyce in the day of Christ, that ^a I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

17 Yea, and if ^b I be [†] offered upon the sacrifice ^c and service of your faith, ^d I joy, and rejoyce with you all.

18 For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoyce with me.

19 || But I trust in the Lord Jesus, to send ^e Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I have no man ^f || like-minded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all ^g seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christs.

22 But ye know the proof of him, ^h that as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24 But ⁱ I trust in the Lord, that I also my self shall come shortly.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that when ye see him again, ye may rejoyce, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

¹ He warneth them to beware of the false teachers of the circumcision, ⁴ shewing that himself hath greater cause than they, to trust in the righteousness of the law: ⁷ which notwithstanding he counteth as dung and loss, to gain Christ and his righteousness, ¹² therein acknowledging his own imperfection: ¹⁵ He exhorteth them to be thus minded, ¹⁷ and to imitate him, ¹⁸ and to decline the ways of carnal Christians.

The Epistle of PAUL the Apostle, to the COLOSSIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 After salutation, he thanketh God for their faith; 7 confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 9 prayeth further for their increase in grace, 14 describeth the true Christ; 21 encourageth them to receive Jesus Christ; and commendeth his own ministry.

PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother, 2 ^a To the saints ^b and faithful brethren in Christ, which are at Colosse: ^c Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^d We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you:

4 ^e Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints;

5 For the hope ^f which is laid for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel:

6 Which is come unto you, ^g as it is in all the world, and ^h bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth.

7 As ye also learned of ⁱ Epaphras our dear fellow-servant, who is for you ^k a faithful minister of Christ;

8 Who also declared unto us your ^l love in the Spirit.

9 ^m For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire ⁿ that ye might be filled with ^o the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding:

10 ^p That ye might walk worthy of the Lord, ^q unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

11 Strengthened with all might according to his glorious power, ^r unto all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness;

12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of ^s the inheritance of the saints in light:

13 Who hath delivered us from ^t the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of ^u his dear son;

14 ^v In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins.

15 Who is ^x the image of the invisible God, ^y the first-born of every creature:

16 For ^z by him were all things created that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or ^a dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created ^b by him and for him.

17 ^c And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.

18 And ^d he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, ^e the first-born from the dead; that || in all things he might have the pre-eminence.

19 For it pleased the Father, that ^f in him should all fulness dwell;

20 And (|| ^g having made peace through the blood of his cross) ^h by him to reconcile ⁱ all things unto himself, by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you ^k that were sometime alienated, and enemies || in your mind ^l by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled,

22 ^m In the body of his flesh through death, ⁿ to present you holy and unblameable, and unreprouvable in his sight:

23 If ye continue in the faith ^o grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, ^p and which was preached ^q to every creature which is under heaven; ^r whereof I Paul am made a minister.

24 ^s Who now rejoyce in my sufferings ^t for you, and fill up ^u that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for ^x his bodies sake, which is the church:

25 Whereof I am made a minister according to ^y the dispensation of God, which is given to me for you || to fulfil the word of God;

26 Even ^z the mystery which hath been hid from ages, and from generations, ^a but now is made manifest to his saints:

27 ^b To whom God would make known what is ^c the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ || in you, ^d the hope of glory:

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL the Apostle, to the THESSALONIANS.

C H A P. I.

¹ The Thessalonians are given to understand both how mindful of them S. Paul was at all times in thanksgiving and prayer; ⁵ and also how well he was persuaded of the truth, and sincerity of their faith, and conversion to God.

PAUL, and ^a Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ: ^b Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 ^c We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers,

3 ^d Remembring without ceasing ^e your work of faith, ^f and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father:

4 Knowing, brethren ^g beloved, ^h your election of God.

5 For ⁱ our gospel came not unto you in ^j word only, but also in ^k power, and ^l in the holy Ghost, ^m and in much assurance; as ⁿ ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

6 And ^o ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, ^p with joy of the holy Ghost:

7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you ^q sounded out the word of ^r the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also ^s in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad, so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves shew of us, ^t what manner of entring in we had unto you, ^u and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God,

C H A P. II.

1 In what manner the gospel was brought and preached to the Thessalonians, and in what sort also they received it. 18 A reason is rendered both why S. Paul was so long absent from them, and also why he was so desirous to see them.

* Chap. 1. 5. 9. FOR ^a your selves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain.

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at ^b Philippi, ^c we were bold in our God ^d to speak unto you the gospel of God ^e with much contention.

3 ^f For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4 But as ^g we were allowed of God ^h to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak, ⁱ not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 For ^k neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness; ^l God is witness.

6 ^m Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when ⁿ we might have ^o been ^p burdensome, ^q as the apostles of Christ.

7 But ^r we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:

8 So, being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing ^s to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also ^t our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travel: for ^u labouring night and day, ^v because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.

10 Ye are witnesses, and God also, ^x how holily, and justly, and unblameably we behaved our selves among you that believe:

11 As you know, how we exhorted and comforted, and charged every one of you (as a father doth his children)

12 ^y That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

13 For this cause also thank we God ^z without ceasing, because when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it, ^a not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers ^b of the churches of God, which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for ^c ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, ^d even as they have of the Jews:

15 ^e Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and ^f their own prophets, and have ^g persecuted us; and they please not God, ^h and are contrary to all men:

16 ⁱ Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles, that they might be saved, ^j to fill up their sins alway: ^k for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time, ^l in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly ^m to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore we would have come unto you (even I Paul) once and again; but ⁿ Satan hindred us.

19 For ^o what is our hope, or joy, or crown of ^p rejoicing? are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^q at his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

C H A P. III.

1 S. Paul testifieth his great love to the Thessalonians; partly by sending Timothy unto them to strengthen and comfort them; partly by rejoicing in their well-doing; 10 and partly by praying for them, and desiring a safe coming unto them.

Wherefore ^a when we could no longer ^b forbear, ^c we thought it good to be ^d left at Athens alone:

2 And sent ^e Timotheus our brother and ^f minister of God, and our fellow-labourer in the gospel of Christ to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith;

3 ^g That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for your selves know that ^h we are appointed thereunto.

4 ⁱ For verily when we were with you, we told you before, that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.

5 For this cause ^j when I could no longer ^k forbear, I sent to know your faith, ^l lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and ^m our labour be in vain.

6 ⁿ But now when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, ^o as we also to see you,

7 Therefore brethren, we were comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord:

9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God,

10 ^p Night and day ^q praying exceedingly ^r that we might see your face, ^s and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ ^t direct our way unto you.

12 And the Lord ^u make you to increase and abound in love ^v one towards another, and towards all men, even as we do towards you:

13 To the end he may ^w stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ ^x with all his saints.

C H A P. IV.

1 He exhorteth them to go on forward in all manner of godliness, 6 to live holily, justly, 9 to love one another, 11 and quietly to follow their own business; 13 and last of all, to sorrow moderately for the dead. 17 And unto this last exhortation is annexed a brief description of the resurrection, and second coming of Christ to judgment.

Furthermore then we ^y beseech you, brethren, and ^z exhort you by the Lord Jesus, ^a that as ye have received of us, ^b how you ought to walk, ^c and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3 For this is ^d the will of God, even ^e your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:

The Second Epistle of PAUL the Apostle, to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 S. Paul certifieth them of the good opinion which he had of their faith, love, and patience; 11 and therewithal useth divers reasons for the comforting of them in persecution, whereof the chiefest is taken from the righteous judgment of God.

AUL^a and Silvanus, and Timotheus unto the church of the Thessalonians, ^b in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 ^c Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^d We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all towards each other aboundeth:

4 So that ^e we our selves glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith ^f in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure.

5 Which is ^g a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, ^h for which ye also suffer:

6 Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;

7 And to you who are troubled, ⁱ rest with us, when ^k the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven, with [†] his mighty angels,

8 ^l In flaming fire, ^{||} taking vengeance ^m on them that know not God, and ⁿ that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

9 ^o Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and ^p from the glory of his power;

10 ^q When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, ^r and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would ^{||} count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:

12 ^s That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

1 He willeth them to continue stedfast in the truth received; 3 sheweth that there shall be a departure from the faith, 9 and a discovery of antichrist, before the day of the Lord come: 15 and thereupon repeateth his former exhortation, and prayeth for them.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, ^a by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^b and by our gathering together unto him,

2 ^c That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3 ^d Let no man deceive you by any means:

for that day shall not come ^e except there come a falling away first, and ^f that man of sin be revealed, ^g the son of perdition:

4 Who opposeth and ^h exalteth himself ⁱ above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what ^{||} withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For ^k the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that wicked be revealed, ^l whom the Lord shall consume ^m with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy ⁿ with the brightness of his coming:

9 Even him whose coming is ^o after the working of Satan, with all power, and ^p signs, and lying wonders,

10 And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness, ^q in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

11 And ^r for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, ^s that they should believe a lie:

12 That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13 But ^t we are bound to give thanks alway ^u to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord, because God ^v hath ^w from the beginning chosen you to salvation, ^x through sanctification of the spirit, and belief of the truth:

14 Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to ^y the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold ^z the traditions which ye have been taught, ^a whether by word, or our epistle.

16 ^b Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation, and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, ^c and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAP. III.

1 He craveth their prayers for himself, 3 testifieth what confidence he hath in them, 5 maketh request to God in their behalf, 6 giveth them divers precepts, especially to shun idleness and ill company; 16 and last of all concludeth with prayer and salutation.

Finally, brethren, ^a pray for us, that the word of the Lord [†] may have free course and be glorified even as it is with you;

2 And ^b that we may be delivered from [†] unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.

3 But ^c the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and ^d keep you from evil.

4 And ^e we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

¶ The First Epistle of PAUL the Apostle, to TIMOTHY.

C H A P. I.

1 Timothy is put in mind of the charge which was given unto him by Paul, at his going to Macedonia. 5 Of the right use and end of the law. 11 Of S. Pauls calling to be an apostle: 20 and of Hymeneus and Alexander.

A U L an apostle of Jesus Christ ^aby the commandment ^bof God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, ^cwhich is our hope;

2 Unto ^dTimothy, ^emy own son in the faith: ^fgrace, mercy, and peace from God our Father, and Jesus Christ our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, ^gwhen I went into Macedonia, that thou mightst charge some ^hthat they teach no other doctrine, 4 ⁱNeither give heed to fables, and endless genealogies: ^kwhich minister questions, rather than godly edifying, which is in faith: so do.

5 Now ^lthe end of the commandment is charity, ^mout of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6 From which some || having swerved, have turned aside unto ⁿvain jangling;

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law, understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that ^othe law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

9 ^pKnowing this that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for man-slayers.

10 For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary ^qto sound doctrine, 11 According to the glorious gospel of ^rthe blessed God, ^swhich was committed to my trust.

12 And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, ^tfor that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry;

13 ^vWho was before a blasphemer, and a persecuter, and injurious. But I obtained mercy, because ^xI did it ignorantly in unbelief:

14 ^yAnd the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, ^zwith faith ^aand love which is in Christ Jesus.

15 ^bThis is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that ^cChrist Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

16 Howbeit, for this cause ^dI obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long-suffering, ^efor a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

17 Now unto ^fthe King eternal, immortal, ^ginvisible, ^hthe only wise God, ⁱbe honour and glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge ^jI commit unto thee, son Timothy, ^kaccording to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightst ^lwar a good warfare, 19 ^mHolding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away, concerning faith ⁿhave made shipwreck.

20 Of whom is ^oHymeneus and ^pAlexander; whom I have ^qdelivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

C H A P. II.

1 That it is meet to pray and give thanks for all men, and the reason why. 9 How women should be attired: 12 They are not permitted to teach: 15 They shall be saved, notwithstanding the testimonies of Gods wrath, in child-birth, if they continue in faith.

I || Exhort therefore, that first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men:

2 ^aFor kings, and ^bfor all that are in || authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight ^cof God our Saviour:

- Anno Domini 65. 4^d Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth. 5 For there is one God, and ^e one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; 6 ^g Who gave himself a ransom for all, ^h || to be testified ⁱ in due time. 7 ^k Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle (^l I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not) ^m a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity. 8 I will therefore that men pray ⁿ every where, ^o lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting: 9 In like manner also, that ^p women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety: not with || brodered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array; 10 ^q But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works. 11 Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection. 12 But ^r I suffer not a woman to teach, ^s nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence. 13 For ^t Adam was first formed, then Eve. 14 And ^v Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression. 15 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in child-bearing, if they continue in faith and charity, and holiness with sobriety.

C H A P. III.

1 How bishops, and deacons, and their wives should be qualified; 14 and to what end S. Paul wrote to Timothy of these things. 15 Of the church, and the blessed truth therein taught and professed.

THIS ^a is a true saying, If a man desire the office of ^b a bishop, he desireth a good ^c work.

2 ^d A bishop then must be blameless, ^e the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, || of good behaviour, given to hospitality, ^f apt to teach;

3 ^g || Not given to wine, ^h no striker, ⁱ not greedy of filthy lucre, but patient, ^k not a brawler, not covetous;

4 One that ruleth well his own house, ^l having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not || a novice, lest being lifted up with pride, ^m he fall into the condemnation of the devil.

7 Moreover, he must have a good report ⁿ of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach, ^o and the snare of the devil.

8 Likewise must ^p the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre, 9 ^q Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.

11 ^r Even so must ^s their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children, and their own houses well.

13 For ^t they that have || used the office of a deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith, which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:

15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayst know how thou oughtst to behave thyself ^u in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and || ground of the truth.

16 And without controversy, great is the mystery of godliness: ^v God was ^w manifest in the flesh, ^x justified in the Spirit, ^y seen of angels, ^z preached unto the Gentiles, ^a believed on in the world, ^b received up into glory.

C H A P. IV.

1 He foretelleth that in the latter times there shall be a departure from the faith. 6 And to the end that Timothy might not fail in doing his duty, he furnisheth him with divers precepts belonging thereto.

NOW the Spirit ^a speaketh expressly, that ^b in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed ^c to seducing spirits, ^d and doctrines of devils;

2 Speaking lies in hypocrisy, ^e having their conscience seared with a hot iron;

3 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created ^f to be received ^g with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

4 For ^h every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, ⁱ nourished up in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But ^k refuse profane and old wives fables, and ^l exercise thyself rather unto godliness.

8 For ^m bodily exercise profiteth || little: ⁿ but godliness is profitable unto all things, ^o having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9 ^p This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance.

10 For therefore we both labour, and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, ^q who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

11 ^r These things command and teach.

12 ^s Let no man despise thy youth, but ^t be ^u thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13 Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 ^v Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee ^w by prophecy, ^x with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things, give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear || to all.

16 Take heed unto thyself, and unto thy doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both ^y save thyself, and ^z them that hear thee.

REbuke ^a not an elder, but intreat him as a father, and the younger men as brethren;
2 The elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3 Honour widows ^b that are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew || piety at home, and ^c to requite their Parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5 ^d Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and ^e continueth in supplications and prayers ^f night and day.

6 ^g But she that liveth || in pleasure, is dead while she liveth.

7 And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8 But if any provide not for his own, and ^h specially for those of his own || house, ⁱ he hath denied the faith, ^k and is worse than an infidel.

9 Let not a widow be || taken into the number, under threescore years old, ^l having been the wife of one man.

10 Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have ^m lodged strangers, if she have ⁿ washed the saints feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry:

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13 And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tatlers also, and busy-bodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 ^o I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, ^p give none occasion to the adversary [†] to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve ^q them that are widows indeed.

17 ^r Let the elders that rule well, ^s be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the scripture saith, ^t Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn: and, ^v The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but || ^x before two or three witnesses.

20 ^y Them that sin rebuke before all, ^z that others also may fear.

21 ^a I charge thee before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things || without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 ^b Lay hands suddenly on no man, ^c neither be partaker of other mens sins: keep thy self pure.

23 Drink no longer water, but use a little wine ^d for thy stomachs sake, and thine often infirmities.

24 ^e Some mens sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment: and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

C H A P. VI.

1 Of the duty of servants. 3 Not to have fellowship with new fangled teachers. 6 Godliness is great gain: 10 and love of money the root of all evil. 11 What Timothy is to flee, and what to follow; 17 and whereof to admonish the rich. 20 To keep the purity of true doctrine, and to avoid profane janglings.

LET as many ^a servants as are under the yoke, count their own masters worthy of all honour; ^b that the name of God, and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, ^c because they are brethren: but rather do them service, because they are || faithful, and beloved, partakers of the benefit. ^d These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man ^e teach otherwise, and consent ^f not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^g and to the doctrine which is according to godliness;

4 He is || proud, ^h knowing nothing, but || doting about questions and strifes of words, ⁱ whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmising,

5 ^k || Perverse disputings of ^l men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, ^m supposing that gain is godliness: ⁿ from such withdraw thy self.

6 But ^o godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 For ^p we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

8 And ^q having food and raiment let us be therewith content.

9 But ^r they that will be rich, fall into temptation, ^s and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts ^t which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have || erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 ^v But thou, ^x O man of God, flee these things: and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

12 ^y Fight the good fight of faith, ^z lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, ^a and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 ^b I give thee charge in the sight of God, ^c who quickneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, ^d who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good || confession;

14 That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukable, ^e until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:

15 Which in his times he shall shew who is ^f the blessed and only Potentate, ^g the King of kings, and Lord of lords;

16 ^h Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto, ⁱ whom no man hath seen, nor can see: ^k to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, ^l nor trust in [†] uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy:

18 That they do good, that ^m they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, || ⁿ willing to communicate,

¶ The Second Epistle of PAUL the Apostle, to TIMOTHY.

CHAP. I.

1 Pauls love to Timothy, and the unfeigned faith which was in Timothy himself, his mother and grandmother: 6 He is exhorted to stir up the gift of God which was in him, 8 to be stedfast and patient in persecution, 13 and to persist in the form and truth of that doctrine which he had learned of him. 15 Phygellus and Hermogenes, and such like are noted, and Onesiphorus is highly commended.

PAUL an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life, which is in Christ Jesus; 2 To Timothy my dearly beloved son: ^a Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 ^b I thank God, ^c whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that ^d without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day:

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy:

5 When I call to remembrance ^e the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and ^f thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance, ^g that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For ^h God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 ⁱ Be not thou therefore ashamed of ^k the testimony of our Lord, nor of me ^l his prisoner: ^m but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel, according to the power of God;

9 ⁿ Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, ^o not according to our works, but ^p according to his own purpose and grace which was given us in Christ Jesus, ^q before the world began,

10 But ^r is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, ^s who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 ^t Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 ^v For the which cause I also suffer these things; nevertheless I am not ashamed: ^x for I know whom I have ^y believed, and I am persuaded that he is able ^z to keep that which I have committed unto him ² against that day.

13 ^a Hold fast ^b the form of ^c sound words, which thou hast heard of me ^d in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

14 ^e That good thing which was committed unto thee, keep by the holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, ^f that all they which are in Asia, be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes. ^{Chap. 4. 10. 16.}

16 The Lord give mercy unto ^g the house of Onesiphorus; for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of ^h my chain. ^{Chap. 4. 10. 17.}

17 But when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me. ^{h Acts 28. 20. Ephes. 6. 20.}

18 The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day: And in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAP. II.

1 He is exhorted again to constancy and perseverance, and to do the duty of a faithful servant of the Lord, in dividing the word aright, and shunning profane and vain babblings. 17 Of Hymeneus and Philetus. 19 The foundation of the Lord is sure. 22 He is taught whereof to beware, and what to follow after, and in what sort the servant of the Lord ought to behave himself.

THOU therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus

2 ^a And the things that thou hast heard of ^b me ^c among many witnesses, ^d the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be ^e able to teach others also. ^{Chap. 1. 13. & 3. 14. Or, by. 1 Tim. 1. 18. 1 Tim. 3. 2. Tit. 1. 9. Chap. 1. 8. & 4. 5. 1 Tim. 1. 18. 1 Cor. 9. 25.}

3 ^f Thou therefore endure hardness, ^g as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

4 ^h No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And ⁱ if a man also strive for masteries, ^j yet is he not crowned except he strive lawfully. ^{1 Cor. 9. 25.}

6 ^k || The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits. ^{1 Cor. 9. 10. Or, The Husbandman labouring first, must be partaker of the fruits.}

7 Consider what I say; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that Jesus Christ ^l of the seed of David, ^m was raised from the dead, ⁿ according to my gospel: ^{Rom. 1. 3, 4. Acts 2. 30. Rom. 2. 16.}

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an evil doer, ^o even unto bonds; but the word of God is not bound. ^{Ephes. 3. 1. Phil. 1. 7. Col. 4. 3, 18.}

10 Therefore ^p I endure all things for the elects sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, with eternal glory. ^{Ephes. 3. 13. Col. 1. 24. 2 Tim. 1. 15. Rom. 6. 5, 8. 2 Cor. 4. 10. Rom. 8. 17. 1 Pet. 4. 13. Num. 23. 19. Matth. 10. 33. Mark 8. 38.}

11 ^q It is a faithful saying. For ^r if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:

12 ^s If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: ^t if we deny him, he also will deny us:

13 ^u If we believe not, ^v yet he abideth faithful; he cannot deny himself. ^{Rom. 3. 3. & 9. 6. Num. 23. 19.}

¶ The Epistle of PAUL, to TITUS.

CHAP. I.

1 For what end Titus was left in Crete. 6 How they that are to be chosen ministers, ought to be qualified.

11 The mouths of evil teachers to be stopped: 12 and what manner of men they be.

AUL a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of Gods elect, and the acknowledging of the truth, * which is after godliness:

2 || In hope of eternal life, which God ^b that cannot lie, promised * before the world began;

3 ^d But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, * which is committed unto me, ^f according to the commandment of God our Saviour:

4 To * Titus ^h mine own son after ⁱ the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldst ^k set in order the things that are || wanting, and ^l ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee.

6 ^m If any be blameless, ⁿ the husband of one wife, ^o having faithful children, not accused of riot, or unruly.

7 For a bishop must be blameless, as ^p the steward of God; not self-willed, not soon angry, ^q not given to wine, no striker, ^r not given to filthy lucre;

8 ^s But a lover of hospitality, a lover of || good men, sober, just, holy, temperate;

9 Holding fast ^t the faithful word, || as he hath been taught, that he may be able ^v by sound doctrine, both to exhort and to convince the gain-sayers.

10 For ^x there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, ^y who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, ^z for filthy lucre's sake.

12 ^a One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true: ^b wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be found in the faith;

14 ^c Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and ^d commandments of men, that turn from the truth.

15 * Unto the pure all things are pure: but ^e unto them that are defiled, and unbelieving, is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16 They profess that they know God; but ^f in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, ^h and unto every good work || reprobate.

CHAP. II.

1 Directions given unto Titus both for his doctrine and life. 9 Of the duty of servants, and in general of all Christians.

BUT speak thou the things which become ^a sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be || sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience:

3 ^b The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh || holiness, not || false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be || sober, ^c to love their husbands, to love their children,

5 ^d To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, ^e obedient to their own husbands, ^f that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be || sober-minded.

7 ^g In all things shewing thy self a pattern of good works: in doctrine shewing uncorrupt-ness, gravity, ^h sincerity,

8 ⁱ Sound speech that cannot be condemned; ^j that he that is of the contrary part, ^k may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9 Exhort ^l servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well ^m in all things; not || answering again,

10 Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11 For ⁿ the grace of God || that bringeth salvation, ^o hath appeared to all men;

12 Teaching us, ^p that denying ungodliness ^q and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world;

13 ^r Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ:

14 ^s Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, ^t and purifie unto himself ^v a peculiar people, ^w zealous of good works.

AUL ^a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, ^b and fellow labourer,

2 And to our beloved Apphia, and ^c Archippus ^d our fellow-soldier, and to ^e the church in thy house:

3 Grace to you, and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 ^f I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5 ^g Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints;

6 That the communication of thy faith, may become effectual ^h by the acknowledging of every good thing, which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints ⁱ are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore ^k though I might be much bold in Christ, to enjoin thee that which is convenient, 9 Yet for loves sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, ^l and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my son ^m Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds:

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:

12 Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him that is mine own bowels.

13 Whom I would have retained with me,

^o that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel. 1 Cor. 16. 17. Phil. 2. 30.

14 But without thy mind would I do nothing; ^p that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly. 2 Cor. 9. 7.

15 For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldst receive him for ever;

16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, ^q both in the flesh, and in the Lord? Col. 3. 22.

17 If thou count me therefore, ^r a partner, receive him as my self. 2 Cor. 8. 23.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account, 19 I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21 ^s Having confidence in thy obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say. 2 Cor. 7. 16.

22 But withal prepare me also a lodging: for ^t I trust that ^v through your prayers I shall be given unto you. Phil. 1. 25. & 2. 24.

1 Christ in these last times coming to us from the Father, 4 is preferred above the angels, both in person and office.

OD who at sundry times, and ^a in divers manners, spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, 2 Hath ^b in these last days ^c spoken unto us by his Son, ^d whom he hath appointed heir of all things, ^e by whom also he made the worlds.

3 ^f Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and ^g upholding all things by the word of his power, ^h when he had by himself purged our sins, ⁱ sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high: 4 Being made so much better than the angels, as ^k he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, ^l Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, ^m I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

6 || And again, when he bringeth in ⁿ the first-begotten into the world, he saith, ^o And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And ^p of the angels he saith, ^q Who maketh his angels spirits, and his Ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son he saith, ^r Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever; a sceptre of ^t righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom:

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, hath appointed thee with the oyl of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And ^u Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands.

11 ^v They shall perish, but thou remainest: and they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

13 But to which of the angels said he at any time, ^w Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 ^x Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

CHAP. II.

1 We ought to be obedient to Christ Jesus, 5 and that because he vouchsafed to take our nature upon him, 14 as it was necessary.

Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should ^y let them slip.

2 For if the word ^z spoken by angels was steadfast, and ^a every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward;

3 ^b How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation, ^c which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was ^d confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

4 God also bearing them witness, ^e both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and || ^f gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his own will? Anno Domini 64.

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection ^g the world to come, whereof we speak. Or, distributions. 1 Cor. 12. 4. 7. 11. Chap. 6. 5. 2 Pet. 3. 13.

6 But one in a certain place testified, saying, ^h What is man that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man that thou visitest him? Psalm 8. 4. &c.

7 Thou madest him || a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands. Or, a little while inferior to.

8 ⁱ Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now ^j we see not yet all things put under him. 1 Cor. 15. 27. Ephes. 1. 22. Chap. 1. 13.

9 But we see Jesus, ^k who was made a little lower than the angels, || for the suffering of death, ^l crowned with glory and honour; that ^m he by the grace of God should taste death ⁿ for every man. Phil. 2. 7. 8. 9. Or, by. Acts 2. 33. John 12. 32. Rom. 5. 18.

10 For it became him, ^o for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make ^p the captain of their salvation ^q perfect through sufferings. Rom. 11. 36. Acts 3. 15. &c. Luke 13. 32. Chap. 5. 9. Chap. 10. 10. 14.

11 For ^r both he that sanctifieth, and they who are sanctified, ^s are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren. Acts 17. 26.

12 Saying, ^t I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee. Psalm 22. 22. 25.

13 And again, ^u I will put my trust in him. And again, ^v Behold, I and the children which God hath given me. Psalm 18. 21. Psalm 8. 12.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, ^w he also himself likewise took part of the same: ^x that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is the devil; John 7. 14. Phil. 2. 7. 1 Cor. 15. 54. Col. 2. 15. 2 Tim. 1. 10.

15 And deliver them who ^y through fear of death were all their life-time subject to bondage. Rom. 8. 15.

16 For verily ^z he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham. Gr. he taketh not hold of angels, but of the seed of Abraham he taketh hold.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him ^a to be made like unto his brethren; that he might be ^b a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people. Phil. 2. 7. Chap. 4. 15. &c. 5. 1. 2.

18 For in that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

1 Christ is more worthy than Moses: 7 therefore if we believe not in him, we shall be more worthy punishment than hard-hearted Israel.

Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of ^c the heavenly calling, consider ^d the Apostle and high priest of our profession, Christ Jesus;

2 Who was faithful to him that ^e appointed him, as also ^f Moses was faithful in all his house. Gr. made. 1 Sam. 12. 6. Numb. 12. 7.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, in as much as ^g he who hath builded Zach. 6. 12. Matth. 16. 18.

Gr. run out as leaking vessels. Deut. 33. 2. Psalm 68. 17. Acts 7. 53. Gal. 3. 19. Deut. 27. 26. Chap. 12. 25. Matth. 4. 17. Mark 1. 14. Luke 1. 2. Mark 16. 20. Acts 14. 3. Acts 2. 22.

Anno builded the house, hath more honour than the Domini house.

64. 4 For every house is builded by some man; but ^e he that built all things is God.

5 And Moses verily was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after;

6 But Christ as a Son over his own house: ^f whose house are we, ^g if we hold fast the confidence, and the rejoycing of the hope firm unto the end.

7 Wherefore as the holy Ghost saith, ^h To day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

11 So I sware in my wrath, [†] They shall not enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13 But exhort one another daily while it is called, To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, ⁱ if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end;

15 While it is said, ^k To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For some when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, ^l whose carcases fell in the wilderness?

18 And ^m to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19 So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAP. IV.

¹ The rest of Christians is attained by faith. ¹² The power of Gods word. ¹⁴ By our high priest Jesus the Son of God, subject to infirmities, but not sin, ¹⁶ we must and may go boldly to the throne of grace.

LET us therefore fear, lest a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but [†] the word preached did not profit them, ^{||} not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3 For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, ^a As I have sworn in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, ^b And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom ^{||} it was first preached, entered not in because of unbelief:

7 Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying Anno in David, To day, after so long a time; as it Domini is said, ^c To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if ^{||} Jesus had given them rest, then ^{||} That is, John would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a ^{||} rest to the people of God. ^{||} Or, keeping of a sabbath.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

11 Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of ^{||} unbelief.

12 For the word of God is ^d quick and powerful, and ^e sharper than any ^f two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joynts and marrow, and is ^g a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 ^h Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked, ⁱ and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Seeing then that we have ^k a great high priest, ^l that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, ^m let us hold fast our profession.

15 For ⁿ we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but ^o was in all points tempted like as we are, ^p yet without sin.

16 ^q Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAP. V.

¹ The authority and honour of our Saviours priesthood. ¹¹ Negligence in the knowledge thereof is reprov'd.

FOR every high priest taken from among men, ^a is ordained for men ^b in things pertaining to God, ^c that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2 ^d Who ^{||} can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that ^e he himself also is compassed with infirmity:

3 And ^f by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4 ^g And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as ^h was Aaron;

5 ⁱ So also, Christ glorified not himself, to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, ^k Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, ^l Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, when he had ^m offered up prayers and supplications, ⁿ with strong crying and tears, unto him ^o that was able to save him from death, and was heard, ^p in that he feared;

8 Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience, by the things which he suffered:

9 And ^r being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10 Called of God an high priest ^s after the order of Melchisedec.

C H A P. VII.

1 Christ Jesus is a priest after the order of Melchisedec, ¹¹ and so far more excellent than the priests of Aarons order.

F OR this ^v Melchisedec king of Salem, [†] Gen. 14. 18. priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him:

2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all: first being by interpretation king of righteousness, and after that also, king of Salem, which is, king of peace;

3 Without father, without mother, [†] without [†] Gr. without pedigree. descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God, abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, ^b unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils. ^{Gen. 14. 20.}

5 And verily ^c they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loyns of Abraham: ^{Num. 18. 21, 26.}

6 But he whose ^{||} descent is not counted from them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed ^d him that had the promises. ^{Or, pedigree.} ^{* Rom. 4. 13.} ^{Gal. 3. 16.}

7 And without all contradiction, the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die receive tithes: but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loyns of his father when Melchisedec met him.

^{* Gal. 3. 17.} ^{Ver. 18. 19.} ^{Chap. 8. 7.} 11 ^e If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14 For it is evident that ^f our Lord sprang out of Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood. [†] Matth. 1. 3. ^{Luke 3. 33.}

15 And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest, 16 Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth, ^g Thou art a priest: [†] Psalm 110. 4. for ever after the order of Melchisedec. ^{Chap. 5. 6.}

- Then verily the first covenant had also || ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.

- 6 Now when these things were thus ordained, ^k the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.
- 7 But into the second went the high priest alone ⁱ once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people.
- 8 ^m The holy Ghost this signifying, that ^m Chap. 10. 20. ^a the way into the holiest of all, was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:
- 9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, ^a that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience,
- 10 Which stood only in ^p meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal || ordinances imposed on them until the time of reformation.
- 11 But Christ being come ⁱ an high priest of good things to come, ^a by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;
- 12 Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but ⁱ by his own blood he entered in ^a once into the holy place, ^a having obtained eternal redemption for us.

Anno Domini 64. and ² the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh; 14 How much more ^a shall the blood of Christ, ^b who through the eternal Spirit, ^c offered himself without ^{||} spot to God, ^d purge your conscience from ^e dead works to serve the living God?

15 ⁸ And for this cause ^h he is the mediator of the new testament, ⁱ that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a testament ^{is}, there must also of necessity ^{||} be the death of the testator.

17 For ^k a testament ^{is} of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all whilst the testator liveth.

18 ¹ Whereupon, neither the first testament was ^{||} dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, ^m he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water and ^{||} scarlet wooll, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book and all the people, 20 Saying, ⁿ This ^{is} the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

21 Moreover, ^o he sprinkled likewise with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and ^p without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 ^{It was} therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For ^q Christ is not entred into the holy places made with hands, ^{which are} the figures of ^r the true; but into heaven it self, now ^s to appear in the presence of God for us:

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as ^t the high priest entred into the holy place, every year with blood of others:

26 (For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world,) but now ^v once ^x in the end of the world, hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:

28 So ^y Christ was once ^z offered to bear the sins ^a of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time, without sin, unto salvation.

C H A P. X.

¹ The weakness of the law-sacrifices. ¹⁰ The sacrifice of Christ's body once offered, ¹⁴ for ever hath taken away sins. ¹⁹ An exhortation to hold fast the faith, with patience and thanksgiving.

FOR the law having ^a a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, ^b can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto ^c perfect.

2 For then ^{||} would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged, should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For ^d it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, ^e Sacrifice and offering thou wouldst not, but a body ^{||} hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt-offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo I come (In the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above, when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin thou wouldst not, neither hadst pleasure therein (which are offered by the law;)

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 ^f By the which will we are sanctified, ^g through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices which can never take away sins:

12 ^h But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, for ever sat down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting ⁱ till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering ^k he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before, 16 ^l This ^{is} the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them.

17 [†] And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now, where remission of these ^{is}, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, ^m boldness to enter ⁿ into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,

20 By a new and living way which he hath consecrated for us ^o through the vail, that is to say, his flesh;

21 And having ^p an high-priest over the house of God:

22 Let us draw near with a true heart, ^q in full assurance of faith, having our heart sprinkled ^r from an evil conscience, and ^s our bodies washed with pure water.

23 ^t Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering (for ^v he ^{is} faithful that promised)

24 And let us consider one another to provoke unto love, and to good works:

25 ^x Not forsaking the assembling of our selves together, as the manner of some ^{is}; but exhorting one another: and ^y so much the more as ye see ^z the day approaching.

26 For ^a if we sin wilfully ^b after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, 27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment, and ^c fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.

C H A P. XI.

1 What faith is. 6 Without faith we cannot please God: 7 The worthy fruits thereof in the fathers of old time.

^{Or, ground, or, confidence.} Now faith is the ^o substance of things hoped for, the evidence ^a of things not seen.

2 For ^b by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that ^c the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith ^d Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness, that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead ^e yet speaketh.

5 By faith ^f Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God, must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

7 By faith ^g Noah being warned of God of things not seen as yet, ^h moved with fear, ⁱ prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of ^j the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith ^k Abraham when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise.

10 For he looked for ^l a city which hath foundations, ^m whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also ⁿ Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and ^o was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

12 Therefore sprang there even of one, and ^p him as good as dead, ^q so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea-shore innumerable.

13 These all died ^r in faith, not having received the promises, but ^s having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and ^t confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, ^t declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly if they had been mindful of that country, from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned:

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed ^v to be called their God: for ^x he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith ^y Abraham when he was tried, offered up Isaac: and he that had received the promises, ^z offered up his only begotten son:

18 ^o Of whom it was said, ^a That in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

19 Accounting that God ^b was able to raise him up, even from the dead; from whence also he received him in a figure.

20 By faith ^c Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

21 By faith Jacob when he was a dying, ^d blessed both the sons of Joseph; and ^e worshipped leaning upon the top of his staff.

22 By faith ^f Joseph when he died, ^g made mention of the departing of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23 By faith ^h Moses when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the kings ⁱ commandment.

24 By faith ^j Moses when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaohs daughter;

25 ^k Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season;

26 Esteeming ^l the reproach ^o of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward.

27 By faith ^m he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured as ⁿ seeing him who is invisible.

28 Through faith ^o he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the first-born, should touch them.

29 By faith, ^p they passed through the Red sea, as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do were drowned.

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, ^b stopped the mouths of lions, 34 ^c Quenched the violence of fire, ^d escaped the edge of the sword, ^e out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 ^f Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were ^g tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection.

36 ^h And others had trial of cruel mockings, and scourgings, yea moreover, ⁱ of bonds and imprisonment.

37 ^k They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: ^l they wandered about ^m in sheep-skins, and goat-skins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented:

38 (Of whom the world was not worthy) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and ⁿ in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all ^o having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:

40 God having ^p provided ^q some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

C H A P. XII.

1 An exhortation to constant faith, patience, and godliness. 22 A commendation of the new testament above the old.

W Herefore, seeing we also are encompassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, ^a let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and ^b let us run ^c with patience the race that is set before us,

2 Looking unto Jesus the ^d author and finisher of our faith; ^e who for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and ^f is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied, and faint in your minds.

4 ^g Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, ^h My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For ⁱ whom the Lord loveth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth ever son whom he receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons: for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, ^j whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards and not sons.

9 Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh, which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto ^k the Father of spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us, ^l after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth ^m the peaceable fruit of righteousness, unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore ⁿ lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees.

13 And make ^o straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way, ^p but let it rather be healed.

14 ^q Follow peace with all men, and holiness, ^r without which no man shall see the Lord:

15 ^s Looking diligently, ^t lest any man ^u fail of the grace of God; ^v lest any root of bitterness springing up, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled:

16 ^w Lest there ^x be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, ^y who for one morsel of meat sold his birth-right.

17 For ye know how that afterward ^z when he would have inherited the blessing he was rejected: ^a for he found no ^b place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18 For ye are not come unto ^c the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words, which ^d voice they that heard ^e intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20 (For they could not endure that which was commanded, ^f And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart.

21 ^g And so terrible was the sight, ^h that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake)

22 But ye are come ⁱ unto mount Sion, ^j and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, ^k and to an innumerable company of angels,

23 To the general assembly and church of the first-born ^l which are ^m written in heaven, and to God the judge of all, and to the spirits of just men, ⁿ made perfect, 24 And to Jesus ^o the mediator of the new ^p covenant, and to ^q the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things ^r than that of Abel.

25 See that ye refuse not him that speaketh: For ^s if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more ^t shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26 ^u Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, ^v Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth ^w the removing of those things that ^x are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, ^y let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear.

29 For ^z our God is a consuming fire.

¹⁵ By him therefore let us offer ^s the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is ^t the fruit of our lips, [†] giving thanks to his name. ¹⁶ But to do good, and to communicate; forget not: for ^v with such sacrifices God is well pleased. ¹⁷ Obey them that || have the rule over you, and submit your selves: for ^y they watch for your souls, as they that must give account: that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you. ¹⁸ Pray for us: for we trust we have ^z a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly. ¹⁹ But I beseech you ^a the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner. ²⁰ Now ^b the God of peace ^c that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, ^d that great shepherd of the sheep, ^e through the blood of the everlasting || covenant, ²¹ Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, || working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; ⁸ to whom be glory for ever and ever. ¶ The general Epistle of JAMES.

CHAP. I.

We are to rejoyce under the cross, ⁵ to ask wisdom of God, ¹³ and in our trials not to impute our weakness, or sins unto him, ¹⁹ but rather to hearken to the word, to meditate in it, and to do thereafter: ²⁶ otherwise men may seem, but never be truly religious.

JAMES ^a a servant of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ, ^b to the twelve tribes, ^c which are scattered abroad, greeting.

² My brethren, ^d count it all joy ^e when ye fall into divers temptations;

³ ^f Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

⁴ But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

⁵ ⁸ If any of you lack wisdom, ^h let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and ⁱ it shall be given him.

⁶ ^k But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea, driven with the wind and tossed.

⁷ For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

⁸ ¹ A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways.

⁹ Let the brother of low degree || rejoyce in that he is exalted:

¹⁰ But the rich, in that he is made low: because ^m as the flower of the grass, he shall pass away.

¹¹ For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

¹² ⁿ Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive ^o the crown of life, ^p which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

¹³ Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with || evil, neither tempteth he any man.

¹⁴ But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

¹⁵ Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

¹⁶ Do not err, my beloved brethren.

¹⁷ ^q Every good gift, and every perfect gift ^r is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, ^s with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

¹⁸ ^t Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, ^u that we should be a kind of ^v first-fruits of his creatures.

¹⁹ Wherefore, my beloved brethren, ^x let every man be swift to hear, ^y slow to speak, ^z slow to wrath.

21 Wherefore ^a lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

22 But ^b be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For ^c if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But ^d who so looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, ^e this man shall be blessed in his || deed.

26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and ^f bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this mans religion is vain.

27 Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father, is this, ^h To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, ⁱ and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAP. II.

1 It is not agreeable to Christian profession to regard the rich, and to despise the poor brethren: 13 rather we are to be loving and merciful; 14 and not to boast of faith where no deeds are: 17 which is but a dead faith, 19 the faith of devils, 21 not of Abraham, 25 and Rahab.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ ^a the Lord of glory with ^b respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your [†] assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here || in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my foot-stool:

4 Are ye not then partial in your selves and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, ^c hath not God chosen the poor of this world, ^d rich in faith, and heirs of || the kingdom, ^e which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But ^f ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, ^g and draw you before the judgment-seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name, by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, ^h Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self, ye do well.

9 But ⁱ if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as trans-gressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, ^k he is guilty of all.

11 For || he that said, ^l Do not commit adultery; said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by ^m the law of liberty.

13 For ⁿ he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy; and
^o mercy || rejoiceth against judgment.

14 ^p What doth it profit, my brethren, Anno though a man say he hath faith, and have not Domini works? can faith save him?

15 ^q If a brother or sister be naked, and deftitute of daily food;

16 And ^r one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and filled: notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body, what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead being [†] alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith || without thy works, ^s and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God;
thou dost well: ^t the devils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, ^u when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 || Seest thou ^x how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, ^y Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called ^z the friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also, ^a was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the || spirit is || Or, breath, dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAP. III.

1 We are not rashly or arrogantly to reprove others:
5 but rather to bridle the tongue, a little member, but a powerful instrument of much good and great harm. 13 They who be truly wise be mild, and peaceable, without envying and strife.

MY brethren, ^a be not many masters, ^b knowing that we shall receive the greater || condemnation.

2 For ^c in many things we offend all. ^d If any man offend not in word, ^e the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, ^f we put bits in the horses mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so ^g the tongue is a little member, and ^h boasteth great things. Behold how great || a matter a little fire kindleth!

6 And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue amongst our members, that ⁱ it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the [†] course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every [†] kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things in the sea, is tamed,
and hath been tamed of [†] mankind:

8 But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poyson.

Anno Domini 9 Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, ^k which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear oliveberries? either a vine figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 ¹ Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge amongst you? let him shew out of a good conversation ^m his works ⁿ with meekness of wisdom.

14 But if ye have ^o bitter envying and strife in your hearts, ^p glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15 ^q This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, || sensual, devilish.

16 For ^r where envying and strife is, there is ⁺ confusion, and every evil work.

17 But ^s the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easie to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, || without partiality, ^t and without hypocrisie.

18 ^v And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

C H A P. IV.

¹ We are to strive against covetousness, ⁴ intemperance, ⁵ pride, ¹¹ detraction and rash judgment of others: ¹³ and not to be confident in the good success of worldly business; but mindful ever of the uncertainty of this life, to commit our selves and all our affairs to Gods providence.

From whence come wars and || fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your || lusts, ^a that war in your members?

2 Ye lust, and have not: ye || kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 ^b Ye ask, and receive not, ^c because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your || lusts.

4 ^d Ye adulterers, and adulteresses know ye not that ^e the friendship of the world is enmity with God? ^f whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, is the enemy of God.

5 Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, ^g The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth || to envy?

6 But he giveth more grace: wherefore he saith, ^h God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 Submit your selves therefore to God; ⁱ resist the devil, and he will flee from you:

8 ^k Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: ^l cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purifie your hearts ye ^m double-minded.

9 ⁿ Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10 ^o Humble your selves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, ^p and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 There is one law-giver, who is able to save, and to destroy: ^q who art thou that judgest another?

13 ^r Go to now, ye that say, To day or to morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy, and sell, and get gain:

14 Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow: For what is your life? || ^s It is even a vapour that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15 For that ye ought to say, ^t If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.

16 But now ye rejoyce in your boastings: ^v all such rejoycing is evil.

17 Therefore ^x to him that knoweth to do good, and doth it not, to him it is sin.

C H A P. V.

¹ Wicked rich men are to fear Gods vengeance. ⁷ We ought to be patient in afflictions, after the example of the prophets, and Job; ¹² to forbear swearing; ¹³ to pray in adversity, to sing in prosperity; ¹⁶ to acknowledge mutually our several faults, to pray one for another; ¹⁹ and to reduce a straying brother to the truth.

GO ^a to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2 Your riches are corrupted, and ^b your garments are moth-eaten.

3 Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire: ^c ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4 Behold, ^d the hire of the labourers, which have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and ^e the cries of them which have reaped, are entred into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth.

5 ^f Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 ^g Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist you.

7 || Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive ^h the early and latter rain.

8 Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: ⁱ for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 ^k || Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge ^l standeth before the door.

10 Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, ^m we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of ⁿ the patience of Job, and have seen ^o the end of the Lord: that ^p the Lord is very pitiful and of tender mercy.

12 But above all things, my brethren, ^q swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? ^r let him sing psalms.

14 Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, ^s anointing him with oyl in the name of the Lord:

The First Epistle General of PETER.

CHAP. I.

1 He blesteth God for his manifold spiritual graces, 10 shewing that the salvation in Christ is no news, but a thing prophesied of old: 13 and exhorteth them accordingly to a godly conversation, forasmuch as they are now born anew by the word of God.

PETER an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers * scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 Elect * according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, * through sanctification of the Spirit unto obedience, and * sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: * Grace unto you and peace be multiplied.

3 * Blessed be the God, and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his * abundant mercy, * hath begotten us again unto a lively hope, * by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, * and that fadeth not away, * reserved in heaven || for you,

5 * Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 * Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now * for a season (if need be) * ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations.

7 That * the tryal of your faith being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though * it be tried with fire, * might be found unto praise, and honour, and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

8 * Whom having not seen, ye love; * in whom though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable, and full of glory:

9 Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10 * Of which salvation the prophets have enquired, and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11 Searching what, or what manner of time * the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand * the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 * Unto whom it was revealed, that * not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you, with * the holy Ghost sent down from heaven; * which things the angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore * gird up the loyns of your mind, * be sober, and hope * to the end, for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ;

14 As obedient children, * not fashioning your selves according to the former lusts * in your ignorance:

15 But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16 Because it is written, * Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if ye call on the Father, * who without respect of persons judgeth according to every mans work, * pass the time of your sojourning here in fear:

18 Forasmuch as ye know * that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things as silver and gold, from your vain conversation * received by tradition from your fathers;

19 But * with the precious blood of Christ, * as of a Lamb without blemish and without spot:

20 * Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifested * in the last times for you;

21 Who by him do believe in God * that raised him up from the dead, and * gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God.

22 Seeing ye * have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit, unto unfeigned * love of the brethren; see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

23 * Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, * by the word of God which liveth and abideth for ever.

24 || For * all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man, as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:

25 * But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAP. II.

He deborteth them from the breach of charity; 4 shewing that Christ is the foundation whereupon they are built: 11 He beseebeth them also to abstain from fleshly lusts, 13 to be obedient to magistrates; 18 and teacheth servants how to obey their masters, 20 patiently suffering for well-doing, after the example of Christ.

Wherefore * laying aside all malice and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil-speakingings,

2 As new-born babes desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3 If so be ye have * tasted that the Lord is gracious.

Anno Domini 4 To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious.

5^d Ye also as lively stones, || are built up a spiritual house, ^f an holy priesthood to offer up ^g spiritual sacrifices, ^h acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, ⁱ Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner-stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

7 Unto you therefore which believe he is || precious: but unto them which be disobedient, ^k the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 ^l And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, ^m even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient, ⁿ whereunto also they were appointed.

9 But ye are a chosen generation, ^o a royal priesthood, an holy nation, || a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the || praises of him who hath called you out of ^p darkness into his marvellous light:

10 ^q Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you ^r as strangers and pilgrims, ^s abstain from fleshly lusts ^t which war against the soul;

12 ^v Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that || whereas they speak against you as evil-doers, ^x they may by your good works which they shall behold, glorify God ^y in the day of visitation.

13 ^z Submit your selves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14 Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him ^a for the punishment of evil-doers, and ^b for the praise of them that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that ^c with well-doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

16 ^d As free, and not ^e using your liberty for a cloke of maliciousness, but as ^f the servants of God.

17 ^g || Honour all men. ^h Love the brotherhood. ⁱ Fear God. Honour the king.

18 ^j Servants be subject to your masters with all fear, not only to the good and gentle, but alto the froward.

19 For this is || ^k thank-worthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.

20 For ^l what glory is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently; this is || acceptable with God.

21 For ^m even hereunto were ye called: because ⁿ Christ also suffered || for us, ^o leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

22 ^p Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:

23 ^q Who when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but || committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:

24 ^r Who his own self bare our sins in his own body || on the tree, ^s that we being dead to sin, should live unto righteousness: ^t by whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For ^v ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned ^x unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

C H A P. III.

1 He teacheth the duty of wives and husbands to each other; 8 exhorting all men to unity and love, 14 and to suffer persecution: 19 He declareth also the benefits of Christ toward the old world.

Likewise, ^a ye wives, be in subjection to ^b your own husbands, that if any obey not the word, ^b they also may without the word ^c be won by the conversation of the wives,

2 ^d While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3 ^e Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning, of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel:

4 But let it be ^f the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner in the old time, the holy women also who trusted in God adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands;

6 Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, ^g calling him lord: whose ^h daughters ye are as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7 ⁱ Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife ^j as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; ^k that your prayers be not hindred.

8 Finally, ^l be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, || love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

9 ^m Not rendring evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise, blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, ⁿ that ye should inherit a blessing.

10 For ^o he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile.

11 Let him ^p eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is ^q against them that do evil.

13 ^r And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 ^s But and if ye suffer for righteousness sake, happy are ye: and ^t be not afraid of their terrour, neither be troubled;

15 But sanctifie the Lord God in your hearts: and ^u be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meekness and || fear:

16 ^v Having a good conscience; that where-as they speak evil of you, as of evil-doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil-doing.

18 For Christ also hath ^x once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, (that he might bring 66.

IMON || Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained a like precious faith with us, through the righteousness of God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ:

2 Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue.

4 Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises; that by these you might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 And besides this giving all diligence, add to your faith, virtue; and to virtue, knowledge;

6 And to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness;

7 And to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, charity.

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren, nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things, is blind and cannot see far off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly, into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up, by putting you in remembrance:

14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 Moreover, I will endeavour, that you may be able after my decease, to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eye-witnesses of his majesty. Anno Domini 66.

17 For he received from God the Father, honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well-pleased. ^{* Matth. 17. 1, 2. John 1. 14. 1 John 1. 1. & 4. 14. * Matth. 3. 17. & 17. 5.}

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount. ^{* See Exod. 3. 5. Josh. 5. 15.}

19 We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed; as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts: ^{* Psal. 119. 105. John 5. 35. * Rev. 2. 28. & 22. 16.}

20 Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation. ^{* Rom. 12. 6.}

21 For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the holy Ghost. ^{* 2 Tim. 3. 16. 1 Pet. 1. 11. * Luke 1. 70.}

C H A P. II.

1 He foretelleth them of false teachers, shewing the impiety and punishment both of them and their followers; 7 from which the godly shall be delivered, as Lot was out of Sodom: 10 and more fully describeth the manners of those profane and blasphemous seducers, whereby they may be the better known, and avoided.

BUT there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false Teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. ^{* Deut. 13. 1. * Matth. 24. 11. Acts 20. 30. 1 Cor. 11. 19. 1 Tim. 4. 1. 2 Tim. 3. 1, 5. 1 John 4. 1. Jude 18. * See Jude 4. * Hebr. 10. 29. * Phil. 3. 19. * Or, lascivious ways, as some Copies read. 2 Cor. 12. 17. 18. 1 Tim. 6. 5. Tit. 1. 11. * 2 Cor. 2. 17. Ch. 1. 16. * Deut. 32. 35. Jude 4. Job 4. 18. Jude 6. * John 8. 44. 1 John 3. 8. 1 Luke 8. 31. * Gen. 7. 1, 7. 23. 1 Pet. 2. 20. * 1 Pet. 3. 19.}

2 And many shall follow their pernicious ways, by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3 And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingreth not, and their damnation slumbereth not. ^{* 2 Cor. 12. 17. 18. 1 Tim. 6. 5. Tit. 1. 11. * 2 Cor. 2. 17. Ch. 1. 16. * Deut. 32. 35. Jude 4. Job 4. 18. Jude 6. * John 8. 44. 1 John 3. 8. 1 Luke 8. 31. * Gen. 7. 1, 7. 23. 1 Pet. 2. 20. * 1 Pet. 3. 19.}

4 For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5 And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6 And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into ashes, condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly; ^{* Gen. 19. 24. Jude 7. * Numb. 26. 10. * Gen. 19. 16.}

7 And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds) ^{* Wisd. 19. 17. * Psal. 119. 15. Ezek. 9. 4.}

9 The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

Anno Domini 66. 10 But chiefly ^v them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government: ^{*} Presumptuous are they, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities:

11 Whereas ^v angels which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation ^{||} against them before the Lord.

12 But these, ² as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not, and shall utterly perish in their own corruption;

13 And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day-time: ^{*} spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings, while ^b they feast with you;

14 Having eyes full of [†] adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of ^c Balaam the son of Bofor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with mans voice, forbade the madness of the prophet.

17 ^d These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest, to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For when ^e they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that ^f were ^{||} clean escaped from them who live in error:

19 While they promise them ^s liberty, they themselves are ^b the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For ⁱ if after they ^k have escaped the pollutions of the world ^l through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again intangled therein, and overcome; the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 For ^m it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, ⁿ The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and, The sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

C H A P. III.

He assureth them of the certainty of Christs coming to judgment, against those scorers who dispute against it; 8 warning the godly for the long patience of God, to hasten their repentance: 10 He describeth also the manner how the world shall be destroyed; 11 exhorting them from the expectation thereof, to all holiness of life: 15 and again, to think the patience of God to tend to their salvation, as Paul wrote to them in his epistles.

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which ^a I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may be mindful of the words, Anno Domini 66. which were spoken before by the holy prophets, ^b and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 ^c Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

4 And saying, ^d Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that ^e by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth [†] standing out of the water, and in the water.

6 ^f Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished.

7 But ^h the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto ⁱ fire against the day of judgment, ² and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and ^k a thousand years as one day.

9 ^l The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, (as some men count slackness) but ^m is long suffering to us-ward, ⁿ not willing that any should perish, but ^o that all should come to repentance.

10 But ^p the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in the which ^q the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burnt up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be ^r in all holy conversation and godliness,

12 Looking for and ^{||} hastening unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall ^s be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for ^t new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent ^v that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless:

15 And account that ^x the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him, hath written unto you;

16 As also in all his epistles, ^y speaking in them of these things: in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloved, ^z seeing ye know these things before, ^a beware lest ye also being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness.

18 ^b But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ: To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

The First Epistle general of JOHN.

CHAP. I.

1 He describeth the person of Christ, in whom we have eternal life by a communion with God: 5 to which we must adjoyn holiness of life, to testifie the truth of that our communion and profession of faith, as also to assure us of the forgiveness of our sins, by Christs death.

2 (For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us)

3 That which we have seen and heard, declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4 And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

5 This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6 If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive our selves, and the truth is not in us.

9 If we confess our sins, he is faithful, and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAP. II.

1 He comforteth them against the sins of infirmity.

3 Rightly to know God, is to keep his commandments,

9 to love our brethren, 15 and not to love the world. 18 We must beware of seducers: 20 from whose deceits the godly are safe preserved by perseverance in faith and holiness of life.

20 from whose deceits the godly are safe preserved by perseverance in faith and holiness of life.

MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2 And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But who so keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.

6 He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

10 He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his names sake.

13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15 Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doth the will of God, abideth for ever.

18 Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from us, but they were not of us: for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest, that they were not all of us.

20 But ye have an unction from the holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you, because ye know not the truth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? he is antichrist that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

BEhold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that * we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, ^b because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, * now are we the sons of God, and ^d it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know, that when he shall appear, * we shall be like him; for ^f we shall see him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sin, transgresseth also the law: for ^e sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know ^b that he was manifested ⁱ to take away our sins; and ^k in him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: ^l whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, ^m let no man deceive you: ⁿ He that doth righteousness, is righteous, even as he is righteous:

8 * He that committeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 ^p Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin; for ^q his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: Whosoever doth not righteousness is not of God, ^r neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 For * this is the || message that ye heard from the beginning, ^s that we should love one another.

12 Not as ^v Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother: And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brothers righteous.

13 Marvel not, my brethren, if * the world hate you.

14 ^y We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren: ^z he that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 * Whosoever hateth his brother, is a murderer: and ye know that ^b no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 * Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17 But ^d who so hath this worlds good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, * how dwelleth the love of God in him?

18 My little children, ^f let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we know ^g that we are of the truth, and shall ^h assure our hearts before him.

20 ^h For if our heart condemn us, God is ⁱ greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 ⁱ Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, ^k then have we confidence towards God.

22 And ^l whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, ^m and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 And ⁿ this is his commandment, that we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and * love one another, ^p as he gave us commandment.

24 And ^q he that keepeth his commandments, ^r dwelleth in him, and he in him: and ^s hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

C H A P. IV.

1 He warneth them not to believe all teachers who boast of the Spirit, but to try them by the rules of the catholick faith: 7 and by many reasons exhorteth to brotherly love.

BEloved, * believe not every spirit, but ^b try the spirits whether they are of God: ^c because ^d many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby know ye the spirit of God, ^d Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

3 And * every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof you have heard that it should come, and ^e even now already is it in the world.

4 Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than ^f he that is in the world.

5 ^h They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and ⁱ the world heareth them.

6 We are of God: ^k he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. Hereby know we ^l the Spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 ^m Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth, is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not, ⁿ knoweth not God; for ^o God is love.

9 ^p In this was manifested the love of God towards us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

10 Herein is love, ^q not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son ^r to be the propitiation for our sins.

11 Beloved, ^s if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 ^t No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and ^v his love is perfected in us.

He that loveth God, loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments; † which to the faithful are light, and not grievous. † Jesus is the Son of God, able to save us, † and to hear our prayers, which we make for our selves, and for others.

W Hosoever † believeth that † Jesus is the Christ, is † born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2 By † this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and keep his commandments.

3 † For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and † his commandments are not grievous.

4 For † whatsoever is born of God, overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but † he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6 This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood: and it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth. After 7 For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, † the Word, and the holy † Ghost: and these three are one.

8 And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive † the witness of men, † the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Son.

10 He that believeth on the son of God, † hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God, † hath made him a liar, because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11 And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life: and † this life is in his † Son.

12 † He that hath the Son, hath life, and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.

13 † These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; † that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have † in him, that † if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and † he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. † There is a sin unto death: † I do not that he shall pray for it.

17 † All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.

18 We know that † whosoever is born of God, sinneth not, but he that is begotten of God, † keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

20 And we know † that the Son of God is come, and † hath given us an understanding † that we may know him that is true: and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. † This is the true God, † and eternal life.

21 Little children, † keep your selves from idols. Amen.

¶ The Second Epistle of JOHN.

He exhorteth a certain honourable matron with her children, to persevere in Christian love and belief, † lest they lose the reward of their former profession; † and to have nothing to do with those seducers that bring not the true doctrine of Christ Jesus.

¶ The Third Epistle of JOHN.

He commendeth Gaius for his piety, 5 and hospitality, 7 to true preachers; 9 complaining of the unkind dealing of ambitious Diotrefes on the contrary side; 11 whose evil example is not to be followed; 12 and giveth special testimony to the good report of Demetrius.

1 Or, pray.

THE elder unto the well-beloved Gaius, ^a whom I love || in the truth.

2 Beloved, I || wish above all things that thou mayst prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoyced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as ^b thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater joy than to hear that ^c my children walk in the truth.

5 Beloved, thou dost faithfully whatsoever thou dost to the brethren, and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey [†] after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellow-helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Diotrefes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.

11 Beloved, ^d follow not that which is evil, ^e but that which is good. ^f He that doth good, is of God: but he that doth evil, hath not ^g seen God.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth it self: yea, and we also bear record, ^h and ye know that our record is ⁱ true.

13 ^j I had many things to write, but I ^k will not with ink and pen write unto thee.

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak [†] face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

¶ The general Epistle of JUDE.

He exhorteth them to be constant in the profession of the faith. 4 False teachers are crept in to seduce them, for whose damnable doctrine and manners, horrible punishment is prepared: 20 whereas the godly by the assistance of the holy Spirit, and prayers to God, may persevere and grow in grace, and keep themselves, and recover others out of the snares of those deceivers.

2 Mercy unto you, and peace, and love be multiplied.

3 Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you ^c of the common salvation: it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ^d ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

4 ^e For there are certain men crept in unawares, ^f who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, ^g turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and ^h denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, ⁱ how that the Lord having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward ^k destroyed them that believed not.

6 And ^l the angels which kept not their ^m first estate, but left their own habitation, ⁿ he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness, ^o unto the judgment of the great day.

Anno Domini 8 ^P Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and ⁹ speak evil of dignities.

⁹ Yet ¹ Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil, he disputed about the body of Moses, ² durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, ³ The Lord rebuke thee.

¹⁰ ^V But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally as brute beasts; in those things they corrupt themselves.

¹¹ Wo unto them; for they have gone in the way ^x of Cain, and ^y ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished ^z in the gainfaying of Core.

¹² ^a These are spots in your ^b feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: ^c clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, ^d plucked up by the roots;

¹³ ^e Raging waves of the sea, ^f foming out their own shame; wandering stars, ^g to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

¹⁴ And Enoch also, ^h the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, ⁱ the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints, speeches, which ungodly finners have spoken against him.

¹⁷ ^m But beloved, remember ye the words ⁿ which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ:

¹⁸ How that they told you ^o there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

¹⁹ These be they ^p who separate themselves, ^q sensual, having not the Spirit.

²⁰ But ye, beloved, ^r building up your selves on your most holy faith, ^s praying in the holy Ghost, ²¹ Keep your selves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

²² And of some have compassion, making a difference:

²³ And others ^t save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even ^u the garment spotted by the flesh.

20 The mystery ^c of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, ^d and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are ^e the angels of the seven churches: and ^f the seven candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seven churches.

CHAP. II.

What is commanded to be written to the angels (that is, the ministers) of the churches of 1 Ephesus, 8 Smyrna, 12 Pergamos, 18 Thyatira: and what is commended, or found wanting in them.

Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus, write, These things saith ^a he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, ^b who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks;

2 ^c I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and ^d thou hast tried them ^e which say they are apostles, and are not; and hast found them liars:

3 And hast born, and hast patience, and for my names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Nevertheless, I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; ^f or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of ^g the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

7 ^h He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches, To him that overcometh will I give ⁱ to eat of ^k the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

8 And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna, write, These things saith ^l the first, and the last, which was dead, and is alive;

9 ^m I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art ⁿ rich) and I know the blasphemy of ^o them which say they are Jews, and are not, ^p but are the synagogue of Satan.

10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee ^q a crown of life.

11 ^r He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches, He that overcometh, shall not be hurt of ^s the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamos, write, These things saith ^t he, which hath the sharp sword with two edges, 13 ^v I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even ^x where Satans seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of ^y Balaam, who taught Balac to cast ^z a stumbling-block before the children of Israel, ^a to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to ^b commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine ^c of the Nicolaitans, which thing I ^d hate.

16 Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and ^e will fight against them with the sword of thy mouth.

17 ^f He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches, To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone ^g a new name written, which no ^h man knoweth, saving he that receiveth it.

18 And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira, write, These things saith the Son of God, ⁱ who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brags;

19 ^j I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman ^k Jezebel, which calleth her self a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants ^l to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space ^m to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that ⁿ I am ^o he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and ^p I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, As many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak, ^q I will put upon you none other burden.

25 But ^r that which ye have already, hold fast till I come.

26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth ^s my works unto the end, ^t to him will I give power over the nations:

27 (^u And he shall rule them with a rod of iron: as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers) even as I received of my Father.

28 And I will give him ^v the morning star.

29 ^w He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

Domini 2 The angel of the church of Sardis is reprov'd, 3 ex-96. hort'd to repent, and threatn'd if he do not repent. 8 The angel of the church of Philadelphia, 10 is approv'd for his diligence and patience. 15 The angel of Laodicea is rebuk'd, for being neither hot nor cold, 19 and admonish'd to be more zealous. 20
Christ standeth at the door and knocketh.

And unto the angel of the church in Sardis, write, These things saith he ^a that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; ^b I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2 Be watchful and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 ^c Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and ^d repent.

^e If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast ^f a few names even in Sardis, which have not ^g defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me ^h in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not ⁱ blot out his name out of the ^k book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father and before his angels.

6 ^m He that hath an ear let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia, write, These things saith ⁿ he that is holy, ^o he that is true, he that hath ^p the key of David, ^q he that openeth, and no man shut-teth; and ^r shutteth, and no man openeth:

8 ^s I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee ^t an open door, and no man can shut it:
for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make ^v them of the synagogue of Satan (which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie) behold ^x I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, ^y I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, ^z which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell ^a upon the earth.

11 Behold, ^b I come quickly: ^c hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take ^d thy crown.

12 Him that overcometh, will I make ^e a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and ^f I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is ^g new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: ^h and I will write upon him my new name.

13 ⁱ He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14 And unto the angel of the church || of the Laodiceans, write, ^k These things saith the Amen, ^l the faithful and true witness, ^m the beginning of the creation of God;

15 ⁿ I know thy works that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then because thou art luke-warm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth:

17 Because thou sayst, ^o I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, Anno and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked. Domini 18 I counsel thee ^p to buy of me gold tried 96.

in the fire, that thou mayst be rich; and ^q white raiment, that that thou mayst be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear;
and anoint thine eyes with eye salve, that thou

19 ^r As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: ^s Job 5. 17.
be zealous therefore and repent. Prov. 3. 11, 12,

1 The book sealed with seven seals; 9 which only the Lamb that was slain is worthy to open. 12 Therefore the elders praise him, 9 and confess that he redeemed them with his blood.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne, a book written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3 And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4 And I wept much because no man was found worthy to open, and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the root of David hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the book, the four beasts, and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints.

9 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation;

10 And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne, and the beasts, and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;

12 Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I, saying, Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb forever and ever.

14 And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

1 The opening of the seals in order, and what followed thereupon; containing a prophecie to the end of the world.

And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts, saying, Come, and see.

2 And I saw, and behold, a white horse; and he that sat on him had a bow, and a crown was given unto him, and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come, and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come, and see. And I beheld, and lo, a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oyl and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come, and see.

8 And I looked, and behold, a pale horse; and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him: and power was given unto them, over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held.

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given unto every one of them, and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow servants also, and their brethren that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo, there was a great earthquake, and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig-tree casteth her figs when she is shaken of a mighty wind:

14 And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places:

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bond-man, and every free-man, hid themselves in the dens, and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb;

17 For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

AND after these things, I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, ^a holding the four winds of the earth, ^b that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, ^c Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have ^d sealed the servants of our God, ^e in their foreheads.

4 ^f And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthalim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and lo, ^g a great multitude, which no man could number, ^h of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, ^k Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 ^l And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders, and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God.

12 ^m Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in ⁿ white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, ^o These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have ^p washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall ^q dwell among them.

16 ^r They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, ^s neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

AND ^a when he had opened the seventh seal, there was great silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 ^b And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; ^c and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should ^d offer it with ^e the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar, which was before the throne.

4 And ^f the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God, out of the angels hand.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it ^g into the earth: and ^h there were voices and thundrings, and lightnings, ⁱ and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets, prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, ^j and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast ^k upon the earth: and the third part ^l of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, ^m and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea; ⁿ and the third part of the sea ^o became blood:

9 ^p And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, ^q and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, ^r and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:

11 ^s And the name of the star is called Wormwood: ^t and the third part of the waters became wormwood; ^u and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 ^v And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

^e 4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, ^e Seal up ^e those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

^f 5 And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea, and upon the earth, ^f lifted up his hand ^f to heaven,

^g 6 And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, ^g who created heaven and the things that therein are, and the earth and the things that therein are, and the sea and the things which are therein, ^g that there should be time no longer:

^h 7 But ^h in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

ⁱ 8 And ⁱ the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go, and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea, and upon the earth.

^j 9 And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, ^j Take it, and eat it up; and it shall ^j make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as hony.

^k 10 And I took the little book out of the angels hand, and ate it up; ^k and it was in my ^k mouth sweet as hony: and as soon as I had eaten it, ^k my belly was bitter.

^l 11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesie again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

3 The two witnesses prophesie: 6 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not: 7 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them: 8 They lie unburied, 11 and after three days and a half rise again. 14 The second woe is past. 15 The seventh trumpet soundeth.

AND there was given me ^a a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, ^a Rise, and measure the temple of God, and ^a the altar, and them that worship therein.

3 And || I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesie^h a thousand two hundred and threescore days clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are theⁱ two olive trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, ^k fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: ^l and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These^m have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophesie: and ⁿ have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they^o shall have finished their testimony, ^p the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit, ^r shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, ^t where also our Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies, three days and an half, ^x and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoyce over them, and make merry, ^z and shall send gifts one to another; ^a because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three days and an half, ^b the Spirit of Life from God entred into them: and they stood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying unto them, Come up hither. ^d And they ascended up to heaven ^e in a cloud, ^f and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour ^g was there a great earthquake, ^h and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain ⁱ of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, ^j and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 ^k The second wo is past, and behold, the third wo cometh quickly.

15 And ^l the seventh angel sounded ^m and there were great voices in heaven, saying, ⁿ The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ, ^o and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And ^p the four and twenty elders which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God almighty, ^q which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, ^r and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, ^t and the time of the dead that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, ^v small and great, ^x and shouldst destroy them which || destroy the earth.

19 And ^y the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and ^z there were lightnings, and voices, and thundrings, and an earthquake, and ^a great hail.

C H A P. XII.

1 A woman clothed with the sun travaileth: 4 The great red dragon standeth before her, ready to devour her child. 6 When she was delivered she fleeth into the wilderness. 7 Michael and his angels fight with the dragon, and prevail. 13 The dragon being cast down into the earth, persecuteth the woman.

AND there appeared a great || wonder in || heaven, a woman cloathed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child, cried, ^a travail- ing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another || wonder in || heaven, and behold, ^b a great red dragon, ^c having seven heads, and ten horns, ^d and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And ^e his tail drew the third part ^f of the stars of heaven; ^g and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood ^h before the woman which was ready to be delivered, ⁱ for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And she brought forth a man-child, ^k who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And ^l the woman fled into the wilderness, ^m where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there ⁿ a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven; ⁿ Michael and his angels fought ^o against the dragon, and the dragon fought and his angels:

8 And prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And ^p the great dragon was cast out, ^q that old serpent, called the devil and Satan, ^r which deceiveth the whole world: ^s he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, ^t Now is come salvation and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, ^v which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And ^x they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; ^y and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore ^z rejoyce, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. ^a Wo to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, ^b because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted ^c the woman which brought forth the man-child.

14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, ^d that she might fly ^e into the wilderness, into her place: where she is nourished ^f for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

1 A beast riseth out of the sea with seven heads and ten horns, to whom the dragon giveth his power. 11 Another beast cometh up out of the earth; 14 causeth an image to be made of the former beast, 15 and that men should worship it, 16 and receive his mark.

^a Dan. 7. 2, 7. AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw ^a a beast rise up out of the sea, ^b having seven heads, and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the ^{||} name of blasphemy.

2 And ^c the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, ^d and his feet were as the feet of a bear, ^e and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and ^f the dragon gave him his power, ^g and his seat, ^h and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads, ⁱ as it were [†] wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and ^k all the world wondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, ^l Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him ^m a mouth speaking great things, and blasphemies; and power was given unto him ^{||} to continue ⁿ forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, ^o and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him ^p to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: ^q and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, ^r whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain ^s from the foundation of the world.

9 ^t If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 ^v He that leadeth into captivity, shall go into captivity: ^x He that killeth with the sword, must be killed with the sword. ^y Here is the patience, and the faith of the saints.

11 And I beheld another beast ^z coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth, and them which dwell therein, to worship the first beast, ^a whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And ^b he doth great wonders, ^c so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth, in the sight of men,

14 And ^d deceiveth them that dwell on the earth, ^e by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast which had the wound by a sword, ^f and did live.

15 And he had power to give [†] life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, ^g and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, ^h [†] to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 And that no man might buy or sell save he that had the mark, or ⁱ the name of the beast, ^k or the number of his name.

18 ^l Here is wisdom, Let him that hath understanding count ^m the number of the beast: ⁿ for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

1 The Lamb standing on mount Sion with his company; 6 an angel preacheth the gospel. 8 The fall of Babylon. 15 The harvest of the world, and putting in of the sickle. 20 The vintage and wine-press of the wrath of God.

AND I looked, and lo, ^a a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him ^b an hundred forty and four thousand, ^c having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven ^d as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of ^e harpers harping with their harps:

3 And ^f they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song ^g but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women; ^h for they are virgins: these are they ⁱ which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth: these [†] ^k were redeemed from among men, ^l being the first-fruits unto God, and to the Lamb.

5 And ^m in their mouth was found no guile; for ⁿ they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel ^o fly in the midst of heaven, ^p having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, ^q and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, ^r Fear God, and give glory to him, for the hour of his judgment is come: ^s and worship him that made heaven and earth, and the sea and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, ^t Babylon is fallen, is fallen, ^v that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, ^x If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive ^y his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same ^z shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is ^a poured out without mixture, into ^b the cup of his indignation; and ^c he shall be tormented with fire

⁴⁶ fire

Anno Domini 96. ^c fire and brimstone, in the presence of the holy angels and in the presence of the Lamb:

¹¹ And ^d the smoke of their torment ascended up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

¹² Here is the patience of the saints: ^f here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

¹³ And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, ^g Blessed are the dead ^h which die in the Lord, ^{||} from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, ⁱ that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

¹⁴ And I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and upon the cloud ^{one} sat, ^k like unto the Son of man, ^l having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

¹⁵ And another angel ^m came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, ⁿ Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest ^o of the earth is ^{||} ripe.

¹⁶ And he that sat on the cloud, thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

¹⁷ And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

¹⁹ And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast ^{it} into ^r the great wine press of the wrath of God.

²⁰ And ^s the wine-press was troden ^t with-out the city, and blood came out of the wine-press, ^v even unto the horse-bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

C H A P. XV.

¹ The seven angels with the seven last plagues. ³ The song of them that overcome the beast. ⁷ The seven vials full of the wrath of God.

^AND ^a I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, ^b seven angels having the seven last plagues, ^c for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

² And I saw as it were ^d a sea of glass, ^e mingled with fire; and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, ^f and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, ^g having the harps of God.

³ And they sing ^h the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, ⁱ Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God almighty; ^k just and true are thy ways, thou King of ^{||} saints.

⁴ Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for ^{thou} only art holy: for ^m all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

⁵ And after that I looked, and behold, ⁿ the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

⁶ And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and ^p having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

⁷ And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels, seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, ^r who liveth for ever and ever.

⁸ And ^s the temple was filled with smoke ^t from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

C H A P. XVI.

² The angels pour out of their vials full of wrath. ⁶ The plagues that follow thereupon. ¹⁵ Christ cometh as a thief. Blessed are they that watch.

^AND I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying ^a to the seven angels, Go your ways and pour out the vials ^b of the wrath of God upon the earth.

² And the first went, and poured out his vial ^c upon the earth; and ^d there fell a noisom, and grievous sore upon the men ^e which had the mark of the beast, and ^{upon} them ^f which worshipped his image.

³ And the second angel poured out his vial ^g upon the sea; and ^h it became as the blood of a dead man: ⁱ and every living soul died in the sea.

⁴ And the third angel poured out his vial ^k upon the rivers and fountains of waters; ^l and they became blood.

⁵ And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, ^m which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus:

⁶ For ⁿ they have shed the blood ^o of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

⁷ And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, ^p Lord God almighty, ^q true and righteous are thy judgments.

⁸ And the fourth angel poured out his vial ^r upon the sun; ^s and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

⁹ And men were ^{||} scorched with great heat, and ^t blasphemed the name of God, which had power over these plagues: ^v and they repented not to give him glory.

¹¹ And ^a blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, ^b and repented not of their deeds.

¹² And the sixth angel poured out his vial ^c upon the great river Euphrates; ^d and the water thereof was dried up, ^e that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

¹³ And I saw three unclean ^f spirits like frogs ^{come} out of the mouth of ^g the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of ^h the false prophet.

¹⁴ For they are the spirits of devils, ^k working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth, ^l and of the whole world, to gather them to ^m the battle of that great day of God almighty.

¹⁵ Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments,

^a Chap. 21. 9. AND there came ^a one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither, ^b I will shew unto thee the judgment of ^c the great whore, ^d that sitteth upon many waters:

^x Chap. 13. 1. 7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

^y Chap. 13. 10. 8 The beast that thou sawest, was, and is not; and ^z shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and ^a go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth ^b shall wonder, (^c whose names were not written in the book of Life from the foundation of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And ^b here is the mind which hath wisdom. ^c The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, ^d he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, ^e and goeth into perdition.

12 And ^f the ten horns which thou sawest, are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 ^g These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: ^h for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings; ⁱ and they that are with him, are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, ^k The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, ^l are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, ^m these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, ⁿ and naked, and shall eat her flesh and ^o burn her with fire.

17 ^p For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, ^q until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, ^r is that great city, ^s which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

2 Babylon is fallen. 4 The people of God commanded to depart out of her. 9 The kings of the earth, with the merchants and mariners, lament over her. 20 The saints rejoice for the judgments of God upon her.

AND ^a after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, ^b Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and, ^c is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit; and ^d a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3 For all nations ^e have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, ^f and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the ^g abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, ^h Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues:

2 Satan bound for a thousand years. 5 The first resurrection: 6 They blessed that have part therein. 7 Satan let loose again. 8 Gog and Magog. 10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 12 The last and general resurrection.

AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, ^a having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on ^b the dragon that old serpent, which is the devil and Satan, ^c and bound him a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, ^d that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that, he must be loosed a little season.

4 And I saw ^e thrones, and they sat upon them, and ^f judgment was given unto them: and I saw ^g the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and ^h which had not worshipped the beast, ⁱ neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and ^k reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such ^l the second death hath no power, but they shall be ^m priests of God, and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, ⁿ Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall go out ^o to deceive the nations, which are in the four quarters of the earth, ^p Gog, and Magog, ^q to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 ^r And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10 ^s And the devil that deceived them, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, ^t where the beast and the false prophet are, and ^u shall be tormented day and night, for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face ^v the earth and the heaven fled away, and there was found no place for them.

12 And I saw the dead, ^w small and great, stand before God; ^x and the books were opened: ^y and another ^z book was opened which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, ^a according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; ^b and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 And ^c death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: ^d This is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life, ^e was cast into the lake of fire.

1 A new heaven and a new earth. 10 The heavenly Jerusalem, with a full description thereof: 23 She needeth no sun, the glory of God is her light: 24 The kings of the earth bring their riches unto her.

AND ^a I saw a new heaven, and a new earth: ^b for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw ^c the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared ^d as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, ^e the tabernacle of God is with men and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 ^f And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and ^g there shall be no more death, ^h neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And ⁱ he that sat upon the throne, said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for ^j these words are true and faithful.

Chap. 19. 7. 9 And there came unto me one of the seven angels, which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lambs wife.

10 And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God.

11 Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel.

13 On the east, three gates; on the north, three gates; on the south, three gates; and on the west, three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth four-square, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs: the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper; and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple of it.

23 And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 And the nations of them which are saved, shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lambs book of life,

1 The river of the water of life. 2 The tree of life. 5 The light of the city of God is himself. 9 The angel will not be worshipped. 18 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken therefrom.

And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lamb.

2 In the midst of the street of it, and of either side of the river: was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him.

4 And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 And there shall be no night there, and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true. And the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophesie of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel, which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophesie of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For without are dogs, and forcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the off-spring of David, and the bright and morning star.

17 And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say Come. And let him

4004.	Genesis I, & II.	IN the beginning God created the heaven and the earth, &c. and last of all man after his own image. Man falls from his first state, but is promised a Saviour of the seed of the Woman. The World first peopled, after Adam and Eve had left Paradise. About this time Cain and Abel offer sacrifice, and Abel is murder'd by his brother. Seth born. Enos born. About this time men begin to call upon the name of the Lord. Cainan born. Mahalaleel born. Jared born. Enoch the seventh from Adam; born. Methusalah born. Lamech, the father of Noah, born. Adam dieth, aged 930 years. Enoch in the 365th year of his age, taken up to God. Seth dieth, aged 912 years. Noah, the father and Patriarch of the new world after the flood, born. Enos, the third from Adam, dieth, aged 905 years. Cainan dieth, aged 910 years. Mahalaleel, the fifth from Adam, dieth, aged 895 years. Jared, the sixth from Adam, dieth, aged 962 years. God commands Noah to preach repentance, and to build the Ark, 120 years before the flood. To Noah, aged 500 years, is born Japheth, and two years after, Shem. Lamech, the ninth from Adam, dieth, aged 777 years. He is the first man whom the Scriptures mention to have died a natural death before his father. Methusalah dieth a little before the flood, in the 969th year of his age. He was the oldest man. The flood comes upon the earth in the 600th year of Noah's age.	Gen. X. 11. XI. 18. Psa. CV. 23. If. XIX. 11. Ge. XI. 20 22, 24, 19, 25. IX. 28, 29. XI. 32. 26. 29, 30. XVII. 17 XI. 21, 23. Mizraim, the grandson of Ham, leads Colonies into Egypt, and layeth the foundation of a Kingdom, which lasted 1663 years, whence Egypt is called the land of Ham; and the Egyptian Pharaohs boasted themselves to be the sons of ancient Kings. Serug born. Nahor born. Terah, Abram's father born. Peleg, the sixth from Noah, dieth. Nahor, the ninth from Noah, dieth. Noah dieth, aged 950 years, 350 years after the flood. Abram born, he was 75 years of age when his father Terah died, aged 205 years; so that Terah begat not Abram in the 70th year of his age, but Nahor and Haran, and in the 130th year of his age begat Abram. See Acts. vii. 4. Sarai, Abram's wife, (called also Iscah) Haran, Abram's brother's daughter, born ten years after her husband. Reu, the seventh from Noah, dieth. Serug, the eighth from Noah, dieth. About this time Chedorlaomer King of Elam, subdueth the Kings of Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, Zebonim and Bela; who serve him 12 years. Terah with his family leaveth Ur of the Chaldeans, and dwelleth at Haran.

Jacob by his prudence is reconciled to his brother Esau. He wrestleth with an Angel at Peniel, and is called Israel.
1897.	XVII. 5.	God maketh a Covenant with Abram, and in token of a greater blessing, changeth his name into Abraham. As a seal of this Covenant, Circumcision is ordain'd. Sarai her name also is changed into Sarah, and she is blessed. God promiseth them a Son, and commandeth that his name be called Isaac; in him God promiseth to establish his Covenant.		XXXIV.	About this time Dinah, Jacob's daughter, is deflowered by Sichern the son of Hamor. Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brethren, revenge their Sister's quarrel, by putting all the Males of Sichern to the sword; for which thing Jacob reproveth them.
	XVIII.	Abraham entertaineth three Angels, who renew the promise to him of having a Son. God revealeth to Abraham the destruction of Sodom, with whom Abraham intercedes for Lot and his Family. See Gen. xix. 29.		XXXV. 16.	Rachel is deliver'd of Benjamin on the way betwixt Beth-el, or Beth-lehem, and Ephrath, and dieth in Child-bed. Some think that Job lived about this time.
	XIX.	Lot is commanded, for the preservation of himself and his Family, to get out of Sodom, and to fly to the mountain; but by much entreaty he obtaineth leave to go into Zoar. Sodom, Gomorrha, and all the Cities in the vale of Siddim, with all the inhabitants of them, are for the most horrible sins destroyed by fire and brimstone from Heaven. The Dead Sea remains a monument thereof unto this day. Lot's wife for looking back upon Sodom, contrary to God's command, is turn'd into a pillar of Salt; and Lot himself fearing to continue at Zoar, leaves the plain Country, and betakes himself to the mountain, carrying his two daughters with him.		XXXVIII 16.	Judah lieth with Thamar his daughter in law in disguise.
1896.	XXI. 2.	Isaac born in the 100th year of Abraham's age. Not long after to Lot are born Moab and Ammon, his sons at the same time, and his grandsons.	1729.	XXXVII.	Joseph is hated by his brethren, and is sold to Merchant-men, Ishmaelites and Midianites, who carry him into Egypt, where he is sold to Potiphar an Officer of Pharaoh's, and by him made Overseer of his House.
1892.	XXI. 9.	Hagar and Ishmael, at Sarah's request, are cast forth.	1718.	XXXIX.	Joseph resisteth the temptations of his Master's wife; he is falsely accused by her, and cast into prison. He interpreteth the dreams of Pharaoh's Butler and Baker, which come to pass according to his interpretation.
1878.	XI. 15.	Salah, the fourth from Noah, dieth.		XL.	Isaac dieth, aged 180 years, and is buried by his sons, Jacob and Esau.
1871.	XXII.	God tempteth Abraham to offer Isaac; Abraham giveth proof of his faith and obedience.	1715.	XLI. 25.	Joseph interpreteth Pharaoh's two dreams; he giveth Pharaoh counsel, and is made governor of the whole land of Egypt.
1859.	XXIII.	Sarah dieth at Hebron in Canaan, in the 127th year of her age.	1715.	XLI. 47. 50.	Here begin the seven years of plenty in the land of Egypt. About this time Manasseh and Ephraim, Joseph's two sons, are born of Asenath the daughter of Potipharah, priest of On.
1856.	XXIV.	Isaac marrieth Rebekah the daughter of Bethuel, the son of Nahor, in the 40th year of his age.	1708.	54.	Here begin the seven years of famine.
1846.	XI. 11.	Shem, the Son of Noah, dieth.	1707.	XLII. 1, 2, 3.	Jacob sendeth his ten sons to buy corn in Egypt; they are imprisoned by Joseph for spies; but are set at liberty on condition of bringing Benjamin; and Simeon is kept as a Pledge.
1837.	XXV. 24.	Jacob and Esau born in the 60th year of their father Isaac's age.		XLIII.	Jacob is with much difficulty perswaded to send Benjamin; Joseph maketh himself known to his brethren, and sendeth for his father, by command from Pharaoh.
1821.	XXV. 7.	Abraham dieth, aged 175 years.		XLV.	Jacob having offered sacrifice to God, for that his son Joseph is yet alive; goes with all his family into Egypt, in the third year of famine, and the 130th year of his age. He is seated in the land of Goshen.
1817.	XI. 17.	Heber, the fifth from Noah, dieth: from him Abraham and his posterity were called Hebrews. Gen. xiv. 13.	1716.	XLVI.	Joseph getteth all the Money, Lands, and Cattle of the Egyptians for Bread; only the Lands belonging to the priests he buyeth not.
1796.	XXVI. 34.	Esau, aged 40 years, marrieth Judith the daughter of Beeri the Hittite, and Basemath the daughter of Elon the Hittite.	1704.	XLVII.	Jacob adopteth Ephraim and Manasseh, and blesteth them, and all his Sons: prophesieth the descent of the Messiah from Judah, and dieth, aged 147 years; 17 whereof he lived in Egypt. He is with great pomp carried into Canaan, and buried in the sepulchre of his father.
1773.	XXV. 17.	Ishmael dieth, aged 137 years.	1703.	XLVIII.	Joseph on his death-bed prophesieth unto his brethren their return into Canaan; takes an Oath of them to carry his bones out of Egypt, and dieth, aged 110 years.
1760.	XXVII.	Jacob, by his mother's instruction, obtaineth the Blessing from Isaac his father, which was design'd for Esau. Upon which he is forced to fly into Mesopotamia to shun his brother's rage. Upon the way are foretold unto him in a Vision, the blessings of his posterity. At length he comes to his uncle Laban's house, and covenanteth to serve him seven years for his daughter Rachel, but Laban deceiveth him with Leah; the marriage-week being compleated, Rachel also is given him to wife, upon condition of serving seven years more.	1702.	XLIX.	The Book of Genesis endeth in the death of Joseph, containing the history of 2369 years; next to which in order of time the Book of Job follows, written (as 'tis generally believed) by Moses.
	XXVIII.	Of Leah are born,	1698.	L.	Levi dieth in Egypt, aged 137 years; he was grandfather to Moses and Aaron.
1758.	32.	Reuben.	1619.	Exodus VI. 16.	Here begins the bondage of the children of Israel, when a King rose up in Egypt, who knew not Joseph.
1757.	33.	Simeon.	1577.	Exod. I. 8.	Aaron born three years before his brother Moses, 83 years before the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.

1571.	II. 1, 5.	Moses is born, who being hid in the flags by the river-side, is found by Pharaoh's daughter, and becomes her adopted son.	Exodus XVII. 8, 9, &c.	The Amalekites falling upon the rear of the Israelites, are discomfited by Joshua, whilst Moses holds up his hands to God in prayer.
1531.	II.	Moses in the fortieth year of his age, having slain an Egyptian, whom he saw contending with an Hebrew, flieth into Midian, where he marrieth Zipporah the daughter of Ruel or Jethro a Priest, and liveth with him forty years.	XX.	God publisheth his Law contain'd in the Ten Commandments, with a terrible voice from Mount Sinai.
1530.	Joshua XIV. 7, 10.	Caleb, the son of Jephunneh, born.	XXI.	The People being in great fear, God gives them sundry other Laws, all which being written in the book of the Covenant, Moses propoeth them to the People: which done, rising early in the morning, he builds an altar at the foot of the mountain, and sets up 12 Statues according to the 12 Tribes of Israel, and sends 12 young men of the first-born, (whom the Lord had consecrated to himself, as ministers of those holy things, before the Levitical Priesthood was ordain'd) which offer sacrifice, first for sin, and then for thanksgiving to the Lord: and when Moses had read the book of the Covenant, he takes the blood of the Calves and Goats so offer'd, and with water, scarlet wooll, and hyssop, sprinkles the book therewith, and all the people, and those 12 statues representing them; and so performs a solemn Covenant between God and his people.
1491.	Ex. III. 1, 2, &c. V.	Whilst Moses keeps his father-in-law's sheep at Mount Horeb, God appears to him in a burning-bush, and sendeth him to deliver Israel.	XXII. &c.	Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and 70 men of the elders of Israel, go up into the mount, and there behold the glory of God: the rest returning, Moses with his servant Joshua abides there still, and waits six days, and upon the seventh day God speaks unto him, and there he continues 40 days and 40 nights, (reckoning those six days which he waited for the appearance of the Lord) eating no meat all that while, nor drinking water (Deut. 9. 9.) where he receives God's command, touching the frame of the Tabernacle, the Priests garments, their consecration, sacrifice, and other things comprised in this and the six following Chapters.
	VII. 7.	Moses and Aaron having declared to Pharaoh the message in which they are sent unto him from God, are charged by him as heads of a mutiny, and sent away with many bad words, and more grievous labours are forthwith laid upon the Israelites.	XXIV.	At the end of 40 days, God gives Moses the two Tables of the Law in Stone, made by God's own hand, and written with his own finger; bidding him withal quickly to get him down, for that the people had already made to themselves a molten Calf to worship. Moses by prayer pacifieth God, and goes down from the mount, and seeing the people keeping a festival in honour of their Idol in the Camp, he breaks the Tables of the Law at the foot of the mount: for which the Jews keep a solemn fast unto this day.
	Pfal. LXXVIII. CV.	Moses being now 80, and Aaron 83 years of age, urged thereunto by God, return again to Pharaoh, where the Magicians, by their sorcery, imitating the miracles of Aaron's Rod, turned into a Serpent, make Pharaoh more obstinate than he was before. Wherefore God by the hand of Moses lays ten plagues upon the Egyptians.	9, 18.	Moses having burnt and defaced the Idol, puts 3000 of the Idolaters to death by the hands of the Levites.
		The Fourth Age of the World.	XXV. &c.	God commands Moses to frame new Tables of Stone, and to bring them with him into the mount: Moses brings them the next morning, and whilst he stands in the cleft of a rock, God passeth by, and sheweth him a glimpse of his glory.
	Exodus XII. 11.	UPON the fourteenth day of the first month (which was May the fourth upon Monday with us) in the evening the Passover is instituted.	XXXI. 18.	God renews his Covenant with his people, and upon certain conditions gives them his Laws again.
	29, 41.	Upon the fifteenth of the same month at midnight, the first-born of Egypt being all slain, Pharaoh and his servants make haste to send away the Israelites, and they, the self-same day wherein they were let go out of bondage, being the complete term of 430 years from the first pilgrimage of their Ancestors, reckoning from Abraham's departure out of Charan, take their journey and march away, being 600000 men besides children, and come to Rameses, from whence by several encampings they come to the red Sea, the Lord conducting them in a pillar of a cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire by night. They carry Joseph's bones with them.	XXXII.	In the first six months of this year, the Tabernacle, the Ark of the Covenant, the Altar, the Table of Shew-bread, the Priests garments, the holy Ointments, the Candlestick, and other Utensils and Vessels belonging to the Sacrifices, are finished in the desert at mount Sinai, and are brought unto Moses.
	Numb. XXXIII.	At the Red Sea Pharaoh with his host overtakes them; Moses divides the waters with his Rod, and the children of Israel pass through on dry ground, unto the desert of Etham; whom when Pharaoh and his Army would needs follow, they are all overwhelmed by the water's coming together at the dawning of the day, whereby the Israelites are wholly freed from the bondage of the Egyptians; whose carcasses when they see floating all the Sea over, and cast upon the shore, they sing a song of praise and thanksgiving unto God.	20, 28.	The Tabernacle is set up and anointed with holy Oil; Aaron and his sons are consecrated for the Priesthood.
	Exodus XIV.	At the Red Sea Pharaoh with his host overtakes them; Moses divides the waters with his Rod, and the children of Israel pass through on dry ground, unto the desert of Etham; whom when Pharaoh and his Army would needs follow, they are all overwhelmed by the water's coming together at the dawning of the day, whereby the Israelites are wholly freed from the bondage of the Egyptians; whose carcasses when they see floating all the Sea over, and cast upon the shore, they sing a song of praise and thanksgiving unto God.	XXXIV.	Nadab and Abihu for offering strange fire, are struck dead in the place by fire from Heaven.
	XV.	Upon the fifteenth of the second month (our June the 4th, being (Thursday) the Israelites come to the Wilderness of Zin, which lieth between Elyma and Sinai, where for want of food, they murmur against God, and their Leaders; About the eventide God sends them Quails, and the next morning rains upon them Manna from Heaven; and upon that kind of bread they lived afterwards by the space of forty years, even till they came to the borders of the Land of Promise. An Omer of it is preserved for a memorial.	10.

	IX. X. 29. Exodus XVIII.	The second Passover is instituted. Jethro, who is also called Hobab, brings his daughter Zipporah, with her two sons, Gershon and Eliezer, which were left with him, to his son-in-law Moses, and having congratulated him and the whole people of Israel's deliverance out of bondage, he openly declares his faith and devotion towards the true God. By his advice Moses imparts the government of the People to some others, and ordains Magistrates for the deciding of lesser causes.		In the fifth month of this year Aaron dieth at Mosera, on the top of mount Hor, at the Age of 123 years, leaving his son Eleazar his successor in the High-priesthood.
	Numb. XI.	Moses complains to God of the over great burden of his government; God to ease him of his charge, gives him for assistance the Court of 70 Elders.		The People murmuring, are plagued with fiery serpents, whereof many die; upon their repentance God commands that a brazen serpent be made and lifted up upon a pole, that as many as look on it may live.
	31.	The People lust for flesh, God giveth them Quails in wrath, and sends withal a most grievous plague among them.		About the latter end of this year, all those who at Kadesh-barnea mutinied against God being wholly extinct and dead, the Israelites pass over Zered, and come to the border of Moab at Ar, and at length they arrive at Bamoth a valley in the Country of the Moabites, and pitch at mount Pisgah.
	XII.	God rebuketh the Sedition of Miriam and Aaron, and maintaineth Moses his right.		Sihon King of the Amorites refusing them passage through his Country, is slain, and the Israelites possess his land.
	XIII.	From the wilderness of Paran, near Kadesh-barnea, twelve men are sent (among whom are Caleb and Joshua) to discover the land of Canaan. Returning, they bring with them a branch of a vine, with a cluster of grapes upon it; ten of the twelve so sent, speak ill of the Country, declare it barren, and magnify the Cities for their strength, and the giantly stature of the inhabitants.	1451.	Og the king of Basan, coming out against Israel, is destroyed with all his People, not one left alive, and his Country possess'd by the Israelites.
	Numb. XIV.	The people terrified with this relation are about to return into Egypt, from which Caleb and Joshua endeavouring to dissuade them, are like to be stoned. At this God is so provoked, that he threatens to destroy them; but is prevailed upon by Moses his prayers to spare them. Nevertheless he denounceth that all who are now 20 years old and upward (except Caleb and Joshua) shall die in the wilderness. The men who raised the evil report are all destroyed by sudden death. Some endeavouring to enter upon the promised land contrary to the command of God, are smitten by the Amalekites and Canaanites.		After these victories the Israelites set forward, and encamp in the plains of Moab.
1489.	Deut. I. 46.	In this place, viz. Kadesh-barnea, the Israelites continue many days; but that in some places they continued many years, appeareth, for that in the space of 37 years there are but 17 encampings mentioned.		Balak king of Moab, considering what the Israelites had done to the Amorites, fears, lest, under pretence of passing thro' his Country, they should possess themselves of his whole kingdom, takes counsel with the Princes of the Midianites his neighbours, and sends for Balaam, soothsayer, out of Mesopotamia, to come and curse the Israelites, promising him great rewards for his labour; purposing afterwards to make war upon them.
	Numb. XXXIII	To their long continuance in Kadesh, and the encampings from thence, all that we find deliver'd in the 15th and four next ensuing Chapters of Numbers, seems to refer; as how Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, for raising a mutiny against Moses and Aaron, were swallowed alive into the earth, and 250 of their associates, and how the People murmuring against Moses and Aaron for the calamity which had befallen their brethren, were destroyed by God to the number of 14700 men; and how 12 rods being brought by 12 princes, and laid in the sanctuary, Aaron's rod only budded and brought forth Almonds, and was laid up before the Ark, for a memorial to those who should afterwards be given to Rebellion.		Balaam forewarned of God, refuseth at first to come; but being sent for a second time, he importuneth God to let him go, and goes with a purpose indeed to curse Israel: but God offended hereat, makes the dumb Ass of this wizard, on which he rode, speaking in a man's voice, to reprove his folly.
1471.	XVI.	To their long continuance in Kadesh, and the encampings from thence, all that we find deliver'd in the 15th and four next ensuing Chapters of Numbers, seems to refer; as how Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, for raising a mutiny against Moses and Aaron, were swallowed alive into the earth, and 250 of their associates, and how the People murmuring against Moses and Aaron for the calamity which had befallen their brethren, were destroyed by God to the number of 14700 men; and how 12 rods being brought by 12 princes, and laid in the sanctuary, Aaron's rod only budded and brought forth Almonds, and was laid up before the Ark, for a memorial to those who should afterwards be given to Rebellion.		Balaam twice offers sacrifice, and would fain have cursed Israel, to gratify Balak therein; but being forced thereto by the Spirit of God, instead of cursing, he blesteth them altogether; foretelling what felicity attended them, and what calamities should befall their enemies.
	XVII.	To their long continuance in Kadesh, and the encampings from thence, all that we find deliver'd in the 15th and four next ensuing Chapters of Numbers, seems to refer; as how Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, for raising a mutiny against Moses and Aaron, were swallowed alive into the earth, and 250 of their associates, and how the People murmuring against Moses and Aaron for the calamity which had befallen their brethren, were destroyed by God to the number of 14700 men; and how 12 rods being brought by 12 princes, and laid in the sanctuary, Aaron's rod only budded and brought forth Almonds, and was laid up before the Ark, for a memorial to those who should afterwards be given to Rebellion.		By his advice the women of Moab and Midian are set on work to turn the Israelites away to Idolatry. Wherefore God commands Moses first to take all the ring-leaders of this disorder, and to hang them up before the Sun, and then gives order to the Judges to put to death all such as had joined themselves to Baalpeor. Last of all God sends a plague upon the people, whereof die 23000 men in one day; which added to them which were hanged and killed with the sword, amount in all to 24000.
1452.	XX.	In these 37 years the Israelites by 17 encampings, having compassed the hill-country of Seir and Edon, they come to the wilderness of Zin, in the first month of the 40th year after their departure out of Egypt.		Phineas the son of Eleazar, by killing Zimri, the chief of his father's family, and Cozbi the daughter of Zur, a Prince of the Midianites, appeaseth the wrath of God, and the plague ceaseth: God therefore setteth the high-priesthood for ever upon the house of Phineas, and commands that war be made upon the Midianites.

Josh. II.	Joshua being confirmed in his government by God, sends forth spies from Shittim to the city of Jericho; who being harbour'd by Rahab, are privily sent away, when search is made for them.
Numb. XXVII. 1, 2,	The daughters of Zelophehad have their father's land parted among them for want of Issue male; this occasions the law for succession in heritages to be made.	III.	Upon the 10th day of the first month (April 30) to wit, the same day that the Paschal Lamb was to be chosen out of the flock, the Israelites under the conduct of Joshua, a type of Jesus Christ, go up out of the river Jordan, into the promised land of Canaan, a type of a more heavenly Country. They pass through the river on dry ground, the waters being for that present divided; for a memorial of which miraculous passage, Joshua sets up 12 other stones in the very channel of Jordan, and taking 12 other stones out of the midst thereof, sets them up at Gilgal, the place where they next encamp.
12, 23. Deut. III. 26, 27, 28	God signifies to Moses that he shall die; and Joshua is thereupon declared to be his Successor; upon whom Moses lays his hands, and gives him instructions. Several laws are made.	IV.	The day following, Joshua renews the use of Circumcision, which had been omitted 40 years.
Numb. XXXI.	Twelve thousand of the Israelites, under the command of Phineas, vanquish the Midianites, and put to the sword all the males among them, with their five Princes, and among them Zur, the father of Cozbi, and Balaam the wizard; but they save the women alive, at which Moses is wroth, and commands that every male child and all the women, except such as be virgins, be killed.	V.	Upon the 14th day of the same month, in the evening, the Israelites celebrate their first passover in the land of Canaan.
Joshua XIII. 21, 22.	The lands which belonged to Sihon and Og, namely all from the river Arnon, to mount Hermon, Moses divides and gives to the tribes of Reuben and Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh; so that their possessions lay on this side Jordan; nevertheless they assist the rest of the Tribes in all their wars, till they had subdued the Canaanites, and possessed the promised land.	10,	Next day after the passover Manna ceaseth.
Numb. XXXII. Deut. III. Joshua XIII. & XXII.	Moses commands the people that in their passage over Jordan, they shall set up great stones, and engrave the Ten Commandments on them, with the form of blessing upon mount Gerizim, and of cursing on mount Ebal. Exhorting them to observe the law of God, by setting before their eyes the benefits that would ensue thereon.	11, 12,	Our Lord Jesus, Captain of his father's host, appears to Joshua, the typical Jesus, before Jericho, with a drawn sword in his hand, and promiseth there to defend his people.
Deut. XXVII.	He also renews the Covenant made by God with them and their Children on mount Horeb, and again perswades them to keep that Covenant, by all the blessings and curses which would undoubtedly follow the keepers or breakers of it. Yet with a promise of pardon and deliverance, if at any time having broken it, they shall repent them of their sin; and tells them further, that God had therefore thus declared his will unto them, to the end that none hereafter offending, shall pretend ignorance.	13.	Jericho, the Ark of the Lord having been carried round about it, is taken the seventh day, the walls thereof falling down at the sound of the Priests trumpets, all the inhabitants are put to the sword, except Rahab and her family.
XXVIII.	Moses having written this law, delivers it to the Priests, the sons of Levi, and the elders of the People, to be kept; the same day also he writes his most excellent song, and teaches the same to the children of Israel to be sung; and having finished the book of the law, he takes order to have it laid up in the side of the ark.	VI.	The Israelites besiege Ai, and are smitten by their enemies, God having abandon'd them for sacrilege committed by Achan; Achan's sin being discover'd by the casting of lots, and himself found guilty, he is stoned to death, and, together with his children and cattle, burnt with fire. God being pacified hereby, Ai is taken by ambushment, and utterly destroyed.
XXIX.	Moses now drawing near to his end, blesteth every Tribe in particular, by way of prophesy, save only the Tribe of Simeon.	VII.	On mount Ebal, according to the law made, is an altar erected, and the Ten Commandments engraven on it; the blessings and curses are repeated on mount Ebal and mount Gerizim, and the book of the law read in the ears of the people.
XXX.	In the twelfth month of this Year, he goes up to mount Nebo, and from thence beholds the land of promise, and there dieth, aged 120 years: the body of Moses God translates out of the place where he died, into a valley of the land of Moab, over against Beth-peor, and there burieth it, nor doth any man know the Place where he laid it unto this day. The Israelites mourn for him 30 days.	VIII.	The Kings of Canaan combine against Israel; only the Gibeonites craftily find a way to save their own lives, by making a league with them, but are afterwards deputed to the servile offices of the house of God.
XXXI.	Here ends the Pentateuch, or five Books of Moses, containing the history of 2552 years and a half, from the beginning of the world; and the book of Joshua begins with the 41st year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.	30, 35.	Adoni-zedek King of Jerusalem, with the Kings of Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon, hearing that Gibeon is fallen off from them, join their forces together, and besiege it; but Joshua raiseth the siege, pursueth those five Kings, and smiteth them as far as Azekah, the Lord in the mean while killing more with hailstones from heaven, than the Israelites with their swords. Joshua commands the Sun to stand still over Gibeon, and the Moon over the valley of Ajalon, by the space almost of one whole day, until the Israelites are fully avenged of their enemies. The five Kings hide themselves in a cave at Makkedah, from whence they are brought forth, scornfully used, and hang'd.
XXXII.		IX.	From the Autumn of this year, wherein, after the failing of manna, they began to till the ground, the rise of the sabbatical years is to be taken.
XXXIII.		X.	Joshua now grown old, is commanded by God to divide all the land on the west of Jordan, among the nine tribes remaining, and the other half-tribe of Manasseh.

1445.	Joshua XI.	The Lord and his sacrifices are the inheritance of Levi. The rest of the Kings with whom Joshua had waged war for six years, resolve to set upon him with united forces; but Joshua comes upon them unawares, slays them, and possesseth their Countries.	1285.	Judges V. 31.	afterwards kills in her own tent. For a memorial of which victory, Deborah composeth a Song; and the land resteth 40 years after the former rest obtained by Ehud.
	21.	Joshua now roots out those Giants, the Anakims, with their cities, out of the hill Countries, out of Hebron, Debir, and Anab, and generally out of all the mountains of Judah and all Israel. And having gotten the whole land into his hands, he divides it among the children of Israel according to their Tribes; and the land rested from war.	1252.	VI.	The Israelites sinning again, are delivered into the hands of the Midianites; which fourth thralldom lasteth seven years. Hereupon they cry unto God for help, and are reprov'd by a Prophet. Then Gideon the son of Manasses is by an Angel from God sent to deliver them. He first overturns the Altar of Baal, and burns his grove; and is called Jerubbaal. He out of 32000 men which came unto him, chooseth only (God so commanding) 300; but with them he puts to flight all the host of the Midianites, whom the Ephraimites afterwards pursue and slay their Princes, Oreb and Zeeb. Gideon having pacified the Ephraimites, who complain that they are not called to the battle at first, passeth the river Jordan, and defeats the remainder of the Midianitish army; he chastiseth also the men of Succoth and Peniel, who had refused him victuals in his journey; and slays the two Kings of the Moabites, Zebah and Zalmunna. After which great victories, the Israelites offering to settle the kingdom upon him and his posterity, he refuseth it; but receiving their golden ear-rings, he makes thereof an Ephod, which afterwards proves an occasion of Idolatry. The Midianites being thus vanquish'd, the land enjoys rest 40 years, after the former rest restored to them by Deborah and Barak.
1444.	XIV.	The first sabbatical year, or year of rest: from hence the year of Jubile, or every fifty years space is to be reckon'd.	1245.	VIII.	Gideon dieth, and the Israelites falling back again to Idolatry, worship Baal-berith for their God.
	XV.	The Tabernacle is set up at Shilo, (thought to be the same with Salem) where it continued 328 years.		IX. 1, 2.	Abimelech the son of Gideon (begotten upon his Concubine) purposing to get to himself the kingdom which his father had refused, slayeth 70 of his brothers all upon one stone, and having by the help of the Shechemites, got to be made king, Jotham, the youngest son of Gideon, who only escaped Abimelech's fury, from the top of the mount Gerizim, expostulates with them the wrong they had done to his father's house; and by way of a parable, foretels their ruin; which done, he flies and dwells quietly in Beerith.
	XXII.	The Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, with a blessing, are sent home to their possessions on the other side of Jordan.	1236.	33.	Abimelech having reigned three years over Israel, Gaal a Shechemite conspires against him, which being discovered to him by Zebul, he utterly destroys the city of Shechem, and puts all the inhabitants to the sword, and burns the temple of their God Beerith with fire, from thence he goes and layeth siege to Thebez, where he is knock'd on the head with a piece of a millstone, cast upon him by a woman from the walls, and then kill'd out-right by his armour-bearer.
1413.	Judges II. 7.	Joshua gathers together all Israel, exhorts them to obedience, briefly recites Gods benefits to them, reneweth the Covenant between them and God, and dieth 110 years old.	1235.	Judg. X. 1, 2.	Tolah the son of Puah, after Abimelech, judgeth Israel 23 years.
	III. 6, 7, 8.	After the decease of Joshua, and the Elders who outlived him, and who remembered the wonders which God had wrought for Israel, there succeeds a generation of men which forget God, and mingle themselves with the Canaanites by marriage, and worship their idols. In this time of Anarchy and Confusion, when every man did that which seem'd right in his own eyes, all those disorders were committed which are reported in the five last Chapters of the Book of Judges; to wit, the idolatry of Micah, and the children of Dan; the war of the Benjamites, and the cause thereof. God being highly provoked, gives them up into the hands of Cushan King of Mesopotamia; which first calamity of theirs holds them but eight years.	1233.	3.	Jair the Gileadite succeeds Tolah, and judgeth Israel 22 years.
1405.	III. 9,	Othniel the son of Kenaz, and son-in-law to Joshua, stirred up by God, as a judge and avenger of his people, defeats Cushan, and delivers the Israelites out of bondage, and the land resteth 40 years, after the first rest which Joshua procured for them.		8.	The Israelites forsaking again the true God, fall to worship the gods of several nations, and are given up into the hands of the Philistines and Ammonites; which fifth thralldom lasteth 18 years. Upon their repentance and abandoning their idols, at length they obtain mercy.
	10,	Othniel dying, the Israelites fall again to sin against God, and are given over into the hands of Eglon King of Moab, who joining with the Ammonites and the Amalekites, overthrowes the Israelites, and takes Jericho; and this second oppression continueth 18 years.	1188.	15.	Jephtha the Gileadite being made captain of the host of Israel, subdues the Ammonites; before the battle he vows his daughter unawares to be offer'd in sacrifice, and afterwards performs it. He puts to the sword 42000 Ephraimites, who had behaved themselves insolently against him, and judgeth Israel 6 years.
1343.	12,	Ehud the son of Gera is raised up by God to be an avenger of his people; for feigning a message to Eglon, he runs him into the belly with his dagger; then getting away, he gathers all Israel into a body on mount Ephraim, and slays 10000 of the most valiant men of Moab; and the land resteth 40 years after the former rest obtain'd by Othniel.	1187.	XI.	Ibzan the Bethlemite succeeds Jephtha, and judgeth Israel 7 years.
1325.	15,	After him Shamgar, the son of Anath, slayeth 600 Philistines with an ox-goad, and he also avengeth Israel.		XII. 6,
	30,	The Israelites after the death of Ehud, returning to their old sin, are given up by God into the hands of Jabin king of Canaan; and this thralldom of theirs continueth 20 years.	1182.	8.
1305.	IV. 1, 2, 3. 1175.	Judges XII. 11.	Elon the Zebulonite succeeds Ibzan, and judgeth Israel 10 years.			inhabitants of the place sorely plagued: they remove it from thence to Gath, and from thence to Ekron. But the same Plagues and Judgments following wherever it went; after seven months, by the advice of their Priests, they send home the Ark again, with presents and gifts into the land of the Israelites, and it is brought to Beth-shemesh; where 50000 and 70 men are smitten for looking into the Ark.
1164.	13.	Abdon the Ephraimite succeeds Elon, and judgeth Israel 8 years.		1 Sam. VI.	From hence it is carried to the house of Abinadab in Kirjath-jearim, who sanctifieth his Son Eleazar to keep it.
1156.	1 Sam. IV. 18.	Eli the High-priest (in whom the high-priesthood was translated from the family of Eleazar to Ithamar's) succeeds Abdon, and judgeth Israel 40 years. The Israelites again provoke the Lord to anger, and he delivers them into the hands of the Philistines. This sixth thralldom begins seven months after Eli's entring upon the government, and lasteth 40 years, even till seven months after his death, when the ark was brought back again.	1096.	VII.	After twenty years, the Israelites, by Samuel's perswasion, solemnly repent at Mizpeh, and upon their conversion, God by thunder from Heaven delivers them from the invasion of the Philistines, who are subdued, the hand of the Lord being against them all the days of Samuel.
1155.	24.	Samson the Nazarite, as an Angel had foretold, is born at Zora.		13.	Samuel being grown old, takes for his assistants in the government his sons; by whose ill management of affairs, the Israelites require a King to be given them; whereupon God gives them a King in his wrath, to wit, Saul the son of Kish, after Samuel had judged Israel 21 years. Saul is privately anointed by Samuel, and afterward publicly proclaimed King at Mizpeh. About a month after Jabesh-gilead is besieged by Naash King of the Amorites, and the siege raised by Saul; whereupon the whole congregation of Israel coming together at Gilgal, again proclaim Saul King.
1137.	XIV. 4.	Whilst Eli the high-priest executeth the office of a judge in civil causes under the Philistines, Samson takes an occasion to quarrel with them, by marrying a woman of Timnath; for having on the day of his betrothing propounded a riddle to the Philistines, and laid a wager; his wife tells them the meaning of it; Enraged hereat, he goes and slays 30 men of Askalon, and gives them the suits of raiment which he had stript off their bodies, in performance of the wager which he had lost, and returns home to his father.	1095.	VIII.	David the son of Jesse, the Ephrathite, born at Bethlem, 30 years before he succeeded Saul in the Kingdom. He was his father's youngest son.
1136.	XV.	Samson again in harvest-time goes to present his wife with a kid at her father's house, but finds her given away in marriage to another man; Samson resolves to be revenged; he catcheth 300 Foxes, and tying fire-brands to their tails, turns them all into the corn-fields of the Philistines, and into their vineyards and olive-gardens, and sets them all on fire. The Philistines take Samson's wife and father-in-law, and burn them; Samson in revenge, slays a great multitude of them, and sits down upon the rock Etam, from whence being taken by 3000 of the Jews, and by them deliver'd into the hands of the Philistines, he slays of them a thousand men with the jaw-bone of an Ass; in which place he is miraculously refreshed when thirsty and ready to faint.	1085.	XVII. 12.	God rejects Saul, and sends Samuel to Bethlem, there to anoint David King, whom Saul ever after extremely persecuteth.
1117.	XVI.	Samson is betrayed by Delilah his concubine, bereaved of the hair of his Nazariteship, and deliver'd to the Philistines; who put out his eyes, and bind him with chains of brass. The Philistines gather together to offer sacrifice to Dagon their God, and Samson is brought to make them sport, whose hair being grown, and his strength in a great measure restored, he takes hold of the two chief pillars whereon the house stood (wherein were the Princes of the Philistines, and a great multitude of People) and pulls down the house, killing more men at his death than he did in all his life-time. So he died, having judged Israel in the days of the Philistines 20 years.		XVIII.	Yet Jonathan, Saul's son, loveth him, and oftentimes rescueth him from Saul's cruelty.
1116.	1 Sam. IV.	The Israelites take up Arms against the Philistines, but with very ill success, for they lose 4000 men in one battle. Then they send for the Ark of the Covenant from Shiloh, and cause it to be brought into the Camp. The Philistines seeing now all lie at stake, encourage one another to behave themselves like men that day, and so falling on, they slay of the Israelites 30000 men. The ark of God is taken, and Hophni and Phineas, Priests, and sons of Eli, are slain. Of all which when tidings is brought to old Eli, frighted thereat he falls from his chair, and breaks his neck, in the 98th year of his age.	1060.	XXIV. XXVI. XXVII.	David having Saul twice in his power, forbears to hurt him.

David fearing he may some time or other fall into the hands of Saul, flies to Gath unto King Achish, carrying with him 600 men, and having obtain'd of him the Town of Ziklag to dwell in, he continueth one year and four months in the land of the Philistines, from whence he invadeth the countries of the Geshurites, Gezerites, and Amalekites, and puts to the sword all, both men and women, not leaving one alive to carry the news thereof to King Achish.
			1055.	XXVIII.	Achish purposing to make war upon the Israelites, takes David along with him in that expedition, to whom while he is upon his march with his 600 men, repair a great many others of the tribe of Manasses, and join with him.
				1 Sam. XXVIII.	Saul seeing the Army of the Philistines, is in great fear, and (Samuel being now dead) goes to Endor, to consult with a Witch there, the Woman raiseth an apparition of Samuel, and Saul receives from it that dreadful doom, The Lord will deliver Israel, together with thy self, into the hands of the Philistines.
				XXIX.	The Princes of the Philistines growing jealous of David, he and his company early the next morning leave the Army, and return to Ziklag.
				XXXI.	The Armies join battle, and the Israelites are defeated; the three sons of Saul are slain, and he himself falls on his own sword.
				2 Sam. I.	Three days after an Amalekite brings Saul's Crown and the Bracelet that was upon his arm, and presents them to David, professing that finding him fallen upon his sword, sword, he had kill'd him out-right, and taken the Crown from off his head; whereupon David causeth him to be put to death, for stretching forth his hand to slay the Lord's anointed, and lamenteth the death of Saul and Jonathan his son, in a funeral song. David having askt counsel of God, goes up to Hebron with those that are about him, where he is anointed King by the men of Judah, his own Tribe, in the 30th year of his age, and there he reigns seven years and six months.

Abner, who was captain of the host to Saul, carries Ishbosheth, Saul's son, to Mahanaim, and there makes him King over the rest of Israel.

After two years there arise frequent and mortal skirmishes between a party of men on David's side, headed by Joab David's nephew, and another party on Ishbosheth's side, whereof Abner is chief; but the former still grows stronger and stronger.

Abner affronted by Ishbosheth, revolteth to David, and deals with the chief men of Israel to transfer the whole Kingdom unto him, and this in the hearing of the Benjamites.

He comes to David, and is kindly received; returning, he is treacherously murder'd by Joab. David much laments his untimely death, and buries him at Hebron.

Baanah and Rechab murder their Lord and Master Ishbosheth, as he lieth resting himself upon his bed. They bring his head to David, who in detestation of their Treason, causeth them immediately to be put to death.

The captains and elders of all the Tribes coming to Hebron, anoint David a third time, and make him King over all Israel.

David with all Israel marcheth to Jerusalem against the Jebusites, and taketh the fort of Zion, and calls it the city of David, and making Jerusalem the seat of his Kingdom, reigneth there over all Israel thirty three years.

The Ark of the Covenant, which in the first Sabbatical year was brought from Gilgal to Shilo, is this year, being also a Sabbatical year, brought from Kirjath-jearim out of the house of Abinadab, and placed at Zion; 30000 choice men of Israel attending it, and singing the 68 Psalm.

David now dwelling in his house of Cedar which he had built, and living in a full and perfect peace, imparteth to Nathan the prophet his purpose of building a house for God, but is answer'd from God, that this was a work which should be done, not by him, because he was a man of blood, and trained up in war, but by his son Solomon, a man of peace, which should be born unto him. The time which passeth from hence till the birth of Solomon is spent in wars; wherein David subdues the Philistines, Edomites, Amalekites, Moabites, Ammonites, and Syrians, and extends his kingdom to the utmost bound of that land which had been promised to the seed of Abraham, and never possess'd by any of them, save only by David, and his son Solomon.

At the end of this year, Joab going with the army against the Ammonites, besiegeth Rabbah the Metropolis of Ammon, whilst David takes his ease at Jerusalem, and there commits adultery with Bathsheba the wife of Uriah the Hittite, who was then in the Army, whom he also procures to be slain.

The child so gotten in adultery is born. David is convicted by Nathan the Prophet of his sin, and he repents; in testimony whereof he composeth the 51st Psalm. The child dieth.

The Fourth Age of the World.
Bathsheba becomes now David's wife, and beareth him a son, unto whom, as unto one who should prove a man of peace, God gives the name of Solomon; and as to one beloved of the Lord, the name of Jedidiah.

Amnon, David's eldest son, deflowreth his sister Tamar.

Abalom avengeth his sister Tamar, and killeth his brother Amnon; for which thing he fleeth to Geshur in Syria, where he continues three years with King Talnai, his Grandfather by the mother's side.

After three years exile, he returns to Jerusalem, where he continues two years, before the King his father admits him into his presence, and is reconciled to him.

This rebel son having got chariots and horses, and a guard to attend him, insinuates himself into the favour of the people, and steals away their hearts from his father David.

The next year following, under pretence of a vow, he obtaineth leave to go to Hebron, where, by Ahitophel's counsel, he breaks out into open rebellion, and forceth his father to flee from Jerusalem.

Ahitophel, because his counsel in all matters is not followed by Abalom, hangs himself.

Abalom having lost 20000 men, fleeth, and a bough of an oak catching hold of him, he there hangs, and is run through by Joab.

David tempted by Satan, commandeth Joab to number the people: God offended thereat, sends a Prophet to put three plagues to his choice, viz. the famine, sword, or pestilence. David chooseth to fall into the hands of a merciful God, rather than into the hands of men. So God sends a pestilence; whereof 70000 men die in one day. The Angel being about to destroy Jerusalem, God bids him hold his hand, for he beholds David repenting in sackcloth, and intreating him to spare the innocent people, and to turn his hand upon himself, and upon his father's house.

Rehoboam is born unto Solomon, by Naamah an Ammonitish woman.

David being now 70 years of age, and broken with continual cares and wars, grows so weak and feeble, that cloaths can no longer preserve heat in him. Therefore Abishag, a young virgin, is appointed to keep him warm. Adonijah seeing his father thus declining, by the assistance of Joab and Abiathar, makes himself King, which David understanding, he presently commands Zadok the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, with other great men, to anoint Solomon King. Adonijah hearing this, betakes himself to the Sanctuary, and is pardon'd.

David having given instructions to his son Solomon, dieth; after he had reigned in Hebron seven years and six months, and 33 years in Jerusalem over all Israel.

Pharaoh King of Egypt gives his daughter in marriage to Solomon.

The Lord appears to Solomon in a dream, and bids him ask what he will, and it shall be given him. Solomon asketh Wisdom; God gives him Wisdom from above, and adds thereunto riches and honour. Of this divine Wisdom Solomon makes an eminent manifestation in judging between two Harlots.

	1 Kings XII.	The Israelites assemble at Shechem to crown Rehoboam, Solomon's son, King over all Israel. The People by Jeroboam sue unto him for a removal of some grievances; to whom Rehoboam, by the advice of young men, returning an harsh answer, alienates the hearts of Ten Tribes from him, who make Jeroboam King over them, and fall at the same time from the house of David, and from the true worship of God.		929.		The people of Israel are now divided into two factions, one follows Tibni the son of Ginath, and endeavours to make him King, the other adheres to Omri; but Tibni dying, Omri reigns alone, in the 31st year of Afa.
	25.	Jeroboam in the beginning of his Reign, repairs Shechem, destroyed by Abimelech 258 years before, and there dwells; afterwards going over Jordan, he builds Penuel, and at length makes Tirzah the seat of his kingdom. But fearing lest his new subjects by going to Jerusalem to worship, may be induced to revolt from him, he deviseth a new form of Religion, setting up two golden Calves, the one at Bethel, the other at Dan, for the seduced people to bow down unto.		925.	22,	Omri having reigned six years in Tirzah, removes the seat of his Kingdom to Samaria, a place which he himself had built.
	XIV. 17.	From the time of this dismal rent, Rehoboam reigneth over Judah and Benjamin 17 years, and Jeroboam over Israel, or the other Ten Tribes 22 years.		924.	23, 24,	Ahab succeeds his father in the Kingdom of Israel, and reigneth 22 years in Samaria. He did evil in the sight of the Lord, above all that were before him.
	XII. 26.	The Priests and Levites, and other Israelites who feared God, stick to Rehoboam, and maintain the kingdom of Judah three years; after which time Rehoboam falls to Idolatry, and walketh no more in the ways of David and Solomon.		918.	29.	Jehosaphat succeedeth his father Afa in the fourth year of Ahab King of Israel, and reigneth 25 years in Jerusalem.
	XIV. 2 Chron. XII.	Jeroboam sacrificeth to his Calf at Bethel, a Prophet is sent unto him from God, who foretels the Judgment which should one day be executed upon that altar, and the Priests (viz. those whom Jeroboam had made of the lowest of the people) that served at it. Which prophecy then and there is confirm'd by signs and wonders upon the King himself, and upon the altar.		914.	XXII. 41 2 Chron. XX. 31.	Jehosaphat being settled in his Kingdom, and having demolished the high places and groves: in the third year of his reign he sends Levites with the Princes to instruct the people in the law. God in the mean time subdueth his enemies under him.
974.	XI. 17.	Jeroboam sacrificeth to his Calf at Bethel, a Prophet is sent unto him from God, who foretels the Judgment which should one day be executed upon that altar, and the Priests (viz. those whom Jeroboam had made of the lowest of the people) that served at it. Which prophecy then and there is confirm'd by signs and wonders upon the King himself, and upon the altar.		912.	XVII. 7.	Benhadad King of Syria layeth siege to Samaria, who by the direction of a Prophet is beaten off, and a vast number of the Syrians slain.
	1 Kings XII. 32. XIII. 2.	Shishak King of Egypt spoileth Jerusalem and the Temple; but the King and the Princes repenting at the preaching of Shemaiah the Prophet, God gives them not over to utter destruction.		901.	1 Kings XX.	Ahab not being able to persuade Naboth to sell him his vineyard, falls sick upon it; Jezebel his wife suborning false witnesses to accuse him of blasphemy, causeth Naboth to be stoned, and puts the King in possession of the Vineyard. Whereupon the Prophet Elijah denounceth Judgments against Ahab and Jezebel; wicked Ahab repenting, God defers the Judgment.
971.	1 Kings XIV. 25. 2 Chron. XII.	Abijam the son of Rehoboam succeeds his father in the Kingdom of Judah, and reigns three years.		899.	XXI.	Ahab, in the seventeenth year of the reign of Jehosaphat, maketh his son Ahaziah his associate in the government of his kingdom.
958.	1 Kings XV.	He obtains a great victory over Jeroboam, killeth 500000 men in one battle, and taketh Bethel.		898.	XXII. 51	Jehosaphat also maketh Jehoram his son copartner with him; whence it is, that Jehoram the son of Ahab, who succeeded his brother Ahaziah in the kingdom of Israel, in the eighteenth year of Jehosaphat King of Judah, is said to have begun his reign in the second year of Jehoram the son of Jehosaphat.
957.	2 Chron. XIII.	Afa, in the twentieth year of Jeroboam, succeeds his father Abijam, and reigns 41 years.			2 Kings III. 1.	Ahab having got Jehosaphat to assist him in the siege of Ramoth-gilead, before he goes, he asketh counsel of 400 false prophets, who promise him victory and success; but by Jehosaphat's advice, Micahiah a true Prophet of God is consulted, who foretels his overthrow; and according to his word, Ahab is slain at Ramoth-gilead, and buried at Samaria.
955.	1 Kings XV. 8.	Nadab in the second year of Afa, succeedeth his father Jeroboam in the Kingdom of Israel, and reigneth not full two years.		897.	I. 17. 1 Kings XXII. 2 Chron. XVIII.	Ahab being dead, the Moabites revolt from Israel, who had continued in subjection ever since King David's days.
954.	25.	Nadab at the siege of Gibbethon (a Town of the Philistines) is slain by Baasha of the Tribe of Issachar, in the third year of Afa; and the same year having made himself King over Israel, he utterly destroyeth the whole race of Jeroboam, and reigneth 24 years. Elijah the Prophet meeteth the messenger, and telleth him Ahaziah shall surely die; whereupon two captains over fifty men a-piece are sent to apprehend him, and bring him before the King; Elijah calleth for fire from heaven, and destroyeth both them and their companies. A third captain with his fifty men being sent, and behaving himself submissively, Elijah goes along with him; the Prophet certifies the King, that he shall not come down from his bed alive. So Ahaziah dieth, having govern'd (partly by himself, and partly together with his father) two years.	878.	XI. 2 Chron. XXII. 10.
	1 Kings XXII.		Athaliah the daughter of Ahab, seeing her son Ahaziah dead, usurps the kingdom, destroying those that had right to the succession; but Jehosheba the daughter of king Jehoram, and wife to Jehoiada the High-Priest, takes Jehoash being then an Infant, and son to her brother Ahaziah, and hides him in the temple, and so saves him from that massacre which was made of the rest of the blood-royal.
	2 Kings III. 1.		Jehoiada the High-Priest brings out Jehoash, now seven years old, and anoints him King; causeth Athaliah to be slain, and restoreth the worship of the true God, destroying the house of Baal, and commanding the idolatrous Priest Mattan to be killed before his altars. Jehoash now beginning his reign in the seventh year of Jehu, reigneth 40 years in Jerusalem.

	Ahaziah succeeds his father in the kingdom of Judah (having had part of the government bestowed upon him the year before) in the 12th year of Jehoram king of Israel, and reigneth one year in Jerusalem.		Jeroboam the second is this year taken into the consortship of the kingdom of Israel by his father Jehoash, going to war against the Syrians. This is gather'd from Azariah King of Judah's beginning his reign in the 27th year of this Jeroboam.

	Jehoram King of Israel, and Ahaziah King of Judah, lead their armies to Ramoth-gilead, against Hazael, who had newly succeeded Benhadad in the kingdom of Syria; Jehoram is dangerously wounded, and retires himself to Jezreel to be cured. In the mean time Elisha sendeth a young prophet with instructions to anoint Jehu the son of Jehosaphat the son of Nimshi, at Ramoth-gilead, king over Israel, and to open to him the will of God, for the rooting out of the house of Ahab, who being proclaimed King by the soldiers, marcheth straight to Jezreel, killeth Jehoram in the field of Naboth, and causeth Jezebel to be cast out at a window, where she is eaten by dogs. He dispatcheth letters also to Samaria, and causeth 70 of Ahab's children to be beheaded. Then taking with him Jehonadab the son of Rechab, he comes himself to Samaria, and destroys the whole family of Ahab, and all the Priests of Baal. Nevertheless having put down the worship of Baal, he departs not from the worship of Jeroboam's golden Calves, but maintains that Idolatry all the time of his reign, which was 28 years.		Amaziah King of Judah growing proud upon a victory obtain'd against the Edomites this 14th year of his reign, provoketh Jehoash King of Israel to battle. 	Isa. IX. 1.					Shalmaneser King of Assyria comes up against Hosea, and makes him to serve him, and pay him Tribute.
	Jon. III.	Jeroboam King of Israel (under whom that Kingdom came to its full height of glory) dieth; after his death all things fall into confusion, and the State is reduced to a plain Anarchy, which lasteth 11 years and an half; for such an interregnum or vacancy the Synchronism of Kings requires; that the six months of Zachariah the son of Jeroboam may answer the 38 years and one month of Shallum, who murder'd him the 39th year of Azariah, or Uzziah King of Judah.	730.			Hezekiah succeedeth his father Ahaz in the Kingdom of Judah, he destroyeth Idolatry, and prospers; he also celebrates a solemn Passover, and reigneth 29 years in Jerusalem; his father had made him, in the last year of his reign, his Assistant in the Government.
	Matth. XII. 41.					Hosea King of Israel, having consulted with So King of Egypt, refuseth to pay tribute to Shalmaneser; provoked hereby, and jealous of some farther design in that confederacy of Hosea with the King of Egypt, Shalmaneser layeth siege to Samaria, and towards the latter end of the third year, taketh it, and carrieth away the Israelites captive into his own country. This was the end of the kingdom of Israel, when it had stood divided from the kingdom of Judah 254 years.
784.	2 Kings XIV. 29.	Zachariah the son of Jeroboam, the 4th and last of the race of Jehu (as was foretold) begins his reign over Israel in the 38th year of Azariah or Uzziah King of Judah, and reigneth 6 months.	728.	2 Kings XVII. 3.		Sennacherib King of Assyria coming up against Judah, besiegeth their fenced cities, and takes many of them, but is pacified by a tribute.

		Shallum the son of Jabeesh, at the end of 6 months, murders him in the sight of the people, and reigns one month in the 39th year of Uzziah King of Judah. After Zachariah's death follow those direful calamities foretold by Amos the Prophet.	726.	XVIII. 1.		Sennacherib not observing the articles of peace, layeth siege to Jerusalem, and sendeth a blasphemous letter to Hezekiah, which he opening and spreading before the Lord in the temple, with many tears, craves Assistance from God against the Assyrians. Whereupon the Prophet Isaiah assures him that God will deliver him, and defend that city. The self-same night an angel of the Lord slays 185000 men in the Assyrian Army; and the next morning Sennacherib departeth and returns to Nineve; where not long after, whilst he is worshipping in the house of Nisroch his God, he is slain by his own sons.
				2 Chron. XXIX.		Manasseh at 12 years of age succeedeth his father Hezekiah, and reigneth 55 years. He sets up Idolatry, and sheddeth much innocent blood. 610.	2 Kings XXIII. 29. At this time a war breaks out between the King of Egypt and the King of Assyria. Josiah unadvisedly engageth in this war against Necho King of Egypt, and is slain in the valley of Megiddo. The good King being thus taken out of the world, whole life only kept off the Babylonish Captivity from that nation, not only the People then living bewail'd his death, but even in after time, a publick mourning for him was kept. The Prophet Jeremy also, in remembrance thereof, composeth his Lamentations, wherein bewailing the calamities which were shortly to befall that people, as present before his eyes, in a most compassionate manner he points, as it were with his finger, at the death of Josiah, as the source and original of all those ensuing miseries.	600.	2 Kings XXIV. 2. Dan. IV.

NEbuchadnezzar proud of his Victories over Egypt, and his conquest of Judea, and other Countries, and boasting the magnificence of his buildings, falls distracted, and is driven from the society of men.

After seven years spent among the beasts of the field, his understanding returning to him, he humbly acknowledgeth the power of God, and his goodness towards him; and is restored to his kingdom. A few days after he dies, having reigned about 20 months together with his father, and 43 years by himself.

Evil-merodach, his son, succeeds him in the 37th year of the captivity of Jehoiachin or Jeconiah, who presently gives order for the enlargement of Jehoiachin, and two days after changeth his prison-clothes, sets him above all the Princes of his Court, and causeth him to eat at his own Table. Jehoiachin dies about two years after.

VII. 1.

Belshazzar having removed some Persons who had murdered his father Evil-merodach, and usurped his Throne, succeeds in the Kingdom of Babylon. In the first year of this King's reign, Daniel has the Vision of the four Beasts, signifying the four Monarchies of the World, and of God, delivering over all power and sovereignty to the Son of man.

553.

In the third year of Belshazzar, Daniel receives the Vision of the Ram and He-goat, betokening the destruction of the Persian Monarchy, and the great misery which Antiochus should bring upon the People of God.

This year Belshazzar makes a great feast for all his Nobles, and causeth to be brought forth all the vessels of the house of the Lord which Nebuchadnezzar his grandfather had brought away from Jerusalem, to the glory of his idols, and dishonour of the true God. In the midst of all this jollity, a hand appears writing on the wall of the room, in which the King and his numerous guests sit drinking. The King greatly terrified hereat, sends for his Chaldean Astrologers and Wizards, and commands them to read the writing, and give him the interpretation of it, but they not being able to do either, Daniel is sent for, who reads the writing, and gives the King the interpretation of it; whereupon Daniel is publicly proclaimed the third man in the Kingdom. The same night Belshazzar is slain, Babylon taken by Cyrus, and the Empire translated to the Medes and Persians, as had been fundry times foretold by the Prophets.

move the King to make a Decree, that for 30 days no Petition shall be made to any God or Man, but to himself only. Which Decree Daniel breaks by making Supplication to his God, and is for doing so, cast into a den of lions; but being found to have received no hurt there, Darius commands the Conspirators to be cast into the same den, who are presently devoured, and the King publisheth a Decree, that all Persons throughout his Dominions shall reverence and fear the God of Daniel.

Toward the end of the first year of the reign of Darius the Mede, to be reckoned from the subversion of the Babylonish Empire, begins the 70th year of the captivity of the Jews, which by Jeremiah's Prophecy was to be the last year of their calamity: Upon consideration of which time so near at hand, Daniel pours out most fervent prayers to God for the remission of his own sins, and those of his People; and for that promised deliverance out of their captivity. To whom the Angel Gabriel brings an answer not only of this, but also of the spiritual deliverance of the Church by the death of the Messiah; uttering that memorable Prophecy of the Seventy weeks.

Cyrus, his father Cambyfes, and his father-in-law Cyaxares both dying, Persia falls to him by inheritance, and Media by contract of marriage; and so he is possessed of the whole Eastern Empire; from which time, both Xenophon (Instit. lib. 8.) reckons the seven years of his reign, and the Holy Scripture, out of the Records of the Medes and Persians, reckons this his first year, for it teacheth us, that in this year came forth that renowned Edict of his, Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, the Lord God of Heaven hath given me all the Kingdoms of the Earth, and hath charged me to build him an House at Jerusalem, which is in Judah, &c. At which time the 70 years of the Babylonish captivity being expired (as was foretold by Isaiah and Jeremiah, the former making mention of Cyrus by name) he gives leave to all the Jews dwelling in all parts of his Dominions, to return into their own country, and commands them immediately to fall in hand with rebuilding of the Temple.

He restoreth also all the vessels of the House of God, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought from thence; and contributes towards the building.

The Jews therefore return into their own Country; the poorer sort having allowance made them to defray their charges upon the way. The number of the children of the Province, or Hebrews born in Chaldea, which with their captain Zerubbabel, and their High-priest Jeshua, return out of captivity, is 42360, besides Profelytes, Man-servants and Maid-servants, to the number of 7337. Now the particular Sums of Ezra's catalogue being cast up, amount only to 29818; and those in Nehemiah's account make but 31031, both which come far short of that universal sum of 42360, which at the bottom of each catalogue is said to be the number of the whole Congregation. Wherefore the Hebrews in the 29th chapter of their great Chronicle, tell us, that to complete the full Sum of 42360, we must cast in those of the other Ten Tribes of Israel, who came up out of captivity with the Jews. For even till the last expiration of the Jewish state, there remained some reliques of the other Ten Tribes, not only in the dispersion, and at Jerusalem, and other cities of Judah; [d] but

In the second year after their return from Babylon, in the second month, they appoint Levites to oversee the work of the House of God, and lay the foundation of the Temple; the old men lamenting, who 53 years before had seen the old Temple standing, and the younger sort rejoicing to see the new one going up.	467.	VIII.	In the seventh year of Artaxerxes, Ezra with a great multitude of Jews, sets out from Babylon.
534.	IV. 5.	The Samaritans, by the means of certain Courtiers about Cyrus, whom they had bribed for that purpose, disturb the Jews in their work of the Temple.	455.	IX, X.	Ezra obligeth those who had taken strangers to wife, to send them back.
529.	6.	In the beginning of the reign of Artaxerxes (called in prophane story Cambyses) the Samaritans, who whilst Cyrus lived, had secretly undermined the Jews, now openly frame a direct accusation in writing against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem, and present it to the King, who presently forbids the Jews to proceed in the building.	442.	Neh. II.	In the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, Nehemiah a Jew, one of his cup-bearers, being made governor of Judea, obtains leave to build the walls of Jerusalem, and finish that great work. Here begin Daniel's 70 Weeks, to be fulfilled before the Passion of our Saviour.
520.	V. 1.	In the second year of King Darius Hystaspes (the same with Ahasuerus) Zerubbabel and Jeshua incited by the Prophets Haggai and Zechariah, set forward the building of the Temple.	415.	Dan. IX. 24. Nehem. V. 14. XIII. 6.	Nehemiah having governed Judea 12 years, returns to the King of Persia. This year is the 21st Jubile, the last that ever the Prophets of the Old Testament saw; for that place in Nehemiah, c. XII. 22. is not to be understood of the last Darius, but of Darius Nothus, who now reigns in Persia; the full History of Nehemiah ending with the time of Artaxerxes Longimanus, father of this Darius Nothus.
	Hagg. II. 1, 9.	Haggai prophesieth, that the glory of this second Temple shall be greater than that of the former, not as being a more magnificent structure, but in regard the blessed Messiah shall one day honour it with his presence, and from thence propagate Peace to all Nations.			Hitherto (saith Eusebius in his Chronicle to the 32d year of Artaxerxes) the divine Scriptures of the Hebrews contain the Annals of the times: But those things which were done among them afterwards, we must deliver out of the Books of the Maccabees, and out of the Writings of Josephus, who have deliver'd a general History of the Jewish affairs from thence down to the times of the Romans.
519. 518.	Zech. I. 1, 6. Est. I, II.	About this time Zechariah the Prophet exhorteth the Jews to repentance. Ahasuerus puts away Queen Vashti his Wife, and not long after espouseth Esther the Niece of Mordecai the Jew.		Nehem. XIII.	That Malachi the last of the Prophets was contemporary with Nehemiah, appears from hence, That he no where exhorts the People to the building of the Temple, as Haggai and Zachary did; but the Temple being now built, he reproves those disorders which Nehemiah at his second return with a new commission from Babylon, saith he found in his absence to have crept in among the Jews; as marriage with strange women, withholding of tithes, and abuses in the worship of God.
515.	Ezra VI.	In the sixth year of Darius, or Ahasuerus, the Temple is finished, the dedication whereof is celebrated with great joy and abundance of sacrifices, the Priests and Levites, every one in his place, attending on the Ministry of the Temple. The Passover also is celebrated.		Malachi IV. 4. Luke I. 17. Matth. XI. 14. XVII. 12	And because a succession of Prophets was not to be expected, as before, he exhorteth the people constantly to adhere to the law of Moses, till Christ the chief Prophet should appear; whose fore-runner John the Baptist should come in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers unto their children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just. See 1 Mac. IV. 46. and IX. 17.

Haman an Agagite, of the race of the Amalekites, a great favourite of King Ahasuerus, offended at Mordecai, because he falls not down and adores him as others do, resolves to be revenged of the whole Nation of the Jews (which was ever averse to his) and to root it out, for the executing of which purpose, that he may find a successful time, he causeth Pur, that is, the Lot, to be cast before him, for to know the day and month wherein the Jews shall be destroyed, and the lot falls on the twelfth month Adar.	335.	Joseph. Ant. lib. 11. c. 8.	Alexander the Great, King of Macedonia, passeth out of Europe into Asia, and begins to lay waste the Persian Empire.
	Deut. XXV. 19	Haman obtains an Edict from the King, that all Jews, without respect to sex or age, upon the thirteenth day of the month Adar, be put to death in all the provinces of the King's dominions. Hereupon Mordecai, Esther, and all the Jews humble themselves before the Lord by fasting and prayer.	332.	Id. ibid.	Manasses brother to Jaddus the High-priest, refusing to put away his strange wife, is driven from the sacrifice; Sanaballat his father-in-law, Governor of Samaria, revolts from Darius, obtains leave of Alexander to build a Temple on mount Gerizim, and makes Manasses High-priest thereof: to which resort all such as are entangled in unlawful marriage, with all such offenders as think not themselves safe at Jerusalem. This was the rise of that Schismatical Conventicle of the Samaritans. See John IV. 20.

Ahasuerus hearing it read in the Chronicles that a Conspiracy had been discovered to him by Mordecai, commandeth that he be publickly honoured, and that by Haman himself, his deadly enemy.		Jof. Perseus having made war upon the Romans, is this year overcome by them, and the Kingdom of the Macedonians ends, when from Caranus it had stood 626 years. Nevertheless, the reliques of the Macedonian Empire, while that of the Roman was rising, did yet survive in the Ptolemeys of Egypt, and the Kings of Syria.
330. The Macedonian Empire.		Alexander having reigned six years and ten months, dieth; his Army and Dominions are divided among his captains. Antigonus makes himself governor of Asia, Seleucus of Babylon, and the bordering Nations; Lyfimachus hath the Hellespont, Cassander, Macedon, and Ptolemy the son of Lagus gets Egypt.	167.	1 Mac. I. 45.	King Antiochus, by a publick Edict, commands all Nations that are subject unto him to observe the same way of Divine Worship, and laying aside their peculiar Customs, to profess the same Religion with the Grecians; the punishment of Death being threatned unto such as shall be disobedient; and he appoints Overseers over every People and Nation, who shall compel them hereunto. Of the Jews many chuse rather to undergo the most cruel torments, than to offer sacrifice unto Idols; all which Martyrdoms, with those glorious sufferings of the seven Maccabean brethren, are recorded in the two Books of Maccabees.
323.	Joseph. Ant. lib. 12. c. 1. 1 Mac. I.	Ptolemy, firnamed Soter, makes himself master of Jerusalem by a stratagem; for he enters the city upon a sabbath-day, under pretence of offering sacrifice, and whilst the Jews suspect nothing, but spend the day in ease and idleness, he surpriseth the city without resistance, and makes the citizens captives. He sendeth several colonies of Jews into Egypt, and puts great confidence in them.		1 Mac. II. 2 Mac. VI. Jof. Ant. l. 12. c. 8. Heliodorus entering the Temple, is by Angels struck down in the very place, and carried from thence half dead; but by the prayers of Onias, he is soon after restored to his health; returning to Seleucus that sent him, he magnifies the holiness of the Temple, and the power of God dwelling in it.		1 Mac. His son Antiochus Eupator, a child about nine years old, succeeds him. 32.	John V. 1.	JESUS comes up to Jerusalem, at the time of the Feast, and heals on the Sabbath-day a man that had an infirmity 38 years, lying at the pool of Bethesda. He makes a most divine Apology to the Jews that sought to kill him, because he said that God was his Father.	Luke XXII.	Jesus eateth the Passover with his disciples, and institutes the Sacrament of his Body and Blood in Bread and Wine.
	Luke VI. 13.	Christ out of the multitude of his disciples chooseth 12, whom he calleth Apostles: namely, Peter, Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, Simon called Zelotes, Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot. To these our Saviour chiefly directs his discourse in that glorious, full, and admirable Sermon on the mount.	John XIII. XVIII.	Christ washeth his Disciples feet, and exhorteth them to humility and charity. In the self-same night Christ is betrayed by Judas, mocked, buffeted, and spit upon by the soldiers.
	Matt. V. VI. VII.		Matth. XXVII.	Next day he is condemned by Pilate, and crucified; the Sun during the Crucifixion, is darkened, and the vail of the Temple rent in the midst. Christ praying for his enemies, gives up the ghost. Joseph of Arimathea begs the Body, and lays it in a new sepulchre.
	Luke VI. 20.		Mar. XV.	On the third day, the next after the Jewish Sabbath, (April 5.) Christ riseth from the dead; his Resurrection is declared by Angels to the Women that came to the Sepulchre. Christ first appeareth to Mary Magdalene, and afterward to his Disciples, and dineth with them.
	IX. I.		Luke XXIII.	Christ bringeth his Apostles to mount Olivet; commandeth them to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the Holy Ghost; sends them to teach and baptize all nations, and blesses them; and while they behold, he is taken up, and a cloud receives him out of their sight. After his Ascension the disciples are warned by two Angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming; they accordingly return, and giving themselves to prayer, chuse Matthias to be an Apostle in the place of Judas.
	Mark VI. 7.		Joh. XIX.	On the day of Pentecost, (May 24.) the Holy Ghost descendeth on the Apostles in the form of cloven Tongues, like as of fire, and enableth them to speak all Languages. Peter the same day preacheth Christ and the Resurrection, and about 3000 Believers are added to the Church.
	Mat. X. 1.	Jesus sends his 12 Apostles by two and two, to preach, and heal the sick.	Pc. XXII.	Peter, by faith in Christ's Name, healeth a lame man.
	XIV. 6.	John the Baptist is beheaded in prison by Herod's command.	Matth. XXVIII.	The rulers of the Jews offended at Peter's Sermon, and his miraculous cure of the lame man, cast both him and John into prison; upon their examination, they boldly avouch the lame man to be healed by the Name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus we must be eternally saved. After this the Jews forbid them to speak any more in that Name; but the Apostles answer, That it is fit they should obey God rather than men. They are threatened, and let go.
	15.		Mark XVI.	Ananias and his wife Sapphira, for their hypocrisy, are suddenly struck dead.
	Mark VI. 35.	Jesus feeds 5000 men, beside women and children, with five Barley Loaves and two little Fishes. He refuses to be made a King.	Luke XXIV.	The Apostles are again cast into prison by the High-priest, but an Angel sets them at liberty, and bids them preach the Gospel to the people without fear; being taken again teaching in the Temple, they are brought before the Council; where by the advice of Gamaliel, a Pharisee, and Doctor of the Law, they are delivered.
Luke IX. 12.		Joh. XX.	The number of Believers increasing at Jerusalem, the Apostles ordain seven Deacons, who should distribute the Alms of the whole Church to the Widows, and poorer sort of Believers. Stephen, one of these Deacons, having confounded some that disputed with him, is by them falsely accused of blasphemy, and brought before the Council, where he reprehends their rebellion and murdering of Christ. Whereupon they cast him out of the City, and stone him; he in the mean time praying for them.

34. The Ro- man Em- pire.	Acts VIII. 15.	the Sorcerer, seeing the wonders that are done by Philip, believeth, and is baptized. The Apostles at Jerusalem hearing that Samaria had received the faith, send thither Peter and John to confirm and enlarge the Church. The Apostles by prayer and imposition of hands, confer the Holy Ghost on all Believers. Simon Magus offers them Money, that he may receive power of conferring the same, whose impiety is sharply reproved by Peter. Having completed their Ministry in those parts, they return to Jerusalem.	44. The Ro- man Em- pire.		John is beheaded by the command of Herod Agrippa. He also imprisoneth Peter, whom an Angel delivers upon the prayers of the Church. This same Herod, not long after speaking to the People at Cesarea, some of them cry out, It is the voice of God, and not of man, and immediately an Angel of the Lord smites him, because he gave not the glory to God, and he is eaten of worms, and dieth.
35.	26.	An Angel sendeth Philip to teach and baptize the Ethiopian Eunuch.	45.	Acts XIII. 23.	Barnabas and Saul set forward in their preaching of the Gospel. They plant the Christian faith in Seleucia, Cyprus, and other places. At Paphos they preach the Gospel to Sergius Paulus, Governor of that Country; Elymas a Sorcerer withstanding them, and endeavouring to turn away Sergius from the faith, is at Saul's rebuke struck blind. From this time Saul is always called by his new Name Paul; he preacheth at Antioch, the Gentiles believe, but the Jews gainsay and blaspheme. Whereupon he and his Assistants turn to the Gentiles, and come to Iconium.
	IX. 1.	Saul, a violent Persecuter of all that call on the Name of Jesus, and one who consented to the death of Stephen, goes now towards Damascus, with commission from the High-priest and the Council, to apprehend all Christians in those parts, and to bring them bound to Jerusalem; on the way he is miraculously converted by a voice from Heaven; and three days after baptized by Ananias at Damascus, where he preacheth the Gospel of Christ with great boldness, to the astonishment of those that knew upon what design he was sent thither.	46.	XIV.	At Iconium they are persecuted and ready to be stoned. From hence they fly to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia. At Lystra, Paul healing a Cripple, the multitude cry out, that the Gods are come down, and call Barnabas, Jupiter, and Paul, Mercurius, and would have sacrificed to them, had not the Apostles, with Clothes rent, run in among them, and assured them, that they were Men like themselves. Soon after there come Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who excite the People against them. Paul is by the furious Multitude stoned, and drawn out of the City as dead; but whilst the Disciples stand about him, he riseth up, and the next day departs with Barnabas to Derbe.
38.	23. 2 Cor. XI. 32.	Saul having preached the Gospel at Damascus a long time, the Jews lay wait to kill him, but he escapeth from thence, and comes to Jerusalem, there he sees Peter and James the brother of our Lord, and abides with them fifteen days. Here he speaks boldly in the Name of Jesus, and disputes with the Grecians, or rather Jews that used the Greek Tongue. These also consult how they may kill him.		2 Cor. XII. 2.	In this year, perhaps at this very time, Paul was caught up into the third heaven, and heard unspeakable words, fourteen years before he wrote his second Epistle to the Corinthians.
	Gal. I. 18.	While Saul prays in the Temple, he is in a Trance, and the Lord appears unto him, and bids him to depart from Jerusalem, because they will not receive his testimony; adding that he will send him to the Gentiles.		2 Tim. I. 2, 5.	About this time, Timothy, though a Child, with his Mother Eunice, and his Grandmother Lois, embrace the Christian Faith preached by Paul.
	Acts XXII. 17.	Saul leaving Jerusalem, goes to his own Country Tarsus, and from thence travels into Syria and Cilicia.	52.	Acts XV.	Certain Judaizing Christians come from Judea to Antioch, and teach that the Gentiles ought to be circumcised, and observe the law of Moses; these Paul and Barnabas oppose, and a council is held by the Apostles and others at Jerusalem, to determine this Controversy. The Decrees of the Synod are sent to the Churches.
	IX. 30. Gal. I. 21.	Peter visits the Churches of Judea, Galilee, Samaria, &c. at Lydda he cureth Æneas of the Palsy; and at Joppa restoreth Tabitha to life.	53.	36.	Paul and Barnabas thinking to visit the Churches together, fall at strife, and part asunder; Barnabas and Mark go into Cyprus; Paul and Silas into Syria and Cilicia.
41.		At Cesarea, Cornelius a Centurion, by Prayers and Alms, finds favour in the sight of God, and is commanded by an Angel to send for Peter now at Joppa. God by a vision teacheth Peter not to despise the Gentiles; and being sent for by Cornelius, goes and preacheth Christ to him, and a great company that were met at his house; while Peter preacheth, the Holy Ghost falls upon them all; and immediately the Apostle baptizeth them.		XVI.	Paul coming to Derbe, finds there Timothy, whom (because his Mother was a believing Jew, though his Father a Gentile) he causeth to be circumcised, and takes him along with him. He is by a vision admonished to go into Macedonia; coming to Philippi the chief City of that part of Macedonia, he converts Lydia; casteth out of a certain Maid-servant a spirit of divination, whose Master losing a considerable gain thereby, brings Paul and Silas before the Magistrates; these cause them to be whipped and imprisoned; but at midnight, Paul and Silas praying and singing Psalms, the doors of the prison fly open, and their bonds are loosed: the Jaylor ready to kill himself, is converted to the Faith, and baptized the same night, with his whole family. Next day the Magistrates come themselves, and pray them to depart the City.
	XI.	Peter, at his return to Jerusalem, is accused by those of the Circumcision, for conversing with the Gentiles, but he declares to them his Vision, and the whole matter concerning Cornelius, and they glorify God, for granting to the Gentiles also repentance unto life.
		The Believers, who ever since the martyrdom of Stephen, and the persecution thereupon ensuing, had been dispersed throughout all Phenice and Cyprus, come now to Antioch, and preach the Gospel to the Greeks there, having before preach'd to none but the Jews. The Church at Jerusalem understanding this, and that the number of Believers increased exceedingly, sends Barnabas thither to confirm them; he goes to Tarsus, and takes Saul along with him to Antioch, where they continue a whole year, converting multitudes to the faith. Here the Disciples were first called Christians.

54. The Ro- man Em- pire.	Acts XVII.	From Philippi Paul takes his journey through Amphipolis and Apollonia, and comes to Thessalonica, where he finds a Synagogue of the Jews; there he preacheth three Sabbath days; some believe, others persecute him. Leaving Thessalonica, he comes to Berea, and soon after arrives at Athens, disputes with the Philosophers, and declares unto them that UNKNOWN GOD whom they had ignorantly worshipped. He converts Dionysius the Areopagite, and thence passeth to Corinth.		Acts XXII. XXIII.	He claimeth the privilege of a Roman, and escapeth scourging. Paul pleadeth his cause before Ananias the High-priest. The chief Captain understanding that above forty Jews had bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor drink till they had killed him, sends him to Felix the Governor of the Province, by whom he is imprisoned at Cæsarea.
	XVIII.	Paul at Corinth meets with Aquila and Priscilla, not long before banished Rome, by the Decree of Claudius. Here he continues a year and six months, and thence writes to the Thessalonians.	62.	XXIV.	Paul is accused before Felix by Tertullus the Orator; Felix goes out of his Office, and to gratify the Jews, leaves Paul in Prison. Porcius Festus succeeds him in the Government.
55.		Paul is accused by the Jews, and brought before Gallio, Proconsul of Achaia, who refuseth to be Judge in a Controversy about Religion, and so drives them away from the Judgment-seat.		XXV.	The Jews come to Cæsarea and accuse Paul before Festus. He answereth for himself, and appeals unto Cæsar. King Agrippa comes to Cæsarea, and Festus opens the whole matter to him.
56.	18.	Paul departs from Corinth, and passeth to Ephesus, thence he sets out toward Jerusalem, that he may be at the Feast; he lands at Cæsarea, goes down to Antioch, and comes into the regions of Galatia and Phrygia, confirming the Disciples in all those places.	63.	XXVI.	Paul makes his defence in the presence of Agrippa, who thereby is almost persuaded to be a Christian, and the whole company pronounce him innocent.
57.	XIX.	Paul returns to Ephesus, disputes daily in the School of Tyrannus, and continues preaching there, and the Parts thereabouts.		XXVIII.	Paul comes to Rome, is a prisoner at large, and preacheth there two years.
58. 60.		He writes his Epistle to the Galatians. At Ephesus, Demetrius a silver-smith, jealous of his gain, raiseth a tumult against Paul, which is appeased by the Town-Clerk.	65.	Heb. XIII. 24.	Here ends the History of the Acts of the Apostles, written by S. Luke, S. Paul's beloved Companion in his Travels. S. Paul from Rome writes his Epistles, To the Philippians. To Philemon. To the Colossians. To the Ephesians. About the latter end of this year, S. Paul is set at liberty, and a little before his departure out of Italy into Asia, he writes his Epistle to the Hebrews.
	1 Cor. I. 11. XVI. 8.	About this time a Schism ariseth in the Church of Corinth, which causeth Paul (now in or about Ephesus) to write his first Epistle to the Corinthians.		Tit. I. 5.	He preacheth the Gospel in the Isle of Crete, and leaves Titus there to set things in order, and ordain Elders in every City.

TABLES

TABLES of Scripture-Measures, Weights and Coins: With an APPENDIX containing the Method of Calculating its MEASURES of SURFACE, hitherto wanting in Treatises on this Subject. By the R. R. Richard Lord Bishop of Peterborough.

A Measure is a known Quantity applied to another of the same kind that is less known, to make its Dimensions better known, by help of Numbers expressing the Proportion that the known Quantity bears to the unknown. The Dimensions to be measur'd are three. 1. Meer Length, which hath but one Dimension. 2. Surface, which consists of Length multiplied into Breadth; so it hath two Dimensions, as it were interwoven, and this is always measured by some square Surface, already known, as by a square Foot, or a square Cubit, or any other Square already known by help of its Side. Moses generally useth the square Cubit. 3. Is Solidity or Capacity, which hath three Dimensions multiplied into each other: Length, Breadth and Height, or Depth. This is measured by a known Cube. From Solidity ariseth Weight in all Sublunary Bodies; and by Weight we measure the Value of Coins: Therefore I shall join Weights and Coins together in the Fourth Table.

I use = to signify Equal :: to express Proportion: L is called Separatrix, parting Decimals from Integers.

I. TABLE. Measures of Length.

I express the Cubit, and its Parts, both by Inch-Measure and by Foot-Measure; which I deduce from Inches by this Proportion.

	Inch. Meas.	Foot. Meas.
As 12, 1. ::	21L888.	1L824.

A Cubit is = to	21L888.	1L824.
A Span the longer = $\frac{1}{2}$ a Cubit	= 10L944	= L912.
Span the less = $\frac{2}{3}$ of Cubit	= 7L296	= L608.
A Hands breadth = $\frac{1}{2}$ of Cubit	= 3L684	= L304.
A Fingers breadth = $\frac{1}{4}$ of Cubit	= L912	= L076.

Measures of many Cubits length, I express only in Foot-Measure.

A Fathom -----	= 4 Cubits ----- = 7L296.
Ezekiel's Reed ---	= 6 Cubits ----- = 10L944.
Schaenus, the Egyptian Line for Land-Measure, which I think Scripture useth to divide inheritances. Psal. 16. 6. & 78. 55. They used different lengths, but the shortest, and most useful was Herodotus mentions a Schaenus just 300 times as long: I judge that all the greater were made in proportion to the least. The Mile, ----
Stadium, $\frac{1}{2}$ of their Mile	= 400 Cubits = 729L6.
Parasang, 3 of their Miles	= 12000 Cubits = 4 English Miles, and 580 Feet.

II. TABLE. Measures of Surface.

Moses hath described these by Square Cubits. I here express them reduced to our Square Feet: The method of this Reduction is taught in an Appendix. I first propose three clear Examples given by Moses. Secondly, I place six Instances of greater difficulty.

The clearest Examples are,

I. The Altar of Incense. Only two sides of it, viz. its Length and Breadth are express'd by Moses, each of them is affirmed to be one Cubit. Yet he declares that it was four Square: whence we collect, that it was just one Square Cubit. See Exod. 30. 2. Now it is demonstrated in the Appendix, that one Jewish Square Cubit amounts to in Surface three English Square Feet, and about 47 Square Inches.

II. The Table of Shew-bread, Exod. 25. 23. It's affirmed to be two Cubits in Length, and one in Breadth. None doubt but it was rectangular, containing two Jewish square Cubits. These amount to above six English square Feet, and above half, viz. 94 square Inches.

III. The Boards of the Tabernacle, each ten Cubits in Length, and one and a half in Breadth, Exod. 26. 16. being rectangular, must contain 15 square Cubits, Jewish. These are proved to contain very near 50 square Feet of English Measure.

The more difficult Cases reserved to the Appendix, are,

I. The Mercy-seat, whose Surface is = 12 square Feet and $\frac{1}{2}$.

II. A general Method is taught of reducing any given Number of Jewish Cubits to English square Feet.

III. The Example of the 15 square Cubits in the Boards of the Tabernacle is made clearer.

IV. The Court of the Tabernacle described, Exod. 27. 18. is found to be just half the Egyptian Aroua, and to contain 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 square Feet, &c.

V. The whole Aroua is determined, and reduced to our English measures, 3 Roods, 2 Perches, 55 square Feet.

VI. The Suburbs, or Glebe-Land, given to each City of the Levites, Numb. 35. 3, 4, 5. is shewed to be a Square, on each of the four Sides of every City, containing a Million of Jewish square Cubits, or 100 Aroua; which amount to in each Square 76 Acres, 1 Rood, 20 Perches, 80 square Feet: Whence we collect, that all the four Squares amounted to 305 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch, besides 51 Feet square.

III. TABLE. Measures of Capacity.

Epha or Bath, -----	7-4-15
Chomer, Homer in our Translation -----	75-5-7
Seab $\frac{1}{3}$ of Epha -----	2-4-3

Metretres of Syria (Job. 2. 6.) = Cong. R. -----	0-7-0
Cotyla, Eastern, $\frac{1}{100}$ of Epha -----	0-0-3

This Cotyla contains just 10 Ounces Averdupois of Rain-water: Omer 100: Epha 1000: Chomer 10000. So by these Weights all these Measures of Capacity may be expeditiously recover'd, very near exactness.

IV. TABLE. Of Weights and Coins.

An APPENDIX to the Second Table of Measures of Surface, described by Moses, shewing the Method of reducing them by Calculation to the Measures used in England, for the benefit of those that understand Decimal Arithmetick, and desire to try the Reductions given in the Table, or to make further Improvements in this kind of Measures.

1. The Mercy-Seat.

I Shall begin with Reduction of the Measures of the Mercy-seat, which was God's Throne of Grace among the Jews. Moses in Exod. 25. 17. affirms, That its Length was two Cubits and $\frac{1}{2}$, its Breadth one Cubit and $\frac{1}{2}$. The Fractions adhering to its Length and Breadth, make some difficulty to beginners in Arithmetick, which the Decimal way doth much abate. Supposing therefore, what I have elsewhere proved, that the Jewish Cubit was in Foot-measure 1L824. The Length must be express'd in Foot-measure, and Decimals thereof, 4L560. The Breadth in like measure will be 2L736. Wherefore the Product of these Numbers multiplied into each other, gives its Surface 12L47616: in number of its square Feet, and Decimals thereof, 12 square Feet, and very near half a square Foot, if the Decimals had been L50, it had been just $\frac{1}{2}$ a Foot. If we desire to express those Decimals of a Foot in square Inches, as is usual in England, we must multiply L47616 by 144, the square Inches 'of a Foot, and the Product will be 68L56704: which shews that the Decimals we found, amount to 68 square Inches, and above $\frac{1}{2}$ an Inch more: We need not be nicer.

2. A Square Cubit reduced to our measure.

2. In the Altar of Incense Moses describes the Jewish Square Cubit, which must be reduced to our Foot Measure, thus, $\frac{1,824}{1,824}$. The Product of these Numbers multiplied will be the upper Surface of this Altar, 3L326976, that is, three square Feet and L326926 Decimals of a square Foot, which we may express by 47 square Inches, and a few Decimals of an Inch square inconsiderable.

3. The boards of the Tabernacle.

3. Moses's Description of the Boards of the Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 16. by ten Cubits in length, and one and $\frac{1}{2}$ in breadth, naturally leads a Man to discern in each Board's Surface 15 Jewish square Cubits; because if we conceive a Line drawn from the end of one Cubit at the bottom of the board, to the end of one Cubit at the top of the board, this must needs be 10 whole square Cubits on one side of that Line, and 10 half square Cubits (=5 whole) on the other side of that Line: Here therefore are 15 square Cubits. The Reduction of these into English square Feet is perform'd by multiplying 15. viz. The number of Cubits given into 3L326976, The Feet and Decimals of one square Cubit, and the Product will be 49L90464, and that is very near to 50 square Feet, for those Decimals amount to above 130 square Inches, and little more than 13 square Inches would make it just 50 Feet, which Abatement we need not here regard.

4. The Court of the Tabernacle.

4. Let us now go to the measure of the Surface of Lands. But we will begin with the Court of the Tabernacle, the Ground on which the Priests performed all the solemn Publick Worship of Israel in Moses's time. The Area of this Court is described by Moses, Exod. 27. 18. by its length 100 Cubits, and its breadth every where 50 Cubits. Wherefore this Area must be in Jewish Measure 5000 square Cubits, for that is the Product of 100 multiplied into 50. To reduce these 5000 Jewish Cubits into English square Feet, I must multiply 5000 into 3L326976, The Product is 16634L88 English square Feet.

But in cases of such long numbers of Feet, we use for Brevities sake, and to help our Memories, to reduce them into Perches, or Roods, or Acres, which contain known Numbers of square Feet. A Perch contains 272 square Feet and $\frac{1}{4}$. A Rood is = to 10890 square Feet. An Acre is = to 43560 square Feet. It's plain that the Number 16634L88, hath not Integers equal to those of an Acre; but it hath enough to answer those in a Rood, and some over-plus; therefore I must divide 16634L88, by 10890, which is a Rood. By such Division continued in the Decimal way, until I have a Fraction of five or six Places, which is exact enough, I find the Quote to be 1L527537, which assures me that my Number 16634L88, hath but once intirely in it a whole Rood: But it hath moreover in it many Decimal parts of a Rood. These therefore I reduce to the Perches contained in them, by multiplying them into 40, which is the number of Perches that make up a Rood; and cutting off six Places from the Product, which is 21L101480; So I find there are 21 Perches intire, and the Figures after the Separatrix are Decimals of a Perch. These also I multiply by 272L25, which are the square Feet and Decimals of a Perch. The Product of this last Multiplication, after eight places cut off from it by the Separatrix, because there were six places of Decimals in one of the Multipliers, and two in the other, is 27L62793000. Hence I learn that there are therein but 27 intire Feet, all the eight Decimal Places amount to little above $\frac{1}{2}$ a Foot, and therefore I cast them away as inconsiderable in the measure of Land. This Method of Reduction by Multiplication of Decimals, I find to be easier than the common way of Reduction by Division, and therefore I propose it to be used by beginners in this Practice of Surveying. So I find this Court to contain in English Measure 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 Feet, and little more than half a foot squar'd. But reflecting upon Moses's Measure by Cubits, and finding them to be precisely 5000 square Cubits, I observed that they were just half 10000, which I had observed from Herodotus's Euterpe, to be the Area of the Egyptian Aroua, by which their Land was as generally measured as ours is by Acres and Roods. See Herodot. l. 2. c. 168; I called also to mind a Passage in Manetho an Egyptian Priest, cited by Josephus in his first Book against Apion, where he affirms that Manetho in his History of the Reign, Wars, and Expulsion of the Pastors (whom Africanus affirms to be Phœnicians or Canaanites, and Josephus vainly believed to be Jews) wrote out of the Publick Records of Egypt, that these Pastors made at Abaris a very large and strong Encampment, that encompassed 10000 Aroua, sufficient to contain 240000 Men, and long to maintain their Cattle. Hence it appears, that not only the Egyptians, but the Phœnicians or Canaanites also that had dwelt among them, and had reigned there during the time of six Kings successively, used this Measure of Land, called Aroua. Now this was long before Moses's time; for the beginning of Amosis or Tethmosis, who expell'd them out of Egypt, was very near the time of Abraham's Death, as appears by the Annals of the Learned Primate of Ireland. Wherefore I believe that Moses, who was skill'd in all Egyptian Learning, especially Surveying, did of choice make the Court of the Tabernacle to be just half an Aroua, which was a known Measure to him and his People, who had long dwelt in Egypt, and Divine Authority directed him so to do.

5. Because we have shewn from Herodotus, that an Aroua is the square of 100 Jewish or Egyptian Cubits, and 100 such Cubits may in English Foot-measure be express'd by 182L4 English Feet, it follows that the square of this Number will express exactly the Number of the English square Feet that are contained in an Aroua. Now by Multiplication of 182L4 into it self, I find the Product to be 33269L76: Therefore I conclude that there are 33269 square Feet intire, and L76 Decimals of a square Foot in an Aroua. Now to reduce these English square Feet into Roods, Perches, and the remainder of square Feet, I use the Method used in the last Paragraph: First, I divide them by 10890, the square Feet in a Rood, and the Quote I find 3L055074, that is, three Roods, and L055074 Decimals of a Rood. Secondly, I multiply those Decimals by 40, which is the Number of Perches in a Rood, the Product is 2L202960. Hence I conclude there are therein two Perches, and L202960 Decimals of of a Perch. Thirdly, I multiply these last Decimals by 272L25, which are the square Feet of a Perch. The Product is 55L25586000, that is, 55 intire square Feet, the eight places of Decimals amount to little above $\frac{1}{4}$ of a square Foot, therefore I reject them as inconsiderable in measure of Land. By all these Reductions it is found that an Aroua is in English Measure, three Roods, two Perches, 55 $\frac{1}{4}$ square Feet. Hence it follows also that it is not well Translated by Jugerum, for it is much larger, nor is it well in English called an Acre, for it is considerably less. To this place I refer the use of the lesser sort of $\alpha\omega\iota\nu\theta$, which yet is most convenient for the use of the Egyptians and of the Jews to measure out private Mens Inheritances, by a Line which was 80 Cubits long. For the length of this Line will measure one side of an Aroua, if the other side be 125 Cubits long, which is the length of this Line, and its half, and five Cubits above half of it, which they might easily mark in it by a Knot or a Ring. And by this means they might easily lay any number of Arouæ together, all of them Rectangular and Parallel to each other. Such Lines I suppose for measure of Inheritances are intimated, Psal. 78. 55. & 16. 6, &c.

6. The Levites
Glebe.

6. I shall conclude with an Example amounting after Reduction to a Number of English Acres, which measure, we have not yet reach'd to. This I take from Numb. 35. 3, 4, 5 Verses: There Moses describes what measure of Land the Levites were to be allowed for their Cattle, their Goods, and all their Beasts, on the North, East, South and West Sides of each of their Cities. So that the City was to be in the midst of the Land belonging to it. This Land in our Translation is called Suburbs, because of its nearness to all their Cities. But we must not thence imagine, that it means Houses and Streets, adjoining to their Cities, in which sense we sometimes use the word Suburbs. For Moses plainly tells us they were places for their several sorts of Cattle to feed in, such as might also be Orchards or Gardens for fruits, or perhaps for a little Corn, comprehended in the word their Goods. These Fields he limits by 1000 Cubits, which was just a quarter of an Eastern Mile, but amounts in meer length to 608 Yards English measure, and therefore exceeds a quarter of an English Mile by 168 yards in length. But it is certain that Cattle cannot feed upon meer length, but this must signify the side of some surface of Land bounded thereby, and we must have two sides of that Surface given before we can find the Area, or Surface contained. Therefore Moses, Verse 5. tells us, that on each side of each City they must measure 2000 Cubits, which will determine no Surface, unless we understand it to mean the two sides of a square, bounded on every side by 1000 Cubits; these two sides multiplied into each other, will produce a square that contains just a Million of square Cubits, and that is a known and exact measure of just 100 Arouæ, and this shews that the 2000 Cubits mentioned Verse 5. are the two sides of that square, whereof the 1000 mentioned Verse 4. is one, and may be called the Root of the Square. This shews the agreement of the two different Numbers. The Reduction of this Million of square Cubits will be performed by the same method that I have used before. Therefore, First, I express 1000 Jewish by 1824 English Feet, without any Separatrix, according to the Principles owned in Decimal Arithmetick, and the square of that Number will be 3326976, without a Separatrix. Secondly, I divide this Number by 43560, which are the square Feet of an Acre, and find the Quote to be 76L376859, which signify 76 intire Acres, and L376859 Decimals of an Acre. Thirdly, to find what Roods are contained in these Decimals, I multiply them by four, the number of Roods in an Acre, and find the Quote to be 1L507436, which proves that there is but one Rood in them, and the six Figures cut off by the Separatrix (because there were six Decimals in one of the Multipliers) are all Decimals of a Rood. Fourthly, therefore to find what Perches are in these last Decimals, I multiply them by 40. which is the number of Perches contained in a Rood. The Product is 20L297440; hereby I find there are twenty intire Perches, besides the Decimals of a Perch placed after the Separatrix. Fifthly, to find what square Feet are in those last Decimals, I multiply them by 272L25, which are the square Feet and Decimals in a Perch, the Product is 80L97804, which is 80 square Feet, and all the Decimals not amounting to a square Foot, I reject as inconsiderable in Measure of Land. Thus we have found that this and every other Square, on each side of every Levitical City, was prescribed to be 76 Acres, one Rood, 20 Perches, 80 square Feet in our Measure, but was just a Million of square Cubits in their Measure.

To add the four Squares belonging to one Levitical City together, the best way will be to take the first Quote that we found in Acre-measure, viz. 76L376859, and we must multiply it by four, and we shall find, by the method I have used, all the four Squares together to amount to 305 Acres, two Roods, one Perch; we need not take notice of any lesser quantities in this case: We may also by this method find the sum of the Acres belonging to all the 48 Cities of the Levites, and many other Improvements in this kind of measuring Surfaces. But I leave them to the Industry of others.

Patriarchs, or Fathers of Families, such as Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and his Sons.
Judges, Temporary Supreme Governors, immediately appointed by God over the children of Israel.

Kings, And they either of the whole Nation, or after the falling off of the ten Tribes, of Judah or Israel.

Elders, Senators the LXX, or Sanhedrin.

Officers, Provosts, Sheriffs, or Executioners.

Judges, Inferior Rulers, such as determined Controversies in particular Cities.

Israelites, Hebrews, descendants from Jacob.

An Hebrew of Hebrews: an Israelite by original extraction.

A Proselyte of the Covenant, who was circumcised, and submitted to the whole Law.

A Proselyte of the Gate, or Stranger, who worshipped one God, but remained uncircumcised.

Officers under the Assyrian or Persian Monarchs.

Tirshata, or Governor appointed by the Kings of Assyria or Persia.

Heads of the Captivity, The chief of each Tribe or Family, who exercised a precarious Government during the Captivity.

Under the Grecian Monarchs.

Superior Officers.

Maccabees, the Successors of Judas Maccabeus, High-priests, who presided with Kingly power.

Under the Roman Emperors.

Presidents, or Governors, sent from Rome with Imperial power.

Tetrarchs, who had Kingly power in four Provinces.

Proconsuls, or Deputies of Provinces.

Inferior Officers.

Publicans, or Tax-gatherers.

Centurions, Captains of an hundred men.

Ecclesiastical Officers, or Sects of Men.

High-Priests, who only might enter the Holy of Holies.

Second Priests or Sagan, who supplied the High-priest's Office, in case he were disabled.

High-priests for the War, set apart for the occasion of an Expedition.

Priests, Levites of the Sons of Aaron, divided into twenty-four Ranks, each Rank serving weekly in the Temple.

Levites, of the Tribe of Levi, but not of Aaron's Family; of these were three Orders, Gershonites, Kohathites, Merarites, several Sons of Levi.

Nethinims, Inferior Servants to the Priests and Levites (not of their Tribe) to draw Water, and cleave Wood, &c.

Prophets, anciently called Seers, who foretold future Events, and denounced God's Judgments.

Children of the Prophets, their Disciples or Scholars.

Wisemen, called so in imitation of the Eastern Magi, or Gentile Philosophers.

Scribes, Writers, and Expounders of the Law.

Disputers, that raised and determined Questions out of the Law.

Rabbies or Doctors, teachers of Israel.

Libertines, Freed-men of Rome, who being Jews or Proselytes, had a Synagogue or Oratory for themselves.

Gaulonites or Galileans, who pretended it unlawful to obey an Heathen Magistrate.

Herodians, who shaped their Religion to the times, and particularly flattered Herod.

Epicureans, who placed all happiness in pleasure.

Stoicks, who denied the liberty of the Will, and pretended all Events determined by fatal Necessity.

Simon Magus, Author of the Heresy of the Gnosticks, who taught that Men, however vicious their practice was, should be saved by their knowledge.

Nicclaitans, the Disciples of Nicolas, one of the first seven Deacons, who taught the community of Wives.

Nazarites, who under a Vow abstained from Wine, &c.

Nazarens, Jews professing Christianity.

Zelots, Sicarii, or Murtherers, who under pretence of the Law, thought themselves authorized to commit any outrage.

Pharisees, Separatists, who upon the opinion of their own godliness despised all others.

Sadducees, who denied the Resurrection of the Dead, Angels, and Spirits.

Samaritans, Mongrel Professors, partly Heathen, and partly Jews, the Offspring of the Assyrians sent to Samaria.

Apostles, Missionaries or Persons sent; they who were sent by our Saviour, from their number, were called, The Twelve.

Bishops, Successors of the Apostles in the Government of the Church.

Deacons, Officers chosen by the Apostles, to take care of the Poor.
